

MOORE about... EASTLAND

by Virgil E. Moore

They are calling Jerry Robinson champ up on school hill these days. Jerry is boxing with the Cisco team, and is undefeated. Jimmy Jimenez is also gaining a favorable following. He lost his last outing, but put up a big scrap before losing to his much heavier opponent.

And of course Don Slatton, the ex-Olden High basketball star, is coming through as expected. Don is a heavyweight, and about the only thing he is having trouble with so far is finding someone to box him.

Received a copy of the booklet on Eastland County prepared by Eugene Baker and his staff at the Gorman Progress. A fine booklet, Kernel.

Being a member of the Lions Club, it's hard for us to keep praising the Rotary Club. The club this week, however, came forth with a resolution which could be a big step in Eastland County's unity program.

It's nothing new. Men who have been fighting the "one county" battle for years now have been working on the situation for some time. This is the first time it has been thrown out in the open, though.

We are speaking of the plan to put Eastland, Ranger and Cisco into a single telephone operation. That would mean that we here in Eastland could pick up our phones and call anyone in Cisco or Ranger without going through long distance or being billed for the call.

Such an operation has been in use in the Rio Grande Valley for years. It has proven most successful. Naturally Bell Telephone Co. cannot just hand such service to the three towns without some additional monthly cost. But that in crease is very small compared to the service you would receive.

Don't get us wrong. No one connected to the telephone company has ever hinted that such service will ever be offered. The company would be bending over backward to offer such service. It would be a wonderful thing however.

Harvey Kimbler, First Baptist Church pastor, isn't a guy to miss a good opportunity. He handed us the following masterpiece with a twinkle in his eye and these words upon his lips: "Your name is mud if you do not print this."

It may interest Harvey to know that we answer just as quickly to the name Mud as we do to Virgil now, but never-the-less we will gladly print his contribution, to wit:

There is a word in church circles that is being used more and more, but I am sure very few people who read this column have ever seen it. It is gnis-sen-tiv. The success of the "Go To Church" campaign depends on the proper use of this word in our every day work calendar. The preachers from coast to coast make use of this word every day in some regular or peculiar way trying to make some one happy. I will not tell you what it is or what it means, but I will do this... the "First 20 people who correctly state what the word means will receive a 'Free pass to the Church of their choice' any time between now and Easter"—and to help you in your decision as to which church you wish to attend—here are the churches participating in the "Go to Church Campaign"—First Baptist, First Methodist, First Presbyterian, First Christian, Bethel Baptist, Church of God, Assembly of God, Nazarene, First Baptist (Colored,) Smith Chapel A.M.E. All you have to do is address a post card to "Gnis-sen-tiv," care of Eastland Ministerial Association, Harvey Kimbler. (Continued on Page Six)

ACTION, THRILLS, EXCITEMENT—Programs and activities at the 1958 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show Jan. 24 through Feb. 2 in Fort Worth will be the most colorful ever. Gail Davis (top left), who stars as Annie Oakley on TV, will be in all rodeo performances. The midway (top right) will offer rides and shows for young and old. Rodeo events (bottom left) will keep visitors thrilled and rodeo clowns (bottom right) will keep 'em laughing. Eastland day at the show is set for Friday.

Leon Finds Eastland Has Real Look of Hometown

(Editor's Note: The story below was written by Leon Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hale of Eastland. Leon is a columnist for The Houston Post, and this column appeared in that news paper.)

Last week I went back to the old hometown.

Back to all the old haunts. Back to the West Side Barber Shop, where Willie Speaker is still shining shoes. Back to the T&P station where Sunshine Special come in. Back to shake hands with Doc who is still rolling pills at the drugstore. And who used to shake a finger at me when I would dip into the chocolate ice cream while on duty as a soda skeet.

Back to Davenport's Tank, and Ringling Lake, and the High School Hill and the Idle Hour Pool Hall, where I spent more than an idle hour but did not tell about it at home. They have moved the Idle Hour off the square, and now they call it the Recreation Club. Probably is sounds better at home to say you have been down to the Recreation Club. But the snooker tables are still there, and maybe they are the same old snooker tables.

Well, of course, Doc Davis and Ringling Lake and the Idle Hour and other names around the old hometown are not familiar to a very high percentage of the population. But I can't see that it matters any for if you have a hometown to go back to, you will find pretty much the same kind of faces and places, just answering to different names.

