Around Muleshoe

High wind and sand ushered in light showers throughout the area Friday afternoon, depositing only negligible amounts of moisture.

National Weather Service offices predicted the very high humidity would continue to create uncomfortable conditions as it combined with predicted temperatures in the high 90s.

NWS spokesmen said the hot, muggy conditions would continue through Wednesday.

Ford Division of the Ford Motor Company recently announced that Kent Kelley has attained membership in the Ford Society of Professional Sales Counselors for 1978.

Society membership can only be attained by those Ford salesmen who display outstanding sales achievement during the calendar year, explained a spokesman for Muleshoe Motor Company.

Kelley is employed with Muleshoe Motor Company, and has been a member of their sales staff since 1976.

Maribeth Dillman of Muleshoe has been named to the Dean's List at McMurry College at Abilene for the spring semester, announces Dr. Paul Junmeyer, McMurry vice president and academic dean.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal B. Dillman.

The Rev. and Mrs. Gene H. Davis have received a special recognition from the Muleshoe Dairy Queen.

Bingo Planned At Coliseum Next Friday

People fond of bingo will have their chance next Friday, June 29, when the Triangle CB Club will sponsor bingo at the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum from 8-11 p.m.

One price will be charged for the cards, which will feature small cash prizes for winners during the evening, followed by a large 'jackpot' bingo at the end of the evening.

Also available during the evening will be a concession stand. Proceeds from the bingo will be used to help pay for the new sound system at the civic center and coliseum.

IN FULL SWING--This member of the Golden Eagles is symbolic as she takes a hefty swing at the ball proving that the baseball and softball season in Muleshoe is in full swing at this time. Games are played all over Muleshoe every day of the week, as the several hundred people involved pack the fields.

July 4th Festivities Continue To Expand

Leading off July 4th activities in Muleshoe will be a sidewalk sale on Saturday, June 30. Merchants throughout the city will be advertising special buys in the Thursday issue of the Journal. Also, merchants will be dressed in their very special pioneer days clothing during the day.

Then, Tuesday night, July 3, the Triangle CB Club will be sponsoring a country and western dance at the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum.

This dance will be a benefit dance to help pay for the new $6,000 sound system installed at the center and will be open to country and western music fans of all ages.

Tickets have gone on sale at $5 per couple, or $5 per single and are available from Don Prather, or any member of the Triangle CB Club, or are available at First National Bank, Sear's, Lee's Western Wear or the Journal.

Entries are being sought for teams to participate in the Muleshoe Men's Softball League 3-2 tournament on July 4th.

Action is limited to teams in the local league and entry fee is $25 per team. All entries must be turned in by Friday, June 29.

Terry Field said teams may enter by contacting him at 272-4549.

Starting off festivities on July 4th will be the Muleshoe Area Riders vs. the Valley Riding Club of Amarillo in the annual Pony Express Race from Needmore to Muleshoe. It will begin at 7:30 a.m.

At presstime, eight-year-old Joshua Huckabee of Riverside, Calif. remained in serious condition in Highland Hospital in Lubbock, with a broken leg and possible internal injuries received in a car-pedestrian accident near Muleshoe Wednesday evening.

According to THP reports, the accident occurred around 6:25 p.m. just over a mile from the east city limits of Muleshoe on Highway 70.

The report said Jerry Berry of Muleshoe was driving east on Highway 70, when he reported the youth ran out onto the highway and he was unable to stop in time to avoid striking the youth.

Joshua was brought to Muleshoe's West Plains Medical Center for emergency treatment by private vehicle. At 7:15 p.m. Wednesday, he was taken to the Lubbock hospital by Singleton-Ellis ambulance.

FB Requesting Tax Relief Law Put Into Effect

The Bailey County Farm Bureau has asked taxing jurisdictions in this county to help put the new tax relief law into effect in 1979.

In a letter to elected officials of all taxing units, Alec Schuster, president of the local county farm organization, reminded them that this law provides for limiting tax valuation on agricultural land if the owner applies by July 15, 1979.

Schuster reminded the tax officials that the Act states: "The Legislature believes that implementation of Articles 1 and 2 of this Act is both feasible and desirable and hereby expresses its intent that all taxing units in this state implement those articles for taxes imposed for the 1979 tax year unless it is impossible to do so."

The Farm Bureau officer told each one of the tax officials: "We believe that your tax office has the competence to follow this new law in 1979." The letter added: "If there is to be a proposed resolution or ordinance to deny this tax treatment in 1979, please let us know so that we can attend the hearing and present our views."

School district authorities were also reminded that any school districts which deny this valuation in 1979 will receive less state money, added Schuster.

A tax manual will be furnished by the School Tax Assessment Practices Board in late June, he continued. A training session will be offered in Austin at the University of Texas Special Events Center on June 25.

The local farm leaders said that his organization was helping notify farmers and ranchers that they should apply with all their local tax offices between July 1-15. The county Farm Bureau office will have a supply of sample applications forms for use in preparing the information for the official form, concluded Schuster.

Fuel Alcohol Plant Co-op Organizes

Grasshoppers Cause Alarming Concern

By Spencer Tanksley
County Extension Agent

Grasshoppers have been located in heavy numbers at several sites in Bailey County this past week. Every year, grasshoppers destroy crops in some part of the state, but this year we have been warned to look for them in high numbers in our area.

Grasshoppers normally confine themselves to range land and grass type plants. However, they often damage cultivated crops like alfalfa, clover, corn, cotton, sorghums, sugarbeets, lettuce, potatoes and fruit trees.

