

Reds Declare Jan Masaryk Kills Himself

PRAGUE, March 10. (AP) — Jan Masaryk, non-party minister in the new communist government, killed himself today in a leap from his second story office, the government announced. He was 61.

(Gen. Lev. Prehala, a Czech resistance leader in London, commented: "Suicide? It is possible.")

Masaryk was the son of Thomas Masaryk, founder and first president of the republic. His death took from the communists the use of the distinguished name. The controlled radio said Masaryk "must have been seriously aggrieved and wounded by the malicious, tendentious attacks made upon him by the western press."

Officials of the foreign ministry, after a period of reluctance to confirm the report, finally announced Masaryk had died at 8 a. m. The government broadcast at noon officially announced the death. It followed the announcement with the solemn requiem music of Anton Dvorak, the great Czech composer.

The government delayed without explanation foreign news agency telegraph circuits for 30 minutes. Masaryk last appeared publicly Sunday. He looked harassed, haggard and worried.

The controlled press had quoted him as telling Czechoslovak army officers last Thursday: "You can count on me. I am one of you. x x x we must have unity with the Soviet Union. Our place is at their side. We must be grateful if Russia allows us to be there. We made a bloodless revolution and have entered a new phase of history."

Even while Masaryk's body was borne from the courtyard where he fell, Dr. Prokop Drtina, who was minister of justice in the previous cabinet with him, was convalescing from head injuries sustained in what police said was a three-story plunge from his villa.

Czechoslovaks gathered in little knots discussing Masaryk's death. It was a shock to those who regarded him as a possible balance wheel for the country. It was a blow also to those who believed he might be helpful in getting them out of the closely-guarded country legally. Masaryk once helped 5,000 Jews escape from German occupation forces.

Teachers also had asked that date of election for teachers be set up to March 15, but the board did not concur in this, preferring to wait until mid-April in order that any new member of the board could have opportunity to study the lists.

In reply to a request that the association be invited to send representatives to each board meeting, the board replied that all meetings were open to the public and any person wishing to listen or have business with the board could sit in a meeting. However, in keeping with a line of authority, the board suggested that if teachers have any special business with the board, that the matter be cleared first through the administrators.

There was a feeling that in the case of the letter, plus a list of formal recommendations for high school administrative details submitted to a member of the board, the association had not followed proper lines of procedure in confronting trustees with requests.

In other policy matters, the board decreed that the athletic bus be made available without charge for inter-city transport of students engaged in approved activities, generally taken to mean interscholastic league functions. The minimum number of students required for use of the bus will be established subsequently. Heretofore, a 30 cents per mile charge was set up for use of the bus and in the case of football and basketball, the charge was merely a bookkeeping entry. Other students, however, had to pay personally or out of their activity funds for use of the bus.

Gerald Anderson was elected as speech and commercial teacher in the high school, and Mrs. C. Oliver See School Board, Pgs. 11, Col. 4.

SOLON OPTIMISTIC Mahon Opposes Civil Rights Bill

At the conclusion of a successful fight Monday on one attempt at passage of President Truman's Civil Rights proposals, Rep. George Mahon advised the press of his district that "I am more hopeful now than I have been at any time recently that we will be able to defeat the Federal anti-segregation, anti-lynching, anti-poll tax and FEPC legislation, all of which I am opposing."

The House Appropriation committee, of which Mahon is a member, late last week rejected a Civil Rights amendment offered to an appropriation bill. Mahon was one of those who voted against the Civil Rights rider.

On Monday, Mahon took the floor in the House to make the following remarks: "It was encouraging to me to see members of both parties join together on a non-partisan basis in striking out this offensive provision in the bill, a provision which may have prevented segregation of the races in the schools and hospitals and which could have been used as the basis for placing into operation a sort of Fair Employment Practice Commission—FEPC."

"On previous occasions and in former years I have consistently condemned and voted against this so-called civil rights legislation. I again wish to register my emphatic protest against and opposition to federal anti-poll tax legislation, federal anti-lynching legislation, legislation designed to prevent segregation of the races, and to set up a Fair Employment Practices Commission—FEPC."

"Such legislation is dangerous, unconstitutional, against public interest, and it should not even be considered by Congress, much less enacted into law. We need unity at this time in our history and an application of all our energies to the great national and international questions which press down upon us."

On Monday, Mahon took the floor in the House to make the following remarks: "It was encouraging to me to see members of both parties join together on a non-partisan basis in striking out this offensive provision in the bill, a provision which may

CHINA HEARING Chennault Pleads For Military Aid

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP) — Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault told the House Foreign Affairs committee today that military aid to China would help stop "Russian aggression" in Europe.

The former commander of the "Flying Tigers" said failure to provide aid for China "will inevitably set the stage for World War III."

The "Flying Tigers" were a volunteer force of fliers, mostly American, who fought with China against Japan before Pearl Harbor.

At 57, Chennault is retired from the Army and heads a commercial aviation concern in China. He flew here to testify at the committee's hearings on the administration's request that Congress vote $570,000,000 for aid to China.

Chennault's 25-year-old Chinese wife accompanied him to the hearing. Chennault argued: "China's enormous population could furnish almost unlimited manpower for military operations if properly trained, equipped and supplied. At least the fact that they could not be dominated and trained as slave labor by Russian masters would be of utmost value to us as an asset."

"When these facts are considered and given proper weight as strategic factors in any future war, it is not difficult to understand why Russia would not voluntarily launch an offensive in Europe so long as China remains uncommitted. Nor should it be hard to understand why a third world war is improbable if China remains our friend and ally."

City May Increase Paving 57 Blocks

Commissioners Order Planning To Be Started

Fourth Street Is Considered As Big Project

Moving forward another step in their program for increasing paving in Big Spring, city commissioners Tuesday instructed the city manager to prepare rolls of property owners and estimated assessment lists on approximately 57 more blocks of city streets.

Largest single project in the proposed plans involves Fourth street, which commissioners hope to complete from east to west city limits, with a view toward opening that street as a thoroughfare to through traffic.

At least 25 blocks included in the new plans are virtually assured for a new project, and commissioners expressed hope that arrangement could be made for completing all of the 57 blocks. City Manager H. W. Whitney advised the commission that the city probably could meet its part of assessment for the 25 blocks from funds currently available, and reports on petitions circulated among property owners indicated that amount could be added immediately with few, if any, skips.

However, the rolls and estimated assessments will be prepared for the 57 blocks, which will be the commission's goal for a new contract with Brown and Root Construction Co. The commissioners were in unanimous agreement that the city should attempt as much paving as possible while the contractor has equipment located here. Brown and Root spokesmen said they expected to complete current work on or before May 15, a schedule that will require swift work on the part of the city to clear preliminary work for new projects.

Other methods of financing the city's part in new contracts in excess of funds available were discussed, but no definite agreement was reached. Mayor G. W. Dabney declared himself opposed to any type of bond issue to finance paving, and other commissioners concurred. However, Commissioner Willard Sullivan said he would not be opposed to issuing a few paving warrants if it should become necessary.

If developed the new contract also will include several skips which were left unpaved in volunteer projects. The 57 blocks listed for consideration include the following: Main

U. S., Soviet Appear Split On Partition

Word Battle Takes Place Outside U. N.

LAKE SUCCESS, March 10. (AP) — The much-heralded U.S.-Russian agreement on Palestine partition appeared today to be crumbling.

A battle of words outside United Nations chambers yesterday spotlighted their current differences over the political future of the Holy Land. It was the sharpest split on the issue between the two powers since last November when they pushed the partition plan through the U. N. assembly.

