CIO Claims Lewis Back In AFL Fold

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (AP)—A CIO-Auto Workers contention that John L. Lewis secretly has taken his United Mine Workers back into the AFL was raised today as the labor-management conference reconvened after Armistice Day holiday.

The contention—quickly denied by Lewis and the AFL—was voiced by Richard T. Frankenstein, vice president of the CIO-Auto Workers union such a reaffiliation would give the AFL another vote in the conference.

Associates of Lewis denied the Frankenstein report, which the auto workers official said he had on "very good information," and AFL President William Green told newsmen it was "bunk." CIO President Philip Murray said he knew nothing about it.

Thus far in the conference which opened last week to seek a solution to labor unrest throughout the country Lewis and the AFL have supported the same objectives.

They teamed up to get the mine workers' chief a seat on the conference's powerful executive committee, and they were jointly critical of a resolution by Murray seeking to have the conference add the wage issue to its work program.

Murray told a reporter last night he would not change his resolution and that the executive committee which meets at 11 a. m. (CST) today could take it up whenever it desired. He added that he would not press for action.

The session here was in charge of T. A. Barfield, county agent of Dawson county.

W. Rupe, head of the dairy department of Texas A&M, who spoke on "Herd Management"; and D. T. Simons, secretary of the Jersey Cattle club, who spoke on "Herd Improvement Through Breeding."

The second meeting was being held in Lubbock today, the third slated for Plainview on Wednesday and the final one in Tullis on Thursday.

U. S. Denies Giving China Undue Aid

CHUNGKING, Nov. 13 (AP)—American officials denied flatly today, amid increased reports of civil war, that the United States had gone beyond war-time commitments in military assistance to China.

An American embassy spokesman termed completely unfounded the communist published report that China would get a $64,000,000 loan for purchase of munitions from the United States.

Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer said the United States would keep its war-time contract to equip 39 Chinese divisions but denied communist reports that 70 divisions would be supplied by the United States. He said conversations regarding military aid to China were on a much higher governmental plane than his and he had no information on whether commitments might be increased.

In Washington, Secretary of War Patterson said "there is no danger of our troops becoming involved in civil war in China unless they are attacked."

The Americans in China, Patterson stated, are concerned entirely with disarmament and repatriation of Japanese troops.

From the war fronts, serious fighting was reported in interior Manchuria with a greater battle building up along the North China-Manchu border.

A communist spokesman asserted, without confirmation, that nationalist troops were pushed toward the Manchurian border to deal a "serious blow" at the communist forces, presumably in the Shanhaiwan area.

Another unconfirmed report, from Chinwangtao, said communist troops in Shantung province were embarking at the port of Penglai, northwest of Chefoo, for southeastern Manchuria which is 70 miles across the Yellow Sea. The move

He speaks first at the Lions club meeting at noon, an open affair. At 3:30 p. m. Dr. Elkins is to address another meeting, to which the public is invited in the high school auditorium. At 7 p. m. Dr. Elkins is to be heard in a radio address over station KBST.

Stress was being laid upon the 3:30 p. m. session when opportunity will be given for questions to be raised from the floor concerning a junior college.

Absentee voting on the issue was to end today at the county clerk's office. At noon the total absentee votes stood at eight.

Polls open Saturday at 8 p. m. in the 15 voting boxes of the county, and they will close at 7 p. m. This includes creation of the district, the levying of a maximum 20 cent tax and authorization of $200,000 in bonds for initial construction, etc.

Any qualified voter may vote in the election of seven trustees for the proposed district.

The American Business Club has undertaken the responsibility of getting out the vote in Big Spring Saturday.

Enigma Enveils Death Of Seay, Found Yesterday

Robbery No Motive For Violence, Sheriff Says

STANTON, Nov. 13—Morris Zimmerman, Martin county sheriff, set about today to unravel the enigma unveiling the death of Miles Yulee Seay, 49, whose battered body was found near a railroad track embankment some four miles west of Stanton by T & P railway section hands at approximately 11:30 o'clock Monday morning.

Immediately prior to his death, estimated by Zimmerman to have occurred as long as a week ago, Seay was employed as a dish washer in a Big Spring restaurant. He had returned from the West Coast only recently.

The victim was originally of San Angelo, where his mother, Mrs. S. H. Carrington, still lives, but is said to have been home only once in the past 15 years. In recent years, Seay had been working in California, Nevada and Oregon. He registered for Selective Service at Medford Oregon.

Deputy Sheriff Ogal Avery, who made the preliminary investigation with Coroner Lynn White, Stanton, said that Seay had apparently met with foul play. He had been decapitated from a series of blows about the head. White returned a verdict of murder by parties unknown.

Impressions in the weeds near the man's body inspired the theory that Seay had been hurled from an automobile after a death struggle.

Robbery apparently had not been the motive, since Seay's wallet containing $51.13 in cash had not been removed.

The body was taken to Midland by the Ellis Funeral Home. It will be transported overland to San Angelo, where services will be conducted sometime this week.

Truman Announces Joint Committee Establishment

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—President Truman announced today the United States has agreed to the establishment of a joint Anglo-American committee to examine the whole Palestine problem.

The British suggested the creation of the committee after Mr. Truman had proposed admission of an additional 100,000 Jews to Palestine. Mr. Truman previously has disclosed that Prime Minister Attlee felt that figure was too high.

In London, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin also told commons of this nation's agreement to form the committee but expressed doubt that Palestine could make more than a contribution to solving problem of Jewish migration from war-ravaged Europe.

President Truman's statement, issued by the White House, said the committee will:

1. Examine political, economic and social conditions in Palestine as they bear upon the problem of Jewish immigration.

2. Examine the position of the Jews in European countries "where they have been the victims of Nazi and Fascist persecution."

3. Hear the views of competent witnesses "and to consult representative Arabs and Jews."

4. Make recommendations to the two governments to meet immediate needs either by remedial action in Europe or by providing facilities for Jewish immigration to countries outside of Europe.

Fire Smouldering At Seed Company

Fire was still smouldering at the seed house of the Big Spring Cotton Oil company Tuesday afternoon while a five-inch water main was being pushed from the city limits, .6 of a mile away, to the burning seed heap.

H. V. Crocker, fire chief, said that firemen were due to get water during the afternoon as soon as the connection with the city mains is completed.

