Japanese Seek To Remove Possible Allied Air Bases

China's grim battle to stave off Japanese conquest of Chekiang province on the China east coast, springboard for a potential allied offensive against Japan...

Chinese headquarters acknowledged that Japanese troops, estimated at 100,000, had advanced within two miles of the ancient walled city of Kinhuwa...

Chinese dispatches said the Japanese assault on Kinhuwa had been thrown back with heavy casualties, but acknowledged that "the situation is still very grave and the coming week will witness even fiercer battles."

Official Chungking dispatches said that the Japanese had lost 3,000 men in vain attempts to storm Kinhuwa from three sides and that Chinese troops had captured Wulpa, two miles south of Kinhuwa.

For the moment, at least, the Chinese appeared to be holding fast despite handicaps. Once again, a Chinese spokesman indicated that Japanese aerial superiority was playing havoc with Chinese defenses...

Domel asserted that all retreat had been cut off, that remnants of three Chinese divisions had been crushed east of Kinhuwa and that other Chinese troops attempting to flee were destroyed six miles south of the city.

The news agency said all bridges, roads and the railroad west of Kinhuwa had been destroyed by the Chinese.

Chinese dispatches said the enemy was preparing another campaign, perhaps even bigger in scope, in Fukien province which borders Chekiang to the south. Japanese troop transports and warships were reported massing around the island of Formosa...

In the battle for Australia, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced that Allied bombers blasted their way through Japanese interception squadrons to pound anew at enemy airdromes at Rabaul, New Britain, and Lae, New Guinea.

Rough Kharkov Fight Goes On

Adolf Hitler's mechanized armies are running into jolting counter blows in an attempt to flank the Russians in the fifteen-day-old battle of Kharkov, soviet headquarters said today...

The Russians declared they had repulsed a violent German surprise attack led by 150 tanks in the Izum-Barvenkova sector, 80 miles south of Kharkov, while Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's main armies pressed on toward Kharkov itself.

Dispatches to Red Star, soviet army newspaper, said Russian shock troops had broken a line of German pill-boxes and trenches before Kharkov in attacks with hand grenades and bayonets.

Red Star said the Germans now were attempting to fight a new series of natural defense positions to check the onslaught.

Sadler Will Ask Larger Oil Figure

Many Firms Tell Need Of More Crude In June

AUSTIN, May 26 (AP)—Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler asserted at a statewide oil proration hearing today he was preparing to ask the office of petroleum coordination to increase its recommendation of 1,058,000 barrels daily of petroleum liquids for Texas in June.

Sadler spoke as purchasing companies made sworn statements of firm demand for approximately 1,416,094 barrels of crude.

The nomination was 347,494 barrels in excess of the OPC certification and about 41,600 barrels above average daily allowable for Texas' 96,000-odd wells in the week ended Saturday.

Sadler and other commissioners questioned purchasers and operators at length concerning the June nominations and Sadler declared the OPC estimate did not give Texas enough oil to carry on the war effort.

Nominations filed prior to the statewide hearing totalled 1,393,163 barrels but the intentions to purchase grew as some operators, refiners and others explained their additional needed for crude.

H. B. Nichols of Tyler told the commission East Texas field purchasers had indicated they would want more crude than stipulated in the nominations. He urged that the giant reservoir be allowed to purchase at least 20 days next month.

The largest boost in nominations came from the Gulf Oil Corporation whose spokesman declared it needed 23,500 barrels more than originally sought from East Texas.

Henderson Coug of the Three Rivers Refinery sought an increased allowable for the White Creek and East White Creek fields which he said needed more oil to supply asphalt, diesel fuel and lubes for military needs.

At Recife the rescue ship Rio Iguaçu, with survivors from an unidentified ship, variously reported to number from 92 to 96, was expected almost hourly.

Authorities were unable to confirm axis broadcasts that the survivors were from a United States battleship of the Maryland class which the Italians have claimed was sunk by one of their submarines.

The Brazilian ship attacked was the 5,052-ton Commandante Lyra, formerly the Southland of United States registry, which an official announcement last night said was torpedoed 180 miles off the northeast coast on May 18. The ship was towed to port by a United States patrol vessel.

Six Brazilian ships totaling 22,812 tons have been sunk by axis torpedoes since Brazil broke off relations with Germany, Italy and Japan.

Pushing defense plans, Air Minister Joaquim Salgado, Jr., has returned from Recife where he inspected air bases on Brazil's exposed eastern bulge. Recife police arrested 10 Germans and seized a variety of equipment in a raid on an alleged spy ring headed by Hans Sievert, manager of an importing firm.

Capt. Severino Statero of the torpedoed Commandante Lyra, in an interview at Fortaleza charged that the attack on his ship was "the result of fifth column activity."

Adding that the submarine fired on his vessel after torpedoing it, he said:

"The enemy not only knows the route of our vessels, but even has information of the cargo aboard and where it is loaded. I am certain of this because the submarine fired incendiary shells at the point below the bridge where we were carrying a quantity of explosives, instead of firing at the hull in an attempt to sink the vessel."

Vichy Allows Nazi Sailors To 'Study' French Warships

Italy Squeezes Vichy France For Nice, Corsica

LONDON, May 26 (AP)—An axis squeeze play to get the French fleet or grab French territory, or both, was suggested today in parallel reports that Italy has demanded title to Nice and Corsica and that Pierre Laval has consented to the training of German seamen at French naval bases on the characteristics of French warships.

Comparison of the various reports brought out the outlines of a situation in which Germany and Italy each was using the seeds of the other to seek her own ends, with the Vichy French government in the middle, formally trying to play off one master against the other.

The Germans were portrayed as using the Italian territorial demands as a threat to force Vichy to give up the French fleet peacefully.

The Italians were described as seeking to bolster their morale by taking a slice of French territory and at the same time using this maneuver as a pretext to keep at home 300,000 Italian soldiers that the Germans would like to have sent to the Russian front.

Pierre Laval, the Vichy chief of government and the man on the spot from all angles, was reported by diplomatic observers to have offered to negotiate the Italian demands, with a disarming offer to discuss Tunisia. The Italians have wanted Tunisia since before the World War, but their new demands were reported to deal with Nice and Corsica, so that injection of Tunisia into the discussion would further complicate and possibly delay matters.