The core of the verbal tussle was American insistence on bringing the Arabs, bitter foes of partition, into United Nations consultations. So far the Arabs have boycotted every discussion of the split-up scheme. The Jews accept the plan to create Jewish and Arab nations by next Oct. 1.

The Jews oppose overtures to the Arabs. Russia has termed the moves worthless in view of past failures at conciliation.

A high Soviet source told newsmen yesterday the United States appears to favor re-opening the partition plan.

"Some persons seem to be hesitant about carrying out the assembly decision," he said tartly. Several hours later Warren R. Austin, chief American delegate, took the unusual diplomatic step of replying directly to the remarks of the spokesman. Presumably, Austin's statement carried Washington's approval.

"I regret that the Soviet spokesman has sought to pre-judge the issues before the process of consultation has gotten under way," Austin said in a special statement read to newsmen by an American press officer. Adding that he was "surprised" that the Soviet delegation would authorize such remarks, Austin said:

"I can say that my government is interested in the facts and in a decision based upon them."

Austin's comment came after high American sources disclosed the U. S. is making strong efforts to persuade Arab officials here and abroad to join in U. N. talks. It was reported the representations were being made through top diplomatic channels with the Arab nations in the Middle East. It was understood there had been no acceptance from the Arabs so far.

FIRST GOP PRIMARY Dewey Captures New Hampshire

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP) — New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey showed today he still packs a potent political punch by capturing six of eight presidential delegate votes in New Hampshire.

But by taking the remaining two in yesterday's first 1948 primary, former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota kept himself in the thick of the race for the Republican nomination.

Politicians thus regarded the New England result as pretty much of a standoff. They turned their eyes westward for the next battle — Wisconsin's April 6 primary.

There Dewey and Stassen take on Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who will be testing for the first time his appeal as a positive candidate.

The New Hampshire race long had been billed by Dewey supporters as an indicator of the New Yorker's strength in New England. Gov. Charles M. Dale, one of the six Dewey-pledged delegates elected, labeled the outcome a "flattering tribute" to the governor.

Stassen's supporters on the other hand insisted they were well satisfied with collecting two Philadelphia convention ballots in an area where the middlewesterner was little known when Dewey won the party nomination.

They had, however, claimed as many as five places as the campaign drew to a close.

Stassen made three personal, hand-shaking tours of the state, the last one only a week ago.

Dewey put in no recent appearance but depended on an organization headed by Dale.

One result of the New England primary was to serve notice on Senator Robert A. Taft that Stassen is to be reckoned with in the May 4 primary in the Ohio senator's home state.

MacArthur Will Not Campaign For Nomination

TOKYO, March 10. (AP) — General MacArthur said today he would not allow the presidential campaign to interfere with the occupation of Japan, indicating he intends to remain aloof from campaign issues.

His public relations officer issued a statement that MacArthur's announcement of availability does "not change in the slightest" the operations of headquarters. Requests for a news conference and new, posed pictures were declined.

Col. M. V. Ecmols, the PRO, said the general has nothing to add to yesterday's announcement which he made as "a private citizen."

Thus it was indicated that MacArthur probably will not go out of his way to clarify his views on subjects other than the international topics he already has discussed. His latest statement on international policy was a recent message supporting military aid to China.

There has been no indication of MacArthur's views on any domestic United States problem. Observations

BOTH SEE VICTORY

Reece, McGrath Lash At Wallace

PHILADELPHIA, March 10. (AP) — J. Howard McGrath, democratic national committee chairman, last night turned his party's back on Henry Wallace.

Carroll Reece, republican national committee chairman, speaking with McGrath at the Philadelphia Bulletin forum, said that the "republican party is a united party. It has no Moscow wing."

Predicting that "a united democratic party" would win the November general election, McGrath sharply criticized what he termed "the impractical liberalism" of Wallace.

"A Henry Wallace can condemn the bi-partisan foreign policy and offer nothing more than abject appeasement to the forces of godless communism," McGrath said.

"A Henry Wallace can condone the enslavement of a Hungary and a Czechoslovakia, rationalizing the loss of a nation's liberty by a series of words that mean nothing."

"No party bearing the real responsibility of government can flout the national conscience so glibly, can excuse a foreign power so meekly, can abuse it so completely before an alien ideology.

"A Henry Wallace," said McGrath, "can deny the facts of history. He can deny responsibility on the one hand and lay it upon the democratic party with the other."

Declaring that the United States "must have a united party in control of our government if we are to have a united nation," Reece said:

"The republican party has never been tainted by radicalism, as exemplified in Russia today, which makes the individual the slave of the state.

"The republican party is a united party. It has no Moscow wing. It has no radical wing. It has no Pendergast wing. It has no Jim Crow wing."

The democratic party, said Reece, is determined to reduce taxes, and "despite the reverses sustained last year because of an outrageous misuse of the executive veto, I predict that there will be a substantial reduction in taxes this year."

Cold Blasts At Panhandle

A new Arctic blast hit the Panhandle today and pressed in on the rest of winter-plagued North Texas.

The cold wave was forecast to reach all of the state, except the lower Rio-Grande valley, by tonight.

Light snow, pushed by high winds, was general in the Panhandle and South Plains. Andrew Hamrick, U. S. weather forecaster at Dallas, said Pampa, in the Panhandle, was in the grip of a "real, old-fashioned blizzard" this morning.

The mercury stood at 3 degrees above zero at Pampa at 1:30 a. m. Snow driven by wind reaching 42 mph per hour in gusts cut visibility there to one-eighth mile.

The cold wave out of Colorado and Wyoming was approaching across the entire breadth of Texas. In mid-morning the temperature at Oklahoma City, in central Oklahoma, stood at 13 degrees. A snow storm was in progress at Tulsa.

A warning to protect young livestock, tender crops and waterpipes was issued for the Dallas area where temperatures in the lower 20's were forecast for tonight.

Schools were closed today at Texline, Dumas and Lefors, Panhandle towns, because of the storm.

Freezing rain and drizzle fell to the south and east of the West Texas snow area. Treacherous ice coatings were reported on highways in the Plainview, Lubbock and Childress vicinities.

CAUSES STOCKYARD FLURRY

This farm giant, a four-year-old shorthorn owned by Jim Bean of Beloit, Kas., caused a flurry of apprehension at the Kansas City Stockyards when buyers questioned whether or not packing house hoists were heavy enough to handle the animal. The big steer, 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighing 2,170 pounds, was a full foot taller than yardman Hab Whitney (right). It was sold, finally, for 20 cents a pound. (AP Wirephoto)

Honest, I Didn't Know
USED FATS WERE STILL BADLY NEEDED!

Lady, where have you been? Used fats are needed now more than ever, because the shortage of fats and oils today is the greatest in the world's history. Our government warns us that the supply cannot meet today's industrial needs. You can help prevent this supply from getting too low by continuing to turn in used fats.

You say you re-use them for cooking? Fine! But even the drops left after that are worth salvaging. How about melting down fat trimmings, skimming gravies? Those tricks yield plenty!

And come to think of it, what other kitchen waste can you convert into good hard cash? It's a point to remember, these days of high food cost! Butchers pay for used fats. So please... don't throw your fats away. Turn 'em in!

Get Welcome Relief From Stomach Gas, Sour Food Taste

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal? If so, here is how you may rid yourself of this nervous distress. Thousands have found it the way to be well, cheerful and happy again.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

widely from civilian hospitals. L. G. Bradley, project engineer in charge of construction of the VA hospital here, stated that the recreational and medical facilities provided in the building's plans are only part of the program. Townspeople and civic groups will have great part in rehabilitating the patients, Bradley said in speaking before the Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

"A person under treatment in a regular hospital stays on the average of 9 days," Bradley stated. "Whereas, patients in a veterans hospital may be kept 38 days, and often must return at intervals for treatment." Among added facilities included in the structure are a recreational hall, a chapel and an auditorium. Each room is equipped with an individual radio and telephone.

