Germans Pushing On in Belgium and France

Bursting Bombs--Of a Peaceful Sort

Spectacular finale to the New York World's Fair of 1940 opening day, jammed from morn till night by over 190,400 pleasure seekers, was this spectacular, dazzling pattern of fireworks, bursting high above the Lagoon of Nations' multiplexed fountains.

RELIEF STAMPS BEEN REMOVING FOOD SURPLUS

By United Press
SAN FRANCISCO—Nationwide use of the stamps experimentally used with relief clients which them to low prices on commodities not only would the problem but would even be shortages in many counties, such as butter and according to Milo Perkins, known as the "vitamin following," is head of the Federal plus Commodities Corporation to the Department of Agriculture. He recently visited California to 17th District those centers like San Francisco and Los Angeles where County relief clients are being given part of their relief food stamps enable them to obtain at low prices foods which happen to have surplus at that time.

Program to Be Doubled
The program, which was inaugurated on May 16, 1939, has now been installed in 50 cities and next year will be extended to 100 such localities, according to Perkins.

The use of these stamps in only 10 localities," Perkins declared. He demonstrated that the United States is not suffering from overproduction but merely from underconsumption. The stamps have a myth of the over-production theory.

The nation's No. 1 problem is not over-production but under-consumption. Four million families in the United States," Perkins declared. "The population, have an average annual income of $312.

Largest Group in 2d Class
Eight million other families, 27 1-2 per cent of the total, have an average income of $758. There are 7,000,000 families, 23 per cent of the total, who have an average annual income of $24.

If the food stamp program becomes nationwide it will have definite effects:
First: It will enable the great underfed and undernourished portion of the population to have the food it should have.

Second: It will settle definitely the problem of over-production.
Third: It will put thousands to work growing the increased food which is actually necessary if every day in the United States has as good as it really needs.

And furthermore, considerable attention would have to be paid to the latter problem because it is necessary, in two cases, for example, to produce 14 per cent more butter than is being produced now and 13 per cent more eggs.

Florists of State Being Inspected

AUSTIN, Texas—The 1940 inspection of the State's 3,500 florists and nursery establishments was in full swing today. J. E. McDonald, Commissioner of Agriculture, under whose Department this program functions, was high in his praise of the close cooperation manifested by this state-wide $30,000,000 industry, which is producing 15,000,000 rose bushes annually, more peach nursery stock than any other state, along with the largest choice western variety peaches of any sister state.

"Ideal climatic, soil and transportation conditions, found in this state alone, has been responsible for the rapid growth of this industry which is taking its place in the foremost ranks of Texas horticultural pursuits. The florists and nurserymen of Texas have won national recognition for maintaining a strictly ethical and highly technical horticultural organization with other states patterning after them. This close observance of state and industry regulations has enabled the State Department's rather slender staff of inspectors to devote a large part of their time to acting in an advisory capacity," McDonald said.

HE'S CLOSE-VOTE CANDIDATE

SENATE MOVES TO SPEED UP ON ARMAMENT

WASHINGTON, May 17.—A Senate sub-committee today approved in three hours a bill requested by President Roosevelt to speed up America's army building.

Other developments included indications that the Government airplane factories will be built to supply 50,000 warplanes, a suggestion that all future aircraft factories be built in the mid-west, away from the seaboard where they might possibly be bombed, calling of a meeting of airplane makers in Washington Monday and the announcement that nine camps will be established to train 10,000 more pilots a year.

Airplane manufacturers in the country today said that airplane construction could easily be speeded up to meet the President's request for 50,000 war planes a year, and said that production on this scale could start at any time.

House Cheers When Dies Asks Enimes Within Be Ousted

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Chairman Martin Dies of the House un-American Activities Investigation Committee, was cheered in the house today when he declared that the defense appropriation will be wasted unless we deal first with enemies within the borders of our nation.

Aerial Circus to Open On June 1

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Leading figures of the aviation world will mark another milestone of aerial progress when the 10th annual National Air Carnival is held here June 1-2.

Famous pilots will demonstrate their flying skill in a free show that is expected to attract an even greater crowd than the 300,000 last year.

Steadham Acker, manager of the Birmingham Airport and director of the carnival, said a program of stunts, exhibitions and a beauty pageant to select "Miss American Aviation" were included on the two-day program.

Latest type commercial, transport and military planes will be on display, and the Birmingham Aero Club has invited leading fliers, aviation notables, manufacturers and Hollywood celebrities to attend.

The Carnival is unique in that there is no admission, no donations, no tax money used, and free parking and free souvenir programs.

"Miss American Aviation of 1940" will be selected at an aviation ball, to be held June 1. She will be chosen from pretty girls sent here by airlines, manufacturers, and state aviation commissions.

Special tribute will be paid the growth of aviation and to the 1939 safety record when nearly 2,100,000 passengers were flown 840,000,000 passenger miles without a fatality.

