SPORTS FOR FEDERAL PARK TOLD BY MAYES

Beauty of the land for which organized effort has been made for purchase of acreage at the view of establishing a national park in the Big Bend country of Brewster county of west Texas was described yesterday in Eastland by Wendell Mayes, Brownwood mayor and chairman of the Texas State Parks board, at a meeting of the Thursday Afternoon Study Club Community club house.

Mayes said that the National Park Service, so instructed by Congress, has approved the land for a national park if 778,000 acres of land is purchased. He stated the national government will spend approximately $225,000 annually in maintenance and improvement of the park should acreage be purchased.

Acres from the Rio Grande Mexican government has promised to establish a 400,000-acre park if the citizens of Texas are successful in their campaign. The speaker asserted that previously the National Park Service never agreed to establish a park until the land was secured.

Mayes told his audience that the Big Bend park, if established, would be a trade magnet beyond comparison for Texas because of its influx of tourists each year.

Credit was given to Dr. H. W. Brock, president of Sul Ross school, for the idea of establishment of a national park in Brewster county. It is already a state park.

The Brownwood mayor declared that 150,000 acres of school land has already been given for proposed park.

One of the many features of interest in the proposed national park is that practically all people are evident in the Big Bend from the Rio Rock of the Rio Grande and nearly that distance on the Texas side.

He stated the National Geographic magazine now has a party in Big Bend preparing an article publication. A meeting will be held soon in Austin for planning a campaign to secure the park, said Mayes.

Mrs. Robert Searis was hostess leader for the Texas Day program.

As the senate deliberated 1,500 police surrounded the building against demonstrators.

British "personalities" were reported to have opened negotiations to extend needed credits to France.

Meanwhile Spanish nationalist armies were forced to call up reinforcements to continue their offensive against the reorganized loyalists.

Execution squads are working in Barcelona with renewed activity, the government admitted as nationalists cut off electric power to Catalonia.

Scene of Torture-Murders

On the theory that the murderer responsible for the torture-killing of Mrs. W. G. Frome and her 23-year-old daughter Nancy, of Berkeley, Calif., may also be the key to the unexplained disappearance of two men and two women in the same vicinity two years ago, police officials of southwest Texas embarked on an organized search of that desert and mountain country. Meanwhile District Attorney Roy Jackson, of Culberson county, shown in top photo examining the desolate spot where the two women met death, pinned his hopes on arrest of a 30-year-old suspect. Search for the mother and daughter began when their expensive car, lower photo, was found near Balmorhea, Texas, apparently abandoned by the killer.

Officers Seeking Frome's Baggage

VAN HORN, April 8.—More than 100 state and local officers concentrated today on a search between Van Horn and Balmorhea for the luggage of Mrs. Weston Frome and her daughter, Nancy, who were slain in the desert on March 30.

Sheriff Chris Fox of El Paso emphasized the importance of finding the luggage, because it may provide fingerprints.

Two bloody paper handkerchiefs found near El Paso were sent to the state laboratory for examination. It was believed they might lead important clues.

NEW DEAL IS MAKING PLANS FOR INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The new deal hammered a massive new recovery drive into shape today, designed to pump an estimated $4,000,000,000 into economic channels and revive business.

Congress and President Roosevelt worked at top speed. Huzar RFC, PWA and WPA pump-priming activities were in prospect.

The house, cutting through red tape, approved and sent to the white house a senate bill relaxing RFC lending restrictions and making $1,500,000 available for liberal loans to business and local governments.

President Roosevelt, revealing a new public works program, reported to involve $1,500,000,000 met with a U. S. Mayor's group. The mayors asked an immediate work program of $3,000,000,000 to relieve unemployment, which they said was as acute as in the winter of 1935.

WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins went before the senate unemployment committee to urge expansion of social security programs to give jobs to all able-bodied workers and end direct relief.

Growth Reported In Eastland WPA Business Course

The WPA commercial class at the city hall continues to grow as sufficient typewriters and competent instruction is an incentive for citizens to take advantage of a free business course, officials stated today.

The class has grown steadily since its organization, having now an enrollment of 41. If attendance increases, plans are to add another teacher to assist in the instructions. There are now plenty of typewriters, and more have been promised if the demand increases.

Anyone not enrolled in school is invited to attend.

Typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping are offered by an experienced teacher. An advanced course in shorthand is also offered those who wish to increase their speed.

