POWDER PLANT BLAST TAKES HEAVY TOLL

DOVER, N. J., Sept. 12 (AP)—Two terrific explosions in quick succession this afternoon at the Hercules Powder company's plant at Kenil near here killed an undetermined number of persons, injured at least 200, and started fires that caused eight lesser blasts.

The first explosions shook houses, scattered windows in nearby communities and were felt more than 100 miles away.

State police reported to their headquarters at Trenton that they saw "eight or ten bodies hauled out of the plant ruins."

Scores of ambulances and police cars rushed the injured to hospitals in Dover, Newton, Morristown, Newark and Montclair.

The Dover hospital was filled to capacity with the first injured to be taken from the scene.

The fires handicapped rescue efforts and prevented police and firemen from determining the number of persons killed.

Two buildings containing dynamite were in the path of flames.

A plant official said the first explosion occurred in the solvent recovery house of the smokeless powder manufacturing lines. The recovery house was recently completed at a cost of $500,000 to handle defense orders.

Early estimates placed the total damage at more than $2,000,000.

No buildings in Kenil, population 900 and about a mile from the plant, were wrecked, although many plate glass windows were shattered on the main street.

Kenil is 30 miles northwest of the New York City metropolitan area.

All available ambulances, doctors and nurses in nearby Jersey towns were called into service.

Fire fighting apparatus not needed at the plant were stripped of hose and pressed into service to haul the injured to hospitals.

Many women, apparently relatives of plant workers, became hysterical in Kenil and at Dover hospital.

METROPOLITAN BATTLEFIELD—Out of the ruins of a building wrecked in a German air raid, British rescue workers bring one of the persons wounded in a bomb blast. British sources say some of the persons injured in this structure were trapped for seven hours before rescue. There was no further information about the wounded or dead. This picture was cabled to the United States from London.

Provisions Of Committee's Draft Bill

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—The peacetime conscription bill approved by a joint senate and house committee for submission to the two bodies for their final action provides for:

1. Registration of all male citizens and aliens who have reached their twenty-first anniversary but have not passed their thirty-sixth on a registration day to be fixed.

(Members and former members of the armed forces, diplomatic representatives, and legislative, executive, and judiciary officers, would be exempted.)

2. Liability for a year's training of all male citizens, and aliens who have declared their intention of becoming citizens, in this age group.

3. Voluntary enlistments, regardless of race or color, of all men from 18 to 34 years old, inclusive.

4. Limitation of 900,000 on the number of conscripts to be in training for the army at any one period in peacetime.

5. Restriction on the service of conscripts to the western hemisphere, American possessions and the Philippine Islands.

6. Regular army pay for conscripts, the army's basic pay being increased from $21 to $30 a month.

7. Assignment of each trainee, after his year's service is completed, to a reserve organization with subsequent short retraining periods for 10 years or until he becomes 35 years old, except that he may actively participate in two years additional service in the national guard or army.

8. Selection of trainees on impartial basis, with state quotas fixed on male population basis.

9. Deferment of training for ordained ministers or theological students; men employed in essential industrial or agricultural work.

Quick Action Predicted On Draft Bill

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Quick enactment of peacetime conscription for men from 21 through 35 was believed near today as a joint senate and house committee met to draft its report on a compromise bill.

The report will go to both houses for final action, and the congressional consensus was that it would be promptly accepted—perhaps before the weekend.

Scuttling a house provision for a 60-day delay in the draft, and compromising differences on the vital question of age limits, the six senators and five house members reached an agreement last night on a common version of the legislation which both branches of congress previously approved in different forms.

The senate had fixed the age bracket at from 21 through 30, the house from 21 through 44. At the suggestion of Senator Thomas (D-Utah) the conferees made the maximum age 35.

Thus, when and if the bill finally becomes law, approximately 16,500,000 men will be called upon to register for service.

When the physically unfit, those with dependents and those who hold essential jobs in industry or agriculture are weeded out, army officials estimated 5,000,000 men would be eligible for a year's intensive training.

President Roosevelt may call these, it was explained, in any age classes the army desires. Registration of the 16,500,000 is expected to take place within 15 days after congress makes funds available and the first contingent of 75,000 probably would be inducted into service shortly after October 15.

NAME SUPERVISOR FOR CONSTRUCTION OF B'WOOD CAMP

DALLAS, Sept. 12 (AP)—Koch and Fowler, Dallas consulting engineers, were notified by the war department today that they had been selected to plan and supervise construction of the $5,500,000 army camp at Brownwood, Texas.

O. H. Koch, senior member of the firm, who formerly served as Dallas public works director, announced that work would be started next week on the big camp, which will house 20,000 national guardsmen now being called into service for a year's training.

Koch will leave for Brownwood during the day to start engineering surveys on the camp site.

ITALY CLAIMS SUB TAKES BIG TOLL

ROME, Sept. 12 (AP)—Italy declared today that her submarine arm had reached into the Atlantic ocean to prey on British shipping, crediting one boat with sinking 27,000 tons in a single voyage beyond the Strait of Gibraltar.

The high command's communique also claimed that in a raid on Aden, British base at the entrance to the Red sea, at the other extreme of Italy's battle front, two British destroyers were sunk by air bombing Sept. 1 and 2.

Pair Sought For Deputy's Slaying

PARIS, Sept. 12 (AP)—Bloodhounds bayed in the Red river bottoms today in search of two youthful desperadoes accused of the kidnapping and slaying of Deputy Sheriff George Robertson of Lamar county.

The body of the officer, shot here "three weeks" about the street and beaten, was found last night near Powderly, Tex., ten miles north of here.

M. C. Sanders, Paris merchant who was a member of a posse of 30 men, discovered the body in an automobile that had been driven off the road into a thicket four miles east of the town.

The automobile was stolen in Livingston and was identified as one figuring in a Huntville robbery Sept. 4.

T. R. Fowler, Jr., 20, of Willis and Buddy Acker of Oakhurst, about the same age, were charged with robbery with firearms after their pictures were identified by J. E. Raynor, Huntville service station man, as those of two youths who robbed him of $75. Both are ex-convicts.

Robertson was abducted Tuesday after he and Sheriff J. H. Ratliff arrested two young men as they tried to sell a tire and wheel at a service station here. Robertson left the sheriff's car and got into the automobile carrying the two men.

Sheriff Ratliff returned to the courthouse, expecting the others to follow.

Officers said the men had circled through Houston and into Louisiana, then had brought a Paris girl to her home shortly before being arrested by Ratliff and Robertson.

City Marshall W. A. Walters, a former sheriff, organized a group of citizens into automobile posses for a systematic search of the roads in this area. Eighty members of the national guard also had volunteered for this work. Sanders was with one of these groups.

FD Pledges Efforts To Avert War

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Reaffirming a "supreme determination" to keep war away from American shores, President Roosevelt inaugurated his third term campaign last night by advocating compulsory service for industry as well as manpower, if necessary, and pledging that his labor and social program would expand rather than retreat in building national defense.

He coupled these statements with an attack on unnamed critics who "love the laboring man in November but forget him in January" and called for an end "to the sort of appeasement which seeks to keep us helpless by playing on fear and by indirect sabotage of all the progress we are making."