Truckers To Fight Lower Freight Rate

FORT WORTH, May 17.—Texas truck operators, in convention here today said that the 13 per cent reduction in first class freight rates on trucks and railroads, as ordered for July 1, by the Texas Railroad Commission, would cause them to operate at a loss. A court fight to enjoin the Railroad Commission's court was threatened at the convention.

CRAFTSMAN BUSY AT 84

Oil Production Decline Small a Survey Reveals

C. H. O'Brien, county tax assessor-collector, today released figures on oil production for the first three months of 1940 and a comparison with figures for the same period of 1939, which shows a decline in production of only about four per cent.

According to O'Brien there were 64 operators in the county during the three-month period, and all operators produced 232,507.90 barrels of oil, as compared with 244,287.54 barrels produced in the same period of last year. These figures show a decline of only 11,779.64 barrels for the entire three month period.

Average daily production in the county for the 182-day period ending with the first quarter of 1940 and including the last month of 1939 was 2,581.64 barrels, as compared with the same period in 1938 and 1939 of 2,208.09 barrels daily, O'Brien said.

O'Brien pointed out that the decline in oil production now was much slower than it was a few years back when each report showed large declines.

Hobbyist Hews Out Weapons of Past

SHAFER, Cal.—Ralph Short's spare-time hobby is carving copies of famous weapons. He borrows the originals from his friends to be used as models.

His collection now includes reproductions of a knife used for dueling in Haiti; a Chinese dagger; a machete issued to the U. S. Marines in 1912; the gun used by John Wesley Hardin, infamous bandit; a .45 caliber revolver carried by Wild Bill Hickok; an English-made pistol; a cap and ball derringer that once belonged to a prisoner captured by Judge Roy Bean, prominent figure in the law west of the Pecos, as well as models of the Colt in the early 1850s.

Veteran Gets His World War Letters

BEVERLY, Mass.—Gregory P. Connolly has received four letters which were mailed to him while he was serving with the American army in France during the World War.

They were forwarded to him by a French officer who found the letters in the bureau of a house where he now is billeted near the Maginot Line. Accompanying the letter was a note: "I am fulfilling a duty and also a pleasure to send you this correspondence which will bring back to you, perhaps, pleasant memories."

College Gives a Lighting Guide for Use In the Home

AMHERST, Mass.—A man needs as much light for shaving as his wife does for powdering her nose but their son studying his lessons requires twice as much. If the wife takes up the family mending, the amount of light should be tripled.

Thus advises Mrs. Harriet J. Haynes, home management specialist at Massachusetts State College, in a better lighting campaign. She reports from her research that prolonged sewing requires 50 to 100 foot candles of light, or approximately the illumination shed by a 60 watt lamp at a distance of one foot.

For the children's study table Mrs. Haynes suggests 20 to 50 foot candles of light. And to illuminate those daily attempts at facial beautification, the bathroom mirror and dressing table should have 10 to 30 foot candles.

"Good lighting should be adequate, glareless and evenly distributed," says Mrs. Haynes. "In a well-lighted home, there are no bulbs exposed, and the light is diffused by bowls, globes and shades."

To get "your money's worth" in light, she recommends selecting inside frosted bulbs of the proper voltage for the home, and keeping them clean. "The thrifty home manager will use open-top shades with white or near white linings. She will keep the diffusing bowls clean. When she has the walls down over, she will remember that white reflects 80 per cent of the light."

Canadian In War By Determination

LONDON.—One of the most popular members of the Canadian forces in England is 5-foot-2 Private D. Baddie, one of the few bantams in the C.E.F.

Determined to enlist, he hitchhiked to the nearest recruiting station, 230 miles off in the Grand Prairie.

The recruiting officer turned him down. So Baddie started for Edmonton, 350 miles away. Edmonton was so impressed by his achievement that he was passed for the army.

TOIL BALKS FINGERPRINTING

DURBAN, South Africa.—When a native caught with stealing corrugated iron came up for sentence in Durban, police discovered that his fingers were so worn with handling bricks that the fingerprints could not be taken.

MAGINOT LINE IS PIERCED IN SEDAN SECTOR

Churchill Announces "New Measures" As British Are Warned "Bad News May Be Coming."

PARIS, May 17.—Gen. Maurice Gamelin, allied commander-in-chief, said tonight that French units must hold present lines, or accept death for "world destiny" hangs in the balance of the Nazi thrust.

BERLIN, May 17.—Nazi sources said tonight that their troops had entered Brussels and that German troops from Holland were advancing upon the fortress at Antwerp.

London sources reported tonight that two German armored columns had rushed through a breach in the Maginot line extension at Sedan and had reached Laon and Marle, only 70 miles from Paris, in an attempt to cut off the allied armies in Belgium from those in France.

