ABOUT Eastland

By VIRGIL E. MOORE

Visiting in the Chamber of Commerce office Monday we got to looking around at all the free things Herb Tanner has to give away, and being the sort of guy who will take most anything that's free we found ourselves going out of the office with a hand full of pamphlets and maps.

The C-C has available free maps of the city, Lake Leon area and the state. What we got the most interested in, however, was a booklet entitled, "Your US 80, The Nation's Popular Southern Route." It's an interesting book and gives Eastland, Ranger and Cisco each a fine plug. It apparently was printed pre-Lake Leon days, however, and doesn't show the new lake, although it does have Lake Brownwood and Possum Kingdom Lake displayed. Hope that's one they correct.

The C-C office, to those of you who have never visited down that way, is getting to be a museum. Herb has a lot of articles manufactured here on display, and also has a number of samples of area clay. And the C-C is still getting requests for information on Old Rip the horned toad, too. Two letters had just come in Monday. One was from a college student who was writing a paper on Old Rip and the other from a youngster wanting to know if the story was true.

Driving back home from Denton over the weekend we couldn't help but wish Eastland, Ranger and Cisco would sign in together and have a nice sign built out on Highway 80 just as you enter Eastland County. All it would have to say is you are now entering Eastland County. Sure would make motorists think highly of this area, since they have just hit a fine four-lane highway after struggling over the narrow two-lane strip.

Guess you have heard the one about the stranger who was greeted by the farmer. The visitor produced his card and remarked:

"I am a government inspector and am entitled to inspect your farm."

A little later the farmer heard screams from his alfalfa patch, where the inspector was being chased by a bull. Leaning over the gate as the inspector drew near, the farmer yelled out:

"Show him your card, mister. Show him your card!"

Noticed the price of gasoline in Eastland? Haven't figured out just what the score is yet, but those large signs showing reduced prices have started appearing at a number of stations.

They tell us J. T. Gregory is doing okay. Gregory was the only casualty this year at the annual game played between Little League dads and managers. All players dress as girls, you know. J. T. was at bat and wasn't watching too close when he caught a ball in the face. It wasn't very funny to him about that time. Stunts included pitching a grapefruit instead of a regular ball on a couple of occasions and running to third base instead of first after getting a clean hit.

Attention members of the Civic League: That first luncheon meeting of the summer we told you about in Sunday's paper—you remember, it's to be held Wednesday noon. Well that's not this Wednesday, it's next. So make your plans accordingly.

If you meet one of the two new home demonstration women around town and call her by the wrong name it will probably be our fault. We got their pictures switched in the paper the other day.

Membership Deadline Is Near For New C-Club

Prospective members of Lake Leon's proposed Lone Cedar County Club were reminded today that June 30 is the deadline for membership.

According to Dr. James Whittington of Eastland there are a few openings left in the Land Company, which will build and lease the clubhouse. Full information may be obtained from any member of the Board of Directors, member, or your banker.

The swank club, which promoters say will be second to none in West Texas, is due to be constructed this fall and coming winter. Choice acreage for the club has already been purchased adjoining the lake which will assure club members of continuing southerly breezes across the lake, provide sheltered water area for water skiing, and excellent grounds for the club's 18 hole golf course.

The club house will provide dining area, dancing pavilion, modern kitchen and a full time maitre D'Hotel.

Outside activities, according to Dr. Whittington, will include private tiled swimming pool, tennis

Lee Littleton, Longtime County Resident, Buried

Funeral services were held in Eastland last week for Leni Earnest Littleton.

Mr. Littleton was born March 15, 1881 in Hartsville, Tenn. As an infant he came to Eastland County with his parents, the late J. C. and Louisa Littleton. The Littletons settled near the town of Eastland in the area which later became the Pleasant Grove community. There Lee was reared into young manhood and married Miss Estelle Bond on May 26, 1901. To this union was born two sons, the older died in infancy. In 1919 they moved to Hamlin where he lived for 10 years and was engaged in stock farming except for three years he served as a law officer.

He moved back to Eastland County in 1929 to the Morton Valley community where he was active in stock farming until his health failed him and he then retired and moved into Eastland where he lived until his death.

