MOORE about... EASTLAND

by Virgil E. Moore

Perry Como has nothing on us... we get letters, too. No one has asked us to sing yet, but that's about all that has been overlooked.

Among the worse thing an editor gets is unsolicited letters. Morally he cannot publish them since an individual doesn't think enough of his own writing to sign his name to it. Our policy is to throw all of them in the trash, with the exception of those which deal with Moore about personally. Those we figure cannot hurt anyone but us, and by this time it should be apparent that we are beyond the stage where we can be hurt by mere words.

Among our recent collection of letters which the owner doesn't care to claim is this one:

"Just had to write a line and tell you how much I enjoy reading the news and items in the Telegram on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturdays. I always get prepared to relax with a cup of coffee and your paper, but sir, before the coffee gets cool enough to take one sip we have finished the paper, so therefore there needs to be more news so the cup of coffee and reading material will come out even. You see, one doesn't have time to relax because there just isn't enough to the paper to relax by. Fact of the business is, we on this street have begun to call the paper the Eastland Headache because we read it all and keep straining our eyes for something that isn't there. That creates the headache and besides all that it's sorta depressing after looking forward for the paper boy and getting the coffee ready then swoosh the paper is finished just like that. Now don't you think I have a problem? (s) A Faithful Reader."

Yes, Faithful Reader, you definitely do have a problem. Your amazing ability to read some 34,200 words in the length of time it takes for your coffee to cool, convinces us that you should remove the coffee from the hot plate before trying to cool it. If you would prefer your news once weekly, as 999 of 1000 towns the size of Eastland get it—we could arrange to deliver you an 18 page paper every Thursday. That's the average number of pages the Telegram publishes weekly.

If you are really desirous of more news, however, we suggest you invite us out for coffee (we like a doughnut with ours) and we will pass along some of the "news" which we pick up here and there but do not publish because of a fear of going to court that we inherited earlier in this business.

We do appreciate hearing from you, and hope that you take us up on our coffee offer. Make ours black, please!

Then we received this letter: "Editor... We do not think it any of your business to write about what the county commissioners do. Why don't you let them run their business and you just tend to your own?"

Of course it was unsigned, too, as was this one:

"Dear Sir... Why not do some checking into the expenditures of our county officials? Other newspapers do it and it is your duty and obligation to also."

Now you folks can see this isn't easy business. We have found out, however, that the best (Continued On Page Three)

Growers Wait Benson's Rule On Request

Eastland County peanut growers, of Spanish peanuts, are awaiting a ruling by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson on a request by Texas and Oklahoma growers for an increase in Spanish type acreage for 1958.

Local Citizens Help Set Red Cross Record

Eastland firemen and housewives may be interested to know that they helped set a new record in the sale of the Red Cross Fire aid book. A recent Red Cross course was held here in a number of person received certificates of achievement.

The new revised American Red Cross First Aid Textbook climbed into the "best seller" class during March when the number of copies sold since it was published last September went above the 1,250,000 mark according to Edmond J. Mongeon, Red Cross Midwestern Area Director of Safety Service, St. Louise, Mo.

The text is primarily designed for use in classes taught by Red Cross instructors. Use of the new publication has resulted in shortening the standard Red Cross first aid course from 18 to 10 hours.

In Texas, a total of 40,795 persons received Red Cross first aid training and certificate during 1957. At present, there are 3,773 authorized Red Cross first aid instructors living in the state. Since 1952, 178,761 persons have taken first aid courses in Texas.

Mongeon expects training to substantially increase throughout the state during 1958 because of the shortened course, made possible by the new textbook.

The 240-page volume incorporates all the latest first aid techniques, including the much publicized respiration method for infants called mouth-to-mouth breathing. It is liberally illustrated with photographs, drawings, and colored plates. The text contains information covered in both the standard and advanced Red Cross aid courses.

Copies of the book are available at all Red Cross chapter offices at a nominal cost to cover printing—75c for paperbound copies and $1 for clothbound.