It has been estimated that eight grasshoppers per square acre can consume grass at about the same rate as a cow. When the infestation reaches 30 to 60 grasshoppers per square yard, all the grass may be destroyed.

Grasshoppers that feed primarily on crops and most of the range species survive the winter in the egg stage only. The eggs are laid in the summer and fall, remain in the ground during winter and generally hatch in May and June. The breeding area may cover several areas or only a few square feet. The female deposits her eggs in grass sod or the bare ground and digs the tunnel, usually an inch or more in depth, for the eggs to be deposited in. The number of eggs laid by each female varies widely among each species of grasshoppers.

The most critical period in the life of a new grasshopper is at hatching. An abnormal warm period may appear in early spring and force the hatching prematurely. Also, periods of a week or more of continuously cloudy, wet weather are favorable for the development of bacterial and fungal diseases which attack the young hoppers. The length of the wet weather period and not the total amount of Cont. page 6, Col. 2

Senior Babe Ruth Wins Two Games To Widen Record

After two more games, the Muleshoe Senior Babe Ruth Team is listed with a 6-4 record.

Last Sunday, on Father's Day, they played Friona here and although Friona had five home runs, the reds still held on to win as they pounded out 22 hits for a final 16-12 score.

Roland Perez was winning pitcher and all members who played had at least one hit.

Mickey Long, Lupe Rosales, Appy Sanchez, Stefan Moore and Mark Harmon, each had two hits; Monty Jones and Roland Perez, both had three hits; Johnny McDonald and Philip Jesko each had one hit Ramon Guillen had four hits.

This was followed up last Tuesday night when the Muleshoe Reds downed Nazareth 16-10 and had a total of 20 hits. Again Perez was the winning pitcher.

Don Long, Mark Harmon and Monty Jones all tabbed home runs during the game.

Recording hits were Appy Sanchez and Roland Perez, each one; Mark Harmon, Lupe Rosales and Johnny McDonald, two; Cont. page 6, Col. 1

Muleshoe Area High On Priority Lists

If everything goes together right and the study shows Muleshoe would be a good location, a $30,000,000 fuel alcohol plant will be constructed near Muleshoe within the next two to two and half years.

Another meeting between growers and proponents of a closed cooperative to construct the plant resulted in a number of farmers signing up to join the new cooperative which will be controlled on a local basis according to Clayton Litchfield, president of Grain Products International Inc. from North Dakota.

Thursday night, Litchfield, Ken Spitzer, also from North Dakota and Ron Brecke, spent an evening explaining again to the growers the process involved in constructing the plant capable of producing 20,000,000 gallons of fuel alcohol each year.

Building Permits Are Slow

After getting off to a moderate start for the year, building permits slowed down when money became harder to get.

In May, Ruel Gonzales of 418 N. Ninth St. received a remodeling permit in the amount of $6,000.

Two permits were issued to J&R Construction for the construction of new homes at 912 West Ninth, $29,230 and 910 West Ninth, $28,930.

A permit was issued to Chester Yerby for $6,000 for remodeling at 422 West Eighth and the Corral Restaurant received a permit for A&M Construction to construct an addition to the restaurant in the amount of $6,049.

Largest permit in May was to Stockard Construction. It was in the amount of $90,000 to build a new home at 1702 West Avenue I.

In June, permits were issued to Doyle King, $1,925, for remodeling at 1820 West Avenue B and for $1,500 to Jerrell Pruitt for remodeling at 512 West Avenue B.

According to their explanation was a statement by Litchfield, "We are talking about a real dynamic product when you talk about using it (gasohol) in your car and my car."

He continued, "The farmer has the opportunity of a lifetime, the product is needed and you own the product."

He stated that GPI was formed as a structure to be a marketing arm for farmers willing to band together and produce alcohol to be used as fuel.

Litchfield advocated for farmers to "Get in fast, and get in big," as the cooperative would be closed as soon as the necessary 7,000,000 bushels of grain for production have been signed up.

Litchfield explained that farmers will finance the $30 million plant with $24 million or 80 percent being a long term loan with the collateral being the plant itself. The additional 20 percent, or $6 million dollars would be financed by the farmers for their equity.

It would also be on shorter terms, a five to seven year payoff, he added, and will be non-collateral personal Cont. page 6, Col. 1

Laura Jesko Died Friday From Injury

Eleven year old Laura Jesko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jesko of Lazbuddie, died shortly after 5 p.m. Friday from head injuries received in an accident 11 miles north of Muleshoe on Wednesday, June 6.

After receiving emergency treatment at West Plains Medical Center in Muleshoe, she was transferred to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, where she succumbed to her injuries Friday.

Five other persons were injured in the head-on collision that occurred just north of the Clay's Corner intersection shortly after noon June 6.

Funeral services for Laura Jesko were pending a Parson-Ellis Funeral Home at Friona at presstime.

SOURCES OF FISH
LUBBOCK --- Recent runoff from heavy rains has filled many of the farm/ranch ponds, tanks, and playa lakes in north-west Texas. Most of these lakes were either dry or had little water and no fish.

For those Texas pond-owners who applied for fish last year from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, the rains came at the right time as the fish were delivered this month.

Pondowners wanting state fish to stock next spring can write the P&WD for an application next month. Since the state hatcheries operate on a year-to-year basis, normally fish cannot be applied for and received in the same year.

Pondowners wanting fish to stock this summer can obtain a list of commercial fish farmers from the P&WD. These fish producers sell fish in several sizes for stocking lakes.

