Moore... ABOUT Eastland

By VIRGIL E. MOORE

MacMoy's Clover Farm Store has one of the prettiest flower beds in town. It might be a good idea for other Eastland stores to follow the pattern set by MacMoy and by Pullman Supply. Those flowers sure make a store easier to look at.

—vem—
It's been quite a time now since Tom Lovelace Jr. has pulled a fast one on us. But this week we received a package from Seattle, Wash. Enclosed was this letter: "In the past I have heard several people comment on your condition. Personally I can't see how they have let you run loose as long as they have. But I'm sure this will help you and you can stay out a little longer. If you lose any more let me know and I'll try to help you find them." With the letter was a card with five assortments. Across the top of the card were these words, "A treasured gift for the discriminating friend who may not have all his buttons."

Mrs. Art Johnson, local postmaster, was telling Eastland Lions a few of John Q. Public's tricks the other day. She told of the fellow who came in raising cane because a letter he mailed here was sent back to him with the notation: "No Such City."

It seems that the letter had gone all over everywhere, but nowhere could a town called "Ciko" be found. When the letter writer came in he was told that and he immediately lost his temper. "What do you mean there's no Ciko?" he demanded. "You know where Ciko is surely." Mrs. Johnson assured him she didn't and he yelled, "Ciko, woman, Ciko, it's just 10 miles from here."

—vem—
We were studying our official state maps the other day, trying to locate a certain farm to market road, and couldn't help but note a strange fact. On the 1955 official state map the mileage chart showed it was 202 miles from Abilene to Wichita Falls. The 1956 map, however, had the mileage down at 201 miles, and this year's map has it listed at 203. Now we are going to be the first to admit it doesn't make much difference one way or the two others, but it did set us to thinking.

The Eastland Post Office is strong lions are told Eastland Post Office receipts last year totaled $106,000, making the local post office one of the strongest in the state in a city anywhere near the size of Eastland. Mrs. Marene Johnson, postmaster, declared Tuesday in a talk before Eastland Lions.

Mrs. Johnson pointed out that the local post office does more business annually than such post offices as Breckenridge, which had postal revenues of approximately $75,000. The large amount of business here can "mainly be credited to Victor Cornelius," Mrs. Johnson explained. Cornelius Theatrical Printing does more than half of the business done at the Eastland Post Office.

—vem—
The postmaster told Lions that the local post office became first class in 1948, after receipts went above the $40,000 mark for the first time. Only two times in the past 14 years have receipts failed to show an increase here.

Year	Postal Receipts
1943	$31,643.57
1944	36,659.21
1945	38,300.78
1946	37,798.67
1947	42,687.63
1948	50,677.25
1949	61,332.30
1950	68,240.19
1951	76,153.68
1952	87,516.18
1953	92,917.53
1954	106,448.63
1955	104,253.98
1956	105,091.00

Upon recommendation of the Board of Directors growers amended Article II of the By-Laws of the Association by adding Section 12 to Article II, said Section 12 to read as follows:

"No member of a marketing cooperative shall ever be or become a director of Southwestern Peanut Growers Association."

An expression of thanks by Wilson was extended to Hubert Craddock and George Hollifield for use of the King Theater.

Wilson also commended them for their efforts and promotion of Southwest Spanish peanuts.

B. C. Langley, superintendent of West Cross Timbers Experiment Station, Stephenville, discussed work being done at the Experiment Station on peanuts. He discussed diseases of peanuts, planting methods and fertilizer distribution.

Langley explained that due to late planting season a field trip would not be of much value to growers at this time. However, he stated he would be happy to have a field trip later in the summer and fall.

Members of the SWPGA Board of Directors present were H. H. Hudson, president, Holdenville, Okla.; D. B. Warren, secretary treasurer, Gorman; T. G. Hedley, Wewoka, Okla.; and Milton Archer, Giddings.

Hudson said he was sorry to have to announce that J. E. Brite, Pleasanton, vice president of the Association and charter member of the Board, was seriously injured in a car accident en route to Gorman for the meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Brite both were hospitalized in Medical Arts Hospital, Brownwood, and the seriousness of their condition could not be determined at this time. He expressed regrets that Brite could not be in the meeting.

W. B. Starr of Cisco, was recongnized at this time. Starr was the first manager of SWPGA.

Stephenville (Spl.)—More than 1,100 students are expected to enroll this fall at Tarleton State College.

These students will have a chance to participate in the key ideals at Tarleton State—high academic standards and individual attention.

Tarleton State, which is coeducational and part of the Texas

State College System, offers the first two years of liberal arts and pre-professional course under a well-trained faculty.

