Driving Causes Are Due In Schools

AUSTIN, Tex., July 20.—Texas junior high schools next fall will begin regular courses in driving, the State Highway Department announced today at the close of a week-long conference on traffic engineering at the University of Texas. R. B. Rice, supervisor of traffic education, said the course, first of its kind in Texas, would offer full scholastic credit. Closing speaker in the southwest's first traffic engineering conference was Dr. D. B. Klein, university psychologist, who noted a trend toward accident prevention through driver courtesy rather than a "fear of speed cops." Halling the appearance of "country-club manners" among Texas drivers, Dr. Klein noted the passing of the "snarling, red-faced, bellowing traffic bull," and a corresponding improvement in drivers' attitudes. "Like the self-assertive pupil, the belligerent motorist used to take to the highway with a 'how-much-can-I-get-away-with' attitude, while his opponent, the traffic officer, like the stern, old-fashioned teacher," pursued him with a "give-as-many-tickets-as-you-can" resolve," Dr. Klein said.

GROCERYMEN TO CONFER ON STAMP PLAN

If you are in the grocery business in Eastland county you are invited and urged to meet others similarly engaged in the county at the Eastland Chamber of Commerce offices at Eastland at 2:30 p. m. Monday, July 22. This call was issued Saturday morning by H. J. Tanner, secretary of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce and is for the purpose of bringing the grocery men together for a conference with a representative of the Federal Surplus Commodity Corporation who will be in Eastland at that time and for that purpose. County Judge Adamson and his commissioners and the Eastland Chamber of Commerce officials in co-operation with other interested parties in the county, have been working for some months in an effort to get the Federal Surplus Food Stamp plan set up in Eastland county. Secretary Tanner of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce has made a thorough study of the plan and watched its working in other counties, estimates that it will mean at least $20,000 new money per month that will be spent with the grocery men of Eastland county if it is put into use in this county. Tanner states that both United States Senators Tom Connally and Morris Sheppard and Congressman C. L. Garrett from this district and County Auditor Don Parker have been co-operating with those of Eastland county who are endeavoring to put this plan into action here.

Game Commission Head Retaliates

AUSTIN, Texas, July 20.—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel and his family made numerous uses of state facilities for private benefit, Chairman A. E. Wood, of the game, fish and oyster commission had revealed today in a radio retaliation to the governor's charge that the game body was a "millionaire sportsman's club." Chairman Wood in a radio broadcast last night charged Gov. O'Daniel had failed to cooperate with the department in its work and vetoed appropriations for game wardens. In addition to citing instances of use of state owned boats by sons Pat and Mike for fishing and recreational purposes, Woods declared: "W. Lee O'Daniel came into the governor's race two years ago to advertise his own flour business. He used his inauguration, the governor's office, and the governor's mansion for that purpose. "He used the University of Texas to transcribe records for his personal use in a radio station in the Republic of Mexico. "He used two state-owned automobiles, driven by state employees of the highway patrol, to convey himself and family over Central Texas to attend church services. He knew that state cars were frequently used by his sons on trips from Fort Worth to Austin and return. "I called upon the governor last August to assist the department when stagnant waters caused heavy fish mortality in the Upper Laguna Madre. My written appeal was accompanied by photographs. He never replied to that communication and yet this week's issue of the O'Daniel News prints a picture of last summer's fish loss in the Laguna and berates the Commission for negligence. Again he is trying to conceal his own neglect by casting blame on a department that had done its duty more conscientiously than has this governor," Wood said.

BIG NAVAL EXPANSION APPROPRIATION SIGNED TODAY BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, July 20.—President Roosevelt signed the $4,000,000,000 naval expansion bill today, setting into motion a program to give the United States a formidable two-ocean fleet larger than the present combined sea power of Japan, Italy, Germany and Russia. The bill authorizes a 70 percent, 200-ship increase in the navy's fighting tonnage, over and above ships now afloat, authorized or building. When completed in 1946, the program would give the navy an estimated total of 701 warships—35 battleships, 20 aircraft carriers, 88 cruisers, 378 destroyers and 180 submarines. Funds for starting the ship-building authorized by the bill are contained in the president's pending request for $4,848,000,000 for total defense. That measure will be acted on when congress reconvenes after the democratic national convention. Besides the 1,325,000 tons of new fighting ships, the expansion bill authorizes an increase in the navy's air strength from 4,000 planes to a maximum of 15,000. It also provides for 100,000 tons of new auxiliary ships in various categories. The measure is the second naval expansion authorization approved by this congress. Previously, it voted an 11 percent overall increase in fighting tonnage. The 70 percent bill authorizes 1,325,000 tons of combatant ships, which with the 11 percent measure, together with the tonnage of vessels now afloat, would give the United States 3,049,480 tons. Japan, Italy, Germany and Russia now have about 2,600,000 tons in all, built or building. Construction authorized under the new bill includes: 385,000 tons of battleships, or about eight 45,000-tonners. 200,000 tons of aircraft carriers, about 10 in all. 240,000 tons of destroyers. 70,000 tons of submarines. 420,000 tons of cruisers. The measure also authorizes appropriation of $65,000,000 for expansion and construction of gun factories, $35,000,000 for expansion of armor plate production and $50,000,000 for the procurement of a fleet of torpedo and patrol vessels. A provision of the bill prevents any sale of U. S. war vessels to a foreign power without the express consent of congress. The scrapping of any vessels without congressional approval also is forbidden by the measure.

