Bishop Cannon Is Victorious Over Accusers

By I. I. FEMRITE
United Press Staff Correspondent
DALLAS, Tex., May 20.—Bishop James Cannon Jr., of Virginia, apologized to the representatives of 2,000,000 Methodists at their general conference today for his dealings in the stock market, acknowledging his mistake, and promising never to make it again.

His formal exoneration was read to the conference this morning by F. P. Culver of Cisco, chairman of the episcopacy committee, which heard charges against him, and his report was received with genuine applause.

Although Judge G. T. Fitzhugh of Memphis, who brought the charges served notice of formal protest against the committee's action, the majority of the delegates showed themselves today as being on Cannon's side.

Culver's report said the committee of 100 had examined the fitness of the 13 Methodist bishops and found them all qualified, adding that:

"Your committee on episcopacy deeply deprecates the hurt which has come upon the church by the Cannon affair. However, after the committee received his apologies, it was decided to dismiss the charges and approve his character."

The 72-year-old Bishop himself took the floor after the committee report was read and made a brief statement. He said he wanted the conference to understand that he asked for an investigation of the charges he understood would be made on the first day of the conference.

At the time of his transactions with a New York broker, the Bishop said, he had no idea but that the deals were legitimate.

"I know now that I did make a mistake," he said. "I am sorry my actions have wounded my church. It will never occur again."

Cannon's voice broke as he finished his brief apology and resumed his seat.

Judge Fitzhugh followed him on the floor, declaring the committee action in refusing to order a trial was "irregular, illegal and indefensible." In behalf of those who represent, Judge Fitzhugh said, he will file a protest against the committee's action, to be written into the records of the church.

Josephus Daniels, critic of Cannon, and others, had an affidavit acknowledged today in which further allegations are made concerning Cannon's stock market deals. Judge Fitzhugh's speech received only slight applause, however, and the general conference is not expected to be moved to any further consideration of charges against Cannon.

By IRWIN I. FEMRITE
United Press Staff Correspondent
DALLAS, Tex., May 20.—Victorious in meeting the attacks of his accusers who sought to bring him to trial for his stock market transactions, Bishop James Cannon Jr. had complete vindication today before the 21st quadrennial conference here of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

A statement exonerating the Virginia prelate of marginal speculation on the New York Stock Exchange was scheduled to be read to the general session today. It was prepared last night after the episcopacy committee tendered Bishop Cannon a full vote of confidence after hours spent considering the speculation charges.

The episcopacy committee previously had exonerated the Bishop of charges arising from his activities against Alfred E. Smith in the 1928 presidential campaign.

Bishop Cannon's contention that the moneys he had deposited with the brokerage firm of Kable & Company in New York had been for the purpose of buying stocks outright, was upheld by the committee.

"We found, according to evidence presented, that Bishop Cannon was the victim of stock sharpers," said Frank C. Culver, of Cisco, Tex., chairman of the episcopacy committee. In a letter to the committee Bishop Cannon asserted that he had been led to believe he was trading with a legitimate investment house, rather than a "bucket shop."

The action of the committee is not subject to review. The vote of the general conference was 1,000-0.

pleately clears the Virginia cleric of all the charges formally presented to the episcopacy.

Bishop Cannon still faced a struggle today, however, to retain the confidence of the temperance and social service board, of which he has been chairman for many years. The attack, coming from the ranks of that committee, was pointed to serve only during the quadrennial conference, was to be brought before the general session of the conference today in the form of a minority report. Josephus Daniels, secretary of the episcopacy, during the Wilson administration, heads the group which seeks to oust Bishop Cannon from the chairmanship of the temperance board.

While the episcopacy concluded its deliberations last night, Bishop Cannon delivered a 45-minute address before a temporary rally of 700 delegates. He urged expenditure of millions of dollars for "prohibition education."

Election of three new bishops, in accordance with the episcopacy committee's recommendation to increase the college to 18, was to be held at the afternoon conference session today. Those mentioned as being in line for the position included: J. W. Perry, Nashville; A. T. Moore, Birmingham; T. D. Ellis, Louisville; Dr. C. S. Selman, Dallas; W. A. Slot Machine Burglaries End In Two Deaths

By UNITED PRESS
GREEN BAY, Wis., May 20.—A long series of slot machine burglaries in road houses around Green Bay was climaxed today by a double murder.

The bodies of John Van Veghel, roadhouse owner, and Lucile Bird-sall, an employee, were found in Van Veghel's Golden Pleasant Inn. They had been beaten to death and two slot machines broken open and rifled.