The fire was discovered at 5:30 a. m. Monday. Firemen and mill officials were hopeful that the flames would be under control by tonight. Salvage men from Lubbock and Dallas are here to attack the salvage problem as soon as the fire is extinguished.

US, Britain To Investigate Jew Issue In Europe

LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin announced today that the United States had accepted an invitation to cooperate with Britain in seeing up a joint Anglo-American inquiry to examine the question of European Jewry and make a further review of the Palestine problem in the light of this examination.

Bevin told Commons, that there recently had been demands made on the British government for "large scale immigration" of Jews into Palestine from war-ravaged Europe.

"Palestine, while it may be able to make a contribution," he said, "does not provide sufficient opportunity to grapple with the whole of the problem. The government is anxious to explore every possibility which will result in giving the Jews a proper opportunity for revival."

Saying the problem of Palestine was itself a "very difficult one," the Foreign Secretary added that the mandate required facilitation of Jewish immigration and encouragement of close settlement by Jews on the land "while ensuring that the right and position of other sections of the population is not prejudiced."

Declaring Britain's labor government had been giving serious and continuous attention to the whole problem of the Jewish community that had arisen as a result of Nazi persecution, Bevin said: "It is unfortunately true that, until conditions in Europe become stable, the future of a large number of persons of many races who have suffered under this persecution cannot be fully determined."

As Congress gathered for the speech, the ominous problem of atomic energy hung over the Capitol like a cloud.

The Senate Atomic Energy committee met to plan its history-making work.

It was increasingly clear that a smooth and speedy passage was not to be expected for any atomic energy law. Congress, struggling with a subject new in history and beset on all sides with confusing and conflicting statements, would need plenty of time as well as information.

Demobilization — The Senate Naval committee met to investigate the shipping situation; that is, shipping of high-point servicemen back to the U. S. where they can be released. Congress is hearing protests that the process is too slow.

Moderate Premier Takes Over Java

By LIEF ERICKSON

BATAVIA, Java, Nov. 13 (AP)—Sutan Sjahrir, described as a moderate with whom the Dutch are likely to deal, became Premier of the unrecognized Indonesian Republic today as British forces blasted at Indonesian Nationalists in the heart of Soerabaja.

Sjahrir's selection as Premier by the cabinet meant that the Nationalists had decided on a new governmental system under which President Soekarno apparently will have but a minor role. The Dutch had refused to deal with Soekarno.

A 36-year-old Socialist leader, Sjahrir retained temporarily the portfolios of Home Affairs and Foreign Affairs in the Nationalist cabinet.

Sjahrir said in an interview he would make sharp changes in the cabinet. Elections were planned before Jan. 31.

The youthful Sjahrir said his policy would be cooperation with the British in the task allotted them at Potsdam — releasing internees and rounding up Japanese. So far as the Dutch are concerned, he said, "I shall encourage our getting together."

Sjahrir said the fighting between British and Nationalists at Soerabaja had hurt the Nationalist cause, and that one of his first acts as premier would be to send a three-member commission there to investigate the entire affair.

The warfare between the British, charged with the task of occupation, and the Nationalists rose in intensity, with naval and field troops and RAF planes supporting troops which hammered through at least half of Soerabaja. Troops of the 49th Indian Brigade battled house-to-house along a general line from the Hotel Soerabaja through the captured post and telegraph office to the Hotel Grand. Seven Indian soldiers were wounded in yesterday's fighting, but Indonesian casualties were said to have been high.

British headquarters announced in an official statement that the bodies of two Japanese wearing Japanese uniforms were found in an overrun Indonesian bunker at Soerabaja. The report, noting evidences of Japanese-style tactics in Indonesian fighting, said "there is little doubt that some Japanese are still actively engaged in the disturbances at Soerabaja."

PAULEY ARRIVES IN JAPAN TO DECIDE ON REPARATIONS

TOKYO, Nov. 13 (AP)—President Truman's reparations representative, Edwin S. Pauley, reached Tokyo tonight and announced "I want a couple of days to size up the situation before making any definite statements" about the reparations bill defeated Japan will be asked to pay.

"I expect to have things well in hand before I leave," he added, but he gave no indication how long he expects to remain. He arrived in a private plane with Navy Undersecretary Artemus L. Gates.

Seventeen members of the reparations commission began preliminary discussions with staff members of General MacArthur today here Nov. 9, and Pauley's arrival signalled the start of official deliberations.

Another crushing reminder of the cost of war was brought home to Japanese by forecasts of taxes five times higher than current levies—despite a halved budget. Both points were contained in a recommendation given the finance ministry by the semi-official post-war currency council.

Says No Reason US, Britain Are Rivals

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Prime Minister Clement Attlee told congress today that the foundations of peace must be "world prosperity and good neighborliness." There is "no reason," he said for economic rivalry between Great Britain and the United States.

Speaking in the House of Representatives to Senators and Congressmen who must approve any U. S. financial aid for Britain, Attlee frankly sought to remove what he called "some apprehensions" about his labor party's program.

In his 3,000-word address, the British leader mentioned only briefly the prime purpose of his visit to this country — to discuss with President Truman the eventual disposition of the secrets of atomic bomb production. He gave no indication of the course which the conferences are taking.

Attlee likened his country to a man in Britain returning from the war to find "his home blitzed and his business ruined."

"We went all out to win the war and now have to start afresh," he said, "like him we are facing the future with courage and a determination to win through."

Attlee said he looked forward to "an era of increasing cooperation and friendship" between the U. S. and Britain. "That friendship," he said, should not be "exclusive," but rather "a contribution to the knitting together with all peoples through the United Nations organization in the bonds of peace."

Although Attlee is known to have conferred with other keynotes on the progress of negotiations for a United States loan to Britain, he made no direct reference in his address to British requests for financial aid.

The Prime Minister said he believed "some people over here" imagined that the British labor party was "out to destroy freedom, freedom of the individual, freedom of speech, freedom of religion and freedom of the press."

"They are wrong," he asserted, adding that the Labor party was "in the tradition" of all British freedom-loving movements and "in line" with "those who fought for this Magna Charta, and habeas corpus, with the Pilgrim Fathers and with the signatories of the Declaration of Independence."

In following their different economic courses, Attlee said, it is important that the U. S. and Britain "should understand each other and other nations whose institutions differ from our own."

"I hope to see a world as orderly as a well-run town, with citizens diverse in character but cooperating for the common good," he said.

