Plans for the county-wide fund raising drive were also discussed and committee reports were heard.

Hardin-Simmons Chapel Choir To Sing In Eastland

Hardin-Simmons University Chapel Choir will present a program of sacred music in Eastland First Baptist Church Tuesday night, Feb. 23 at 7:30.

The 50 voice choral group is directed by Euell Porter, chairman of the voice department and director of choirs at H-SU.

Porter stresses the importance of portraying the mood of the song in the voices and faces of the singers. He gives the choir a facial expression and expects them to return their interpretation of that expression.

Much of Porter's directing is done with delicate bodily and facial movements. At times during formal concert he drops his hands to his side and conducts the group with his body.

Many of the members of the Chapel Choir are not primarily music students. History, Bible, English, sociology, business administration and education are among the other fields studied by the H-SU singers.

A variety of music is studied by the choir, spirituals, hymn arrangements and secular tunes as well as standard church music literature.

The choir frequently sings in churches and high schools in West Texas. A tour of Texas schools and churches is scheduled for later in the spring.

Included in the repertoire "The Love of God" by Allen James, "Souls of the Righteous" by T. Tertius Noble, arrangements of "Onward, Christian Soldiers" and "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," "Poor Man Lazarus" by Jester Hairston, traditional spirituals "Go Tell It on the Mountain," "Children," "A Melody of Spirituals," arranged by William Lawrence; and secular numbers, "Stormy Weather" and "Peter Gray."

Paper Boys Get Tour Of San Antonio

Three Eastland boys were among the 70 who earned trips recently, sponsored by the Fort Worth Press. They were Clayton Hensley, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hensley; Bobby Lane, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lane; and Otis Green, 11-year-old son of Mrs. B. Howard Green.

The boys returned this week from an educational tour to San Marcos and San Antonio. They traveled by train, bus and boat. Their supervisor, A. A. Anable, picked them up at the Green home after which he picked up six more Press paper boys in his district. They then went to Fort Worth, and boarded the Katy Flyer for San Antonio, ate their breakfast at Milan's Cafeteria and on by bus to Aquarena San Marcos.

The next thrill was a glass bottom boat ride, then Aquarena Underwater Theater. From here they went to Gray Helicopter Air Base, their noon meal was served to them in the Gray Air Base Officers mess hall, after which they toured the Helicopter Field. They toured San Antonio after a sight seeing trip they were all entertained to a movie, "The Red Garter."

When they returned to Fort Worth, they were shown through the Press building.

PUSH FOR DAIRY HEIFERS

In recent Michigan Experiment Station tests, calf gains were speeded 23 percent with aureomycin and 14 percent with bacitracin. Heifers given aureomycin ate more grain and hay, states Capper's Farmer. Bacitracin-fed calves ate more hay. Both lots supplemented with antibiotics made better use of feed than control groups.

EASTLAND AS SEEN THROUGH EYES OF STUDENT IN 1925

The Eastland Lions have been an active and strong group over a long period of years and a local business woman, Mrs. W. C. Whaley, took a page from her scrap book to prove it. It is a clipping from a Dec. 3, 1925 issue of the Eastland Tribune which had the following explanation: "A five dollar gold piece was awarded to the best essay written by High School students on the subject 'Why Eastland is a Good Place in Which to Live.' The prizes were given by the Lions club and the three best essays follow:

The High School award was won by Argie Mary McCandles, who today is well known for her published works. The essay in full follows:

The South Ward was won by Mary Frances Cunningham while the West Ward was won by Wilda Frost.

The South Ward essay will appear in the paper Tuesday, 16th and the West Ward essay on Thursday, Feb. 18th.

At the time these essays were written the population of Eastland was 8,600.

"A little town nestling among the rolling, wooded hills; a town of homes and churches, and the happiness that comes with industry; a bit of the spirit of the west, touched with the culture and traditions of the east; a place to build homes, and rear families and live, that is Eastland!

