TEXAS PUBLIC SAFETY HEAD IS ARRESTED

AUSTIN, July 22.—Texas Public Safety Director, H. H. Carmichael, knew today what it is to be arrested. Sheriff Lee Allen of Travis County arrested him late yesterday on order of District Judge S. B. Carr at Cotulla. The judge had been informed that Carmichael was disobeying the court's injunction against interfering with the trucks and drivers of M. B. Peterson. Carmichael submitted peacefully to arrest, but objected to the judge's instructions that Sheriff Allen hold him in custody until Monday. A writ of habeas corpus by the state supreme court voided that part of the district court's instructions. Carmichael was released on $500 bail.

Episcopal Church Services Set to Be Held Sunday

Announcement was made Friday that Episcopal church services for Eastland county members and friends of the organization will be held Sunday, July 24, at the Women's Community clubhouse in Eastland at 8 p. m. The services are coincident with the sixth Sunday after Trinity. Services will be led by Rev. Austin B. Mitchell, Jr., Mineral Wells, who is priest-in-charge of the county. Invitation to the public to attend was extended.

Former Citizen of Ranger Will Be Buried Tuesday

Word was received in Ranger Thursday afternoon from Genesee, Pa., of the death of P. J. (Pat) O'Donnell, 57, formerly of Ranger. Death occurred Thursday afternoon. Funeral services are to be conducted at Genesee Tuesday morning. He had been visiting in Genesee for the past month and appeared to be in the best of health until shortly before his death. O'Donnell worked in the Pennsylvania oil fields, later going to Pomania. After returning to the United States he worked in the oil fields of Kansas, California and different fields in Texas, mostly in West Texas, where he had made his home for the past few years. He was a drilling contractor here during the boom, and while in Ranger married Miss Leona Dunkle. Surviving relatives include his widow, two children, Marjorie and Patsy, and several brothers and sisters.

German Airplane Crosses Atlantic

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y., July 22.—The German catapult plane, Nordmeier, making the first of 28 experimental ocean crossings, scheduled for this summer, arrived here today, 17 hours 42 1/2 minutes after leaving its mother ship off Horta, Azores, 2,397 miles away.

Civilian Is Killed At Ft. Sam Houston

FORT SAM HOUSTON, Texas, July 22.—Harry Kaplan, civilian employee at Fort Sam Houston, was killed and his niece, Myrtle Pawlowsky, 17, was critically injured today when their car collided with an army truck.

California Forest Fire Still Raging

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—A huge fire in California's Trinity forest was reported "running wild" today. It was one of hundreds of fires that were destroying millions of dollars worth of timber along the Pacific coast.

Project House Is Again Alloted to County A&M Boys

A project house for cooperative living will again be available to Eastland county boys who attend Texas A. & M. college the next session, announced Elmo V. Cook, county agent, Friday. Agent Cook stated that the house was alloted to the county again because of the good record youths the last session. All boys with the exception of those who were there last session are being invited to participate in the project house the next term. Any vacancy in the house roster will be filled by Eastland county freshmen applicants. Those who want to attend were asked by Cook to send $4 to him to cover payment on kitchen and dining room equipment. He stated that August 5 was the deadline to make the payment. It was also stated that rent on the house has been raised from $4 to $6 per month by the board of Regents of the school, that will mean $1 monthly increase on rent for each youth. Payment of $15 for one semester's rent should be made by each child at the beginning of the school session. If as many as 14 boys agree, a truck will be available for $35 to transport baggage to the school before the opening, Cook said.

Housing Group to Hold a Meeting

A special Federal Housing Administration meeting of all lumber dealers, realtors, architects, contractors, and representatives of financial institutions, newspapers and utilities of the Oilbelt will be held in Breckenridge on Thursday, July 28, at 8:00 o'clock p. m. William W. Ryan, chief underwriter, who is outstanding in this program, will be at this meeting to explain all matters involving processing of a loan and other matters pertaining to the FHA program.

RUSSIAN - JAPANESE CONTROVERSY SEEMS NEARING A CRISIS

By United Press
Japan, demanding withdrawal of Soviet troops from disputed Manchukuo border territory, is reported to "take the necessary steps," a foreign office spokesman declared today at Tokyo after the Soviet had considered the situation. The spokesman declared that Japan considers herself the proprietor of Manchukuo. He said that apparently has challenged Japan in occupying a hill near Changkufeng, which Japan claims Manchukuo territory. How far the quarrel would be tried, how much it would affect Japan's conquest of China, how much nearer it might bring the great eastern powers to a war, which they long have been preparing, depended upon developments at Tokyo and Moscow. Soviets left little doubt that an attack would be met in kind. Meanwhile Japanese armies in China made little progress on the Szechwan in the north. Floodwaters in the north again seriously imperiled the Japanese.

Forging a New Bond of Peace Between United States and Canada

Another steel link binding the United States and Canada will be welded when President Roosevelt goes to Canada in mid-August to dedicate the Blue Water International Bridge pictured above. The bridge, 8000 feet long, and arching 152 feet above the waters of the St. Clair river, connects Port Huron, Mich., with Sarnia, Ont. It cost almost $2,000,000, and commands an impressive view of the junction of Lake Huron with the St. Clair river, a point where teeming lake traffic funnels through the narrow channel. The American and Canadian governments built the respective approaches, and an international commission built the center span. The bridge opens a new fast route between Chicago and Montreal.