PROCLAMATION

Whereas, the attention of the country is being focussed on the rewards of reading during the comprehensive education campaign which will come to a climax during National Library Week, March 16-22, 1958.

Whereas, this drive is the first united effort by all media—newspapers, magazines and radio and television—to dramatize the role of libraries as an important resource of education.

Whereas, newspapers and magazines are essential for well-informed citizens.

Whereas, books are the conservers, transmitters and disseminators of the world's wisdom and knowledge.

Whereas, the freedom to read is one of democracy's most cherished liberties.

Whereas, the development of lifetime reading habits is vital to the continuation of our society.

Therefore, I, Mayor of Eastland call upon the citizens of this city to participate in this significant endeavor by helping to inform their neighbors and friends of the pleasures and rewards of reading, with the purpose of developing a "better-read, better-informed America."

The request, said he will prepare a recommendation for the secretary.

Sidney Reagan, counsel for the Southwest Peanut Shellers Assn., said he believed an acreage increase is justified.

The law provides that the acreage allotment can be increased if the resulting production can move to market at not less than 105 per cent of the support price, plus reasonable carrying charges.

Reagan, with George Freeman, president of the Southwest Peanut Shellers Assn.; Ross Wilson, manager of the Southwest Peanut Growers Assn.; and others from that area argued for the increased allotment for the Spanish type peanut.

The Georgia, Florida and Alabama Peanut Growers Assn., and Stephen Pace, counsel for the Southeast Peanut Shellers Assn., opposed the Southwest request.

Mrs. Treadwell Stresses Each Child Should Read

Parents need a new approach in trying to stop their children from reading so-called funny books, poor fiction, and vulgar magazines. Mrs. M. A. Treadwell told Eastland Rotarians Monday.

Mrs. Treadwell, a former high school and junior high school librarian, said it's time for adults to realize that the answer to the problem is to show children it's fun to read good books.

Speaking in behalf of the National Library Week movement, Mrs. Treadwell emphasized that she believed the biggest problem facing Americans as far as reading is concerned is the fact that children are not being given the opportunity to read at home.

"Children will come running when there is a good story to read," the mother of three declared.

Facing competition television and other forms of entertainment offer reading, the Rotary speaker pointed out that children need their minds fed as well as their bodies. Reading helps the mind mature, the Louisiana State University graduate stated.

Mrs. Treadwell recommended that parents not leave it to chance that their children will read. She said they should purchase good books, or borrow them from the library, and leave them around the house.

The club speaker pointed out that the Eastland Library, which is sponsored by the Thursday Afternoon Club, has more than 1000 volumes. She stressed that it was full of good books for children and adults alike.

The alarming report that 60 percent of United States adults do not read one book a year, other than from the Bible, and that half of the country's adults live within a mile of a public library, but only one fifth of them visit it, prompted the organizing of the reading drive. Both the national house and senate passed a concurrent resolution favoring the week, and state governors, including Texas, have issued proclamations setting the date.

In addition to endorsement by such national organizations as the National Education Association, Junior Chamber of Commerce, and General Federation of Women's Clubs, state citizen committees have been appointed. The Texas Citizens' Committee, with Valenti as chairman, includes Stanley Marcus, Dallas; J. Frank Dobie, Austin; J. F. Albright, Dallas; Mrs. Edith Dean, Fort Worth; Mrs. E. N. Denard, Waco; J. W. Edgar, Austin; Mrs. A. J. House, Yoakum; Mrs. D. L. Hudson, Bryan; Mrs. John Eddy Jones, Dallas; R. W. Pettway, Austin; Mrs. H. N. Phillips, Midland; Dr. M. E. Sadler, Fort Worth; W. E. Snelson, Grand Prairie; James D. Meeks, Dallas Public Library director, is heading the Texas Librarians Committee.

County and local chairmen have been appointed in many parts of the state.

The Thursday Afternoon Club sponsors of the Eastland Library, are backing the drive in Eastland.

