Rain In County 'Great'

Good rain fell over the Eastland County peanut belt Friday night, measuring up to .70 in spots. The rainfall came at a most needed time for the county's number one crop and farmers were eyeing heavy clouds hanging over the county Saturday, hoping for an inch or two more.

The rainfall began falling about 9 p.m. Eastland had an official .65, with unofficial reports as high as .70. The Carbon, Gorman, Rising Star area reported about the same amount of moisture, as did Cisco and a number of other spots. The forecast calls for more rain.

County's Surplus Food Program to Be Working Soon

County Judge John Hart revealed this week that the county would in the immediate future begin distributing surplus food commodities to those eligible in Eastland County under the program recently set up, and he also revealed that application blanks for the program are being distributed through the chambers of commerce office in Eastland, Ranger, Cisco and Rising Star and the city secretary's office in Gorman.

Judge Hart also assured those who participate in the program that their assistance checks from the State or Federal governments will not be affected in any manner if they accept the food.

Under the program such surplus foods as butter, cheese, nonfat dry milk, lard and shortening, dry beans, rice, cornmeal and flour would be available twice monthly. The ground floor of the Masonic Lodge building in Eastland has been leased by the county for storage and J. J. Porter of Cisco has been hired by the county to oversee the program.

Judge Hart estimates that some 3000 citizens of the county will be eligible to participate under the program. He pointed out that residence in the county shall be a requirement. A person making less than $60 monthly is eligible to participate. Two or three people with an income less than $120 are eligible and on four or five people with an income of less than $140 can participate. All recipients of old age assistance, aid to the blind and aid to dependent children are eligible.

Humble Station Operators Are Dinner Guests

Humble Oil and Refining Co's fall football program plans were outlined at a meeting in Eastland Wednesday night in the White Elephant restaurant.

Displays in service stations throughout Texas and New Mexico, and radio and TV coverage of outstanding football games will again be featured by the Humble Co., service station operators and their guests were told.

Humble plans the biggest promotion in the company's 24 years of sports participation. Some 1800 service stations will take part in Humble's "big football event" this season, during which hundreds of television and radio sets will be given away.

Master of ceremonies for the dinner was Division Merchandising Manager Gene Pendry, assisted by District Merchandising Manager Walter Dryer. Lee Klypass explained the program and gave helpful hints to the managers in preparing for the event.

Entertainment for the evening was Humble's "Football Highlights of 1956," a color film report of the tops in Southwest Conference games last season. Personal interviews with some of the stars last year also was included in the film, and the Cotton Bowl game was featured.

District sales Manager R. J. Holms concluded the program with a short talk. Humble Station Operators everywhere invite everyone to drive in and pick up entry blanks in the free TV and radio sets to be given away each week, beginning very shortly.

Four Wells Are Staked In Area

Fred Sanner Named Most Unpopular Man

Poor Fred Sanner, he just can't do anything to please Eastland. Just take last year. Fred, high school football expert for the Abilene Reporter-News, picked Eastland to lose practically every game. The results: Eastland fans were raving mad at the lad.

So what does Sanner do this year. He picks Eastland to defeat Cisco in the opening game of the year, despite the fact everyone else figures the Mavs are two touchdowns underdogs, and then to top it off says Eastland will repeat as District 10-A champs. Does this please Eastland? It does not.

Eastland fans are again raving mad at Fred. "How can he pick us to beat Albany and Wylie when they have everyone back? an irate fan, then another, and then a hundred more, are heard to ask.

At any rate the Mavs are on a hot spot. With but two starters back from last year's fine team, Eastland is tabbed as the team to beat, giving Wylie and Albany plenty of reasons to get keyed up for the Mav game.

Here's how Sanner picked 'em. 1. Eastland 2. Albany 3. Wylie 4. Clyde 5. Throckmorton

Now the coaches of the district put the finger on Wylie earlier, so those boys are unhappy. And here is the Telegram's honest-to-goodness prediction:

1. Albany 2. Eastland 3. Wylie 4. Clyde 5. Throckmorton

That should make the big three all happy, or unhappy, as the case may be. We pick Albany despite the fact they will have a new coach at the helm, The Lions are very strong offensively and have enough veterans to hold the younger boys together.