The college's senior ROTC program is on an optional basic.

Since the optional program began three years ago more than 90 per cent of the eligible male students have participated.

Girls enrolling in Tarleton have no fears of facing a long waiting list for dormitory reservations.

Adequate housing in the four girls' dormitories are available to young women. Modern spacious rooms with large walk-in closets are two of the main assets in the girls' dormitories.

Three dormitories—Bender Hall, Davis Hall and Yearwood Hall—house male students. A new dormitory will be built in 1958.

Services were held this morning at 10:30 in the Carbon Baptist Church with Rev. Lee Fields of ficiating. Mr. Nobles was born

Aug. 24, 1883 in Mississippi.

Burial was in Carbon under direction of Hamner Funeral Home.

President's State Responsibility Appeal Contradicts Own Course

The nation's governors, in annual conference in historic Williamsburg, cannot be blamed for displaying polite skepticism when President Eisenhower made his appeal for a return to state responsibility in areas of expenditure which the federal government has been taking over in recent years.

For the President's own 1958 budget is filled with increases in domestic spending programs of the grants-in-aid variety, including an entirely new one calling for federal aid in school construction. And in the same speech in which he urged the governors to open up the way for federal tax reduction by reassuming some of these burdens Washington has taken over in recent years, he plumped for adoption of the school program.

No wonder the speech, much of which was a splendid statement of traditional American principles, drew light applause only at one point. No wonder the reaction of the governors was cool, and some expressed doubts as to how serious the speaker was.

The President's proposal that a joint committee be created to handle this problem got only lukewarm acceptance. The committee would determine the fields that might be turned back in whole or in part to the states for financing an recommend appropriate adjustments in federal and state revenues.

There is, of course, a far simpler course that might be adopted. That is, for Congress to reject such new grants-in-aid programs as federal aid to education and drastically reduce expenditures on others. No task force is needed to help in accomplishing that.

The state and the taxpayers would be the gainers from such action. For, as the President truly said, "The elimination of the federal overhead—stopping, in other words, the 'freight charges' on money being hauled from the state to Washington and back (a bill, we remind you, that is always collected in full)—would save the taxpayer a tidy sum."

And another thing, before the states start taking over a lot of their old responsibilities, the moguls in Washington are going to have to start leaving some of the money in the states so they can handle their own responsibilities. Before the states can take back anything, Washington has got to give back some money first.

Moore About—

(Continued from Page 1) ried over to the manager and told Bishop that she couldn't serve the fellow what he ordered. Since the year was about up and Bishop didn't care to shell out with the cash, he demanded to know why not.

Asked what the guy ordered, the waitress replied, "A camel's hump sandwich."

"Wait a minute," Bishop said, "you look on the bottom shelf of the refrigerator. I think you'll find a camel's hump there."

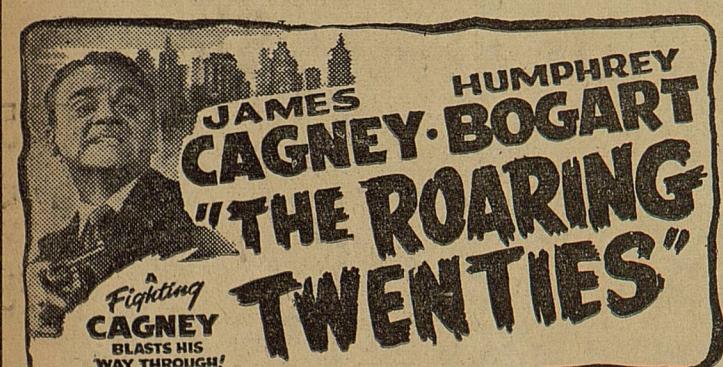

"I know," wailed the waitress, "but we're all out of those big buns!"

Goodnight.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

Senator Ralph Yarborough had already had a picturesque career by the time he made his first race for State office (Attorney General in 1938 when your columnist traveled with him as publicity director).

Young Ralph made his first dollar by turning, by hand, the big press on which the Chandler newspaper was printed and ran all the way home to show his parents the silver dollar with which Editor R. T. Craig had rewarded him. He was so eager to visit Europe that he worked his way across the ocean on a cattleboat. While attending the University of Texas, he waited on tables in a student boarding house and, in summers, worked as a tank-builder in the booming Borger oil field where one night as he was walking to the camp, he was pursued by a group of drunks in a car. He ran and dodged but it was unfenced prairie and the driver would swerve, too. At last, when he was about exhausted, young Yarborough came to a ditch, crouched, ran low and there concealed himself in the shadow. The drunks gave up the chase and soon their laughter died in the distance.