For a new 1980 P&WD fish application or a list of fish farmers, write the P&WD, Hatchery Coordinator, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, Tx. 78744.

LAKES BECOMING CROWDED
LUBBOCK --- Summer temperatures and leisure time means most area lakes are crowded with water enthusiasts and the chances for water-related accidents have increased, also.

The most dangerous encounter can be the meeting of a moving boat with a submerged skier or swimmer in the water.

The Lubbock regional law enforcement office has already received a report of injury to a skier that fell in front of a boat. The resulting injury was not fatal, but painful.

The P&WD recommends that boaters and skiers follow these rules:

--Have two persons in towboat, one to run it and watch the water ahead, and one to watch the skier and relay information to the skipper.

--Stay clear of swimmers.

--Don't tow skier in heavily traveled or restricted waters such as swimming areas, narrow winding channels, and areas containing docks, floats, bouys, and anchored boats.

--Make sure the skier is wearing an approved PFD (personal flotation device.) If they fall, approach them from the downwind side.

--Stop motor or throw it in neutral before taking skier on board.

--Use a boarding ladder. Be careful not to swamp boat.

--Know the water skiing signals as this is the only communication between the skier and boat operator.

LAND GIFT TO P&WD
BIG SPRING --- The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will receive approximately 38 acres of land adjoining the Big Spring State Recreational Area during ceremonies on June 21, 1979.

The acreage, formally a part of Webb A.F.B., will be donated to the P&WD by the Heritage Conservation and Recreation Service, a division of the U.S. Dept. of Interior.

The new tract of land will increase the recreation area to 527 acres and furnish additional opportunities for hiking and nature study by park visitors. The P&WD has no immediate plans for facility development on the new tract.

The new tract of land will act as an important buffer zone between residential development and the main park area.

HABITAT KEY TO WILDLIFE SURVIVAL

WHEELER--- Anything the landowner can do this month to provide adequate food and cover for wildlife could determine their chances of survival next winter.

"Individuals wanting to increase or sustain wildlife species should think about next winter now and complete those operations such as discing, planting and livestock control," said Richard Dearthment, P&WD extension biologist.

"Last winter was very hard on wildlife species such as quail and those persons who provided adequate habitat last summer retained more birds when the ice and snow storms hit in January and February," Dearthment continued.

Such operations as discing will cause weeds to grow. These weeds will not only furnish cover but feed later in the year. If these weed patches are exposed to livestock grazing, the good wildlife weeds will be eaten as cattle as well as wildlife prefer them.

The wildlife specialist recommends that those weed plots be fenced to protect the wild food for wildlife. These areas could include playa lakes, shelterbelts, or brush.

Planting grains such as maize, corn, wheat, sunflowers or other crops in areas near established wildlife cover will also provide food next winter.

Restraints on general insecticide and herbicide spraying near wildlife habitat should be considered since most game birds eat tons of grasshoppers and other insects injurious to area farm crops.

Additional assistance on where and what to plant for wildlife on your property is available by writing Richard Dearthment, P&WD, Box 122, Wheeler, TX. 79096.

Stone Age Technique Butchering Conducted

LUBBOCK --It's hard to imagine how early man, say about 12,000 years ago, went about butchering a mammoth, but modern archeologists got a real sense of the problem this week (week of June 10) by butchering an elephant.

The circus-trained Indian elephant died enroute to Denver, was sent to a rendering plant and the carcass recaptured by Colorado State Archeologist Bruce E. Rippeteau. It was Rippeteau who invited archeologists specializing in early American cultures to help butcher the 9,000 pound beast to learn Stone Age techniques.

Among those invited was Dr. Eileen Johnson, director of the Lubbock Lake Site research project which has been unearthing evidence of man's habitation of the area from 12,000 years ago to the near past. The research is done through The Museum of Texas Tech University.

Dr. George Frison, Wyoming state archeologist and a Paleolithic specialist who has experimentally butchered several bison (buffalo), also participated. The Clovis Age tools used were produced by Bruce Bradley, working with Frison this summer at Agate Basin in Wyoming, and Bruce Huckle, archeologist of the Arizona State Museum, Tucson. Both are lithic technologists who replicated tools of the 11,000- to 12,000-year old culture. They used primitive techniques and patterns taken from artifacts found at the Clovis level in various digs.

Johnson found the practice butchering an invaluable learning experience. Rippeteau said the experience was an improvement over the first such activity done at the Smithsonian Institution because the Denver elephant was completely intact and not frozen.

The activity began with Bradley, Huckle, Frison and Rippeteau thrusting Clovis points into the carcass to see how a death blow might have been inflicted on a mammoth. William Butler, federal archeologist of Denver, threw wooden atlatls (an ancient throwing stick) at it to see if the velocity of the wooden tool could compensate for its comparatively light weight. Rippeteau said no atlatl could penetrate the thick hide.

"This exercise could very well revise some of our thinking on how primitive man killed big game," Johnson said, but other butchering activities provided more insight. From the bones the archeologist judged that mammoths must have been about twice as big as the elephant, but the muscle meat was heavy. "It took two of us to carry some of it from the carcass to the meat pile."

"One of the most interesting things I discovered," she said, "is that we automatically, without being directed, formed teams to do the work. And when we were finished, four areas had developed, also without planning."

One was the carcass area, another a bone pile. There was a stack of meat and the fourth area was a tool production site. Tool debris was left at each end of the carcass as workers sharpened the tools they were using.