Informed sources in London who have underground connections, said that in dealing with Germany, on the other hand,

Perhaps It's Symbolic— Marshal Pétain (left), French chief of state, seems to wear an attitude of "what can I do about it?" while Pierre Laval, collaborationist chief of government, perches a direction. The occasion was a meeting of the council of ministers in Vichy.

Laval had consented to the training of a considerable number of German seamen at French naval yards and stations to familiarize them with French warships. Possibly less than the

Laval Tries To Buy Off Masters Little At Time

Germany want, this still would serve as a placatory move. These sources said virtually all major units of the French fleet at the Toulon naval base had been drained of oil and did not have enough "to reach Algeria in an emergency."

Meanwhile, Admiral Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham, who has just left his post as commander of Britain's Mediterranean fleet to head the British admiralty delegation in Washington, said here that it would be "very nasty" for the Allies if the French naval forces at Toulon were turned over to the axis.

Of the French naval vessels interned at Alexandria, he said they were "entirely pro-Vichy" when he left there recently.

However, the admiral promised "complete victory" for the Allies in the Mediterranean once Britain and the United States meet the axis' air and surface fleets on terms of equality.

Dispatches from Bern yesterday said both Germany and Italy appeared cooling fast toward Laval, collaborationist chief of the Vichy government. Berlin writers spoke of "the stagnation" in German-French relations.

One of the sources in London said: "There are indications Hitler is planning a coup d'etat to seize the fleet at Toulon suddenly, possibly through the use of fifth columnists in cooperation with a 15-borne troops, and then man it with German sailors."

US Destroyer Torpedoed In Caribbean Sea

ST. LUCIA, British West Indies, May 26 (AP)—A torpedo fired from within the territorial waters of the French island of Martinique damaged the United States destroyer Blakeley today, but the warship reached Fort De France under her own power.

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The Navy announced today that the World War destroyer Blakeley had been damaged by an enemy torpedo in the Caribbean sea, but had reached port with ten members of her crew reported missing and six injured.

The announcement came in the Navy's communique No. 81. The Blakeley was the 13th naval vessel announced as sunk or damaged from all causes and the first combatant ship reported attacked in the Caribbean.

The text of the communique: "Caribbean area: '1. The USS Blakeley, a World War destroyer, has been damaged by a torpedo from an enemy submarine in the Caribbean Sea. '2. The Blakeley has reached port with 10 members of her crew reported as missing and six injured. The injured men have been hospitalized and next to kin of both injured and missing are being notified as information is received in the Navy Department."

The Premier Oil Refining company through Clarence Lohmeyer of Fort Worth said it had firm demand from the Ranger field, and that gasoline produced was being used locally.

The Yates field in West Texas sought an additional 4,000 barrels of crude and smaller allowable boosts were sought for Coleman, Eastland, Palo Pinto and Stephens counties.

Sadler urged oil men to work cooperatively in avoiding pipeline proration.

"This is our biggest problem in Washington," he asserted. "Unless you decide you don't want pipeline proration and work together to prevent it you might as well go to the bank, renounce your obligations and get a defense job."

GORBEL TO MIDLAND MIDLAND, May 26 (AP)—Maj. Arthur J. (Art) Gorbel, holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross and winner of the Dole trophy for the first flight across the Pacific to Hawaii, reported today as a member of the Midland Army flying school.

was granted, Dr. Brinkley listed but did not formally admit debts of $1,118,064.50 and assets of $316,800.

The surgeon whose license to practice medicine was revoked by the state of Kansas, had recounted some of his enterprises as:

Farming operations conducted at a loss in North Carolina; lumber business at Del Rio; ownership of interest in a Texas loan company and in all leases; interest in Arizona gold mining ventures; a dabbling in advertising with aircraft organizations; stockholding in an international advertising agency.

His latest venture into politics was in Texas, where he informally announced for the U.S. senate following the death of Morris Sheppard. He withdrew, however, before beginning an active campaign.

Solons Afraid Of Soldier Pay Vote

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Fearful of the outcome of a record vote on whether to establish a $50 monthly minimum pay base for the armed forces, house proponents of a $42 floor cast about today for some means of averting a roll-call when the bill comes up tomorrow.

They conceded privately that it would be difficult to retain the $42 recommended by a senate-house conference committee if the issue were put squarely to a vote, which Representative Rankin (D-Miss.) said he would demand.

It was Rankin who proposed the amendment overwhelmingly adopted by the house May 18 to increase the base pay of privates and apprentice seamen to $50. The senate had voted the $42 figure and this was accepted by the house military committee. The present pay is $21 for the first four months service, $30 for the next eight, and $40 monthly after one year.

"It would be political suicide, to vote against raising it to $50," said one military committee member who said he favored the $42 proposal. "If we can avoid a roll-call vote, and there may be ways to do it, there will be no difficulty in retaining the $42, but there's not a chance to do it on a record vote."

Denies Murder NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Dark-haired Madeline Webb, fighting for her life at her General Sessions trial for first degree murder, denied from the witness stand today that she had "lured" Mrs. Susan Flora Reich to her death by strangulation at the Hotel Button last March as the state has charged she did.

Their purpose is to confer with the British in talks believed designed to coordinate strategy for a master blow against Germany. Within two hours after stepping from a train that brought them here yesterday from the landing place of a plane which flew them across the Atlantic, Arnold was arranging meetings with the chiefs of Britain's fighting forces.

He assumed personal charge of United States air operation plans, taking over a prepared office in American military headquarters. His aides started immediately to check details of the United States air preparation thus far.

The typical unofficial British re-assertion was that the mission forecast shadowed a supreme air offensive against the axis in Europe. His arrival coincided with authoritative reports of such preparations and with growing clamor for more direct action against Hitler.

UNLIKE 1918: America's 1942 Wheat Crop Too Large

CHICAGO, May 26 (AP)—With reapers ready to go to work in southwestern wheat fields in a few days, grain men said today the first U. S. wartime harvest since 1918 promised to bring in the nation's most valuable crop since the boom period more than a decade ago, except for that of 1937.

From a marketing standpoint, however, whirling harvesting machines will mean the biggest headache the grain trades has had for some time since there is less storage room than ever before because of a carryover supply almost big enough to last a year. An embargo on shipments to market for storage already is in force.

This is the first time in grain trade history that such a step has been taken so soon. Harvesting normally begins the last week of May in early fields in Texas and Oklahoma, reaching a peak late in June as reapers move northward.