"Apppeasement," incidentally as I use it," he said, "is a polite word for misdirected partisanship."

The president spoke before a demonstration of members of the International Teamsters' Union.

Declaring that weakness in these days was a "cordial invitation to attack," he brought loud applause when he added:

"I hate war now more than ever. I have one supreme determination—to do all I can to keep war away from these shores for all time."

He led up to the question of compulsory service for recalcitrant industry by asserting it was necessary that "every dollar of capital" share in the defense effort just as well as the men in the fighting forces and workers behind the lines.

Applause swept the hall when he said: "No business is above its government; and government should be empowered to deal adequately with any business which tries to rise above its government."

FDR 'CLUMSY' WITH FOREIGN AFFAIRS, DECLARES WILLKIE

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Sept. 12 (AP)—Describing President Roosevelt's handling of foreign affairs as "clumsy" Wendell L. Willkie said today that "the United States cannot but fall in the present world struggle under such leadership."

In a statement issued just before going to Indianapolis for a conference with other republican leaders, the presidential candidate made this comment on Mr. Roosevelt's address last night:

"I have never felt so encouraged about the outcome of the election as I did after listening to Mr. Roosevelt's speech last night."

"If the American people have any sense of realism of the condition of the world in which they are living, they will reject overwhelmingly a president who preaches such class conscious and economic sabotage doctrines as was attached last night."

North German Cities Raided By RAF Fliers

Berlin Claims Many Invading Bombers Brought Down

BERLIN, Sept. 12 (AP)—British airmen in the gigantic duel with Germany "repeatedly bombed" north German cities, including Berlin, Hamburg and Bremen, last night and early today, the high command announced.

Incendiary and explosive bombs plunged into "residential quarters" of these cities, according to the daily communique, and "numerous fires and damages resulted to dwellings and laborers' settlements."

The accuracy of anti-aircraft gunners, the discipline of the civil population and the swift work of air raid precaution organizations were credited with curbing the destruction and resisting total casualties to 14 dead and 41 injured.

Six of the RAF night raiders were said to have been shot down by anti-aircraft batteries. Britain's total plane losses yesterday, including 67 in the battle of London, were put at 80, as against 20 German.

A German armada of fighting planes, chasers and destroyers continued the "retaliatory attacks on London day and night," the high command said, adding that "dock and harbor facilities, which were lighted brightly by fires, a gas electrical works, a powder factory and an armament factory were heavily hit."

The pressure centering on London was designed to plunge that capital into complete confusion and cripple the industrial organization.

Yesterday's assault also included attacks on a plane factory at Southampton, where six hangars were destroyed, oil tanks hit at Fort Victoria, night raids on Liverpool and "other harbor facilities on the west and south coast of England," the high command announced.

At the mouth of the Thames, the communique said, four fighters dived on a convoy, setting fire to a destroyer and four merchant ships and hitting two other convoy vessels.

In submarine attacks on British-convoyed shipping an additional 47,000 tons were reported sunk, but this included 21,000 tons given in a previous partial summary by one U-boat commander.

Besides 67 British planes reported shot down in the battle of London and six over German territory, the high command said six British bombers were brought down off the North sea coast and another on the channel coast, making 80 for the day.

Berlin got off with the lightest damage in the RAF's night attack, according to Der Angriff, Propaganda Minister Goebbels' paper. Thirty-six apartment houses at Hamburg were damaged, Der Angriff added, and there was about the same damage at Bremen, where it was said bombs fell on the center of the city.

The center of Berlin was bombed for 92 minutes.

Nazi Shipping In Channel Blasted

London Enjoys Lull In German Airkrieg, Only One Alarm

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Within a few hours of Prime Minister Churchill's warning that a Nazi invasion by sea was imminent, British fliers renewed their attacks last night on German shipping in the English Channel, smashing barges and sinking at least one supply ship, the air ministry said today.

London itself enjoyed a lull in the fighting today, save for a 65-minute air raid warning occasioned by what observers concluded was a German reconnaissance flight.

Besides the attack on the shipping in German-occupied channel ports, British fliers were reported to have struck blows at railway stations and yards in Berlin and at the Tempelhof airbase, even while London's defenders were battling off hundreds of Nazi planes with a "blitz barrage."

The RAF also attacked docks and shipyards at Hamburg, Bremen and Wilhelmshaven, and railway lines at Hamm, Cologne, Coblenz Mannheim and Namur, the government said today.

The barge concentrations under attack were at Ostend, Calais, Flushing and Boulogne.

Anhalter railway station and yards and other yards near Potsdam yesterday were lit repeatedly and then straddled by heavy explosives, the air ministry said.

Anti-aircraft batteries in Berlin's Tiergarten, only a stone's throw from German government buildings, were silenced by salvoes of bombs.

Another raider dropped explosive and incendiary bombs over Tempelhof airbase, Berlin's main airport, the air ministry said.

The Anhalter station is near Potsdam station, which the British said yesterday was hit repeatedly.

Britons hailed as a great victory the repelling of the night attack on London, which apparently was attempted by the greatest number of planes yet sent against the city.

German raiders, coming in unprecedented numbers on the fifth night of their "destroy London" attack, bombed two hospitals, many houses and small factories in the so "heart part of the city, but failed to reach important objectives and were thrown back by a fierce anti-aircraft fire which turned the September 11 night into a "blitz barrage."

CAA Trainees Must Pledge Readiness For Military

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Future participants in the Civil Aeronautics Administration's pilot training program must pledge themselves to enter the military services "if qualified."

Colonel Donald H. Connolly, civil aeronautics administrator, making the announcement today, said:

"The pledge is not intended to set the time or circumstances for entering the military service, but rather to provide a statement of intention to use this particular training in the national defense."

For A Splash Of Color In Your Garden, Plant Your Bulbs Now

The right and wrong of planting tulips.

By CLAIRE NORTON
Author of "Spring Flowers From Bulbs"

For a splash of color in your garden, and in your life, you'll be planting bulbs this fall. There's a war in Europe that has raised a lot of Dutch bulb imports, but American growers now produce excellent bulbs, and there are bulbs this year from England and Japan. There are, of course, those bulbs you lifted from your garden last June and stored through the summer months. Beginning gardeners, and many with experience, think only of tulips and other well known varieties when flowering bulbs are mentioned. All too few persons know the pleasure that the dainty, minor bulbs of spring can bring. There are dozens of these, plus kinds that bloom in the fall, too. Let's start with tulips. They are planted in the fall. Choose a well drained spot of sandy loam that is easily pulverized. Add a little bone-meal or commercial fertilizer with potash. Spade deeply.

Varies With Climate
Plant four to six inches deep, depending upon lightness of soil and size of bulb. If late spring frosts are likely, eight to ten inches of depth is better. Deeper planting holds back growth. Space five to eight inches apart. Place this cushion of sand below each bulb to absorb excess moisture. Light mulch of peat moss, leaves, straw or litter may be spread after ground has frozen. This should be removed in spring after growth has started and danger from heavy frosts is gone. Now for minor bulbs. Their culture is simple, their wants are few. Their little colonies increase rapidly in size and they last for years. Snowdrops, snowflakes and glories-of-the-snow rear their blooms, as their names indicate, against the brilliant whiteness of early spring storms.