Johnson said 60 to 70 tools were used. Those butchering resharpened some of their tools during the process but, as they wore out, they were collected for future analysis and study, and new tools were issued. The tools were of various kinds of cherts and of quartzite. They will be analyzed for wear patterns and to discover why some lasted longer than others. Complete records were kept on each tool used and on each step of the butchering process.

"The micro activity areas fit closely the model found at the Lubbock Lake Site," she said. "Without any overt leadership our teams just fell into a pattern suggestive of primitive butchering."

Another factor discovered by the archeologists was that the elephant meat stayed fresh as long as it did. They could not cut into the carcass until four days after death. While they were braced for working with putrid meat, they found it in good condition and of consumable quality.

"It was a new experience for me and for most of the archeologists," Johnson said. "The idea of practicing with Stone Age tools isn't unique, but it is rarely done and it gives archeologists an opportunity to look at our data in a different light."

She said Dr. Frison gave experienced leadership for the butchering, Dr. Marie Wormington of Denver, another of America's leading authorities on early man in the New World, observed. Dr. Glynn Isaac, University of California - Berkeley, sent him several graduate students who assisted with the work. Isaac is co-director with Richard Leakey of Africa's Lake Turkana archeological project.

Johnson's participation was funded by a grant from the National Science Foundation, which includes studying butchering patterns and microwear analysis of butchering tools found at the Lubbock Lake Site.

MR. AND MRS. LARRY PARKER (nee) MISS BEVERLY BIGGERSTAFF

Beverly Biggerstaff, Parker Solemnize Vow

An arc candelabra centered the alter, flanked by spiral and cathedral candelabras, accented with comadore, sprenger fern and peach satin bows. A memory candle nestled in an arrangement of peach daisies and gypsophilia, leather leaf fern and sprenger completed the decor. Pew markers for the parents and grandparents were of peach satin bows, daisies and sprenger.

This set the scene for the double ring ceremony which united Miss Beverly Ann Biggerstaff and Larry Wayne Parker, both of Muleshoe, on June 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Muleshoe. Bill Swindler officiated at the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Corkey Biggerstaff and Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Parker, all of Muleshoe.

Haldon Messamore of Sudan and Charlie Johnson of Pampa sang "Color My World" and "There Is Love".

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of organza and all-over re-embroidered Chantilly lace. The moulded bodice featured a wedding band neckline with a high cluny lace collar and a sheer yoke, which was accented in Venise lace medallions. The yoke was outlined in a Venise accented cluny lace ruffle. Long sheppard sleeves were shirred to wide cluny lace cuffs. Venise lace medallions were sprinkled throughout the sheer portion of the sleeve. The natural waistline was emphasized with a satin ribbon and another Venise medallion. The gown swept to back fullness, forming a chapel length train. The front of the skirt was designed in all-over Chantilly lace. The back of the skirt and train was designed in tiers of sheer organza ruffles. Each ruffle was trimmed in a wide row of Cluny lace. An organza ruffle was gathered down each side seam.

To complete her ensemble, she wore a matching mantilla veiling. The entire veil was edged in cluny lace and drifted gracefully to fingertip length.

For the traditional something old, she wore her mother's garter, her maternal grandmother's first wedding ring, and her paternal grandmother's pearl earrings. Something new was her dress and veil and she borrowed her shoes from Benetta Roming of Muleshoe. Something blue was the traditional blue garter.

She carried a silk cascading bouquet of white rosebuds, white roses, peach daisies and lilly of the valley. Daisies and foliage accented the streamers of Chantilly lace and satin.

Matron of honor was Denise Flint of Granbury, Texas. Bridesmaids were Melissa Biggerstaff, Judy Biggerstaff and Terri Biggerstaff, all sisters of the bride of Muleshoe. Torrie Davis of Muleshoe attended as flower girl.

The bridal attendants wore identical gowns of apricot organza. The bodices featured V-necklines and tiered butterfly sleeves. They were fitted to wide waistbands and full floor length skirts featured flounce hemlines. Each gown was designed with a bustle back, which could be worn up or down. The bustles were accented with self-fabric flowers at the waistline.

The maid of honor carried a nosegay of silk flowers in the bride's chosen colors of peach and white. The bridesmaids wore silk daisy hair pieces. Each carried a single stem peach silk rose with gypsophilia and satin ribbon. The flower girl carried a wicker basket trimmed with peach silk daisies, filled with love knots. She wore a silk flower in her hair identical to the bridesmaids.

Gary Parker, brother of the groom of Muleshoe served as best man. Groomsman were Carrey Sudduth of Lubbock, and Roger Williams and Dan Ellis of Muleshoe.

Ushers were Doug Crawford and Robert Shafer of Muleshoe and Brian Nichols of Hobbs, N.M. The groom wore a white tuxedo with a white shirt. A white carnation boutonniere complimented the lapel. His attendants were attired in chocolate brown tuxedos with velvet lapels and apricot shirts. The ushers wore chocolate brown tuxedos with white shirts.

Mrs. Biggerstaff wore a chiffonette gown of apricot and marigold print. The moulded bodice was designed in a modified blouson and featured a high crushed collar and split sleeves. A full A-line skirt fell from the waistline and drifted to floor-length. Complimenting her attire was a coral cymbidium orchid corsage accented with satin leaves and lace.

Mrs. Parker wore a tan and beige floral gown which featured long full sleeves gathered at the wrist with wide cuffs. The waistline bodice was tied with a self-fabric belt. The square neckline was complimented with a coral cymbidium orchid corsage.