No Card Handouts During Election Is Aspirants' Decision

Agreement has been reached by county candidates not to distribute literature Saturday during the first primary election, it was pointed out Friday. The agreement was made at an early point in the campaign. The candidates have requested their friends to adhere to this agreement and dispose of their literature prior to the election. The agreement covers loud speaker systems, placards, circulars, cards and all forms of advertising.

Republicans See Third Term Plans

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Republican party leaders interpreted a statement of WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins today as the launching of a Roosevelt third term movement. Republican committee chairman John Hamilton accused the administration of trying to perpetuate itself. He referred to remarks by Hopkins who said he believed 90 per cent of his relief workers would vote for President Roosevelt.

Hamilton Given Kidnaping Blame

DALLAS, July 22.—Kidnaping was added to the alleged activities of Floyd Hamilton today as the elusive desperado was hunted in four southwestern states. J. M. Newell, 28, claimed that Hamilton and Ted Walters were the two men who met him at Fort Worth yesterday in answer to an advertisement to sell an automobile, robbed him of $18.50 and tied him up in a thicket in the outskirts of Dallas.

Controlling Cotton Flea Hopper Due In 2 Demonstrations

Demonstrations in control of cotton flea hoppers by dusting with sulphur are being conducted by Oral Davis of Okra on the Poston farm near Okra and by R. T. Simon of Gorman on the J. Frank Dean farm near Gorman in cooperation with the county agent. Davis and Simon started their demonstrations last week by dusting five acres of cotton each with approximately 15 pounds of dusting sulphur per acre. Farmers and others interested in witnessing the progress of these demonstrations are invited to visit the demonstration plots at any time. The cotton will be dusted each week as long as the flea hopper infestation exists. Many cotton ginners, buyers, and farmers of Eastland County believe that flea hoppers cause more damage than boll weevils to cotton in Eastland County. They suck the sap from the earliest forms that would produce early bolls, while the weevils destroy the forms and bolls that come on later. Heavy flea hopper damage to cotton results in slender, whip-like stalks with few or no side-fruited branches. Dusting with very finely powdered sulphur effectively controls the flea hopper.

Clash Over Oil In Orient Seen

SAN FRANCISCO.—Japan's expansion program of creating by force a powerful industrial and economic center in the Far East is unsound even from a purely economic point of view, according to Dr. J. Anton de Haas, professor of international relations at Harvard University. Addressing Pacific coast audiences, Dr. de Haas declared that the success of this policy would bring neither peace nor security for Japan and would make instead the whole problem even more difficult. "It is a mistaken policy," he said, "to establish another workshop in the world which already has too many at the present time, and the creation of one in the Far East with Japan as its center would result only in increased social tension inside Japan and trade restrictions from without."

Geologists Study West Texas Area

ALPINE, Tex.—Two geologists have begun a study this summer of deposits in this region from the Pleistocene or Ice Age. The investigators, Dr. Kirk Dryan, professor of geology at Harvard University, and Dr. Claude C. Albritton, instructor in geology at Southern Methodist University, have been awarded a grant from the Penrose Bequest of the Geological Society of America to carry on the work. The geologic project is supplementary to the work of an archeological expedition undertaken jointly by Harvard University and Sul Ross Teachers College of Alpine, to explore and excavate sites of early man and extinct animals in the region within 50 miles of Alpine. The field survey has been underway for several months, and already 19 sites have been located at which relics of early man have been found at depths of from seven to 20 feet below the surface. Dr. Albritton and Dr. Ryan are studying the sites excavated by the archeologists, and will correlate the deposits thus exposed with nearby natural exposures and with the general topography of the region in an attempt to discover the exact age of the deposits. The region is one of broad basins and isolated mountains. Some of the basins drain to the Rio Grande and some are enclosed. Roads are poor and distances are great.

Ten Persons Seek Hopper Poison to Use on Shrubbery

Ten persons in Eastland have requested grasshopper poison mixture for use on their shrubbery, it was stated Friday by County Agent Elmo V. Cook. He said 5 p. m. today is the final time for making of requests to secure the poison. Two hundred pounds of the poison have been requested. The poison will be given to the adults from 3 to 5 p. m. Saturday at the agent's office. The poison is given free and ready to use by the county agent's office in cooperation with the City of Eastland. Cook stated the demand from persons who live in Eastland city limits was one-third that of previous opportunities to secure the poison.

Pensioners Pledge To Stay On Wagon

DALLAS.—Six old age pension clients here have filed resolutions with Supervisor J. Malcolm Watson of the Texas Old Age Assistance Commission to remain on the "water wagon." Investigating conditions, Watson found some of the commission's beneficiaries were using their monthly checks for prolonged periods. The self-denials followed threats of discontinuation of the pensions for the drinkers.

Corrigan Is Mobbed By Admiring Girls

DUBLIN, Ireland, July 22.—Two hundred girls mobbed Douglas Corrigan, trans-Atlantic "wrong direction" flier, on one of Dublin's main streets today.

Final Pleas to Be Heard Tonight At Eastland Meet

Final speeches of county, precinct and representative candidates seeking election Saturday in the first primary will be made tonight at Eastland. The speeches are scheduled to begin at 8:30 on the courthouse square. Prior to the county, precinct and representative speeches Geo. A. Davison, Jr., candidate for lieutenant governor, will discuss his candidacy. Davison is an Eastland resident.