Blueprints stipulate that the hospital set-up is to include the main medical building, a six-story, 675 feet long structure; a steam power house; attendants ward, repair shop, firehouse, nurses' hall, managers' quarters, garage. There will be three dining rooms and laundry facilities. Concrete paving and regulation street lighting will be installed throughout.

STREAM FLOW SHOWS

Texas Is Both Drenched, Dry

AUSTIN, Mar. 10. (AP)—A sharply contrasting picture of river flow and water storage for February was reported yesterday by the state board of water engineers.

The board's survey in conjunction with the U. S. geological survey found rainfall was generally above normal, with some sections getting three times normal. This caused floods on some rivers, but others were running very low.

A discharge exceeding 40,000 cubic feet per second was recorded at the stream gauging station on Trinity river at Dallas. This was the largest since March, 1945 although 12 feet below the 1908 peak.

Three reservoirs in the upper Trinity river basin—Eagle Mountain, Bridgeport and Lake Dallas—contained nearly 800,000 acre-feet of water at the end of the month, representing a gain of 170,000 acre-feet during February.

Flow for the month on the north Bosque river near Clifton was 659 second-feet, the largest February flow since 1941, and the fourth highest since the gauge was established in 1923.

Possum Kingdom reservoir on the Brazos river held slightly less than 470,000 acre-feet Feb. 29 as compared to 483,000 acre-feet on Feb. 1.

Marshall Ford reservoir on the Colorado river gained a slight amount of storage but Buchanan reservoir lost storage, the total loss being about 3 per cent. There is stored, back of these two dams, more water than passed the river gauge at Austin in 1947. Each reservoir contains more than half a million acre-feet of water.

Guadalupe river at New Braunfels had a monthly flow of 109 cubic feet per second, the lowest February flow since 1940 and about half of the median flow for the month. Delaware river in West Texas, a tributary of the Pecos, had the lowest February flow since 1941.

In contrast, Neches river at Evadale in East Texas, had an average flow of 15,000 second-feet, or 140 per cent of median flow.

Crude Climb Halts

TULSA, Okla., March 10. (AP)—A month-long climb in the nation's crude oil production came to a halt during the week ended March 6. The daily average output dropped 47,005 barrels from the previous week's figure, the Oil & Gas Journal reported Tuesday.

Cays Market Gives False Impression

FORT WORTH, March 10. (AP)—A false impression of future price levels has been created in consumers' minds by fluctuations of a few over-priced speculative commodities, Charles C. Culp of Indianapolis said here Monday.

Culp, vice president and director of sales for Stokley-Can Camp, Inc., addressed the Texas wholesale grocers convention here. "Prices of canned goods to consumers averaged no higher in 1947 than in 1946, but costs to canners increased considerably," Culp said. "Canners will be unable to absorb further cost increases expected in 1948 and part of the increase will necessarily be passed on to consumers."

Veedol Famous For Sixty Years

Since the establishment of Tide Water Associated Oil company in 1888, the company has been one of the foremost refiners of Pennsylvania crude oil.

Marketed under the brand name of Veedol, Tide Water's 100 per cent Pennsylvania lubricating oils are known throughout the world. Bradford Pennsylvania crude is used exclusively in the refining of Veedol motor and Veedol tractor oils, insuring maximum quality. The tractor product is known as the 150-hour tractor oil.

For more than 10 years Cosden Petroleum Corp. has had exclusive distribution of Veedol motor oils, heavy duty oil, tractor oils and grease throughout its marketing territory. Large stocks of Veedol products are maintained at Cosden warehouse points, which are at Big Spring, San Angelo and at the Cosden product terminals at Sweetwater, Abilene, and Orme, near Arlington.

Availability of these warehouse points enables Cosden to supply all Cosden outlets with a complete stock of Veedol products.

Many changes have taken place since 1888 in the refining technology of petroleum. Vast sums of money and effort by scientists in research are back of the many improvements which have gone into the making of Veedol the ideal lubricant.

Different machines—some fast moving, some ponderous but powerful, some faced with rugged assignments—require different type lubricants. That's where Cosden dealers are able to offer sound advice, prescribing the weight or type of Veedol oil or grease best suited for maximum performance. A steady increase in sales reflects the confidence of the public in Veedol's superior lubricating qualities.

Reeder Agency Has Branch For Real Estate

The R. B. Reeder Insurance and Loan company, located at 304 Scurry street, has recently opened up a real estate department to round out its service to the public.

The concern is prepared to handle FHA loans as well as credit on new and existing construction extended by the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance company.

Persons interested in obtaining loans on any kind of real estate transaction can contact either Roy Reeder, owner and manager of the concern bearing his name, or W. R. (Wendell) Parks at the Reeder office.

The establishment solicits listings on all properties up for sale, Reeder said.

Reeder stated that his company had also launched a campaign to orient the public with the necessity of keeping the maximum amount of automobile insurance at all times. The insurance expert stated that judgments awarded in recent damage suits in local courts proved that, in many cases, $10,000 and $5,000 policies would not cover all losses awarded parties in some instances.

Those buying new automobiles may find the Reeder plan of financing exactly what they want. The payments can be arranged over a 24-month period. Repayment options up to 18 months on used

Grain Market Sag Affect Feed Price

Feed customers are getting a better break as a result of recent grain market fluctuations which have provided some declines in prices, Harvey Wooten, owner of Wooten Produce Co., reports.

Although the first downward trends was partly offset by subsequent gains, the market apparently has settled at levels substantially lower than the high prices of two months ago. Supplies also are plentiful, Wooten said.

Smooth and Complete Power In Cosden Gas

It's not altogether how volatile a gasoline may be that makes it a fine fuel, but how smoothly it burns as well. That's the reason Cosden higher octane gasoline is a highly popular product, for it is made to specifications that call for quick power, but so blended to give that smooth, steady stroke on the piston. This develops the maximum amount of power without knocks and pings.

DEPRESSION SAFEGUARD

Wheat Pact Made To Stabilize Prices

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP)—"Give us one-dollar wheat and we'll be happy."
 That was the cry of American wheat farmers in the thirties—a decade in which the price reached $1 a bushel in only one year. It sank as low as 38 cents in 1932. The depression, shrunken foreign markets and surpluses were largely to blame.

Many farmers wonder if the prices of the thirties will return. The government says they need not.

It says the international wheat agreement signed by 36 nations here last Saturday would guarantee growers more than $1 for a five-year period. The agreement could be extended indefinitely. But it first must be approved by Congress and the governments of the other 36 countries.

The agreement is filled with many provisions. But it has a simple purpose: to stabilize prices and supplies of the bread grain for the benefit of farmers and consumers alike.

It would put a ceiling of $2 on most of the wheat moving in world markets. That ceiling is designed to protect importing countries from excessive prices.

It also would put price floors under such wheat to protect growers in this and other exporting countries. The floor would be $1.50 a bushel on wheat from the 1948 crop, $1.40 on the 1949 crop, $1.30 on the 1950 crop, $1.20 on the 1951 and $1.10 on the 1952 harvest.

There is a tendency among some farm leaders to oppose the agreement. They cite the fact that wheat is bringing more than $2 now and may continue to do so for another crop year.

Would the agreement mean farmers would get less than otherwise would be the case?

The government's answer is "no." It says the agreement would not interfere with prices in the domestic market.