When he was a young lawyer in El Paso and an important case came up for trial, the firm member in charge had a heart attack in the courtroom. Yarborough was the only other attorney familiar with the case, so it was turned over to him.

The judge granted a continuance until next day. While Yarborough was studying decisions that night in the office, a fire broke out across the alley. He kept on studying although members of the firm came into the room to carry out the library and furniture. The cards and, as he reached the front door where the owner was standing to greet customers, the judge handed the startled man a card, shook his limp hand briskly and departed.

He climbed a telephone pole in that campaign, it was said. A worker repairing a line called to the candidate, "If you'll come up here and give me a card, I'll vote for you." Yarborough immediately looked in the man's service car, found another pair of "climbers" and was about to put them on when the worker said, "Just leave your card on the car seat—I'll vote for you."

How did the election come out? Yarborough won, about 2 to 1.

DEPENDABLEis the word for Humble Service*

That's the word Texans use to describe Humble service.

You can depend on it that your neighbor in a Humble uniform knows his business. You can depend on him to give your car the care it needs to keep it running right and looking good. You can depend on him to keep his rest rooms clean and sanitary. You can depend on finding his salesmen prompt, well trained and courteous.

Stop for dependable service under your neighbor's Humble sign.

Farmers Advised To Take A Break Like Everybody

College Station, A "break" in morning and afternoon hours is as important to farmers as it is to city workers, according to the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. In fact, these "breaks" in work routine can prove especially important, for they reduce the possibility of accidental deaths and injuries as well as improving work efficiency.

The farmer who just can't spare the 10 or 15 minutes required to get off the tractor, walk around or maybe have a snack or something to drink, should be reminded that recent accident studies indicate that the highest percentage of farm work accidents occur during the late morning and mid-afternoon hours.

Farm wives can serve as break reminders to their husbands by packing a mid-morning and mid-afternoon snack and taking it to the field.

This break can also provide mothers an excellent opportunity to take children to the field to watch father operate the dangerous machines that they sometimes find such fascinating "playpretties". This may satisfy the children's curiosity and make a much anticipated event in the daily life of the youngsters.

So, why not follow the advice of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council and take time out for a mid-morning and mid-afternoon break? It can pay off in safety, pleasure and efficiency.

MRS. JERRY GRIFFITTS

Former Ranger Girl Marries Jerry Griffitts In Abilene Ceremony

The chapel of the College Church of Christ in Abilene was the setting for the marriage of Billye Mae Fox and Jerry Ray Griffitts of Pensacola, Fla., an ensign in the U. S. Navy Air Force, at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, July 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lee Fox, 725 EN 14th St., Abilene, are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy A. Griffitts of Waco.

Floyd J. Spivy of Colorado City, Church of Christ minister and long-time friend of the bride's family, solemnized the double ring rites.

Best man was Don Myers of Corpus Christi. Ushers, who also served as groomsmen, were Bill Poplin and Carl Cheatham.

Peggy Fox, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Carole Garrett of Crosbyton and Mrs. J. R. Colburn of Fort Worth, both cousins of the bride. Another cousin, Mary Louise Woods of Cisco, was junior bridesmaid.

Elaine Branan of Ranger was flower girl and David George of Ranger was ring bearer. Jerry Greer and Betty Gardiner, both of Ranger, lighted candles. Miss Gardiner wore a wristlet of yellow roses.

Vows were exchanged as the wedding party stood before an improvised altar of baskets of yellow roses and white wrought iron candelabra burning white tapers. Commodore palms banked the altar.

Bridal attendants wore similar waltz length dresses of cotton satin in searate blue. Fashioned with low scoop necklines, the bodices were designed on empire lines, outlined with velvet ribbon, circling to end in floating panels of matching blue tulle. They wore juliet caps of blue, accented with tiny seed pearls, holding short circular veils of matching blue. They carried cascades of yellow roses showered with yellow tulle.

Mr. Fox gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of imported chantilly lace and tulle over white satin. Molded lace bodice boasted a sabrina neckline of scalloped, handclipped lace, following the same lines of the satin silhouette. From the fitted waistline, a full skirt of alternating tulle and lace tiers cascaded into a chapel train.

Her shoulder length veil of French illusion cascaded from a flower headdress of tulle and orange blossoms. She carried a cascade of white stephanotis and white butterfly roses centered with a white cattleya orchid.

A chorus from Abilene Christian College, directed by Dr. Leonard Burford, sang "Oh, Perfect Love," which they also hummed while "How Do I Love Thee?" was being read. Preceding the benediction, the chorus sang "Father, Hear the Prayer We Offer."