After visiting his son in Corpus Christi for several weeks he and his wife started for home June 9 by automobile. Just as they came into San Antonio Mr. Littleton became seriously ill and was rushed to San Rosa hospital where he died at 4 p.m. of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Services were conducted Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Hamner Funeral Chapel with Rev. Richard Smith III, First Methodist pastor, presiding.

Survivors include his wife; a son, Vance of Corpus Christi; two brothers, Rev. J. Henry Littleton of Eastland and R. C. of Corpus Christi; three sisters, Mrs. O. J. Cotton of Hale Center, Mrs. W. A. Stephenson of Abilene and Mrs. Van Garrett Sr. of Dublin; a grandson, Vance Jr.; a great grandson, Randy; and a number of nieces and nephews.

New Boyce House Book Features Eastland County

Eastland County comes in for a goodly share of recognition in the new book, "As I Was Saying," written by Boyce House, who used to edit papers in Ranger, Eastland and Cisco.

A story of buried treasure near Gorman; two Rising Star stories, featuring M. S. (Doc) Sellers, former editor, and an anecdote about Homer Glover, Ranger-Eastland oil operator, are in the book.

Then there is an amusing account of how the foreman, advertising manager, and a line-type operator of the Ranger Times "scoped" the editor (who was Boyce House).

And the time the Rotary district convention was held in Ranger, as well as a story about Brann Garner, formerly of Ranger.

Besides, there are two incidents about E. H. Whitehead, many years ago football coach of the Cisco Lobos; a story in which J. E. Spencer, well known peach grower of Cisco figures, and a hilarious yarn about a baseball game between Cisco and Parks Camp.

The book, published by the Naylor Company of San Antonio, contains several hundred anecdotes ranging from smiles to tears.

Wheat Growers Vote Thursday On Quotas

Four voting places will be open in Eastland County Thursday when wheat farmers will decide by referendum whether or not they will want marketing quotas on the 1958 wheat crop.

Voting places will be in Eastland at the ASC office in the courthouse, at Ranger City Hall, at the Cisco Chamber of Commerce office and at Collins Insurance office in Carbon. Polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

According to R. G. Shrauner, chairman of the Texas ASC committee, the recent proclamation of marketing quotas for the 1958 crop of wheat conforms with legislative directives.

In Eastland County there are some 125 eligible growers, Emmett Powell, head of the ASC office in Eastland, estimates. Powell pointed out that both growers who will have at least 15 acres next year, and their wives, may vote.

County Draws New Oil Try

Eastland County has another oil well try underway. It is the No. 1 George H. Robinson being drilled by Early Dawn Oil Co. of Fort Worth.

Location is 360 feet from the south line and 1606 feet from the west line of the S. M. Mathias Survey, four miles south of Ranger of a 160 acre lease. Elevation is 1450 feet and proposed depth is 1800 feet with rotary.

Airlines get 5 times as much revenue per ton-mile of mail than the railroads—85 cents for airlines and 16 cents for railroads.

Treasurer Not Hurt, You Are, Says Richard Cox

County Treasurer Richard Cox gave his side of the controversial $190 question today and directed his remarks to W. H. Hailey and County Auditor Earl O'Brien.

Cox declared he isn't being hurt financially by the episode, but the citizens of Eastland County are.

Here in full is the letter mailed to the editors of the Eastland Telegram and The Ranger Times:

"Replying to the statement appearing in last Sunday's issue of your paper by Mr. W. H. Hailey, stating in substance that I, Richard C. Cox, as County Treasurer, 'had infringed on his rights as a citizen and tax payer'.

"In as much as the controversy referred to by Mr. Hailey has to do with my official duties, I desire that the citizens of our county know the facts and then it will be known just what the true record is in this particular matter, as shown on my records and in the auditing section of Eastland County.