No more ideal location for a town can be found anywhere. In the heart of a mighty oil field, near the state's largest cities, in a rich agricultural district, among beautiful landscapes that only Texas can give the world, and blessed with some of the most beneficent of nature's gifts, Eastland is a truly favored community.

"Little did those early Eastland people dream of the riches that the soil of their farms would give forth one day. Little did they think of the natural resources that lay beneath their hands. How astounded would Captain Eastland himself have been could he have

Trench Silos Are In Use In County Area

By BOB KELLY
Telegram Staff Writer

In Morton Valley, D. Williamson and Norman Richardson have built and have in use Trench Silos for preserving silage.

On a visit to their farms with County Agent J. N. Cooper, I received this information which I believe will be of interest to all farmers, dairymen, ranchers and business men of our county.

Silage is moist forage that has been stored in the absence of air. The preservation of feed in this way is not a new process. Centuries ago green crops in Northern Europe were placed in silos.

Advantages: Silage saves feed that would be inedible in an area like ours. It is quite palatable and has a high content of carotene. It clears the ground early and completely for another crop. In bundle feed a ton, after dried gives only 800 pounds of feed losing 1200 pounds during the drying out period. When the ton of bundle feed is made into silage for every ton you put in you take out 1 ton of feed.

Disadvantages: It concentrates the labor of harvesting into a few days. There is a cost for preparing the trench and for the cutter for example: On the D. Williamson Farm he spent $90.00 for a bulldozer to dig his trench and based on $3.00 an acre for rent of the chopper he spent $90.00 harvesting 160 tons of feed. The initial cost for the trench will not have to be repeated each year. You could not hardly call the cost of the cutter a disadvantage because the feed has to be harvested anyway.

In preparing the trench and picking the location, proper drainage must be provided for to carry off any excess liquid that may accumulate by seepage from the soil or by expression of juice. The quantity of spoilage varies directly with the surface exposed to the air.

At D. Williamson's I noticed his cows eating the top spoilage. It has very little food value but the cows will eat it. The secret of the trench silo is to place the feed in it and mash it down to allow as little amount of air as possible. Mr. Williamson has a dump trailer and he presses the silage down as he unloads it in the silo by running the trailer over the feed each time he brings a new load.

When the crop is placed in the trench silo the temperature rises until all of the air left in the interstices of the silage is exhausted. The extent of the rise is directed proportional to the quantity of air present. Coarse chopping and poor packing favor the development of high temperatures. Ordinarily silos should not reach a temperature above 100 degrees F. The high temperature in the silo kills all of the worms that might damage the feed. The high temperature is not destructive to the quality of the silage.

Balanced Diet For Good Teeth

February 1st is National Children's Health Day. Did you know that almost 100 per cent of our population is afflicted by dental disease such as tooth decay and gum disorders? Dentists say that one of the strongest factors in building good teeth in children is a good, balanced diet. Diet affects dental health more in early life, before the age of eight, than at any other time. A diet that includes milk and milk products, vegetables and fruits, whole grain cereals and breads, eggs and lean meat, poultry and fish is essential in good dental health. Fruits like apples, bananas, pears and oranges bring vitamins and minerals to the diet. They are "protective foods." But did you know that dentists regard fruits or even going from around Eastland, miles of brick-paved highways connect the thriving farms with the benefits of town life. Eastland county, of which Eastland is the capital, has more paved highways than any other county in West Texas and the citizens of this county own more cars than those of any county in the same district.

EASTLAND—

"But in our enthusiasm for the larger concerns and the natural resources, we must not forget the civic organizations and the institutions that contribute so largely to the welfare of a city. The father of a family must be satisfied as well as the business man. The city government of Eastland is of the type established by Galveston a few years ago, having a city manager and elected representatives of the people. A huge paving camaign has been launched recently and the various departments of the government are ably cared for. The chamber of commerce, a Lions' Club, a Rotary Club and the Civic League are all well established, thriving organizations, working singly and together for the good of the town.