A cash box in a bedroom was untouched and the cash register on the bar still held some money, strengthening the police theory that robbers had been surprised in the work and killed Van Veghel and Miss Bird-sall for interfering.

Fire Hazard At Huntsville Now Before The Board

BY UNITED PRESS
HOUSTON, Tex., May 20.—Removal of Huntsville prison fire hazards will be the first step in the prison board's one-year job of improving the Texas penal system, by a decision at its bi-monthly meeting here yesterday.

The board is budgeting the required legislative appropriation totaling $575,000.

The most important of these funds is one of $150,000 for building and other improvements within the Huntsville walls.

The fire prevention decision came out of a recent report by state fire marshal Deweese that the Huntsville prison situation constituted the greatest fire hazard that had come within his experience.

IN THE REALM of SPORT

WITH THE TEXAS LEAGUE

The Wichita Falls Spudders today had a lead of two full games in the Texas League by virtue of their victory over Dallas Monday while Houston, in second place, was losing to Waco.

Hal Wittse, Wichita Falls pitching ace, held Dallas to two hits while the Spudders won, 5 to 0. Bennie Karr, making his debut as a Steer hurler, yielded 11 hits and was taken out in the eighth inning to make way for a pinch hitter.

Chalking up his seventh victory of the season, Hank Thormahlen held Houston to three hits, one of those a scratch single, while the Cubs made enough runs to win, 3 to 1. The Houston infield made four double plays.

With four Fort Worth pitchers walking 15 men, Shreveport had little difficulty in winning 8 to 4, although they were outbitten by the Cats, six blows to nine.

The Beaumont-San Antonio game scheduled for Monday had been played as part of Sunday's double header.

Westterfeldt was selected also with three other men from six states, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, Texas, Louisiana, and Arkansas to enter the all-star relay event.

As Gallant Fox Won Classic Preakness

"I didn't call on him till we hit the furlong pole. Then he came on with a rush. Brave colt!" . . . and the story's told in the picture above. There you see Gallant Fox, after coming from next to last position in a dash that electrified a crowd of 40,000 persons, finishing three-quarters of a length ahead of Crack Brigade to win the Preakness, Maryland's greatest turf classic, at Pimlico. It was Jockey Earle Sande's first Preakness Victory.

AMONG THE MAJOR LEAGUES

Rain and cold weather halted all National League games Monday and the Brooklyn Robins continued in first place. The Robins are only one game ahead of the fifth place Pittsburgh Pirates.

The American League race has developed into a tight between the Philadelphia Athletics and the Washington Senators. The Senators are leading by a full game.

The Detroit Tigers defeated the St. Louis Browns in the only games played and climbed from the American League cellar to seventh place, with the Browns dropping to eighth. The Tigers required 10 innings to take the opener, 5 to 4, but won the second, 4 to 1.

17-Year-Old Gander Defies Golfers

Golfers on a new country club links just opened near Wichita, Kan., may not like it but they'll have to put up with the presence of Johnnie, 17-year-old pet gander who is privileged to wander around the greens as he chooses. When James Driscoll, Johnnie's owner, sold his farm to the golf club and moved into the city recently it was written in the $70,000 deal that Johnnie should remain on the old home place as long as he lived. Johnnie and Mr. Driscoll are shown above.

The Golf Player's Burden

BOBBY JONES is starting a campaign this year for four great championships, the British and the American Amateur and Open titles. If he can go through these four, playing the kind of golf that wins, he will establish himself (if, indeed, he is not already so established) as the greatest golfer of all time. For golf is a business that does the same thing that a playful Persian kitty can do to a skin of woolen thread.

Jerry Travers was supposed to own a set of nerves that he could keep pretty well hand-cuffed. Travers went about the fairways and the greens with a face that bore all the enthusiastic expressions of a cold storage egg. With silent tongue and immobile features, he became known as the poker face of golf. The only symptoms he ever betrayed of the turmoil that must have gone on within him were occasional flicks of his club after his shots, and you had to be a mind reader to analyze these.

The Agony

YET for all of Travers' granite countenance he suffered. During the night before his last match in England, he lay awake all night, tossing, turning, planning, fretting, hoping. He had shot a 72 the day before. After a night of torture he went out to be beaten, with 89.