NAZI BOMBERS DRIVEN AWAY FROM ENGLAND

By DAN CAMPBELL, United Press Staff Correspondent LONDON, July 20.—German bombing planes struck at the British Isles and launched a lightning attack on South England harbor today as a grim reminder of Adolf Hitler's demand for submission or destruction. Seventeen Nazi planes, apparently Dorniers, escorted by Messerschmitt fighting craft, smashed in blitzkrieg fashion at ships anchored in the harbor this afternoon. A number of bombs were dropped inside the harbor but dispatches said that it did not appear that any of the ships suffered direct hits. One German plane was reported shot down over the English Channel in a counter-attack by British fighting craft, making two Nazi planes brought down during the day. The raiding planes first flew over the coast, then whirled and dive-bombed the harbor. They met a fierce barrage from anti-aircraft guns which broke up the attack and drove them off. British fighters joined in and engaged the bombers, one of which dived almost to the rooftops to evade three British Spitfire planes. Then it swerved out to sea, where the Spitfires caught it again. The bomber was reported to have plunged into the sea. Bombers, Stuka dive bombers and fighters attacked shipping and land objectives. The Air and Home Security ministries reported that bombs had been southeast and southwest Scotland and northeast, southeast and southwest England in the latest raids, and that one German plane had been shot down by a British fighter. It was asserted that 10 German planes, four bombers and six Messerschmitt fighters had been shot down yesterday when more than 150 German planes were engaged by British fighters in two air battles, and other German planes ranged the country. Five British planes were lost.

Escaped Convict Is Captured by Missouri Police

ATCHISON, Kans., July 20.—Ivan Sullivan, one of the three desperadoes who escaped from the Iowa State prison last month, was captured three miles east of here on a Missouri highway today. Missouri state troopers made the arrest. They said Sullivan, who had eluded capture late yesterday at Marysville, and again here early today, offered no resistance. Troopers A. T. McClan and Miller Ashbury saw Sullivan standing at the side of U. S. Highway 59. As they drove up he surrendered and they started to Kansas City with him. Earlier Sullivan had tried to drive a stolen car over a railroad bridge here, but was forced to abandon the car. He fled back to the Kansas side. Officers Otis Dierking fired at him with a riot gun, but Sullivan slipped away in the darkness. He apparently doubled back to the bridge and crossed the Missouri river unnoticed. Sullivan, Lowell Haenze and Forrest Estes escaped from the Fort Madison prison by cutting through an electrified fence. Yesterday Haenze was wounded and captured at Marysville, Kans. after he and his companions had robbed a bank at Diller, Neb. His companion, whom he refused to identify, escaped. The card abandoned here was stolen from Francis Messick, a farmer near Marysville. Messick was put out of the car last night near Westmoreland, Kans. Mud had been smeared on the license plates to obscure the numbers. O. F. Chastain Is Recovering From Accident Injuries O. F. Chastain, Eastland candidate for county judge, who was injured in a car accident near Rising Star last Friday, was reported by members of his family Saturday as resting well. It was stated that he sustained no broken bones and no permanent injuries and that his complete recovery was only a matter of a few days. He was removed from the hospital at Rising Star to his home in Eastland.

Mexico Chooses

Mexico votes, and several scores of people lie dead and wounded.

"Shocking!" say the thin-skinned, conveniently forgetting the 10 dead and 100 wounded who lay on the ground in Chicago on Memorial Day, 1937, when the United States also had failed to adjust a controversy without violence.

It is not to be denied that the Mexican election was a violent and rowdy affair, falling far short of textbook democracy. The votes are yet to be counted. It remains to be seen whether the candidates and their followers will abide by the announced result. Probably until September there will be more or less disorder in the southern republic.