For Smallest Of Lawns
Winter aconite, chionodoxa and snowdrops may be used in even the smallest of lawns, placed under the sod. They must be allowed time to ripen before the first lawn-mowing in the spring. If foliage is mowed before it ripens, bulbs are damaged. All are lovely along borders, where lawn meets shrubbery, in sparsely wooded situations, besides stream banks, around pools and in little clumps at bases of gnarled old shade trees.

Plant in autumn, about three inches deep, two to three inches apart. A light winter mulch of leaves or straw is not under the protection of turf is not amiss. These bulbs grow in poor soil, but they do better in sandy loam made light and porous by addition of humus, peat moss or bone-meal. When naturalizing, plant one species in a place is used, planted in masses.

Tomorrow: The fall blooming Cocus.

Child Welfare Needs Are To Be Talked Tonight

The second in a series of discussions on the need for a child welfare unit in Big Spring was held Wednesday afternoon at the parish house of St. Marys Episcopal church. Miss Lydia Cagle of Austin, division of child welfare, conducted the study.

In an effort to acquaint the town with the need of a child welfare worker here, the discussions are aimed at the particular problems to be faced in this county. Miss Cagle conducted a survey of the county here last year.

Mrs. J. Turner Bynum gave a resume of the first day's discussions and Marjorie Whitaker of the department of public welfare spoke on the part of the work. She correlated the work of the two departments and pointed out advantages of having a child welfare unit in the county.

Miss Cagle spoke on two of the aims of the unit which are to keep a family group together when possible and to help the child to help itself. She discussed case work and pointed out that the unit cares for the mentally handicapped child and the illegitimate child. The workers investigate the habits, background and environment of the child, his physical needs and habits and then with the family plans for the child to fill his needs.

A night meeting is to be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the parish house and the county and city commissioners with the city manager, E. V. Spence, and mayor, G. C. Dunham are invited to be present. Another Group Slated To Begin Flight Instruction This Month

Things are a little quieter out at the airport these days, but there are signs that this is the calm before the storm.

As it now stands, only 10 students are working on their secondary flight training and one man is seeking rating for his instructor's license. Only this month 10 preliminary flight students qualified for private flying licenses.

But as soon as Art Wintheler, Muncy port manager and CAA instructor, gets another pilot and another ship, matters should pick up. A preliminary ground school training period should be about over by the end of the month, with at least 10 flight scholarships coming out of it.

There is a possibility that another section of secondary students will be assigned here and then one or two groups of fliers seeking instructors' ratings.

who is assisting in instruction, are concentrating on the 10 secondary flight students and will conclude the program of training by Oct. 1. Another pilot-instructor, J. W. Thomas of Tuscaloosa, Ala., is due Sept. 16, said Wintheler. Also another plane is expected to be delivered in a few days.

For the training, Wintheler has three Cubs and two Waco craft already on hand. These, with nine other planes, are on the verge of utilizing the available hangar space at the port.

GIVING TESTS

Albert Myers, inspector for the Civil Aeronautics Authority, was at the municipal airport Wednesday giving written and flight examinations to applicants for private flying licenses.

Several of the applicants were from Sweetwater.

It's Still Man's World In Realm Of Railroad

WASHINGTON (UP)—As far as one of the largest employers of labor in the United States is concerned, it's still a man's world.

The railroad industry, with more than 1,000,000 persons on its payrolls, offers opportunities to young men trained in science, engineering, commerce, finance and law, but limits its hiring of women mainly to office workers and telegraph operators, according to a study recently made public by NYA administrator Aubrey Williams.

An annual personnel turnover of more than 50,000 assures trained men of positions in the industry, the report declares, concluding that "whatever the degree of mechanization, the railroads will always need large numbers of men to insure safe and efficient operation and satisfactory service."

AN ANALYSIS OF THE WAR DEVELOPMENTS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Should Herr Hitler make good his threat to dump ten thousand airplane loads of bombs on London every twenty-four hours, and follow this rain of death by the invasion he has prepared, we probably shall be able to pick the ultimate winner of the war before many days have passed.

On the eve of his proposed mass killing and destruction from the air there are so many vital factors in doubt that he would be a foolhardy man who tried to predict the outcome, despite the vast superiority of military power.

This war is nobody's pigeon yet. Obviously the Germans might achieve a quick knockout. On the other hand, if the British can take the punishment and throw back perhaps the most powerful attack of history, then they can look with a considerable degree of confidence towards the respite that the bad weather should bring by the end of the month.

Many observers believe that Hitler is going to win or lose this war within the immediate future. To my mind he will indeed be lucky if he gets another chance after the present historic occasion.

British Premier Churchill yesterday in warning his people of the storm he said that for the Nazis to attempt invasion without gaining mastery of the air (which they have been unable to achieve thus far), would be "a very hazardous undertaking."

That is one of Hitler's reasons for intensifying his aerial attack on London—to pave the way for the landing of a host of soldiers. It is hard to believe that the Germans could dictate to England from the air alone.

Hitler's main objective is the morale of the civilian population. If he can smother that he will make a mighty stride towards victory. I have referred to this more than once before, but it is so important—so vital—that I feel justified in returning to the subject.

All indications are that the British are facing with determination this test which means life or death to their empire, and will mean the end of life for many individuals.

But with all this, you and I must recognize that there is a point beyond which sheer bravery fails to function. There may come a time when, under such hellish punishment as mass bombing involves, body and mind cannot stand the shock. No amount of courage can overcome this.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 million of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or recent passages with smearing and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, needed sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pain, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches, and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Deane's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 25 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Deane's Pills.

Ranges Show Improvement

AUSTIN, Sept. 12 (AP)—Texas ranges continued to improve in August and on Sept. 1 were 85 per cent of normal, 10 points above the 10-year average for that date.

Timely rains early in August resulted in great improvement in the Panhandle and western sections. Temporary relief was given in the eastern and southeastern districts. Generally, feed crop prospects were improved from a month ago and winter supplies of supplemental feeds should be larger than last year's supply, the agricultural marketing service of the U. S. department of agriculture reported.

Cattle were in good flesh in all districts at 87 per cent of normal, five points above a year ago. Sheep were 85 per cent of normal and goats 87 per cent.

LIBYAN POINTS ARE BOMBED BY RAF

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 12 (AP)—British warplanes were reported today to have damaged Italian military airports and destroyed dock facilities in a series of bombing attacks on Libyan objectives.

Large blazes were started among docks and hangars at Derna, a port on the Mediterranean coast, and four fires sprang up when bombs were rained on Amstat, just across the Egyptian border.

Several fires also were reported started at Bardia.

Italian bombers who attempted to raid the Alexandria-Mersa Matruh railroad in Egypt again were intercepted by British fighters and suffered a high proportion of casualties, the communiqué added.

PLEADS GUILTY TO AIDING GERMAN

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Alexander Inwood, 29, a laborer, pleaded guilty today to firing a strawstack during a raid when German aircraft were overhead, and thus providing a beacon. He was sentenced to three years imprisonment.