The allies withdrew from the defense of Brussels because of threat against that city. Belgium's government moved to Ostend on the coast, as German flanking columns moved in Northern France, headed toward the English Channel coast.

Berlin declared that all resistance before Brussels was crushed and that the Belgian fort at Namur had fallen. A 62-mile front was held by Germans in Northern France and official British news agency warned the public to prepare for bad news.

Neutral military experts said the German triumph was great, but that the invading force was open to counter attack. Three million troops, nearly two-thirds of them British and French, engaged in a battle with all their resources.

Prime Minister Churchill returned from London with a statement that a "new measure" had been taken to bolster Britain's power.

Science Peers Into A Baseball Game Played On Moon

TROY, N. Y.—A mathematics professor has figured out the problem of baseball playing on the moon.

Because the force of gravity on the moon is about one-sixth of that on the earth, Dr. James McGiffert of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute says:

1.—A 450-foot home run batted out in a baseball game on the moon would travel more than a mile.

2.—Players could run much faster and jump up to 25 or 30 feet to catch flies.

Prof. McGiffert also says high flies might go entirely out of sight and outfielders would peer into empty space until the soaring ball came back into visibility.

"Even though the game was close and there was a great racket among the fans, nobody would hear anything because there is no air on the moon," he said. "The game would be as silent as silent movies."

"And the great American cry 'kill the umpire' would be pointless. Imagine that!"

Books Provided For Low-Income Homes

SEATTLE, Wash.—Through the efforts of the state department of education and civic groups, literature is entering homes which otherwise could not afford books.

Superintendent of Education Stanley F. Atwood said fraternal and civic bodies are collecting books which had outlived their usefulness. These are given to schools which, in turn, give them outright to pupils.

This distribution, he said, "is confined very largely to rural communities."

The Good in a Bad Business

The Mexican oil expropriation affair, returning to deadlock after two years of wrangling, may seem discouraging.

But there are encouraging aspects in it. This thing is going to be settled, and settled in a way that will give substantial justice to both parties. It has taken time. It will take more time. But when enough time is taken, that in itself augurs eventful justice.

Let us note two things: First, the United States has resolutely refused to listen to hotheads who have maintained that the way to settle a controversy between a couple of American oil companies and the Mexican people is to march in with the Marines.

Second, Mexico has at all times shown willingness to negotiate, and to pay proper indemnifications, as she can, and when it has been properly determined. True, she refuses arbitration, but that is a technique. The responsibility she accepts.

So here we have a controversy between two governments, neither of which adopts the viewpoint of past centuries, both of which cling to the forward-looking viewpoint that there is a better way than force.

The controversy has now reached this point: The oil properties have been seized. No Mexican administration can go back on that—it has become, rightly or wrongly, a point of national honor. The United States concedes the seizure, maintains the companies should be paid. Mexico agrees.

Nobody has ever retedmed how much should be paid, whether all the potential value of oil beneath the seized lands, or simply the value of the physical investment. Mexico has no money to pay immediately in any event.

One of the two principal expropriated companies is about ready to accept payment in oil. After all, what would it have gotten if there had been no expropriation? Oil.

It is all a question of how much, and when, and how. Mexico needs more capital, which it surely can not expect to get until this matter is adjusted. The United States needs all-American good-will; the Mexican case, rightly or wrongly, is being used to block it. When both sides to a controversy stand to gain more by settlement than by continued disturbance, reasonable people on both sides will continue to hope for amicable settlement.

Psychology will win the war, say the British. Present psychology seems to be giving the Nazis the illusion of victory in Norway.

Spring is the season that finds the energetic amateur gardner faithfully clearing his plot of weeds, clearing the way for the 1940 crop of same.

The seers are already predicting the coming of war to the U. S. Complete, no doubt, with Sunday excursions into the battle zones, peanuts, hot dogs and colored pennants for each army.

ROMANCE AHEAD

YESTERDAY, Larry's car is found abandoned but undamaged. He talks to Colonel Harris, gets the details of the snugglers' operations. Larry, driving around town, is almost run down by a speeding car, when he crashes a stop sign. Only the expert driving of the other motorist avoids an accident. Larry discovers the driver is a girl, Monnie Miles, daughter of Col. Taylor Miles. And it was on the Miles ranch that Hugh was killed!

CHAPTER III

IT took Larry half an hour to buy a pair of cowboy work boots, two pairs of "levis," a few blue shirts and a $25 sombrero. When he checked out of his hotel, he had lost all resemblance to the Larry Collins who worked for Steve Clark, the Larry Collins whose by-line was familiar to a hundred thousand readers. He was a cowhand—His clothes looked too new, but a few minutes scuffling along the highway, and crawling under the car would take care of that.

He remembered to buy Texas license plates for his car. Not many cowhands come from New York. Larry pointed his car northward, picked up his highway marker and drove steadily. The picture of the girl, furiously angry, would not be dispelled. What a temper! Monnie. . . . Monica Maria Christina. Must be part Spanish. That accounted for some of the temper. And the black hair and flashing eyes.