Economy Should Be Practiced—George Davison

CORSICANA, Texas, July 22.—The people of Texas have long demanded governmental economy and it is time the folks who pay the bills get what they want, George A. Davison, Jr., candidate for lieutenant governor, said here last night. Speaking at Jacksonville, Palestine and Corsicana today, the candidate sped on his final sprint of the campaign. Friday will be one of the most crowded days of his 30-day campaign, as he will speak in Ennis, Waxahachie, Fort Worth, Weatherford, Mineral Wells and Breckenridge. Davison will end the first primary with a speech before a crowd of well-wishers at a homecoming in Eastland Friday night. Reduction of governmental costs plus the now monthly increasing state income as a solution for a larger social welfare program, has been a major part of his platform. This, he believes, will alleviate the necessity for new taxes. "We are paying too much for government," he has told audiences all over Texas. The will of the citizens for economy has been circumvented by the selfish wishes of pork-barrel politicians. We can never put government on a business basis, we can never cut the outrageous overhead until the people of Texas force the politicians to hear their voice, Davison declared. "We must look at the problem realistically. Organized political machines are supporting my opponents. The people should listen and note that these candidates do not promise governmental economy. Let the public just think about that strange bit of realism. The politicians are supporting those candidates who say nothing about cutting the expenses of government. Is further comment necessary?" Davison queried.

Group to Select Courts Jurors For August Case Work

A commission to select petit jurors for the August term beginning August 1 will meet Monday morning at 9 o'clock to follow the instructions of George L. Davenport, judge of 91st district court. Members of the commission are H. J. Tanner of Eastland, Edwin George, Jr., of Ranger and H. H. Pullig of Gorman. Petit jurors will be drawn for the weeks starting Sept. 5, Sept. 12 and Sept. 19.

County Students Make Honor Roll At Austin School

Students who made grades during the spring semester entitling them to places on the honor roll at the college of arts and sciences at the University of Texas from this area include the following, according to announcement Friday from Austin. Eastland: James Samuel Mahon, Charles Victor Manes and Nina Belle Smith. Gorman: Robert Lee Stubblefield.

Forest Fires In British Columbia Are Incendiary

COURTENAY, B. C., July 22.—Forestry officials today charged that incendiarism was responsible for the spread of a fire that swept toward this island. More than 1,500 men fought the fire along a 20-mile front, although it had been burning since July 5, and it was not until a week ago the flames got out of control. It had been suspected that men who wanted work had started the fires. Today there was direct evidence of it.

Attack On Woman Reported by Police

HOUSTON, Texas, July 22.—Police revealed today that a negro man criminally assaulted a 44-year-old white woman here last night and threatened to kill her and her companion.

Miners Are Saved After Being Buried

DUNCAN, Ariz., July 22.—Five miners, buried for more than 48 hours, were brought safely from the 700-foot level of the Vets silver mine today by rescue workers.

MILLION VOTERS ARE EXPECTED TO CAST BALLOTS SATURDAY

By United Press
One million Texans tried to decide today which of 12 candidates they would nominate for their governor at the first Democratic primary Saturday. When the polls in 254 counties open at 7 a. m. Saturday, the million voters also must select nominees for eleven other statewide offices and name eleven congressional candidates and nominees for district and county offices and court seats. As the polling places were set up for a record vote, State Democratic Chairman Myron Blalock warned election officials to guard against irregularities. He declared negroes would not be permitted to vote in the primary. Candidates today allowed caution to go with the winds in hometown rallies and freely attacked their opponents. Carl Estes, Longview publisher, although not a candidate, charged Governor Allred had publicly supported W. Lee O'Daniel. In a telegram Estes asked Allred if he was not aiding O'Daniel in his campaign against Attorney General William McCraw, too, is a leading gubernatorial candidate. Allred declined comment. Following are some of the last campaign-day activities of candidates: McCraw, who spoke Thursday night over the radio, returned to his home city, Dallas, for a final rally. O'Daniel directed a home town rally in his honor in Fort Worth Thursday, then left today to talk in East Texas. Railroad Commissioner Ernest Thompson went to Greenville, where a one-hour broadcast was scheduled tonight to end his campaign. Tom Hunter of Wichita Falls, in the governor's race for the fourth time, announced he would speak in Fort Worth tonight.

Poison Mixing at Cisco Ceases Due To Small Demand

Because of the small volume of work the county grasshopper poison mixing station at Cisco has been closed, it was announced Friday by County Agent Elmo V. Cook. In notices to persons who have used poison this year Cook pointed out that the station would be opened temporarily should anyone want 1,000 pounds or more of poison mixed. He also pointed out that Luther Donaway is the only authorized person to operate the mixing plant. In the fall, intimated Cook, a poisoning campaign on egg laying will be conducted if interest warrants.

Savings Insurance as Economic Assurance

One of the elements which offer hope of recovery from today's depressed business conditions is the strength of the banking system as compared with that of 1932. Quickly indeed we have come to accept the guarantee of bank deposits as a matter of course. And yet the act was passed only in June of 1933, and was not really set operating until the first of the following year. It has been functioning only a little more than four years, yet already it is generally accepted that you seldom hear it spoken of. Yet today more than 50,000,000 bank accounts are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. And the owners of those accounts feel safe in regard to them. That builds confidence.

The first bank to close, whose depositors were protected by the insurance law, folded up in the fall of 1935. Since then more than 350,000 depositors in 200-odd banks have received $117,000,000 from the FDIC.

They lost nothing, and, barring a total collapse of the banking system with a series of closures like that which dotted the period 1920-23, the depositors in more than 13,700 insured banks are not likely to lose anything either. They know it, too, and the result is a confidence which in turn makes widespread bank closings less likely. Confidence breeds confidence, and security breeds security.