Ramblers Drop To Seventh Place In Nation's Football Standings

By HAROLD CLAASEN
NEW YORK, Nov. 13. (AP)—Army's smashing victory over Notre Dame Saturday convinced virtually everyone but the Pacific coast football experts that the Cadets are the No. 1 grid team in the country.

Of the 20 votes cast in the San Francisco region, 13 of the critics relegated Army, No. 1 team all season in the weekly Associated Press poll, to second and gave five firsts to Navy, four to St. Mary's and four to Alabama.

Army garnered 91 first place nominations and grabbed second on each of the remaining ballots.

Navy, which showed its best form of the season in downing Michigan, Saturday, moved into the runner-up slot behind the team the Middles will meet in Philadelphia on Dec. 1. The Sailors limbed from fourth place while Notre Dame skidded from second to seventh.

Alabama retained third place and was followed in order by Indiana, St. Mary's, Pennsylvania, Notre Dame, Oklahoma A. and M., Ohio State and Holy Cross.

Michigan and Columbia, two members of the elite group a week ago, dropped out following their defeats Saturday and their places were taken by the Oklahoma Aggies and Holy Cross, a pair of unbeaten outfits.

The leading teams determined on a basis of 10 points for each first place vote, nine for second, eight for third, etc. (First place votes in parenthesis):

NAVY (5)	879
ALABAMA (5)	744

ST. MARY'S (4)	624
PENNSYLVANIA	450
NOTRE DAME	418
OKLAHOMA A & M	320
OHIO STATE	157
HOLY CROSS	118

Reserve Seats For Buc Game Going Fast

General admission tickets for the Southwestern university Hondo AAF football game, scheduled to be played here Saturday afternoon, Nov. 24, will be placed on sale before game time only if all reserve seat duets are disposed of, Jack Johnson of the ABClub announced today.

There is every indication that all the tickets for the reserved pews will be gone by week's end, Johnson added. Members of the ABClub, which is sponsoring the game for charity, report sales have been above expectations.

A capacity crowd of around 4500 persons may look on as the Pirates and the Soldiers do battle.

Both elevens are due to field sterling clubs here. The Hondos have been improving with each outing and only last weekend took the measure of the Santa Barbara, Calif., Marines.

The Corsairs have won only two starts this semester but one of those came at the expense of Rice Institute. The Owls figure strongly in the Southwest Conference title picture. The Georgetown troupe's other triumph was over Mexico university, 32-6.

Persons who have not yet obtained their tickets can contact any member of the ABClub. Ceiling price $1.80. General admission pasteboards will go for 1.20, student tariff has been pegged at 75 cents.

Pair Of Bruin Aces Injured

By The Associated Press

Only minor injuries marred lineups as Southwestern conference football teams swung into hard workouts for Saturday's important games.

Temporarily out of the Baylor lineup were Richard (Bull) Johnson, center, and Bill Kimbrough, back, but Coach Frank Kimbrough said he hoped they would be ready to take the field against the University of Tulsa at Tulsa, Okla., this week.

Bobby Layne, offensive sparkplug of the University of Texas Longhorns, nursed an injured knee but it was not expected to keep him out of the meeting with the Texas Christian University Frogs at Austin, Tex. still blushing over their 12-0 shellacking at the hands of Texas Tech last week, studied line problems which may come up in the Longhorn fray.

Tom Dean, Southern Methodist tackle, had a sore leg and backfield sparkplug Doak Walker suffered a bruised arm but both are expected to be fully recovered for the battle with the University of Arkansas Razorbacks at Dallas Saturday. At Fayetteville, Ark., Razorback Coach Glen Rose said three of his men were injured in the game with Rice Institute last week but may see action against the Ponies. They included Freshman End Buck Forsythe, Back J. C. Baldwin and Bud Canada.

At Houston, Coach Jess Neely said Red Anderson, Owl fullback who was out of the lineup last week in the victory over Arkansas, may be ready to play against Texas A. and M. Saturday.

Keeping Or Giving Away Atomic Bomb Secret Puzzling Problem

(Editor's note: This is the second of three stories on the atomic bomb and its effect on our future.)

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. (AP)—If Mr. Truman wants to give away any atomic bomb secrets, he faces some prime questions.

The making of the bomb is a national secret. No other president in peacetime has had to think of sharing a secret which some day might be used against us.

It isn't likely that Mr. Truman would attempt to give any of it away without some Congressional approval.

If he tried to, he'd probably bring Congress down around his ears.

Last night Senator Connally (D-Tex.), Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said he expects Mr. Truman to submit to Congress any agreement about sharing the secret before it becomes effective.

Congress, like the rest of the country, is divided on whether to keep or share the secret. So that probably would mean a beauf of a fight on any proposal to give it away.

But give away what secret?

Because other scientists, including the Russians, have the theoretical knowledge necessary for making the bomb, American scientists who made it in this country say:

Russia perhaps could make the bomb, with the knowledge its scientists already have, within five years.

But Mr. Truman already is on record as saying he would not share America's manufacturing knowledge of the bomb with anyone.

Now Britain's Prime Minister Attlee has proposed to the President.

dent that this country, Britain and Canada, all of which know how to make the bomb, pool their basic knowledge of atomic energy with other nations.

But that raises a point which may need plenty of explanation: Mr. Truman apparently thinks—and scientists agree—that Russia will be able to make the bomb in time.

But Mr. Truman says we won't tell anyone the manufacturing secrets. So what does it mean to Russia if we give her the basic knowledge of atomic energy without the manufacturing process?

Does it mean we'll trust Russia with a little information but not all the information and, while we keep the big secret, ask Russia to agree never to use the bomb when she finds out how to make it?

What will Russia think of such a proposal?

Lobos Decline Chance To Play Arizona Team

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 13. (AP)—New Mexico University has declined to pass up an invitation for a Dec. 1 football game with the University of Arizona in Tucson, Lobo Coach Willis Barnes said today.

His announcement came amid recurring local speculation that New Mexico is in line for a bid to the El Paso, Texas, Sun Bowl next Jan. 1—provided the Lobos can take Texas Tech, their last remaining foe, on Nov. 24.

Barnes admitted that New Mexico, winner of five games but defeated 21-20 by Utah last week, has been asked whether it would be "interested" in the New Year's classic.

"I imagine if we beat Texas Tech we probably will get a bid," he conceded. "But of course we'll have to win that one first."