The Panilov, carrying grain from Vancouver, B.C., ran into heavy seas and winds of hurricane force near Midway Island while en route to Vladivostok. The battered ship was escorted into the restricted U.S. naval base at Midway after certain terms (including the flag) were agreed to. Injured Red sailors were treated and the ship repaired at the base.

Bank Deposits In County Show Healthy Increase

Every bank in Eastland County showed a healthy increase in deposits over a year ago, a comparison shows.

Total deposits in the county were listed at $13,931,113 in five county banks. That compares to deposits of $13,351,493 a year ago.

Deposits at the Eastland National bank totaled $3,631,701 at the latest bank call compared to deposits of $3,575,628 a year ago. Ranger Commercial State Bank deposits were up from $2,184,543 to $2,406,284. At Cisco the First National Bank showed an increase to $4,068,314 compared to $3,903,371 a year ago.

Lake Leon Fishing Is At Record Low

Fishing at Lake Leon is at an all-time low for this time of the year, according to Ed Richardson, caretaker.

The continued cold and wet weather that has prevailed in this area has been the blame for the decrease in fishing and camping activity at the lake, Richardson said.

Richardson noted that this time last year, a large amount of fish were being pulled from the lake daily. However, in May, 1957, when the heavy rains started to fall to set a record amount in Eastland County, fishing dropped considerably.

Richardson said since those rains, and the heavy downpours this year, the lake has remained muddy. Some clearing is noticeable and, according to Richardson, should fair weather prevail, the lake should clear up in several weeks.

The lake remains at full level, 75 feet.

Thus far this year, an unofficial total of 7.15 inches of rain has been recorded in the Lake Leon area. However, the U. S. Weather Bureau station in Eastland has recorded slightly less than that. Unofficially, 4.15 inches of it has fell in March.

And indications are that more are in store before the month is over.

The weatherman calls for continued cold for several more days and that will put the stopper on fishing at the lake.

Most local weather observers are of the opinion that fair weather will be predominant after the entry of spring, March 20. And should this happen, fishing at Lake Leon will increase.

In Eastland County...

Pecans Are Set
On 75 Acres

Approximately 75 acres of paper-shell pecans have been planted in Eastland County during the past twelve months, according to J. M. Cooper, county agent.

Cooper pointed out that this acreage was a rough estimate and was not in any way conclusive.

At present, a study is being given to a project to grow grapes for table use locally and to sell commercially. Tests are now under way of different types.

Those who have set out pecan trees are Earl Conner, 20 acres; Conrad Schaefer, ten acres; Oscar Schaefer, eight acres; B. B. Warren, twelve acres; Dub Brown, ten acres; and Bill Carbon, eight acres.

Conrad Schaefer has made tests of new strains of commercial grapes being developed at the Texas Grape Experiment farm at Montague, Cooper said. He secured several hundred cuttings of the new varieties.

The grape he wants is for table use, the kind to compete with the California varieties. Also he seeks the better juice types adapted to (Continued On Page Three)

Cisco Junior College Victory Is Good News For County As A Whole

(An Editorial)

Eastland County got some unexpected good publicity this past weekend. The credit for the spotlight which was turned on this area goes to the Cisco Junior College track and field team.

Cisco Junior College—to the amazement of all—beat out Victoria Junior College in the Border Olympics to win first place honors. Victoria last year won the National Junior College track title, and was heavily favored to repeat their performance this year.

With all the modern talk about junior colleges being one big answer to our educational problems, it is good to note that Eastland County has two such institutions. Besides CJC, there is Ranger College. Winning the Border Olympics cannot help but put Cisco College before the eyes of many prospective students.

The county's two colleges are definitely two of the area's assets. We shouldn't forget them when discussing Eastland County with potential industrial leaders.

Social Security Notes

"YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY" Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles on Social Security compiled by C. M. Vaden, Jr., field representative of the Abilene Social Security office. The articles are designed to give you a better understanding of your Social Security. If you pick up with this article and read each of the succeeding articles, you should have a good general knowledge of the Social Security program.)