The 1942 crop's value, though high, is largely artificial because prices are supported by government action. If the nation's new wheat crop, now estimated at about 625,000,000 bushels of winter sown grain, not counting spring plantings, represented a phase of the stepped-up agricultural goal, the impending harvest would be viewed with satisfaction. Ironically, however, what normally is considered a prime war asset is proving a liability this year.

Agricultural planners did not want such a crop. They tried to hold it down. But neither nature, caring kindly for the smallest acreage in years and nurturing to maturity thousands of acres of so-called volunteer wheat sprouted from scattered seed in last year's fields, crossed them up.

Death Ends Dr. Brinkley's Tempestuous Career

SAN ANTONIO, May 26 (AP)—Death today closed the turbulent medical, political and oratorical career of Dr. John Richardson Brinkley, 64, rejuvenation surgeon known popularly as "the goat gland doctor."

Dr. Brinkley died in his sleep at 3 a. m. of a heart ailment which followed the amputation of a leg in Kansas City several months ago. He had been under the care of physicians at Del Rio and San Antonio since his return to Texas.

Funeral services will be held at the Del Rio Methodist church tomorrow.

The former Milford, Kansas, surgeon who pioneered in medical broadcasting in 1923 and built up a fortune from rejuvenation operations advertised by his radio voice heard from Mexican shores into many of the states to the north, died not far from the rugged Rio Grande border country that he fled home.

Plagued through his entire life by litigation growing out of his practices and his manifold financial affairs, Dr. Brinkley was shielded from contact with any but his closest kin and friends through his last days.

Sex-rejuvenation and life-lengthening treatments alleged to have been offered through the mails by the colorful, goateed surgeon—three times candidate for governor of Kansas—last September brought a federal indictment against him in Little Rock.

Dr. Brinkley, who once owned three princely yachts, all of them named "Dr. Brinkley," was adjudged bankrupt in San Antonio last year. At a hearing before his creditors here he testified that he was shorn of his one-vest-for-tunes, but that he clung to life inurance policies valued at $350,900. Also, he testified, he had $175,513 in cash and bonds—a show-place at which thousands of tourists had worth of personal property insurance, which covered the luxurious estate on the outskirts of Del Rio filled with valuable imported furniture stretched their necks.

Dr. Brinkley came to Del Rio in 1923 and founded the Brinkley Hospital, which Mrs. Brinkley owned and operated. The first Brinkley hospital was founded and the first radio advertising started back in Milford, and it—according to testimony at the creditors' hearing—was financed with money Mrs. Brinkley had received from her parents.

Collapse of the fabulous Brinkley financial kingdom was admitted when he filed a voluntary petition here asking that he be adjudged bankrupt. When this petition

Drafting Of 18-Year-Olds Draws Opposition In Congress

'Flying Tiger' Says People Not Aware Of Gravity Of War

BEAUMONT, May 26 (AP)—Lynn A. (Tex) Hurst of Beaumont, a member of General Chennault's Flying Tigers, is disappointed at what he termed the "lack of war awareness" on the part of the people of this country.

Hurst, here to regain his health and visit his wife and parents, declared "there is still too much of a spirit of let-the-other-fellow-do-it. People talk of sugar rationing and the lack of tires and don't seem to be worried as long as somebody else is in there doing the fighting."

He praised the AVG corps, as well as the British at Rangoon and the Chinese at Kunming, asserting "they gave us the best they had."

Army Due To Request Such A Measure

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Strong bi-partisan opposition developed today against any move in congress to draft men in the 18-19 year age classes for military service.

Senator Hill of Alabama, the democratic whip, declared he would oppose any change of this nature in the selective service act—a change which the army was reported preparing to request.

Senator McNary of Oregon, the republican leader, predicted that any such proposal would be certain to arouse lengthy controversy in the senate, which once voted to draft 19 year olds but subsequently compromised with the house on 20 years, the present minimum.

Hill said that unless the war department presented some "strong and compelling reasons" why younger men should be brought into the service, he doubted that any good purpose would be served by interrupting their schooling or taking them out of essential jobs.

Meanwhile, the senate military affairs committee scheduled action today of enlisted men in all branches of the service.

The committee was expected to approve an amendment authorizing the classification of men with families into groups who would be inducted only after the rolls of those without dependents had been exhausted.

THE WAR TODAY: Threat To Sea Lines Is Allied Problem

This daily-feature, conducted by Dewitt Mackenzie, Wide World war analyst, is being written in his absence for a fortnight by Fred Vanderschmidt.

Arrival in London of both the chief of naval operations and the head of the U.S. Army air forces is not only a sign of planning for the all-out aerial offensive against continental Europe which will precede and accompany allied invasion. It also demonstrates allied determination to cope with the more urgent problem on the two great sea flanks to the continental front.

One of these flanks is the Norwegian-Arctic ocean route to Russia. The other is the Mediterranean. German air power grows more dangerous on both. Naval air forces, more than the British have got, are needed to meet the danger—particularly to the far north supply route to Murmansk, where for hundreds of miles the allied convoys are vulnerable to land-based bombers.

Only today the German high command announces a new air attack on a convoy somewhere between Iceland and North Cape, Norway.

There also is the continual threat in the north of the Nazi fleet units, from the super-dreadnaught Tirpitz, holed up now beneath the protecting cliffs of Trondheim, to the slippery cruiser Prinz Eugen. The British have battered Tirpitz desperately at these units with torpedo planes and other air weapons in their arsenal. They have caused damage, but they have fallen short of the knockout. The Prinz Eugen got from Norway to Kiel last week, hurt but afloat.

The weak spot in British naval air strength is believed by many to be lack of dive bombers. Dive bombers are the specialty of Rear admiral John H. Towers, who heads the new mission to London with Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold. These officers find already established in England the commander of U. S. naval forces in European waters, Admiral Harold R. Stark. They also can get the first-hand Mediterranean picture from Admiral Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham, until recently commander in chief of the British Medi-

Change Made On Induction Of Selectees

Henceforth, selectees leaving for the army will truly be leaving for the army, new regulations which take effect in Texas on July 10, indicate.

The new plan is a compromise between the present method of induction and the former method of pre-examination.

Selectees will report to examination stations where they will be inducted into the army if they qualify. Automatically, a two week's furlough is granted those accepted, so that they may return home at Army expense, to complete their business.