A wedding reception followed in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The bride's table was covered with a cloth of ecru lace and highlighted by an arrangement of shades of peach elegance carnations, carnations, daisies and gypsophilia in a filigree brass center. The four tiered wedding cake was topped traditional miniature and groom figurine fountain, separating bottom layer, was cled with peach daisy gypsophilia, leather fern and sprenger.

Serving from the table were Lynn Schm Clovis, N.M., G Rasco of Muleshoe Pam Ballard, the br cousin of Lubbock.

For a wedding trip, Dallas, Mrs. Parker w-off-white and brown cloth dress. Her g away corsage was a p cymbidium orchid.

Keep cool with cucumbers as days grow warmer. The pulp temperature of cucumbers from the refrigerator can be 20 degrees cooler than the air outside on a hot day.

Cucumbers also make a low-calorie snack for waist-watchers-- they have only 55 calories per pound. An unpared cucumber contains a rich source of iron and vitamins A and C as well as other needed minerals and vitamins.

Cucumbers are available in two classes according to use--those used fresh for the table called "slicing cucumbers" and other varieties used for pickling.

Cucumbers are ideal accompaniments to summer meals.

For eating raw, slice or dice fresh cucumbers for relishes or salads.

Cut lengthwise into sticks with the skin left on or cut crosswise into discs, they add color to a relish tray.

Also slice them for use in sandwiches or serve with vinegar, salt and pepper. Store cucumbers in the refrigerator.

Try these recipes:

SPRING VEGETABLE SALAD

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin, 1 1/2 cups hot water, 1/2 cup sour cream, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup green pepper, diced, 1/2 cup celery, diced, 1/2 cup cucumber, diced, 1/2 cup radishes, sliced, 1/4 cup green onion, sliced.

Dissolved gelatin in hot water. Chill until syrupy. Blend in sour cream and salt. Chill until slightly thickened.

Add vegetables and pour into a 5 to 6 cup mold. Chill until firm. Makes six to eight servings.

CUCUMBER SALAD

1 package lime gelatin, 1 cup hot water, 1 cup chopped cucumbers, 1/4 cup stuffed olives, cut up, 1 cup cottage cheese, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Mix lime gelatin in hot water. When gelatin begins to congeal, stir in remainder of ingredients. Makes four to six servings.

CUCUMBERS AND SOUR CREAM

2 cucumbers, 1 cup sour cream, 2 tablespoons chopped pecans, 2 teaspoons grated onion, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon salt.

Peel cucumbers. Slice thin and chill. Mix other ingredients together. Toss all lightly. May be served on greens. Makes four servings.

TOPS Has Weekly Meeting

Leader Clara Lou Jones called the TOPS Club to order on Thursday, June 21 at 6 p.m. in the Community Room of Bailey County Electric Co-op.

The TOPS pledge was recited and members sang the TOPS song.

Roll call was given by Evelene Harris with 23 members weighing in.

Evelene Harris was crowned the weekly queen and Evelyn Moore and Clara Lou Jones tied for first runner up. Second runner up was Rose Sain.

Receiving material for three weeks of consecutive weight loss were Evelene Harris and Evelyn Moore.

One visitor, Pat Province of England was welcomed. County Extension Agent Linda Mullin presented a program on weight control.

The meeting was dismissed with the Goodnight Song.

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan
A crisp salad and hard, seeded rolls will compliment this spaghetti-cheese pie for a complete meal.

Spaghetti-Cheese Pie

- 1 8-oz. pkg. spaghetti
- 1/2 lb. sliced bacon
- 1/2 c frozen chopped onions
- 1/2 lb. fresh mushrooms, sliced
- 3 eggs
- 1 c milk
- 1/4 t pepper
- 1 t Worcestershire
- 2 c packaged shredded Cheddar cheese
- 1/4 c buttered fresh bread crumbs
- 2 T chopped parsley for garnish

Preparation time about 1 1/4 hours. Cook, then drain spaghetti as label directs. Pre-heat oven to 350 degrees.

Meanwhile, in large skillet, saute bacon; remove from skillet; drain off all but 1 tablespoon drippings; add onions and mushrooms; brown lightly. Break bacon into 1-inch pieces.

Arrange cooked spaghetti in 10-inch pie plate; place mushroom mixture and bacon on top. In medium bowl, beat eggs slightly; beat in milk, pepper, Worcestershire; stir in cheese. Pour over spaghetti. Top with bread crumbs. Bake 25 minutes.

Remove from oven; sprinkle with parsley; let stand 5 minutes before cutting. Makes 6 servings.

bag, rug yarn pom pom dog, grannie crochet afghan, hand painted cream pitcher, ash tray candle holder and candle. The hostess gift, a mushroom design kitchen towel and pot holder, was won by Mabel Caldwell. The hostess Ola Epperly served refreshments of dips and chips, nuts, Mississippi Mud Cake, tea and coffee. Members present were Verna Dement, Vickie Hendricks, Sammie Ethridge, Ethel Julien, LeVina Pitts, Ruth Bass, Opal Robison, Gertie Kirk, Hallie Briscoe, Myrtle Chambliss, Jo Wilson, Dora Phipps, Fiddle Shafer, Mae Loyd, Bernice Amerson, Mabel Caldwell, Ola Epperly and one guest, Dawn Wallace.

Children's Home Association Made Plaques

The Muleshoe Associates of the Portales Christian Children's Home completed eight owl plaques for the benefit of the home on Tuesday, June 12. The group met in the home of Ethel Julien.