And if you have been back lately, after being gone a long, long time maybe you too were struck by the change in the dimension of things while you were away.

Everything looks smaller. Even a Mile has shrunk in the old hometown. Every day I used to run a mile—up the High School Hill, down the other side to the highway to get a gallon of coal oil for the cookstove.

That was the year I was planning to become a famous track star, and figured if I ran a mile every day carrying a coal oil can, I would naturally become a famous track star. Last week I measured that distance, which once seemed so long, and it is only three-tenths of a mile. No wonder I never made the "track team."

Davenport's Tank is still lying placidly out there in the mesquite pasture outside town. If you could line up on the banks of Davenport's Tank all the schoolboys who ever played hooky to go swimming in that famous body of water, what you would have is a grand champion nudist colony.

It was always my ambition to be able to swim across Davenport's Tank and back with out stopping. That was the year I was going to be a famous Olympic swimming star. It seemed an impossible distance to swim in those days. Now you could almost throw a rock across it. Still, it is the same old swimming hole.

The old T&P station, which once impressed me as quite an imposing and roomy structure, now looks a bit forlorn. What we would do down there, we would hang around the old pot bellied coal stove on chilly days until the Sunshine Special moved into the signal block. Then we would go out and put two pins, crossed like sabers on the track. The Special would then come along and convert these pins into a nice pair of Hill's scissors.

Upon the hill where the city park and the American Legion Fall is, you can stand and look out over the mequite and see a big patch of rocks off in the distance. Out of those rocks we used to catch possums by poking a strand of barbed wire into a hole, twisting it into Mr. Possum's fur and wanking him out.

We used to say those rocks were three miles from town. Probably they are not but half a mile.

Yes, everything around the old hometown looks a little smaller now. But that doesn't mean the pleasure of going back. From up on that hill, where you can look down on everything at once, the old hometown looks to me just like a hometown ought to look. Probably yours looks the same way.

Eastland and Olden Dimes Drives Begin

Numerous Activities Planned by Chairman

Plans for the annual Eastland March of Dimes drive were outlined Tuesday by Mrs. H. J. Bulgerin, city chairman.

"Survival Is Not Enough" is the theme of the 1958 March of Dimes drive. Local Scouts last week got the drive officially underway here when they distributed MOD containers and posters throughout the city. Numerous other activities to raise funds to continue the Polio Foundation's work also are planned.

A bake sale is slated for Feb. 1. Mrs. Jerry Souther will be in charge of the sale. Then on Feb. 8 Mrs. Bulgerin will conduct a balloon sale and polio blockade. Girls in the different high school clubs have agreed to help sell the balloons, Mrs. Bulgerin said. Betty Young is working with Mrs. Bulgerin on this phase of the program.

Busy Seaberry Off to El Paso For Bar Meeting

Virgil T. Seaberry of Eastland, president of the State Bar of Texas, and Joseph A. Chandler of Stephenville, member of the board of directors will attend the quarterly meeting of the board Friday and Saturday at El Paso.

Chandler is board representative for lawyers of the 17th Congressional District.

Board Chairman Frank W. Hustmyre of Orange will preside over the two-day session to be held at the Paso del Norte Hotel. The meeting will include nominations for president-elect and vice president of the State Bar; and preparation will be made for a statewide poll of lawyers on the merits of 1958 candidates for appellate judicial offices. The results of the poll, as in the past, will be made public.

Seaberry and Chandler and other State Bar officers and directors will be guests of the El Paso Bar Association Saturday night at its annual banquet.

Membership of policy-making Board is based on congressional districts with one member representing lawyers in each district. Membership of the State Bar has reached a new high of nearly 13,000 lawyers.

Other chairmen named by Mrs. Bulgerin include Mrs. Max Thornell as school chairman, Mrs. H. L. Hassell as church chairman and Mrs. Lois Dunlap as audit chairman.

"Businessmen will be contacted this year only through their civic organizations," Mrs. Bulgerin said. She said that it is felt that an advanced gift drive will not be needed, and pointed out that this will mean that businessmen will not be asked to give to the Dimes drive twice.

Lone Star Gas Again Hunting Mrs. America Here

The 1958 "Mrs. America" contest to find the "Nation's No. 1 Homemaker" is underway throughout the United States and fame, fortune and travel await the winner. She will appear at home shows, conventions and on radio and television as the official representative of the American home.