Wylie lost just two games last year and should be the favorite there's no doubt about it. We figure their weak schedule will hurt the Dogs a lot, however, making them think life is easier than it is.

Here's a little of what Sanner had to say about Eastland: "Saul Pullman was the sixth All-10-A Maverick. Size and power are not his only assets. He won the district 220-yard dash last spring and was among the nine finalists in the Class B 100 yard dash.

"Best men in the Maverick line are end John McMahan and center Fred Tucker. Tackle Wayne Dodson at 195 is the heaviest but is only a sophomore."

The new agent has also been named acting agent for Western Union. He is a longtime citizen of Eastland and promised that he would do his best to help give Eastland the best possible service.

Gray Matter

By JOE GRAY

(Editor's Note: After a two week's unexcused absence, Joe Gray has come through with some more words of wisdom.)

About two decades ago when the international highway was finally completed into Mexico City, the Saturday Evening Post sent a reporter to the capital of the Republic to our south to report on a trip over the newly paved road.

One of the reports the Post reporter brought back with him was his opinion that the Mexican people could sit still longer, without making any movement whatever, longer than any breathing object he knew about.

This is strictly a matter of opinion. Perhaps it is true that some Mexicans peons can sit still for a long time. But I doubt if they are the slowest things alive. After returning from a trip to the Northwest and west, I've decided the slowest things alive is a waitress in Utah.

If Brigham Young were to invade Utah a hundred years after he first came he would have starved to death waiting for his first meal. I was only in the state about 36 hours; that's not quite long enough to starve, but it's sufficient time to get awfully worked up about not getting anything to eat.

I would have starved to death waiting for his first meal. I was in the state about 36 hours, that's not quite long enough to starve, but it's sufficient time to get awfully worked up about not getting anything to eat.

We tried to get a good meal in one of the supposedly finest restaurants in Salt Lake City. If you're willing to spend all night in one place for one meal I guess it is a pretty good place to eat. But if you're looking to get out in less than an hour and a half you're in for a surprise.

In addition to the poorest service anywhere this place didn't feed a customer so well that he had to quit before gaining another few pounds.

This was a good place for a man on a reducing diet, even if he were to find a "fast" waitress. The food served on one dinner would not flounder him.

The Salt Lake City valley is supposed to be a fine garden spot, raising plenty of food and the people of Utah, especially the Mormons, who comprise the vast majority of the state's population, have a reputation for being very (Continued On Page Three)

Randall Hess Comes Up With Impossible

Cisco Quarterback Randall Hess threw the dice twice on fourth down Friday night and they came up seven both times to give the gambling Lobos a narrow 21-18 victory over an Eastland team which outplayed the visitors completely except when Hess made them look sick.

Cisco scored once in the first period and twice in the second, each time running or passing for the point after, to gain their victory. Eastland got one tally in the second quarter, one in the third and another in the fourth, but couldn't buy an extra point.

Two of Cisco's touchdowns came as the result of the Lobo quarterback's ability to sidestep. Eastland was rushing the crafty runner hard and he was taking advantage of the situation in the first half, but in the last two periods' Coach Carol Shelton had his players waiting for Hess and the Cisco quarterback's blaze of glory was over.

Eastland held Cisco on the initial series of plays and dove 60 yards to the Lobo 15, where on fourth down, needing one, a Mav halfback failed to gain. Cisco got out to the 22, where the Lobos faced fourth and three. Hess decided to run. He broke into the clear, got some beautiful blocking and went 78 yards for the first Cisco score. Benton Porter then ran over the extra point.

Eastland struck back in the second quarter, however. Bill Norwood, playing his first varsity game, broke over the right side of his own line, slipped out of the hands of two would-be tacklers, ran 30 yards for the score. The extra point try was good. Hess did it again just five plays later. This time it was a fourth down and 10 yards to when the quarterback went back to punt. The center snapped the ball way over his head and it rolled to his own 15. Hess raced back and recovered the ball just as large Maverick was all over him. He sidestepped the Eastland halfback to some interference and wiggled his way 85 yards for a other story-book touchdown. The time Hess ran over the point made it 14-6 for Cisco.