"Two newspapers, 'The Eastland Daily Tribune' and the 'Eastland Daily Telegram' keeps Eastland before the eyes of the world.

"Two beautiful parks, a Lions' park, well equipped for the pleasure of children and the extra-ordinary city park, high above the level of the city, are two reasons why Eastland is gaining the notice of home-makers. Two railroads and four paved highways lead out from Eastland and the town is on the route of several 'bus' lines to Ft. Worth and Dallas and other points.

"Two ward schools, in new buildings, and a well known high school together with a business college, care for the educations of Eastland youth. E. H. S. is noted for its extraordinary school spirit and all the schools are using the standard methods of teaching and are in A-1 standing with the colleges and universities of the state.

"Eight churches, most of them in new buildings, keep the moral and the morals of the town high and aid the city government in making a worthy city. No town can grow and prosper without the spiritual as well as the financial and mental phase being well taken care of.

"A golf club and a country club, numerous study clubs, a tennis club and several lodges, notably the Elks and Masons, and a post of the American Legion care for the social activities.

"A new, huge city hall, an excellent gymnasium, the best theatre building in west Texas and two five story bank buildings are noteworthy.

"Not forgetting that Eastland is the capital of the richest county in West Texas, and that business is better now than it has been since the oil boom, we realize that for an example of a prosperous, happy growing town, where industry, homes and homes are homes, we can do no better than to choose Eastland."

chopping, that is, to take in oxygen from the air and give off carbon dioxide. Fermentation starts quickly, and this uses oxygen. The action of these two agencies soon result in the replacement of the oxygen in the air with carbon dioxide. When this is accomplished the silage will keep indefinitely without molding or rotting, provided no more air gains access to it. This silage is good insurance for a drought. By putting feed in the silo on the good years, a farmer will have ample feed for the dry years. J. M. Cooper, Eastland County Agent explained that on the Sam Ball's ranch over in Stephens County that feed left in the silo eight years was still good when it was needed for feed.

The principal changes that take place during fermentation are:

(1) Some of the nitrogen-free extract (sugars, starches, etc.) is converted to lactic, and other acids by the action of yeast and bacteria; (2) Some of the proteins break down into simpler nitrogenous compounds; (3) There is a loss of carotene which is very little. It depends upon the amount of air present for oxidation.

High moisture and low acidity occurring simultaneously will favor the formation of butyric acid, indicated by an objectionable and clinging odor which we noticed at both trenches.

Any green forage crop can be made into silage that will keep in good condition without an excess loss of food nutrients. Very coarse or weedy crops when made into silage may be completely edible, whereas if such feed is made into dry fodder or hay much of it is rejected by the cattle or other livestock.

Silage may be the principal source of forage for the winter feeding of cattle in regions like ours where the making of good hay is uncertain and where the hay crop yield very much less than the silage crop.

The outstanding characteristics of silage are its palatability, its consumption without waste and its carotene content.

Mr. Williamson mentioned that due to the Vitamin A present in silage that his cows calved better this year.

The County Agent, J. M. Cooper, told us that there is a dozen trench silos in this county, more than we have had in the last ten years.

D Williamson in an interesting talk told me that his feed bill was $150 to $250 a week before, he started using silage and now it is cut down to only $40.00 a week and his cows are in a good shape or better than before he started using silage for feed plus the fact that his cows like the silage for food and are giving the same amount of milk.

SO START CHICKS EARLY!
Every month earlier in the year (before April 1st) that you start chicks makes every hen in your flock worth about 20¢ more in fall eggs... February starting would double that figure and bring in around 40¢ more from each pullet in the flock. That's $40 more per 100 pullets! That's a tidy premium for starting chicks early, isn't it? Why don't you drop in or telephone your chick order now. Put those early chicks on Chick Startena and get that premium return on the early fall egg market! We'll help you get started.