"The matter referred to by Mr. Hailey had its beginning on completion of certain terracing supposedly done on a 50-50 basis by Precinct No. 2 and the Federal Government for Mr. Hailey, work being completed May 8, 1954, more than three years ago and on which date I, as Eastland County Treasurer received Federal Warrant from the U. S. Treasury, No. 83288, made payable to Eastland County, Precinct No. 2, in the amount of $334.94 as the Federal Government's share of the total cost of construction of terraces for Mr. Hailey. This means that the farmer, Mr. W. H. Hailey, and the Federal Government were to share equally in the cost of such terrace construction, however the record shows that Mr. Hailey has paid only $167.47 (only 1/2 of what is due). Mr. Hailey said: 'I have at no time been unwilling to pay this debt.' but on the contrary thereto the records show only part payment has been made. He does not owe the County Treasurer, neither does he owe the Commissioner of Precinct No. 2 but, he does owe the additional sum to the People of Eastland County—and, if Mr. Hailey does not pay an additional sum of $167.47 to the County, then who is to pay the bill? The People of Eastland County, of course.

"Previously cases of like nature where the farmer or rancher defaulted or refused payment of their 50 per cent (1/2 of total cost) the Federal Government charged back to the account of the Precinct failing to collect from the farmer or rancher having such construction done. To be plain it falls on 'John Q Public', the taxpayers of Eastland County who own the machinery and equipment that completed the work for Mr. Hailey.

"Mr. Hailey has not at anytime given your County Treasurer a check; but on the two occasions checks were tendered in payment, he gave them to the County Auditor, who in turn delivered each to me. Our County Auditor is not an elective official but an appointee of the Judge of the 91st. District Court.

"As to why Mr. Hailey refuses to deal with Mr. Bennett, we all know that the Commissioner's Court of Eastland County voted to

Big Seventh Inning Wins For Greenbacks

A big seventh inning gave the Eastland National Bank Greenbacks a 9-8 victory over the Ranger Oilers here last night in the Tri-Cities ABC Senior League.

Big bats of Button Humphrey, John Wilson and Mickey Garner were too much for Ranger as the Greenbacks got four big runs in their half of the final frame to wrap up the game. Garner's triple drove home the winning run with two away.

Winner was Tom Wilson while John Perkins was charged with the loss. Tonight in Junior League play the White Elephant Jumbos journey to Cisco to take on the Cisco B team. Thursday night the Greenbacks entertain Cisco and the Blue Sox play in Ranger and Friday night the Jumbos take on Ranger here.

Highway 80 Meet Set For June 27 By Hiway Dept.

A county-wide public meeting will be held at 1:30 p. m. Thursday, June 27 in the county courtroom in Eastland by the Texas Highway Department.

The meeting will give property owners and others who have anything to discuss concerning the new Highway 80 route around Cisco, Eastland and Ranger, an opportunity to have their say, according to Gordon Smith, resident engineer.

Smith said the meeting would be tape recorded and that the recording would be forwarded to Austin for the Highway Board's consideration.

Smith said that Highway 80 definitely will be routed about the three cities and that this meeting would give citizens a chance to get their views concerning possible damage to the town or to individuals aired. The meeting will not be one to announce specific routes through the county, he added.

Fourteen County 4-H Boys Attend District Camp

Boys who will attend the camp include Pat Akers, Jimmy Lee Easter and Ramon Fox, all of Eastland; Duane McDaniel, Roger Woodall and Ray Woodall, all of Carbon; Covie Weaver and John Wayne Burns of Rising Star; Wendell Speed, Carl Stroebel, Rodney Harsell, Phillip Gosnell, Charles Stephenson and Terry Bostick, all of Cisco.

Present Issues Do Not Justify Special Session of Legislature

Unless Gov. Price Daniel has more compelling reasons for calling a special session of the Legislature than those he divulged, there is no justification for having one. The recently ended session of the 55th Legislature did a creditable job. The legislation it left unpassed cannot be placed in an emergency category. The purpose of special sessions is to handle emergencies.

In saying that he plans to call a special session later this year, the governor mentioned as measures needing attention the proposal to spend $100,000,000 for water storage space in federal reservoirs yet to be built; a lobby control act; a law requiring persons practicing before state agencies to register, and a law enforcement commission.

The Legislature passed a number of helpful water bills. The major one, which is to be submitted to the voters for approval next Nov. 5, would authorize the state to issue $200,000,000 in revenue bonds. This money would be loaned to local areas to build dams and other conservation projects. The idea of buying storage space in federal reservoirs is of doubtful value to begin with and does not justify the calling of a special session.

As Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston pointed out, the state already has a lobby control act if the proper authorities would enforce it.