The class is composed mostly of people who work. Almost everyone has a high school education, many have had one or two years of college training, and several have degrees. However a high school education is not necessary in order to profit from commercial instruction, and the government sponsors such projects as ours in order that all its citizens may make themselves more efficient.

The class meets each evening from 6 to 9. Enrollment is permitted any evening as individual instruction is given.

SNOW, RAIN AND COLD DAMAGE RUNNING HIGH

Millions of dollars damage to crops and highway bridges was the toll, Friday, from one of the worst spring storms in Texas history.

As the blizzard swept southeast the damage mounted hourly.

Eighty-five persons, including seven children in a school bus, were reported lost on snow-blocked highways around Pampa.

The lost school bus had been missing since Thursday afternoon. Several other busloads of children had reached safety. The temperature was 20 degrees.

Frost was predicted even in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Snowstorms in the Panhandle made motoring hazardous and in many places impossible.

At San Antonio a temperature of 36 degrees Friday was within one degree of the all-time minimum for April.

A 32-degree mark at Fort Worth was a record for April 8. A light snow fell. Continued cold weather was in prospect Friday night, with a 30 to 34 degree temperature at Fort Worth.

The temperature at Houston slumped from 51 Thursday to 27 Friday.

Fifty bridges were washed out in Ellis county. At Italy the rain measured 10 inches. Engineers estimated damage at $100,000.

The Sabine river went out of its banks at Gladewater for the fourth time this year, flooding a section of the oil fields.

Farmers said the destructive storm ended prospects for the best West Texas wheat crop in six years. Other grain crops, orchards and garden also were damaged.

Crop experts estimated between 10 and 85 per cent of the Panhandle wheat crop was killed. In the Lubbock area it was estimated that 1,300,000 acres of wheat were ruined.

Relief was not predicted from the cold before Saturday.

Wintry blasts that slanted through the heart of the nation, tornades, heavy rains and floods in other areas east of the Rocky mountains left at least 22 dead and 11 missing outside of Texas.

A great storm belt extended from Northwest Texas to Michigan.

Snow or freezing rain that swept over Kansas, Missouri, Illinois and Michigan was to continue through tonight, according to the weather forecasters.

A tornado near Aliceville, Ala., killed 11 and injured 50 persons. At Jasper, Ga., two children were dead and 11 were missing and feared drowned when a store they occupied was swept away by a raging creek.

The weather was clearing in the Rockies but another storm was coming down the North Pacific. Forecasters said the second storm would be some time before it swung across the nation.

Easter Service at Scenic Point Being Planned by Pastors

It is hoped that the present cold and snow are the "last surviving agonies of winter," and that Easter will dawn bright and beautiful. Should that day be wet or cold, the service will be held in Ranger in the Recreation building, or one of the churches. If the day is fine, divine worship will be conducted at Scenic Point, that most beautiful park, eight miles east of Ranger.

Invitations have been extended to the neighboring towns and churches, including Cisco, Eastland, Strawn, Gorman and other places.

This year, Ranger is taking the initiative in promoting the celebration. The program names Rev. H. B. Johnson, Ranger, as presiding officer; Rev. M. Applewhite, of Cisco, as the speaker, Mr. Minnick, of Olden, leader of the Methodist choir of Ranger, as the leader of music, and ministers from Eastland, who will offer prayer, and read the Easter story.

Others will take part. The Ranger band will furnish the trumpeters. The choirs of the various churches are asked to take part.

Claims Epochal Find in Medicine

After four and a half years of experimentation, Dr. Alma J. Neill, above, head of the department of physiology at the University of Oklahoma, believes she has discovered the cause of the epidemic of sleeping sickness which caused 60 deaths in St. Louis in 1933. Dr. Neill announced she had found the encephalitis virus in corn grown in the St. Louis area at the time of the epidemic. Extracts from the abnormal corn, she said, caused sleeping sickness when injected into animals.

Col. E. A. Keys, civilian components officer for the area, is in charge of planning the camp. The following citizens have been designated as state civilian aides: Texas: Col. Ralph H. Durkee, Jan Antonio; Oklahoma: Gen. Roy Hoffman, Oklahoma City; Colorado, Edward C. Hanley, Denver; Arizona, Col. Charles H. Rutherford, Phoenix; New Mexico, Hiram M. Dow, Roswell.
Enrollees for Fort Bliss will report July 1 for the month's training course.