Those who wish to go into the army at the moment they are accepted will have that privilege.

But when the accepted selectees point back toward reception centers at the expiration of their two-week furlough, the public may be sure that they are "in the army now."

Expense of travel to and from the local board area and the reception center will be borne by the army.

The principal of using powder to propel shot was known in the fourteenth century.

Hours Extended For Issuance Of Driver Licenses

Hours for issuing drivers' licenses at the local examining office have been extended to provide a greater accommodation of the public, Perry Dawson, license examiner, announced today.

Any type license may be renewed any day of the business week between eight and five o'clock, except on Saturday's, when the office closes at noon.

New licenses may be obtained on Mondays and Thursdays between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. or on Saturday morning between eight and 12.

Those appearing for driving tests must furnish an automobile for the purpose, and Dawson emphasized that it must be in good mechanical condition; that is, it must have both headlights, a red tail light, good foot brakes, hand brake, good muffler, tight steering wheel, both license plates, rear-view mirror and windshield wiper.

Those undergoing examination for a license—and this includes all new drivers who have not had licenses and all commercial vehicle operators—must pass an eye

Von Roeder's Cotton, Fruit Outlook Good

C. N. Von Roeder, prominent cotton breeder, returned from Austin Tuesday where he had attended a special meeting of the state seed breeders association executive board.

Although he had not been at his place in the Knappa community in southern Borden county in several days, he said he felt sure that things were pointing toward another great crop year.

To avoid repetition of loss of about half of their seed production (they could have sold 10 times the total production), the Von Roeders are installing a big, ventilated seed house. Last year excess moisture caused half their seed to spoil.

Fruit crop prospects are perhaps the best they have ever known, said Von Roeder. While some of the trees on their 80-acre orchard have only half a crop, virtually every tree is going to make this year—something that has never happened before. Too, the half crop trees probably will make as much marketable fruit as in other years. The Von Roeders have mostly peach and plums but also have apricots, pears and cherries. Some early plums are ripening now.

WAAC Generalissimo Is Woman Of Accomplishment And Ability

By MARGARET KERNODLE
Wide World Feature Writer

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, generalissimo of the newly created Women's Auxiliary Army Corps, is a brave woman.

She comes from the land of the Alamo, otherwise known as deep-in-the-heart-of-Texas, where courage is taken for granted, and women are raised in the tradition of the pioneers.

In 1936 she and her husband, William Pettus Hobby, and Jesse Jones, now Secretary of Commerce, were injured in a burning plane wreck at Ferris, Tex. The pilot was killed.

But she kept right on flying—files home to Texas every time she gets a chance, which is seldom.

Mrs. Hobby came to Washington last August expecting to commute between the capital and her home in Houston. Her job as head of the Women's Interest Section in the War Department was supposed to be a part-time job, but her family has been lucky to see her even occasionally.

The family consists of her husband, World War governor of Texas, who signed the Texas women's suffrage bill; 19-year-old William, Jr., and 6-year-old Jessica. She and her husband are co-publishers of the Houston Post.

No Flutters
The men will be pleased to see the head of the Women's Army so pretty feminine yet not flutery, so peppy but not a peppy pot. Her dark brown eyes shine and her dark hair, rolled from her face in a chic coilure, shows just that interesting amount of gray. She's 37, about 5-foot-five and "weighs under 135."

Her comfortable clothes are that smart kind which indicate that any uniform she had anything to do with would be both smart and becoming. People who know her say she will wear tucks and darts in the right places and probably will encourage tailoring that's trim but not militarily masculine.

Business men approve of her already. They agree that her mind manages to budget details quickly into a definite pattern. She is one of those smart careerists who always seem to know the right people at the right time. That, perhaps, is her big secret for getting things done quickly.

Newspapermen who've worked with her say she's one of the hardest working folk they ever saw and that she has a knack for getting an equal amount of hard work out of other people.

Lawyer, Too
She was the first woman in Texas to be a member of a flood control board, where she proved as capable as she did in reorganizing the accounting system of her father. She is a member of the Texas bar, got her law degree from the University of Texas.

She wrote a textbook, "Mr. Chairman," about parliamentary procedure after she served as parliamentarian of the Texas House of Representatives. It is used in Texas and Louisiana schools. She's a bank director and a good public speaker.

She's had her turn as a "gold digger" getting funds for community chests, a symphony orchestra and Houston University, where working people get college courses.

Editor And Publisher
She is a director of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association and regularly attends conventions of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

She's a native of Killeen, a central Texas town, where her mother, Mrs. Emma Hoover Culp, lives now. Her father, the late L. W. Culp, was a member of the Texas Legislature.

She has enough energy to amaze you. Even her husband says she has so many ideas some of them are bound to be good.

The Hobby home in Houston is a big house surrounded by beautiful gardens and grounds. It is an exclusive residential section called River Oaks. In Washington Mrs. Hobby lives in an apartment hotel.

The new generalissimo has been such a deadly serious worker all her life that very few anecdotes have sprung up about her. They tell one tale about her, though, that goes like this:

She decided to run for the state Legislature. Her opponent was a home spun character smart enough to play on the fact that his rural voters spoke only simple language. He started a whispering campaign: "You don't want to vote for a woman like that. Why she's been a parliamentarian down in Austin."

"Sure 'nuff" came the answer. "I don't want a woman like that representing my wife and daughter."

She lost the election.

Miss Laneous Notes

By MARY WEALEY

Thoughts When We Should Be Working:
Funny thing. The folks that we feared talk the loudest about Americanism and who talked with so much feeling about "our boys" and "our country" are the first ones, nearly 100 per cent, to go up on rent since we are to have a bombardier school.

It's our private opinion that it isn't the soldiers' morale that the country ought to worry about but the civilians'. One soldier has more spirit, enthusiasm, and fortitude than you can find in a roomful of civilians. At least that's the way the soldiers talk!

General Stillwell's pertinent remarks about Burma seem to us like one of the few truthful things we've heard about this war yet. Everything he said was true and yet instead of making us feel depressed, like such bad news is supposed to do, it made us just want to do more. It's our opinion that a lot of people feel this way and could take it with the sugar coating off the bad war pills.