COLONEL TAYLOR MILES was mad. He stomped up and down the porch of the ranchhouse, punctuated every step with a few choice words that are found neither in dictionary nor Bible. As a "cussler" the Colonel was without equal. With the Colonel, swearing was an art.

Right now the Colonel was displaying his ability, with undiminished fervor, for the benefit of two sheepish-looking cowhands, who stood a few paces away from the porch.

"And you call yourselves cowhands!" the Colonel was shouting. "Rodeo cowboys! You may know how to rope, but by the seven-foot horns of old Alamo, that's no excuse for breaking the necks of half my calves and rope-burning most of my cows.

"You've got your money—Get your stuff and get out! One of the boys will take you to town. Get out of my sight, you—You—!" He stomped off down to the corral to see how his foreman, Pete Barnes, was going to get along with two less hands.

It was there that Larry found the Colonel an hour later. Larry had read the sign when he met the Hayhook truck, heading for town, a few miles from the ranch. Three cowhands, warbags and a saddle. There'd be at least one job open on the Miles' place, Larry was sure.

The Colonel was cussing. Larry heard him a hundred yards away, telling Pete Barnes in no uncertain terms how the cowpunchin' business had gone to the devil, along with the profits. The Colonel warmed to his subject, and was branching off into politics, when Larry interrupted.

"Colonel Miles? . . . I'm looking for a job. Top cowhand."

"Can you rope?" the Colonel roared back at him.

"Nope. At least, not very well." Larry knew he had to tell the truth. It had been years since he'd ever been on a horse.

"You're hired. Thirty and keep. Pete, here, will tell you anything you need to know. . . . That your car?"

Larry nodded. "Paid for?"

"Yes." "You must be all right. Where you from?"

"El Paso, and points west." "A cloud of dust swirled along the highway, in the wake of a speeding car.

Illustrated by Ed Gunder

Monnie's laugh tinkled beyond a haze of dust and moving landscape. . . . Larry's hand was jerked loose, he was up in the air . . .

"Try it out, see how you like it."

"Thanks, Barnes," Larry started toward the horse.

"Just a minute, Collins." Barnes halted him. "Want you to meet Monnie—Miss Miles. The Colonel's daughter, and the real boss around here." Barnes grinned up at Monnie, winked broadly. Larry walked over to the fence.

"Miss Monnie, this is Larry Collins, the new hand your Dad just hired."

"I've met Mr. Collins, already, Pete. We have met, haven't we, Mister Collins?"

Larry met her challenge with a smile and an apology. "I'm awfully sorry about that, Miss Miles. All my fault. If Miss Miles hadn't been such a good driver, Barnes, they'd still be digging tin out of me. I'm glad to know you, Miss Miles."

Monnie ignored Larry's outstretched hand and his apology. "If this cowpunch can't ride any better than he can drive a car, you better get him a burro, Pete."

Larry turned, walked to the black. If he hadn't been so angry, he would have noticed the horse tense his muscles as Larry swung the reins over his neck, twisted the stirrup around to mount. But Larry missed that.

He almost missed the saddle, too. The instant Larry's weight hit the stirrup, the black jumped—sideways and away. Before Larry could find the other stirrup, the black's head was down between his forelegs and he was bunched his muscles for a pitch.

Larry pulled with all his strength to get that black head up, but failed. The horse bucked—hard. Larry grabbed the saddle horn—pulled leather.

Barnes' voice came to him faintly—"Ride him, kid!" And Monnie's laugh tinkled beyond a haze of dust and moving landscape—Larry's hand was jerked loose—He was up in the air, like a diver off a springboard—Something fell on his head. . . . Blackness.

Swimming Pool To Open on Saturday

Mayor C. W. Hoffmann announced today that the swimming pool in City Park would be opened to the public on Saturday, when the swimming season would be officially opened in Eastland. M. H. Kelly, city manager, stated that the pool had been thoroughly cleaned and made ready for the opening of the local swimming season, and would be filled with pure water.

Last season the Eastland pool was one of the most popular in this part of the state, because people were told, and soon found out for themselves, that they could swim in "drinking water" in the new pool.

Located on top of the high hill overlooking the city, the pool is situated in one of the most ideal locations that could be found anywhere. The natural beauty of the park, enhanced by the modern, clean and glistening pool, forms an ideal setting for a swim.

Clyde L. Garrett Announces He Is a Candidate for Congressional Post In Which He Is Serving In Washington

In announcing my candidacy for reelection, I desire to refer to my platform of 1936 and outline the various actions I have taken concerning same.

Free Speech and Free Press

I strongly advocated and emphasized the principle of free speech and free press. Strictly adhering to that principle, I have not denounced either a constituent of a colleague in Congress, through the press or through the medium of the Congressional Record, for either their actions or their comments contrary to my interests or favorable to an opponent.