Justice Halliday said: "In Germany the penalty for such a crime would have been death."

RESORT ATTACKED

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP)—German dive bombers made a surprise attack today on a famous spa, widely known to Americans. Bombs landed in the garden of a hotel full of holiday guests. One woman was injured.

Wanna Stay In Bed Tomorrow? If Superstitious, You'd Better

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
AP Feature Service Writer

Tomorrow is Friday the Thirteenth.

Some people are so superstitious about it they won't get out of their beds, and maybe it's just as well. If they did, there would be a good chance something would happen to them. Science says so.

"Science doesn't take any stock in superstitions," says Dr. Lawrence W. Miller of the University of Denver, a psychologist well versed in the reasons behind human behavior.

"Nevertheless, if you are desperately fearful something is going to happen to you on Friday the Thirteenth, it is well to stay in bed."

"You may be so upset you'll be off your guard or you may concentrate so deeply on one fear that your alertness to other dangers will be diminished."

"Something entirely different from what you had expected and planned a defense against may happen and take you unawares. Thus trouble catches up with you on Friday the Thirteenth."

Some superstitions, according to Dr. Miller, are good for people.

"There were superstitions about crime, adultery and property rights in olden times," says Dr. Miller. "For instance, the ghost of the victim was supposed to inhabit a murderer's soul and torment it."

"Such beliefs tend to restrain murderous or criminal inclinations at a time when there were neither laws nor policemen."

Only A Guess

Many superstitions are dated so far in antiquity nothing authentic is known of their origin. It's only a guess how many modern ones were started.

Double Trouble

For the superstitious there's a double dose of ill luck on Friday the Thirteenth. Both Friday and 13 are associated with the goddess of trouble.

Friday probably became an omen of death because of its association with the crucifixion.

The numeral 13 probably first became a similar omen because of the thirteen people, Christ and the 12 apostles, seated at the last supper.

are observing a ritual that once was a religious one.

Form Of Supplication

"In ancient times pious people touched a wooden cross as a form of supplication," says Dr. Miller.

"It was a prayer. They believed the cross cast a spell of good fortune about them. And so knocking on wood became an invitation to good luck."

The horseshoe probably is a sign of good luck because the horse has been a friend of Man Dr. Miller says.

Other things, like four-leaf clovers, are good luck symbols because a series of coincidences probably occurred in which a person had good luck immediately after he found, or otherwise had some association with, a four-leaf clover or other object.

From Days Of Black Magic

Similarly cats and witches are symbols of ill luck. Incidentally, says Dr. Miller, the black cat superstition dates back to the age of black magic when darkness was a symbol of eerie things. People looked askance at anything black.

In one state a recent study disclosed 4,000 superstitions held by various citizens.

SOLDIERS demonstrate how the "three-on-a-match" superstition originated. A match that burned long enough for three lights gave enemy snipers a good target.

GIRLS depict origin of superstition about knocking on wood. In ancient times people touched a wooden cross to drive off evil spirits. Now we touch wood for good luck.

Mann May Be Asked For Ruling On Guardsmen Retaining Office

AUSTIN, Sept. 12 (AP)—Can state officers who are members of the national guard or officers reserve corps continue to hold state positions if called for extensive military training?

This is a question arousing much interest in capital circles and while an informal consensus gives an affirmative answer, no one has spoken officially.

The question is being studied by Col. Clark C. Wren, judge advocate of the 36th division, Texas National Guard, and it appears that Attorney General Gerald C. Mann inevitably will be asked for an opinion.

SLAYS TEACHER AND THEN SHOOTSELF

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP)—Calling at the classroom of a pretty, brunette school teacher he had courted for a year, a 35-year-old coal miner killed her and turned his gun on himself because she told him their friendship was "off."

State Policeman Walter Heuer said today.

A dozen horrified pupils jumped out the first floor windows, others screamed and huddled in corners as the man's revolver blazed yesterday.

The teacher, Carolyn Dellamata, 29, shot twice in the chest, fell to the floor dead.

The miner, identified by Heuer as William Kuhns, collapsed with a bullet in the chest. A hospital reported he was in critical condition.

IN AIR CORPS

Patrick D. Kelly of 1105 Rannels street, Big Spring, has been enlisted in the United States army and assigned to the air corps at Brooks Field.

TALMADGE WINS A THIRD TERM

ATLANTA, Sept. 12 (AP)—Eugene Talmadge, one-time outspoken foe of the Roosevelt administration, won a third term as governor of Georgia in a democratic primary in which he promised voters he would "support the democratic ticket" in the national election.

Virtually complete, unofficial returns from yesterday's voting showed the lawyer-farmer won another gubernatorial term over two opponents after a four-year retirement.

STORM REPORTED

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 12 (AP)—The weather bureau today warned shipping in the Atlantic ocean that a tropical storm "of moderate intensity was central at 7 a. m., Eastern Standard Time" about 200 to 250 miles north of Puerto Rico, apparently moving slowly west-northwestward or northward.

PUT TO WORK

VICHY, France, Sept. 12 (AP)—Information from escaped or released prisoners is that French enlisted men, estimated at nearly 2,000,000, are being used in German harvest and other labor.

POTATO-KRIEG

Sea Said To Be In Hitler's Favor For Invasion Next Week

BERLIN, Sept. 12 (AP)—Authoritative German sources charged today that British armies are throwing bags of "Colorado potato bugs" into potato fields in Germany, Luxembourg and Belgium in an attempt to lay waste the major food source of those countries.

These sources said the bugs multiply rapidly and are hard to control. They cited this alleged form of attack as another "example of British unfairness."

Two days ago a similar charge was made that the British are throwing millions of self-igniting "leaves"—made of phosphorus and gun-cotton—in dense fires in German fields and forests. (The British admitted they were using the "leaves.")

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Authoritative British circles said today there is no truth in a German declaration that British are dropping bags of Colorado potato beetles on Germany's fields.

MOSCOW, Sept. 12 (AP)—Quantities of oil and grain are passing along Soviet Russia's inland waterways from the Black sea to the German border, the communist party newspaper Pravda reported today.

Dog Finds Way Home, 30 Miles in 70 Days

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP)—It required 70 days for him to do it, but Monk, a bulldog, found his way home to his master, Huison Humphries, 12.

Separated from the Humphries family during a picnic near Great Cove Springs, 30 miles away, Monk was given up as lost. No word was ever heard of the dog by the Humphries until 70 days later, when he scratched at the back door of the Humphries home here.

Thanks To Taxes, Odds Are Slim On Becoming A War Millionaire Coat-Of-Arms Of The Range

By FREDERICK GARDNER
NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (AP)—What's your chance of becoming a war millionaire?

Wall Street seems to think it is about as slim as a newt's eyelash—maybe 1 in 5,000,000 under present tax laws.

Individual income taxes, Wall Streeters figure, will plow under much of the major part of what remains of the war millionaire crop after the treasury has taken its cut of corporate profits from levies enacted or proposed.

A lucky market plunger with a million-dollar profit gained in a sudden rise in speculative values would have to hand over about $800,000 of his winnings to federal and state collectors, tax experts calculated.