Mrs. Griffitts wore a slightly flared frock of mauve lace, fashioned with cuffed scoop neckline. Sequin hat and other accessories matched the dress. Corsage was pink delight roses.

Mrs. Fox wore a sheath of Italian caramel lace. Wide scoop neckline extended into short sleeves. Her sequin and iridescent studded Italian hat matched her dress, as did the other accessories. Opera length gloves were white and corsage was Golden Rapture roses.

Reception was in Nelson Hall parlor on ACC campus. Mrs. Ted Jay, Mrs. Frank J. Phillips, Mrs. J. Robert King, Mrs. Shelby J.

the dress. Accessories were white and she wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet. The couple will be at home after July 12.

Mrs. Griffitts was graduated from Ranger High School. She has completed her sophomore year at ACC, where she was a member of Ko Jo Kai, Omega Rho Alpha, honorary English Club and Kitten Club.

Ens. Griffitts, a graduate of Waco High School, received his bachelor of science degree in physical education from ACC. While there, he was Texas Conference tennis champ, skipper of Sub-T-16, president of the Inter-Social Club Council and of PEMM Club, Member of Flying Club, "C" Club, house of representatives, junior class favorite and was listed in Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

Out-of-town guests were from Waco, Ardmore, Oklahoma, Corpus Christi, Fort Worth, Ranger, Lubbock, Crosbyton, Cisco, Olden, Stephenville, Dallas, Arlington, Colorado City, and Midland.

The bride was given a gift tea in Waco at the Spinning Wheel Club, and also a gift tea in Ranger in the home of Mrs. J. H. Greer.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at Doyle's Cafe.

Brown, Johnson Vows Are Said

Marjorie Louise Brown of 4717A Lahoma, Dallas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Brown of Desdemona, and Lowell Johnson Jr. of Dallas, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Johnson of Taylorsville, Ill., were united in marriage on June 29 in the Dickerson Chapel of the First Methodist Church at 11 a. m. with Dr. Robert E. Goodrick Jr. officiating.

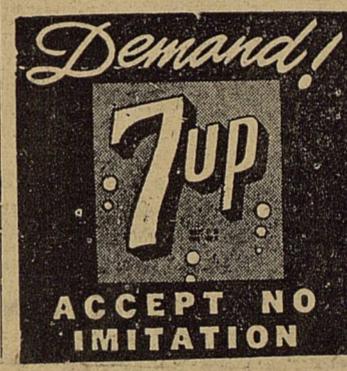

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white, tucked cotton dress and a white headed hat. She carried a bouquet of white orchids.

Don Wolfe registered guests.

The bride's table was laid with white tulle over satin, caught up at intervals with satin bows. Centerpiece was silver candelabra showered with yellow roses and holding white tapers.

The couple will stop in New Orleans, La. on the trip to their home in Pensacola, Fla. For traveling Mrs. Griffitts chose a costume or Dior blue in peau de soie faille.

The scoop-neck sheath was topped with a jacket, designed with a neckline following the lines of Matron of Honor was Mrs. J. H. Ficklen of Dallas. Robert Brown of Gainsville and Tom Hanning of Arlington were ushers.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the Texas Room of the First Methodist Church in Dallas. Mrs. Robert Brown Jr., Miss Ruby Christopher and Mrs. Joe Holiday served at the reception.

After a short wedding trip to Lake Murry, Okla., the couple will make their home at 4717A Lahoma, Dallas.

Tall TV Star Offers Tips To Tall Girls

Why so many tall girls are embarrassed because of their height is a mystery to songstress Jean Martin.

The statuesque TV and Coral recording star avers that the tall girl can wear clothes far better than can her shorter sister, but fails very often to realize her heritage.

High on the list of "Don'ts" for tall girls, Jean says, are the following:

DON'T slouch. Stand tall and straight.

DON'T make the mistake of wearing flat heels in an effort to disguise your height. A tall girl can and should wear fashionably high heels.

DON'T dress in a narrowly rigid silhouette, no matter what the current mode in fashion. You will succeed only in looking like the proverbial string-bean.

DON'T wear clothes made of striped fabrics.

As for the positive side of the ledger — Jean offers advice, gleaned from several years of experience as one of the nation's top models before she began her singing career:

1. DO be proud of your height.

2. DO try to be glamorous, regal, dignified. Exude a cool, feminine charm.

3. DO be dramatic in choosing your wearing apparel. A tall girl can wear exotic color combinations, wide belts, massive jewelry, full, crinolined skirts. Try to find the unusual in design and fabric. You can wear it!