And unless the Lobos can devise means of stopping Walt Schlinkman, Tech's hefty All-American fullback candidate, they expect that to be a pretty large order, Barnes added a trifle grimly.

The Junior College

How It Works

Most people agree that a junior college would be a benefit to Howard County. But people interested in the practical side of things ask: How will the institution be financed? How will it operate? What results can we expect from it?

Finances—

Basic financial support would be from a tax not to exceed 20 cents on the $100 of valuations within the district, which would coincide with Howard county. This would go toward maintenance (operation) and retiring the $200,000 bond issue, proposed as the means of erecting the original plant. In addition, the state pays $60 per student (based on enrollment and attendance) attending the school. This would mean $6,000 for 100 students the very minimum anticipated. Minimum tuition expectations are $10,000 on the same basis. Development of the county would mean additional resources; miscellaneous incomes would add slightly; and in some cases endowments have been given to junior colleges.

Operation—

The board of trustees, chosen by the voters of the Howard County Junior College district, will be responsible for its operation. The board will select the president and through him and any duly authorized persons would direct the administration. Capable instructors, fitted for this field of education, would be elected by the board upon recommendation by proper authorities. In the same manner, a curriculum designed to serve the most needs, and in many instances specifically the needs of Howard county, would be shaped. Tuition charges and all such matters would be worked out by the board, which is responsible to the people, along with all other matters of policy.

Result---

Minimum saving one one student attending college at home one year would be 20 times the tax on a piece of property valued at $5,000 for tax purposes, resulting in big savings for those who would send their children to the college and to the community, for the money stays at home. This same saving would result in college opportunity to possibly 100 students a year in Big Spring high school alone, who otherwise will not get to go to college. Another result will be in higher educational level for the county. Still another would be training in some vocations particularly fitted for this immediate area—training and keeping our best at home to help develop our area.

What A Man

Lad With Fatal Fascination Now Waits For Mama

OROVILLE, Calif., Nov. 13 (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Ellsworth "What a Man" Wiscaver, the boy with an apparently irresistible fascination for married women, sulked in his jail cell today awaiting the arrival of another woman—this time his mother. In the same jail, Mrs. Eleanor Deveny, 25, Los Angeles, mother of two children, declared in an interview that she would divorce her soldier husband, now in Japan, and marry Ellsworth if he "still wants me." "I thought I was happy with my husband as anyone could be. Then I met Sonny," she sighed. "It was love at first sight. He made love to me right from the start—and I couldn't resist him. "I knew how old he was, but it didn't make any difference. He's the kind of a man every girl dreams about but seldom finds. He's more of a man at 16 than a lot of men are at 35." Last year, when Sonny was 14, he eloped with Mrs. Elaine O. Ludlum Montfredi, 22, another mother of two children. The marriage was annulled. Last Wednesday, Mrs. Deveny told the deputies, she eloped from Long Beach with Sonny, whom she had known two and a half weeks. Sonny is being held pending arrival of his parents.

TP Employees All Set To Give Lift To Bond Quota

T. & P. employees were all set today for their Victory Loan rally at 3:45 p. m. Wednesday in the machine shop building. While they will be aiming at helping meet the system's E bond quota, they also will have their eyes on giving a lift to the Howard county drive for $30,000 in E bond sales for the campaign. W. G. Wilson, Jr., is shaping up arrangements for the event, assigning workers to boost attendance from the various departments. Rev. P. D. O'Brien will be the bond speaker and Ted O. Groehl, Victory Loan chairman, will be on hand. The high school band, under direction of Frank Wentz, will furnish music for the occasion. The holiday Monday put a crimp in bond sales. Only $75 was added to the total, making the latest reading $79,673.75 for E bonds, only about a quarter of the way to the goal. Tickets for "Rhapsody in Blue," Ritz bond premiere Thursday are available at all issuing agencies. Admission is by bond purchase only.

His work involved construction of pontoon causeways. Caldwell wears the ETO ribbon, the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon, the Philippine Liberation ribbon and the Victory ribbon. His unit holds the presidential unit citation and three more citations are pending for work on Tarakan. During the period that Caldwell was in the service his wife, Mrs. Ruby Caldwell, resided in Big Spring.

Increasing Numbers Applying At USES

Increasing numbers of highly-skilled industrial and professional workers, some with rare abilities and unusual experience backgrounds, are seeking employment today at the United States Employment Service office, Henry A. Clark, manager, revealed today. Manager Clark appealed to Big Spring employers to list all types of job openings with the USES office, stating that "the young men and women returning from serving their country, and skilled workers displaced by reconversion cutbacks deserve the best their community can offer them in job opportunities." "The only jobs that the United States Employment Service can offer applicants are the jobs which employers have listed with us," Manager Clark said. "Unless all employers keep the local office advised of the openings they have currently and in prospect, the veteran cannot obtain the maximum job opportunity which Congress has said should be given the men and women who have served their country in the armed forces. Employers should list with the USES the best opportunities they have as well as the general run of job openings. This will have a two-fold effect. It will help the employer because the best equipped applicants will look for referrals to his firm and this will give the firm a wider choice. It will help the applicants because it will give them a chance at the best jobs in the community." Clark stated that during the week ending November 10 more than 249 applicants, including 91 veterans, applied for jobs and job information at the USES office. Of this number 115 were referred to jobs and 73 were placed.

Rev. H. C. Smith Speaks To Baptists

One of the most important questions in religion is the limiting of the power of God in individual lives, the Rev. H. C. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church, told the First Baptist Brotherhood Monday evening. Cecil Collings, district judge, was elected president of the Brotherhood for the ensuing year. Other officers named were Eugene Hutchins, vice-president; Homer Ward, 2nd vice-president; and Felton Underwood, secretary. The Rev. Smith said that failure to pray puts a limitation on God's power in a life. Incomplete faith has a similar effect as does inactivity, he asserted. Music was furnished by Roy Rogan, saxophonist, Berlie Fallon, violinist, just returned from overseas, and Mrs. H. M. Jarratt.