Entry forms giving complete contest rules will be available January 20 at offices of Lone Star Gas Company, one of the four gas companies conducting the "Mrs. America" contest in Texas, and in the stores of participating gas appliance dealers. Midnight of March 15 is deadline for entering the national homemaking competition.

Lone Star will conduct one-day regional eliminations in Dallas, Fort Worth, Abilene, Greenville and Waco the first week in April. Each regional winner will be awarded a top-of-the-line deluxe gas range and runners-up will receive $25 U.S. Savings Bonds.

Party Is Slated In Olden For Raising Furds

A "42" party Friday night will kick Olden's March of Dimes drive off.

The party will be held in the home economic building at Olden High School. There will be no charge. Mrs. Richard Robinson, explained. Pie and cake will be sold at the party and free coffee will be served. "We think this will be an occasion where Olden citizens can aid a wonderful cause and have a lot of fun while doing it," Mrs. Robinson said.

A nursery will be set up in the school gymnasium to care for children of those attending the party, which will begin at 7 p.m.

Heading the Olden drive this year are Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Gene Williamson and Mrs. Bill Hooks.

Olden's Mothers March of Polio is scheduled for Feb. 13. Workers and more detailed plans will be announced at a later date.

County Phone Set-Up Asked

A resolution calling for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. to place Eastland, Cisco and Ranger in one telephone exchange was unanimously approved Monday by Eastland Rotarians.

Larry McGraw's motion that the three cities be given one phone set-up which would allow inter-city calls without long distance charges, was quickly seconded by Dr. J. O. Jolly. Then Rotarians unanimously voted in favor of the resolution. The resolution will be sent not only to W. H. McAnally, district manager for Southwestern Bell, but to Cisco and Ranger Rotary Clubs as well. Backing of the resolution by those two clubs will be sought.

McGraw said he believed that such service would greatly strengthen all three towns and help the cause of a united county effort to attract new industry.

McGraw also brought the club's regular program. He spoke on ethics in the automobile industry, and lashed a recent article in "Reader's Digest" magazine concerning auto dealers as "unfair." He admitted there are some dealers who take advantage of the public, but said they are in the minority.

Go to Church Sunday

By JAMES FLAMING
Remember those tragic lines of the Christmas story? "There was no room for him in the inn." Is it not strange that He who had room in His heart for every lonely person, could find no room in the inn? It was a tragedy. More than that, it is a tragedy! It is the tragedy of Eastland as of every other town. No room? No time! Oh, Christ of Eastland, Texas move on, move on! To the Christ who has time for every sinner, to Him we say, "No Time, Oh Christ, No Time." To the One Who has room in His heart for us—to Him we say, No Room, No Room, No Room! And to the church, His church, we say, "No Time, No Time, No Time! To the church that bears the imprint of a risen Christ we say, No Room—No Room! When the scrolls of our lives shall have been unrolled, the saddest of all lines might be, "No Room, No Time, Oh Christ of Eastland, Texas."

During this time of church emphasis is a wonderful time to meet a living Christ at the church of your choice.

Q-Back Club Drive For Members Slated

Vernon Humphrey was named head of the Quarterback Club membership committee last night at the club's first meeting under the administration of James Smith, president.

Humphrey quickly named a six man working committee to assist him in the drive, and said they would begin writing memberships for the club at 5:30 Friday morning.

Members of his committee are Wells Dalton, Sen Hunt, J. B. (Tim) Arther, Henry Pullman, J. D. Earley and Hood King.

The committee will meet Friday morning at the White Elephant restaurant. A quota of 300 members has been set. This year the club had one of its largest memberships in years with 230 members, but Smith said, "We can do better than that this year despite the fact that it may not seem an easy task."

The new Q-Back president declared that there are many local citizens who are not, but should be a member of the Quarterback Club. "Many of them are just waiting to be asked," he said he hoped that they would come forward this year if they were missed and join the club. "We need all the help we can get."

A number of activities were discussed, but Smith did not name a Ways and Means committee at the meeting. He said he would name his Ways and Means committee and his Projects committee at the club's next meeting. Two of the most discussed projects were a public address system for Maverick Stadium and new magazines

Safe Crackers Hit Kincaids

Sheriff J. B. Williams this morning termed a safe cracking job done at Kincaid Feed and Turkey Hatchery in Eastland as a job done by amateurs.

