Turning Hatred On

and Off Like a Water Tap Among the things that can be learned from the European situation, and not the least of its unmitigrated horrors, is the demonstration of how hatred can be turned on and off at will by those governments which completely control press and radio.

There is something that makes a free man shiver in his boots to watch the manipulation of vast masses of people as though they were nothing but rows of photoelectric cells, reacting involuntarily to whatever rays of light their masters care to throw upon them.

For instance, recall the press campaign in Germany just before the seizure of Czechoslocakia. All of a sudden, and in unison, all the German papers blossomed with stories about the abuse of Germans in the Sudeten areas by the dominant Czechs. They were given no jobs, they were ing the fact that several Austra- There have been delays also in de- Vickers machine guns at a rate left to starve in hovels, they were subject to actual physical abuse, they were oppressed in various ways. The German people dutifully reacted with a wave of anti-Czech feel- that detailed drawings necessary to by the British government for its duction of gas masks at Marbyring, and were ready to support Herr Hitler in any move he might make to remedy this situation."

During the present crisis, the German papers have been flooded once again with exactly the same stories of to accelerate preparations for Polish oppression of German minorities in Poland, the production, but delays have re- Lithgow, N. S. W., has begun pro- financial year, the value was $3.- for the reason Corridor, or Danzig. Whether these same old stories, with merely the setting changed, have succeeded in inflaming the German people sufficiently, we cannot yet tell, But These modifications have been vice in making tools and jigs. In reach $10,000,000." that is their deliberate purpose, and it has worked with stupefying success in the past.

In the Russian-German situation, the same thing has been visible. For 10 years at least, the German papers have been filled with stories describing the bestial and bloodthirsty depravity of the Russians. And the Russian press has abused the German Fascsts in almost the same

After 10 years of this, the head men in the two countries get together in a deal. The official Pravda in Russia congratulates the people that the obstacles which the nasty old democratic countries had been interposting between them and Germany have at last been removed, and that now they can love the Germans just as they had wanted to all the time. Germans of official standing hail each other, perhaps a bit sheepishly, with "Heil Hintler! Rot Front!" (Hafl Hitler! Red Front!)

Even the Russian exhibit at the New York Fair, which has been showing "Professor Mamlock," a violently anti-Nazi picture made in Russia, suddenly withdraws it and begins showing "Lenin in 1917." It is just a coincidence, insst attaches. Much the same sort of coincidence, one supposes, as brought the Russian-German anti-aggr just at the most critical moment of the Danzig affair.

Nothing is too ridiculous to be believed if it is said loudly enough and often enough.

People brought up in countries in which the state monopolizes propaganda have been reduced to a gelatinous mental state in which an order, "You will begin on Friday at 2 p. m. to hate the Laplanders," would be obeyed without question. The hatred would be produced just like turning on the water in the tap.

One glimpse of this state of affairs should make Americans cling to their free press, with all its faults, as an Alpine clmber clings to his guide rope.

By Williams Camp Meeting Site High In Mountains

FORT DAVIS, Texas—Another half-century of yearly religious gatherings at Bloys' camp meeting grounds high up in the Davis Mountains has been promised.

Middle-aged ranchers and young cowboys of the Big Bend country pledged to carry on for another 50 years the old-time camp meeting founded in 1889 to give inhabit ants of western ranges "at leas one day's religion a year."

At a men's prayer meeting traditionally held under a great oak tree, they promised at the renion's recent gelden anniversar; ession to carry on the week-lone eunion that started with five families and grew to this year's attendance of more than 2,000

The four-denominations gathering was begun by Dr. W. B. Bloys, who got together five ranchers and their families and preached a series of sermons de igned to last until they could neet again the following year, rolling their covered wagons to the camp ground from their widely scattered West Texas homes. Annually since then the meetings have been held, growing from a gathering under an oak tree to an association owning a square mile of land and a tabernacle seating a thousand persons. At the 50th reunion, 21 persons attended who had been present at the initial meeting.

"By next week the Board of Directors will be completed, some plan of finance worked out, and presented to the people of Eastland in the belief that this nursery school project will be underwritten with willingness and enthusiasm in support of those little ones who can't speak for themselves but who someday will have a chance to be grateful for what we do for them now. Visit the nursery school on North Lamar and see this wonderful work."