The crime commission, which would be composed of grand jury foremen from over the state, will not serve any purpose which regular law enforcement agencies cannot adequately handle if they will perform the duties required of them by law.

It would be desirable to have registration of persons practicing before state agencies, but this does not create an emergency.

Texans can appreciate the governor's good intentions and his aggressiveness in trying to get an adequate water program for the state and in seeking legislation to deter and punish wrong-doing in public office. The question is, however, whether a special session of the Legislature would do anything worthwhile along these lines.

The governor spoke of a statutory plan for financing the water storage, which previously has been considered as a constitutional amendment authorizing issuance of revenue bonds. This would indicate an outright appropriation for this purpose and probably would necessitate a tax increase. Such a plan is unlikely to be popular with Texans.

The governor's score sheet shows he got 47 of the 51 requests he made to the Legislature. He should rest on that.

Infant Death Rate Reduced By Medical Advance

NEW YORK — Medical advances of the past half-century meant the difference between life and death to 300,000 of the four million babies born last year in the United States, Health Information Foundation reported recently.

In an issue of Progress in Health Services, its monthly statistical bulletin, the Foundation said that 108,000 infant deaths were registered in the U. S. in 1956, a rate of 26.1 per 1,000 live babies. Had the infant mortality rate of 1915 prevailed during 1956, the Foundation added, another 300,000 babies would not have lived to celebrate their first birthday.

The outlook for today's infants is especially bright once the first week of life is past. The current mortality rate for the last 51 weeks of infancy is 10 per 1,000 live babies.

babies, or only one-seventh of the 1915 rate. By contrast, the Foundation pointed out, the mortality rate for the first week is 16.7 per 1,000 births, a decline of less than 50 percent in 40 years.

"Many diseases that formerly took high tolls of infants after their first week have been largely brought under control and in some cases eliminated," the Foundation said. "In general, these are the diseases associated with inadequate sanitation, poor hygiene, poverty and low standards of living. The record has been nearly as good among the digestive diseases . . . Infant deaths from respiratory diseases have declined by almost three-fifths."

Behind this saving of 300,000 lives, said the Foundation's president, George Bugbee, lie two major factors — the medical progress of the past half - century and the public's "increased willingness to take advantage of this progress."

Most U. S. mothers, he said, "have amply shown" their interest in receiving good prenatal care, in having their babies in the hospital rather than in the home, and in making sure their children get preventive medical care after birth.

Despite the good record, Mr. Bugbee added, there is room for further improvement. "It is likely," he said, "that further strides will be made in the future, but that the success of medical science will continue to depend on better understanding and liaison between hospital and doctors on the one hand and the public on the other . . . By and large, infant mortality rates are highest among the socio-economic groups who today show the least inclination or ability to use modern medical services and modern health practices. However, there is latitude for improvement in all income groups — improvement which can come only as modern knowledge is more broadly used by the public."

Men were drivers in 89.7 per cent of the cases. Week-ends, lead by Saturdays, are the most dangerous, killing 56 per cent. ### Judges At Work In Community Improving Moves

College Station.—The district winners are now being selected in two programs which are continuing to gain favor with the rural communities of Texas. According to Reagan Brown, extension rural sociologist, the number of entries in the 10-year old Neighborhood

Improvement program reached an all-time high of 205 for the 1956-57 year. Brown said the entries came from 87 counties and that 25 were in the program for the first time and that 78 of the neighborhoods entered were in these 25 new counties. He reminds that judging on the state basis in this program will get underway on May 6. The top five neighborhoods in the state will be selected from among the 14 district winners which are now being determined. Farmer Stockman magazine sponsors in cooperation with the Extension Service the neighborhood program. The second, the Community Pasture Improvement program, which is open to counties in Extension Districts 4, 5, 8, 9, 10 and 11, has entries from 41 communities. Judging to determine district winners is also underway in this program, said Brown. Co-sponsor with the Agricultural Extension Service of the pasture program is the Texas Plant Food

Educational Society. Brown, in commenting on observations made during the past few months, said, "When communities organize and set goals, things begin to happen. I don't know exactly what it is unless it is an urge brought on by a desire to be among the first in the community to reach the family goal. Once the ball starts rolling, action seems to become contagious and the shoulders go to the wheel and the community rebuilding job is well on its way. It takes a lot of work, but I have never yet talked with community leaders who didn't say the improvements made were worth hundreds of times more than the efforts expended. Cooperation and willing workers make the difference."