The government would buy wheat for export at the market price, whatever that might be. Then it either would sell at abroad for $2, or it would pay exporters a subsidy covering the difference between the market price and the export price. In either case the government would take a loss.

The agreement would not interfere with a government pledge to support grower prices at 90 per cent of parity.

(Parity is a price formula—which tries to be fair to both farmers and consumers—designed to give farmers the same purchasing power they had at some previous favorable period, usually 1909 to 1914.)

The present support price is about $1.85. For the 1948 crop, it may be close to $2.

But the 90 per cent support price pledge for wheat will expire June 30, 1949, unless extended by Congress. If not extended, it will be replaced by one authorizing lower support levels.

What if domestic prices tend to drop below $1, how would the agreement work? It would help hold the domestic market above $1 because foreign buyers would be committed to pay not less than $1.10 during the life of the agreement.

The agreement might save future export subsidies by the government. In the past, the government has paid these subsidies to exporters to help them sell American grain at world prices which were lower than support levels in this country.

But what would happen if American prices jumped way above $2, say to $3.50 or $4? The government then undoubtedly would take advantage of a provision in the agreement to cut its exports below a basic annual quota of 185,000,000 bushels. The chances are such high prices would reflect a critical shortage in this country.

Driver Indicted In Traffic Death

DALLAS, March 10. (AP)—The Dallas grand jury has indicted Joe Everett Clemmons, 22, Wylie, Collin county, on a charge of failing to stop and render aid in the traffic death of Charles Thomas Elliott, 34, Sherman druggist.

Elliott died of injuries suffered when he was struck by a car Feb. 12 on the Garland road, near here. The indictment was returned Monday.

Problem Grows Before We Recognize It

Nuclear scientists have now produced mesons artificially, and so another word and another problem comes to the rank and file of humanity.

Mesons, we are told, are mighty particles having to do with the nuclei of atoms. Scientists tell us that they are far more powerful than any particle known and by comparison, they estimate that the mesons yield energies rated in the hundreds of billions of volts, whereas that of the uranium atom explosion is only a mere 200 million volts.

Now these figures convey nothing to the lay mind except the comparative picture. It is only now that the faintest recognition of the implications of atomic fission is drawing on the average mind. But to those who quake in awe of the incalculable power in an atomic bomb, the picture of a substance of particles millions or billions of times more potent is an overwhelming one.

Early, initial reports indicate that scientists are not much further along with mesons than they were with atomic fission when the theory was proven in the laboratory in 1939. None of us then dreamed that we would live to see the day that there would be any practical application made of the principle. Yet the uranium atom not only has been split, but neptunium and plutonium, two new elements, have been created. In the process, we have come up with an explosive which is like a loaded pistol at the heart of mankind.

And now come the mesons. May heaven help us if we don't catch up in some fundamental human relations. All too few realize we are in the atomic age, and that there is no turning back... it is forward in understanding, or not at all... or not

Long Record Of Service For Girl Scouts

The Girl Scouts of America today are celebrating their 36th anniversary.

The organization can look back on more than three decades of active service to the girls and young women of the nation. Influence of the program has been positive in effect, for although Girl Scout work has not reached the multiplied hundreds of thousands as would have been the case with a state movement, it nevertheless has fixed its ideals of democracy and character and usefulness upon those who took part because they wanted to and not because they had to participate.

Thus, there is an offsetting quality in performance that makes up for any lack of quantity in a state sponsored movement. It is a quality of dignity and of lofty purposes. It is one which had to be effective and challenging for it had to bid competitively for girls' time.

Because the Girl Scout program does possess a definite purpose, and because there is logic and reason in the implementing of policies to obtain the objective, it is not a fad. Indeed, no movement for young people could stay around three and a half decades if it did not produce in results, and if it were not anchored to some fundamentals which do not change with the styles.

Hope Is Rising In Western Europe

Maybe we are over-optimistic because spring is just around the corner, but the developments in western Europe reflect a considerable burst of sunshine as we near the end of a tough and discouraging winter.

Two momentous international conferences have produced results which bid fair to go a long way toward achieving economic rehabilitation and peace for western Europe.

The conferences referred to are the Brussels parley to consider ways and means of forming a union of western European nations, and the American-British-French discussions in London regarding the future of western Germany and the Ruhr. Both these meetings have met with unexpected success in laying the foundations upon which important structures may be built.

The Brussels conference, which is continuing, is among Britain, France and the so-called Benelux countries—Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. Already they have laid down the political and legal basis of a western European economic and military union. It is stated that there is general agreement on the basic principles of a 50-year pact binding the five countries, although considerable work remains to be done before the formal pacts can be phrased. The hope is that the rest of the 16 western European nations will join.

Should this western European union develop it would be calculated to complement the Marshall plan. Indeed, whole-hearted cooperation among the sixteen countries should speed their rehabilitation that America would progressively be relieved of the need of economic assistance.

The London conference dovetails into the Brussels meeting and into the Marshall plan. The three powers have announced

GOP Primaries And What They Mean

WASHINGTON (AP)—The republican race for president started yesterday in a presidential primary election in New Hampshire.

In June republican delegates from every state—at a national convention in Philadelphia—choose their candidate for president.

In each state the delegates to the convention have to be chosen, but not the same way in every state.

Some are selected by republican conventions; others in state primary elections, like New Hampshire's.

But even these primaries differ from state to state. For example:

In one state republicans will vote for delegates who may, or may not, be pledged to support some one man for the nomination at Philadelphia.

In another state the republicans cast a double vote at the primary:

1. They express a preference for some top republican they'd like to see nominated.
2. At the same time they elect delegates who may be pledged to one man; or may not be; or who may not even have to follow at Philadelphia the preferential vote of the republicans of their state.

In another state primary the voters just express a preference for a republican candidate and don't choose delegates. In that case the delegates are chosen at a state convention.

(These state conventions also vary in choosing delegates. They may, or may not, instruct them to support one certain candidate at Philadelphia.)

At least 13 states besides New Hampshire will hold republican primaries before the Philadelphia convention. Two more may. The rest will select delegates at state conventions.

The top republicans either openly hoping for the nomination or publicly willing to accept it are: Governor Dewey of New York, former Governor Stassen of Minnesota, Senator Taft of Ohio, General Douglas MacArthur.

The delegate-choosing methods outlined for the republicans here runs pretty much the same for the democrats.

Texas Today—

Texas Timber Barely Holding Own

Texas is not running out of timber—but she's barely holding her own.

Northeast Texas has lost 39 per cent of its sawtimber in 10 years. Southeast Texas, a bigger timber area, has gained 14 per cent.

Since 1936, the state has cut something like 100 billion board feet of sawtimber out of her East Texas forests. That's enough lumber for six and one-half million homes.

The Texas Forest News, publication of the Texas A. & M. college Texas Forest service, gives us these facts to think over.

In 10 years, 1935 to 1945, the pine and hardwood sawtimber volume in 36 east Texas counties (the commercial timber region) has been decreased only 3 per cent.

But:

In 19 northeast Texas counties, with 37 per cent of the commercial timber area of East Texas, sawtimber has decreased 39 per cent.

In 17 southeast counties, 63 per cent of the area, sawtimber has increased 14 per cent.

On the other hand, our cordwood or cubic volume has increased 12 per cent (12 per cent loss in northeast Texas and 24 percent gain, southeast Texas) which means we have a lot of growth coming in young, small-size forests.

Only two-thirds of the entire area contains sawtimber-size trees. The other third is either of small pole-size timber or so poorly stocked with trees as to need better protection from fire and tree planting to produce its share of future timber crops.

Slightly under half of the timber cutting on private lands is rated as fair and better—the balance as poor and destructive.