But initial shock at this rough-and-tumble election ought not to blind us to something very significant.

That is the fact that nearly five million people are believed to have voted. No such widespread expression of the popular will has been seen in Mexico for many years. Whether that is now to be translated into an orderly change of administration remains to be seen. But there seems now an excellent chance of it.

So President Cardenas deliberately permitted not only greater latitude in campaigning than an opposition party has had in Mexico in 20 years, but deliberately held back military domination of the election, though it was clear that there would be considerable disorder.

Remains now to be seen whether the defeated candidate will abide by the announced decision. Already there are charges that the election, for one reason and another, was not fairly conducted. There have been such charges, and with excellent reason, even in Kansas City and Philadelphia.

When the count is completed, the test will come. It is not only necessary to have elections. It is necessary that they be fair, and that the defeated as well as the victors abide by the result.

If Mexico can achieve this, the whole western world will have reason to be proud. From Hudson Bay to Patagonia millions of eyes are on Mexico, and in them are mingled anxiety and hope.

Police Can't Agree On Leisure Garb

FORT WORTH, Texas—As usual, the officials of Fort Worth and Dallas cannot agree—even on the matter of whether policemen should wear slacks suits when off duty.

The Dallas chief took exception to the wearing of the be-muscled officers of a shirt-tails-out sports clothes and open-toed sandals. Such a man, if wearing a gun, "would virtually have to disrobe to bring it out in an emergency," said Chief Welsh.

Next day in Fort Worth, there was only approval when patrolman Russell Groves, on vacation, came to the headquarters station attired in a pea-green slacks suit. The city's 208 policemen wear the regulation uniforms when on duty, but a survey disclosed that they go in for fancy garb during their leisure hours—for sport shirts, ascot ties, and lattice-work sandals.

Even the detectives, nicknamed "plainclothesmen," chuckled at the Dallas edict. The "plainclothesmen" here like to wear pastel shirts and flamboyant neckties.

Big Spring Girl Refuses To Quit Despite Handicaps

EL PASO — Pretty Dorothy Dublin refuses to call it quits.

The 23-year-old Big Spring bank teller, who less than a year ago was rushed to Southwestern General hospital here from her home in a dying condition from infantile paralysis, is overcoming her fourth serious ailment in that time, friends reported Monday.

Early last winter, Miss Dublin was brought to the El Paso hospital where she was placed in an iron lung. In a few months she was removed from it apparently on the road to recovery.

She was just beginning to walk, with the aid of a brace, when a serious kidney ailment haled her two, but she rallied and recovered from it, even after doctors had given up hope for her.

Then Miss Dublin developed pneumonia, but she beat that.

Now, she is in Lubbock sanatorium, recovering from an operation for the removal of a kidney stone. Friends here said her father, Charles Dublin, had reported her condition as "excellent."

POLLY HEMSLEY reveals how she first curbed and then cured Bob Feller's wildness with the simplest of pitching suggestions.

When the now famous battery-mates—the kid and the veteran—first were brought together on a barnstorming tour in the fall of 1937, Hemsley immediately noticed that Feller looked at the mound before pitching.

"Keep your eye on the target, Bob. Never take it off," Hemsley told the youngster. "With your stuff all you have to do is get the ball over the plate. Just try to hit my glove."

The two have practically been playing catch ever since. It was the pitching knowledge of the then 19-year-old Feller absorbed on that barnstorming trip that led him to tell Cyril C. Snopnick that Hemsley was the best catcher to whom he had ever pitched, and to suggest the Cleveland club make a deal for the one-time coal miner.

FELLER'S influence had as much to do with Hemsley's reformation as any other one thing. The

SERIAL STORY FLYING CO-ED

BY MARY KINNAVEY MOORE

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Anne takes her first training flight. Patiently and carefully, Dick explains fundamentals of flying a ship, dangers to watch, certain precautions that must be observed.

CHAPTER VI HERE was laughter and the sound of gay voices in the dimly-lighted dining room of one of the city's exclusive clubs. The general air was one of secure and dignified gaiety.

But it was not a comfortable atmosphere for Tony Scott, dining with Anne Norris. He reminded himself furiously that this was just the one place he hoped to enter with his marriage with her.

He noticed a couple at a nearby table glancing at him curiously. Again he felt angry and uncomfortable.

RAIN was beginning to fall as Tony's sleek, fast car drove away from the club. A sudden wave of revulsion came over Anne. More than anything in the world, she wanted to get out of the Villa Aloha, away from Tony, back to the security of the college.