Burglars took $27.15 from the Kincaid safe after breaking into the building sometime Saturday night or early Sunday morning. A spokesman for the Kincaids said one of their employees had stopped by the store at 1 a.m. Sunday and didn't notice anything out of order, so it is believed the burglary took place sometime after that.

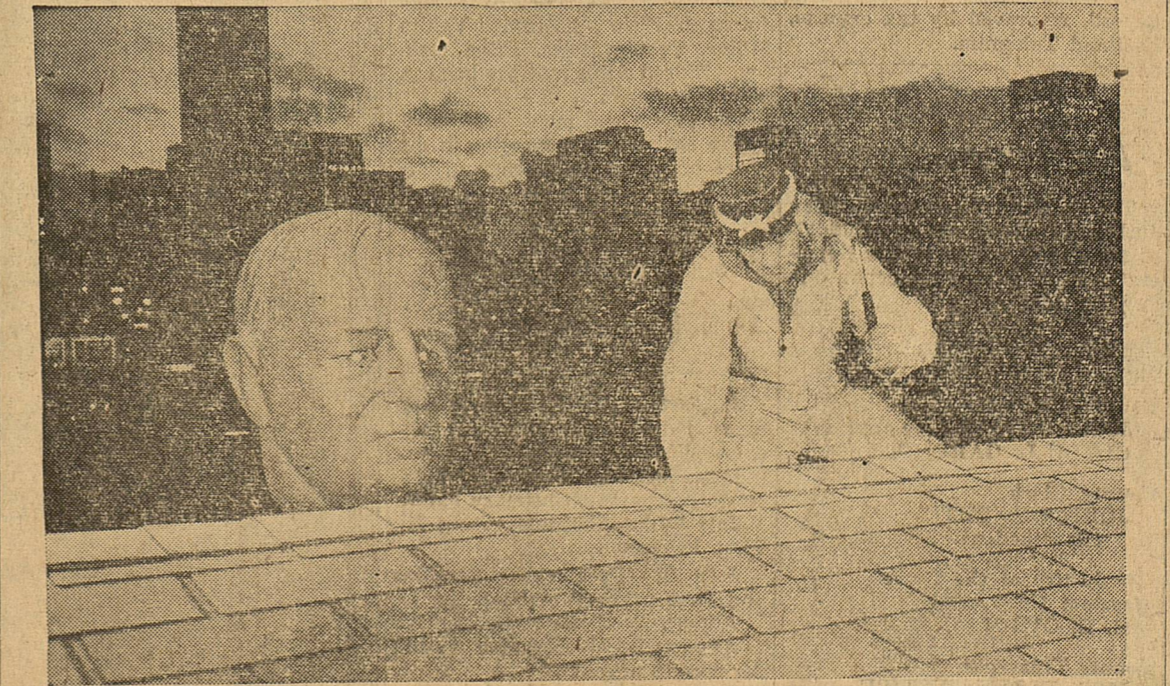

Sheriff Williams said the persons who broke into the safe have not ever cracked a safe before. "You can tell that by looking at the job they did," Williams declared.

Who ever pulled the job used the Kincaid's own tools, taken from two different tool boxes. The safe was turned over on its back and the burglars used a pick ax, sledge hammer and punch to rip a hole in the door. The four-inch thick front door had a layer of steel on each side and was filled with cement. Sheriff Williams estimated the job couldn't have been pulled off in less than one or two hours.

A check around the neighborhood indicated that none of the persons living near the building had heard any noise. Officers reasoned that there must have been a lot of it, however.

Robert Kincaid told a reporter that the burglars missed by one night. A large amount of money had been in the safe on the night before.

KEEPING POSTED

By MARENE JOHNSON
Eastland Postmaster

We are all familiar with the advise to ladybugs to "fly away home." But, how would you like the job of counting how many ladybugs had escaped from a badly-wrapped package containing 80,000 of these brightly-colored beetles.

Such a thing actually happened once when ladybugs were being air-mailed for use as destroyers of plant lice and scale insects. Ten thousand ladybugs in this particular shipment were caught and sent on.

The Eastland postoffice can and does frequently ship day-old chicks, queen bees and honey bees, turtles and soft shell crabs, when properly packed and protected.

These and a few other harmless live creatures may be sent through the mails. But as a general rule, animals may not be mailed.