It will be recalled, when I ran for Congress, I opposed the use of the franking privilege in the United States mails and the facilities of the Government printing plants—all maintained at enormous cost to the taxpayer—for the personal or political advancement of any office-holder. My constituents well know that I have faithfully maintained this attitude. They also know that I have not flooded the mail weekly with un-called-for and useless statements printed in the Congressional Record.

Veterans Legislation

I favored in 1936, as now, such actions as would provide for those veterans of foreign wars who are now in need of assistance from the country they fought to save. Immediately upon coming to Congress, I introduced a bill providing for the establishment of a Veterans Hospital in the 17th District. As a result of this movement which I helped to inaugurate, two such hospitals are now being constructed in Texas.

I have devoted much time in assisting veterans in presenting their claims to the Veterans' Administration and have worked for and supported all legislation which would better the condition of these splendid citizens, their wives and widows. In presenting these claims I found that many deserving and needy veterans, after a proper presentation of their evidence, have been denied the aid they deserved. And accordingly, I introduced a bill which would give the veteran the right to contest the decision of the Veterans' Administration's ruling in a court in his district. No member of Congress can show a record that compares more favorably than mine in relation to the veterans, their wives and widows.

I also presented memorials and have diligently worked to provide additional domiciliary facilities at Legion, Texas, and at this time such facilities are receiving thoughtful consideration by the Veterans' Administration. At the present time, I am supporting and will vote for the adequate and just pensions for the widows and children of veterans in the present bill before Congress.

Oil Control, Commerce and Labor

I have always favored the principles of private ownership and freedom of business enterprise, and I have and shall continue to oppose the nationalization and federalization of our industries. My stand in 1936 in opposition to Federal control of our oil industry is indicative of my present position in this respect. We still have honest and capable men in Texas whom we can elect and to whom we can safely entrust the handling of this great industry. Our state officers elected to handle this problem are nearer to the people and are far more concerned with the industry's welfare than any bureaucrat that could be sent out from Washington. Our present plan with the control vested in elected state officials is and will work to the benefit of both the consumer and the producer. My attitude in this connection is further reflected in my support of the Walter-Logan bill recently passed by the House. This bill gives every citizen the right to have any ruling of an administrative bureau reviewed by a court. This, I believe, is the best way to keep the administrative bureaus within the power of the people.

Since commerce is dependent on means of transportation, I have been working to equalize such existing discriminatory laws and regulations as might prevent the free and unlimited flow of commerce. In this connection, I have worked diligently to eliminate the unfair freight rates imposed on the South and the Southwest. During my term as Congressman, several great steps in this direction have been made, destroying certain west Texas zones and giving that region equal rates with other zones. I shall continue my efforts until we have won equal and just rates for our District.

Together with my interest in commerce, I have always been aware of the needs of the employee. I voted for the Wage-Hour Law, since legislation along this line was needed. While neither the Wagner Act nor the NLRA, which were passed prior to my coming to Congress, have worked to the satisfaction of Congress and of the Nation, I do not feel that we should junk this legislation entirely. We should use these laws as a base, eliminating such provisions as are wrong and unjust, and retaining those parts which benefit both labor and commerce.

Social Security

Many people are of the opinion that our present Social Security Law relates to Old Age Assistance only. This is merely a part of it. This act authorizes the Federal Government, as an agent of the people, to secure proper facilities for its youth, to care for its sick and ailing, and to provide means of sustenance for its aged and infirm. I know that the provisions for the health and welfare of our people runs only to about 8 cents per person per year which is too small. I know that adequate provisions have not been made for our youth; that laborers do not feel safe against sickness and accident; that our aged and infirm are not justly treated—many of them being now in dire need and want. I have supported and endorsed measures that sought to relieve these conditions. When I came to Congress, I found that this Act was amassing a tremendous sum which would not fully benefit the people until 1975 and that the payments to begin in 1942 would give the people but a mere pittance. I voted for the measure that authorized these payments to begin in 1940 and sought to secure an amendment to the Act to eliminate this "reserve fund" which does not help the people. Realizing that this tremendous reserve was unnecessary, I supported the amendment which reduces the contributions made by both the employee and employer. I feel that Social Security contributions should be kept sacred and used exclusively for purposes for which they were collected.

I supported all such amendments to the Social Security Act, including those which sought to liberalize the basis for benefits to the old people who should receive aid and support from this law. This was the intent of the law when passed and I favor carrying out the mandate of the people. It will be remembered that, when I ran for Congress, I advocated a liberal and adequate old age pension preferably paid by the Federal Government. I am still of the same opinion. In fact, I have supported all pension legislation which had this for its purpose. I have kept faith with the people. While pensions are an important and necessary part of our Social Security problem, I do not allow myself to shirk the other needs and demands of our people in this connection.

