U. S. Navy Victorious in Sea Fight

REVIEWING THE BIG SPRING WEEK

—BY JOE PICKLE—
We learned to take the bad as well as the good last week. Corregidor fell and with it little hopes that somehow these heroes could hold out. Yet, by the end of the week the U. S. and Allies were smashing a Jap armada successfully. Truly, it was a historic week—one of those turning points we hope and pray.

Although sugar ration totals show more than 21,000 registrations, we venture there are yet scores and even hundreds who have not yet signed. Most of these failed through ignorance or misunderstanding, but unfortunately there were many more who had hoarded so much sugar they were afraid to appear.

Our USO drive has been put off a week, and perhaps it is just as well, for we will be better organized by kick-off time May 20. Quota is $4,200, which is a measly 25 cents for every individual in the county. We CAN raise that QUICKLY.

Speaking of fund raising campaigns, we had better remind you of the benefit dance for the Texas Defense Guard Tuesday evening at the county warehouse. You can play and help the guard at the same time.

Musio week, by almost any standard, was a real success here. Our predictions about the piano ensemble were understatement. The mother singers were excellent, and the band did a swell job.

Neal Rabe, in bringing his Wichita Falls Spudgers here for a stand of six West Texas-New Mexico league games, has decided to let a vote of the fans decide whether they will become Big Spring chatters, said votes being in form of tickets to the games.

It's difficult to mention the passing of one man and not another, but we think something ought to be said for John Moreland. Unostentatious, he was, nevertheless, what we love to call the backbone of a community. He was typically so.

News that we must vote again on the $70,000 portion of our bond issued connected with the U. S. Army Flying school is most unfortunate, for it is difficult to get out heavy votes on the same thing in less than a month. But—since the same thing carried by a 50-1 majority recently—we submit the opposition ought to be good sports and make it unanimous this time. Let's make it 100 per cent on the 20th.

Fish raising is as simple and profitable as poultry raising, farmers and ranchers were told here at a meeting last week. We're anxious for someone to experiment and invite us out to be the judge.

Howard county has done a remarkable job in collecting some six million pounds of scrap metal to date. The oil fields have about completed their job, and now it's time for the farmers. That phase of the campaign has hardly been touched and the farmers know it. Something ought to be done—soon.

Today is national Hospital Sunday. Elsewhere in this paper you will note an institutional ad which pretty well depicts three reasons why people in this area look toward Big Spring. Our hospitals are great assets. They have been blessings to many.

685 Boys Participate In Scout Round-Up Here

Slightly smaller but moving with record dispatch and precision, the annual Buffalo Trail council Round Up events drew more than 850 boys and men here during the weekend.

Records showed 36 troops in attendance from the Big Spring, Colorado City, Snyder, Sweetwater, Odessa and Midland districts of the council. A check at meal-time Saturday listed 685 boys, 75 leaders and 100 visitors.

Big Spring troops hugged honorees in camping activities, and gave a reasonably good account in activities competition, where Sweetwater and Odessa teams had it out for top spots.

In camping, troops ranked in this order: Big Spring No. 1, Sweetwater No. 13, Odessa No. 7, Odessa No. 81, Big Spring No. 6, Sweetwater No. 45, Big Spring No. 2, Big Spring No. 3, Colorado City No. 22 and Sweetwater No. 30.

For a class troops (19 membership and under) troops finished in this order: 42 (Sweetwater), 31 (Odessa), 40 (Sweetwater) and 55 (Penwell) tied for third, 15 (Knott) and 57 (Odessa) tied for fourth.

US Asks Vichy For Assurances Isles In West To Be Neutral

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The state department announced tonight that an American mission had requested guarantees from the local government of Martinique that that island and other French possessions in the area would not be used by the axis or in any way become menaces to the United States.

The department declined to answer questions as to what would happen if the request were refused and emphasized that the conversations had already begun in a spirit of all friendliness.

Heart Attack Takes Life Of Jno. Moreland

Friends paid final tributes here Saturday afternoon to John Lester Moreland, 43, victim of a heart attack Friday evening.

Moreland, well known businessman and church leader, dropped dead at his music store about 5 p. m. Friday. He was declared dead by the time medical aid could reach him.

Born in Parker county April 7, 1900, he spent much of his young manhood in Cleburne where he worked for the Santa Fe railroad until 1922 when he and his co-workers walked out in the big strike. He entered the sewing machine business and came to Big Spring in 1929 and later opened a music store bearing his name.

Moreland was married in 1925 to Miss Loraine Young at Cleburne and two children were born to the union.

He served for several years as treasurer of the East Fourth Baptist church, was a member of its board of deacons, was active in its Brotherhood work and was a Fellowcraft Mason.

Survivors include his widow; two children, John L. Jr., and Mary Jo; seven brothers, J. R. Moreland, Alvarado; G. E. Moreland, San Angelo; B. L. Moreland, Selabee; H. B. Moreland, Shamrock; R. W. Moreland, Newark; Sam Moreland, Big Spring, and H. H. Moreland, Wharton; and three sisters, Mrs. D. M. Williams and Mrs. C. Kinkaid, Graham, and Mrs. Al Petty, Bunker.

Rites here were at the East Fourth Baptist church at 1:30 p. m. with the Rev. R. Elmer Dunham, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, First Baptist minister. Sunday afternoon at Cleburne the Rev. W. S. Garnett, a former pastor here, will be in charge of the funeral at the home of Mrs. Moreland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Young.

Carriers here were Dick Davis, Dale Puckett, Otis Wilson, Aas D. Couch, Keats Watts, and Ray Veatch.

Hero Greeted Here

Lieut. John D. Bulkeley, U.S. Navy torpedo boat hero, home from the Philippines, gets his first glimpse of his son, John Duncan Bulkeley, Jr., in New York. The baby was born April 3. Bulkeley's wife (left) and mother assist at the introduction. Daughter Joan, 19 months, waits dejectedly for her turn in the limelight.

Representing the United States at Martinique are Admiral John H. Hoover, commanding naval officer on the Caribbean sea front, and Samuel Reber, assistant chief of the division of European affairs in the state department.

Their requests were made to Admiral Georges Robert as French high commissioner.

"Admiral Hoover is authorized to propose an arrangement whereby the French flag may continue to fly over the French Caribbean possessions," the department said in a statement, "and French sovereignty there will remain unchanged, and whereby Admiral Robert will continue to be recognized as the ultimate governing authority of French Caribbean possessions."

Should mutually satisfactory arrangements be reached with Admiral Robert as high commissioner, assuring that the French authorities in the French Caribbean Atlantic coast area will not furnish aid or comfort to axis forces, the United States is prepared to safeguard the interests of France in these areas, to maintain their economic life, and to assure that all assets of the French government in the French Caribbean possessions be held for the ultimate use of the French people.

Gov't Invades Boudoir

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The government today restricted the length of women's nightgowns and ordered the frills trimmed from them and also slips, petticoats and pajamas.

In a move to conserve the war production, the War Production Administration today directed that no nightgown be manufactured longer than 64 inches for a size 26 with corresponding lengths for other sizes.

The order also prohibits ruffles, all-over pleating or tucking, full sleeves, and "excessive" lengths or sweeps.

All stocks of the articles on hand as of Monday or in process of manufacture before Monday are exempt from the order.

VFW Purchases Birdwell Place

The Ray E. Fuller Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has become the first local post in Texas to own its own home, its members believed Saturday in announcing purchase of the Birdwell home at Gollard and E. 9th.

The red sandstone building, built almost in the pioneer days by Mr. and Mrs. John Birdwell, was acquired together with a small surrounding tract for a reported price of $2,000.

Members of the VFW called a joint meeting for Thursday at 8 p. m. to name committees for planning disposition of the property, how and when it will be remodeled, etc.

It was made plain that the need for a community center for young men returning from the service had impelled the post here to make the immediate investment. They also envisioned it as a place for youth activity as well as a meeting place for the post and its auxiliary.

Outside of the home owned by the state department, there is no local VFW home in Texas, members here said.

Sugar Count Shows Population Increase

Howard county has enjoyed a population increase of 1,000 to 1,500 persons since the 1940 census, it may be estimated from the total of applications for sugar ration books.

County Superintendent Anne Martin, after a hectic day and half-night of assembling information from the various school districts, announced last night that 21,363 persons applied for ration books in the county.

Of these, 21,000 were issued books, the remainder having too much sugar on hand to obtain them. A total of 2,869 stamps were removed because of sugar already on hand.

The total of 21,363 applications, plus 600 patients at the state hospital, plus an estimated 500 or 600 persons who did not register for sugar for one reason or another, indicates that the county's population now stands at better than 22,000 persons.

The 1940 census gave a total population of 20,900. So careful were school teachers and other volunteers taking the applications in filling out forms that only 264 were ruled and had to be made over, Miss Martin reported.

STANTON, May 9 (Sp)—Unofficial figures on sugar rationing in Martin county shows 5,315 books were issued.

Straw Hats Take Over For Season

The fellows that don't have straw hats on today will likely buy 'em Monday and Tuesday, Big Spring merchants believe.

Today is official straw hat day, the time at which the felt should be discarded for the duration of hot weather.