This strong banking situation is not entirely, of course, the product of the insurance plan. It should be remembered that half of the banks in the country went bust in the period just preceding the 1932-33 depression, and that, generally speaking, it was the stronger banks that survived. Ever since bank deposit insurance came in, there has been a tendency for the number of banks to shrink, by consolidations and closings. There are probably three or four hundred fewer banks today than there were then. This generally makes for greater strength in those which remain.

Stricter rules for chartering new banks have been put into force, with consequently greater chances of success for those that do begin business. The capital structure of the existing banks has also been materially strengthened through federal action.

The deposit insurance corporation thus far has operated on a sound basis, and is actually money ahead, building up its resources, despite the money paid out in the 200 failures.

As long as there are 50,000,000 savings accounts whose owners feel quite secure in their possession, there lies beneath recessions and depressions something which ought to make, and in the present instance seems to be making, a cushion off which we "bounce" once bottom is hit.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox
NEA Service Staff Writer
GUGELHUPF cake has a humorous sound, a big-hearted shape and lots of flavor. Here is how to make it.

Gugelhupf Cake
(Serves 8)
Three-quarter pound flour, 1 1-2 tablespoons yeast, 1-2 cup butter, 3 egg yolks and 1 whole egg, 1-2 cup sugar, 1 cup mixed raisins, chopped citrus and finely chopped almonds, pinch of salt and about 1 glass milk.

The yeast is dissolved in part of the lukewarm milk and mixed with 1-2 the flour and mixed into a dough. Cover and let stand in warm place for 3 hours to allow it to rise. The butter is creamed with the sugar and salt until it becomes foamy. Add the rest of the milk gradually, the eggs and the remaining flour. Add the almonds, sugar, citron and raisins to the dough that has been set aside to rise. Beat this well in a mixing bowl until bubbles form. Place in a crown form that has been well buttered and dusted with flour. Dot with almonds on the outside. Allow to stand in warm spot until it has risen to within 2 inches of the top of the form. Place in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) to bake between 40 and 50 minutes. Test like any other cake with a straw or fork to make sure

Says Little Steel for 'Square Deal'

Professing that his company believes in collective bargaining, Charles M. White, Republic Steel Corporation vice president, is pictured above as he told the Senate Civil Liberties Committee in Washington that Republic refuses to have its employees, "black-jacked" into union membership. White declared that his company gives its men a "square deal."

Spends Two Months In Jail Before He Is Given 30 Days

EL PASO.—Pedro Munoz waited two months in the county jail to be sentenced to 30 days on a charge of aggravated assault with an automobile. He pleaded guilty to the charge. The accident reportedly occurred during July, 1937.

It's getting so a man can't have any fun any more. Brides and grooms have been forbidden to kiss in a Cleveland church, and officials in Cairo have clamped a ban on wailing at funerals.

Auto Race Upset

The man shown waving his feet in the air and started for a header on the pavement is Frank Schifferie, cameraman for a Buffalo newspaper. He was rushing across the street to take a picture of the soap box derby contestant in the background when Contender No. 7 showed up and hit him, bending him (in this picture at least) into something like a pretzel.

Yarborough Gets Newsman's Support

"During four years as Assistant Attorney General, Ralph Yarborough won $1,073,500 in cash for the public schools in one case and $40,000,000 for the taxpayers of Texas in other cases," declared a statement received here today from Boyce House, former Eastland County editor, who is strongly supporting Yarborough, his personal friend, in the race for Attorney General.

Yarborough worked in the West Texas oil fields as a tank-builder and began the practice of law in West Texas. He is strongly in favor of assistance for needy children and old age pensions.

A state-wide survey indicates that he will lead by 40,000 votes in the first primary, state headquarters announced.

Claiborne Eldridge Makes Last Appeal

Claiborne Eldridge, candidate for re-election to the office of School Superintendent of Eastland County is today issuing his last appeal to the voters. Eldridge is asking for the second term of this office on the record he has made and is also thanking the voters of the county for the vote of confidence given him in his last campaign. During Eldridge's administration the following improvements have been made: school term increased from 7 1-2 to 8 months; aid increased from $2,000 to $60,000. Rural graduation has increased from rural school 600 per cent. Transported 25. Four schools were teaching vacations, now there are 14. Eldridge has also been active on different committees and never had an appeal to the School Superintendent. "These are the record," Eldridge and it is on this that he is asking for a second term your School Superintendent."

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS HAVE SURPLUS POWER TO SAVE FOOD IN HOTTEST TEXAS WEATHER!

...IT'S 50° OR LESS IN YOUR ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

● The ability of electric refrigerators to provide full-time food protection, even in the hottest Texas weather, is one reason for the overwhelming preference of Texas women for electric refrigeration. Fresh foods keep perfectly and frozen desserts and ice cubes are quickly made because the surplus power of electric refrigerators provides complete refrigeration service in 100-degree weather. Any refrigerator which doesn't provide complete refrigeration service, regardless of summer heat, does only a part-time job. Instead of being cheaper to own, it actually may be the most expensive due to money wasted through food spoilage.

1. Low operating cost assured by cheap electricity and new mechanical efficiencies.
2. Ample reserve freezing power to save food in hottest summer weather.
3. A refrigerator that has been time-tested and home proven.
4. A refrigerator that is convenient to install and simple to operate.
5. A refrigerator that freezes ice cubes and desserts-fast.

REDDY KILOWATT SAYS:

You need all FIVE advantages for most economical refrigeration service. Look them over and then visit your Electric Refrigerator Dealer. He will tell you how easy it is to own a new electric refrigerator and how little of my Cheap Electricity it uses.