More than 246,000 people in the Southwest have had to wait for telephone service for one reason: Telephone factories were working for war. Now those factories are turning from war to peace. All the facilities and know-how that did the war job are beginning to produce the mountains of telephone equipment—switchboards, dial apparatus, cable, wire, and instruments—needed here at home. The task ahead is not easy. In the next 12 months we expect to be able to add one telephone for every 10 now in service. They will serve most of those who are waiting. For others, in localities where heavy construction and installation is necessary, it may take longer. But we've made a start; we're on our way. Now all our efforts are aimed at making the wait just as short as possible—to provide telephone service to all who want it, when they want it. SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

Aggie Back Thrown For Loss By Ponies But Retains Top Spot In Ground Gains

By The Associated Press

The Southwest Conference's leading ground-gainers — Preston Smith of Texas A. and M. and Sammie Pierce of Baylor — had plenty of trouble last week. Smith losing two yards and Pierce making only two, but they still are the top men as the football campaign rolls into its final three weeks.

Smith, gaining three and dropping five in six carries against Southern Methodist, now has 548 yards on 119 runs while Pierce, netting two yards in ten tries against Texas, has an even 500 on 77 carries.

In passing, Texas Christian's Leon Joslin continued to pick up large chunks of yards although he had four throws intercepted last week by Texas Tech. Joslin now has 683 yards on 48 connections out of 94 attempts to be far out in front. Second man is Jack Price of Baylor who has 480 yards on 42 completions in 78 throws.

In punting veteran Howard Maley of Southern Methodist increased his lead as he kicked 11 times against A. and M. for an average of 44 yards. Maley has an average of 40.5 on 52 boots for the season.

In pass-receiving its still Hubert Bechtel of Texas, who has taken 22 throws for 353 yards.

In team offense, Texas continues in front with 2219 yards in eight games. Baylor is second with 1973 yards. Defensively Baylor is tops, allowing 1136 yards by eight opponents — an average of 142 per game.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With ANGUS LECESTER

GUS SUHR

Midland's Black Bulldogs, who'll play Frank Miller's Lakeview (colored) school Lions here Friday night, are in reality a combination of both the Midland and Odessa teams.

The homelings hold victories over both elevens, should be able to clip the mixture the next time out. Miller hesitated to book the club but his lads insist on competition.

In the words of Center Pete Jones, they "love that football."

The Lions' "angel," Capt. Charles Saliba of the Big Spring Army Air Field, has come through with another gift of athletic equipment to Miller and his gang.

Saliba donated several sets of basketball togs, including warm-up suits, baseball livery, gloves, etc., to a grateful Miller.

Frank Barton, standout Steer guard of other years, wants to arrange a football game between a club he has lined up on paper and the "Ex-Steers" (players who have graduated here within the past three years) at season's end.

The chubby one intends going back to Southwestern University in March and he wants to get all the seasoning he can before R. M. Medley calls spring drills at the Georgetown school.

One of the most colorful and one of the most popular baseball figures on the West Coast the past season was Gussie Suhr, who patrons of the art remember principally because he set an all-time league endurance record for the National loop before departing the company of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

A left-handed hitter, Gussie can still whack the apple. In a pinch, he's one of the most dangerous men in the game.

He's active as a San Francisco Seal mainly because his friend, Lefty O'Doul, the manager, wants him around. The vet had a lot to do with the Seal's 1945 Shaughnessy triumph (their third in a row) after Portland had won the playoff.

Best football passer this corner's been privileged to see since Sammy Baugh roamed the air lanes for TCU is Gonzalves Morales, who operated in the Alameda Coast Guard secondary last fall.

When Harold "Red" Grange departed Wheaton, Ill., high school in 1922 to launch his brilliant intercollegiate football career, he first enrolled at Northwestern University.

He elected to switch allegiance to the University of Illinois when he found himself competing with a one-man gang who answered to the name of Moon Baker.

Today, the name of Grange is sacred in football annals. Few, very few, persons recall Baker. Yet the talented Moon, who lived up to all expectations, rated many an all-America squad the same three years that the Wheaton Ice-Man did.

The 508th Parachute Regiment grid eleven, of which two Big Spring boys—Hal Battle and Arvie Walker—are members, finally bit the dust in competition in the Western Germany football championship.

The Paratroopers were edged by the Blue Devils of the Third Infantry Regiment, 20-12, on a muddy field at Frankfurt last Thursday. General Ike Eisenhower saw the bout.

Only Five Clubs Unbeaten, Untied In High Circles

By The Associated Press

There were just five undefeated, untied teams in Texas schoolboy football today.

Brownwood fell from the list yesterday, beaten 20-6 by Breckenridge, in an important District 9 game. It virtually gave the championship to Breckenridge.

Those remaining in the select circle are Odessa, which defeated Sweetwater 13-12 yesterday to all but set up honors in District 3; Paris, Lufkin, Milby (Houston) and Brownsville.

Corpus Sailors' Top Service Competition

By The Associated Press

The Camp Hood Maroons roll along as the only undefeated team in Texas Service football but Corpus Christi Naval Air station and Army Air Forces Training Command furnished the season's major surprises last weekend.

Corpus Christi, which was trimmed 35-7 early in the season by Jacksonville Naval Air Station, got the Florida team on its home field Saturday night and tumbled the Jan. 14-13. It not only placed Corpus Christi into second place in Texas Service standings but it was the first defeat of the year for Jacksonville.

On the other hand the Training Command eleven, long rated favorite to win the National Service league title, dropped its second game in a row — this one a conference affair to the First Air Force 24-6.

The Camp Hood Maroons didn't play a game last week.

Hondo Air Field went out to California and beat the Santa Barbara Marines 13-7 while the Camp Hood Doughboys banged Camp Swift 21-6. Bergstrom Field journeyed to Rockford, Ill., and trimmed Camp Grant 12-0.

This week the Camp Hood Maroons meet Southwestern University at Gatesville, Corpus Christi Naval Air station plays Havana University at Havana, Cuba, and the Training Command goes to Tampa, Fla., to engage the Third Air Force.

Standings of Texas Service teams (including teams playing as many as four games):

TEAM	W	L	Ts	Op
Camp Hood M.	6	0	0	98
Corpus NAS	6	1	0	159

Chandler Ignores Robinson Protest

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler has refused to recognize a protest from the Negro National and American leagues against the manner in which President Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers signed Jackie Robinson to play for his Montreal farm club.

"We are not protesting signing of negro players by white organized baseball," stated Dr. J. B. Martin, president of the Negro American league and Thomas T. Wilson, president of the Negro National circuit in a letter to Chandler.