Looks like with tires to save, and no gasoline to burn, and not much money to spend, the great American public will have to learn all over again the joys of the family homestead. Our parents got along all right, staying home, it seems and they didn't even have a radio. Maybe mother and dad will get reacquainted with junior and sister now that they will all have to stay home.

On Trek Out Of Burma --

The Diet Was Rice, Rice, And More Rice

NEW DALE, May 26 (AP)—Twenty-five foot-weary American doctors, civilians and military men who marched out of Burma with Lieut.-Gen. Joseph H. Stilwell proved that tastes can differ even when your diet is mostly rice, rice, rice.

For 140 miles these Americans, part of a polyglot group of 104 smelting from Burma, legged it up hill and down jungle dale, through steaming rivers and among head-hunting Burmese to reach India.

Most of the time they were just a couple of jumps ahead of the Japanese. They rode trucks, rafts and jeeps for the first several hundred miles—until they had to abandon mechanical transport and start hiking.

Today, refreshed by solid sleep, they were scattering throughout India to eat and rest and pick up again the fighting job that brought them to the Orient.

Lieut.-Col. Frank Dorn of San Francisco, Stilwell's aide, who was the hikers' mess officer, fed the party of assorted nationalities. Besides the Americans and 19 Burmese nurses, there were Englishmen, Indians, Chinese and various racial intermixtures in the group.

"We divided into two groups very nicely," said Dorn. "One group of about 40, including the Burmese nurses, liked food highly spiced. Their food was cooked separately. Another group of about 60, including most of the Americans, didn't like so much spice so we had our food cooked without it."

"We often had to eat down on mats or make what we had stretch out but we always had as much rice as we needed.

"One day, after the group received a supply of food from an English party meeting up from India, we decided to cook a meal without rice.

"It was a good meal because a young English civil servant named T. A. Sharp brought us a whole string of supplies. But you should have heard the complaints because there was no rice.

"We served rice every day after that even though it was about all we had to eat in many days."

Dorn's job also was to buy chickens and other supplies from the natives. One they had the luck to get two pigs and once the bad luck not to get a cow.

"We tried to get the natives to sell us a cow," he related, "but they refused. They were Buddhists and wouldn't kill the animal.

"They finally agreed to catch a cow for us. Then we could kill it and give them a present and everything would be all right. They caught the cow but before we arrived to claim her they got tired of the whole business and turned her loose.

"We had plain rice for dinner."

Army And Navy Criticized For Not Conserving Rubber

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The senate defense investigating committee criticized the army and navy today for not paring their rubber requirements to the bone, asserting that if the production of synthetic did not come up to schedule the military forces "may find themselves without rubber at some future date."

In a 57-page report, the committee said: "National gasoline rationing on 'a sensible basis' and the requisitioning of tires must be given serious consideration to conserve 1,000,000 tons of rubber now on the wheels of motor vehicles.

There will be no new or reclaimed rubber at all for non-essential uses within the next three years. The best that could be expected from a successful synthetic program would be to supply military needs and essential civilian requirements, such as tires for car transporting defense workers.

Resources in this hemisphere offer little hope of aiding substantially to United Nations supplies of crude rubber, which Price Administrator Leon Henderson testified would be exhausted by May, 1943, even with the greatest possible curtailment of civilian uses.

Such space was devoted to the committee's investigation of the former tie-up between Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) and the German dye trust, I. G. Farbenindustrie. The committee said that Standard's agreements with I. G. Farben "seriously impeded the development of Buna-s (synthetic rubber) in this country. It added, on the other hand that Standard "was not backward in offering plans for large plants for raw materials and rubber to be built under government auspices for it and others."

Urging that the armed forces "exercise the same degree of care that is recommended to civilians to assure the conservation of rubber," the committee said its best available information indicated the Germany army "was built and has been rolling on less than 200,000 tons of rubber a year."

This comparison with the committee described as the "frenzied consumption" of 796,000 tons for all purposes in the United States in 1941. Declaring that 85 per cent of all driving had been found essential, the committee said that national gasoline rationing on a sensible basis must be considered in order to cut down the other 45 per cent.

Requisitioning of tires was not "a present necessity" the committee said, adding that such action might "become essential before long if shortages develop in specific areas where defense workers must drive comparatively long distances."

SAN ANTONIO, May 26 (AP)—A survey showed extensive damage today to crops and farm buildings in the wake of a tornado, accompanied by hail and heavy rainfall, that whipped through eastern Bexar and southwestern Guadalupe counties.

Girls Tumble Into Sawdust Pile And Are Suffocated

SOMERVILLE, Mass., May 26 (AP)—Two school girls playing on the roof of a woodworking plant tumbled 25 feet down a chute into a sawdust pile and suffocated yesterday, a searching party learned today with discovery of their bodies.

The girls, Barbara Cooper, 9, and Marilyn Roberto, 10, had been ordered off the roof by employees of the O'Connell and Lee, Inc., plant, but their fall apparently was not witnessed, Police Sergeant Leroy V. Pierce reported.

Dr. Vincent W. Sena said the girls apparently had been dead for hours before a searching party, organized when the girls failed to return home for supper, found them shortly after 1 a. m.

State Fair For '42 Cancelled

DALLAS, May 26 (AP)—A victory and fun festival for a week of the fall period during which the state fair of Texas ordinarily is held was considered today by the Victory Committee of Texas.

R. L. Thomas, committee chairman, said plans for such a festival depended upon whether the fair buildings and grounds were in use by the army or a government agency.

It was decided yesterday to call off the 1942 exposition because of the transportation situation.

Harry L. Seay, fair president, said "the railroad transportation problem is so acute that exhibitors will be unable to obtain cars to bring livestock and agricultural displays to the fair."

The fair grounds and buildings will be tendered to the government for any use it desires to make of them, Seay added.

CORPUS CHRISTI, May 26 (AP)—Cancellation of the 1942 Fort Aransas tarpon rodeo and deep sea roundup was announced today by Elmer Sowers, president of the Fort Aransas Boatmen's association.

"We feel that it would be unappreciative x x x to attempt to stage a fishing contest at this time," Sowers said.

Rossi Pitches A Veteran Ed Dudley Leads In PGA Parade

Masterful Game, Bombers Win 1-0

Eddie Rossi, short in size but long in baseball heart, pitched himself a 1-0 masterpiece over the Amarillo Gold Sox before a comparatively small but enthusiastically Ladies Night crowd here Monday evening.