Refreshments of cake, candy, tea and coffee were served to Jackie Johnson, Onedia Cornelison, Bernice Amerson, Modene Elmore, Vickie Hendricks, Ruth Williams, and Mabel Caldwell, by the hostess, Mrs. Julien.

The group encourages any interested persons to join them in making the owl plaques to sell for the children.

Military Construction Inflation May Be Cut Texas Hog Growers Begin Breeding Stock Buildup

Considered a major break through in efforts to eliminate inflation in military construction projects, the Senate Armed Services Committee today approved an amendment introduced by Sen. John Tower which waives application of the 1931 Davis-Bacon Act for military construction in FY 1980, estimated to save taxpayers as much as $210 million.

The Tower amendment, approved by the Military Construction and Stockpiles Subcommittee Tuesday by 5-3, and retained by full committee today by 11-5, now becomes part of the $3.7 billion Military Construction Authorization Bill for FY 1980.

"I am extremely pleased that the Committee, after careful examination of the inflationary impact Davis-Bacon has had on construction over the years, decided to eliminate it from military construction in 1980, at a savings Department of Defense officials estimated could range as high as $210 million," Tower said after the vote.

"Davis-Bacon impedes the entry of minority workers into government work," Tower said in applauding the vote, "and among other things, its waiver means there will be increased competition for military contracts as more contractors would compete for jobs; administrative costs would not be passed on to government in contract bids; and we could fund as a result of this waiver nearly all the high priority unfunded military construction projects for FY 1980."

The Davis-Bacon Act, originally enacted during the Depression to help protect workers in one area from unscrupulous contractors who underbid on contracts, thereby driving down wages, has in practice had the opposite effect. Its provisions, requiring the Secretary of Labor to set prevailing wage rates for various classes of laborers nationally, has contributed to inflation in all Federally assisted construction projects.

The General Accounting Office, the congressional watchdog agency, has called for outright repeal of the Act, as well as repeal of the Davis-Bacon provisions in nearly 80 different statutes. Among other reasons for its needed repeal, Tower noted after the GAO report was made public, Davis-Bacon increased government costs an average of 3.4%, with some wages increasing 123% above normal, and in some projects, wages paid because of Davis-Bacon provisions were 37% above comparable local wages.

"Secretary of Defense Brown admits that there is a $32 million backlog in military construction, and the FY 80 budget is 20% below that requested in FY 79. If we are to provide a 5% growth in this bill over FY 79, we would have to add some $800 million in projects. By eliminating Davis-Bacon, and its unnecessary costs to military construction, the Committee wisely decided the savings from Davis-Bacon would provide more defense for the military dollar," Tower said.

Tower, ranking Republican on the Armed Services Committee, and an outspoken critic of the Davis-Bacon Act and its inflationary costs to American taxpayers, expressed confidence that his amendment would withstand attempts by Carter Administration lobbyists, to retain Davis-Bacon in the FY 80 Military Construction Authorization bill when it reaches the Senate floor.

Texas Hog Growers Begin Breeding Stock Buildup

AUSTIN--Texas' pork producers appear to be rebuilding their breeding stock, the Texas Department of Agriculture reports, a move which could herald increased output in the near future.

Although the number of hogs and pigs on Texas farms as of March 1 remained unchanged from a year ago, figures compiled by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service show there was a 10 percent increase in the number of breeding hogs from a year ago.

Hogs and pigs totaled 800,000 head, with breeding hogs accounting for 16.5 percent of the total. Market hogs, at 668,000 head, are down 2 percent.

"The most recent quarterly report shows the December through February pig crop was up by 2 percent," Agriculture Commissioner

Reagan V. Brown commented. "A higher number of pig per litter accounted for most of the increase."

Texas hog producers plan to breed 98,000 sows during the next six months, the report shows, 3 percent more than a year ago.

Texas Ag Facts

The Texas Department of Agriculture is often called upon to provide official calibrations on a variety of devices used in commercial transactions. However, the Department's metrologist have weighed such divers items as bowling balls and elephant tusks upon special request.

It's a poor brain that has to be fired by alcohol before it can function.

OPERATIONS BOARD--Don Prather of the Triangle CB Club shows the control board for the new $6,000 sound system installed by the club at the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum. Various events are being conducted to pay for the new system.

Nursing Home News
By Joy Stancell

The Ladies' Fellowship and children from the Lazbuddie Methodist Church came Friday to give the residents a devotional and special thoughts were shared. The children sang to the residents and afterwards there was an ice cream party in the dining room in honor of Father's Day. W.W. Parker is the youngest father in the Nursing Home and Horace Brock is the oldest.

Thursday afternoon, friends and members of the Senior Citizens came to play '42' with the residents. Participating were Onnie McDaniel, Marie Engram, Maggie London, Carrie Boydston and Archie Scarlett.

E.B. Wilson came to hold Bible Study with the residents Sunday Morning. Attending were Onnie McDaniel, Maggie London, Docia Parish, Marie Engram, Edna Henderson, Marie Patton, Dottie Wilterding, Carrie Boydston, Archie Scarlett and a visitor, Buck Slaughter.

Reese AFB Schedules Two-Day Open House

If you missed the U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds Aerial Demonstration Team show at Cannon Air Force Base, New Mexico last week. And, you can't make their show at Dyess Air Force Base, Texas on July 7th. Then plan now to attend their show on Sunday, August 5, 1979 during the Reese Air Force Base Open House.