Easter Music at Methodist Church Gets Explanation

"The Crucifixion" by John Stainer is classic Easter music presenting in song and story the message and mood of the crucifixion of Jesus. Its theme is biblical throughout. The depth and tone of its music is in keeping with the tragedy and love revealed in its facts. This is great music, as it should be when dealing with the strange and profound truths of a crucified Lord. Its story is told both by soloists and the chorus. In these you will hear (and feel) "The Agony," and the "Processional to Calvary" with its shout to "fling wide the gates." Another chorus of power is "God so loved the world." So is "The Appeal of the Crucified" in the chorus hearing the tender words, "Is it nothing to you?" and the shouts of "Crucify! Crucify!" For a full background of this Easter theme read the chapters in Matthew, Mark and Luke which describe the crucifixion facts. Read also John, Chapter 3. In this context, "The Crucifixion" comes out of Easter's greatest stories and is a type of music not usually undertaken by church choirs. Yet it is understandable, vivid, appealing, with a tug at the heart about it.

Soloists are: Mrs. Art Johnson, soprano; Mrs. Grady Pipkin, alto; Mr. Willard Tremble and Mr. Grady Morton, tenors, and Mr. Maurice Harkins and Mr. Bert Clifton, basses. Accompanying the soloists and choir will be violins played by Donice Parker, Maridene Murrell, Glenna Johnson, Nancy Seaberry, Alma Williamson, Margaret Blanchard, Leo Wolf, Jo Earl Utz and Gloria Graham.
Miss Wilda Drago, violinist and teacher, will direct the music. Both the choir and the accompanists have been trained for some time by Miss Drago. Miss Clara June Kimble, able piano accom-

The Men Who Keeps the North Texas Oil Fields on the Tips of Their Fingers

The men "in the know" in the North Texas oil fields are the scouts who send their companies each week a report on practically every well in the district. Each Wednesday they gather in a Wichita Falls office and exchange information. Shown above are almost the entire crew as they checked over reports this week. Included in the group are Pete Booth, Humble; Johnny Mulligan, Magnolia; Guy Sinclair, Gulf; Lonnie Huddleston, Shell; Blackie Walker, Sunray; Pop Hildebrand, Phillips; Bill Hall, Continental; Major Shaw, Ohio Oil company; Louie Curry, Deep Rock Oil company; Mose Clark, Stanolind; Ted Green, British American; Dolph Simie, Cities Service; Red Fiddler, Tiaewater; Bill Phelps, Sinclair Prairie; G. A. Plummer, Lone Star Gas company; Johnny Chisholm, Texas company, and Davidson "Bridwell" Oil company. Two other scouts of the district shown in the picture are Cy Bates with the Humble and O. Phillips.

Less than six months ago there were only nine scout districts and they had time on their hands as the work was too great for one man to cover, so cooperate by each taking a district and then exchanging his report for that of other portions of the district at the weekly Plummer and Phelps headquarter and make their homes land.

Nazi Wonder About Smith, Middletown

Superior in tone, sarcastic, touched with mock pity is Hitler's public comment on Secretary of State Hull's proposal for an international committee to aid German and Austrian refugees.

Der Fuehrer describes as "criminals" those whom he refers to elsewhere as "incorrigible opponents" of Nazism, and expresses more than a willingness to turn them over, for all I care, even on luxury ships.

America faces "grave domestic disturbances" in harboring such refugees, states Der Angriff, editorial Nazi mouthpiece, and asks rhetorically: "Is that the wish of Mr. Smith from Middletown?"

Mr. Smith from Middletown has become well known as the typical Joe Citizen in Middletown in Transition," published studies of the "typical midwestern city."

It is the wish of Mr. Smith from Middletown that America continue to be aware of her good fortune in having proved attractive more than 200 years ago to men who were "incorrigible opponents" of every kind of official oppression.

It is the wish of Mr. Smith from Middletown that America continue to enjoy the social benefits of such distinguished refugees as Germany has already lost to us.

It is the wish of Mr. Smith from Middletown that his right never be taken from him to be as incorrigible an opponent of what he believes to be unjust as he wishes to be.

On the day that Hitler's speech was made public, 11 stowaways from China were extracted from the hold of a liner in New York harbor. They had not made the 76-day journey aboard a "luxury ship."

The stowaways will be deported. America's intention is not to admit the citizens of other nations indiscriminate lumberers. But it does induce a certain feeling of satisfaction to find the place so exceedingly attractive to other people. It also suggests that it might be worth keeping it that way.