Rain began to fall at halftime but it didn't dampen Eastland spirits. Quarterback Clint Humrey threw a long pass to end Johnny McMahan for the second Eastland touchdown of the game. The play covered 38 yards. Agahowever, the extra point try was good.

The Mavericks got another score with 2:45 seconds left on the clock, this time driving 79 yards for a tally. Fullback Saul Pullman smashed over from the six yard line for the score to put the Mavericks in winning distance of 4-0. Eric Logan, Norwood, Larry Hill, Humphrey and Pullman moved the ball to the six in 12 plays. The extra point try was good. The score: Cisco 21, Eastland 18.

Norwood made a perfect one-kick for Eastland on the following play. Bill Norwood recovered the play-ball for Eastland on the Cisco 49. Eastland hopes rose as he neatly pushed the ball to the 35. But from there Eastland couldn't move and the ball was in on downs.

Enrollment In Schools Listed

Enrollment in Eastland schools now total 754, School Supt. Wendell Siebert has revealed.

Siebert said Saturday that there are 160 students enrolled in South Ward, 191 in West Ward, 171 in Junior High, 198 in High School and 36 in Douglas School.

South Ward enrollment is up 26 students; mainly due to the transfer of about that many fourth graders from West Ward. Last year's enrollment at the elementary school was 134. At West Ward the enrollment is down from 191. Junior High enrollment dropped from 185 last year to 171. High School enrollment dropped slightly, from 198 to 198. Douglas School enrolled 36 this year, compared to 32 last year.

Siebert said he expected a more students to enroll yet, 1957's senior class has 39 students, the juniors have 50 the sophomores 48 and the freshmen 119. In Junior High there are 61 eighth graders, 55 seventh graders and 55 sixth graders.

EASTLAND COUNTY HISTORY REVIEW—Part 14

Young Attorney Organized County

(Editor's Note: This is the fourteenth of a series of articles taken from the book, "A History of Eastland County, Texas," written by Mrs. George Langston written in 1904.)

Organization of the County
The Thirteenth Representative District in 1870 comprised Johnson, Hood, Parker, Palo Pinto and Jack Counties with the unorganized Counties of Stephens, Eastland, Throckmorton, Shackelford, Callahan, Taylor, Jones, Young and Haskell attached.

There came a time, however, when the citizens of Eastland began to want to do business at home. The odious State Police had been disbanded, and regularly appointed Rangers now guarded the rapidly moving frontier line. Hardy pioneers pushed westward and Eastland was no longer a frontier county. Many new settlers were coming into the county, and was being put into farms, substantial houses were going up, but for a time no man came forward to take the lead in the movement for organization.

The Twelfth Legislature, which met in 1872, had passed into history, but the prominent citizens of Eastland, all of whom devoutly wished for organization, had done nothing toward its accomplishment. This inactivity on the part of the older men nerved to action Silas C. Buck, a young lawyer living on the Davidson Ranch. He made his own plans, had himself appointed Deputy District Clerk of Palo Pinto County and went to work.

In Section 26 of Chapter 75 of the General Laws of the Seventh Legislature, which met in 1858, an act of creating Eastland and other counties, reads: "The County may be organized as follows: When over the bona fide, free, white male inhabitant thereof (including all such recognized as citizens by the Constitution of this State) over 21 years of age, to the number of at least 75, may petition the Presiding Justice of an adjoining county, or the nearest organized county, asking such organization, and the person presenting the petition (being a credible citizen of the county from which the petition emanates) shall testify upon oath and in writing before such Presiding Justice that the names subscribed to the petition are those of bona fide inhabitants of such county, possessing the qualification aforesaid, and were affixed to said petition by each of such Presiding Justice forthwith to order and election is said county for county officers, observing the provisions, as far as applicable, of the general election laws," etc., etc.