In 1944 we grew new wood at the rate of approximately 156 board feet an acre and used it at the rate of 154 board feet an acre. In other words, East Texas forests are just about holding their own under present conditions.

In the past 10 years we have seen new forest industrial expansion, mainly in two large pulp mills and a lot of little sawmills. An estimated nine large sawmills and 30 medium size sawmills have closed.

Our poorly stocked and denuded forest areas have increased over a million acres since 1935.

Fire, insects and other destructive agencies are responsible for 12 per cent of the wood drain annually. This is equivalent to 570,000 cords. That's enough to run a Texas paper mill.

That, however, was before I had met Tom Flowers.

Tom, I was told, had fished with about every important nabob in the U. S. A. and quite a few outside the U. S. A. Cordell Hull once came down from Washington to fish with him, as did the editor of Field and Stream, while one man wrote all the way from South Africa to ask for a date on Tom Flower's fishing calendar. In fact, Tom has so many fishing customers that he's booked up weeks in advance and it's about as hard getting a fishing date with him as it is getting a haircut at the millionaires' barbershop in Palm Beach.

But despite this advance buildup, I remained unimpressed. However, being the perfect guest, I went fishing. I even got up at 4:30 a. m. and drove with Tom

Flowers Technique Bests The Bass

DELAND, Fla.—Every newspaperman who takes a winter trip to Florida thinks he has to justify the jaunt by writing a powerful "think" piece on the political, economic and social future of that state—plus whether Sen. Claude Pepper will be re-elected.

I am going to vary the technique somewhat by writing first about a fisherman. Then, if I have time, I'll take up Claude Pepper, the race problem, and the high cost of sun-tan cream.

The fisherman's name is Tom Flowers, and I consider him something of a miracle man. He's the only person in history who's been able to make me catch fish.

Ever since I used to try to decide to entice catfish out of the Neesho river at the age of ten back in Kansas, I have aspired to be a fisherman. It remained an ambition not even remotely achieved. In pursuit of this ambition I have fished the Virgin Islands to Maine and in the Bahamas to the Chesapeake. From our front porch in Maryland I can almost drop a line into the Potomac, but I can fish there for a full day at a time—and no luck. Other people in the same boat can haul them in, but there seems to be something allergic about my line as far as fish are concerned. When they see my bait they split their gills laughing. You can even see the water rippling with their mirth. In fact the only time I have had the remotest luck in catching fish was tossing hand grenades into the rivers of the Balkans.

Therefore, when Mr. and Mrs. Morris McGill of Cassadaga, Florida, said they were going to take me fishing, I was polite but that was about all. I could easily have predicted that I would catch nothing, and would have been sure the prediction would boost my 83 per cent average.

That, however, was before I had met Tom Flowers.

Tom, I was told, had fished with about every important nabob in the U. S. A. and quite a few outside the U. S. A. Cordell Hull once came down from Washington to fish with him, as did the editor of Field and Stream, while one man wrote all the way from South Africa to ask for a date on Tom Flower's fishing calendar. In fact, Tom has so many fishing customers that he's booked up weeks in advance and it's about as hard getting a fishing date with him as it is getting a haircut at the millionaires' barbershop in Palm Beach.

But despite this advance buildup, I remained unimpressed. However, being the perfect guest, I went fishing. I even got up at 4:30 a. m. and drove with Tom about 25 miles up into the jungles of the St. Johns river, arriving there before dawn.

Tom Flowers, I began to realize, was not one to take fishing preparations lightly. The time had to be right. The place had to be right. The bait had to be right. After that if you didn't catch bass, there just weren't any bass around to be caught.

I asked Tom Flowers what was the secret of his ability to catch fish. He said it was the fact that in the days when he was catching fish for his wife's market, he had to catch 'em or not eat. Fishing, said Tom, is not always a sport. It can be a grim business.

Tom had been to a lot of places, including a day shown around Washington by the then secretary of state; but he says he would rather live in his bungalow on the banks of the St. Johns river and do what he wants to do than swap places with a newspaper columnist or Claude Pepper, or even the secretary of state.

Probably he's right.

Oh yes—I almost forgot the point of the story. Under Tom Flowers' tutelage, I finally cast off my fishing jinx by catching eight big bass, the legal limit under the game laws of Florida.

Southern politicians say they are sore about the Truman civil rights message because they had begun to make strides to put their own house in order. Gov. Strom Thurman of South Carolina went all out to prosecute the white taxi-drivers who lynched a Negro near Greenville. South Carolina was getting ready to abolish its tax. Now, say political leaders, this progress will be reversed. Young southerners don't seem worried about Truman's civil-rights program.

Students at Stetson university, plus young reporters on various newspapers said they thought it was a political tempest-in-a-teapot. Karl Bickel, who retired as head of the United Press because he wanted to take life easy, is now busier than ever running the town of Sarasota, plus the Ringling museum, plus the Florida historical society, plus any other enterprise that helps the community. Regarding race relations, Karl says: "The thing that will solve the Negro problem is high wages for field hands. When they get paid well they want to buy things. They not only improve themselves, but they also help business."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Don't say Florida isn't broad-minded. The John B. Stetson university even welcomed this Lee hat man. In Florida they say that everyone is against Senator Pepper except the voters. (even those who don't like Claude admire his skill and courage). Prediction: Pepper will keep it right on being senator from Florida as long as he wants to run.

Healthy signs of the times: Students at Stetson university are already jumping into politics. One law student, Dick Cooper, an ex-G.I., is running for governor; John Hathaway is running for the state legislature; Douglas Senstrom is running for judge of Seminole county. Cooper, 27-year-old candidate for governor, never misses classes, has a high scholastic record, stumps the state during week ends. He begins speeches this way: "I'm the only candidate frank enough to admit that he has no chance of being elected." (Cooper is making a good impression, may make the grade in some future race).

Most southern democrats are coaxing out Truman, but Daytona Beach democrats decided to do more than coax. They are organizing to instruct Florida's delegation to the Philadelphia convention for Henry Kaiser. He once worked in Daytona, when Ed Lagron, a Daytona Beach veteran, was ruled out of placing insurance on a city hospital because he was away at Guadalcanal, and when vet Phil Wagner couldn't get any Coca Cola for his as if he had a tree somewhere growing hundred-buck yellow-backs. He took care of many an old bum, but most of the fellows and girls he staked were honest-to-grease-pate actors.

"He was one of those juveniles who seemed never to age. He felt he'd always be 25. Hadn't he been a juvenile 25 years? Wasn't Hammerstein bidding against Dillingham for his services."

"Well, time bid just a little harder. Those rosy cheeks suddenly began to look like a blood-hound's jowls. He grew old—it seemed almost in a few weeks."

Film Drive For Economy

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—This is a report on how Hollywood's economy drive is coming along.

I can't show you how much the studios are saving, not having access to and not being an expert on that kind of figures. But, by touring the studios every day, I can see what changes, if any, are being made.

Directors are the keynote to much money-saving, because if they keep their companies moving, fast, economies are made. Many of them are in demand now, not because they are good, but because they are fast. This can also backfire.

A director of a recent topical film endeared himself to the bosses by shooting an "A" picture in 24 days. But the picture was so bad that a couple of weeks of costly retakes were needed. That ain't saving money, brother.

Other straws in the wind: RKO is shooting "The Boy with Green Hair" for $800,000, a record for a color picture. MGM is compiling along with "The Three Musketeers," figuring speed will keep the cost down to $3,500,000. At least one major studio is reported to be dropping all players except its stars. Nearly all freelance actors are working for less.

There are more unemployed writers than ever before. Several films are being made without a script or so of rehearsals being a week or even two.