What is Social Security? This is the logical place to begin any series of articles on Social Security. Social Security is basic financial protection against income loss due to old age, disability, or death. It is insurance—based on the same general principle as private insurance, but it is not a contract arrangement. It is a social insurance program, the idea being that you make small payments during your working life and when you are faced with an emergency such as disability or death, or when you reach old age and retire, you and your survivors get the payments. I would like to emphasize that Social Security is Old-Age and Survivors Insurance. A lot of people have the idea that Social Security pays only retirement benefits. Actually it provides protection against three risks—loss of earnings in old age, loss of earnings due to death of the breadwinner of the family, and loss of earnings due to a disability.

So Social Security is actually three kinds of insurance—disability insurance, life insurance and old-age insurance. I would like to point out that Social Security should not be confused with Old-Age Assistance or Unemployment Insurance. Social Security is Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance. The Old-Age Assistance program is administered by the State Department of Public Welfare. Unemployment Insurance is administered by the Texas Employment Commission. Neither of these two programs is connected with your Social Security tax.

Should you want more information on Social Security, write the Social Security Administration, P. O. Box 1641, Abilene, Texas, and ask for a free copy of the booklet "Your Social Security."

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner

There was a definite Jekyll-variance in facts may change the Hyde element in Wilhelm Konrad Roentgen's discovery of the x-ray phenomenon in 1895. Used by trained technicians, x-rays become peerless tools for diagnosing and treating human ills and injuries. But used by untrained hands, they become errant destroyers of living tissue.

Even Roentgen didn't realize the danger of his discovery. He apparently did not receive any significant injuries, but his good fortune stemmed from the fact that he constructed shields not for his own protection, but to keep his highly prized photographic plates from being fogged by scattered radiations.

Today there is agreement among many medical authorities that x-ray exposures cause tissue damage. Generally speaking, however, as used by competent physicians the value of diagnosis and treatment far exceeds the controlled damage which must inevitably result.

Recent stringent regulation by the State Board of Health against exposures of humans to x-rays prohibits indiscriminate fluoroscopy. Fluoroscopy is authorized when supervised by persons licensed to "engage in the healing arts."

A case in point is the relatively common practice in recent years of using x-ray machines to visualize feet of normal people, including children, in retail shoe stores.

That they are dangerous has been shown by the State Health Department's Division of Occupational Health as long as five years ago. Engineers extensively examined machines in various parts of the state and found the vast majority of them to be district hazards to customers and to store employees stationed nearby.

The new Board of Health regulations say "shoe-fitting fluoroscopes are hereby declared to be neither diagnostic nor therapeutic." But that does not preclude their use as a means of checking a corrective shoe fit as prescribed by a physician.

For persons with normal feet, most shoe stores fit shoes by the time proved method of pressure, feel, and comfort. But there are persons who require special built in corrections in their shoes. In many of these instances fluoroscopic devices are valuable in checking the accuracy of the correction. Parents should never submit themselves or their children to fluoroscopic shoe fittings unless their physicians recommended the procedure.

Public Health and medical authorities have a responsibility for seeing that the best possible use is made of x-ray devices in detecting and treating human ills. The public has a responsibility too—in not demanding x-ray from their physician when he does not find one necessary.

the Eastland County climate, Cooper said.

Eastland County has a large sand area in the proposed grape-growing area which is underlaid with a clay foundation that holds subsistence moisture for growing grapes, Cooper said.

"Of course we are not experienced in grape culture in the Eastland area, the type best suited for it and the job of pruning and adapting to soil and climate", he said.

"We hope by experimentation to overcome the hindrances and fit the grape best adapted for us. The prospect for culture in this area appears to be good."

The hostess, Mrs. Collings, served coffee during the meeting and at the conclusion of the meeting she served coffee and doughnuts to Mrs. Chamberlain, Huckabay, Nell Day, Curtis Young, and Carl Johnson.