The first thing to do, according to the foregoing law, was to secure the signatures of 75 "bona fide free, white, male citizens" to a petition addressed to Presiding Justice J. H. Baker of Palo Pinto County for an election to be ordered. Armed with a six-shooter and bowie knife—for in 1872 there was still danger from Indians—Mr. Buck rode over the County, hunting all the bona fide citizens. One afternoon he stopped at a little doggery a couple miles from W. H. Mansaker's, where he found several free, white, male citizens exercising their liberties. The bolisterous sounds within the 10 by 12 log room indicated an excessive nervousness to shoals which warned the young lawyer to linger on the outside of the open door. Two of the men (called Tom and Mike because their names could not be learned), became involved in an altercation, and presently Mike got the drop on Tom and covered him with a pistol. No sooner did he accomplish this feat, however, than he in turn, was covered by another man, named Stewart. At that moment Buck became interested, and fingered his gun and felt of his knife, as he watched and waited for a chance to help the "under-dog."

Fortunate for all concerned, some adjustment of the difficulty was effected. The soliciting petitioner went in and secured the signatures of the free, white males, and then turned in at Mr. Mansaker's for the night. When about 65 names had been secured, Buck, who did not know how to read, exactly, carried the petition to Presiding Justice Baker, who ordered an election to be held on Dec. 2, 1873, with the following result:

- 1. McCough Springs—J. G. Gough, Justice of Peace.
- 2. Fainnagan's Ranch—W. Hale, Justice of the Peace.
- 3. Allen's Mill—John W. son, Justice of the Peace.
- 4. Hogtown—Watson, Justice of the Peace.
- 5. Jewell—E. E. Head, Justice of the Peace.
- 6. C. H. Schmick, Sheriff; C. District Court, A. J. Stuart.

On February following, election, which was held to locate the county town resulted in Fainnagan's Ranch being chosen the name of Merriam was given to it. By some move, known, perhaps, only to astute politicians, although McCough Springs, named as the First Precinct, J. B. McCough elected from (Continued on page 5) man is required to leave more aisle space this year so that better rodent and insect control can be achieved.

Loan-Handling Agreement
"The 1957 Loan Agreement has been signed and submitted to CCC by SPGA. The Association's loan expense this year has been reduced from $2.20 per ton to 70 cents per ton. This will substantially reduce operating capital of the co-op and will lessen the chances of SWPGA members receiving dividends. However, for the first time this year, the savings which accrue from the $9 deduction from the grower will be returned to the Association.

Inspection Services
"Willard T. McNabb and Fain Ceaser, in charge of inspection in Texas and Oklahoma, respectively, told the group that inspection personnel had been instructed to use extreme caution this year when ripping bags for sampling purposes. Inspectors are instructed to make the opening no larger than is actually needed to obtain a representative sample. Inspectors agreed to work on Saturdays until noon if necessary.

"John Hoover of the Marketing Quota Division addressed the group and explained the procedure followed in allotting peanut acreage through the marketing quota set-up. He told of plans now underway to ease the work load in County ASC offices in order to do a better job for the producer.

Operation of Grower Associations
"Ross Wilson, local association manager, outlined the 1957 operation of SWPGA in making the loan to producers, relations with marketing type cooperatives, warehouse inspections and contracting, and the Association's role in supervising the diversion of surplus peanuts.

"The problem of interpreting program changes to growers was discussed at length. One very effective means of improving this service was pointed out. In the future the Association will maintain closer contact with all County ASC offices in peanut producing areas so that the County office will be in a better position to inform growers relative to the peanut program. It was pointed out the SWPGA members now receive a monthly communication from the Association and are, therefore, in a better position to keep abreast of program changes than ever before. The Association is now placing increased emphasis on grower meetings throughout peanut producing areas.

CSS Commodity Office
C. H. Moseley, director of the Dallas CSS Commodity Office, explained the role of that agency in the sale of surplus peanuts, export sales, cold storage of peanuts, and general role of assistance to SWPGA.

The meeting was termed a success in that it defined areas of difficulty and pointed the way toward a closer coordination of the services of all agencies involved in price support activities."

locality, yet, W. F. Hale, of Flanagan's Ranch was made President Justice, and Merriaman became the First Precinct.