Friday and Saturday sales of straws were emphasized by local stores, with most merchants reporting a good volume of business, particularly after the weather started warming Saturday.

Invaders In Dire Straits From Action

CHUNGKING, China, May 9 (AP)—A strong Chinese army force which the advancing Japanese by-passed in central Burma has smashed hard into the exposed rear of the Japanese, recapturing the former allied headquarters of Maymyo and driving against both Lashio and Mandalay, the Chinese announced tonight.

This sudden maneuver, involving a forced march of more than 90 miles north from Taunggyi, already has cut off the main communication route and line of retreat of the Japanese units that pressed so "wickedly" along the Burma Road into Yunnan province, China, said a communique.

The Japanese in Yunnan had split into two columns to try to outflank the Chinese, but one of these columns already has been wiped out and the other is vainly trying to break out of an encirclement, said the Chinese communique.

Giving a broad picture of a startling reversal for the hitherto unbroken Japanese advance campaign in Burma and southwest China, the Chinese communique said that when the Japanese rushed northward through Burma they sent one force eastward along the Burma road and another west to complete occupation of the Lashio-Mandalay railroad and cut off Chinese troops still in the Mandalay area.

But suddenly the supposedly trapped Chinese became very active, said the communique, and the Japanese forces which had rushed ahead to cut Chinese communications now are faced with the danger of being "sandwiched" between the Chinese.

It is expected that this Japanese column will be liquidated in a few days," said the communique, apparently referring to the Japanese who had moved along the Lashio-Mandalay railroad.

Maymyo was recaptured Wednesday, said the Chinese, and now the Chinese are thrusting out in both directions, fiercely attacking Mandalay, 25 miles southwest of Maymyo, and pushing towards Lashio, 110 miles northeast.

This development came just as the Japanese in Yunnan, in the vicinity northeast of Chafang, were suffering what the Chinese announced yesterday was a "crushing defeat."

That invader force, with a supply artery severed, now is in dire straits, the Chinese asserted.

Air School Construction Speeds Up

Construction operations on the U. S. Army Flying School at the airport here will step up this week in a new phase of activity that is destined to increase in tempo until a whirlwind drive sees the huge cantonment complete early in October.

Considerable operation is to be moved in and operations started on parts of the general contract, announced by the U. S. engineers office here this week as having been awarded to Brown & Root and Bellows construction companies of Austin. Contract figure was reported in excess of four and a half millions of dollars.

Brown & Root has been at work for the past two weeks on dirt work, involving expenditures in excess of $300,000.

Saturday many construction engineers and foremen were active and signs of increased activity were general.

The city received approval of the WPA application for water and sewer line extensions and planned to have prints complete so that they may be rushed through quickly for the final work order.

At the same time, information was secured regarding the main entrance roadway and the railroad spur locations. This, said J. McDaniel, city manager, would clear the way for making the area more accessible to workers, and for starting construction on the spur as soon as the railroad is ready.

The U. S. engineers office said that work on the general contract, which involves something like 300 units in addition to a tremendous amount of concrete work, would "begin anytime now."

MacArthur Says Our Losses Few

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sunday, May 10 (AP)—Two more Japanese vessels have been damaged by Allied bombers, raising Japan's cost in the war's greatest sea and air battle to 11 ships sunk and eight damaged, General MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, AUSTRALIA, May 9 (AP)—Australia counted herself saved tonight from the dread menace of immediate Japanese invasion, under which she has lived this past week, as General Douglas MacArthur announced that the enemy had been thrown back in the war's greatest sea and air battle at "relatively slight" cost to the victorious defending forces, chiefly American.

The battle of the Coral sea, at least its first phase, a roaring, flashing, swirling combat spread over six days and great reaches of the waters just northeast of this continent, had "temporarily ceased."

MacArthur's war bulletins told categorically of allied success, the enemy repulsed, the initiative to attack still in allied hands.

United Nations leaders warned, however, that this probably was only the first round with greater battles "yet to be fought," as Prime Minister John Curtin put it, "as part of a struggle which must continue until the enemy is defeated or we are conquered."

From advance bases near the scene of battle, from which land-based United States army bombers took off to join the fight, came authoritative word that it was not at all certain that Japanese forces in this area had been accounted for.

Authorities there insisted the situation still was serious. It was not known how far the enemy had withdrawn, perhaps to gather strength for a new and greater smash into the Coral sea. One bomber unit found a Japanese convoy still south of New Britain, north of the battle area, only yesterday.

But the United Nations had MacArthur's word for it that the Midway's armada had been repulsed with eleven of his ships sunk and six others gravely crippled and that "our attacks will continue."

"Further they had his assurance that Tokyo's claims as to allied losses were 'fantastic,' he accounts of the battle 'entirely fictional.'"

The feeling here at headquarters was that at the least United States and Australian sea and air power had blunted if not broken the spearhead of the first major Japanese attempt to resume the southward drive since the conquest of Malaya and the Dutch East Indies.

Further news was awaited before experts could conclude whether this battle should rank See BATTLE, Page 13, Column 4

Contracts For Lamesa Glider School Signed

Contracts have been signed for a glider school near Lamesa. The Herald learned on good authority Saturday.

This sets the stage for immediate operations which will lead to housing an auxiliary building program on the site in the approximate amount of $200,000.

John Wilson, La Porte, Ill., operator of a CFT school and a glider or soaring unit at that point, signed the contracts here with Mayor Charnell Jobs and Dr. Noble Price on hand to represent Lamesa interests.

Wilson met with the Lamesans here early Saturday and the local chamber of commerce aviation committee assisted in negotiations. He was to leave one of his associates in Lamesa to supervise construction activities.

The school will be designed immediately for some 250 officers (only commissioned army pilots will be trained), instructors and other personnel, and Wilson indicated it probably would be expanded soon. Initial building scheduled to be complete by June 1.

The city of Lamesa and Dawson county are cooperating jointly in securing approximately three sections of land, which it was understood, has been condemned to avoid legal delays. U. S. engineers have been in the area to make a survey of the L-shaped territory seven miles north of Lamesa on the O'Donnell road.

Andy Essays A Courtship In Latest Of Hardy Pictures Playing At Ritz

The screen's Hardy Family welcomes two new "guest stars" in the persons of Donna Reed, college girl glamour discovery, and William Lundigan, new leading man find, in "The Courtship of Andy Hardy," latest in the popular series which is at the Ritz theatre today and Monday.

Miss Reed won the attention of Hollywood talent scouts after her election as campus queen of Los Angeles City college, and has appeared in only two previous pictures, "The Get-Away" and "The Bugle Sounds."

Lundigan, playing Cecilia Parker's boy friend in the new Hardy drama, came to pictures via the radio. Following his first appearance in "Dodge City," he scored in "Three Cheers for the Irish," "Flight Command" and "The Bugle Sounds."

The story of "The Courtship of Andy Hardy" centers around Andy's efforts to show Miss Reed a good time, at his father's request. The Judge feels sorry for the girl after trying the case of her separated parents in court and, realizing that she has had no opportunity for happiness, calls on Andy for help. Then Stone and Rooney plot to "glamorize" the girl, surprising results occur.

Cecilia Parker, as sister Marian, returns from finishing school and "goes sophisticated" to add further laughs to the blend of human interest and fun which George B. Seitz directed.

Players include Fay Holden, Ann Rutherford, Sara Haden, Frieda Inescort, Harvey Stephens, George Breakston, Ted Karna, Betty Wallace and Steve Cornell.

Action is laid in the home town of Carvel, where Mickey goes into the car-washing business with his camouflaged "jalopy," is accused of stealing an FBI man's car, and gets into other predicaments.

Miller, alone in the plane, was thrown clear of the destroyed craft. The crash occurred about 3 a. m. a mile north and a mile west of the field here.

That Family Again—There's no place like home for the Hardy's—and the wholehearted tributes are under one roof in "The Courtship of Andy Hardy," playing at the Ritz today and Monday, and telling more of the trials Andy suffers in the process of becoming a man. You know these people, of course, as Cecilia Parker, Fay Holden, Lewis Stone, Mickey Rooney and Sara Haden.

Defense Area—That's the background for "Canal Zone," a roaring drama mixing thrills and romance in one of the world's greatest danger sectors. Chester Morris and Harriet Hilliard are in the film which plays today and Monday at the Lyric.

Air Defenses Dramatized In 'Canal Zone'

In production when enemy bombers roared across the Pearl Harbor skies, Columbia's "Canal Zone" presents one of the most timely screen dramas of the year, a gripping, action-tense story of the men who stalk danger in the clouds as terror strikes the earth below. Offered today and Monday at the Lyric theatre with Chester Morris, Harriet Hilliard and John Hubbard featured, "Canal Zone" is a drama hot from America's most popular motion picture stars, the "Canal Zone" cast includes Forrest Tucker, Lloyd Bridges, Stanley Andrews and Larry Parks.

The new Columbia drama is set in Ginger Bar, a former banana shipping point near the Canal Zone, newly converted into a relay point for American bombers for Allied forces in Africa. Morris is seen as a training officer at the flying field; Miss Hilliard is his commanding officer's daughter, and Hubbard appears as a society playboy, who has signed up for the excitement.

