Within a month another link in the chain binding the western hemisphere into an economic unit is expected to be forged. The creation of the Inter-American Bank by five countries, Brazil Colombia, Mexico, Nicaragua, and the United States, is likely to be accomplished soon.

This is a highly important step. It may result in an al-most revolutionary change in financial and economic relations between the countries of the Americas.

This undertaking is completely different from the present Import-Export Bank. This is not an undertaking of the United States, but a joint undertaking of the five countries, and perhaps later of others who may join. It will be more like the Bank for International Settlements a sort of American "World Bank."

The object is broad-to promote trade between the Americas, to foster good will, to help stabilize currencies, to aid industrial development and monetary equilibrium.

Certain immediate results should follow: (1) It would be the first step on the part of the United States to redistribute its gold and silver among countries with which it seeks to stimulate trade and friendly relations. (2) It would tend to supplant private capital ventures in foreign fields by joint ventures of all American countries thus minimizing clashes which have always been a source of diplomatic friction (as in the oil cases in Mexico at present). (3) It would tend to make the Americas still more rope. And all American countries know now that European trade and financial invasions are arms of the new im- , perialism.

If the American countries can together supply their own capital needs for expansion and industrial and economic progress, so much smaller is the chance of European penetration by alien ideologies. 8

If it be argued that the United States faces a chance of once more holding the bag as the "rich uncle," let it be remembered that leadership in economic affairs is thrust into the hands of "rich nations" whether they like it or

It is only a question of whether they are willing to strike out boldly and exercise that leadership, or sit idly by while it crumbles away from them to fall into the hands of those who will grasp it by pressure and violence, for political ends.

Great strategists, the Nazis. They seize Hell, just out of Trondheim, then proceed to give it to the British a few miles farther north.

Jimmy Cromwell, the New Jersey candidate, announces that the wife is expecting. It is the farsighted politician who remembering he must kiss babies, provides his own to practice on.

Radio is quite confusing these days, it being difficult to determine whether the comedian's show is sponsored by tooth paste or a forthcoming film.

FORTY YEARS AGO this man was a grant* ... a telephone lineman's helper. His eyes have seen a miracle . . . the development of the Bell telephone system that today serves nearly 350,000 Texus telephones. His hands helper make the miracle come true.

When he was "breaking in," there were less than 15,000 Bell telephones in Texas. Based on present standards, the service then was slow and not very dependable or clear . Sometimes it took hours to complete a long distance call.

Today, from the sidelines, this old-timer watches with keen delight as 8,500 Texas telephone workers carry on. The job is bigger now, but the goal is still the same .... to furnish Texas with the best telephone service possible, at the lowest cost to the user.