4. DO try to wear large hats, whenever appropriate. Men adore them, only tall girls can really wear them.

5. DO indulge the American craze for separates. Wear sweaters and skirts, set off with important jewelry, large chiffon scarves in brilliant colors tied about the neck. But no frills, please.

Miss Martin adds one plaintive note: "I wish designers would realize that this generation of American girls is taller than any previous generation, and design more clothes especially for them. I am a perfect size 10; but have to buy a 12 just for the length, then spend a fortune to have the whole dress taken in to fit me. Think of all the clothes we tall girls could buy, if this problem no longer existed!"

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Sunday, July 14

All day — There will be an all day singing and dinner on the ground at the Kokomo Church house. The County Singing Convention and the Kokomo homecoming will meet together. Everyone is invited. The group will gather about 10 a.m.

The Big M is the roomiest car in its field. To match the Monterey's hip room alone in any other car would cost you at least $1,000 more. And behind the wheel, you can command Mercury exclusives like a power seat that "remembers" your favorite driving position, and advanced Merc-O-Matic Keyboard Control.

MORE UNDER THE HOOD...

No other car at the Monterey's price gives you such high standard horsepower (255). To match this power in any competitive car, you'd have to pay over $150 more. The Big M gives you the highest torque, for a regular production engine, in its field (405 lb-ft). Mercury's standard compression (9.75 to 1), close to highest in any car, would cost you over $500 more in any other car.

...MORE WAYS YOUR BEST BUY

You have to pay over $200 more to get any other car with real four-beam headlamps, like The Big M's Quadri-Beams. Over $80 more to get a four-barrel carburetor as standard equipment on any competitive car. Over $130 more to match the Mercury Monterey's brake size. No other car at any price can match The Big M's Floating Ride—achieved with the most effective combination of bump-smoothing features ever put between you and the road. Yet the price is still an easy step up from the low-price three. Stop in!

The price comparisons stated are based on factory-suggested retail delivered prices.

Thirteen From Tri-Cities Area At Convention

"Thirteen delegates from this tri-cities area were among the thousands of Jehovah's Witnesses who were in convention at the Sam Houston Coliseum in Houston, July 3-7," Mrs. Zettie Parrack, presiding minister of the local group, said today upon her return home.

The south-western district meet drew delegates from 30 states and three foreign lands. The principle speaker was N. H. Knorr, the President of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York, which sponsored the event. Knorr was heard in the highlighted lecture of the final day, "Healing of the Nations Has Drawn Near", given at 3 p.m.

"An interesting feature of the convention was the way in which all of the delegates were cared for. A "Rooming Staff", which worked for two months prior to the convention, obtained over 8,000 accommodations for the delegates. Other departments, such as "Installations" worked to transform the large Coliseum into a "Kingdom Hall". A cafeteria, capable of serving nearly 8,000 meals an hour, was set up and operated by volunteer delegates", Mrs. Parrack said.

"The Houston meet was one of the first of a series of 7 such conventions which will be held in the United States, and will draw 200,000 delegates. The series will then continue throughout the world, and the same program will be had at each", Mrs. Parrack concluded.

Cooking School Is Held Weekly

During the summer Mrs. Roy Turner was the teacher and sponsor of a cooking school for young girls. The group would meet on Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. in Mrs. Turner's home.

The girls attending the school were Ann Freytag, Diana Little, Marsha Smith, Jean Hanna, and Katherine Turner.

The girls learned to cook something different each week. The first week they cooked biscuits, scrambled eggs, and pancakes.

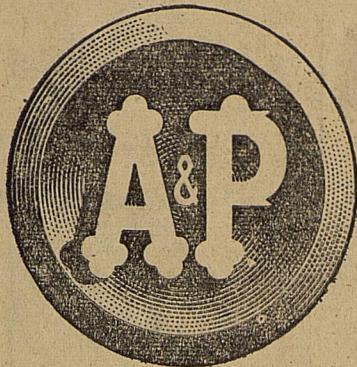

Next they cooked cherry pie and fudge and the third week they made angel food cake. On the fourth week the girls learned to make potato salad and cook cakes from a recipe and not a mix. The fifth week the girls will learn to cook beef stew and bran muffins. During the other week of the summer they will learn to make lemon meringue pie, meat loaf, yeast bread and rolls, and baked custards.

Each girl donates a dime for them with the receipt cards. Each time they cook to pay for a game in the week of the food. After the cooking is Aug. 14 the girls plan to cook a luncheon for their mothers.