Incidentally, one wonders: is Germany having much trouble these days with stowaways?

Chicago thieves stole 15 accordions and an assortment of other musical instruments. We've heard of all-brass bands, but this one will be all steel.

There are almost 70,000,000 radio sets in the world—probably the reason some comedians think bad jokes should be given the air.

THE NATION'S CAPITAL

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox
NEA Service Staff Writer

LITTLE squeals of delight greet a roast sucking pig. With a bright red apple in its mouth and a bed of crisp green watercress to make it comfortable, the tender piglet makes a perfect Easter dinner novelty.

Of course, there are many How-to-Roast-a-Sucking-Pig Schools. For this occasion we'll make Chef Boggia of the Hotel Plaza, New York, Professor of the Day.

He says, "You'll have to order your pig in advance for you seldom find little pigs in the average market. Get one from 12 to 15 pounds. At retail they command about 60 to 75 cents a pound. But they are a real delicacy!" The Professor continues:

Roast Sucking Pig
The pig will come cleaned. Wash well inside and out with clear water. Stuff with the following dressing, sew up the vent with strong linen thread or white cord. Place in a pan spread over with a little fat, season with salt and a little white pepper, cover and roast in a medium oven (375 degrees F.) for 2-1/2 hours, basting every 15 minutes with the drippings in the pan. Pig's mouth should be opened and a potato inserted. After roasting, remove the potato from the pig's mouth and place in it a small apple. Remove pig to a hot platter and garnish with tufts of fresh watercress.

Dressing
One loaf white bread, sweet milk, 12 medium onions, 4 tablespoons butter, 8 small pimientos (2 small cans), 8 green peppers, 2 tablespoons finely minced parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon celery salt, 1 teaspoon pepper.

Soak bread in milk. Press out surplus moisture and separate or flake lightly with a fork. Chop onions and cook until tender in butter. Cut pimientos into dice. Combine all these ingredients, add seasonings, mix lightly and stuff into the hospitable cavity of that sweet little pig.

Notes for perfection. Cover ears, before roasting with pieces of well greased paper, and secure them with paper clips. If you want the surface of the pig to be soft, baste with hot stock; if you want it to be crusty, baste with oil or melted butter.

Professor Boggia suggests Apples Cardinal as a relish with the pig. They are apples cooked in syrup, then coated with currant jelly thickened with gelatin and stuck with slices of blanched almonds.

Trade Agreements
Both old line and New Deal economists seem agreed on one thing: In order for this country and other countries to enjoy normal recovery and keep a period of prosperity, it is necessary that surplus capital and surplus goods must be permitted to flow from the surplus nations to industrially backward nations and to those nations that have raw material shortages. In an effort to revive this flow of capital and trade, the Secretary of State.

The amount of mortgage which will be insured by the Federal Housing Administration on any home small or large depends on the degree of excellence of the property in question. To warrant the insurance of a full 80 per cent mortgage, the property must be a sound mortgage risk, constructed of good materials, of good functional planning and in a neighborhood of enduring value as a residential community. Even a small home—a $2,500 or $3,000 dwelling—can attain a sufficiently high valuation to warrant the insurance of an 80% mortgage.

Southern Songstress Can Sing in Four Languages

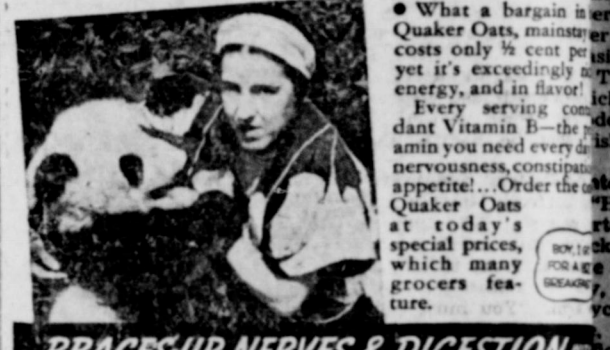

One of the most versatile singers of today is Etta Moten, the famous colored contralto who can sing opera arias in four languages with as much ease as she sings her own Negro spirituals and torch songs. Miss Moten is featured on the N. B. C. variety show, "Aunt Jemima's Cabin at the Crossroads" Monday through Friday from 9:00 to 9:15 a. m. C. S. T. Miss Moten was invited to sing before President Roosevelt and his wife a few years ago, which was a White House gesture without precedent. She has sung for President Vargas of Brazil and has been "ghost-singer" for many movie stars. It was she who introduced the famous "Carolina" song in "Flying Down to Rio." She also appeared in person in "Gold Diggers of 1933," singing "Remember Me, Forgotten Man."

