C. S. Holmes Is Awarded Scout Honor

Certificate Recognizing 20 Years' Service Is Received

C. S. Holmes, father of scouting in Big Spring and founder of the oldest Boy Scout troop in Texas from the point of continuous registration, was awarded his twenty-year service certificate Monday night by Troop 1 at the First Baptist church. He was also given a silver badge denoting twenty years' service in the ranks.

Mr. Holmes entered Boy Scout work in Big Spring when the National movement was yet in its infancy. He was actively in charge of Troop 1 for ten years, being succeeded by J. M. Maxwell in 1921. Following this he was affiliated with the troop as a committeeman. In 1926 he was named president of the Buffalo Trails Council.

"If my work has been of any benefit to any of my boys, then it has been of much more benefit to me," he said. "I feel that ten years had been added to my life by my participation in this sort of work."

Busy Year Is Finished For Labor Chief

Conditions Greatly Increase Work of State Department

By ROBERT B. GRAGO
Labor Commissioner of Texas
(Written exclusively for the Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 29 (UP)—Because of the unemployment situation that has prevailed throughout the country for the past two years, challenging the best thought of leaders throughout the nation, and calling for coordinated action by every agency of government, national, state and municipal, and the creation of many allied organizations to meet the emergency, the Texas labor department, during the past 11 months, has experienced one of the most strenuous periods of its history. Being that branch of the state government constituted for the purpose of administering the laws protecting the rights of laboring people and promoting their prosperity and well-being, the department naturally became an integral part of the great unemployment relief organization. Therefore, by virtue of his official position, the labor commissioner was designated ex-officio secretary to the governor's committee for unemployment relief, and later was assigned a like place in the legislative unemployment committee. The clerical work of these committees was thrown into the office of the labor department, greatly increasing the duties of the office force.

No Raises In Taxes Planned By Democrats

Would Meet Deficit By Closing Loopholes For Evasions

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29 (UP)—John Garner, speaker of the house, said today that the Democrats expect to raise $300,000,000 to help meet the deficit without raising taxes by amending laws to remove loopholes through which taxes now are evaded.

He said some loopholes had been left intentionally, others accidentally.

Garner said an exhaustive study of revenue laws was made last summer, especially court decisions on tax appeal cases. He said the party had not yet formulated a definite tax policy.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29 (UP)—President Hoover plans a new drive to consolidate departments and bureaus to reduce expenditures.

Opposition To Wet Plank Voiced By Dems' Leader

By THOMAS L. STOKES
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29 (UP)—Opposition to a wet plank or even one for rebusmission of the 18th amendment in the democratic party platform was expressed today by House Democratic Floor Leader Rainey.

Rainey is for a vote by congress on rebusmission of the 18th amendment but says the fight over prohibition should be made in congress and should not be made an issue in the national election. As an election issue, he said, it will tend to detract from economic issues, which are the real concern at this time.

"We want to discuss the way out of this depression—not wine and beer," the veteran Illinois leader declared.

The thoughts of democrats, in some cases very unwillingly, are being turned again to the controversial prohibition issue by the forthcoming democratic national committee meeting here January 4. Chairman John J. Rankin, it is learned, intends to bring the issue forward again, but not so bluntly as at the last meeting when he proposed his "home-rule" plan and thereby caused a storm among dry southern democrats that hasn't died down yet.

"The republicans won't adopt a dry plank," Rainey said. "Neither should the democrats. If the democrats adopted a wet plank the fight in the campaign would revolve about that. Economic issues are most important."

H. M. Smith has accepted a position as night clerk at the Settles Hotel. Mr. Smith, formerly of Tulsa, has had a wide experience in hotel work. He succeeds M. R. Watson, who goes to Nacogdoches, Texas.

Local Youth Barely Saved From Death

Vernon Shive Overcome By Fumes In Bathroom At Home

Vernon Shive, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Shive was rescued from the arms of death by a very narrow margin Sunday when he was found almost asphyxiated in the bathroom at the family home. Two doctors worked over him for several hours before overcoming effect of the fumes.

He had gone into the bathroom to have and bathe and had turned on the gas hot water heater which is in the bathroom. He had finished shaving and was partly bathed. The last he remembered was bathing but when his father broke the lock of the door, alarmed over his long stay and his refusal to answer, he found him on the floor on his face. Apparently he had realized his danger and had tried to get to the door. His face was black and he was bleeding at the nose and the mouth and his heart had all but ceased beating.