And this final reminder from Brown, there is still plenty of time to enter both programs for 1957-58, but since records are so important, he suggests that entries be submitted early so proper records can be kept. Local extension agents can supply details on both programs, he said.

"Play Ball" Is Good Slogan For Motorists

"Play ball." That cry will echo across the country all summer as millions of Americans play baseball. The players will range all the way from professionals in the major leagues to boys playing on Little League diamonds, on sandlots, in parks, or wherever they can get a team together.

Watching the games will be millions of other people. These rabid rooters will make the rafters ring with the special language of baseball like "Kill the umpire," or "We want a homer."

Many of these fans are also motorists who come to the contests in their cars to cheer their favorite teams. These drivers could learn a lesson from the lingo of baseball. Here are a few baseball phrases that will help the average fan avoid accidents and be "safe at home."

Batter-up — Millions of motorists are battering up their cars every year as they crash them into other vehicles, trees, bridges and obstructions. Most of these accidents could be prevented by following the rules of good driving.

Curve — Watch out for sharp, sudden curves found on many roads. Many aren't marked properly, especially for night driving.

Screw ball — Avoid this kind of driver who shows off or stunts in his car, takes part in drag races on the highway or dangerous road "games."

Rule book — All players have to obey the rules of baseball. Drivers should learn rules of the road and traffic laws.

Play ball — Observe proper motoring manners as well as following the letter of the law. Play ball with other drivers by being courteous — and careful.

Signs — Obey all traffic signals and signs. They can save your life by warning you of hazards ahead. New modern signs that can be seen at night help motorists get to and from night baseball games.

Park — Be careful to park correctly along city streets. Don't park on the highway. Be alert when getting out of a parked car.

Twin killing — An accident in which more than one person was fatally injured.

High ball — Driving too fast. Some 3 out of 10 drivers in fatal accidents are breaking the speed law.

Pitcher — The one-armed driver who pitches woo while wandering down the highway paying more attention to his girl than the road.

Foul — Other drivers will yell "Foul" if you don't follow traffic rules and safe driving practices.

Out — You'll be out both time and money — as well as your health — if you're injured in an auto accident.

Eleven billion dollars have been spent in the last 10 years by the railroads for improvements, new equipment and for research.

Family Life Versus TV

COLLEGE STATION — How is television affecting your family life? To take stock, Mrs. Eloise Johnson, extension family life specialist, suggests a family conference on the matter. Consider the amount of reading being done by each family member, the quality of school work done by the children, the play and sleep habits of the family, and the amount of time the family spends talking together.

The U. S. Childrens Bureau lists six ways that you can use television to help the members of your family.

Study the programs that your children like best and notice how they react to them. There may be clues to emotional needs that a parents can help fill, such as more new experiences in actual life and more active normal friendships.

Share the programs with your older children. Discuss the stories and help them realize the difference between phoney and real-life situations.

Guard against radio and television as a child's only outlets for natural impulses for aggressiveness.

Notice if your children seem to fall back on TV because there is nothing better to do.

Encourage children to choose programs that sharpen their curiosity about important things such as science, travel, and the lives of worthwhile people.

Use television to bring your family close together. When members must choose programs, share some and give up some, they learn to appreciate each others interests and rights.

Not a single accident to passengers on Pullman cars has been reported since 1951. The 65 million passengers have traveled 40 billion miles.

Best Yet Insect Repellent For Ticks, Mosquitoes

COLLEGE STATION — The latest thing in all-purpose insect repellents is diethyl toluamide. Test repellents containing this chemical display twice as much resistance to normal "wear-off action" as do other types.

The new repellent can be safely applied to the skin or clothing and will successfully protect the wearer against mosquitoes, chiggers, ticks, fleas, and biting flies, according to USDA. It offers better protection against mosquitoes generally than any other single chemical or combination of chemicals.