"Come on with me, Anne. It's too wet for you to wait in the car." She shook her head. "I don't want to break school rules, Tony."

THE Villa Aloha was a tawdry place, too bright, too filled with loud voices, heavy smoke and the unmistakable odor of liquor. A three-piece orchestra played swing at one end of the room.

"Hi, Tony!" Anne turned and saw a slender, pretty, blond girl, in a cheap taffeta evening dress standing by the table.

ing shrilly. She laid her hand on Tony's arm, familiarly. A sudden wave of revulsion came over Anne. More than anything in the world, she wanted to get out of the Villa Aloha, away from Tony, back to the security of the college.

Angry voices, guns spitting flame—confusion—somewhere a woman screamed. The musicians stopped in the middle of a phrase.

Her one thought was to get away. Others had had the same idea, and there was a crowd at the door. The police would be here soon, she might be held for questioning.

"Hello, Clarice." Tony's cheeks had reddened a little. "Miss Norris—Miss Lane. Clarice runs the dice game here," he added, in explanation.

ON GUARD
 U.S. Army scout car and radio equipment, Fort Myer, Virginia. Picture shows high angle machine gun fire from scout car against airplanes. These cars are the last word in modern combat equipment. Even the tires on the cars are virtually immune to gun fire, because of an inner tube, practically blowout and puncture proof, developed for the army by The Seiberling Rubber Company.

With mechanized warfare an accomplished fact in Europe, Uncle Sam has recently taken steps to see that the men steeds of his mechanized cavalry organizations are so shod that even bullets will not trip them.
 Tire trouble which frequently in the past defeated speedy movement of army transport, has been virtually eliminated by the Army's acquisition of a new rubber inner tube, practically blowout and puncture proof, that has recently been developed by the rubber chemists and engineers of the Seiberling Rubber Company of Akron, Ohio.
 This tube has been subjected to numerous tests at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds and other Army development posts. Fifty and thirty caliber machine gun bullets and pistol bullets have been fired into it without affecting its service. In one test, this Lallec proof tube was pierced by fifty caliber machine gun bullets and continued in service for 200 miles without interruption and without even additional inflation.
 Not only are the mechanized cavalry scout and command cars supplied with this bullet-Seal Tube but it is also being put on the wheels of gun carriages, caissons, anti-aircraft gun mounts and the Army's heavy type trucks.
 F. A. Seiberling, long a leader in developing new products and new constructions in the tire field, produced a similar tube for passenger car service originally. Both tubes have a unique patented construction that seals injuries almost instantly.

MODERN MENUS

ECONOMY need not be without its relish. Now that the makings for pickles are abundant, a well-planned kitchen economy suggests that you put up a few jars of these pickles and relishes which belong in every American pantry. The recipes given below were worked out by a woman born in the south who now lives in the north. She says they taste just as good one piece as another and are very inexpensive to make.

BEEF RELISH
 Two cups chopped peeled beets, 2 cups chopped celery, 1 cup chopped onion, 1 cup chopped cabbage, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 cups vinegar, 2 tablespoons salt, 3 tablespoons mustard seed, 1 tablespoon celery seed.
 Mix all vegetables and seeds. Add liquid. Cook until tender. Pour into hot sterilized glasses and seal at once. Approximate yield: 3 quarts.

RHODE ISLAND RELISH
 One pint (2 1/2 lbs.) ripe tomatoes, 1/2 cup chopped onions, 1 cup chopped celery, 3 tablespoons spoonful sugar, 2 tablespoons salt, 1 tablespoon mustard seed, 1/2 cup white vinegar.
 Peel tomatoes and chop coarsely. Drain. Add other ingredients, stirring well until mixed. Turn into hot, sterilized containers and seal. Serve only after the relish has stood for at least 24 hours. Yield: 1 1/2 pints.

PICKLED STRING BEANS
 Select tender beans without strings, if possible. Keep beans full length but strip off ends and remove any strings. Soak beans overnight in enough brine to cover. To make brine, add 1/2 cup salt to every quart of water. Drain, rinse in cold water and dry or clean cloth.
 Pack in hot sterilized jars, adding a few bits of chili pepper, mustard and celery seed. For each quart jar, allow 3 cups vinegar, 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar and small piece of horseradish root. Heat vinegar, sugar and horseradish to boiling point and fill each jar to overflowing. Seal at once. Allow about 1 1/2 hours to each quart jar.

Col. Duffie admitted that such training would not include such specialties as machine-gun operating, since such a soldier "must be almost a specialized mechanic."