The most important industry in my District is Agriculture. It is confronted with many vexing problems. It is easy for one who has an axe to grind to say that he wishes to aid the plight of the farmer, but it is hard for him to follow up his statement with a plan, for such a plan must be developed through months and probably years of study and with the proper national perspective.

I supported the present farm bill. This bill does provide a splendid working basis for a most worthwhile and long-range farm program, and, though far from being perfect, must and will eventually be amended to eliminate any inequalities. This bill places, as it should, control of the program largely in the hands of the farmers themselves. I have favored a national policy of adjusting agricultural products to prevailing and prospective demand and for handling burdensome agricultural surpluses, while this adjustment is in progress. I believe also in the basic principle of sound business-like management of farms. This Farm Act provides for the payment of parity prices on all the basic farm products. I have supported every appropriation to provide payment of parity prices to our farmers.

I have actively supported the Water Facilities program. It is now in its infancy but it has already proven its worth and I believe that it should be extended. I have wholeheartedly supported our Soil Conservation program. Our people know what it has meant to them. I shall continue to support it.

The Rural Electrification program has received my hearty support. I am glad that many of the communities of my District are taking the advantage of cheaper power rates under this program. I hope that the day is not far distant when our agricultural conditions and farm income will make it possible for every family in our rural communities to take full advantage of the comforts and conveniences provided by the Rural Electricification program. Fully realizing what the Farm Security Program has and is meaning to our farmers I have unhesitatingly supported this program. Furthermore, I have voted for lowering interest rates and more readily accessible loans to our farmers at all times. I strongly favored the first Farm Tenancy Purchase bill and have supported each of them since. I favored a larger appropriation than that provided in the above bill in order that more of our worthy tenants might acquire farms. I also feel that Congress should take immediate steps to prevent the causes of farm tenancy. Too, realizing that unemployment is being greatly increased by tenants being driven from the farms, I have heartily supported amendments to the Farm Act which had for their purpose the remedying of this deplorable situation. Thousands of deserving people, with substantial equities in their homes are losing them annually. Some safe and sound program should be provided to remove this cause of farm tenancy. It has been said, "You cannot make landlords out of tenants until you stop the thing that is making tenants out of landlords."

In my further efforts to cooperate with agriculture, every cotton farmer is aware of the bill which I have introduced in Congress calling for the redemption of tax-exempt certificates issued under the Bankhead Act, voted prior to 1936. The passage of this measure would restore money taken away from the farmers of my district and increase the purchasing power of every community in West Texas. About twenty million dollars would be returned to the pockets of the farmers which is now frozen in the Treasury through the unconstitutional Bankhead Act passed in 1934.

It will be remembered that in 1936 I advocated balancing the budget. I still would like to see this done. However, it is more than one man can do alone. With the alarming unemployment and relief problem now confronting the Nation, the necessity for huge appropriations for agriculture, coupled with the enormous sums now so necessary to National Defense, no one knows when the budget can be balanced. In this connection, will state that I have voted for the maximum amounts requested by the President for the above purposes, and, in one or two occasions with reference to relief, in excess of the amount requested. If my constituents could know the appeals which come to my office from the county, city, and school officials for funds that they may sponsor worthwhile projects in order to provide work for the unemployed, such as court-houses, city halls, school buildings, recreation and athletic buildings and grounds, farm-to-market roads, streets, parks and numerous other projects; if they could see the thousands of unemployed men and women begging for an opportunity to work and a chance to live, they would understand why I voted for such appropriations. I cannot bring myself to believe that funds spent for the above purposes have been poured down "rat-holes" as some would have you believe. I believe it more important to save the lives of these unfortunates who through no fault of their own cannot secure jobs, to aid the sick and infirm, to care for the young who have not food for life, and to rebuild the wavering morale of our people than it is to count the money as it lies idle in the counting houses. A life is more precious than a dollar. I do not believe my people want me to deny my support and assistance to the aid of those in need. Furthermore, I know that the people of my District adhere to the doctrine that we are "our brother's keeper."

I also believe it is more important to provide an adequate national defense of our country than it is to save and hoard dollars. It is better to spend a billion dollars than a million lives in defense of our country.

National Youth Administration

The destiny and future of our Nation is dependent on the coming generations who shall be its citizens and its leaders. I have ever favored a democratic system of education and, in close cooperation with our splendid schools and colleges, have supported the provisions of the National Youth Administration. I know that there are literally thousands of our worthy and deserving girls and boys who would be denied the privilege of equipping themselves for life's duties and responsibilities if it were not for this program. I shall continue to support this worthwhile program.