Here's Why Your Home Stayed Warm During the last "Norther"

When the worst "Norther" since 1950 swept into this community Wednesday, January 20, you had no fear of being cold. You took for granted that you could turn up your heaters, floor furnaces or central heating system and you would be warm.

From afternoon to midnight, temperatures fell from balmy 70's to bone-chilling 20's. Due to the rapid growth of the cities we serve nearly 100 thousand more homes were depending on us than when the last "Norther" as big as this one hit. More gas than ever before would be needed.

Lone Star Natural Gas Service comes to this and 421 other communities in Texas and Oklahoma through a 7,000 mile interconnected pipeline system. Over 1,300 wells in 165 gas fields supply the system. Twenty-five key compressor plants move gas under high pressure from fields.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE "NORTHER"

Gathering and delivering this gas to your and over 600,000 other homes is controlled by a central dispatching staff. This staff knew from Weather Bureau reports almost the minute the "Norther" would strike your community.

In 40 control points along Lone Star's system, dispatcher alerted hundreds of specialists in compressor, pipeline, gas measurement and production departments. Specialists who operate distribution systems in cities and towns were alerted.

Every precaution was taken. Regular crews were doubled in compressor stations and in gas fields. Extra mobile equipment was brought in to speed movement of men in gas fields. Special two-way radio equipment was sent out to speed communications in the field.

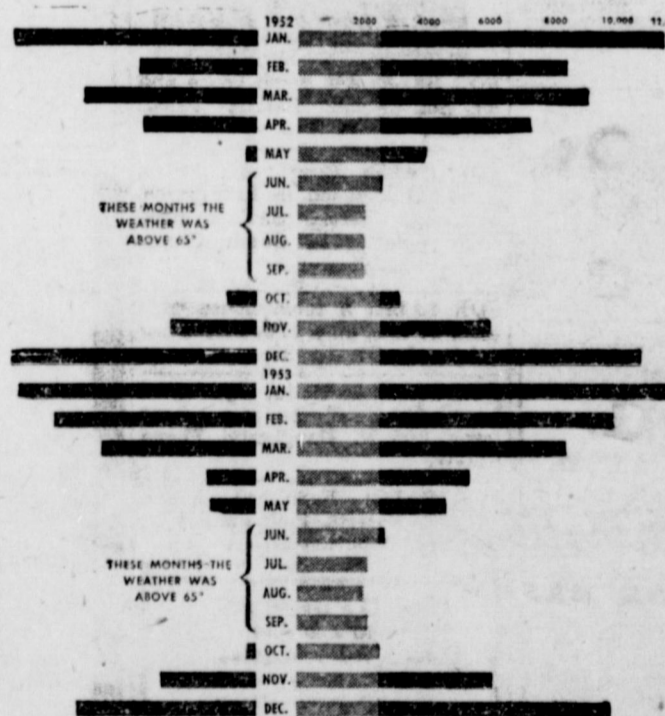

When temperature drops below 65 degrees everyone turns on their heating. For every degree the temperature falls past 65 degrees dispatchers know the amount of gas it will take to keep you warm.

CLOSE TIMING REQUIRED

On split-second timing as the temperature fell, gas from hundreds of wells was turned into field gathering systems. Gas stored in depleted fields was turned in, too. By night Lone Star Gas System was operating at near peak capacity.

Night and day for the duration of the cold wave the entire facilities of Lone Star Gas System were operating at or near peak capacity. During this "Norther" Lone Star Gas Company facilities served over 600,000 customers more efficiently than 10 years ago when we were serving about half this number. We are keeping abreast of the growth of the area we serve by providing in advance facilities that are necessary for dependable natural gas service.

HOW WINTER AFFECTS YOUR USE OF NATURAL GAS

THE BARS ON THE LEFT in the graph above show the variation in heating weather for the last two years as revealed by Weather Bureau Reports. The bars on the right show the amount of gas an average home used each month. Gas for cooking, water heating and refrigeration is indicated in gray. Gas for house heating is indicated in black. Last December, for example, the bottom bars show that an average home used nearly 10,000 cubic feet of gas—7,500 cubic feet of it for heating. During extremely cold winter months, homes use up to six times as much gas as in summer.