After artificial respiration, he regained consciousness Sunday afternoon. Monday he was well enough to go to town. He seems to be perfectly recovered Tuesday.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Pyramids

Howard Eason, of Los Angeles, Former Resident Here, Is Lecturer

Howard Eason, of Los Angeles, Calif., was the principal speaker at the Rotary Club Tuesday, delivering a lecture on the Pyramid of Gizeh, in Egypt, which he has delivered before large assemblies all over the United States.

Mr. Eason related to the Rotarians his experiences with a group of archaeologists in the valley of the Nile excavating around this pyramid, which was erected in 2770 B. C. The remarkable scientific accuracy of Egyptian mathematicians and builders was the theme of the lecture. Mr. Eason had his finger-tips on a set of figures after another showing that the men of that age used astronomical facts which are supposed to be almost new to moderns. They knew the distance to the sun, the exact curvature of the earth, the relations of the stars and the equinox. The speaker used charts picturing the mathematical precision and the interior of the pyramids.

Mr. Eason, who is the assistant credit manager for the National Supply Co., was the guest of B. Reagan who had charge of the day's program. With him were also Mr. Eason's father, Sam T. Eason, and brother, Wyatt Eason, of Galveston.

Miss Jackson and Mrs. Ned Beaudreau gave several enjoyable numbers on the violin accompanied by Miss Williams at the piano. Other guests were V. E. Behrens, of Abilene, a Rotarian, and Joe Flock.

Young Diplomat Accused of Plotting Assassination of Japanese Envoy to Russia

Protests Innocence in Horror

Editor's Note: Frederick Kuh, Central European news manager of the United Press, has returned to his post in Berlin after an absence of two months during which he covered the fighting in Manchuria. En route from Moscow to Berlin, he traveled on the same train with Carl Wanek, Czechoslovakian diplomat accused of plotting against the Japanese ambassador at Moscow, with the intention of provoking conflict between Russia and Japan. In the following interview, Wanek protests his innocence of the charge.

BERLIN, Dec. 28. (UP)—Carl Wanek, young Czechoslovakian diplomat, arrived today from Moscow protesting in horror his innocence of a charge that he plotted a political shooting to precipitate war between Russia and Japan.

"I am innocent before my conscience and my government," Wanek told the writer.

We traveled on the same train from Moscow to Berlin. He left Moscow Saturday night, 48 hours after the Soviets had demanded my immediate departure, accusing him of trying to induce a soviet official to fire on, if not assassinate Koki Hirota Japanese ambassador to Moscow.

Wanek was unnerved and stammered as he tried to choke back tears during his recital. He is young, with a cherubic face and curly hair.

"I thought the killing of an ordinary citizen gruesome enough," he said, "but the suggestion of instigating a political murder to bring about war is unspeakable."

He averred that during nearly six years of diplomatic activity in the Soviet Union, his behavior had been loyal and irreproachable.

Asked to explain what he considered the motives behind the accusation, he shrugged and said: "I have my own theory but I am not at liberty to divulge it."

"Citizen G," whom he was accused of instigating to attack Hirota, to be an employe of the central box office of the Moscow theaters named Goditzki. The G. P. U., or secret police, arrested Goditzki after he had told police Wanek tried to persuade him to attack Hirota.

Wanek branded as grotesque any suggestion that a Czechoslovakian could desire a Soviet-Japanese war. He said gossip that he had acted as agent for another power was a slanderous lie.

Attention Called By Tax Collector To Law Waiving Interest, Penalties On Taxes Delinquent Prior to Oct. 30

Special attention of Howard county property owners has been called by Loy Acuff, county tax collector, to the recent supreme court opinion upholding a tax relief statute passed by the last legislature.

The law allows payment of delinquent taxes due since 1836 up to and including October 30, 1931, to be paid without addition of interest and penalties up to January 31, 1932.

Large sums that otherwise would be deducted from payments provided the delinquent taxes are paid by January 31.

It was thought a number of owners of property in this county would be interested in taking advantage of this special law.

The law applies to all state, county, school district taxes and those levied by any other civil or government subdivision of the state or county.

SUNSET PASS by Zane Grey

SYNOPSIS: Trueman Rock returns to Wagontongue after a six-year absence to find the same sleepy town he used to fight and make love and ride in—even some very well-known bullet holes still are in a wall.

"No, He had to go to the station." "Oh—I'm sorry, I can't wait."

"Are you the new clerk Mr. Winter was expecting?" she queried.