"We feel that the x x x leagues should be approached. x x x That is the only way in which we can be assured that negro organized baseball can continue to operate."

Ex-Navy Mentor Death Victim

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Col. Emery Ellsworth "Swede" Larson, war veteran and widely-known sports figure, will be buried today in Arlington cemetery with full military honors.

DeVore Hedges After Picking West Pointers

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. (AP)—Hugh DeVore, who ought to have as good judgment on the subject as any guy who has received two knockout wallops in succession, won't go too far out on a limb about the Army-Navy game . . . "Navy has the makings of a great club, but right now you'd have to give Army the advantage," says the Notre Dame coach . . . "But I hear Navy used a lot of plays against Michigan that they didn't use against us." . . . If Penn State receives a "bowl" invitation, which isn't unlikely the way the Nittany Lions are going, even Coach Bob Higgins doesn't know whether they can accept. Bob, in fact, shudders at the thought after seeing what his club did to bowl-minded Temple last Saturday . . . Speaking of bowls, Sam Cornsweat insists the Sugar Bowl hasn't made a move of any kind about lining up teams, despite stories that a pair already have been signed.

STRICTLY BUSINESS

Even when his Navy football teams were winning, the late Col. Emery (Swede) Larson wasn't one to toot his own horn . . . A Marine officer who served under Swede as an enlisted man, tells this story of receiving a letter posted the day after Larson's Navy team had beaten Army in 1939 . . . The Marine, stationed in Guatemala, ripped it open, hoping to learn the real dope on the victory . . . But Larson, a stamp collector, merely had written to ask if his friend had found any more foreign stamps for him.

SHORTS AND SHELLS

Western Michigan College is one of the few institutions of higher education — other than the school of hard knocks — to have alumni on both clubs in any World Series . . . Stubby Overmire, pitcher for the Tigers, and Frank Secory, Cub outfielder, both are Western Michigan boys and so is Catcher Joe Stephenson, who did bullpen duty for the Cubs.

Herd In Scrimmage For Abilene Clash

Satisfied that body contact drills helped his club more than any other phase of training, Coach John Dibrell had his Big Spring high school football Steers running through a bruising scrimmage Monday as they began preparations for their Friday invasion of Abilene.

For the better part of 90 minutes, the regulars banged away at the second-stringers. Enthusiasm reeked everywhere. The Dogies themselves enjoyed the proceedings. They go out after big game this weekend, probably Saturday, when Midland's "B" team comes to town.

The scoring was all first string. Jackie Barron got away on two touchdown jaunts, one of them a 45-yard sprint. Deadly blocking, featuring Ike Robb, was most apparent.

Bobo Hardy came up with a score as did Don Williams, the fast improving wing.

More of the same kind of work is scheduled for today.

Robert Miller, who has been dividing time at the fullback spot with Gerald Harris, will captain the locals when they take the field against the Eagles.

On Sharing A Secret

With The News

by Dewitt Mackenzie
AF Foreign Affairs Analyst

Troubles are buzzing about John Bull's ears so actively that it's given to wonder whether British Prime Minister Attlee — currently the honored guest of President Truman — didn't invite worry by breaking a mirror sometime after his new socialite government came to power in September.

The boiling over of the Palestine problem, with its dangerous Jewish-Arab differences, has been followed by other embarrassing events. A couple of days ago Pandit Nehru, who next to Mahatma Gandhi is the most influential Hindu in all India, declared during a speech in Bombay that it was India's duty to revolt. Then yesterday along came Egyptian Prime Minister Nokrashi Pasha with a demand for complete independence, including the withdrawal of British troops from his country.

Of course Nehru's advocacy of revolution to break away from England may be rather in the nature of an academic challenge which is calculated to force the political issue with the new British government for independence.

Still such a statement coming from Nehru can be brushed aside lightly. He is powerful, and he has been making strong speeches ever since last June when he was released from prison.

The Egyptian demand looks rather formidable, since it was made at a full-dress opening of parliament, in the presence of King Farouk, the queen and a large gathering of diplomats. Egypt of course is one of the vital bases for the protection of Britain's Mediterranean life-line through the Suez Canal to India and the other British domains of the Far East. It also is the key-stone of English strength in the Middle East.

Considerable debate undoubtedly will be provoked by the proposals of Prime Minister Attlee to internationalize the atomic bomb secret. In the first place, opinion is divided among three schools in this country—those who would share the secret with other nations, those who would retain it for the three cooperating nations alone, and those who like to see the whole secret destroyed.

The last school of thought is, alas, like unto the ostrich. Vain attempts to unlearn what has been foreseen by the sages for centuries are useless. The discovery is the unfolding of a scientific truth, and truth is indestructible.

Those who would keep the secret for our own have a feeling that it gives us a weapon which we might hold over the heads of others to make them behave. It is reasoned that we have the moral fibre to make use of the incalculable force only when it would be an absolute necessity.

Those who would turn the secret over to the United Nations Organization reason that this action would place it at the collective disposal of all nations, that all or at least the chief powers would have a voice in its use, that with this power of veto existing there would always be a restraining influence in the employment of the atomic force, or at least there would be near unanimity in its use.

There is a feeling that the terms, under which it would become a part of the UNO, are in fact mild threats in that those failing to embrace the conditions might be obliged to face the consequences of not participating in the secret. This is hardly the basis, yet, if it would mean that the family of nations would be strengthened and made something vital and effective, we might call it what we liked so long as it gets the job done.

Egypt nominally is independent, but actually is bound by treaty to give England special privileges, including the right to maintain a strong military establishment.

ran into heavy opposition from the Air Transport Industry.

Uncovering the ACC came at a time when there is definite interest in the establishment of something like the Morrow board. That board was appointed by President Coolidge to make an independent study of the nations air requirements for defense and led to the 1926 Air Corps and Air Commerce Acts.

Among the seven projects being carried on by subcommittees are studies of foreign air rights needed by U. S. flag airlines, government policy in dealing with the Provisional International Civil Aviation Organization (PICA) and postwar policy respecting air telecommunications.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 13 (AP)—It was a good two-day hunting trip for Jack Hicks who came home with a 250-pound buck and 450-pound bear.

Life's Darkest Moment

With The AEF: Fear Of Epidemic Disease Worries Doctors In Japan

By HAL BOYLE
NAGASAKI, Japan, (AP)—Fear of an epidemic disease is causing more worry to American health authorities here than any possible after effects from radio-active remnants of the war's second atomic bomb.