One exception is live scorpions. The law specifically provides that these poisonous insects, whose bite can be fatal to young children, may be shipped—under strict packaging regulations—to certain laboratories that use scorpions to produce an antivenom for scorpion bites.

And, speaking of unusual shipments through the United States mails, the largest sum of money ever mailed involved shipments between July 25, 1940 and January 3, 1941, of $9,055,884-644. $1 in gold bullion from New York City to Fort Knox, Kentucky. This shipment, representing much of the free world's gold stored for safety in this country, took 45 train loads of 337 bullion cars in addition to the cars carrying personnel assigned to guard the gold enroute. The total weight of the shipment was over 18 million pounds, made up of 872,827 bars of gold in 37,404 boxes each of which weighed about 500 pounds.

Regulations governing what you may or may not ship, and how to wrap and ship various parcels for mailing, are found in the Postal Manual, the "bible" of the Postal Service.
In this loose-leaf volume are found the why's and wherefore's that regulate mailing and operational procedure of our Eastland Post Office.
Employees of our Post Office in Eastland can and do, from time to time, offer suggestions and/or revisions for inclusion in the Postal Manual. For such suggestions and any others the postal employees of this office can be considered under our "Suggestions and Awards Program" for cash awards, in proportion to the value of the suggestion.
Employees of this Post Office are thus rewarded by this method for their alertness and interest in their jobs, and you, as mail users, benefit through the increased efficiency that results.

cooking, laundry and sewing, hair styling, cake baking and other homemaking events. Contestants will be judged also on personal attractiveness, poise, personality and interest and work in behalf of church and community affairs. Personal attractiveness will be judged on good grooming, tasteful dress and pleasant appearance. Numerous women's clubs, chambers of commerce, service clubs and other groups have sponsored entries in previous "Mrs. America" contests. However, such sponsorship is not required for participation by a contestant.
Some 65,000 women throughout the country enrolled in the 1957 "Mrs. America" contest. These included 364 Texas housewives, 231 of which resided in towns and cities served by Lone Star Gas Company.
Lone Star representatives point out that the "Mrs. America" chosen in 1958 will bring international recognition and publicity to her home town or city and she will receive prizes and awards valued at thousands of dollars and fees for personal appearances at the rate of $100 per day and expenses. The prizes include an all-expense paid trip to Hawaii for her and her husband and a household of automatic gas appliances.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner

Three of the greatest public health programs in history are generally acknowledged to be immunization against infectious diseases, chlorination of water and pasteurization of milk. Now, after years of investigation, a fourth has been added—fluoridation of water to reduce tooth decay.

"What was the hope of a generation ago is now a fact of preventive dentistry," says the American Dental Association. "Today, the overwhelming accumulation of evidence on the effectiveness and safety of fluoridation is a matter of record."

Almost 1,500 United States communities, with a combined population of well over 25,000,000, are now drinking artificially fluoridated water. Millions of others are drinking water in which fluorides are naturally present.

So thoroughly has the effect of fluorides on tooth decay been investigated that the American Medical Association has recently given its unequivocal endorsement to the program, thereby joining practically every other reputable health and medical organization in the United States.

The nation's second and third largest cities - Chicago and Philadelphia - are among the cities which have fluoridation programs in operation. Other major cities now giving their children the benefit of the progressive measure are Cleveland, Baltimore, Washington, St. Louis, San Francisco, Milwaukee, and Pittsburgh.

In addition to the ability to reduce dental caries by as much as 60 percent among children - and most authorities are convinced the benefits extends throughout life - fluoridation of community water supplies is shaping up as one of the best public health bargains of all time.

For less than 15 cents per person per year, the ravages of tooth decay can safely and conveniently be cut by two-thirds. The cost of a single filling would pay for the fluorides for one person for many years.

From an engineering standpoint, according to a water works association, the mechanism of adding fluorides to water supplies is no more involved than adding chlorine. Furthermore, fluorine is not a medicine any more than chlorine. It is not a cure-all. It cannot entirely eliminate tooth decay. It can do nothing about teeth that are already decayed.

In fluoridation we have the weapon against tooth decay that men of all ages have sought. Not a single valid argument can be raised against it. To deny it to children is to deny them the best that preventive dentistry has to offer.

Outgoing Treasurer Milton Underwood announced that $376 was made at the club's annual Football Banquet. After expenses, however, the club lost about $35.