"Yes, miss, at your service." "I've a list of things to get."

"I'll do my best. But I'm a little new to the business."

"That all right, I'll help you." she returned graciously.

"The delay gave Trueman opportunity to look at her covertly.

"Here it is," she said, producing a slip of paper and looking up somewhat flushed.

"Why talk about it?" he asked. "Doggone," said Lenz heatedly to his partner.

"Not with me you don't play another rubber," he said.

"Under the rules you must play another," said Culbertson's referee, Alfred J. Leibendorfer.

JACOBY stood for a moment, uncertain. Then he sat down and made his cut without another word.

The session gave Lenz and Jacoby their biggest gain of the match.

In previous sessions Lenz had won a set of 1,400 points and one of 1,800.

Lenz declared he would be on hand with a new partner in time to play tonight.

Walter Malowan announced for Mr. Lenz it had been agreed on both sides that Mr. Jacoby would return to the game as Lenz' partner sometime before the match ends.

As to making criminals, we had a law against horse stealing, and it surely made many criminals.

As to consumption of liquor, simply look at your own community.

Light wines and beer? Beer with its fermented slop and small alcoholic content is more injurious to the kidneys, bladder and liver than whisky.

"Boys will be boys, I reckon you didn't know your mind any better," Amy knew hers. An' now brace yourself for a shock, True.

"Fire away." "Amy broke the hearts of all the cowboys on the range—'an' then up an' married John Dabb."

"Dabb was a widower with a daughter 'most as old as Amy. They were married a year or so ago.

"Sol, will you keep my money till I come askin' for it?" queried Rock. "Now, True, what're you up to?"

"I'm goin' out and get a little 'ribble drunk," declared Rock, tragically. "I'm goin' to drown my grief."

"Well, wait till I come back," returned Winter. "I've got to go to the station. My clerk is off today. Keep store for me."

"All right, I'll keep store. But you rustle back here pronto."

Winter hurried out, bareheaded and in his shirt sleeves, leaving Rock sitting on the counter.

A light quick step arrested the current of Trueman's thoughts. He looked up. A girl had entered the store.

"Is Mr. Winter in?" asked the girl, pausing before the counter.

By CURTIS BISHOP

"Tack" Dennis, Big Spring's stellar back, was named as fullback on two of the early selections announced for the Associated Press official all-star team which will be published early in January. Seventy-five newspapers in Texas are authorized to vote upon the candidates. Dennis was named on the all-star eleven compiled by Prexy Anderson, sports editor of the Abilene Morning News, and the team selected by the Big Spring Herald.

Anderson had the following to say as a reason for giving Dennis, whom he did not see in action, the fullback's berth: "Cecil Merrill of Lubbock was the best back we saw in action, but he might be no better than Tack Dennis of Big Spring, whom we accept from second hand evidence. The bulky Oklahoma kicked the pigskin just as well as Merrill, had the advantage of being a passer de luxe, and was hailed by some of his admirers as the best blocking back in West Texas. Dennis was better at everything else than he was at carrying the pellets, yet he lumbered around and got himself 147 points doing that job."

Anderson's complete first team selection: Ends, Stevens (Ranger) and Prather (Greenville); tackles, Groseclose (Abilene) and Spain (Breckenridge); guards, Pafford (Pampa) and J. Wilcox (Tyler); center, Smith (Abilene); halfbacks, Merrill (Corsicana) and Blackmon (Abilene); quarterback, Wilson (Corsicana); fullback, Dennis (Big Spring).

Anderson is probably the best sports writer in West Texas and he is certainly better qualified to pick an all-star team than any other scribe in the state, since the progress of his home town Eagles in the Texas race afforded him the opportunity of viewing the best backs of all of the leading teams in action. It is interesting to note that Prexy did not give a single first team berth to Beaumont, whom the Eagles played in the final, and that Wyatt and Balfanz, players that starred for Abilene all through the season, did not secure places on his first eleven.