The romance which backgrounds "Canal Zone," according to Hollywood report, is never permitted to intrude upon the more spectacular, more colorful elements of the film, even as it provides a lighter contrast to them. The film is essentially an action story and, it is said, packs more action per foot than anything in recent months.

Roosevelt Asks Flag Day Tribute

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt asked American citizens tonight to honor the people of all the United Nations in observing flag day this year because the United States was only one of 26 nations "fighting in the greatest cause the world has known" and "unless all triumph, all will fall."

"We will not stop this side of victory."

400 Hear Band Concert

Concluding the observance of music week the Big Spring municipal high school band gave its ninth annual concert Friday night to approximately 400 persons in the city auditorium.

The concert was composed of semi-classical and popular numbers.

The "American Rhapsody," a modern overture proved to be an extraordinary treat.

Among the popular and novelty numbers was the "Little Brown Jug Goes to Town" during which Dean Miller and Dan Conley gave a skit of a boy playing in the wrong time. Keeping perfect time was the arrangement of "Blues in the Night." During the number "Deep in the Heart of Texas" the audience joined in the clapping of hands.

The junior band of 40 pieces showed promise and the senior band also was enthusiastically received by the audience.

"I Was Framed" Is Thrill Film At The Queen

Plenty of suspenseful action and the eventual triumph of a crusading reporter over a crooked political machine earmark "I Was Framed" as one of the most interesting films of the year. The Warner Bros. film plays today and Monday at the Queen.

Jam-packed with intrigue and color, the story comes to the screen with a hard hitting cast that features Michael Ames, Julie Bishop and Regis Toomey.

"I Was Framed" relates the efforts of a straight-shooting reporter, Ames, and his city editor boss, Toomey, to rid their state of a corrupt political mob headed by Howard Hickman. During Ames' efforts to give his state a clean bill of health politically, the young reporter is framed as a drunk driver and blamed for three deaths.

It is when the young news sleuth escapes from prison, joins his wife and attempts to right the wrongs visited upon him that the plot swings into high.

Directed by D. Ross Lederman, "I Was Framed" utilizes a punch-packed script by Robert E. Kent from an original idea by Jerome Odlum. Well mounted and carefully produced, the thriller leans heavily upon the acting ability of young Ames and Julie Bishop, both products of the Pasadena Community Playhouse. They were selected for the roles only after a careful search among the many who aspired for the parts. With their work is blended the mature trouping of Regis Toomey.

Fake Teacher Gets Suspended Sentence, Told To Join Army

Allred Gives West Chance To Make Good

HOUSTON, May 9 (AP)—Federal Judge James V. Allred today suspended a general five-year sentence imposed upon Charles Peter West, former pretender on the University of Texas medical school faculty, conditioned on West's appearance before his Galveston draft board for induction into the army.

West has been ordered to report to Draft Board No. 1 in Galveston Monday, J. Leo Baldwin, federal probation officer, said.

In the event West is not accepted for induction, Baldwin said, he will return to his New York home under the suspended sentence.

After the court session, West returned to the Wharton county jail, where he had been held, to get some clothes.

West, adjudged guilty of false draft registration and violation of the narcotic laws during the time he was posing on the medical school as Dr. David Fell, made a courtroom plea for mercy which impressed the judge.

The defendant said he knew he had erred but begged the court to

AAA Practices Changed Under War Conditions

COLLEGE STATION, May 9—Wiser use of land, labor and equipment in producing wartime food is the aim of recently-announced parity and conservation payments to be made Texas farmers cooperating under this year's AAA program.

Payments also act as levers to assist farmers in continuing soil conservation practices and in converting from production of crops with big reserves to crops the country needs to increase quickly.

Geo. Slaughter, chairman, Texas AAA committee, announces.

A parity payment of 13.5 cents per bushel will be made to cooperating wheat growers, but no parity payments will be made to cotton and rice farmers because their 1941 return, including conservation payments, is at or above the parity level.

New conservation rates of payment, which are paid producers for seeding special crops according to AAA regulations, also have been announced and replace rates originally designated. New cotton rate is $1.20 per 100 pounds instead of $1.25, while the wheat conservation rate of 10.5 cents per bushel has been reduced to 9.9 cents.

The payment rate on commercial peanuts, which does not include peanuts for oil under the Food for Freedom program, has been reduced from $1.45 per ton to $1.25 per ton, and the rate on Irish potatoes has been changed from 2 cents per bushel to 1.5 cents per bushel. The 1942 rice payment will be 3.85 cents per barrel instead of 4.86 cents.

New payment schedules do not include changes in the soil-building allowance rates or soil-building practice payment rates under the 1942 conservation program, the AAA chairman said. Necessary changes in these rates will be made later when more adequate information becomes available concerning the extent of participation in this phase of the program.

The Capitol at Washington has a floor area of 14 acres.

Checkup On Deductions For Bonds Asked

Taking ten percent of salaries for war saving stamps and bonds on the payroll allotment plan has ceased to be a theory and is practically underway, so Jack Smith, chairman of the payroll allotment committee of the Howard county figures.

In a letter received by the government this week, Smith has been asked to contact all business houses and ask employers to sign up their employees on the ten percent basis. The total number of employees signed up, the number of employees in the firm, the percentage signed up and the percentage of the payroll are all questions that have to be answered.

Smith will have to send his report to Washington not later than the 30th of this month. "Since it takes so long to get around to every employer, I'm taking this means of asking the employers to contact their employees the first of the week, secure their 100 percent cooperation, and contact me with the information in order that I can send in a report that Howard county is backing this war together," Smith said.

Sentiment throughout the country on the ten percent payroll deduction has been changing, so pool experts say, from voluntary to required pay deductions and many have admitted willingness to buy bonds and stamps in this manner.

Colorado City Men Last Seen On Corregidor

The last word heard by the Colorado City families of at least three men came from the island fortress of Corregidor.

Kinard White, expert machine gunner with a flight commander's ship in the air corps, has been in the Philippines since October 1939, having been sent there to complete his training only five weeks after his enlistment. He was a Col-Tex refinery employe here before joining the service.

His brother, N. H. White, Jr., of Colorado City, received the last communication from him so far, on Christmas day, from Corregidor.

William Hill, private first class with the coast artillery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney E. Hill, was sent to Fort Mills last September. He, too, was last heard from on Christmas day.

Captain Raymond Twaite, anti-aircraft corps, went from Fort Bliss to Corregidor last September and has not been heard from since January when his commanding officer wrote the family of Twaite's promotion to the rank of captain. His wife, the former Miss Evelyn Pickens, has had no direct word from him since Christmas day. She is in school at Silver City, N. M. Captain and Mrs. Twaite are the parents of two small daughters, Sandra and Janet.

RAF Concentrates On Nazi Sub Bases, Plane Factories

Publishers Seek Change In Ruling

transportation order prohibiting more than one local delivery a day. At the same time the publishers pledged their fullest cooperation in the conservation of rubber, motor equipment and fuel.

Bombers Dip To 400 Feet To Unload

LONDON, May 9 (AP)—With the avowed intention of smashing Nazi submarine nests and the German air force as the necessary preliminary to invasion of the continent, the heaviest British bombers returned in a blistering assault on the ravaged Rostock area along the Baltic last night, the air ministry announced today.

From 400 to 500 foot levels the big war birds bombed Warnemuende, leaving fires sweeping an aircraft plant and other objectives in that area, but 10 miles from Rostock for which it is both a port and seaplane base. The Germans announced that Rostock also was bombed again, indicating that the British raid had spread over all the busy Baltic sea supply center.

The big Lancasters, Manchester, Wellingtons, Hampdens and four-motored Stirlings paid the highest toll—19 planes lost—in five months for the daring low-level attack into an intense anti-aircraft defense, particularly in Warnemuende.

At nearby Rostock, 7,000 or 8,000 persons were reported killed recently in four nights of heaviest bombing of a single town that Britain ever has done.

Continuing the daylight phase of their offensive, RAF bombers attacked Hazenbroek in occupied France and Bruges, occupied Belgium, and all bombers returned safely. The British reported losing seven fighters, however, while downing one German fighter.

Large formations of fighters thundered back and forth across the coast and explosions could be heard on this side from the Calais area.

The German radio quoted the high command as saying German fighters intercepted 100 British Hurricanes and Spitfires and six Boston bombers over northern France in the course of the day and shot down nine fighters in a fierce dogfight. The Germans admitted the loss of two planes.

Germany bombed Britain but lightly, scattering a few explosives over East Anglia and causing some casualties. Four raiders were reported shot down.

The Germans identified their "reprisal" target as Norwich.

Chivalrous German Officer Wishes Crewmen Good Luck After Sinking Freighter In The Gulf Of Mexico

NEW ORLEANS, May 9 (AP)—Standing on the bridge of a German submarine that had just torpedoed their ship a deeply tanned, short-cropped officer called out Wednesday to the survivors "Sorry we can't help you. Hope you get ashore OK."

This farewell in what was described as "perfect American" and other circumstances of the first announced sinkings of two ships by U-boats in the well-protected waters of the Gulf of Mexico today brought speculation that Baron von Spiegel, hard-bitten Nazi, had returned to fight the United States in the waters he knows best.