But even the most amateur observer can see evidence of non-economy. One studio seems to have no qualms about a two-hour lunch period. Another just started a big-budget with half a script.

Around The Rim—By The Herald Staff

The Lost Art Of Hiking

Among the lost arts is that of hiking. I'm not talking about the variety engaged in by Boy Scouts (who are tempted sorely by the automobile), but the kind that we used to do for pure entertainment. There's a vast difference, you know. Among my earliest memories are those of Sunday afternoon treks on which my father took my brother and me down Deep Creek in the vicinity of Snyder. Every one of them was a new adventure and opened my eyes to new wonders.

This particular art is not blessed with woods and streams, but it does have a variety of terrain that lends itself to the hiking hobby. In years gone by, I used to like to tramp around the hills, revisiting favorite spots and discovering new ones for myself. I'd like to recommend a few for those who possess a little energy and hidden drop of the explorer's blood.

Scenic Mountain is perfectly handy, but it has been developed to the point that traffic dulls it somewhat as a hiking area. However, one may poke around the soil of bead rock, on the northwestern slopes, for a few relics of Indian days. The little nooks on the limestone cap are interesting, as are the hats of names carved on top of the cap when the drive now runs. North of the base and north of the Canyon Drive is Owl or Lemon cave. It used to be out in the country, but it's practically a backyard objective now. Anyhow, boys get a kick out of it.

South Mountain is a little more rugged and has steeper slopes. Carvings are not so plentiful on top, but the view is imposing. There's something about huffing and puffing up a slope that makes the summit possess more grandeur. Those interested in geology will find a cross cut section on the face of South Mountain—a perfect picture from the triassic

Tragic Tale By Wheeler

NEW YORK (AP)—Bert Wheeler and I sat in the dining room of the Lamb Club. Bert thoughtfully fingered a cube of sugar before popping it into his cup of coffee. He seemed years away. I bid the usual penny for his musings.

"Yep, I was away from here, all right," agreed Bert.

"Well, not exactly away from here—except in years."

"It was quite a few years ago—before my time," said Bert.

"This fellow, the hero of my sugary little yarn, was a big star. Big, handsome, popular juvenile. Went big with the ladies, and oddly enough with the guys, too."

"Let's call him Wilbur. Wilbur was the star of a succession of hits shows. You might say, practically a male Ethel Merman of his day. Seemed he couldn't find a flop. And if he found one, he made it a hit."

"Wilbur made a lot of money, even by today's standards. You could keep it those days, no income tax, you know. I mean you could keep it if you weren't Wilbur."

"Wilbur just about hurled his money away. Softest touch on Broadway. Gave his money away as if he had a tree somewhere growing hundred-buck yellow-backs. He took care of many an old bum, but most of the fellows and girls he staked were honest-to-grease-pate actors."

"He was one of those juveniles who seemed never to age. He felt he'd always be 25. Hadn't he been a juvenile 25 years? Wasn't Hammerstein bidding against Dillingham for his services."

"Well, time bid just a little harder. Those rosy cheeks suddenly began to look like a blood-hound's jowls. He grew old—it seemed almost in a few weeks."

Hal Boyle's Notebook

Press Agents For Debs.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Snaring a rich husband is a highly developed art in New York, and smart mothers now are hiring press agents to get their debutante daughters married.

Here is the way it works: Mrs. Maggie Nobody is a social climbing widow of middle age. She has a little money, a daughter and more brass than a shell factory.

The only object Mrs. Nobody has in life is to muscle her way into what passes for society here—it is sometimes called "chaos with class"—and marry off her empty-headed kid into a family with big dough.

Some time back Mrs. Nobody forked out a considerable number of dollars to an impoverished lady of quality with lots of social entree but little cash. This hard-up peddler in lavender and old lace saw that little Gladys Nobody went to the right schools and met the right people.

She also superintended the coming out party at which Gladys was formally introduced to society. About half the social register guests who were invited showed up. They didn't care much for Mrs. Nobody but after all their kids had all gone to the same school and anyway the champagne was free.

Gladys looks like twelve miles of broken road before she puts her makeup on. But she's been taught how to wear expensive clothes and talks a smart hard patter.

Everyone in their circle knows that Mrs. Nobody has now put Gladys on the matrimonial market and is looking for a sucker. Dipping again into her slender resources, Mrs. Nobody hires a press agent to advertise her product. He may line up Gladys a job as a society model—as everybody knows the rich young boys like to date glamorous models.

He also will see to it that Gladys is mentioned frequently in the society news and that she goes to the fashionable places. Any lad who takes Mrs. Nobody's filly out for the evening had better count on spending at least $50. She doesn't think it's cute to go to those funny out-of-the-beer spots where people drink beer.

Mama Nobody does her bit to keep her daughter before the public, too. She has an arrangement with a gossip columnist whereby she relays bits of social scandal to him and in return he mentions Gladys in the paper—favorably of course.

How will it all end? Well, the field is cluttered with brittle dowryless daughters being pushed by conspiring mothers. The chances are that Gladys will marry some equally brittle young man who lives on his prospects rather than by his sweat.

STEPS UP ACTIVITIES

Klan Claims It's Gaining Members

ATLANTA, March 10. (AP)—The Klu Klux Klan claims an increase in membership due to the civil rights issue ranging in and out of Congress and through the South. The hooded and robed order has stepped up its activities. A new pamphlet says it is ready for a period of "constructive planning and activity."
Spokesmen deny any klan connection with some activities charged against the group. But they advertised widely in advance a recent parade in Swainsboro, Ga., and another in Wrightsville, Ga., on the eve of a county primary election.
In both instances crosses were burned on the courthouse lawns after from 200 to 300 hooded and robed klansmen parade around the square. Leaders said the KKK had gathered to rededicate itself to maintenance of southern traditions including segregation of races.
At Wrightsville Dr. Samuel grand dragon of the Georgia klan, told the crowd "we want to see the Negro treated fairly. But whenever the Negro takes his place at the side of white men through the force of Federal bayonets, blood will flow in the streets of the South."
There have been other cross burnings and public klan assemblies, but Green disclaims klan connection with the suspension of a high school athletic coach at Lakeview, Ga. Walter Bowland, the coach, said the klan warned him to get out of town, after a fight with a former student.
On politics, the pamphlet says the difference between the national parties now is "tweedledum and tweedledee, x x x as the matter now stands we must cast our ballots for the right as it is most nearly represented and championed by men, regardless of party."
The pamphlet lists klan ideals as: a white man's organization; an American, Protestant, gentile organization.
It says the order stands for development of the "highest standards" of citizenship; "rightful" use of the ballot, enforcement of law by regularly constituted authorities and teaching citizens that their first allegiance is to the United States.
On racial ideals, it states founders of the republic "never intended that it should fall into the hands of an inferior race."

U. S. Navy sources here said the explosion occurred just before noon within half a mile of docks where the USS Estes, flagship of the American western Pacific fleet, and the Navy hospital ship, Repose, are tied up.

West Texans Study Underground Water And Its Problems

PLAINVIEW, March 10. (AP)—Underground water should belong to the owner of the land under which it is found, West Texans believe. More than 700 persons in the high plains irrigation belt want the state to recognize this belief.
In a one-day meeting Monday a resolution was drawn asserting this water should be recognized "the same as oil, gas, sulphur and other underground resources."
Representatives at the meeting, sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau federation, also urged districts be created for underground water control and that these districts be completely under local control.

Don't berate it...

... when it fails to make the grade! After all, you can't kick a car along. So, just relax, coast into a Conoco station, drain out that polluted, old winter oil and OIL-PLATE with fresh, clean Conoco Nth.
The fact is that when Nth Motor Oil (Patented)* enters your engine, a special added ingredient fastens an extra film of lubricant so closely to metal surfaces that all working parts are OIL-PLATED!