Lyric Opening On Saturday Is 9 A. M. For Disney Film

Opening hour of the New Lyric theatre in Eastland which gets...

Walt Disney's "Snow White and Seven Dwarfs" beginning Friday, April 8, for a four-day run has been moved up Saturday to 9 a. m. B. J. Aylesworth, manager, announced today. On all days but Saturday the regular show hours will prevail for the film.

The film has received the highest praise of critics and patrons in the parts of the nation in which it has played.

In Fort Worth the film this week ended a 10-day run and in Dallas is in its second week. One of the most enthusiastic critics, columnist Westbrook Pegler, described the film as "the greatest thing since the Armistice."

Disney introduces an entirely new set of characters in the feature. Snow White is the first Disney character entirely devoid of caricature. The young Prince who seeks her hand, like the heroine, is a human character without exaggeration.

In addition, those who have worked on the feature predict that the seven dwarfs are due to steal many a scene with their comedy.

The picture, released by RKO-Radio, is playing movie houses all over the world as the principal attraction on a par with Hollywood's pretentious flesh and blood productions.

Auto Parts Store To Open Saturday On Square Location

The Eastland Lion Auto Store, located on the northeast corner of the square in the former Eastland Drug company building, will be opened Saturday morning for business, Seth Sawyer, manager, announced today.

The store is the latest unit of the Lion Automotive Parts and

COMING TO LYRIC FRIDAY, APRIL 8th First Showing in this Section "SNOW WHITE and the SEVEN DWARFS"

Manufacturing Company, which operates in 48 states. The company's growth the past four years is regarded in the trade as one of the most outstanding.

Sawyer, who is married and formerly worked for the company at Muskogee, Okla., and has many years of experience in the business, stated the Eastland store is being established as to be the most complete west of Fort Worth. All parts, there are to be 10,000 different items, are tested by the Automotive Testing Bureau of America. The parts are of quality make and will be offered at popular prices, said Sawyer.

The store site has been remodeled and repaired in preparation for opening of the business.

Confidence in Eastland and the business future of this territory was basis for the move to Eastland said Sawyer.

Eastland County Students Play In College Operetta

Five Tarleton students from Eastland appeared Thursday night in the cast of "H.M.S. Pinafore."

Gilbert and Gulliver operetta presented at the John Tarleton College auditorium by the combined Tarleton Chorus and Tarleton Orchestra.

The Eastland singers will appear again when "Pinafore" is presented for the second time next Tuesday night, April 12, at the Tarleton auditorium.

Leo Hatten, son of Joe Hatten of Eastland, sings the part of Ralph Rackstraw, British seaman who wins the love of Captain Corcoran's daughter and finds himself in command of "H. M. S. Pinafore" before the end of the operetta. Leslie R. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Cook, sings a tenor role, that of a comical sailor on the "Pinafore." Rex Carnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Carnes of Carbon, also sings the role of a sailor on the "Pinafore." Oliveto Killough and Virginia Gibson of Eastland sing soprano roles as "sisters or the cousins or the aunts" of Sir Joseph Porter.

Principals in the cast included Hatten and Jean Walker of Cisco. The Eastland county students expect to visit in their homes during Tarleton's spring holidays, which begin Thursday of next week.

Miss Gibson is a senior in home economics at Tarleton, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace

L. Gibson, Eastland, R. 2. Hatten, Cook, Carnes, and Miss Killough are juniors at Tarleton. Miss Killough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Killough, is majoring in music. This week she will accompany Charles W. Froh, director of the Tarleton music department, to Lometa, where she and a senior music student at Tarleton will play a recital for a Lometa woman's club. She is a member of the Tarleton Fine Arts club at the college.

Hatten is a business administration major, and a consistent honor roll student. He also writes some for the "J-TAC" Tarleton weekly newspaper. Cook is another music major. He sings first tenor in the Tarleton Chorus and in the Tarleton male quartet, plays violin in the Tarleton Little Symphony. Several times this year he has sung or played with Tarleton music organizations broadcasting from Fort Worth radio stations.

Carnes, Carbon boy, is also a conservatory student.

Each one of these Eastland students will sing with the Tarleton Chorus on May 1 and 2 during Tarleton's annual Parents' Day observances.