Von Spiegel, former German consul general for the entire Gulf coast from Florida to Texas, with headquarters here, commanded a U-boat in the World War and it is recorded that he never sank a ship with loss of life, which earned him the title of "German's most chivalrous U-boat captain." The British captured von Spiegel in 1917.

Although several officers were injured by shrapnel in Wednesday's sinkings, announced today, no lives were lost and survivors stories indicated that their after ships were stopped there was a deliberate attempt to let them get off safely before the ships were sunk. They were permitted to proceed with best wishes and without molestation aboard life rafts and boats. The survivors all reached shore within a few hours.

Von Spiegel is best remembered for his utterance on June 14, 1940, a few days before Paris fell, that "Germany will not forget that when she was waging a struggle for her very life that the United States did everything in its power to aid her enemies."

This statement caused a sensation. Eventually he was withdrawn with other German consuls last year, and returned home.

Survivors stories indicated the gulf submarines may be new and better than any Germany was known to have. One overhauled a large merchant ship doing 18 knots.

Rural First Aid Classes May Be Given As Needed

Several rural communities have asked that first aid classes be organized for their benefit. C. L. "Stoney" Henry, first aid chairman of the Howard-Glasscock Red Cross chapter, said Friday.

However, so many men are now busy in the fields that it has become impractical for regular schedules to be followed. Henry asked that those who are still interested in this instruction to contact him so that he may assign instructors.

"This is the only way I have of reaching the folks," he said, "and I hope that they will respond by letting us know when they are ready for a course in first aid."

Patriotic And Religious Films To Be Shown

Life size moving pictures, with sound, are to be shown in two local churches this week. The first showing is to be at the First Baptist church, Tuesday, May 12, and the second showing at the E. 4th St. Baptist church, Wednesday, May 13, both at 8 p. m.

The main feature of both shows will be the life of the Apostle Paul, in dramatic story form. In the picture, Paul will be seen witnessing the stoning of Stephen, his conversion, much of his ministry, etc. The picture was produced in England, by a professional cast, under religious direction. It is a picture with a great emotional, as well as intellectual appeal, suitable for all ages.

Preceding the above, on Tuesday night at the First Baptist church, a patriotic film will be shown, including a fine arrangement of the flag, the fall and invasion of some conquered countries, with their battles, of air, land and sea, the bombing of Pearl Harbor, the President speaking, etc.

On Wednesday night, at the E.

4th St. church, the life of Paul film will be preceded by a talking picture on the Old Testament, including the creation, the flood, etc., very interesting and informational.

The programs are being brought here by Rev. J. A. Williams of Dallas and Rev. Woodie W. Smith of Fort Worth. The public is invited to attend. There will be no admission charge.

Navy Asks List Of Sea Scouts

Lists of all boys who have been Sea Scouts or Sea Scout leaders have been asked by the U. S. Navy department, Buffalo Trail council authorities have been advised.

The way may be open for some of these young men and these leaders to apply for commissions in the U. S. Naval Reserve. Youths and men who already have shown an interest in the sea and who already have had much of the elementary training given to naval officer candidates are desired.

In a letter to Dr. James E. West, chief scout executive, Frank Knox, secretary of the navy, said that "it will interest you to know that because of an evolution that is now going on in naval warfare the type of training that the Sea Scouts have had peculiarly fits them for a new type of service for which the Navy is now in the process of procuring officers."

Those who have had the Sea Scout training should contact Boy Scout headquarters at Sweetwater, Texas or write to Commander F. C. Hunteon, USNR, Louisiana Building, 247-227 Camp street, New Orleans, La.

Martin-Howard Soil District Ends Big Year

Big Things have come out of the Martin-Howard soil conservation district program during its first year of operation—but district supervisors are expecting even bigger ones for the year ahead.

During the past year plans have been worked out with the aid of Soil Conservation Service personnel on 105 farms in Howard county, terrace lines covering 615 miles of fields have been run and approximately 200 miles of terraces built. By Dec. 1, said Dudley Mann, in charge of the SCS office here, an additional 50 to 100 miles of terraces, built for height requirements as an emergency, would be given proper slope.

Martin county has had run something like 250 miles of terrace lines, handled by the Stanton SCS office, he said, but ventured that lack of equipment possibly held construction back less than 100 miles. Covered in the 105 farms, on which complete conservation plans have been developed, are some 141,261 acres of land.

To meet needs resulting from food and feed production emergency programs, the board of supervisors of the district has set 150 farms and 157,800 acres as the objective for the new year. With more equipment on hand, Mann thought that terraces would be run on a greater portion of the lines run.

First applications were received on May 24 last year, although offers had been open earlier. A period of drafting plans and rules had preceded approval by the state office for complete operations by the district.

Mother's Day May 10th

We Salute American Mothers Everywhere

We can think of no holiday more in keeping with the American tradition than Mother's Day. It has been "American" to honor the great heroes of our land . . . is it not, then fitting that we should set aside a day in honor of greatest heroine, the American Mother.

Mother's Day takes on added importance when we stop to think how personal this Holiday is.

We honor all American Mothers on this, their day.

If you work for wages, advertising is your staunchest friend

THERE are 3 ways in which advertising directly benefits the working man.

Advertising causes MORE EMPLOYMENT in both raw material and manufacturing industries by increasing the volume of units sold.

For instance, over 20 years one typical firm added 10% more employees each year because of the business brought by aid of advertising.

Next, advertising aids in the PERMANENCE OF EMPLOYMENT and increases the employees' security.

This is because a firm which advertises consistently meets less resistance in the sale of its products. It is less apt to fail—throwing its employees out of work. This is important because the life of the average business is estimated to be only 5½ years.

Then, advertising HELPS

LOWER THE COST OF THE THINGS YOU BUY.

You know yourself that it costs much less per article to make 10,000 units than only 100. Thus the product can be sold cheaper. When you buy it—it costs less—your money goes farther—you can improve your standard of living—have an electric refrigerator, washing machine and other things.

That's three great contributions which Advertising makes to labor. More employment—more permanence to employment—better value for your money and more money to spend.

WHAT TO DO

Tell your friends about this—how important advertising is to labor.

Then patronize the firms which advertise. You can be pretty sure that a consistent advertiser is giving you full value in quality, service and price.

Salute to American Mothers

Whose Sons and Daughters Serve America... in the Armed Forces, the Factory, the Farm.

It takes all kinds of people to win a war. It takes soldiers and sailors, politicians and business men, farmers and laborers, wives and sweethearts—and MOTHERS. Mothers because they wait for the peace that will send their sons home to them... and because while they wait, they work. Their work is as important as that of their armed and uniformed sons. There is the important job of morale, of keeping intact the American home. For today, as in other wars, the home remains the port of happiness and safety to which men turn first when the war is won.

Texas Wins Southwest Track Title

DALLAS, May 9 (AP)—Rice won most of the first places and Texas A&M furnished the upsets but the University of Texas rolled along to another Southwest conference track and field championship here today.

The Longhorns scored in every event except the broad jump and shot put to pile up 87 3-4 points, nine more than Texas A&M which finished second ahead of Rice. The Aggies made 48 1-4 and Rice got 44 1-2.

Not a single record was so much as approached but Joe Vajdos, Aggie sophomore, furnished a thrill by beating the conference champion and half-mile record-holder, Mae Umstadtd, with a driving finish.

Billy Cummins, the sensational Rice sophomore, was high point man, getting first in the 120-yard high hurdles and the broad jump, taking second in the low hurdles, tying for fourth in the pole vault and running on the second-place sprint relay team. His total was 14 points, two more than his teammate, Harold Hall, the dash star.

Cummins and Roy Bueck of A&M, the defending champion hurdler, ended their season's feud in a deadlock with the Rice ace taking the high hurdles and Bueck the lows.

Defeat of Umstadtd by Vajdos was a distinct surprise. Umstadtd led until the last 100 yards when the Aggie sophomore flashed forward and won going away. The time was 1:56.2, almost three seconds over the record. Umstadtd also was upset in his other specialty, the 440-yard dash, by his teammate, Jean Wren.

Jack Wilson, Baylor's great all-around athlete, got two first places, making the shot put and javelin throw, to tie Al Rickes of the Aggies for third place in individual points.

Johnny Zeiger, Aggie sophomore, finished 220 yards ahead in the two-mile run and the crowd got a laugh when Hall, running anchor lap for Rice in the mile relay, overhauled Wren of Texas then loped along beside him and talked to the Longhorn runner until they reached the tape. Hall won by about three yards.

Baylor finished fourth with thirteen points, Texas Christian, fifth with nine and Arkansas and Southern Methodist tied for sixth with two each.

Aggies Win S'west Crown In Baseball

AUSTIN, May 9 (AP)—The Texas A&M college baseball team sailed away the Southwest conference championship today by defeating the University of Texas 5 to 4.

Les Peden's unassisted double play in the last of the eighth inning a budding Steer rally, gave the Aggies the conference pennant and robbed Texas of a chance to tie for the title honors even though it wins two postponed conference games.

Two men were on base and one was down when Peden grabbed J. Pearce's liner, stepped on third and took out Grady Hatton without further ado.

That retired the Longhorns.