The federal surtax on a million dollar income, it was figured, amounts to about $648,000. Ordinary and state taxes add about $150,000 more.

Business profits have increased since the European war began. A compilation by the National City Bank of New York shows profits of 334 manufacturing concerns in the first half of 1940 were up 60 per cent over earnings for the comparable 1939 period.

Multi-billion dollar defense expenditures, plus British war purchases, may bring further expansion in earnings.

Yet stock prices on the average ended the first year of the war at lower levels than when the conflict started. Brokers give various explanations for the lag in stocks, including suspense over the Anglo-nazi battle, but taxes are stressed.

While steel mills hum at capacity or near capacity output and arms makers get ready for rush room expansion. Some traders who need to play for the millions prefer to clip coupons as "investors" rather than risk their capital at going tax rates.

Not even Wall Street traditions of millions to be made from "war inflation" of stocks and commodities have tempted certain of these erstwhile big operators to quit their retreats for another bout with the ticker.

In 1914, before the World War speculative boom, there were 60 individuals with net incomes of more than $1,000,000 in the United States, treasury data shows. Million-dollar incomes jumped to 120 in 1915 and 206 in 1916, then dropped to 141 in the first year the United States was in the fray. With the collapse of the inflation cycle in 1920, the million-dollar income class shrank to a mere 33.

In 1929, at the peak of the post-war Wall Street bull market, million-dollar income returns increased to more than 500. Tax changes and business conditions held down million-dollar incomes in the last decade.

Said a tax authority: "It's still legal to be a millionaire in this country but not practical to expect to be one in face of tax obstacles. When we get through paying for the defense billions, millionaires may be even scarcer than they are now."

Use Of Ramie To Make Cigarette Paper Urged

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—A new Louisiana money crop may go up in smoke.

Scientific experiments have indicated cigarette paper manufacturers in the development of ramie. The plant which grows luxuriantly in the state, yields 1.40 or three-tenths annually and has a staple of several inches.

Accidental deaths of persons under 25 are more numerous in the summer than at any other time.

'Orange Pekoe' Tells Size Of The Tea Leaf

When you buy tea from your grocer you probably ask for blank's Orange Pekos and think that by so doing you are ordering the best. You may be, and then again you may not. Through misuse, the term Orange Pekos has become synonymous with fine quality tea. In reality, this is far from being the case. Orange Pekos is actually a term used by tea experts to denote the size of the tea leaf and has nothing whatever to do with the quality of the tea. An Orange Pekos tea may indeed be a very fine tea, but it also may be a very bad one, depending upon how it was grown and manufactured.

All fine teas are what is known as "high grown." That is, they are raised on tea estates located high on the hills in Ceylon, India, China, Japan, or the other tea-growing countries. All the enormous estates of the late Sir Thomas Lipton, for instance, are situated on the hills of Ceylon where conditions for tea raising are as near perfect as possible. "Low grown" teas originate from estates planted on the plains and never attain the quality of the "high grown" teas.

If your Orange Pekos tea is high grown and manufactured by an established firm, it will very likely be a fine tea, but if it comes from an estate situated in the lowlands, its quality and flavor will probably disappoint you.

CAPE MAY COURT HOUSE, N. J. (UP)—The proper vehicle for a fishing trip it not a hearse, Frank A. Erwin of Philadelphia is convinced.

Erwin, as driver, and James Weeden, borrowed a hearse belonging to Weeden's brother, Edward, for a fishing excursion to Wildwood. Near here, however, the hearse blew a tire and overturned. Erwin was fined for driving without a license, careless driving and using fictitious tags.

English Censors Pass On Jitterbug Marathon

LEEDS, Eng. (UP)—Police officials representing the Leeds Watch committees were apprehensive when a Leeds ballroom announced a "Jitterbug Marathon."

But after watching the contest, they agreed that it would not have a harmful effect on the morals of young Britain. The "marathon" was won by tiny Ella Cohen and her 6-foot-3 partner Harold Barnett, who danced for 20 minutes without repeating any of a series of steps.

DETROIT, Sept. 12.—In less than two hours time, grass, leaves, seaweed, wood, molasses and cornstarch are changed into coal or oil by a new process announced here today from the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh.

The report was made to the American Chemical Society by Dr. Ernst Berl, research professor at the institute.
In two hours these Pittsburgh scientists are doing what takes nature millions of years. Their work is the most drastic in the long history of artificial production of coal, oil and gasoline.

Nazis Say Britishers Invading Field With Potato Bugs

LONDON, Sept. 12. (AP)—The tide will be in Adolf Hitler's favor for several days running next week if he should decide to try to invade England.

Authoritative sources, basing their predictions on the nautical almanac, said the highest tide for the period is scheduled for 1:03 p. m. Wednesday, Sept. 13. Wednesday's high tide at Dover is expected to reach 18 feet, 6 inches, compared with a low of 14 feet.

The difference, these sources remarked, would enable some boats to get perhaps a quarter of a mile closer to shore.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (AP) — A trembling, hysterical man talked to murder-for-profit ring investigators today after he rushed into a church and screamed for protection.
Crying that three killers were on his trail, he turned out to be Vito (Socks) Gurino, 33, described by Brooklyn District Attorney William F. O'Dwyer as a key figure in the murder mob inquiry, and able to name the "top man" of the ring. Police had been hunting him six months.

He was charged with suspicion of homicide in connection with the slaying of two plasterers' helpers while they slept on Jan. 6, 1939. Appearing later in the police lineup, he protested his innocence.
The church Gurino chose for refuge last night is the Roman Catholic Shrine of the Sea.
'They're after me,' he cried. 'They're after me.'
Father William Kinchler called police. At Gurino's request, the priest accompanied him to the police station.

YOUNG MAN DIES IN 8-STORY PLUNGE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12. (AP)—With 73 cents in the pockets of his crumpled blue suit, Borden Harriman, 34, member of a prominent family and nephew of the minister to Norway, died in an eight-story plunge from his room in the Central Y. M. C. A. late yesterday.
Police found in the room a note saying:
"God's earth is kinder than some men know.
Also in the room was a letter from Harriman's mother, Mrs. Grace Harriman, of 34 Gramercy Place, New York, that read:
"I have no money to send you. Suggest that you come home."

Genl. Pershing 80 Years Old Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP) — Gen. John J. Pershing is going to get a good night's sleep tonight for tomorrow will be a crowded day. It's his 80th birthday anniversary.
In better health than in many years, the doughty commander of the American expeditionary forces plans to leave his comfortable suite, his reading and his writings, and make one of his rare appearances at his war department office.

Last year the general spent his birthday in Walter Reed hospital receiving a physical checkup.
The year before he was in Aix-en-Provence, France, up and about but his health "too delicate" to attend ceremonies at St. Mihiel commemorating the "big push" of his doughboys.
But this year he feels so well he is going to march into the big square office—once was Franklin D. Roosevelt's as assistant secretary of the navy—and sit down for an afternoon that would tire the average business executive of 50.