Fourteen were present for the meeting, which was held in the High School cafeteria.

Cadillac

World's Best Answer to a Detour!

Pretty rough road, you'd say? Well, you certainly wouldn't be aware of it if you were sitting where these happy travelers are.

For they're in a 1958 Cadillac—and here, beyond a doubt, is the world's best substitute for a new highway!

Just what is this special Cadillac magic that works such wonders on a rough roadway? Well, let's take a look and see what happens to a bump when it meets the wheels of a new 1958 Cadillac.

First of all, it is softened by those big, buoyant, full-sized Cadillac tires

... then it is gently cushioned by those massive, perfectly balanced Cadillac coil springs

... or, if the extra-cost option of air suspension is present, it is subdued by that miraculous cushion of air that cradles the entire frame

... then it is diminished still further by Cadillac's new hydraulic shock absorbers and by its specially engineered system of rubber body mountings.

And, of course, should any suggestion of it still remain, it meets its final demise in those deep, luxurious, Fleetwood-crafted seat cushions... and in the car's marvelous steadiness and balance.

All in all, it's the reason why a journey in a new Cadillac is the finest distance between any two points.

We invite you to try it for yourself—and to get the full facts about all of the beautiful Cadillacs, including the distinguished Eldorado Brougham.

County Citizens Urged To Pay Poll Taxes Now

In urging every eligible Eastland County voter to pay his poll tax before the January 31 deadline, Governor Price Daniel declared today that "this is one of the most decisive political years in Texas history."

"Qualified voters this year will decide whether or not the majority of the people will control the Texas Democratic Party and its officials or whether control will be won by a minority splinter group known as the DOT," Daniel said.

It will be the biggest political issue of 1958, and only those who pay their poll taxes this month, or who have exemptions, will be qualified to participate in the Democratic precinct and county conventions in which the issue will be decided.

"I refer to the openly announced attempt of the Ultra liberal DOT group headed by Mrs. R. D. Randolph of Houston to capture control of the Democratic Party in Texas," the Governor said.

Whoever wins the Democratic precinct and county conventions will ultimately control the governmental policies of Texas, and this should be a majority of our citizens and not any minority group, it was noted by the governor.

"I urge every Texan who loves this state and believes in majority rule to pay his poll tax and take an active part this year in the fight for constitutional government of, by and for the people."

Other vital issues will be voted on this year. All state officials and many county and local officials will be nominated in the July and August primaries. There are nine Constitutional amendments to be voted on in the November general election.

All of this adds up to a highly important political year in which no citizen should fail to qualify himself to vote.

Poll tax payments under Texas law must be made to the county tax assessor - collector or an authorized deputy before midnight January 31.

AS IT LOOKS FOR HERE

By OMAR BURLESON

17th District

Washington, D. C.—There is an abundance of hindsight in Washington as the Second Session of the 85 Congress convenes. Those who have little idea of how to meet the great issues of the future take refuge in what should have been done in the past.

While the earnest few seek the truth for past omissions on national defense as a guide for future action, others seemingly want to rush in and spend billions of dollars, presumably feeling it to be the total answer.

One thing in the controversies now raging seems to be fairly clear.

The deficiencies existing in our national defense set-up (and there are definitely some) have not occurred by reason of a lack of funds. In my opinion, it has simply been a matter of failing to put first things first.

Why has this not been done? The answer seems to lie in too much divided authority—too cumbersome procedures, which is inherent in our system of Government. Our system is naturally clumsy. We would not and shall not change our concepts, but this question has been in the minds of many thinking people for a very long time: In a world which has shrunk to the proportion which places Washington and Moscow nearer to one another than Amarillo was to Brownsville or Texarkana to El Paso a decade ago, can our slow, built-in cumbersome process compete with the Soviets, where decisions are made by one or two men? In addition to this inescapable fact, our decisions, our purpose and our actions, are built on a mortal basis, while our chief antagonist can ignore mortal principles entirely.

There is no implied suggestion that we resort to the methods of the Soviets. We are pleasing them enough by our show of panic in running off in all directions, but there are some things we can do. The first is to pinpoint responsibility by the grant of specific authority to men who must make decisions.

Our nation has the ability and resources to be the strongest country in the world, and it must be the strongest to deter war and prevent the world's destruction. It is a matter of using what we have to the best advantage.