Although he allowed six hits to only two by Thurman, Amarillo twirler, little Eddie clearly earned his triumph. The post-elder was cool as an air conditioned iceberg all the way—and eight spots only made him pitch the steeper.

Only two of the hits off him were bunched in one inning—the seventh, when it looked as if nothing could keep the Sox from counting. Ray, first up, singled and Thurman rapped another single to send Ray to second. Cato sacrificed nicely to advance both runners and set the stage.

But Eddie didn't pitch that way. He struck out Oley for out No. 2, and then forced Gardner to bound to Jordan at third. Jordan lost the ball momentarily, and while the fans stopped breathing, snatched it up for a burning throw to Savage. Bobbys stretch-

Shoots First Round In Six Below Par

ATLANTIC CITY, May 26 (AP)—With Ed Dudley, their president, leading majestically out in front, the members of the Professional Golfers Association went into the second and deciding half of their qualifying tournament at the Sea View Country Club today.

Big Ed, forty and slow moving but still possessing the form that once caused England's Henry Cotton to label him the "smoothest swinger in golf," shot a very fine 66 yesterday to lead all his young men at the end of the first 18. It was six strokes under par.

But the payoff 18 was scheduled today. The 31 low scorers who were to join defending Champion Vic Ghezzi in the match play starting tomorrow still had to win their places. Inasmuch as 29 players shot par or better yesterday, it looked like a 35 hole total of no higher than 145 would be needed.

Before Dudley came in near the last of the 101 entrants, the first day's leadership had been shared by three players at 67—Sammy Byrd, Harry Cooper and Corporal Jim Turney.

Willis Goggin had a 68. Byron Nelson, the tournament favorite; Gene Sarazen, playing in his 22nd P. G. A. championship; and Clarke Morris of Winston, Mo., each owned a 69. Ben Hogan, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Jimmie Thomson, Craig Wood, Leland Gibson and Bill Barbour were deadlocked at 70. There were seven more at 71 and eight at 72.

37 In Texas Qualify For Natl. Event

By The Associated Press

Twenty amateurs and seventeen professionals will go to Dallas June 5 and 6 for sectional qualifying rounds of the Male America golf tournament.

But while the amateurs led in numbers the pros topped the scoring yesterday in six local qualifying tournaments as the first step in Texas participation in the Male America program.

Sandy-haired Harvey Penick, Austin professional, posted one of the nation's lowest scores with a snappy 136—six under par.

Elioy Marti, Houston pro, was next with a one-under-par 141. Ralph Morgan, Tyler pro, and Philip George, Austin pro, tied for third with 143, and Dick Grout, Fort Worth pro, was next with 144.

Lynn Spitzer, former University of Texas player, led the amateurs with 146.

At only one of the local qualifying points did an amateur finish first. That was at Dallas where Jack Munger posted 147.

At Kilgore, Odessa, Fort Worth, Austin and Houston the leaders all were professionals.

The number of qualifying places to be decided at Dallas for the National tournament in Chicago June 15-21 will not be known by Texas Chairman Roy Munger before the end of the week but eight or ten are expected to be certified.

Here are the golfers who qualified at the six Texas points:

Jack Munger, Bob Giles, Bill Tucker and Mathew Roberts, amateurs; Dallas: Ralph Morgan, professional; Tyler: Bill Clark, professional; Gladewater: Jack Smith, professional; Marshall: Don Malarkey, professional; Kilgore: Shorty Hornbuckle and George Scott, professionals and O. Just A Matter Of A Few Complaints
GREAT FALLS, Mont., May 26 (AP)—The game warden, hunting for the fellow who killed a buck deer on a ranch, wants to file these charges:

(a) Hunting out of season; (b) trespassing on posted property; (c) shooting from the highway; (d) with the aid of a spotlight; (e) having no license and (f) no deer tags; and (g) wantonly wasting the game by abandoning his kill frightened by farm hands.

Exports Win Again, Tulsa Loses To Cats

By The Associated Press

The Beaumont Exporters entrenched themselves a little more securely as Texas league leaders last night when they clipped the San Antonio Missions 5-4 in a tenning contest, while the runnerup Tulsa Oilers were dropping a lopsided game to the Fort Worth Cats, 13-4.

The Exporters came from behind in the ninth to push over three runs and tallied the winning score in the tenth. The Padres, appearing at home, took an early lead with three runs in the second and made their final counter in the third.

The Dallas-Rebels invaded Oklahoma City and defeated the Indians 9-8, and the Houston Buffs lost 1-4 to the Sports at Shreveport.

The Oilers looked pretty dismal against the visiting Fort Worth Cats, who collected 15 hits off three Tulsa moundmen. Tulsa amassed 11 hits, but couldn't capitalize on them.

The Rebels can thank Wimpy Janaco for their victory over the Indians. Wimpy hit a homer in the first half of the ninth for the winning run. Dallas had an 8-2 lead in the fourth, but the Indians got five in the sixth inning and scored the tying marker in the seventh.

Al Williamson's seven-hit pitching performance and timely hitting gave the Sports a win over the Buffs. Houston scored its sole run in the fourth. Shreveport pushed over one in the fourth and three in the sixth.

Three Texans In Semi-Final Rounds Of Greenbelt Play
QUANAH, May 26 (AP)—A lone Oklahoman and three Texans had it out in the semi-finals of the Greenbelt golf tourney today.

The Oklahoman, H. C. Johnson of Altus, met C. Walker of Quanah, and R. B. Magee of Quanah went up against J. D. Michie of Childers.

Machie scored a one up victory over O. B. Smith of Memphis, Texas, yesterday; Walker defeated Dale Oswald of Vernon, one up; Johnson eliminated T. S. Hanley of Crowell, and Magee triumphed over Kenneth Wright of Altus.

Hereafter, girls between the ages of 9 and 12 will be admitted free on Ladies' Night without payment even of the usual service charge.

Hole-In-One And Three-Way Tie Among Oddities Of Golf Rounds

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—A hole-in-one, a trio of identical cards that brought their owners a first place tie in the Detroit district and a national medalist who shot a 132 yet was eight strokes over par were only some of the oddities developed in the first round of the Hale America national open golf tourney.

Bobby Jones was among the 1,528 listed golfers at 69 different sites who swung their clubs yesterday for the benefit of navy relief and the United Service Organizations. The field for the war-born successor to the national open was cut to 250 for the sectional qualifying rounds on June's first weekend.