It is due largely to the enterprise of a young Massachusetts doctor that no widespread contagion has radiated from this wasteland of death and devastation, where silence on Aug. 9 confirmed the atomic age, born three days before in blasted Hiroshima.

Capt. Herbert Horne, Jr., former Lowell, Mass., and New York City medical center physician said: "Any civilian epidemic would endanger about 20,000 Second Marine division men in southern Kyushu."

As chief health officer for the American military government in this area, it was his job to prevent any such outbreaks after his arrival Sept. 25. He found himself without adequate medical supplies and with little Japanese medical talent. "Everybody was still dazed and disorganized," he said. "All but four doctors on the Nagasaki medical university faculty and student members of the third and fourth year classes were wiped out by the bomb. It exploded only a few hundred yards from the university and its hospital. Every patient, every nurse and every doctor inside the hospital were killed, as well as every first and second year medical student."

Horne estimated that the bombing cost 60,000 to 80,000 lives. Of these, 30,000 to 40,000 were sealed to death within 10 seconds. The remainder died a lingering death in the next six weeks from gamma ray burns that destroyed red blood cell building tissues in bone marrow, or burned intestines so severely the victims couldn't digest food.

He now has nearing completion a 100-bed hospital in a schoolhouse in the center of the city. Nagasaki now has electrical service and a safe water supply—the gas plant was demolished—but flies are thick over ruined areas where the stench of trapped bodies still is strong.

"We are afraid of typhoid and diphtheria epidemics," Horne said, "although the disease rate currently is low."

Veneral disease is extremely prevalent and a real health menace to the troops. Horne said the Geisha houses were closed after the examination of 337 prostitutes disclosed that 81 per cent had syphilis.

"We also found, in an examination of a cross section of the population, that approximately 37 per cent were similarly infected," the doctor said.

Hollywood— You'll Be "Spellbound" Too

By GENE HANDSAKER
"Spellbound," a Selznick International production with Ingrid Bergman and Gregory Peck. Running time: one hour, 51 minutes.

HOLLYWOOD — "Spellbound," woven by that globe-shaped old master of suspense, Alfred Hitchcock, and starring exquisite Ingrid Bergman and vaguely Lincolnesque Gregory Peck, is an absorbing, sometimes scary excursion into the dark halls of a warped mind.

It's nerve-racking fare, and you may have nightmares from seeing Peck stand wild-eyed at midnight with a straight-edge razor over the peacefully slumbering form of Miss Bergman; or from accompanying them both on a dizzy ski dash straight for a pre-arranged spot for amnesia and cliche.

is convinced he has committed murder. Miss Bergman, bespectacled psychoanalyst described by an amorous fellow doctor as a "human glacier and custodian of truth," falls in love with the baffled smoozer and undertakes to restore his memory and prove him innocent.

Anything white with parallel lines on its agitates Peck — fork marks drawn on a table cloth by Miss Bergman, tiny stripes in her dressing gown, ski marks in the snow. As a sample of Director Hitchcock's sereery, whiteness engulfs Peck—and the movie patron—when both look into a glass of milk as he drinks it.

There are fantastic dream sequences (from designs by Salvador Dali) and climactic Hitchcock horrors, including some appalling business with a revolver, that may shock you off your seat.

Music composed by Dr. Miklos Rozsa, with Audrey Granville as associate, contributes powerfully to the film's violent mood; violins and horns are alternately soothing, rasping or alarming. A "Spellbound" record album is in preparation.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Mr. Byrnes Does Not Like The Press

WASHINGTON — For 20 years, ever since Charles Evans Hughes was Secretary of State, it has been traditional that the heads of the State Department meet the press five or six times a week. Hughes inaugurated this policy after a long period of hush-hush diplomacy when Woodrow Wilson was ill and his foreign policy was marking time.

Frank B. Kellogg, who followed Hughes during the Coolidge administration, continued the practice religiously. At times Kellogg was badgered on such subjects as sending the Marines to Nicaragua and his bellicose notes to Mexico. However, he took the pummeling with good spirit, eventually recovered his equilibrium, and used his press conferences effectively when it came to marshaling public opinion for his treaty to outlaw war.

Henry L. Stimson, the next Secretary of State, was also punctiliously careful to hold press conferences five or six times a week. Stimson sometimes remarked that in the end he got more out of press conferences than newsmen because it gave him a barometer of what the public was thinking.

Cordell Hull, who followed Stimson, also continued the tradition of regular press conferences. Hull, it is true, was ill for long periods. But during his absence conferences were held regularly by the acting Secretary of State, Sumner Welles, or acting Secretary Ed Stettinius. The latter, when he became Secretary of State, leaned over backward never to skip a press conference.

BYRNES SHUNS PRESS

Today, however, it is different. Jimmy Byrnes, who passionately loves the phrase "freedom of the press," simply hates press conferences. His aides almost have to hog-tie him to get him into the diplomatic reception room where for 20 years Secretaries of State have faced the friendly cross-fire of newsmen.

Byrnes, at first, excused himself on the ground that he was too busy learning American foreign affairs, so he cut down press conferences from five or six to one a week. Following this, he ordered newsmen to be seated instead of standing around the large conference table. He requires some newsmen to use the same seat each week. This is the first time in history that such regimentation has been required. The idea is that Byrnes can then spot, according to the location of their chairs, the identity of the men who quiz him.

Last week, Secretary of State Byrnes, looking grim and petulant, finally saw the press. It was not a meeting conducive to informing the American public at a time when the American people probably need information on foreign affairs more than ever before.

When one reporter asked why the American position regarding the Dardanelles had not been given out three or four days before, when erroneous reports regarding that position emanated from Turkey, Byrnes blazed back:

"You have no right to inquire about the American position. I will tell you what I want you to know when I want you to know it."

duced many faces unfamiliar to the screen on his theory that it's better to have fresh countenances that don't suggest previous characters. Skillful supporting performances include that of Michael Chekhov as Miss Bergman's old professor of psychiatry.

The screen play for the David O. Selznick production was written by Ben Hecht.

TIRE RATIONING
If you are an automobile owner in search of tires, here is one thing to keep your eye on. The tire industry is pulling all sorts of wires backstage to lift export restrictions.