Subversive Activities

While I know that our country will never become the aggressor Nation, I am well aware of the policies of dictator nations and know what happened to Austria, Poland, Finland, Norway, not to mention many others. Having this in mind I supported the Hobbs bill, which gives the Government authority to deport all aliens who are illegally in this country and who are subversive in their work and are criminal in their intent. Realizing that we have much to fear from enemies within I voted to create the Dies committee to investigate un-American activities

Foreign Affairs

My people know that in 1936 I pledged that I would never vote for a war of aggression. I shall keep my word. I believe that we should attend to our own affairs. Certainly none of us desire that the flower of our youth be sent to fight in foreign wars. I can easily understand the anxiety of the fathers and mothers of this country who do not wish that their sons should be sacrificed to fight other nations' wars as I have two fine sons who would likely be among the first to be called to arms.

Immigration

No general immigration laws have been passed since I came to Congress. However, I do not favor letting the bars down for any influx of natives of other countries. Our own citizens deserve the best things of this country and it is my candid opinion that all aliens now in this country should now be given their choice, either to become citizens or get out.

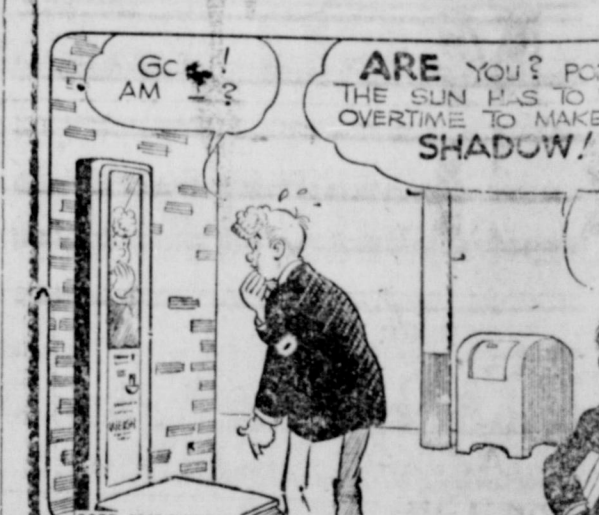

than the actions of any one man who may be elected to Congress, will keep us out of foreign alliances and entanglements. I have favored the Administration's efforts in securing a more closely-knit Pan-American Union, which most men of international learning hail as the greatest step toward peace today, and have aided in every way the closer alliance of the American democracies and a practicable and cooperative organization under the protection of the Monroe Doctrine. I have yet to find a member of Congress who advocates the United States entering the war; only war-mongers and opportunists deny this fact. Congress does not need further organizing along this line. In these perilous times it behooves our people to keep cool heads, our feet on the ground, and for everyone of us to strive to be as neutral in action, and in spirit, as is humanly possible, so that we may maintain an attitude of frankness and straightforwardness of purpose that will make the nations of the earth respect our desires for peace. May I not take this opportunity to earnestly and respectfully urge that all my constituents cooperate with our great president, and the national administration by refraining from "war-talk," useless agitation, and rash and radical statements.

Despite the fact that hundreds of my friends are urging that I return to the District now and actively enter my campaign, it is my purpose, if conditions remain as they are, to remain in Washington and continue my official duties until Congress adjourns. However, I greatly appreciate the many good letters which I am receiving from my friends concerning my work in Congress. I am sure that these will be active in my behalf, at least, until I can return to the District.

FLIER SIGNALS FOR DINNER

MONTPELIER, Vt. — When Capt. Walter Cleveland, an army pilot, wants to tell his wife he is coming home to dinner, he dips his plane's wings sharply as he passes his house on the edge of the airport here.

THE PAY OFF

HARRY GRAYSON, NEA Service Sports Editor. NEW YORK.—When red-headed Leland Stanford MacPhail, ex-soldier, ex-lawyer and ex-football official, obtained his first major league opportunity in Cincinnati, following a whirl in Columbus, he was looked upon as something of an easy mark by purveyors of baseball ivory.

ing 277 in 116 games in '39. At 35, Lippy Leo Durocher has no superior as a fielding shortstop. Yet he has been kept in the dugout this spring by the brilliance of Pee Wee Reese.

MacPhail turned to Milwaukee for two members of Brooklyn's pitching Big Three, Luke Hamlin and Whitlow Wyatt, and drafted the third, Hugh Casey, from Memphis.

Tex Carleton, the no-hit, no-run hero. Tot Pressnell and Newell Kimball also came from the Brewers.

Fat Fred Fitzsimmons and Vintaus Tamulis were obtained on waivers—from the Giants and Browns, respectively.

THE Red Birds seem to have let a fine young catcher go in Herman Franks, who caught Carleton's no-hitter and who has made bench warmers out of Phelps and Gus Mancuso.

Pete Coscarart, only 24 and purchased from Portland, is the key man in the slickest infield the National League has boasted in years. . . one backed up by such capable reservists as Durocher and Johnny Hudson.