SERIAL STORY

MYSTERY AT THE LAZY R BY CLARKE NEWLON

COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS NIKKI JEROME, heroine; blonde, popular, is engaged to six-foot, black-haired STEVE MALLORY, hero; who is accompanying her on a trip to Nikki's aunt and uncle on a Wyoming dude ranch. Nikki's father, PETER JEROME, is a wealthy New York jewel merchant.

Yesterday Nikki Jerome starts her trip by riding $100,000 in a strange traveling bag. Then she gets a surprise message from her father warning her not to antagonize Charles Dillon, who is on the train.

CHAPTER II

NIKKI spent a puzzled and unhappy night. The incident over the money and the note from her father mystified and frightened her. As the train got underway she sat down in bewilderment and reread the message.

The note warned her not to antagonize a man named Dillon. Apparently Dillon, then, was the man who had appeared in her stateroom. But what was his connection with her father, and what was he doing carrying around $100,000 in a dressing case? If the case had contained jewels, Nikki would have thought little of the incident. Peter Jerome was president and major owner of one of the country's largest retail jewelry concerns and a jewel expert recognized on two continents. But no business associate or friend of her father would be carrying a dressing case stuffed with money, as far as Nikki could know.

Her first reaction was, "I must tell Steve." And then she saw again the "extremely confidential" phrase and knew, miserably, that she couldn't tell Steve, that she couldn't tell anyone.

Later, in the lounge with Steve, she said: "What is the matter, Nikki? You look like you'd just looked down from the top of the Empire State building."

"I'm sorry dear." She had to make some excuse and she knew Steve deserved a better one than she could give him. "I guess it's the train. The train and my head. Sometimes they bother me." Nikki smiled. My head really is "plittling," she finished.

Steve went back to the club car to spend the evening reading through the train magazines. Nikki retired to her stateroom, hesitantly taking off her clothes and wondering whether to wire her father. She decided not to wire.

If he could have told me more he would have in the first place, thought Nikki as she climbed into bed. And then she suddenly came to the conclusion that her father probably knew what he was doing and had good reason for it.

There's no point in my worrying myself into a state about it, she concluded. At least not until something else happens. And feeling better, she went to sleep.

Something else happened, and if it didn't add to Nikki's worries, it at least added to the whole puzzle. She had greeted Steve cheerfully at breakfast.

"You were a darling not to be here last night," she told him, "feeling five now." She was, and after five minutes' bright conversation decided she had stoned in Steve's eyes for her behavior of the night before and that all was well there. After they had eaten Steve had gone back to his stateroom while Nikki paused a moment to talk to the porter. She was just starting away when she looked down the corridor.

"Get ready," she told herself half aloud. "Here's that man again."

He was followed by another, shorter and stockier, and obviously they were together. He was almost abreast of Nikki when she spoke.

"I would like to apologize for my intrusion of yesterday. I must have startled you," he said, and Nikki remembered his soft, smooth voice.

Illustration by E. H. Gunder

"Take your hand off her arm!" Steve's voice was low, but it was gratefully harsh.

She simulated mild surprise. "It was quite all right," she said, deciding swiftly that her safest course was to be casual.

"No one could blame you for being anxious about your—er—dressing case," Nikki said as if carrying $100,000 in cash around was the most usual thing in the world to her.

"I would like to introduce myself," he continued. "My name is Wade Bancroft. This gentleman is Mr. Sarto, my business associate."

Mr. Sarto nodded jerkily and backed away until he could continue on up the passage. "I would like to see more of you," said Bancroft, and Nikki thought, I wonder how he means that. If he doesn't quit saying "I would like" I'll scream and if he's Bancroft and the other man is Sarto, where is Dillon? Then she remembered her father's note and said:

"I am Nikki Jerome." "Going to the coast?" "No, just to the Lazy R Ranch in Wyoming."

Bancroft nodded pleasantly, announced that he hoped to see her again and Nikki continued on to her stateroom, her brain whirling. The man with the dressing case full of money isn't Dillon, she thought, he is Bancroft. He is traveling with an "associate" who looks remarkably like a bodyguard.

And now, summed up Nikki unhappily, I know about the money. Either Bancroft is Dillon or he has done something to Dillon and taken his money. If he's Dillon I've got to be nice to him on account of Dad, and if he isn't I'm liable to be murdered because I know about the money.

That afternoon she and Steve strolled back to the club car, but found every chair taken. The train had filled up at Chicago.

"Want to try the observation?" asked Steve. Nikki nodded and they had almost reached the far end when a man arose hastily. It was Bancroft.

"Miss Jerome," he observed. "Looking for a chair? I think Mr. Sarto is just leaving, weren't you?" Sarto arose without a word. Bancroft grasped Nikki's arm gently and began guiding her toward the vacated chair.

"Just a minute," said Steve, mostly amazed, but a little annoyed. Nikki leaped into the breach.

"Oh Steve," she said. "This is Mr. Bancroft. Mr. Bancroft, Mr. Mallory," and added, "my fiancé." Steve granted, Bancroft looked Steve up and down and said: "Very happy. Congratulations. But I'm sure," turning to Nikki, "that Mr. Mallory won't mind leaving you in good company for a while." He again offered Nikki the chair. It was obvious he intended keeping the seat beside her, leaving Steve to retire from the scene. The shading of indifferent contempt in his voice infuriated Steve.

"You're a little too quick, Bancroft," said Steve. "We'll go on out on the observation. Come on Nikki!"

"I think you'll find it occupied also," replied Bancroft smoothly. He took Nikki's arm again. "May I offer you this seat, Miss Jerome?"

"Take your hand off her arm," Steve's voice was low, but it was gratefully harsh, and several people in the car looked up.