At present they are permitted to export 400,000 truck tires and 100,000 passenger tires during the last quarter of this year. They would like to export a lot more. In the first place, they don't have to worry about OPA ceiling prices when selling abroad. Secondly, they can build up their post-war markets by getting in on the ground floor.

So they would rather sell more tires abroad. But if they do, they sell less tires at home. And today a tire certificate issued to a person desiring to buy a tire is nothing more than a hunting license. He can go out and hunt for a tire, if he's lucky enough to find one, his certificate entitles him to buy it.

DEPARTMENT OF PEACE
When the House Foreign Affairs Committee heard testimony on the Randolph bill to create a Department of Peace, the star witness was a 64-year-old former mule-driver from Morgantown, W. Va.

Chairman Sol Bloom and members of his committee listened with rapt attention as Raymond M. Davis read a 16-page statement on why the United States should take the lead in establishing a new cabinet post to spread the gospel of peace throughout the world.

After he finished, white-thatched GOP Representative Charles Eaton of New Jersey declared:

"Mr. Davis, you may be un-schooled, as you tell the committee, but you certainly are not uneducated. That is one of the finest documents I have ever listened to."

World peace is not just a hobby with the West Virginia coal man, though he describes it as such. It is a burning ideal. A self-made business man who now operates two coal mines employing more than 500 workers, Davis had made many speeches at his own expense throughout the country urging a government department of peace. He also has written a proposed constitution for the United Nations that has attracted wide attention.

The State Department thought well enough of his ideas to invite him to the San Francisco conference as an observer.

Representative Jennings Randolph of West Virginia freely admits that Davis was the "chief spark plug behind his peace resolution. "When I was looking at the rear end of a mule all day in West Virginia coal mines," says Davis, "I never thought that one day I'd be instrumental in having such an important piece of legislation introduced in Congress."

Note — the second initial of Davis's name stands for "Moses." Perhaps what we need are more plain, garden-variety Moseses of the Davis type, instead of striped-pants diplomats, to lead us out of the international wilderness.

Wednesday was really radio day at the U. S. Senate, with special precautions taken because President Truman was on hand to dedicate the new enlarged Senate radio gallery. Capitol police got so security conscious that they barred Secretary of Labor Lew Schwelmbach and Federal Communications Commission Chairman Paul Porter from the Capitol to protect the life of the President.

Finally they were recognized and permitted to pass police lines. . . . Lyle Boren, reactionary Democratic Congressman from Seminole, Okla., interrupted a hearing of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee over which he presided last week in order to ask veteran Associated Press reporter Francis Lemay what kind of cigar he was smoking. Lemay, startled, peered through a cloud of smoke, promised to get one for Boren. He did after the hearing. . . . When "Ranting" John Rankin of Mississippi has the floor in the House, he does not like to yield for questions. The other day he was attacking Walter Winchell when Republican Robert Rich of Pennsylvania interrupted with a wordy speech in praise of Rankin — The first time such a speech has been heard on the House floor this year. But Rankin got more and more impatient, finally broke in on Rich and asked him not to take up any more of the time allotted to him, Rankin. Embarrassed Republican leaders hope other GOPsters won't make Rich's mistake.

Texas Today—
FOOLPROOF PLANES AND DREAM GADGETS RIGHT ON TOP OF US

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

The postwar world, with almost foolproof planes and dream gadgets, might be right on top of us. J. B. Jackson and G. S. Johnson flew one of the first postwar-built private planes to Waco. En route they almost gave out of gas, and landed neatly in a farmer's meadow.

They taxied up to the front door of the farmhouse, and filled up with ordinary gasoline. They said that in Indiana, they found an airplane course, with tourist cabins right at the field.

But a 14-year-old Waco girl isn't sold on these modern machines. She was picking cotton on the R. G. Scoggins place. She saw his car and obeyed that impulse. She climbed in, somehow got the engine started, put the car in gear, and ran through a fence, across a fish pond, and finally crashed against the side of a house.

She climbed out and went back to picking cotton. Deputy Sheriff Owen said it was a hard job getting the automobile out of the yard.

Over in Temple, McCloskey hospital authorities with high hopes placed three "dryly carefully" signs on the highway nearby.

Within a matter of hours, two of the signs had been knocked down by passing motorists.

Back in Waco, a man gave a friend a lift and landed in a hospital. The friend, who didn't want to go home, got a shotgun and clubbed the good samaritan. The shotgun wielder had a few lacerations on the forehead, but the friend who gave him a lift was "black and blue all over," hospital attendants said.

Filipino Woman Describes Death Of Her Family

By DEAN SCHEDLER
MANILA, Nov. 12 (P)—A bayonet-scarred, black-dressed Filipino woman sobbed out at the war-crimes trial of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita today a story of the fatal stabbing and burning of her four children and her mother by blood-crazed Japanese.

The prosecution stated for the record that 1,500 Filipinos in her neighborhood were thus "brutally mistreated and massacred" within a month.

The witness, Gliceria Malveco, concluded her testimony with a half-scream.

"Yamashita, see what you have done to my family!"

Describing the scene near Santo Tomas, Batangas province, she said that "we were tied in groups of five and led into a nearby field. A Japanese officer told the soldiers to line up behind us, and gave the order for them to start stabbing us."

She was bayoneted 12 times, and feigned death to escape further wounds.

"I could hear my children around me crying 'Mother, Mother,' and screaming to me before they died, she said. Later, furniture was piled on the bodies, soaked with gasoline and set afire.

A 10-year-old Chinese boy, Ang Kim Ling, then took the stand, weeping as he told how Japanese exterminated his whole family in Los Banos, Laguna province, a few days after American paratroopers and guerrillas staged their spectacular rescue of Allied internees from the nearby prison camp. Japanese, he sobbed, were trying to kill all Chinese in Los Banos.

Japanese bayoneted him in the shoulder and leg.

"After I was stabbed I closed my eyes. I went to sleep a little. When I woke up I saw a head, a few legs, and some arms lying on the ground around me. There was a sheet of corrugated iron over my head. I called for help but nobody came."

He and his severely wounded six-year-old sister were the only survivors. The Filipino chief of police found bodies of 27 Chinese partly eaten by dogs and pigs.

Airport Opened

GEORGETOWN, Tex., Nov. 12 (P) — Approximately 5,000 attended the opening of the municipal airport here yesterday. The field is one of the first completed by the Army under the C. A. A. program. Mayor M. F. Smith told the group.