He expects to see any newsmen who want to see him, to make a radio talk to the American Legion and to greet his friends.
The general scoffs at the idea his birthday might tire him. His carriage is erect, his step is sure and his voice is strong.
At 80 he will be the fifth man in the history of America to have the all embracing rank—general of the armies. Only Washington, Grant, Sherman and Sheridan, were accorded that honor before him.

Dinner Wine For Two; 24 Ounces Held Ideal

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The proper amount of wine which a wine bottle should contain and the proper amount to be served at dinner is a matter of official record.

Before a public hearing by Federal Alcohol Administrator W. S. Alexander, H. A. Caddow, secretary-manager of the California Wine Institute testified that through the ages man has found three-fourths of a pint the ideal serving at dinner.

Hence, he said, the three-fourths of a quart bottle, or 24 fluid ounces, which constitutes a serving for two, is the ideal bottle for dinner purposes.

COURT WORK ACCELERATED

we're glad to be in the newspaper business....

THERE ARE hundreds of reasons why we are proud to be newspaper men. But of all of them, nothing can match the pride we take in the young men who daily deliver our product to you. Almost unique is this business in that respect. Here created is a job that allows a young school age boy to earn his own way . . . to know early in life the thrill of providing for himself, to a degree, and to actually accomplish something worthwhile with his own brain and energy.

AND NO EASY job is this that these young men of tomorrow tackle. Yet they seem to thrive on it. As a rule, they are the athletes of their schools, the conscientious workers of their studies, the young men who are least delinquent in any phase of their lives. And, as a rule, these boys are the men to whom, in a few years, employers will be turning for workers who do the job and do it well. These boys are proud of their jobs. Some of them will go on in the newspaper business. Others will go into business and finance. Still others will become skilled technicians and laborers. Why are they the cream of the crop? Simply because they have learned early in life the important lesson that by serving well they themselves profit well.

Action in approving the budget and establishing quotas for the various districts of the 16-county council was taken at an executive board meeting in Midland Tuesday.

District quotas were: Sweetwater, $2,600; Big Spring, $2,700; Odessa, $2,400; Midland, $1,900; Colorado City, $800; Monahans, $1,200; Snyder, $850; Pecos, $700; Rotan, $200; Kermit, $600; and Wink, $400.

John Doe Sentenced, Concealing Identity

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Police have John Doe locked up. Patrolman Charles Burns found a man standing in front of a nurses' home who refused to talk. "He was standing stiff as a board, looking at a window," said Burns.

He refused to move or talk. He maintained his silence at the police station and even refused food. So they gave him the name of John Doe and sentenced him to three months in the House of Correction.

DENY 'BLACK LISTS'

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 12 (AP)—The Union of Public Employees flatly denied today press reports that it had compiled "black lists" of supporters of General Juan Andreu Almazan so that they might be expelled from their government jobs. Partisans of the independent elader and presidential claimant are being deprived of their union membership because of their and Almazan's "unpatriotic attitude," but their positions with the government have not been affected, union leaders asserted.

Claude Wickard A Pure Dirt Farmer When He's Wearing City Clothes

The new Secretary of Agriculture makes frequent visits to the Indiana farm where he got his practical training.

By ALEXANDER GEORGE AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Even in his city clothes, Indiana's chunky Claude R. Wickard wouldn't be mistaken for a "book farmer."

The new Secretary of Agriculture, first simon-pure dirt farmer to be given that position since Iowa's "Tama Jim" Wilson in 1897, looks, talks and walks like a farmer.

The barrel-chested, 47-year-old Hoosier has the big hands and strong, stubby fingers of the soil-tiller, and he walks with the characteristic leg-lifting movement of the plowman.

He has the farmer's deliberation in coming to a decision. Fellow workers say: "Wickard's mind sits on an idea like a hen sits on eggs."

Wickard succeeds Henry Wallace after six-and-a-half years of administrative work in the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

His specialty is corn and hog production control. In periodical trips to the Corn Belt, he finds time to get into overalls on his farm in Crawford county. It's just 40 miles from Wendell, Wickard's home town of Elwood.

Family Of Democrats The farm, now 380 acres, has been in the family since the 1840's. On it are grown wheat, corn, alfalfa, hogs and cattle. The Wickards long have been staunch Democrats. Father and grandfather of the new secretary were named Andrew Jackson.

Wickard started farming with his father while he was attending high school. Following graduation from Purdue university in 1915, he took over complete management of the farm.

He was associated with the Farm Bureau and other organizations. At 34 he was adjudged a "Master Farmer" by a midwestern farm journal.

A pioneer in soil-building practices, he is an earnest advocate of crop-production control as a preventive of soil depletion and farm-price slumps.

Resigned State Office Wickard was elected state senator in 1932, resigned from the office to come to Washington in 1933.

One of his first activities here was the organization of an unofficial inter-department committee to study problems of the under-privileged farmer.

The committee meets weekly to analyze the general agricultural program from the standpoint of benefits to the small farmer.

Wickard is not a polished speaker. He makes few prepared addresses but does well in extemporaneous talks to farm groups.

Typical Wickardian appeal to farmers: "Let's just use some good horse sense even if we have a new rubber-tired tractor."

He married Louise Eckert of Logansport, Ind., in 1918, one of the bride's stipulations being installation of electricity in their farm home.

Young Wickard bought a home generating plant, did lots of tinkering with it. Now he's a candid camera enthusiast, also likes hunting and fishing. The Wickards have two daughters, Betty, who was graduated from Purdue last spring, and Ann, who will enter Purdue this fall.

tember night into a ghastly, roaring thunderstorm. Military clerics hailed the night's barrage, based on new methods of prediction of the flight of planes, as a "success."

It was the loudest ever heard in London in all the months of raiding, and threw up a veritable curtain of exploding steel through which few German bomber crews dared dive. Many of those who did dare, were trapped, these sources said.

Light naval forces, aided by bombers and coastal rifles, were disclosed to have hammered at Germany's "invasion ports" on the continent.

Although the London barrage reduced to about 20 the number of bombs dropped in the central city, it was disclosed that "Fleet street, a central area in which are published London's newspapers which long have lambasted Adolf Hitler and nazism, has been bombed and the offices of the Daily Herald and Evening Standard damaged.

A demolition bomb hit a 15,000-gallon water tank of one of the buildings and sent it crashing.

St. Paul's cathedral, a masterpiece of the 17th century architect, Sir Christopher Wren, again is menaced, this time by a delayed action bomb which is buried in the precincts of the historic edifice, it also was disclosed.

Workmen immediately began to "smother" the explosive, similar to one which on Tuesday wrecked a part of the royal residence, Buckingham palace. A danger zone was roped off. The historic edifice was endangered once before by nearby bombs and fires, but not a pane of glass was cracked.

Lenders expressed delight that most of the noise of the raid was from their own guns instead of from bombs.

"Spasmodic gunfire and the thud of exploding bombs in the heart of London was replaced by a crecendo of sound and orange bursts of hundreds of shells," said the British Press association.

"London had bared her teeth and was giving the raiders the hottest reception they have ever had." Apparently this was London's answer to German threats to ferry 10,000 plane loads of bombs to this area daily.