Nikki glanced around quickly. She felt like a bone between two strange dogs. She was thinking of Steve and her father both when she spoke.

"Steve," she said quietly. "This is being ridiculous. Mr. Bancroft is an old friend."

Steve stared at Nikki a moment in disbelief, his eyes bitter. Then he turned and strode out of the car. Nikki hated herself for what she had said and hated the man beside her for placing her in a position where she had to say it. She sat down, thinking that the situation couldn't last much longer, as a porter came up and told Bancroft:

"Your wire has been sent sir." Bancroft turned to Nikki. He said: "I just telegraphed ahead for reservations on the Lazy R. Decided a little western vacation wouldn't do me any harm either."

NEW YORK—Harness racing requires a complete new deal to survive.

This from the lips of Benjamin Franklin White, who launched his illustrious career as a trainer and driver under the daddy of them all, Edward F. (Pop) Gears, as far back as 1898.

White points out that the sulky sport is badly in need of a racing secretary for the entire Grand Circuit.

His appointment would eliminate local directors at the various tracks, and keep 2,000 performers out of fields of 2-02 trotters.

White urges cards of dashes in place of the old and current heat system.

He stresses the fact that it is unfair to ask 3-year-olds to trot three separate miles in 2:01 4/5, 2:01 3/5, and 2:02, and older heads only two heats which they traverse in something between 2:04 4/5 and 2:17.

White is right when he says that the public grows tired of seeing the same horses return to the track.

He would split up the larger fields to limit them to nine horses.

He hits scoresome scoring... asserts that the horses are sufficiently warmed up after scoring twice and that a competent starter should have them on their way in the third attempt.

They have dash racing and a minimum of scoring in Europe, where the standardbreds occupy the lofty position held by the runners on this side.

White deplores the lack of attention given the more wholesome type of racing by the w... news services.

White is the only man who has driven two Hambletonian winners... Mary Reynolds in 1933, and Rosalind in 1936. He trained another... Isola's Worthy, in 1927, and—

The result of the Champion Stallion Stake at Cleveland's North Randall indicates that Benjamin F. may have another in Long Key, a brown son of Peter Voio-Isola's Worthy, standing 15 hands 2 inches high and weighing 900 pounds.

E. J. MERKLE, retired sportsman of Columbus, O., purchased Long Key as a yearling at the Old Glory sale in New York for $3500 on the recommendation of White and because he was a son of Isola's Worthy, which he also owned.

Long Key equaled the record mile of 2:01 1/2 for the Championship Stallion Stake, set by the renowned Greyhound in 1935. This occurred in the second heat, after Champlain had captured the first in 2:01 4/5. Long Key clinched the long end of the $6185 purse by taking the third mile in 2:02.

While Long Key repulsed Champlain, Earl's Mr. Will, and Professor, Walter Cox, and other good ones. McLain was the winter book Hambletonian favorite, but today the price is down on Long Key, which bagged the fastest three-heat Championship Stallion Stake trotted since it was inaugurated at North Randall in 1910.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY BUTCHER NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Many outstanding economists in Washington are now beginning to believe that business has left the bottom of the 1937-38 depression and is proceeding upward toward another period of recovery.

Even some conservative experts who until recently feared that any marked early upturn would be followed by a sharp drop in business activity during autumn have now lost their skepticism. And many expect the wheels of industry to be whirling merrily by January.

Chief difference in confidential forecasts available is a diversity of opinion as to the probable rate of acceleration of the upswing.

The stock market is something else again. In the opinion of some of the canny government experts, who believe its recent spurt was not justified by the relatively small business pickup and that stock prices previously had held up well as compared with the precipitous decline of industrial production. A sharp market drop would cause no surprise in Washington.

ANNOYANCE at the Hitler government's nonchalant policy toward payment of German—and Austrian—debts continues to spread. Even the New York Stock Exchange has made a unique application to the Securities and Exchange Commission for removal of a German bond issue from its list.

The securities involved are the German Central Bank for Agriculture Secured 6 Per Cent Farm

THE telegraph office of one of the larger New Deal agencies is always on the watch for instances of possible lese majeste.

Considering the word somewhat disrespectful, telegraph office censors refused to clear it.

So the message went through for a picture of F. D. R. "smiling, not too broadly."

Loan Gold Sinking Fund Bonds of 1928, which matured April 15. Because of German foreign exchange restrictions, the bank was unable to provide dollars in New York for payment. So it offered other bonds or blocked reichsmarks, which can't get outside Germany.

The New York exchange's committee on stock and bond listing gave an opinion to SEC that it would be in the public interest to drop the listing of the bonds.

SEC had a hearing at which no opposition was registered, although it subsequently received a letter from the bank expressing concern in Germany, which requested three days for translation.

SEC is now considering. It nearly always follows the exchange's recommendation in such cases.

McCraw Literature Printed In Union Shops in the State

Three telegrams, received today by Donald J. McCarthy, secretary of Typographical Union No. 842, which covers Eastland, Cisco, Ranger and Breckenridge, denied reports that William McCraw had distributed literature printed in non-union shops. The telegrams were from union men in Dallas and Fort Worth. They follow, in full:

Dallas, Texas. Donald J. McCarthy, Secy., Typographical Union 842, Ranger, Texas.

Understand wires from Austin sent saying "A candidate for governor" is distributing non-union printed literature. This may be another attempt to discredit Bill McCraw at eleventh hour. I know Bill well enough to say charges are entirely false as to him.

TOM WILSON, Wilson Printing Co. Fort Worth, Texas.