This year Reese's Annual Open House will take on a different format from recent years. The event has been extended into a two day affair with many new activities added to the schedule of events.

The festivities will be honoring Reese's thirtieth year of service as an active Air Force Base.

The Open House will be held on Saturday, August 4, and Sunday, August 5, 1979.

Saturday will be filled with a variety of activities, many of which will be held in conjunction with the Open House for the first time.

Civilian aircraft will be permitted to fly-in to Reese between 9 a.m. and 12 noon. People who fly-in are invited to lunch at the Officers' Club and attend special briefings of interest to both military and civilian pilots on the topics of aerospace physiology and flying training operations at Reese. They are also invited to remain over night for Sunday's Thunderbird show.

Also scheduled for Saturday are a chili cook-off, a motorcycle demonstration, an ol' fiddler's contest, a pig roast barbeque dinner

Some of the latest military and civilian aircraft will be on display each day along the Reese flightline.

For further information, or to arrange live flightline coverage, please contact Bill Tynan at (806) 885-3410/3169.

PIVOT TALK
by Arnie
Center pivot motors must operate a full load immediately when called upon to move.

Because of the initial high torque requirement, Lockwood motors have 1-1/2 horse power starting torque with a continuous rating of 1 hp. The motors are thermally protected internally which just means no heaters are required and the "clix on" protectors automatically reset themselves. If for some reason a motor were to overload and the problem correct itself, the motor would reset and come back on stream automatically without ever shutting the system down. The motors are closed construction with forced fan ventilation to keep cool with or without water running over the motor.

Sunflowers Effective As Alternative Crop

HALFWAY— Although comparatively small in acreage, sunflowers continue to be an important alternative crop in the cotton country of the South Plains. And working to help the sunflower enable cotton farmers to recover after their major crop has been destroyed by severe weather are research scientists of the Agricultural Experiment Station based here and at Lubbock.

An estimated 25,000 to 100,000 acres of sunflowers—mostly under con-

Farm Bureau Asks Truckers To Aid Harvest

The president of Texas' largest general farm organization urged striking independent truckers Friday not to ignore the Texas fruit and vegetable harvest.

Texas Farm Bureau President Carrol Chaloupka said, "We recognize that the trucking industry is suffering from the price of fuel and the shortage of fuel, just the same as agriculture, but this is the only income that many of these farmers will receive this year."

The harvest of fruits and vegetables in the Winter Garden area, near San Antonio, is reportedly suffering from a shortage of trucks, compounded by the Independent Truckers Association strike. Once the crops there are ready for harvest, farmers will have only a few days to market the highly perishable commodities ruin in the fields.

"We need the full cooperation of the truckers to move these perishables immediately because very soon they will be in no condition to be moved at all," said Chaloupka.

Both the Winter Garden and the Rio Grande Valley are harvesting melons, vegetables, and other crops, and the demand for trucks is, as always, huge. Practically all of the crop is transported by truck.

Chaloupka was joined by other farm leaders, including Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown, in urging the truckers to continue to move the fruit and vegetable crop.

tract—will be planted on the South Plains this year, Dr. Douglas F. Owen, TAES research scientist here, said. Owen is in charge of sunflower cultural studies at the Halfway station of the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center at Lubbock.

Scientific research conducted here and at Lubbock focuses upon selection of the best adapted sunflower hybrids for the South Plains, determining the optimum planting date, and evaluating various herbicides for effective weed control and possible damage to sunflowers.

Last year, 20 commercial sunflower hybrids were evaluated at Lubbock and Halfway. They were rated for yield, oil content, disease and insect tolerance. The research was directed by Dr. Raymond Brigham, TAES associate professor and oilseed crops research agronomist at Lubbock, and Owen.

Yields at Halfway ranged from 1,011 to 1,797 pounds per acre. Those at Lubbock ranged from 2,060 to 2,850 pounds per acre.

Average oil content of the hybrids at Halfway was 43.0 percent, with a range from 37.8 to 47.4 percent. At Lubbock, oil content averaged 48.8 percent, ranging from 45.1 to 53.8 percent.

The planting date at Halfway was June 6 while at Lubbock it was April 21, 1978.

"Research has shown that when planting is delayed, yields and oil content usually drop," Owen said. The yields on hybrids being evaluated declined as expected in 1976, but in 1977 and 1978, June 15 plantings produced higher yields than plantings in April and May, he reported.

This was probably because of lower incidence of sunflower moth damage to the later plantings those years, the TAES researcher said.

Significantly for farmers seeking a replacement for cotton destroyed in mid-season, the July 15 planting of sunflowers yielded about half as much as did earlier plantings. But this later planting still produced an average yield of 760 pounds per acre over a three-year period, Owen noted.

Six herbicides tested in sunflowers last year gave adequate weed control without damage to the crop and with no significant reduction in yield. These test evaluated effectiveness against pigweed and barnyardgrass. They were conducted at Lubbock by Dr. John R. Abernathy, assistant professor and weed physiologist, and at Halfway by Jess L. Davis, research associate.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek examines economists this week, a little bit.

Dear editor:

There are two things I've never been able to understand. (1) How teachers can grade students so accurately that, at the end of high school, their figures can show the valedictorian is one-tenth of one percent better educated than the salutatorian, and (2) how economists can calculate that the economy dropped or rose 3.3 percent in one month.

I'll skip the first one. When I finished high school, years ago, I was not in the running anyway. But the economists, they are more entertaining. Right now the big question with them is, Are we in a recession, or are we heading toward one, or is everything fairly normal except for inflation and closed filling stations?