Approximately 100 of the nation's best will go on from there to Chicago June 18 to 21 for the 72-hole final.

The hole-in-one was registered by Amateur Tom Whiteway of Cleveland, who got his dud on the par three 110-yard uphill No. 15 at the Shaker Heights Country Club. The blow helped him to a 149 and the only berth won by an amateur at Cleveland.

Gilbert Sellers and Ernie Shava, two pros, and Amateur Eddie Furgol collected identical cards of 73-73-145 to top the Detroit qualifiers and Eddie Johnson of Fairmont, W. Va., toured the nine-hole layout at Charlestown four times to register his 132 that was the day's lowest score.

He was eight over par while O'Neal (Buck) White of Memphis, sliced seven strokes off regulation figures for a 133 and second place. A father and son combination stole the spotlight at Wheeling, W. Va., with Papa A. J. Chapman, pro at the Country Club, setting the pace with 148 and 21-year-old Alex Chapman runnerup with 151.

Although Jones was exempt from qualifying he played the East Lake course in his home town at Atlanta and finished second, with 140, to Amateur Morton Bright who had a two-below-par 138.

Yanks Stretch Lead, With Hassett Pointing Way

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer

There probably are some people with memories long enough to remember the time this spring when the New York Yankees had a first base problem.

The world champions have had a first base problem ever since Lou Gehrig stepped out of the lineup in 1939, but John Aloysius (Duddy) Hassett has provided a reasonably good solution in recent weeks.

When the good-looking Irishman replaced Ed Levy at first at the end of April he hit a homer in his first game and compiled a modest eight-game batting streak. Now he is loose on another string of five games and yesterday he provided for all New York's runs in a 2-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

He singled two times across in the third and tripled in the sixth to romp home on a fly by Tom Henrich. Spud Chandler pitched seven-hit ball, stifling the Sox after the first inning.

This was New York's 14th triumph in 17 games and increased its American league lead to 3 1/2 games as the Cleveland Indians dropped a 5-1 decision to the Chicago White Sox. Bill Dietrich pitched six-hit ball to outlast Chubby Dean on the mound.

The game was played at Cleveland for the benefit of army and navy relief and netted $9,300.88 from 7,859 fans.

Another game for the same charities was played at twilight in St. Louis and raised $8,500 from 8,490 fans as the Browns beat the Detroit Tigers 3-2.

Curt Davis pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers to their second straight shutout with a two hit show that stopped the Philadelphia Phils 3-0.

It was Davis' sixth victory opposite one defeat and his second shutout in three games.

The Boston Braves held determinedly to second place in the National league by noting out the New York Giants 3-1 on Max West's two-run homer in the 11th inning.

The St. Louis Cardinals shelled five Chicago pitchers for 13 hits to overpower the Cubs 10-2 while Ernie White kept eight hits scattered.

In a pair of night games, Cincinnati sent Pittsburgh skidding into the second division of the National league for the first time this season and the Washington Senators downed the Philadelphia Athletics 5 to 2.

Seven For Seven Is Gal's Hit Record
HOUSTON, May 26 (AP)—Maybe Babe Ruth did hit 60 home runs in a season.

But did he ever get seven in seven consecutive times at bat?

Fifteen-year-old Alice Lantz did it in Houston's women softball competition, getting three each in two games.

Peter Miskind is working out arrangements to provide all airplane spotters on Manhattan's tall buildings with hot prog. gratis.

That shouldn't break him. . . . He's a rum manufacturer, with distilleries in the West Indies.

Ancient sculptures reveal that the umbrella was in use in ancient Egypt.

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—For the first time this season there are no .400 hitters among the regulars in the major leagues.
Bobby (Blamming) Doerr of the Boston Red Sox, retains his American league leadership and also is the best among the swatters from either loop although his average has slided to .388 — just a lone point ahead of Joe Gordon, New York Yankee second baseman.
Gordon (Babe) Phelps, the stout receiver for the Pittsburgh Pirates, crashed out a single hit in a pinch hitting role against the Cincinnati Reds last night to take over the National league top with .382.
His aggressive tops that of rookie Ray Lamman, Reds catcher, by one point while another backstop, Ernie Lombard of the Boston Braves, is third with .366.

Salary Deductions To Pay Income Tax

Next year's income tax bill for most of us little fellows is going to be something fierce. Personal exemption for married persons is cut from $1,500 to $1,200, for singles from $750 to $600. The surtax will start at 12 per cent instead of 8. The lower exemptions will bring millions of new income taxpayers into the fold.

deduction amounted to more than the tax, he would receive a treasury check for the balance. It is hard for the average person to make up enough money to meet the March 15 deadline. Left to his own devices he is apt to spend it, or obligate himself for something he could just as well do without. The salary deduction plan would save him this embarrassment; he couldn't spend the money he needs for his income tax payment because he'd never see it. Human nature being what it is, few have the foresight or ingenuity to lay aside enough to foot the bill.

THE BOY WHO WAS NEVER ALLOWED TO SHOOT EVEN AN AIR RIFLE

UNFAIR TO LOVE

Chapter 14 The Big Question Paul went on with his painting for a moment or two without speaking. "I heard you'd played leads in local plays," he said finally. "But that's quite different from appearing professionally, you know."

"I couldn't help overhearing part of what you said," she remarked. "Up to the old game, I suppose. Holding out the promise of a part to a pretty girl—fixing it so you'll have someone to feed your ego!" Her voice grew hard, unfriendly. "It's a mean trick to play on a girl, Paul—and you know it."

close to her that he recognized her. "Hey, there!" he called. Daisy turned and saw him. She stopped. "Hey, there yourself," she called back. Joe brought the car to a standstill at her side. "Want a lift?" he asked. "Thanks!" said Daisy. "Thanks, yes—or, thanks, no?" "Thanks, yes."

As soon as Kathleen had gotten out of his car, Joe headed for Linville. There was work to be done—plenty of it. He had gathered quite a lot of news for his weekly column entitled Rural Ramblings, and he wanted to get it all properly written up. Gathering those news items hadn't been much fun, however, with a disgruntled girl sitting beside him. He had tried to make the best of the situation, and had been careful to steer the conversation into safe channels.