Donald J. McCarthy, Secy., Typographical Union 842, Ranger, Texas.

Request was made for me to investigate whether or not literature distributed by William McCraw for governor printed in union shops. So far as I could learn, no literature distributed by McCraw headquarters here except printed in union shops. Knowing Bill McCraw as I do I doubt that he would permit literature printed in non-union shops to be distributed to any of his friends in Texas.

JOHN CONLEY, 2nd Vice President-elect, International Typographical Union Dallas, Texas.

Donald J. McCarthy, Secy., Typographical Union 842, Ranger, Texas.

So far as we are able to ascertain all McCraw literature has been printed in union shops. Understand wires from Austin have been sent out to the contrary. Sounds like a deliberate attempt to discredit McCraw.

L. E. VORMAN, Pres. Dallas Typographical Union 173.

District Attorney Hears Death Verdict Given 10 Times

By United Press EL PASO, Tex.—District Attorney Roy D. Jackson, who has heard the death penalty read to 10 men he prosecuted, says he is getting used to his work.

In Alpine recently, Jackson directed the prosecution against Francis Marion Black, Jr., who was given the death penalty for the murder of 13-year old Marvin Dale Noblett.

"I became ill the first time a man I prosecuted was given a death sentence," Jackson recalled.

British music leaders are ban crooning in churches. A good reason for attending regularly.

To The Voters of Eastland County

The time is near for the voters of Eastland county to select their County Superintendent for the next four years. The length of the term is not the question in this race. The question is and should be the best interest of all the children of the entire county. If the voters will read the recent articles I have had published they will have a fair idea of what has been accomplished.

What I have told the voters is a matter of record and in addition to past articles I wish to state that there has been created during the past four years a better spirit of cooperation and friendliness among the smaller and larger schools than has been enjoyed for many years. That fact is evidenced to all and at the same time every child in Eastland county has free access to our affiliated schools. We now have four accredited rural high schools, namely, Morton Valley, Colony, Alameda and Scranton.

I told the people four years ago that I believed in CONSOLIDATION, was strong for it, BUT BY VOTE OF THE PEOPLE ONLY. That has been accomplished.

Now about the four years term. The legislature in special called session in 1930 passed the bill changing the term from two to four years. This is a matter of record in the House journal of said special session. My predecessor served the first four-year term. I had nothing to do with the passage of the law before or since its passage.

I have served the schools of this and no other county for 24 years as teacher at both Gorman and Eastland, and principal of rural schools at Flatwood, New Hope and Mangum, all near my home for the past 35 years. I have supported by my active service and material means all civic and humanitarian organizations my full limit.

I was reared in Gorman and Carbon and lived in the two towns for the 35 years above mentioned, with the exception of one and a half years during the World War, 14 months of which I spent in active service. It is a very easy matter to check my qualifications, reputation and CHARACTER. There are literally hundreds of the old-timers in all parts of this county who have known me from early boyhood, from a poor country lad to county superintendent. I am merely asking that true Democracy be done.

Elect me for a second term and I'll give in return efficient and courteous service and will do my best to build a system of schools that will endure. Thanks a lot.

Pinch of Salt In Glass of Water Is Good Summer Hint

AUSTIN, Tex.—If your work is such that it causes excessive perspiration, add a pinch of ordinary table salt to each drink of water you take to help prevent heat cramps. This is advised by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, to prevent a possible increase in the number of heat victims as the Texas thermometer hits 95 degrees and above.

Laborers, mechanics, farmers and white collar workers whose work causes them to sweat profusely, are in danger of having their body salt content become deficient with resulting heat cramps or heat fog. Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat; the body may lose as high as 40 to 50 grams of salt during hot days.

In industry, a method of preventing heat cramps is to take a tablet of pure salt or a mixture of salt and dextrose with each drink of water. Workmen whose duties require muscular exertion should be especially careful to add more than the usual amount of salt to what they eat and drink.

Salt deficiency may be prevented by taking salt in various ways. Where prepared tablets are not available, table salt may be added to each drink of water. Milk is a source of salt and will help to make up for the deficiency caused by sweating. Alcoholic drinks should be avoided.

Heat cramp is characterized by pains (cramps) in the abdominal region, headache, and in severe cases, by nausea and vomiting. The body temperature remains about normal, likewise the pulse rate. Body salt losses occur without the knowledge of the individual until there is a deficiency; then the abdominal muscles begin to cramp.

U. S. Finds Veteran, Gives Him Medals

By United Press ASHEVILLE, N. C.—An Asheville druggist has been presented three additional medals by the Federal government for services during the World War.

James P. Adams, who served as a Marine captain during the war, already had received the Distinguished Service Cross, Navy Cross, two Croix de Guerre, the Victory medal with five clasps and other decorations. Adams recently applied for membership in the marine reserve corps and when authorities reviewed his record he was awarded the Silver Star with oak leaves, the Purple Heart and the Marine Expeditionary Force medal. City officials of Berlin declare it's every pedestrian's duty to cross the street only when the way is clear. Duty? In most cities it's a rare privilege.

It's the littlehumble things that make a house a HOME

THOSE careless marks of his baby fingers... could any one buy them from you now? The knee-high smudges on the door! The pencil scratches on the wall that showed his growth from two to a little man of six! The nicked nursery bed where you two watched for hours one night until a sprawled, feverish form slipped into healing slumber!

Yes, a home is seasoned with smiles and tears, mellowed by memories and flavored with hopes. Each room has well-loved articles that have grown dearer with the years. And there are new things that you are working and planning for. It may be an occasional table for the living-room. New drapes for the breakfast nook. A summer rug. Porch and lawn furniture.