Freshman Participation Opposed — S'west Champs Tied To Cotton Bowl

DALLAS, May 9 (AP)—The Southwest conference football championship either will play in the Cotton Bowl or not appear in any bowl game under a rule passed by the faculty committee at its spring meeting today.

Six of the seven members voted to commit the champion to the Dallas classic. The other member, the University of Texas, did not join in the movement, pointing to a faculty rule of its own that prohibits post-season football games.

The conference fathers also made provision for football games with service teams and will likely follow the same plan in other sports. Varsity, freshman and B squad can play service teams.

The proposed rule to make freshmen eligible for varsity competition was shelved until a special meeting in August at which time a decision will be reached. The committee decided to wait until it was determined whether or not 15-year-olds would be drafted for army service.

In connection with the majority decision on committing the gridiron champion to the Cotton Bowl, the committee ruled that any team other than the champion might play in a bowl game if permission is obtained from the conference. However, if the champion declines the Cotton Bowl bid, it will not be granted permission to play in any other bowl game.

The conference fathers found it scholastically undesirable to have freshmen on varsity squads, pointing out that this would be a handicap to first-year men who would need all their time to make their courses instead of going on trips with the football team.

The conference fathers literally "threw the book" at service teams, voting to raise the limit on freshman football games from three to six per season with the hope that the games would be played with service teams; authorized second or "B" teams for the purpose of playing games with service teams but not counting this against varsity competition and increased the number of varsity games from ten to eleven, with the extra game to be played with service teams.

It was the consensus of opinion that most of these varsity games with service teams would be played the third week in September or one week before the regular schedule starts.

The committee saw no need of curtailment of the sports program except for those sports in which the war made it impossible to obtain the proper equipment.

"We believe that since the government has expressed its approval of continuance of the intercollegiate program, it will provide enough equipment to at least carry on the major sports," Dean Waterman said.

Jefferson Of San Antonio Track Champs

AUSTIN, May 9 (AP)—Blond Charles Parker, 15-year-old wing-footed sophomore, today won high-point honors and the 1942 state intercollegiate track and field meet for Thomas Jefferson high school of San Antonio.

The flashy sprinter won the 100 and 220-yard dashes and anchored Jefferson's quarter-mile relay team to a new record of 43.1 seconds. The Mustangs totaled 17 points, also taking fourth place in the 880-yard run and the mile relay.

Sunset High School of Dallas was second place with 13 points, Jefferson Davis of Houston was third with 12 1-4, John Reagan of Houston was fourth with 12, Alamo Heights of San Antonio was fifth with 10 points and Brackenridge of San Antonio sixth with nine.

DeWitt Coulter, mighty shot putter from Masonic Home in Fort Worth, wrote another new mark in the record book with a heave of 58 feet seven, bettering his own 54 feet, 8 1/2 inch, effort in yesterday's preliminaries which smashed the old mark of 54 feet, 3-8 inch, set by H. E. Pendleton of Woodshoro last year.

Jefferson's record-shattering 440-yard relay team, composed of Eddie Cole, Paul Creamer, Bill Eagie and Parker, bettered the 43.2-second mark set last year by a Jefferson quartet which included Parker as the second man.

Sunset annexed runner-up meet honors with Bill Hamman winning the 200-yard low hurdles, Jim Hoff taking the gruelling 880-yard run, Bill Blackburn coming in third in the 100-yard dash and Hamman, Connally Ludwig, Hoff and Blackburn combining to take fourth honors in the quarter-mile relay.

Steve Lobus, all-around expert who won second high point honors with 10.7 points, placed Jeff Davis in third place for the meet. Lobus won the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet, 6 inches, tied for first with four others in the high jump, was second in the 120 yard high hurdles and anchored the mile relay quartet to third place.

American League To Give Army And Navy $375,000 Says Prexy

CHICAGO, May 9 (AP)—President Will Harridge of the American league predicted today that the league would contribute $375,000 to the army and navy relief funds.

Harridge made this estimate in outlining a program in which the baseball clubs will play eight regular championship games to raise funds for the families of the men in the nation's armed forces. The first of these war effort games is set for May 23 when the New York Yankees engage Washington in the nation's capital, and Boston's slugging Red Sox play host to Philadelphia.

Wichita Team To Try Our Climate

George Milstead, manager, and Neal Rabe, franchise owner, will team as a battery combination here at 3 p. m. today when the Wichita Falls Spudders, looking for a happier home, begin a "guinea pig" series to determine if West Texas-New Mexico league baseball is to come back to Big Spring.

Rabe, displeased with the way things have been going at Wichita to the point he is grazing for greener pastures, has located his next six "home" games here, opening this afternoon against Berger, and then squaring off with Lamesa and

Jimmy Gauntt Wins PGA By Eight Strokes

TEXARKANA, Ark., May 9 (AP)—Four under par and coasting at the finish, Jimmy Gauntt, 28-year-old Longview professional, won the Texas PGA open golf tournament here today with a 585 total for 72 holes that was eight strokes in front of the field.

Never in danger—in fact so well off on the final nine holes that he knew he could shoot a 30 on the 47th and still win the meet by one stroke—the meticulous pro was far too good for the field.

He had rounds of 72-70-70-70 over the pine-studded par 36-37-73 Arkansas country club course and could have been better. Out in par on the last round, he relaxed and scored a 60 on the last nine when it was apparent his lead was safe.

Only twice in 72 holes did Gauntt three-putt a green. And that was exactly what gave him his lead. The others were struggling with their putters. Eight strokes behind Gauntt was Raymond Gafford, Fort Worth professional, with closing rounds of 74-77 for the last 36 holes.

Two amateurs, 16-year-old Tyrrell Garth, Jr., of Beaumont, and Earl Stewart, Jr., of Dallas, former national intercollegiate champion, were tied for third with 297 totals, while David (Spec) Goldman, Dallas city amateur champion, was alone at fifth place with a 320 total.

Milton Demaret of Houston finished at a flat 300 while Sam Schneider of Corpus Christi; Elwin Hardwick of Dallas and Barney Clark of Houston wound up deadlocked at 301.

Gauntt said he planned to play in the national PGA meet at Atlantic City, N. J., starting May 23. Tomorrow the Texas cup matches, the annual battle between the pros and the amateurs that now stands tied at four victories apiece and one tie, will be played. The twelve low pros will play a picked team of amateurs.

which Corpus Christi dropped by default when each team held two matches.

Alsab Makes Comeback At Pimlico

Shut Out In Fifth As 2nd Place Tied

PIMLICO RACE TRACK, Baltimore, May 9.—Alsab came back today.

With the same thunder in his legs and iron in his heart that carried him to greatness a year ago, the little colt roared down Pimlico's stretch to win the classic Freshness stakes and end the funk on him all this year.

He did it the hard way, too, as a record crowd of 46,000 fans roared him on. He came from far back and on the outside to run over eight of the nine other horses in the field in the last quarter mile and finish on top by a length.

Ben Whitaker's Requested from Texas and Warren Wright's Sun Again, the big youngster who was a doubtful starter until two hours before post-time, betted it out for second honors.

They hit the tape so close, first neck and neck, then head and head and finally nose and nose on the wire that not even the camera could split them and they finished in a dead heat. A length back of them came Maryland's Pride, R. Sterling Clark's Colchis.

Had a length back of him was last week's Kentucky Derby hero — Shut Out.

Fair Call, owned by Mrs. Barclay Douglas, of Long Island, was sixth; Emerson F. Woodward's Valdina Orphan, the long-legged Texan who ran third in the Derby, was seventh; Mrs. Whitney's "Glamor Boy," Devil Driver, stopped to be better than Shut Out, supposed to be a long shot, was eighth; William Woodward's Apache was a tired ninth after cutting out the pace for three-quarters of a mile, and the English-bred Domingo, from the barn of movie-man Louis B. Mayer, chased all the others home.

Although he was second to Shut Out a week ago, even the bettors knew Alsab was hot today. They backed him down to the favorite's slot at $2.05 to $1 and let the Whitney double-threat ride at $2.40 to $1.

In picking up $58,175 for his first victory this year "The Sab" boosted his all-time earnings to $182,075.

Alsab will go to Belmont Park Tuesday to run in the Withers and Belmont stakes.

The dead-heat for second turned up some peculiar odds in the place and show pools, although Alsab was $2.70 in the second "hole" and $2.40 in third. Requested was $6.10 for place and $5.70 for show and Sun Again was $4.00 and $5.10.

Monday Games Offer Indication Of Power In Softball League

Just which way the wind may blow this season is to be decided in games Monday evening as the softball league moves into its second week of activity.

The W. O. W. team, with pick of the Mexican crop of ball players, tangles with the none too tender ABC club, and the winner certainly will be stamped as one of the league favorites. In the second game, the Lions meet Radford, victims of a first round manhandling at the hands of the Big Spring State hospital. This is a double test—first to see if the Lions can muster a full team, and then if they can muster anything like the power the hospital attendants unleashed. In short, the game will show how the Lions stand.

Benton Pitches Tigers To Win

DETROIT, May 9 (AP)—Hard luck Al Benton, top 1941 Detroit Tiger pitcher who had gone with-out a victory in five starts, today notched his first triumph by blanking the Cleveland Indians, 1 to 0, in an abbreviated game.