In my opinion the appropriation of more billions of dollars for doubtful purposes is far from any total answer. To launch new spending programs, such as subsidizing higher education, for the sake of "doing something" in a hurry, hardly seems sensible in meeting the great challenges of the immediate future.

After all is said and done, unless we continue to seek a settlement of the world's problems which will lead to a more peaceful atmosphere, all efforts on all sides may eventually be useless anyway.

Ranger Youth Receives Injuries Near High School

A Ranger high school student received minor injuries when he was caught between two cars near the high school Monday noon.

he received minor injuries to his legs.

According to school officials, King stepped behind a car driven by Jerry Anderson who was backing out of a parking place.

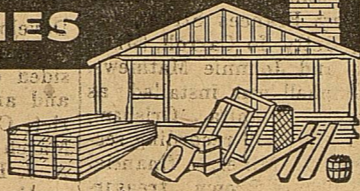

A car driven by Johnny Chestnut collided into the rear of the Anderson car, pinning King between the two cars.

New Year Problems

DOWN THROUGH THE AGES, problems have been the constant companion of mankind.

With the passing of time, civilization has moved onward and upward. But this climb has been accompanied by a vast increase in the complexity and the gravity of the problems of life.

Critical and challenging problems have been created by a tug of war which has been in progress for many years between such basic conflicting forces as a free enterprise economy and a socialistic planned economy, a free way of life and communistic slavery, peace and war.

The supreme problem facing the people of the world this New Year is that of developing the capacity to solve wisely and well the problems which man, himself, has created.

In spite of the complexity and the gravity of the problems of life, they are essential to human progress. Scientific achievements, material progress and the expansion of human knowledge stem from the moving desire of man to overcome the problems generated by the march of world events.

In the business world, competitive problems have stimulated research, encouraged the adoption of new methods and procedures, spurred man to greater efforts and greater achievements.

The success or failure of individuals and business enterprises alike is measured by their ability, or lack of it, to solve successfully the personal and social, the economic and political problems flowing from an ever-changing world.

So it has been with the railroads. In their long and useful history, they have encountered a multitude of difficult and complex problems. Many of these problems they solved successfully. Some they didn't.

Perhaps the most critical problem ever experienced by the railroads is the one they face today. It is that of devising ways and means of meeting successfully the competition of various other forms of transportation promoted, and in part financially supported by municipalities, community organizations, state and federal governments.

There is no easy solution of this problem. But there is a solution, for there is a right answer to every problem. And I have faith that eventually it will be found.

Meanwhile, the peace, the progress and the prosperity of 1958 will be measured by the capacity of man to solve wisely the problems ushered in by the New Year.

LIVE BETTER ELECTRICALLY

PUBLISHED IN THE INTEREST OF BETTER LIVING, ELECTRICALLY

Only AIR and ELECTRICITY used to heat in winter, cool in summer, with the ALL-ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP

Provides Year-round Home-wide Indoor Climate Control with One Setting of a Thermostat

Completely automatic home-wide comfort is available now with the All-Electric Heat Pump that "comfort conditions" your home the year around, using only air and electricity. The same unit that heats your home also cools it. In addition, it removes excess humidity, filters out dust and pollen, completely conditions the air throughout your home. Because it uses only air and electricity in its operation, the Heat Pump provides maximum cleanliness.

Eliminates Seasonal Start-Ups and Shut-Downs

With the Heat Pump there's no manual shutting off of cooling equipment and starting up of heating equipment in the fall and reversing the process in the spring. The Heat Pump automatically adjusts to weather changes, without any attention on your part.

SWITCHES AUTOMATICALLY FROM HEATING TO COOLING OR BACK AGAIN, AS NEEDED

During changeable weather, the Heat Pump switches automatically from heating to cooling or back again, as required for your comfort, even within the same hour. There's nothing to remember. You just set the thermostat once and enjoy perfect year-around indoor climate... automatically.

HOW THE HEAT PUMP OPERATES

Heat Pump operation involves the basic scientific principle that indoor heating or cooling is a matter of transferring heat from one place to another.

In winter, the Heat Pump extracts heat units from outside air—even in freezing weather—and pumps warm air into your home. In summer, the Heat Pump automatically reverses itself and operates as a refrigerated air conditioner. It extracts heat from indoor air and pumps it outside.

For additional information about the Heat Pump, come by our office or write us. We'll be glad to answer your questions and provide other assistance—at no obligation.