Its high resistance to rubbing means longer-lasting protection for farmers and all outdoorsmen. The new repellent outperforms all others against the stable fly and is as good as any other for deer flies or sand flies. It is the best repellent so far developed for ticks. In addition, a pleasant lotion "feel" makes it ideal for picnickers and backyard gardeners.

Clothing and other fabrics can be readily treated with diethyl toluamide by saturating them with emulsions or dry-cleaning preparations containing the chemical.

"Me... a murderer?"

People just like yourself become killers every day... and so could you! Want to know why?

Ask any police official. He'll tell you that the people who are involved in fatal traffic accidents aren't habitual criminals at all. Mostly they're normal, respectable citizens who never had a real accident before!

But—just that once—they ignored a stop sign... exceeded a speed limit... failed to stop for a school bus... or passed on a hill! And they wound up taking another person's life!

Last year, 40,000 men, women and children died tragically on our highways—a terrible record!

Can anything be done about it? The answer is YES... if you help!

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

CURBED GIANT

The world's mightiest law makers—the United States Congressmen and Senators—sit down each year to make laws.

But mighty though Congress is, the constitution won't give it certain powers:

1. Neither Congress nor anybody else can suspend the writ of habeas corpus (unless the public safety demands it during rebellion or invasion). All officers or others must obey a court and bring in anyone in their custody to see whether he is held lawfully.
2. Congress cannot pass "bills of attainder", special acts to punish someone. Congress cannot bypass the courts.
3. Congress cannot pass an ex post facto law—a law which makes an act a crime which was not one when done, or which punishes the offender more than call his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pullig and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stone Sr.

led for when done. 4. Congress cannot tax exports from any other state nor by regulation favor one state's ports over another's, nor make one state's vessels clear or pay duties to another state in order to enter. Besides these denials from within, the constitution curbs Congress and the executive and judiciary in the amendments, especially the first ten. Among other things, Congress cannot make a law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting its free exercise, or abridging the freedom of speech, of the press or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

The constitution also curbs the courts (for example, they cannot deny a person a fair hearing duly represented by counsel). It curbs the executive (he cannot, for example, take private property for public use without just compensation).

The constitution, which divides the work of the three branches of government, winds up by telling where the rest of the power rests—just in case anybody gets any fancy ideas of dictatorship. There are things no state can do, for instance, "make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States." If there are any powers not given to the United

These Forty Years!

Forty years ago, in June of 1917, the Humble Company received its charter from the State of Texas.

The Company was formed through a merger of the properties of a number of independent oil operators. Its founding brought together a remarkable group of men who occupy an important place in the annals of the oil industry:

R. S. Sterling and his brother, F. P. Sterling, the principal organizers of Humble Oil Company from which the present company acquired its name; W. S. Farish and R. L. Blaffer composing Blaffer and Farish; H. C. Wiess with assets from Paraffine and Reliance Oil Companies; Walter W. Fondren and C. B. Goddard, producers; and L. A. Carlton and E. E. Townes as lawyers.

All of these men contributed greatly in adopting the principles, in shaping the policies, and in laying out procedures that have guided the Company's progress through these forty years. Their influence will survive as long as the Company continues.

They possessed courage and business judgment. They established high standards of performance. They built a strong organization of competent men and women.

The Company, as it stands today, is a tribute to the leadership, the vision, and the work of its founders.

But it is doubtful that these men, with all their foresight, visualized the changes that have occurred in the oil industry since 1917, or the size and complexity of Humble's present operations, or the extent of the Company's contributions through the years to the progress of our society.

To all who have made those contributions possible—employees, customers, shareholders and the people of the states in which the Company operates—Humble extends its thanks.

Moore About—

Frank Sayre and all the other Eastland National Guardsmen are back in town. Frank described this year's two week summer training tour as "a wonderful vacation with all expenses paid." We didn't know if we were suppose to laugh or not.

The other day we did a little bragging on Carl Garner for his work with Cub Scouts and Little League. Naturally you knew we were talking about Bill Garner. We were thinking Bill all the time we were writing, but somehow our fingers wrote Carl. Both are swell fellows, though, so we aren't worried about offending either of them.

That's it for now. See you Thursday.