The Herald's all-star team is as follows: Ends, Stevens (Ranger) and Balfanz (Abilene); tackles, Groseclose (Abilene) and Spain (Breckenridge); guards, Welch (Lubbock) and Pafford (Pampa); center, Smith (Abilene); halfbacks, Wilson (Corsicana) and Arnold (Greenville); fullback, Dennis (Big Spring); quarterback, Wyatt (Abilene). Second team: Joseph (Beaumont) and Van Horn (Claco), ends; Barber (Abilene) and Witt (John Reagan), tackles; Young (Greenville) and White (Breckenridge), guards; Dyer (Big Spring), center; Beard (Amarillo), quarterback; Merrill (Lubbock) and Lawrence (Harrington), halfbacks; Vivrette (Beaumont), fullback. Third team: Prather (Greenville) and Pyror (Corsicana), ends; Hopper (Big Spring) and Barnett (McCamey), tackles; Strother (Sweetwater) and Howes (Amarillo), guards; Crawford (Lubbock), center; Swope (Beaumont), quarterback; Blackmon (Abilene) and Sheridan (Sweetwater), halfbacks; Jones (Abilene), fullback.

And now with football definitely out of the picture the interest of local fans can be concentrated upon basketball. The Steers meet their first scholastic opponent of the season tonight in the form of the Lomax Hornets, whom they play in the modern Lomax gym at 7:30. Miss Arsh Phillips declares that she is short on material this year, but that she believes her club will make as good a showing as in 1931, when they captured the county championship. The Hornets play here Tuesday night.

Friday and Saturday nights, if the writer hasn't gotten his dates confused, the San Angelo Bobcats furnish the opposition, if any. Once before the Concho Crew were slated to appear in Big Spring but were unable to do so because of a squall that made the Big Spring-Angelo waterway impassable. Let us hope that the weatherman permits Harry Taylor and his crew to make the voyage this week-end, although the games will probably be exciting only from the standpoint that there is a matter of a 0 to 0 football game to settle. Friday's game between the two all-star clubs we refuse to accept as final. According to Frank Fisherman, "If those subs hadn't been run in we'd have won that game."

Brother and Sister Of Late Mrs. Rix In Big Spring On Visit
Mrs. Theresa Templeton and Charles W. Harding, sister and brother of the late Mrs. B. C. Rix, are visiting Harvey L. Rix and family. This is Harding's first visit to Texas in twenty-four years and Mrs. Templeton's in ten years. They have moved to Lubbock from Lima, Missouri.

They are very well pleased with West Texas. "I shall never go back to live in Missouri—only to visit," Harding says.

AUTOMOBILES WITHOUT WHEELS

A REVOLUTIONARY development in automobile construction, just perfected by General Tire and Rubber Company engineers, provides for huge, soft tires, parabolic in shape, which are attached directly to the hubs of the car, wheels being eliminated.

After two and a half years of research, testing and development, General has just announced its Streamline Jumbo tire, larger at the base than at the tread and safer and easier riding than present-day balloon tires.

With two and one-half times as much air capacity as present-day balloon tires of the same size, the Streamline Jumbo tire literally gives to motorists the sensation of floating through the air. Air pressure of from 10 to 14 pounds is recommended for these tires, as compared to pressure of from 25 to 40 pounds required for ordinary balloon tires.

Tire engineers have pointed out that the Streamline Jumbo is the first advance over the ordinary "Doughnut" type of balloon tire, which is wider at the middle than at the base or tread, causing a decrease in power when used at low air pressures.

The Streamline General has been developed by Charles J. Jahant, vice-president, and Robert Fredell, chief engineer, of the General Tire and Rubber Company, upon tire engineering principles involved in the General Streamline Airplane tire, designed by A. G. Maranville, General aeronautical engineer.

Golden Year In Sports Of Country Has Reflection In Various Big Spring Teams

By CURTIS BISHOP

The "golden" year of sportsdom is coming to an end. For twelve months every form of athletics has undergone a period of progress that has never been equalled in the history of sport. Ellsworth Vines, Pepper Martin, Billy Burke, Percy Beard, Barry Wood—new names leaped like comets into sportsdom's firmament of light. Bill Tilden, Robert Grove, Francis Outmet, Frank W. Kroff, Marchmont Schwartz—old favorites remained to startle us by their improved performances.

And Big Spring has been no exception. She reaped a bountiful harvest and has every right to regard the future with optimistic eyes. The sports year of 1931 officially began with the victory of Bill Stevens' high school cagers in the western division of the district tournament held at Colorado, the Big Spring club defeating Roby in the finals. Later the Steer basketballers took two straight games from the Abilene Eagles in the district play-off and then triumphed over Breckenridge in consecutive contests to win the right to represent West Texas in the state basketball tournament. There they were defeated by Yancy in the first round.