MARKETS Wall Street

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP)—Steels and other war shares carried the whole stock market lower again today.

The decline was slow but steady to the close from an optimistic opening which found quotations a point or so above previous finals.

The total transactions for the day were about 400,000 shares.

Marketmen declined to do more than test trends, saying they preferred to see whether Britain or Germany would gain control of the air before entering upon real commitments. Their concern in the war was so great that even the political campaign was largely neglected in boardroom discussions.

Marketing Cards To Be Distributed

Distribution of white marketing quota cards to cotton producers of Howard county was due to get underway by Friday. M. Weaver, county administrative assistant, said Thursday.

All of 970 white cards have been prepared and farmers were advised to make sure they receive their cards before the marketing season starts.

The cards enable a farmer to market all production off his allotted acreage without penalty. This year, thanks to timely rains, it appears that the harvest will considerably exceed the normal adjusted yield per acre.

Weaver also announced that transmittal of subsidy applications to the state office would reach 700 by Thursday evening. This leaves only about 270 applications to go, and payments on the original transmittals are expected in the near future.

Announcement of the August 1 government cotton crop forecast, which estimates a yield of 12,772,000 bales—up more than 1,300,000 over the previous month—points more directly at the South's cotton export problem.

Washington Daybook

By ROBERT A. TAFT U. S. Senator from Ohio President Roosevelt is appealing for a third term, in violation of the principles of the American republic, largely on the ground that he has been the only true exponent of preparedness and is the only man competent to carry on a preparedness program.

In accordance with the platform of 1932, President Roosevelt reduced the expenditure for the army and navy during his first year. Adolf Hitler came into power in Germany in January, 1933, and the seven years of the present administration saw the rise of the German army from 100,000 to 4,000,000 men, with the most modern mechanical equipment.

The causes of unpreparedness were inherent in the New Deal. When the first emergency blank check for $3,300,000,000 was voted by congress in 1932, it was proposed that $2,000,000,000 be spent for mechanization of the army.

There was not even a plan for preparedness. The possibility of German victory has always existed, and should at least have been provided for. On May 16, 1940, the president requested a

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—For days now Broadway has been in a stony telling mood, and at the risk of being silly I am going to pass along the one that is getting the biggest play in the backstage dressing rooms and at restaurant tables. It's a hard story to tell, because it should be acted with gestures, but then maybe you can supply your own.

For many days after this, little Phitt-Phitt and her sister, little Phitt-Phitt-Phitt, went about very sorrowfully. They gave up playing with the ball of yarn with which the three of them had so frequently cavorted in the good old days when poor little Phitt was alive.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—You walk on the set and hear a familiar tune with a lilt in it, and you know those two purveyors of musical nostalgia, Anne Neagle and her producer-director, Herbert Wilcox, are at it again.

When the Neagle-Wilcox team toured with "Irene," their first revived old-timer, they found that the only thing wrong with the old tune was that the paying customers couldn't get enough of them. Those "Nanette" tunes, like those of "Irene," have lasted through the years and still are played on the air—still were played, that is, until recently. For six months, by order of Wilcox, the "Nanette" music is off the air to freshen it up, so to speak, for the Christmas release of the movie.

Sometimes, on the set where Miss Neagle and her leading men, Richard Carlson and Victor Mature, are dancing in ballroom scenes, you can't hear the music. You can see the orchestra playing, led by a rotund, chubby maestro, but you can't hear anything but dialogue. Which brings us to Manny Harmon and his "silent" band.

tion program has had little success, outside of Texas and Oklahoma. Then Mr. Molyneux gives the figures to show that while Texas produced 6,148,000 bales less cotton during the past five years, the states of Arkansas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Louisiana, California and Missouri, together, produced 5,261,000 bales more during the past five years—compared with the corresponding period ten years earlier.

billion dollars to put us in good defense condition. Two weeks later he asked for another billion. Now he is demanding another bill for five billion dollars more. Even on May 31, when the Germans had broken through in Belgium, he was satisfied with an army of 280,000. Now he wants 1,200,000. Certainly the first program and the second program must have been hastily thrown together, without thinking anything through. Even today we don't know just how much territory we are going to defend.

Of course money is essential for an adequate defense plan. The public debt is already fifty billion dollars. When we began the World War it was less than a billion. The excess profits tax will raise less than two hundred million, and the deficit is going to be six billion in the absence of an adequate tax plan, we face bankruptcy and inflation. Not a cent is being saved on domestic expenses. The New Deal has shown its complete incompetence and lack of interest in any sound fiscal program essential to defense.

The New Deal is still inspired by hostility to industry, and an unwillingness to abate any single feature of excessive government regulation. These regulations have slowed the construction of our navy and hampered all industrial mobilization. The president is unwilling to create a War Resources Administration, and give its head full discretion to develop and carry out an industrial mobilization program. While Mr. Knudsen is doing an excellent job, his position is purely advisory, and the moment a New Deal influence affects the president, Mr. Knudsen's plans may be upset overnight. Thus was the first Stettinius commission abolished after the first two months of the present war in Europe.

If the country wants a carefully thought out program of national defense, soundly and adequately financed, decisively administered, it cannot hope to get it from the present administration.

By George Tucker

should play. They ran out of doors and raced across the lawn. They played so hard that they scarcely noticed that the sun had gone down and that a cold rain was beginning to fall.

So she gathered up her skirts and flew down the hill to where the doctor lived. "Doctor," she panted, "oh, do come quickly. Little Phitt-Phitt has the ague, and I fear some harm will come to her."

But alas and alack, poor little Phitt-Phitt passed away before morning, leaving poor little Phitt-Phitt-Phitt all by herself.

By Robbin Coons

record it first—usually with large orchestras—and then shoot the picture to "playbacks" of the recordings. And that's where Manny and his trained musicians come in—to be photographed as they play to match the music.

Odd that in the current oilfield cycle, with pictures full of oil, so many of the plots should creak. Promising teaming: Alfred Hitchcock's direction and Bob Montgomery's style in "Mr. and Mrs. Smith"—with Carole Lombard in it too. Paramount should groan when it comes to "Brigham Young" with Dean Jagger, ex-Paragoner. Watch for Dennis Morgan (ex-Shirley Mørner) to surprise in "Kitty Foyle" . . . Shirley Temple is "out" as far as stage offers are concerned, but there'll likely be a movie announcement before too long. Stanley Smith, lately on air and stage, is coming back with Bob Taylor in "Flight Command."

FROM DREAM TO REALITY Pedro wasn't around when Constance reached El Cabrillo, but Meg came down to say he'd be there the first thing in the morning to take her for a tour of the ranch.

Taylor's glance barely flicked Constance, but she was stirred by the intense emotion she saw visible in his face. "Perhaps," he said,

"What is up to the ranch?" she asked. "Wait," he suggested. "Riding out in the wind carrying the dead accents of late autumn, damp will raise less than two hundred million, and the deficit is going to be six billion in the absence of an adequate tax plan, we face bankruptcy and inflation.

and he placed an envelope in her hands.