BETWEEN YOU, ME AND THE LAMPPOST—The saga of six Belgians who fought for freedom when their country was ruled by Spain in the 17th century is perpetuated in iron outside an old inn in Brussels. Hidden at the inn, which dates from 1677, the leaders of the rebellion were discovered by a Spanish patrol. They ran for their lives but were captured and hanged at a nearby town.

Movie Tells of Money Problems At FHA Meeting

Money problems were illustrated in movie form at the meeting of the Eastland Future Homemakers of America Tuesday in the high school auditorium.

Jan Robertson called the meeting to order, and the opening ceremony was read.

Miss Loretta Morris, FHA advisor, showed two films, "Friendship Begins at Home", and "Directing Your Dollars." The latter described the money problems of three typical young people in connection with the senior prom. Their difficulties served to illustrate how the way a person spends his money reveals his true values.

"To direct our dollars wisely, we must know what we want from life—in other words we must define our personal values, it as pointed out in the movie.

Colored washables and new "miracle" fabrics keep their fresh "show-case" look when dried in an Electric Dryer. Clean, gentle, electric drying protects colored clothes from the bleaching action of the sun, from whipping winds and airborne dust as well. Tests show that even after repeated electric dryings, most colored fabrics stay as bright as new. This means your colored washables look better and last longer. And, of course, you avoid the monotonous drudgery of clothesline drying when you have an Electric Dryer.

Miss Jeannette Caton Becomes Bride of Donald Roff Saturday

Miss Carole Jeanette Caton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Wayne Caton, 612 South Bassett, became the bride of Pfc. Donald Gene Roff of Barstow, Calif., at 7:30 Saturday evening in the First Baptist Church with Rev. Roy Turner, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney M. Roff of 304 North Oak.

Miss Helen Taylor attended the bride as maid of honor and Don Webb was best man. John McAlister and Lonnie Young of Abilene were ushers. Candles were lighted by Miss Julie Frost and Miss Rebecca McAlister.

Carl Garrett, soloist, was accompanied by Mrs. D. L. Kinnaird. Preceding the ceremony "Liebestraum" and "Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life" were played. Bridal chorus from Lohengrin by Wagner, "Wedding Prayers" and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" were among the wedding music.

The altar in the church was decorated with floor baskets arrangements of white stock, flanked on each side by seven-branch Swedish steel candelabra holding white tapers entwined with greenery.

During the "Wedding Prayer" the couple knelt on a Prie Dieu. White bows marked the pews for the families of the bride and groom.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white chantilly lace with a bouffant balcon length skirt of white tulle over silk taffeta. The fitted bodice extended just below the waistline and was accented with scoop neck and three quarter length sleeves. Her fingertip veil of tulle was attached to a pearl and lace tiara. She wore a single strand of pearls. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of gardenias.

The maid of honor chose a blue dress and carried a crecent bouquet of happiness roses. Miss Frost and Miss McAlister were dressed in blue and carried wristlets of feathered white carnations. They lit candles with brass candle lighters.

Mrs. Caton chose a blue dress with blue accessories for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother chose a blue dress with white accessories. They wore gardenia corsages.

At the reception at the Woman's Club, the house party included Miss Cherry Guffin, Miss Sandra Kirkland, Miss Nancy Weat-ers, Miss Pat Isbell, Miss Emma Lee Miller, Mrs. Lon W. Young, Mrs. Edress Gattis, Mrs. Russell Hill, Mrs. R. H. Latham and Mrs. C. G. Uffleman.

The bride's table, laid with a cloth of embroidered net over white satin, was centered with an epergne containing all white carnations, stock and candy tuff. The tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was served from a crystal plate encircled with tulle and lilies of the valley by Mrs. Hill. For additional decor the bride's bouquet was placed on the table.

Miss Guffin registered the guests in a white leather bride's book placed on the table with the maid of honor's bouquet.

For the wedding trip the bride wore a two piece suit of black and white checks, patent accessories and a gardenia corsage. The couple will make their home in Barstow, Calif., after March 20.