Travers was magnificent at concentration. In 1915 at Baltusrol he needed nine par holes in a row to win. During the playing of those nine holes he saw nothing outside of his game. Several times friends took his arm and spoke to him. He did not respond—he didn't even know they were there. He won by one stroke, but for days after he was on the verge of breakdown.

Jones Happier Now

JONES has learned how to go along without the impetuous outbursts of his earlier days, taking his breaks philosophically, doing his best on every shot. THESE TWINS THINK ALIKE

Letha and Leton Have Minds That Run in Same Channel, Arkansas College Instructors Say

By NEA Service JONESBORO, Ark.—Not only do Letha and Leton Adams, Jonesboro twins, look alike and act alike, but they also think alike.

The queer phenomenon that their minds run in the same channel—that as one thinks the other thinks—is vouchsafed for by instructors at Arkansas State College...

It happened like this: The girls took civil service examinations for government jobs. Back came a reply from Washington stating, "There is obvious evidence of copying in the papers."

Indignant, the girls protested. College instructors, called in, testified that the twins' minds run in the same channel—that they think alike.

Teachers said the twins had been separated and watched in examinations and would invariably turn in the same answers.

Instructors are convinced that the girls just naturally think alike and are taking the matter up with the Civil Service Commission.

18-Year-Old Girl Makes Highest Cotton Record

More Than 3 Bales of Lint Produced From One Acre in Arkansas 4-H Club Contest

FAMILY OF CROP CHAMPIONS. Seated: Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Beall; standing, Blanche, Elmer and Charles. With the exception of Mrs. Beall, all the family have been consistent winners of crop contests...

The high-water mark in cotton production during 1929 was better than three bales from one acre.

The honor of setting the new record goes, so far as is known, to Blanche Beall, 18-year-old girl of Wilson, Arkansas.

Plants Kept Green and Fruiting The use of the quick-acting nitrogen fertilizer helped the cotton get off to a good start...

In winning her new honors, Blanche has really followed a family tradition. The Bealls of Arkansas are known throughout the South for their high crop records.

63 Are Killed In Foreign Countries By Fires, Storms

LONDON, May 20.—Floods, earthquakes, fires and mud flows took 63 lives in Central Europe and Asia during the past two days...

The heaviest casualties occurred on the island of Java, where 45 persons were killed by a mud flow from the volcanic mountain of Surabaya.

An earthquake at Shiraz, Persia, caused the death of ten persons and devastated a large area.

Six persons were burned to death when the Hungarian villages of Takaczi and Pert-Dehomok were destroyed by fire.

The river Ceresmos burst its banks in Poland under swollen waters and drowned two persons.

NO OUTSIDE HELP FOR FAMINE-STRIKEN CHINA

Hope for relief of the famine situation in northwest China now centers largely on the crop harvests this spring and summer within the stricken area...

Relief from outside the affected area, Commissioner Nyhus says, "appears to be practically impossible because of the primitive and costly methods of transport in this part of China."

Commissioner Nyhus reports that about 1,000,000 people are suffering from lack of food in the stricken area.

The wheat crop in the spring of 1929, Commissioner Nyhus says, "was about half a normal crop due to lack of spring rains, and the autumn crops also were very poor."

At that time there was so little rain that the planting of wheat in September, 1928, was confined principally to irrigated districts which represented only 5 per cent of the plain.

There was, therefore, hardly any wheat crop in the spring of 1929. Spring rains in 1929 were late and spring crops were generally poor.

Weather conditions last summer, however, were more favorable and late plantings of millet, corn, and beans helped somewhat to relieve famine conditions last fall.

GOOD FARM PRACTICES REDUCE WEVIL LOSS Close spacing of cotton combined with judicious use of fertilizer is helping thousands of farmers to outsmart the boll weevil.

"We are lobbyists," the Rev. Dr. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, said when, as pictured here, he testified before the Senate lobby investigating committee in Washington.

But lobbying, he said, represented only 5 per cent of the league's activities. He listed the organization's expenditures last year as $273,049.

necessary to form and develop the bulls on the two stalks in half the time as was formerly required to mature the same number of bulls on one stalk.

The extra plant food speeds up the formation of squares and the development of bulls before the heavy weevil attack begins.

Although the weevil will likely destroy the bulls at the top of the stalk the large bulls at the bottom, set early in the season, are safely out of danger.

The side-dressing is applied 35 to 40 days after planting or at about chopping time. The common application is 100 to 200 pounds of Chilean nitrate of soda per acre.

The nitrate dissolves in the soil just like sugar and is absorbed at once through the roots of the plant.