This protective OIL-PLATING stays up there on cylinder walls where it belongs... won't all drain down, even overnight. That's why you're extra-protected from "dry-friction" starts... from metal-eating combustion acids... from power-choking sludge and carbon due to wear!
To get extra-cool, extra-powerful, extra low-cost miles, make a date to...

STANTON, March 10.—Eleven members of the Stanton High school girls' basketball team, accompanied by Coach and Mrs. H. G. Hambrick, Jack Jones, Mrs. Bennett and Bell Jones, left Tuesday morning for Hillsboro where the Buffaloes compete in the state tournament as official representatives of District 15.

The Bisons are scheduled to play a first round game with Academy, champion of District 2, at 4 p. m. today. They went to the finals in 1942, losing to East Champions by two points.

Roach In Midst Of Last Drills

NEW YORK, March 10.—Lavern Roach is training in comparative privacy for his big chance in the fight game—his battle with Marcel Cerdan of France next Friday night.

The pride of Plainview, Tex., is getting in his practice licks in an East Side gym, far removed from the bustle and bustle of Stillman's, near Madison Square Garden.

Manager Johnny Abood and Roach both realize that the Cerdan fight is the real test of the young Middleweight's career.

Down to 157 pounds, Roach plans to work on Cerdan's body. Marcel, a busy scrapper with an aggressive style, hopes to beat off Roach before he can work inside.

George Abrams, who lost a close decision to Cerdan when the Frenchman made his American debut, helped Roach in his early training. He is managed by Chris Dundee who also is interested in Roach.

Roach can move into the front row of Middleweight challengers by a win. Rocky Graziano is recognized as 160-pound champ in many states but the title is 'in abeyance' in New York.

Kentucky Ace Most Popular

NEW YORK, March 10.—Players from Kentucky, St. Louis, Notre Dame, Iowa and Minnesota were named today to the 1948 Associated Press' first All-America collegiate basketball team.

The team, determined on a point basis by votes from 321 sports editors and writers in 40 states and the District of Columbia, is composed of:

Ralph Beard, 20-year-old Kentucky junior.

Ed McCauley, 19-year-old St. Louis junior.

Kevin O'Shea, 22-year-old Notre Dame sophomore.

Murray Wier, 21-year-old Iowa senior.

Jim McIntyre, 20-year-old Minnesota junior.

On the basis of five points for a first team vote and two for a second team spot, Beard polled 859 points, better than 35 per cent of a possible perfect total. He received 153 first team votes, 47 seconds.

McCauley was runnerup with 622 points on 112 first team votes and 31 seconds. O'Shea polled 596 points on 100 first and 48 seconds; Wier 487 on 91 and 16; and McIntyre 473 on 73 and 54.

Tony Lavelli, Yale junior; Alex Groza, Kentucky, junior; Dwight Eddleman, Illinois junior; Arnold Ferrin, Utah senior; and George Kaftan, Holy Cross junior, were named as a second team.

A. L. (Amby) Bennett of the Oklahoma Aggies, was the only other player to receive more than 30 first team votes. He polled 189 points on 31 firsts, 17 seconds and topped a third team.

Dick Dickey (175 points) North Carolina State; Don Forman (166) New York university; George Kok (156) Arkansas; and Bob Cousy (153) Holy Cross, are the other third-teamers.

Of the 239 players who received points, a fourth team was named of Adolph Schayes (150) New York university; Ed Milkan (139) DePaul; Ernie Vandeweghe (133) Colgate; Jackie Robinson (127) Baylor; and Walt Budko (125) Columbia.

Sixty-one players with 124 points down to 25, inclusive, received honorable mention. This group was headed by Slater Martin, Texas.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Eddie Stevens, the former Big Springer who made good in a large way with both the Montreal and Brooklyn baseball clubs, hit a home run and two singles in four trips Sunday as he led the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 7-4 victory over Hollywood in an exhibition game Monday.

There is every indication Edward must continue to wield a big stick if he wants to stay married to the sack. It develops the Texan has some competition in the form of Max West, the former Boston Braves socker who spent last season in the Coast League.

Wet was brought up as an outfielder but, from all indications, Ralph Kiner, Johnny Hopp and either Wally Westlake or Dixie Walker will play in the outer cordon so Manager Bill Meyer is experimenting with Maxie at the initial station.

BERT BAEZ MAY BECOME AMERICAN CITIZEN

Bert Baez, the diminutive Cuban hurler who won 17 games for the resident nine in Longhorn league play last year, planned in here from the land of the Rhumbas yesterday and intends to stick around a while.

Fact of the matter is, Humberto brought along the necessary papers that will start him on the way toward becoming a naturalized citizen.

The wee hurler is about five or six pounds underweight but says a few American-cooked meals and some milk will boost his avoirdupois.

Baez goes to Sherman-DeLeon in the Big State league for the opening of spring drills in three weeks. He played no ball during the winter, but helped Papa Joe Cambria of the Washington club scout the island for ball players.

The likeable Havanan backs up Pat Stasey's statement that the local club will be much better than it was a year ago. According to Bertie, the Bronchs have landed one of the best hitting first basemen in the minor leagues in Justo Azpiazu. Baez personally signed four boys for Big Spring.

BIG STATE LEAGUE HEADED FOR SERIOUS TROUBLE

The Big State league, a Class B organization, is headed for trouble, by the way. All of the clubs are far over the salary limit. One of the teams has offered a new catcher $700 a month and some of his team mates will do almost as well at the pay window.

Some one should tell the operators that is what did almost irreparable damage to the professional game back in the '20's.

SHERMAN BASEBALL SCHOOL IS POSTPONED

Stasey, who has a lot of work ahead of him between now and April 21 what with the park to get ready and all, probably won't go to the Washington baseball clinic at Sherman, after all. The school was originally booked to start March 15. However, the powers that be elected to postpone the course 15 days because of the uncertain weather.

The Irish skipper will be starting his drills here by April 1.

PAT O'DOWDY TICKLED OVER COMING ATTRACTION

Pat O'Dowdy, the local grappling promoter who opens his new place of business on East Third street next Monday, returned from Odessa yesterday pleased as punch that he had Tufty Truesdell and his alligators coming here for his program next week.

O'Dowdy saw the act and allows as how he wouldn't crawl into the ring with the 'gator, called Rodney the Seventh, for anything. The great lizard weighs 385 pounds.

The crowd, incidentally, need have no fear of Rodney scrambling from the ring. A netting of thick mesh will be thrown up about the arena while the 'gator is in action.

CURLY HAYS TO TWIRL FOR ANGELO MUSHBALL CLUB

James (Curly) Hays, who worked one of the Steer basketball games here last season, is going to pitch for a San Angelo club in the newly organized Texas softball league this summer.

The circuit blasts the lid off its season April 17.

Jester Rejects Clemency Plea By Dr. Newton

AUSTIN, March 10.—A recommendation of clemency for Dr. W. R. Newton has been rejected by Gov. Beauford H. Jester for the second time in five months.

The Cameron physician began serving a two-year sentence last July 30 after conviction in Swisher county for assault with intent to murder Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield. The board of pardons unanimously recommended the clemency.

The governor, who customarily seeks the opinion of the district judge, sheriff and district attorney involved in the conviction when a clemency recommendation reaches his desk, said he received no response from the judge or sheriff in this case.

Dr. Newton has been credited two months' commutation for blood donations to other prisoners and four donations, 26 days for good time. This fixes his tentative discharge date as next Sept. 6.