The allness of God and His complete control of the universe will be discussed in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul" which will be read at Christian Science services Sunday.

West Texas C-C To Meet

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 11—The thirty-sixth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be held here March 28-29-30. R. Wright Armstrong of Fort Worth, president, has announced.

The convention will be the first general meeting of the 5000-member regional organization since October, 1952, when at Wichita Falls it was voted to change the convention time from fall to spring.

Convention Chairman Fred Brown of Mineral Wells said that plans drafted by his committee at its initial meeting last week in the Abilene headquarters of the W.T.C.C. can be completed, the program for the event should be of great interest to every West Texan.

In addition to outstanding speakers, the agenda is to include important meetings of all committees, and San Angelo hosts for the convention are working toward the presentation of events which would be appealing to wives of members as well as to the businessmen delegates, Brown said.

Texas Bass Hatch Opens

AUSTIN (Spl.)—Apparent success in treating brood fish bass for a deadly fungus growth was announced by the Chief Aquatic Biologist of the Game and Fish Commission as reports came in of the first state hatchery bass production this year.

The Chief Aquatic Biologist said brood bass were being treated at the Ingman and Possum Kingdom hatcheries.

Previous tests produced complications although they checked the fungus. The chemical used on the brood bass killed microscopic food urgently needed for the fry. Now it is believed a solution has been found to treat the parent fish without destroying food for their young.

The Olmito hatchery at Brownsville reported a limited number of bass already had spawned. This is a normal time for the semi-tropical climate on the Rio Grande border. Meanwhile, some adjustments were being made to try to compensate for the lack of water at two hatcheries at Medina and Cisco, and the temporary delay at the experimental heated hatchery pond at San Marcos.

The Chief Aquatic Biologist said the state will help make up the difference under an arrangement to operate the Federal fish hatchery at San Angelo, which has been shut down for the time being. The Federal hatchery will be operated in conjunction with the regular state hatchery at San Angelo.

The added bass production will be used to distribute young fish to the area ordinarily covered by the watershort Cisco installation.

The Chief Aquatic Biologist said it is too early yet to estimate this year hatchery bass production. The state hatcheries ordinarily have a potential output of 150,000,000 bass but the actual output is only a fraction of that figure because of the high casualty rate.

Applesauce Adds New Flavor To Frankfurters and Kraut

A welcome new addition to the old stand-by combination of kraut and frankfurters is canned applesauce. Add its flavor to that of the kraut and you get a resulting mixture with interesting sweet and sour contrast. Frankfurters in cans are tender and juicy, have the advantage of convenient storage on the pantry shelf until the time comes to use them.

Applesauce Barbecue With Kraut and Franks

1/2 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons elder vinegar
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1 cup chili sauce
1 1-pound can applesauce

1 can frankfurters
1 No. 2 1/2 can sauerkraut

Cook onion in butter until light brown. Add vinegar, brown sugar, chili sauce, applesauce and salt; stir well then simmer 20 minutes. Drain frankfurters and heat with sauerkraut. Serve on platter topped with barbecue sauce.

YIELD: 4 servings.

*Frankfurters are packed 6 - 12 to the can, depending upon can size and brand.

For entertainment abroad U. S. submarines, sailors enjoy movies, television, ice cream and "juke boxes." Boxing matches have also been held aboard.

Mavs End Cage Season With Loss To Lions

Eastland's Mavericks ended the 1954 basketball season on a sour note Friday night as they dropped a heart-breaker, 51-46 to the Dublin Lions. The Lions victory handed them second-place honors in the East Zone of District 7-A.

The Mavericks were paced by Stan Harris who scored 11 points for the night. The lead changed hands on several occasions, but Dublin held the top hand most of the game.