MRS. NOEL W. MAXWELL

Former Ranger Girl, Kansas Boy Are Married In Canyon, June 1

In a double-ring ceremony Saturday, June 1, at Joseph A. Hill Memorial Chapel on the campus of West Texas State College, Ann Dorris, daughter of Mrs. J. K. Dorris, Canyon, and formerly of Ranger, became the bride of Noel W. Maxwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Maxwell, of Stanley, Kansas.

Rev. Carlton H. Thomson, Methodist minister from Wheeler read the service at 10 a.m. The altar was decorated with candelabra and baskets of pink gladiolas. Miss Juanelva Rose, organist, played "Adagio" by Mendelssohn, "Air" by Bach, "I Love You Truly" and "Through the Years" as a prelude. The traditional wedding marches were used and during the ceremony she played "Andante" by Franck. Bennie Gollehon sang "Because", "Do Not Infringe Me To Leave You", and "The Lord's Prayer."

Adrian Maxwell, brother of the bridegroom, and Miss Donna Drennan, niece of the bride, were candlelighters. Miss Drennan wore a dress of pink arnel faille with a matching pink net overskirt and a headdress of pink net and flowers.

Mrs. Carlton Thomson attended her sister as matron-of-honor. She wore a blue faille sheath with matching net overskirt. The junior bridesmaids, Misses Jane Thomson and Carol Drennan, nieces of the bride, wore dresses of pink faille with net overskirts and headdresses. Misses Patricia Copland and Linda Drennan, bridesmaids, wore blue faille sheaths with matching headdresses and net overskirts. All of the attendants carried bouquets of blue or pink asters in contrast with their costumes.

As flower girl, Patty Dorris, niece of the bride, wore a pink dress identical to those of the Junior bridesmaids and carried a white satin basket filled with pink rose petals.

Joe Mack Hill of Spearman was best man. Serving as ushers were Dean Foshee of Canyon and Don Smith of Amarillo. Tommy Thomson, nephew of the bride, carried the rings.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Glenn Dorris, wore a white satin gown designed with a long torso. The full gathered skirt germinated in a chapel sweep, and the neckline was framed with Alencon lace. Her veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of sequins and pearls, and she carried a bouquet of feathered carnations centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Dorris, mother of the bride, wore a gray lace dress over pink taffeta with navy accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Maxwell, wore a navy lace dress with white accessories. Both had corsages of pink roses.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party was feted at a reception at Stafford Hall. The serving table, laid with a linen cutwork cloth over pink, was decorated with pink asters. Mrs. Don Drennan, sister of the bride, served the tiered cake, and Mrs. Carlton Thomson, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Alvis Fuquay, cousin of the bride, registered the guests.

After a trip to New Orleans, La., the couple will be at home June 7 at 2617 E. 3rd, Canyon. For traveling, the bride chose a navy suit with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Maxwell was graduated from Ranger High School and West Texas State College where she was a member of Tau Beta Sigma, honorary band sorority. She is a teacher in the Dumas schools. The bridegroom is a

Miss Dean Halliday is Honored In Carr Home With Bridal Gift Tea

Hostesses were: Mmes. Mae Carr, Myrtle George, Morris George, Lonnie Branam, Nick Crawford, J. H. Greer, Curtis Dawson, L. E. Gray, W. E. Read and Buck Wallace.

Guests were received by Mrs. Carr, Miss Halliday, her Mother, Mrs. Halliday and Mrs. O. G. Lanier, mother of the future bridegroom. All wore corsages fashioned of gladioli set in tulle and satin ribbon.

Guests were registered in a leather musical brides book. The table decoration was a miniature bride and groom surrounded by white ruffled petunias set in blue tulle. Presiding at the brides book was Miss Patsy Halliday, sister of the honoree.

In the dining room the tea table was laid with an exquisite cut-work cloth. The heart shaped centerpiece of blue and white held shasta daisies and blue forget-me-nots. Two white satin hearts held orange blossoms and white satin streamers with the couples' names, Dean and Gilbert, in silver. Four blue tapers flanked the arrangement. Guests were served punch and cake and mixed nuts from crystal service.

In the guest room, gifts were displayed on tables laid with white cloths. Mrs. Ronald Carroll, sister of the bride-elect, assisted in showing gifts of crystal, china, and silver.

The guest list was composed of Ranger and Eastland friends.