All-District

Three of that quintet received all-district berths. Bill Flowers, Tommy Hutto, and Elmer Pardue. Two others, Ted Phillips and David Hopper, had their share of reporters when it came to selecting the club's most valuable man. Among the school locals defeated in the course of their practice session schedule were W. C. Stripling High of Fort Worth, the Lubbock Westerners, Colorado Wolves, Warner Memorial College of Eastland, and the Lamesa Whirlwinds.

In track the locals experienced their most successful season in recent years. Cecil Reid set a new district mile record in the district meet, trekking home far ahead of the field on a muddy track, and later won third place in the state carnival, the first Big Spring athlete to win all-state mention. Beverly Rockhold and Nathan Orr also won points in the district meet.

In the summer sports, tennis and golf, Big Spring was extraordinarily successful. Ruby Smith captured both the district and bi-district intercollegiate singles titles, and the girls doubles team composed of Zelah Mae Ford and Dorothy Driver, went to the finals in the district competition. Tommy Hutto and Joe Davis, boys' representatives, advanced to the semi-finals in both singles and doubles.

First Place
In amateur competition the locals proved themselves the class of the Sand Belt Tennis Association, capturing first place by a wide margin after dominating all meets throughout the summer. For the seventh consecutive year all four of the Sand Belt individual titles were held intact among the local representatives, and no less than six of the Big Spring secured ranking on the West Texas Net Association's official list.

Golf found the Big Spring Country Club entered in the Sand Belt Golf Association and staging an invitational tournament over their modern 18 hole course which was well attended. Charles Qualls, Post, added the championship to the string of titles he won during the summer, among them the West Texas Amateur, but was carried to the last green in the final round by "Oble" Bristow, Big Spring High School coach. John Northington, Big Spring, set a new course record of 68 to win medalist's honors and Shirley Robbins and Vaul W. Latson also won places in the championship flight.

Football, the king of sports, opened unseasonably in Big Spring with the Steers skinning out a 13 to 0 decision over Lamesa High, a class B team. Admittedly the poorest material in recent years greeted Coaches Bristow and George Brown at the beginning of the season, but

An amazing development that paves the way for Important Changes in Motor Car Design

Think of Riding on 12 Pounds of Air!

THE first departure from the "Doughnut" form of Balloon tire design proves startling in results. . . . General Tire and Rubber Company engineers have perfected a Streamline Jumbo Balloon Tire built wider at the base (rim) than at the top (tread), a structural change in tire design with far-reaching effects. . . . A tire that runs on air pressures so low that the vehicle appears to "float" over roughest roads—provides a degree of driving safety and riding comfort never before even imagined possible.

Steers Show Improved Form In Defeating Miss Arah Phillips' Lomax Hornet Quintet 33 to 17

Flashing a brilliant first quarter attack that swept the blue-clad Lomax Hornets off their feet the Big Spring High cagers continued their winning tactics by turning back Miss Arah Phillips' aggregation 33 to 17 in a fast contest played in the Lomax gym Monday night. The same clubs will meet this evening in the second game of their home-and-home series.

Led by the suddenly sensational J. C. Morgan, a tall, thin forward who breaks like a flash for the basket and is the key man of several intricate scoring plays that functioned well against the Hornets, the local cagers displayed the best form of the present season as they outclassed Miss Phillips' inexperienced, but fighting squad. Morgan led the scoring parade with six field goals and one free try, the majority of his baskets made under the basket. Hopper was runner-up with three field goals.

Captain Weldon Woods and Leo Hare starred for the Hornets, who crept up in the third and fourth quarters until they played the locals on almost even terms. Hare took the high scoring honors with two field goals and three free tries, both of his baskets being made from near the center of the court. Woods played a stellar defensive role and in addition scored three points.

Best Form
Exhibiting their best form of the year the locals led 13 to 5 at the end of the first quarter. Captain Reid started the scoring by sinking a free try and a field goal, and then Morgan converted two nice passes from Hopper under the basket into a quartet of points. Flowers sank a free try, Hopper broke into the clear for a field goal, Flowers scored again from the foul line and Reid tallied to constitute the Steer scoring for the period. Woods dropped one in from midcourt, Lily sank one from near the sidelines and the tall Lomax center made good a free offering to run up the five points.

In the second quarter the Hornets were held to a single point, a free try by Hare, while Morgan and Hopper were making field goals for the locals with Elmer Dyer. sent in for Flowers, tallying from the foul line. The score at the half was 18 to 7.