The citizens now felt secure in their organization and were ready for work. Mart Owens and Miss Townsend went to Justice Gibson to get married. The Justice refused to marry the couple and said that he would resign his office before he would attempt such a thing. Mr. Owens, insisting, secured a form of ceremony from a friend, and after studying this all night, Mr. Gibson consented and married the couple.

Now came the startling news that a t. oracle of the law, Captain W. C. Veole, of Palo Pinto, had said that "the organization of Eastland wouldn't hold water." This statement sent young Buck to Austin. He interviewed Governor Coke, a personal friend, who sent him to his Secretary of State, Colonel DeBerry.

"Now, Colonel DeBerry," said Buck, "if you can't issue commissions to these officers who have been elected. I want this Legislature to pass laws that will legalize the organization so you can."

"Here, give me their names, I'll fix them alright," answered Colonel DeBerry, filling out the commissions and affixing his signature.

To make the organization doubly strong, Mr. Buck remained two or three weeks, and through Senators Jack Ball of Weatherford and Major Erath of Waco, succeeded in having all the necessary laws passed. With copies of these bills properly signed, in his pocket, together with the officers' commissions, the young lawyer made his way to Eastland.

When it is remembered that there were few newspapers, and that the railroad still lingered among the protecting pines of Marshall, Texas, this lack of knowledge of procedure in such an undertaking as the organization of a county is not surprising and one is able to more thoroughly appreciate young Buck's grit and nerve. ### Cisco—

Lobos didn't make a single first down in the last two periods and gained only 31 yards in both periods. Eastland got back their two touchdowns, meanwhile, but Cisco's extra point luck held. Last year the Mavs dropped a 28-7 loss to the Lobos.

Eastland proved to have a much better team than had been expected, however. Such lads as McMahon, Charles Martin, Kenneth Watson, Stanley Reed, Knick Arther, Larry Alldredge and Wayne Dodson, plus a number of others, were great in the line, considering the fact that only one man in that forward wall was a starter last year. The Eastland backfield, with Pullman as the ramrod and Hollis, Turner and Ronald Robertson as the speed merchants, clicked well. Humphrey mixed his plays well in the game and looked like a real veteran.

Light Cotton Crop Is 1957 Forecast

The Crop Reporting Board has forecast a 1957 cotton crop of 11,897,000 bales—11 percent less than last year's crop of 13,310,000 bales and compares with the 1946-55 average of 13,669,000. An average loan rate of 28.81 cents a pound, basis Middling 7-8 inch, was also announced.

Handicapped by unfavorable early season weather, crops made an exceptionally good response to a favorable late June and July weather. However, lateness of crop in northern areas of Central Belt, Oklahoma and Northwest Texas, which was only partially overcome, remains the limiting factor.

The expected yield per acre for the U. S., of 416 pounds per acre is only one pound less than the 1955 record high and compares with the 1946-55 average of 300 pounds. Record - high yields are expected in Georgia, Texas, Arizona and California with better than average yields in other states.

The average loan rate of 28.81 cents for middling upland cotton is an increase of 0.66 cents above the advance "minimum" rate announced last winter. This final rate reflects 78 percent parity price of 36.93 cents a pound for upland cotton as of August 1, 1957.

Two community improving programs are open to roughly the eastern third of Texas. Reagan Brown, extension rural sociologist, urges community leaders to make the pasture improvement program a part of their community improvement efforts.

H. R. HALLOCK
... atomic research officer

Texas Electric Officer Named Atomic Veep

Houghton R. Hallock, who served from 1951 to 1954 as Port Worth District Engineer, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, has been elected executive vice president of the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation, it was announced Saturday by J. B. Thomas, president of Texas Electric Service Company and vice president of the Foundation.

Hallock, who recently was appointed director of research for Texas Electric Service Company, is on loan from the company for his duties in connection with the Foundation, and will continue to make his office in Fort Worth.