MacPhail gave $25,000 each for two of his three former American League outfielders, Joe Vosmik and Roy Cullenbine. Dixie Walker came from Detroit at the waiver price. They have been keeping Charley Gilbert, up from Nashville, Jimmy Ripple and Ernie Koy in the dugout.

Larry MacPhail always managed to dig someone up whenever Leo Durocher pressed the button. But their cyclonic finish of 1939 and early rush this trip is evidence that the Brooklyn Dodgers are finally set.

They are now going about the business of forcing some of the other clubs to make some changes—that is if they care to remain contenders.

When he left the Rhineland, the nucleus of its championship club was on the field. And in two years, starting from scratch, MacPhail appears to have built another championship array in Brooklyn.

MacPhail had to pay his way, too, for the club was $700,000 in debt. This he did with night baseball, which paid for itself and then some.

MacPhail's first act upon taking over the outfit early in 1938 was to give the Phillies $45,000 and an athlete of no consequence for First Baseman Dolf Camilli.

This quickly convinced the good people of Flatbush he intended to make every effort to give them a winner.

MacPhail made so many deals some of them had to be bad—the purchase of Mel Almada from the Browns for $25,000 and an outfielder, for example—but the majority of his transactions panned out very well.

One in which not a few of the sharpshooters believed MacPhail was shortchanged no little brought Leo Ernest Durocher from the Cardinals.

But it turned out that MacPhail gave nothing in particular, and Durocher appeared in 141 games in '38 and was selected as the manager of the year after bat-

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

BY BRUCE CATTON, NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — President Roosevelt's bitter attack on the motives of people who criticize his transfer of the Civil Aeronautics Authority back to the Commerce Department hit airline pilots like a slap in the face.

Undoubtedly a lot of the President's congressional critics did have political motives. But the pilots certainly didn't.

Bruce Catton

They had assumed that someone misadvised the President on the transfer, and were hoping if the whole business were properly explained to him he'd rescind the order.

A small group from the Airline Pilots' Association had been chosen to seek an audience at the White House and explain things man to man—and just then the President loosed his blast. As a result the pilots are hopping mad.

They have gone up to the capitol to do some first-hand lobbying. One pilot I talked with was D. W. "Duke" Ledbetter, of American Airlines, who explained the pilots' angle thus:

"The safety record the airlines have made in the past year is due to the absolute co-operation there has been between the Air Safety Board, the Civil Aeronautics Authority, the pilots and the airline operators. If any one of those four groups breaks down on the co-operation, you just aren't going to have safety.

"The President says there has been strife between the CAA and the Safety Board, and among the three Safety Board members. That simply is not true. The President has just been misinformed.

"In the first place, there really are only two men on the Safety Board. (Sumpter Smith, former chairman, has been in charge of building Gravelly Point airport at Washington since last fall.) One of these two men is Tom Harding.

The President let the pilots themselves pick him, and he has done a marvelous job.

"The other man is C. B. Allen. We were kind of doubtful about him when he was appointed; weren't sure that he knew his stuff. But we aren't doubtful any more. We've seen him in action. Some of us went in to see him not long ago and apologized for having fought his appointment."

"SPINACH" CHARGE FULL OF SAND

IT is hard for Ledbetter and his fellow pilots to talk unemotionally when they discuss the situation. The President referred to the criticism as "spinach," and impugned their motives; that really got under their hides.

One other thing had just riled Ledbetter when I talked with him. He had been talking with a Democratic senator, explaining the set-up to him; in the end, the senator admitted the pilots were undoubtedly in the right, but added that because he was a New Dealer he'd have to vote with the President on the issue.

"Would I like to get that bird up in my plane," mused Ledbetter.

FOR the spring supper, serve cookies with stewed or fresh fruit, or with a light chilled pudding. You'll like the recipe combination. It may do well for a porch party on Sunday afternoon, too.

PINEAPPLE WHIP

One-half cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 cups pineapple juice, 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 2 egg yolks, well beaten, 2 egg whites.

Combine sugar, salt, and pineapple juice and tapioca in saucepan. Bring mixture quickly to a full boil over direct heat, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. (Mixture will be thin. Do not over-cook.) Add egg yolks, mixing thoroughly. Beat egg whites until just stiff enough to hold shape. Fold hot tapioca mixture gradually into egg whites. Cool—mixture thickens as it cools. Serves 4 to 6.

Application for NYA Project Is Signed by Mayor

Mayor C. W. Hoffmann has signed a city-wide application for a National Youth Administration project in the city of Eastland, it was announced today by Jack Hale, area supervisor for NYA. The project has been sent to Fort Worth, where it is to be checked before being given approval by H. A. Ziegler, district supervisor, and then sent to the office of J. C. Kellam, state director at Austin.

The project application calls for five or six neighborhood tennis courts, Hale stated, as well as picnic units at City Park and at the park at Lake Ringling. He believed locally that the project would be given quick approval, both at Fort Worth and Austin, and that work could be started on the work in a very short time.