The advertisements in this newspaper bring you news of furnishings to freshen your home. Study them and save shopping steps and budget dollars. They will help you add to the gracious charm of your home... that little world which is your very own!

WOMAN FIGHTS BULL!

Martha Raye takes the bull by the horns and makes arena history in the hilarious climax of Paramount's new Mexican fiesta, "Tropic Holiday," which will have its first local showing today and Saturday at the Lyric Theatre. The man who has taken refuge under his sombrero is Bob Burns, the Arkansas sage turned caballero for the day. Dorothy Lamour and Ray Milland are also cast.

Texas Is Missing Chance to Secure A Pulp Industry

DALLAS, Tex.—Texas has potentialities for leadership in the southward trend of paper and pulp manufacture which are being largely overlooked for lack of aggressive courtship of this and other industries for which the state is naturally qualified, says a report of the All-South Development Council.

An exhaustive five-year survey just completed by the United States Forestry Service shows that 36 pine-growing counties in East Texas have the greatest potential supply of pulp in the country, the report quotes E. L. Demmon of New Orleans, director of the Southern Forest Experiment station, as saying.

Pointing out that in the rich cellulose-growing region of East Texas some 87,000,000 cords of pulpwood are available for production of kraft paper and newsprint Demmon said, "Texas must wake up and induce the new pulp mills moving south to locate in this state whose natural resources place it at the top as a logical location. In the last 18 months $100,000,000 has been invested in the south in new mills, but most of them are located in Louisiana, Georgia, Mississippi and Florida where aggressive industrial programs are under way to increase income and employment."

The East Texas timber belt, according to a Texas Forest Service survey, has an area of 12,624,000 acres, of which 10,615,000 are of the pine type, the remainder in hardwoods. Average non-depleting yields, per year, of 6.89 cords of pine and 2.02 cords of pulp-type hardwoods, form the basis of the estimate of ready timber. Total pulpwood requirements of the United States average only around 17,000,000 cords a year, whereas about 30,000,000 cords in trees of proper pulp size are available in Texas right now, and it is a self-producing crop when properly conserved.

Stating that a Texas pine grows half a cord per acre per year, three times as fast as spruce in Canada, Demmon said "You have everything for this industry in Texas; besides the fast-growing wood crop, you have sulphur, limestone, water, ample labor and cheap fuel. But the Old South, more limited in physical resources than Texas, is getting the jump. On January 1 there were in operation or under construction 38 pulp mills. Only two are in Texas, compared with seven for Virginia, seven for Louisiana, five for Florida and three for Mississippi. Production of pine for pulp is a new industry which might well offset the loss of income to Southern farmers through the cotton restriction program.

Imports of pulp and paper for the United States normally account for more than 50 per cent of the nation's consumption, which indicates an expansion of the industry in this country is desirable and feasible without any danger of over-production domestically, the report said.

John Barrymore has offered for sale his old home, together with its wild animal heads, South American Indian skeletons, and totem pole. He wants to be alone.

Dust Bowl to Have A Memorial For Pres. Roosevelt

By United Press
AMARILLO, Texas.—A memorial to Franklin D. Roosevelt, the president who was rain-soaked on a visit to America's "dust bowl," was planned today to be placed in the park where he spoke here.

Planners hoped to put on the memorial shaft the words: "A mighty good omen," which Mr. Roosevelt used to express his reaction to the rain. Nearly 100,000 persons saw and heard the chief executive on his recent two-hour stop here during his transcontinental tour.

It was the first public address ever made by a president in the Texas Panhandle.

Mayor Ross D. Rogers of Amarillo invited citizens of a five-state area to participate in the memorial. These include parts of Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma.

A few days after Mr. Roosevelt's visit, over $500,000 in federal funds was allotted to this area for conservation of water resources, the topic upon which the President spoke.

Facts Concerning the Candidacy of Henry Davenport and His Record As County Commissioner of Precinct 1, Eastland County

MR. BUSINESS MAN AND LABORER!

Mr. Laborer, Mr. Business Man, Mr. Property Owner, and Mr. Citizen of Eastland County Precinct No. 1, we believe you are interested in knowing the facts concerning Mr. Henry Davenport's, Commissioner of Eastland County, records since he has been in office. The Commissioners' Court books are open to the public. We have, therefore, taken the time to secure from the records at Eastland the following data:

During the Government's program through WPA projects to say nothing of the CWA, Mr. Davenport has secured projects to the expenditure of $310,056.00 under his supervision and the expenditures have accomplished

Mr. Laborer, Mr. Business Man, Mr. Property Owner, and Mr. Citizen, you know this has been a tremendous aid to Eastland County Precinct No. 1 due to the fact that the laboring man received the money and spent it with the business man, which has helped business generally.

At every meeting, Mr. Davenport has always fought for the laboring man in order to get better wages, more opportunities for them to work by keeping the projects planned ahead. Everywhere you go in his Precinct you see his accomplishments. Mr. Davenport stands high with the WPA officials. His records and accomplishments in the past prove this. We believe he is in a position to continue this progress in the future which he has made in the past, in fact, we believe he is now in a better position to accomplish more for Precinct No. 1 than ever before due to the experience he has had in the past.

We believe every laboring man, every business man, every property owner should give the above facts serious consideration before casting your vote and we believe the above accomplishments warrants a vote for Mr. Davenport.

(This ad has been paid for by people who are interested in seeing Mr. Davenport reelected due to the fact we believe it is for the laboring man's best interest, business man's best interest, and for everyone living in Precinct No. 1).