The contest was called in the Detroit half of the sixth because of weather.

In extending Detroit's home winning streak to eight games, Benton yielded two hits, both by Manager Lou Doudreau of the Indians. His mates gathered seven of the veteran Mel Harder, who was charged with his second defeat against two victories, Jimmy Bloodworth singled home the lone marker in the fifth.

The defeat, fifth in succession since Cleveland's 16-game winning streak was broken, dropped the Tribe back into a tie for second place in the American league with the Boston Red Sox. Detroit still holds fourth place.

CHICKS S. BROWNS 1

ST. LOUIS, May 9 (AP)—The desperate Chicago White Sox broke a six-game losing streak and almost broke Johnny Niggeling's heart as they made three hits, all in the first inning, yield a 3 to 1 victory over the St. Louis Browns today.

Reds Finally Beat Cards

CINCINNATI, May 9 (AP)—Johnny Vander Meer, pitching nine innings without issuing a walk for the first time in his career, gave the Cincinnati Indians their first 1942 victory over the pounding St. Louis Cardinals today. The score was 5 to 2.

The big southpaw, whose habit it is to deal out four to eight passes a game, had the ball clipping the corners perfectly and his whistling curves put seven out on strikes. His only mistake was a chest-high, fast one to Walker Cooper, St. Louis catcher, in the second inning. The ball disappeared behind the centerfield wall.

Cooper also scored the Cards' other run in the seventh by doubling and riding home on Creepy Creep's single.

The Cards threatened to score a few more runs that inning, but a diving catch of Jimmy Brown's fly by Rookis Max Marshall, playing his first game with the Reds, ended it.

CUBS 3, PIRATES 1

CHICAGO, May 9 (AP)—Bill Lee, veteran righthander, won his fourth game of the season today by limiting the Pittsburgh Pirates to six hits while the Chicago Cubs fashioned a 3 to 1 victory over the second place Bucs.

BRAVES 6, PHIS 3

BOSTON, May 9 (AP)—The Boston Braves showed some power at the plate today for their hard-luck Jim Tobin and he coasted to his fourth victory, 6 to 2, by setting down the Philadelphia Phis with six hits.

AMERICAN MOTHERS—A brave new distinction marks the American Mothers of 1942 . . . it's a time of war, when country calls stronger than do the ties of home . . . And here is a Howard county group of mothers who, along with the millions of others in the nation, valiantly have sent their boys to the armed forces . . . They are typical American Mothers, except that they may have sacrificed more than some, in that they have three, four and even five sons wearing the uniforms of Uncle Sam . . . boys who may be fighting on the fronts, or laboring in the camps today, but who nevertheless are thinking of Mother.

More than any other mother in the Big Spring area, Mrs. D. A. Arnold, route No. 1, has a real stake in the war. Five of the sons born to Mr. and Mrs. Arnold are in service. The boys are Charles C. Arnold, troop B, 164th Sq., Ft. Bliss; Edwin L. Arnold, troop C, QM Sq., Ft. Bliss; Daniel G. Arnold, 160th Inf., Co. K, Los Angeles, Calif.; Corp Abner D. Arnold, QMC detachment, Camp Hulen, Texas; and Corp. Robert C. Arnold, 388th School Sq., Goodfellow Field, San Angelo. — (Photo by Perry)

Four sons of Mrs. E. M. White, 106 W. 23rd street, are actually in the service of the U.S. Army, and a fifth is trying to get back in. Mrs. White's oldest son, Manson George White, 27, has applied for reenlistment at Austin. Others in the service are Sergeant Leo A. White, 26, Honolulu; Teddy White, 24, Kelly Field (who gave up a sergeant's rank to transfer to the air corps); Staff Sgt. Carl E. White, St. Louis; Charles, La.; and Billy J. White, 19, Fort Sill, Okla. The boys have had from three to eight years experience soldiering for their country. (Photo by Bradshaw)

Mrs. A. E. Truss, above, is the mother of three sons who are all serving their country in the army. Just recently, these boys met here for a hurried reunion, the first in three years, before returning to their posts. James R. "Dick" Piper is stationed at Baltimore, Md., and First Sgt. Albert B. Piper is located at Goodfellow Field, San Angelo; Sgt. Doyle C. Piper is in the air corps gunnery school at Hurlington. (Photo by Kelsey)

Three sons of Mrs. Edith Lavell, above, are serving with the armed forces. Sgt. E. H. Lavell, 29 years old, has been in the army for nearly 12 years and is stationed now at Shawnee, Okla. Private first class Russell Lavell, who is 25 years old, is now at Indio, Calif., and has been in the army for six years. Randall Lavell, who will be 22 in July, is serving in the radio communications division of the army at San Bernardino Air Depot, Calif. He joined the army in August. Another son, Alton, who will be 20 years old today, is teaching in the aircraft sheet metal school at the high school. (Photo by Kelsey)

Mrs. Irene O'Brien, 304 W. Third, above, has seen her three sons go to the service. Her oldest, Sgt. Jackson W. O'Brien, 31 years old, is stationed at Anchorage, Alaska. He has been in the army since 1929. Sgt. William Patrick O'Brien, 27, is now stationed at Camp Roberts, Calif. and has been an army man for seven years. George Louis, 21, left last Thursday volunteering for army service and was sent to Lubbock for induction. Mrs. O'Brien also has four other sons who are liable for service. (Photo by Kelsey)

Mrs. H. D. Mansur, above, has two sons in the army and one in the navy. Captain Cline L. Mansur, her oldest son, 27, is stationed at Luke Field, Phoenix, Ariz., and has been in the army since last August. Lt. Dr. Carl D. Mansur, 26, is stationed at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls. He has been in the army since January 1941. And just two weeks ago, A. Monroe Mansur, student at Baylor University, received his commission as ensign in the United States Naval Reserve. He is 31 years old.

Washington Daybook—
Pudding Just Minor
Use Of Tapioca

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — "Yum yum, tapioca pudding!"
But did you know that only a very small part of the tapioca we use to import from the Dutch East Indies went into tapioca pudding? Neither did I until a press release came in from the department of agriculture the other day. It told about a waxy corn with which the department was experimenting as a substitute for tapioca, and it referred to the industrial uses of tapioca.
That sent me on a tour of several smelly laboratories over at agriculture. Tapioca turned out to be a pretty interesting story.
To begin with, tapioca is a starchy substance extracted from the root stock of the cassava plant. The U. S. used to import 350,000,000 pounds a year, but statistics for the years 1933-37, the latest available, show that only from 25 to 41 million pounds were used for food products, which include thickening substances for soups, pie fillings and the like as well as tapioca pudding. Other uses were:
"Slitting" for textile—18 to 46 million pounds.
Adhesive such as on stamps and envelopes—56 to 92 million pounds.
Laundry starch—1,000,000 pounds at the most.
Paper manufacture—29 to 102 million pounds.
Wood products, veneer and plywood—56 to 81 million pounds.
Miscellaneous (in gunpowder and printer's ink, for example)—14 to 46 million pounds.

Agriculture's department men have been working on sweet potato and white potato starches, but they just don't make strong enough adhesives for many industrial uses. Very promising predictions have been made for waxy corn, however. This odd grain first came to light in 1908, when the Rev. J. M. W. Farnham, a missionary in China, sent some seeds back with this note: "A peculiar kind of corn. There are several colors, but they are said to be all the same variety. The corn is much more glutinous than other varieties, so far as I know, and may be found of some use, perhaps as porridge."
The stuff grows on a small ear, three or four inches long, and the kernels are about the size of popcorn. Inside the kernels look like candle wax, although much harder. Agriculture scientists fooled around with waxy corn until about 1916, mostly out of curiosity, but it was almost forgotten until 1936.
Then Dr. M. T. Jenkins began developing a waxy hybrid corn suitable for growing in our corn belt. He chose a variety known as Iowa Hybrid 909 to cross with the waxy corn. The crossing and back-crossing has been speeded up now that there's no more tapioca from the East Indies and there are about 100 bushels of seed on hand.
This seed will be used to grow more seed this year. The department believes, however, that there should be some grain for commercial use in 1943; enough for "necessary industrial uses" in 1944, and enough for food uses in 1945.

Saroyan Proves New Power: Star-Making

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Fragments and snippets of the life of William Saroyan, the Hollywood Reporter, are being put together in a new book, "For Sale, Hollywood's Killing Me. I'm a Writer, Bought a Lovely Home...near Brentwood, 3-4-acre. Studios don't appreciate my writing. I'll take loss and return where I come from...Make offer..."
These resume of the movie night club situation, contained in an ad in the same sheet: "Mocambo... Alone and Afraid..."
Or maybe all the glamour girls whose studio biographies say they don't like night clubs have decided they really don't...
Marion Eaton, Glenn Miller vocalist in "Orchestra Wife," was set on being a doctor but lacked learning money. Medicine lout a beautiful blonde to swing. Marjorie's sister to Betty Hutton, Paramount's jumping-jill. She says Betty's like that at home, too...
Paul Hurst was tending bar in "Clubhouse." He did it for a funny scene in "Topper Takes a Trip" and played six more in a row. "Get a butler, a detective, or a bartender to play," he said, "and you'd better hope you're bad in the part. It sticks." Actually, Paul is a poor hand at mixing two parts of this to one of that...
Hattie McDaniel reported for "George Washington Slept Here" after transacting a little private business with the city fathers. "My new house is a dandy," Hattie told Ann Sheridan, "but it wasn't my lucky number so I changed it." Hattie lived at 2201 S. Harvard. "That's bad," she said. "My number is seven. So I had 'em change it to 2203. That adds up to my number..."