You can get a yes and a no to all three of these possibilities, if you ask three economists. If you want to stay un-confused, never consult more than one. Going above that is like asking a roomful of kids which TV program they want to see. Or a roomful of adults. Same thing.

But what I can not understand is why an economist can not make up his mind on whether he is in a recession or not. I can tell when I'm in one. Of course I can see how an economist, if he is in the upper bracket making $75,000 a year, could maybe be excused for overlooking a minor recession.

Now a Depression, that is another thing. Most young people these days do not know what a Depression is. I will tell you how to recognize one if it comes along.

If you've got a good job, your wife's working, and you live in a modern new house with all conveniences in the suburbs with 31 more years to go on the mortgage, and an unemployed economist knocks on your door and asks if you've got any work for him to do, and you say yes, when can you start? And he says Right now, and you show him the lawnmower and he starts mowing without asking how much you pay, then, my young friends, we have got a Depression.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Texas 4-H Youth Camps

Texas 4-H Summer Camp will host about 1,000 youth for five three-day sessions in which they will learn canoeing, archery and outdoor cookery—among other activities, points out Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University System.

Held at the Texas 4-H Center, overlooking Lake Brownwood in Central Texas, the summer camp will include sessions for three age groups and provide food and lodging. Age groups are senior youth, ages 15 and up, youth ages 10-11 and youth ages 12-14.

In all ways of life, keep him swinging in the proper

STRIKE ZONE

PLAY BALL... is a familiar cry in the spring and summer. This is a time that parents and coaches, alike, encourage the boy not to swing unless the ball is in the strike zone... for in the early years of playing the game, the tendency is to swing at every pitch. This holds true in all of life, so it is up to wiser and older heads to train and encourage him in the better things. Bringing up a child is a serious matter and all can use help. Let the church help you to teach him the right ways.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Feed Manufacturing Short Course Slated

LUBBOCK-- The first Feed Manufacturing Short Course to be offered by Texas Tech University, incorporating the use of its unique feed mill operation, will take place Aug. 13-17. Texas Tech is sponsoring the short course in cooperation with the Texas Grain and Feed, Texas Cattle Feeders and the American Feed Manufacturers associations.

Registration is limited to 50 persons. The cost is $375, with an Aug. 1 registration deadline. Fees, made out to Texas Tech University, should be sent to the Division of Continuing Education, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas 79409. Dr. C. Reed Richardson is coordinator for the course, and his telephone number is 806: 742-2814.

"There is a dire need for more expertise in feed mill management," Richardson said, "and this short course is designed to supply information and training of specific importance to both commercial producers and feed lot mill personnel."

"Everything connected with livestock is nutrition oriented but, as there are advances in understanding nutrition, feed mill operation advances. The short course will help managers keep up with the most recent developments."

Topics to be covered include management, feed formulation, manufacturing practices, customer relations, personnel management, inventory and cost control, employee safety, equipment selection, electrical systems and maintenance.

On the final day participants may choose areas of special interest, either commercial operation or feed lot feed mill operation. These sessions will deal with problems and methods of production specific kinds of feeds.

The faculty includes: Richardson and Dr. Robert C. Albin, who heads the Texas Tech Department of Animal Science; Wayne Bellanger, corporate safety director, Conagra; L.S. Hall, manager, Engineering Department, Mill Mutual Fire Prevention Bureau; Jack Hamill, general manager, Hi-Pro Division, Friona Industries Inc.; Vernon Hayes, Hayes & Stolz Manufacturing Co. Inc.; Dr. A. Allen Heidebrecht, chairman, Acco Feeds; Dr. Hollis Klett, consultant, Nutrition Service Associations Inc.; Reed MacBain, sales manager, California Pellet Mill Co.; R.H. Mason, assistant division head, Nutrina Feed Division; Robert McElhiney, Department of Grain Science and Industry, Kansas State University; Robert L. Parker, president, Paris Milling Co.; Curt Wagner, president, Wagner Machine Co.; and Deloyd Walls, direct sales manager, Acco Feeds.

The advisory committee for the short course included representatives from sponsoring associations and industry representatives from Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. Participants will spend some time at the feed mill at the Texas Tech college of Agricultural Sciences field laboratory. The $1.5 million mill is the only one of its kind devoted entirely to university research related to livestock feeding.

VETERAN PRIORITY
 The Supreme Court ruled that laws giving military veterans special preferences are constitutional and do not impermissibly discriminate against women. The ruling was considered a major setback to the women's rights movement.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I read with interest your short statement in today's paper that "the city council approved continuing the taxes on vehicles." Am I the only person in Muleshoe who feels a great injustice was thus done to the people of Muleshoe? This cruel tax, in the days of high automobile prices and high gasoline prices, is an intolerable burden on the working people of Muleshoe, indeed a rip-off in my opinion.

The State government realized that people are being taxed to death and after, and gave our city council the opportunity to get rid of this tax on Muleshoe car owners, but as your paper stated, "the city council approved continuing the taxes on vehicles."

I would hope that the poor working people of Muleshoe would let the city council know that "they" do not approve of continuing the taxes on vehicles; the vehicle that gets them to work, to church, to the hospital and to home. Perhaps its true that the City of Muleshoe is in great financial shape as the auditor stated, but I tell him and the council that there are hundreds of people in Muleshoe who are NOT in great financial shape and getting rid of this tax would have greatly helped them, or the people who are truly The City of Muleshoe.

Dr. Jerry Gregory