The Hornets played the Steers on even terms in the third period. Hare sunk the first of his spectacular shots from the center of the floor, Lily followed suit with a crisp shot, Hare made good a free try and then scored again far back on the court. For the locals Morgan and Hopper sunk a pair of field goals each and the former scored from the foul line.

In the fourth period the Steers increased their advantage by scoring six points and holding the Hornets to two free tries, one each by Woods and Hare. Reid and Morgan sank field goals and Dyer made good another chance from the foul line.

Good Crowd
A fairly large crowd thronged the Lomax gymnasium for the contest, and an even larger one is expected to be on hand this evening when the blue-clad warriors invade Big Spring for the second and last game of the series. The San Angelo High Bobcats will meet the locals here Thursday evening and in San Angelo Friday night to complete the cage schedule for this week.

lasts to expect the championship honors to remain in Big Spring until 1933. The Big Spring Country Club has announced that they will continue their summer invitational tournament indefinitely, and that the trophy won by Mr. Qualls is a challenge cup which must be won three years in succession. The Big Spring Tennis Club annually holds three tournaments in the local courts, the Sand Belt, the West Texas, and the City. Their West Texas tournament has come to be recognized as the official championship test, and last year the largest field to enter a tournament sponsored by an independent Texas club was on hand to contest Tom McCarty's march to the title, which the Wichita Falls player won from Theo Ferguson of Midland in the finals. Reid and Orr are on hand to form the nucleus for the track squad. Again a squad of new, untried men will face the gridiron mentors next season, but Obie Bristol, with a year of experience behind him, is expected to again work marvels with his material.

Yes, the king is dying. And we mourn his passing, for truly he was the monarch of all other years. But another regal year is preparing to take the throne in his stead. Long live the king!

Looks like Japan is getting along pretty well at protecting her property from Chinese bandits. First, thing you know they'll drive those pesky bandits right out of the Chinese capitol building if China really has one.

Japan has a pretty smooth system. The cabinet talks to the world with words. The army talks to the Chinese with bullets.

The cabinet tells the world Japan has a horror of bloodshed and only wishes to protect Japanese lives and property. The army tells the cabinet, in effect, to go snak itself, because its been wanting to do some fighting a long time and doesn't figure on waiting any longer.

And, meanwhile, the other world powers stand on the bank of the Manchurian swimmers' hole, each saying "you jump first."

LITTLE CHATS ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

If You Could Add Ten Years—Would You?

One income we have, which during youth seems limitless and inexhaustible—the glorious expenditure of twenty-four hours every day. But, as the years pass and the thought of age looms darkly before us, these hours we once squandered away so joyously become precious indeed. Age is inevitable but the early old age that assails so many of us is unnecessary and is proof that middle life can not be lived carelessly with impunity. Moderation assures added years of healthful happiness which are added to by a yearly health examination. Brookshire's Prescription Service will help, too. Ask your doctor.

The Bovines struck their stride in the second game of the year 15 run rough-shod over Brownfield 23 to 0. From then until Armistice Day it was one scoring melee after another, the Steers compiling 388 points to their opponents' 0. A single touchdown, scored on a 40 yard dash by Mike Hicks of Sweetwater, eliminated the locals from the state championship race.

Football
"Tack" Dennis, star back, led the state's touchdown parade with 140 points to his credit and secured at least two votes for all-state teams at this writing, being selected by Prexy Anderson of Abilene, and on the Herald's mythical club. David Hopper converted five blocked punts into as many touchdowns in his first five games of the season to set a modern scoring record for tackles, and was rewarded with a berth on the District 4 all-star team. Elmer Dyer, center, also won all-district honors.

And with only two, or three days remaining on 1931's schedule there is no reason to believe that the year 1932 will not find the record of the last twelve months excelled in every sport. In basketball five veterans are returned, and a raft of new material leads local enthuscarrying on its pay roll and directing the operations of three special representatives during the active months of farm work, and especially during cotton picking season thousands of workers were directed to localities where they were needed.

Several state-wide surveys were made, the most important of these being the gathering of data on the natural resources of the state. The information gained on location, accessibility and quantity of mineral deposits and other natural resources will be of great value in efforts to interest capitalists in their development. This feature of the department's work serves two beneficial purposes, one being to induce the development and utilization of the state's natural resources, thereby creating new taxable assets and enhancing the wealth of the state. The other and most humanly beneficial outcome would be the creation of employment for labor, that element in human affairs most essential to the happiness and contentment of that great portion of the citizenry constituted by the working class.