Linda Darnell's eyeing the stage. "That dance George Murphy will feature on his Army camp tour is the 'Dippy Dopey.'"...With a few days off before starting "Casablanca," Humphrey Bogart planned a rest tuesday: "I'll sit around and watch my wife weed our Victory Garden..."
Wheels-within-wheels: William Saroyan's play, "Time of Your Life" set danver Gene Kelly off to his first Broadway success. Saroyan later came to see Gene in "Pal Joey" and they went out for a snack after the show. A young chorine from "Panama Hattie" looked them. Saroyan looked back. "Can you act?" he said. "How'd you like to be the leading lady in my new show?" Betsy Blair signed a contract for "The Beautiful People," clicked. Today Gene is in Hollywood opposite Judy Garland in "Me and My Gal." Saroyan is at the same studio writing and directing. Betsy Blair is here too. She's Mrs. Gene Kelly....

Man About Manhattan --
Too Many Gals Named
Peggy Woods, It Seems

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—Peggy Wood during her busy life has run across four other Peggy Woods. (Let it be firmly established that the star of "Blithe Spirit" came by her name at birth, and that it is not an adopted name merely because it looks well on the lighted marquee of theaters.)
The first "other" Peggy encountered was a night club singer, who took the name just because she liked it. The next "name-name" was a radio singer in Boston. The third, Miss Wood never met, but she read with interest in a Pittsburgh society column that "Peggy Wood, tall, graceful like a gladiola," had been a sought-after garden fete guest.
The last one Miss Wood recalls most vividly of all. A little old lady who sold stockings found her way backstage and after a profitable sale said wistfully, "I have a daughter I have not seen in 20 years and her name is Peggy Wood. I often wonder what became of her." The alarmed Miss Wood, before she found herself reclaimed as the long-lost offspring, quickly showed her the picture of her own mother which is always found on her dressing-room table.
The local air raid wardens who have post offices in their districts have run into a little problem that will have to be ironed out. There's a federal law that says a light has to be burning in government post offices at all times. During a recent blackout, every light in the district was doused except this one pale light in the P. O. As was his duty, the warden reported the light. The local defense council at once took up the question. But the post office people pointed to the federal law. Nobody at this moment knows who is going to back down, but something is going to have to be done. Either the blackouts will be a farce, or the law, in this one instance at least, will have to be amended.

Street conversation has taken a decided aerial twist, though often erroneously. In this eastern seaboard community it is a rare moment when one can not find at least one Army plane in the skies overhead. Most of the time you can see any number of planes on their practice maneuvers. People now stand on street corners and declare loudly, "That's a P-40," or "There goes a P-38," or "Look at that medium bomber"...Actually, they are almost always wrong. Most civilians in their new-found air-mindedness, still have a lot to learn in identifying ships.

SECRET ORDERS By ELEANOR ATTERBURY

Chapter 30
Whatever it was Kurt was trying to locate in his newly returned memory, it was lost again in the next few moments. Even as Stephanie realized that no danger seemed as terrifying with Kurt here, the motor subsided, silence fell swiftly over the boat.
"Something's stirring," Kurt murmured. "Lights ahead. Lots of them."
"Titan, maybe?" she whispered. He nodded. "Maybe."
Voices, then, on the deck just overhead.
"That ain't Miller's launch coming to starboard, sir."
Henri, cursing, snarling, "How do you know?"
"Cause I've seen them cutters before."
More footsteps, muttered curses above.
"Something's stirring, all right." A moment later Kurt added, "Got a coat, anything you could cover that porthole with for a moment?"
"Yes," she stripped off her jacket.
Kurt struck a match. "Here we are," as the frail flicker showed up the outlines of a small door. "But a good strong lock on this, too."
He burned up three folders of matches, broke one blade of his pocket knife, and still the lock held stubbornly. "If I could get some leverage..."
It gave then. Kurt eased the door open carefully, noiselessly. Someone came down the companionway, thrust open the door opposite the one Kurt closed instantly. More footsteps. Then, voices.
"Stop snivelling and do as I say," Henri's voice, cold and tight with fury. "Get up speed—quick."
"We still got time to beat it, boss. Put her around into the next cove until we get time to get ashore."
"We're finishing this job. Understand?"
"Not me, boss. I—"
The sound of a blow, a groan, the dull thud of a body hitting the thin wall panel behind which Stephanie and Kurt crouched, listening.
Silence, again, until the first explosion of a motor turning over. Then, with steady rhythm, faster and faster as the boat began moving through the water.
Her heart in her throat, Stephanie watched him ease open the narrow door, inch by inch. Over his shoulder she saw Henri absorbed in the jiggling needles on the dials set in the panel before him. Between the door and Henri's stooping figure, lay the inert body of the engineer.
Kurt slipped through the half open door, sprang across the narrow room, had Henri pinned to the floor.
In a matter of moments, they had Henri trussed neatly in ropes that, only a short while ago, had held them prisoners.
"Now we got to get that wheel turned," Kurt dashed up the short companionway, hesitated a moment as he reached the open deck.
"We're going to ram that boat!" Kurt shouted as he started down the deck. And that boat, Stephanie saw with cold horror, was moored to the familiar Titan pier. Transfixed as he tore open the door to the pilot house, Kurt's brief struggle with the surprised pilot looked like child's play.
Stephanie came to her senses in time to take the gun Kurt thrust toward her, and obey Kurt's abrupt command to—
"Back this fellow against the rail. Make him keep his hands up."
Then, while a whole lifetime of horrible suspense snailed by in the next few instants, the little boat responded, pulled out of its course, heeling sickly, shuddering.
"Everything under control," Kurt said. He took the gun from Stephanie's cold hand, locked the pilot in the engine room with Henri and the unconscious Hans. And stood where he could guard the door and the little Jap at the radio controls, too.
"You give the message, Stephanie," Kurt smiled. "I'll just man the gun department."
Sullenly, the operator handed her the microphone.
"Stephanie Merrill, speaking," her voice came clear and strong as over the rim of the instrument her eyes met Kurt's. "Captain Kurt Knudsen in control here now. Come and get us."
The answer came swiftly. "Coast Guard standing by."
And in another quarter of an hour, the "fishing boat" bobbed quietly at anchor beside the towering hull of the big freighter while Henri de la Pagerie and his strange crew were loaded unceremoniously into a police car.
"Nice work, folks," a tall man in plain clothes congratulated them. "We've been looking for that bird."
Guy Merrill, still white with shock, hugged Stephanie again. Then clasped Kurt's hand. "Can't thank you enough, sir, for what

Editorial --
Mother's Contribution

Amid the most distressing circumstances of our generation we pause today to pay an almost sacred tribute to our mothers. Sacred? Yes — for to what higher estate can woman rise than that of motherhood. To her is given the privilege of perpetuating in kind those whom God created in his own likeness. Thus, mothers stand on hallowed ground.
One has no regard for man so calloused that he stirs not at mention of his mother's love or memory. Mother — if she can truly wear the badge of honor — has earned her place, not only in suffering, but in service. No tribute was ever paid her but what she purchased, a hundred fold over in love, and tears and prayers.
The hands that have rocked the American cradle have brought us to this hour of supreme crisis in good character and courage. We have learned to cherish the American way of life from having lived it under her care; we have learned to fear God and regard our fellows.

For these things we will fight and die. Mother's anxiety may be great in these hours, but surely it is outweighed by her pride. Surely she stands unselfishly to make, as Abraham Lincoln once said in an immortal letter to a bereaved mother who lost five sons in war, a "great sacrifice on the altar of liberty."
Certainly, this courage by mothers of the generation before us must and will be matched by ours. Let this spirit go on and on, and let none through shallow fear of troubled times rob them of the sacred responsibility of motherhood. Yes, let this spirit go on and on and on—

Guns Primed For USO Campaign On May 20

United Service Organizations executive committees, mapping plans for the second finance campaign for this institution during the emergency, Friday evening primed their guns for the opening salvo in the drive for May 20.

"Go Over the Top" will be the slogan for the drive, said Ben LaFever, chairman of Howard county, which has as its objective the raising of a $4,300 quota.

District drive chairmen have been set up in each rural school area and these will select their own committees. In Big Spring the business district and industrial sections will be divided between the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and ABC Clubs, and a corps of women workers under Mrs. Douglas Orme will canvass the residential areas.

Special districts will be covered by Larry LeBlanc, Coeden; Charles Vines, Texas and Pacific Railway; and Dr. C. A. Shaw, Big Spring State Hospital.

USO now is operating in 585 units over the nation and by the end of this year it is anticipated that there will be 940 in operation in cities where there are military camps and in points overseas where our soldiers are stationed.

USO, a cooperative arrangement for caring for the welfare and entertainment of our fighting men, has the unqualified endorsement of the President, of the under-secretaries of war and navy departments, and of those in charge of all armed services.