Officer Mistaken For Nazi Airman

TULSA, Okla. — Three Tulsa policemen stopped and questioned a sergeant of the naval aviation office here, convinced that his uniform resembled that of a German air-officer. The officers were told it was none of their business and were called "on the carpet" by the chief of police an hour later for abusing a naval officer. The ensign, however, agreed to drop the matter.

Says Soldiers More Serious LOS ANGELES, Calif.—American soldiers of World War II are taking the war more seriously than those of World War I, according to the librarian of the University of California. Those of World War I preferred fiction of the D'Artagnan type for their reading, while those of World War II prefer scientific reading.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds -- Wearing Clothes Is Just Too Embarrassing

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD — Miss Margaret Bridget Hart from Missouri, familiarly known as Margie, is a well-known specialist, third top-liner in her art to be drawn to the films. Like Miss Gypsy Rose Lee, who graced pictures as a clothes horse, and Miss Ann Corio, who was put on celluloid as a "Swamp Woman," Miss Hart must leave her peculiarly personal artistry behind as she enters the pure realm of Will H. Hays. She will play a half-caste native girl, who turns out in the end to be all-Irish, in "Lure of the Islands."

consider herself "a girl from the show-me state who found out that the boys like to be shown." She was pleased with the Garbo reference, but the "poor man" has her stopped. "They can catch Garbo in a third-run for 25 cents, but to see me it costs 'em $1.65," she said. This farm girl's rise to quick fame began one day when, with a girl friend, she started out for high school and kept on going. They hitch-hiked to Chicago, where the girl friend knew a producer who was looking for new faces (at this juncture in her biographical narrative Miss Hart is likely to take a deep, chest-expanding breath) and right away both had jobs in a burlesque chorus. Miss Hart's new face soon took her from obscurity: ere long her dramatic talents were given to a portrayal of the Statue of Liberty in an artistic tableau, a role for which she hung rigidly from a 10-foot flagpole, her costume a flag draped from the waist. She was quite a hit, so much so that Bill Flickens, a now retired Columbus of burlesque, saw a new star and undertook her training. "He walked me around for a couple of weeks with a volume of Shakespeare on my head—closest I ever came to Hamlet," said Miss Hart. "Came my debut as a soloist, and I had a song to sing before going into my strip. I stood up there and started to sing but nothing came. "Go into your strip—take 'em off," he whispered from the orchestra pit. So I did, and they loved it, and when they clapped for me I loved it too."

Audiences and Miss Hart have been loving it ever since. Like Gypsy Rose Lee — and probably like Ann Corio whom I haven't met—Miss Hart regards her art with humor. "It's more tease than strip," she said. "Or to make it sound more high-brow, all we do is expiate their imagination." Miss Hart's family, who didn't understand about art at first, rallied round loyally when Margie recently played at Kansas City for the first time. "Most of them," she said, "complimented me on my act."

Washington Daybook -- New Type Of Sabotage

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON — The other day I ran across a statement from the National Fire Protection Association that during the first three months of this year there were 20 fires in the United States that did more than $125,000 damage. There were only eight during the same period last year and 42 during the whole year 1941.

Unfortunately, the results are the same—loss of war production. "Recently a fire in a middle west grain elevator destroyed enough wheat to make bread for 700,000 soldiers for a year. A fire in a rubber factory destroyed enough rubber to make 2,000,000 tires. An explosion destroyed a factory that was accounting for one-third of our national magnesium powder capacity. "These fires are largely due to expanded production and to the introduction of new processes. Of course we must expand production and use new processes, but what is the use of doubling the production of war materials plant if we are going to lose the entire production in a fire?"

Man About Manhattan -- Tales On Tommy Tucker

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK — It was Tommy Tucker time at the Essex House; so I dropped around for a chat with the North Dakota representative of the Tucker tribe. The boys were in the midst of a short-wave broadcast to Brazil when I got there, but the crowd kept right on dancing. Among the numbers Tommy's band played for the Brazilians was "I Threw A Kiss In The Ocean," and as it was wafted over the ocean it must have sounded to the South American listeners as the same song does to you on Tommy Tucker's recording.

Dakota, he went to North Carolina to find his wife. She was Virginia Dare Miller. When they're in New York they keep an apartment. And Dare does the cooking. "You get tired of hotel and restaurant food," says Tommy. No doubt it's because he can't forget that home cooking he found in North Carolina. The band's signature is "I Love You," a number Tommy wrote while under the influence of a Tybee beach setting, down in Savannah. It is a beauty. The vocal is sung by the Voices Three, meaning Amy Arnell, Don Brown, and Kerwin Somerville. Amy Arnell takes her career very seriously. She's from Portsmouth, Va. She spends $750 a day for special instruction. Don Brown is what the boys call "Our romantic baritone." He gets mad when they describe him that way. Don has done practically everything. He used to work on a railroad. He used to play semi-pro football. Pretty soon the band will lose its bass player, Al Iosel. He goes into the army. The boys will be sorry to see Al go, in a way. He's the band paymaster. I mention this because I thought you'd want to know these things about Tommy Tucker, and Amy Arnell, and Don Brown, and Al Iosel and the others the next time you click on a radio and hear the announcer say: "It's Tommy Tucker Time . . ."

Grain Alcohol Rubber Plants Are Suggested

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) — A Nebraska engineer testified today that he could build the necessary plants and produce 100,000 tons of synthetic rubber from corn and wheat for less than the cost of hauling the grain for conversion into alcohol at existing distilleries further east.

George E. Johnson, chief engineer of the Central Nebraska public power and irrigation district, also charged before a senate agriculture subcommittee that "practically all" of the important officials of the War Production Board's chemical division formerly worked for the U.S. Industrial Alcohol company or its subsidiaries, and sought to stave off competition for that firm.

Beginning as early as last February, he said, his Nebraska group had applied for priorities necessary for the construction of five grain alcohol plants, but had met with no encouragement. He said 90 per cent of the critical material was on hand, that they were not asking for any copper, and had planned to use salvaged steel plates in the construction.

"We can be making rubber in six months and have our plants operating at full capacity in eight months if we are allowed to go ahead with the program," he said.

... and many more like him serve Associated Press newspapers

Allen is typical of AP war correspondents the world over. They are ignoring all manner of personal danger and hardship to bring the news to you in these pages. They are writing brilliant new chapters in the service that has kept AP newspapers first at the front for a century.