The Foundation was organized last April by eleven electric light and power companies operating in the State of Texas to conduct a research program in controlled thermonuclear or fusion reaction. It has contracted with General Atomic Division of General Dynamics Corporation for a joint $10,000,000 four-year research program to be conducted at the John Jay Hopkins Laboratory for Pure and Applied Science in San Diego. The objective of this long-range research program is to develop an understanding of the basic processes which may make possible the generation of electric power by nuclear fusion.

Hallock, who returned to the United States in June from Army duty on Okinawa, retired from the Army in August, in the grade of Colonel, after 20 years service. He was graduated from West Point in 1937, and after World War II returned there as an assistant professor of physics. He was an instructor at West Point until he moved to Fort Worth in 1951.

Gray Matter—

industrious and energetic. Thus it came as a surprise to me to find their people so slow in serving customers in one of the best restaurants in downtown Salt Lake. Utah is famous for its fine honey. The state slogan or motto is "The Beehive State" because of its intense production of honey. Thus one would think it would be one of the state's favorite delicacies. It may be, but the way they handle it in their restaurants you'd think it was as scarce as hen's teeth.

Perhaps I'm forming my opinion on my own experience with biscuits and honey. I'm one of those Texans who, when he sits down to the table to enjoy biscuits and honey, do just that with generous portions of butter. If there is anything finer to eat than a good spread of honey and butter some of fine biscuits, I don't know what it is unless its a good helping of blackeyed peas and cornbread. Ah, there's some fine eating.

After finally getting a meal in this restaurant in Salt Lake and while waiting for the waitress to bring the check, a hostess came around with a basket of biscuits and asked me if I wanted some honey.

Of course I did, but being a Texan I at least expected a biscuit that was biscuit size. The two she gave me were about the same size as a cross-section of a quarter pound of butter. Actually, these biscuits weren't large enough to cover a slice of butter. Some of the butter's edges extending out from the biscuit when one was opened for butter.

I looked at my mother and then looked at one of these midget biscuits, wondering what I was supposed to do with it.

With a quizzical look on my face, I asked her:
"How do you eat these things? Do you chew them or swallow them with water like you would aspirin?"

Certain changes are necessary in the recommendation in L-256, "Texas Guide for Controlling External Parasites on Livestock and Poultry", because residue tolerances are not discussed. These tolerances are explained in the supplement to L-256, "Insecticidal Residue Tolerances in Livestock." It may be obtained from local county agents.

IN THE COUNTY SEAT
By Frances Moore

Football season and school both starting this week are sure signs that old man winter is just around the corner. It would be a shame if you got all ready to go to a football game this fall and your car wouldn't start. So you won't have to worry about this happening to you, you should take your car by HOLLOWAY'S TEXACO STATION regularly for a check-up. And don't wait until the last minute to have that anti-freeze put in your car either. You can bet HOLLOWAY'S will have it when you get ready for it.

JEANETTE'S FABRIC SHOP

has some printed corduroy that would make darling matching skirts for you steady couples to wear to school this winter. Now is the time to make that winter wardrobe in order to get the use of it all winter. Drop by JEANETTE'S and see the beautiful fall material they have. They are always glad to help you with your sewing problems too.

Say, here's a wonderful idea on what to feed that starving after-game crowd when they drop by this year. Barbecue sandwiches, potato chips, Cokes and cookies, and the easy part of all, you can get it all at MURRELL'S FOOD STORE. And with the barbecue ready to slice (or they are glad to slice it for you) there is really no work at all. Doughnuts made of Puffin Biscuits would be good too and MURRELL'S has them for only 2 cans for 25 cents.

Have trouble finding enough suitable days during the winter to do your laundry? Don't let that be your problem this year. Just call the EASTLAND STEAM LAUNDRY (584) and have them pick the clothes up at your door and deliver them to you free of charge all washed, ironed and ready to wear. Or, if you prefer, EASTLAND STEAM LAUNDRY also does wet washes and fluff dry.

It certainly is disgusting to start writing a theme and run out of paper. But not quite so much when you know the HILLCREST FOOD MARKET is still open and will have just the school supplies you need. They stay open until 8 p.m., you know, and keep in their store nearly everything anyone would need. The HILLCREST is open all day Sunday too. Depend on them for your needs.