The Cameron doctor sought clemency from his sentence before entering prison, but the pardons board turned him down. He was refused a 30-day emergency parole by the governor last October, when he asked a temporary release in order to operate on a woman patient.

Jester yesterday also rejected a clemency recommendation for George Rackley, sentenced to two years in 1947 from Wilbarger county for forgery.

John Neun Pins Hopes On Two Frosh Hitters

By The Associated Press

TAMPA, Fla., March 10.—Manager Johnny Neun of the Cincinnati Reds hopes that Rookies Hank Sauer and Ted Kluszewski will supply the extra base "bunch" that has been missing from the Reds' attack for so long.

Both boast excellent minor league records as sluggers and the two have highlighted the Reds' drills with their punch.

Yesterday, each clubbed a homer as the Reds downed the Philadelphia Phillies, 13-3 in the Reds' first exhibition game of the season. Notes from other camps:

Tucson, Ariz., March 10.—The Cleveland Indians will hold their last workout here today before embarking on an 18-day tour of the West Coast.

Orlando, Fla., March 10.—The Washington Senators, weakest hitting club in the American league in 1947, are pinning their hopes this year on a few rookies with fat minor league batting records.

The Nats are hoping that Southern Association graduates Al Kozar and Gil Coan can maintain their .339 and .338 pace in the big time.

Bradenton, Fla., March 10.—The Boston Braves began their Grapefruit league campaign today against the Cincinnati Reds. Manager, Billy Southworth has nominated pitchers Jim Prendergast, Al Gyons and Clyde Shoun for mound duty.

Regional Cage Meet Opening

AMARILLO, March 10.—Wayland college of Plainview and Sayre Junior college of Sayre, Okla., meet here tonight in the opening game of the Southwest Regional basketball tournament.

Amarillo college meets the Oklahoma Military academy of Claremore in the other game on the night's bill. The tournament ends Saturday.

The winner and runnerup teams of the tournament qualify for the National Junior College Athletic Association championship March 23-27 at Springfield, Mo.

Other teams in the Amarillo tournament include the Murry Aggies of Tishomingo, Okla.; the Cameron Aggies of Lawton, Okla.; the Eastern Oklahoma Aggies of Wilburton, Okla.; Blinn of Brenham, Tex.; Lon Morris of Jacksonville, Tex.; and Tyler Junior college of Tyler, Tex.

PRINCE SIGNS WITH LAMESA

LAMESA, March 10.—James T. Prince, who was batting champion of the minor leagues for 1947 has signed a contract with the Lamesa Lobos of the West Texas-New Mexico league.

Prince, who is from Dallas, will join the local club for the opening of training March 29 at which time plans for a formal presentation of the trophy emblematic of his championship will be announced.

The husky left-hand hitter will receive the 1947 Louisville Slugger trophy, an engraved full size sterling silver bat.

Prince made his record playing with Midland of the Longhorn league. He was drafted by Lamesa last winter. He is expected to be used as an outfielder here.

Wesleyan Loses To Californians

KANSAS CITY, March 10.—The championship showdown in the six-day National Intercollegiate (NAIB) basketball tournament is shaping up today as a battle between power and speed.

But the marathon meet was still without an outstanding favorite.

Sixteen teams, exactly half of the starting field, remained in the running after two days of grueling competition. The championship contenders were to be cut to eight teams in games today and tonight, four tomorrow, and two Friday.

The title game will be Saturday night.

The lower bracket had a monopoly on power basketball as the second round got underway at noon (CST) with Beloit (Wis.) college's big gold and the Blue Devils of Lawrence Tech, Detroit, playing.

Defending champion Marshall college of Huntington, W. Va., one of the faster teams in basketball, headed the upper bracket of speedy quints.

Marshall's opponent for tonight, San Jose (Calif.) State, beat Texas Wesleyan, 46-45, in one of the top games last night.

Three Rule Changes Tested At Jaycee Basketball Tournament May Be Adopted

COLLEGE STATION, March 10.—Basketball Coach Marty Karow of Texas A. and M. college will present a favorable report to the national rules-committee on three contemplated changes in mechanics of the game.

The report has been prepared from the opinions of basketball coaches of Texas Junior colleges who used the rule change in a state-wide basketball tournament held at A. and M. college as one of a series of tests over the nation.

They said better basketball would result, the fans would have a clearer understanding of the game and that play would be speeded up if these changes are adopted:

1. All coaches to talk to their players during time-outs.

2. Raising the hand of a player charged with a rules infraction.

3. Moving all jump balls to the nearest of the three circles painted on the court.

None of the 16 coaches having teams in the tournament passed the opportunity to huddle with their players during time-outs. Most of the shouting from the benches was eliminated. Players received clear instructions when the defense or attack plans were changed. Minor faults were corrected.

The raising of the hand by a player after a foul caused spectators, coaches, players and officials alike to ask: "Why wasn't this done years ago?"

MERRY MIX-UP

Capscrews Causing Army To Be Upset

MUNICH, March 10 (AP)—If only people would know that a capscrew is a "bolt hexagon head" the—

1—Autobahns in Germany would not be full of side panels that just fell off.

2—Fenders on Army six-by-six trucks wouldn't rattle so much.

3—Colonels would be happy instead of chewing out lieutenants and sergeants.

The capscrew crisis has turned up in U. S. Army ordnance and stop laughing. It ain't funny.

If there is one thing an Army truck needs, it is a capscrew. If there is one thing the Army has in Germany, it is capscrews—seven hundred thousand of them to be more or less exact.

If there is one thing a truck outfit can't lay its hands on, it is a capscrew. So, panels fall off trucks. Fenders fall off. Soon everything rattles. Soon sergeants holler. Lieutenants holler at them. Captains holler at the lieutenants and so it goes on.

To start at the beginning, the army busted its way through the war using capscrews like mad. There never was a shortage. A character would say "I need a capscrew" and he got it.

Then redeployment set in. Sergeants who knew capscrews and what they were for went home. Ordnance depots started running out of sergeants.

Air corps men were brought in. Capscrews? They never heard of them. In the air corps you call them "bolt hexagon heads."

So the "nomenclature" was changed. In the depots out in the field, when a fender was loose you asked for a "bolt hexagon head."

At Headquarters, men looked up the records and found there were no bolt hexagon heads in stock.

And so they notified the depots. Meantime capscrews at Headquarters piled up.

A couple of oldtime ordnance men wrote letters about it. They got back notice that when a man wants a capscrew, he ought to ask for one.

The depot men have done everything but write letters to the editor. All they want is bolt hexagon heads.

The Headquarters men haven't a single bolt hexagon head. But they have capscrews.

Planes Searching For Barge Crew

TAMPICO, Mexico, March 10 (AP)—Planes are searching today for the missing crew of a barge loaded with caustic soda, reported sunk Friday in rough weather.

The captain of Pemex Tug 1, who towed the barge told the captain of the port here that he feared the barge's crew is lost. Six men were believed aboard.

The barge left Brownsville for Tampico with caustic soda valued at about 1,000,000 pesos ($200,000). The soda was disinfectant in the campaign against the foot and mouth disease.

Hearing Is Set On Oil Application

The well is producing through perforations at 4,343 to 4,345 feet underlying the R. Manchola survey, West Pridham Lake field, Victoria county.

At the meeting, visiting students will be conducted over a tour of work stations at Lubbock in order to permit them to see the program working at first hand there. They also will attend a student banquet and will name district officers in preparation for the state meeting.

Representatives from here will be Horace Ivey, president of the local club, Gilbert Pachall, vice-president, Barbara Olson, secretary-treasurer, Charles Bailey, sergeant-at-arms, and Neta Betterton reporter.