She thought nothing of it then, but sat watching the landscape blur past the rain streaked window. Wondering if she had been a fool to return to El Cabillo. She had loved it as a dream, now she loved it as a reality. And what right had she to refuse to sell if it meant El Cabillo would go "to seed" as the Cabrillos had "gone to seed"?

And if she didn't agree to selling, how and where would she raise the money to revive it?

Money? She wondered if it had been a bill Juliano had handed her. The envelope had the ranch name stamped on the corner.

Anxiously she ripped it open. The signature seemed to leap from the page—Pedro. And then she read the message—"Goodby, little Michael. The things men would say with their hearts are better left unsaid by their lips."

Constance looked out of the window. Funny, she thought the sun had come out! but no, twilight was settling and it was darker than ever. The note crumpled in her hand, she leaned a cheek against the window pane and watched the lights of little homes flash in their forests, then disappear.

"I'll raise the money," she thought, confidently.

Oklahoma And Kansas Regain Oil Markets

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 12 (UP)—Oklahoma and Kansas were the bright spots in the oil industry today.

Lowering production in Illinois has returned some of the lost crude markets to those two Midcontinent states, but outside that area the situation is not too optimistic.

In northern Texas, crude demand is brisk, while farther south the market grows weak, barely holding its pace on the Gulf coast.

The seasonal ebb in gasoline consumption is near, and while gal-lonage during the heavy touring summer months has been record breaking there have been some grumblings that "gallonage records are fine, if they are accompanied by profits."

There has been some contention that crude production has been too high, with too much moving into storage. There also has been some agitation against importation of high gravity crude from Mexico.

At the same time, it has been pointed out that additional imports of heavy gravity oil from Venezuela and the Netherlands West Indies might give the U. S. A. source of raw material for winter fuel oils which would not force refiners to continue piling up gasoline stocks.

In the field the Oil and Gas Journal reported 801 completions for the week, compared with 556 the previous week and 527 a year ago.

CITY SPENDS HEAVILY FOR PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS DURING MONTH OF AUGUST

Record consumption of water and heavy expenditures for permanent improvements during the month of August were reflected in the monthly financial statement by the City of Big Spring.

A total of $17,322 went for capital outlay, including $6,059 for paving, $3,147 for flood control, $3,509 for waterworks improvements, $1,210 for erection of a new and repair of other buildings at the airport, and $2,636 for extension of sewer lines. All were budgeted items, but had the effect of leaving the budget with a $4,204 excess for the first five months of the fiscal year. The excess over allotments for August amounted to $10,450 more than appropriations.

Water billed to consumers during August totaled $13,894, some $2,441 more than for July and $1,173 more than for August of last year. No less than 35,058,000 gallons of water were metered out, representing the largest amount ever distributed here in a single month. Of the amount 31,268,000 gallons came from the Powell Lake, the balance from sheet water wells in section 17.

General fund revenues for August accounted for $19,986, of which $1,363 was in delinquent taxes. Expenditures from the fund totaled $35,070, including the permanent improvement items and $1,032 transferred to the interest and sinking fund. Cash balance at the end of the month was $4,639, a net decrease of $14,971 for the month.

There were no expenditures from the interest and sinking fund, leaving it with a balance of $29,411. A transfer of $1,360 was made from the swimming pool and park system to pay $1,000 on principal of one bond and interest due Sept. 1 on the pool revenue bonds.

Departments over budget allotments for the month were fire $343, street $4,343, water $4,519, sewer $2,384, and park $150. For the five months, the administrative department was over by $1,247, the water by $5,356, and park by $2,391. The street unit was under by $3,700 and the airport by $3,391, but all others, with exception of the building, were over allotments for the period.

Swimming pool and golf revenues totaled $682 for August and expenditures, including the transfer for bonds and interest, $1,995, leaving a balance of $771 in the fund. Cemetery funds for August amounted to only $10 and disbursements to $97, leaving a balance of $1,480.

Decade Study Shows Farms Over-Peopled

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (UP)—The bureau of agriculture economics estimates that because of a 2,000,000 increase in farm population since 1930, together with technological changes in agricultural methods, labor requirements for agricultural production could be met by approximately 3,500,000 fewer farm people than there are at present.

An estimate of employment on farms, the bureau said, shows a decrease of more than 300,000 persons during the last decade. It was pointed out, however, that while opportunities on farms were decreasing, there was less likelihood that farm people would get jobs elsewhere. In the past they remained on the farms.

Farm population, the bureau said, increased at about the same rate as total population during the past decade with the result that the ratio of farm to total population is about one to four, virtually the same as in 1930. Heretofore, the bureau said, farm population increased less rapidly than non-farm population.

Agriculture Show To Be Feature Of State Fair

DALLAS, Sept. 12.—In more than 100 elaborate exhibits from 60 counties, three regional divisions, 26 4-H clubs and 32 Future Farmers groups, the State Fair of Texas will present in its agriculture show Oct. 5th to 20th indisputable evidence of the state's importance as an agriculture empire.

The counties chosen by the fair's agricultural committee represent a cross-section of the entire state, according to John W. Carpenter, chairman of the committee. More than 50 other counties which applied for exhibit space were turned down because the 70,000 square feet in the agriculture building were inadequate to house them.

Owner Of Charred Money Terms U. S. Generous

CAMDEN, N. J. (UP)—The federal government cooperated to provide one pleasant touch to Camden's disastrous $2,000,000 fire in which a paint plant and 63 homes were destroyed and 10 persons died.

One of the householders recovered a tin box containing the ashes of charred money. The box was sent to Federal Reserve experts in Washington.

The experts notified the owner they had "only" been able to identify $381.61 of the money which went through the terrific heat of the blaze.

"That was fine with the owner. He had thought the box contained only $329."

GOODWILL DINNER AT GARDEN CITY ON SEPT. 24

Date for the resumption of the "good will" dinner sponsored by the trade extension committee of the chamber of commerce has been set for Sept. 24.

Garden City will be host to the Big Spring men who perpetuate the dinners by paying for their own dinner and reserving one for a man in the host community.

Committee members indicated that tickets for the affair probably would go on sale next week. An attempt will be made to have at least 100 going from here to the affair.

Specimen Security Cards Mistaken For The Real Thing

Specimen social security account cards placed in billfolds by a manufacturer, to indicate the specification provided for the employee's official card, have been mistaken for the real thing by some employees according to Robert M. Mayne, manager of the social security board field office at Big Spring. He added that in the future specimen cards used by this manufacturer will not include a number.

Mayne stated that the board recently found among employers wage reports a number of employees listed with the same social security number—758-05-1120. This number had been issued by the social security board to a woman in Lockport, New York. Upon investigation, the board learned that the other employees who were using the number had purchased billfolds containing specimen social security cards with this number printed on them. Not realizing that each employee must have a separate number assigned by the social security board, these people had reported the number on the specimen card to their employers.

This situation was called to the attention of the manufacturer of the billfolds, Mayne said, and he very gladly agreed to discontinue use of a number on the specimen cards.

Mayne explained that the employer is required to report each employee's account number when he reports his wages. This number is the one under which the board keeps the employee's wage record. To insure that his wages are always correctly credited to his account, each employer should be sure that his employee has the number assigned to him by the social security board.