LaFever said that he hoped that "citizens of Howard county will do their part in this great national service and keep unbroken the record of Howard county and 'go over the top' in this drive."

Mother's Day Tributes Booked By KBST Today

Mother's day tributes, including one to the oldest Big Spring mother and the presentation of a medal to mother of four sons in the service, will be heard over KBST in a one-hour program starting at 1:30 p. m. today.

Mayor Grover C. Dunham will present a medal to Mrs. E. M. White in behalf of the National Emblem of Mother Society, recognizing her as the mother of a quartet of sons now serving the nation in the army.

By remote control, KBST will go into the home of Mother Zinn for an annual chat with one of the city's most lovable characters. At the studio, others on the program include the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, First Baptist pastor, and Mrs. George O'Brien, speakers, and Edith Gay, William Dawes, and Clarinda Mary Sanders, vocalists, and Patricia Selkirk, violinist.

Sociologist Talks Before HD Council

Importance of home demonstration council and club work during the war emergency was stressed by Helen Swift, sociologist for rural women's organizations, when the Howard County HD council met Saturday afternoon in the office of County Home Demonstration Agent Fontilla Johnson.

Other activities in the crowded business session included: A district convention report by Mrs. Ross Hill; announcement of national cotton week May 15-16 and a plea for all women to wear cotton dresses to club meetings; etc. An announcement by the marketing committee that quality eggs in green and white cartons were placed on sale Saturday.

Urging of clubs to send recipes to Mrs. G. R. Ferris, Coahoma, so the cook book can be completed; announcement of the Monday radio program (1:15 p. m.) over KBST with Fairview and Overton clubs as sponsors; appointment of an educational and expansion committee composed of Mrs. H. W. Musgrove, Mrs. Alvin Lay and Mrs. Robert Brown.

Battle

with Jutland as one of history's turning points, and whether the Japanese heretofore would remain out of the Coral sea as the German high seas fleet avoided the open North sea after 1918. It was widely agreed, however, that this fight marked the greatest setback in Japan's short naval history, hitherto unmarred by major defeat.

United States army airmen returning to an advanced base after joining their carrier-based fellows and allied warships in the last stages of the battle described Japanese warships as wheeling and turning in desperation that left long, curling wakes, like the thrashing of a wounded snake as they sought to dodge the blows from above and on the surface.

Authorities at these bases expressed confidence that for the time being the threat of invasion for Australia, New Caledonia (where American troops stand guard) or the southern coast of New Guinea was ended. But they warned against over-optimism and insisted the situation still was serious.

It still was not clear whether the Japanese intent had been to strike at Australia's populous east coast or at island groups farther east, where Japanese bases could cut the all-important America-Australia supply lines.

Airmen returning from the fight expressed confidence that this was not a repetition of the tragic story of Macassar Straits and the Java Sea, combats in which the Japanese, though heavily punished in the early stages, nevertheless continued to drive ahead to their objectives.

This time they were forced to retire, temporarily at least. American-Australian losses, in detail, still were undisclosed because, MacArthur said, the figures "would reveal to him (the enemy) information of value." Australian observers said first announcement of United States losses probably would come from Washington.

But the catalogue of punishment dealt the enemy was set forth in detail: One aircraft carrier, one heavy cruiser, one light cruiser, two destroyers, four gunboats, two transports or cargo vessels sunk; one aircraft carrier, one heavy cruiser, one light cruiser, one seaplane tender, two transports or cargo vessels damaged.

A statement by Prime Minister Curtin gave a hopeful but still sober picture of Australia's situation. The allied forces, he said, "This week stood between Australia and stark tragedy." Yesterday, when the outcome of the roaring battle off Australia's coasts seemed still to hang in the balance, he had said: "If it should go advantageously we shall have cause for great gratitude."

Today he said "We can be proud of what has been done, and more than that we can be grateful."

General MacArthur had bitter scorn for Tokyo tales of allied losses. "The enemy version of the battle off the northeast coast of Australia is entirely fictional and has no semblance of a true communique of fact," said the supreme commander's second war bulletin of the day. The first had announced the Japanese repulse.

"It must be regarded in the light of propaganda rather than a military report. His claims of damage inflicted on our forces are fantastic. "Our losses compared with his own are relatively light. The only reason they have not been published at the present time is because they would reveal to him information of value."

The Tokyo tally of alleged allied losses to which this castigation referred follows: Sunk: One battleship of the California class, one aircraft carrier of the Saratoga class and another of the Yorktown class and a destroyer.

Damaged: a British battleship of the Warspite class (a claim which the London admiralty promptly denied); a cruiser of the Australian Canberra class; "a cruiser of an unidentified type (damaged) by a head-on crash by a torpedo plane."

Shot down: eighty-nine planes. The Tokyo press continued to publish claims of victory but the tone was less jubilant than yesterday.

Bond Ballots Are Prepared

Ballots are ready for absentee balloting in the city's re-vote of a $70,000 bond issue, approved by a tremendous 59-1 ratio weeks ago. It was announced Saturday.

Absentee voting will continue through Saturday.

The issue is for the same bonds approved in the April 23rd balloting when issues totaling $100,000 were approved overwhelmingly. However, the $70,000 portion voted for water and sewer improvements must be split into $30,000 for water and $40,000 for sewer improvements to remove a legal flaw and satisfy objections of attorneys for the purchasing company, Columbia Securities Corp.

Columbia's purchase agreement still holds good and $30,000 voted in April for land purchase will be cleared soon. By holding to the same purchase contract, the city commission has saved as said that it will issue only $40,000 for the water and sewer bonds together when re-voted as separate units.

Interest High In Barn Dance

Big Spring and Howard county folks—combining their patriotism with fun—will frolic in an old time barn dance Tuesday evening at the county warehouse in an event that is due to be as big as it is extraordinary.

Entire proceeds of the dance will go to company E, 34th Texas Defense Guard, commanded by Capt. Cliff D. Wiley, for use in purchase of equipment and supplies. The American Legion and auxiliary posts are serving as sponsors.

Ticket sales have indicated several hundred will be present for the event, which gets under way at 9 p. m. and goes until 4:30 a. m. Music is being donated by Hoyle Nix and his Center Point Serenaders, a lively bunch of rug-cutters well known for years of musical activity in this area.

For those who famish and hunger, the Texas Defense Guard is operating concessions (with nickel soda pop, its officers hope) and hot dogs. To insure against loss of tires, etc., the unit is posting guard around the place during the hours that the dance is in operation.

Here And There

Corp. Robert L. Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Adams of Coahoma, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant. It was announced this week by the army air base at Williams Field, Arizona. He has been in the army since January, 1941, when he enlisted at Ft. Bliss. Later he served at Randolph Field and Chanute Field.

Two Big Spring men have been stationed at the army air force bombardment base at Will Rogers Field, Oklahoma City. Pvt. William A. Ringener, son of Walter J. Ringener, entered the army in April this year, leaving employment with the Sno-White Creamery.

Pvt. Lee A. Putnam, son of A. L. Putnam of Tulsa and formerly of Big Spring, is also stationed there. Putnam worked for the soil conservation service here before entering the service in April.

Worthy of mention on Mother's Day is Mrs. J. O. Hardin of Martin county but a former Big Spring resident, who has four sons in the service of the country.

Private Waymon Hardin, 23, is at Fort Sill, Okla., and has been in the army for 15 months. Billie Hardin, 20 years old, who is in his third year at Howard Payne college, just recently signed with the naval reserve officers training school being held in connection with college work. Otis, 19 years old, is stationed with the navy at Treasure Island, Calif., and has been in the navy for 18 months. With him is his brother, Earl, 18 years old, who joined the navy at the same time.

Wednesday night at 8 o'clock the last of a five week course for auxiliary firemen and air raid wardens will be held at the city hall. All members are urged to attend this last session.

Billy Pitts, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Fievelien, who is a student at Austin, El Paso, received two first places in the literary events contest held at the University of Texas this weekend. Billy, who has visited here several times, placed first in Class A and first place in the boys declamation, high school division, of the literary contests.

Among many other Rotary clubs contributing to the relief of storm-ravaged Crowell was the Big Spring organization, which sent $50 to the relief of unfortunate in that town.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Pearson of Monahans were to fly here Sunday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Henley.

Eastern Autoists Get Three Gallons Gasoline Weekly

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The office of price administration announced today that motorists whose automobiles use in classes as "non-essential" would be allowed three gallons of gasoline a week under the rationing plan beginning May 15 in eastern seaboard states. The decision to make three gallons the basic rationing unit was reached, OPA said, on the basis of supply figures furnished by Petroleum Coordinator Ickes.

VFW Speaker To Expose Propaganda

Propaganda invented to divide and conquer the American people from within—the very brand that is now being aired—will be exposed in a radio talk over KBST Monday at 7:45 p. m. by N. C. Dalton, representing the local VFW post.

In announcing the talk by Dalton, who served with the 12th engineers in the first World War, Commander Brown said that "we will repeat some of their (axis) sensational lies so our people will be able to recognize these fabrications when they hear them from other sources."

Many of these fit right in with current developments, although the talk, one in a series of "Speak up for Democracy" addresses prepared several weeks ago.
