

MOORE about... EASTLAND

by Virgil E. Moore

Reading about the buried treasure those folks are digging for in Dallas makes us remember that we have a letter from "A Subscriber" that we have been meaning to print and haven't. Our writer tells of a treasure buried near San Angelo.

Here's the tale passed along to us. The letter was signed only, "A Subscriber" so we haven't had a chance to ask why he or she hasn't gone hunting yet.

"In the early days of the Southwest, the stagecoach was the number one means of transportation between two points and it remained thus for several decades. Located on one of these state routes was Old Fort Concho (near San Angelo), which still stands today.

"This Fort was one of the most important frontier posts and was 'the pride of the Army of the West.' It was primarily erected and commissioned for protection against the Indians.

"Stationed at the Fort was one particular soldier (whose name is unknown) who had recently enlisted and was a little homesick. Being off-duty and desiring a period of uninterrupted reminiscing, he went for a stroll on the Concho River not far away.

"Suddenly, without any perceptible forewarning, he was attacked by a huge wild sow. She had a litter of young pigs. In his scramble to reach a place of safety he climbed onto a large boulder which projected as a long, cliff-like ridge in the river bank. After what seemed like ages, the old soldier finally sauntered off and the soldier started to descend to the ground. On his descent, he noticed by accident, an opening down into the rock, just large enough for a man to crawl in. The soldier gazed fixedly at the cave and pondered the idea of exploring it. Upon considering, however, he reclined his desire and decided to return to the Fort. He climbed down off the escarpment and started back to his barracks, not far away.

"Before he had gotten out of sight of the boulder, which he had effectively used as a perch of safety beforehand, he heard something or someone approaching. Fearing it was the wild sow again, the soldier hid in the brush near at hand to await his fate. Closer and closer the thing came, until suddenly it appeared. To his amazement the soldier saw not the wild sow but a masked man riding a horse toward the very rock he had just descended!

"An outlaw, sure enough, thought the soldier.

"The masked man reined up and dismounted at the boulder. Under his arm was what appeared to be a strongbox. Ascending the rock, the man disappeared into the cave.

"Not wishing to become involved, the soldier hastily returned to the Fort. A few days later his Company was transferred deeper into Indian territory and if ever he had a desire to return to the cave and investigate he never got the opportunity. It was learned that shortly after his transfer the soldier contacted tuberculosis and died.

"Not long after this, an outlaw was apprehended by the Texas Rangers in the vicinity of Fort Concho. It was learned he confessed to several robberies and a couple of killings. Well, it can easily be determined what his fate would be. The one thing the outlaw didn't tell was where he hid the money. Perhaps the soldier's 'cave' was the place. One person's guess is as good as another's.

"The cave, according to the soldier's friend, and original narrator of this tale (she disbelieved it) is located on the old Fort Concho trail which leads to San Angelo. (Continued on Page Two)

May Golfers Cop Regional

The Eastland Maverick golf team won Regional honors Friday in Brownwood without looking back.

District 32-B produced the first and second place teams in the Regional meet with Throckmorton finishing second behind the Mavs. Eastland's team total for the 36 holes was 738 compared to 788 for Throckmorton. Valley Mills finished third.

Eastland had the top three men in the meet. Mike Reese was medalist for the day with a 168. Juan Jay Smith finished second, John Powell was third and David Carothers next.

The Mavs will enter the State Tournament in Austin May 2-3, according to Wendell Siebert, superintendent, who accompanied the team to Brownwood.

Eastland's track team is in Brownwood today competing for regional honors.

Initial Plans For Blood Bank For Area Made

Initial plans for the Eastland County Walking Blood Bank program were made here Friday when representatives of the five county hospitals met at Eastland Memorial Hospital.

The program will not begin for several weeks so that groundwork can be properly laid.

It was agreed that the program should be sponsored in each city by a civic group. In Eastland the Hospital Auxiliary has already agreed to do so.

Another meeting is to be held in about three weeks.

Local Aggie Muster Monday at Lake Leon

Some fifty or more A&M Exes will gather at Lake Leon on San Jacinto Day, Monday, April 21 at 6:30 p.m. at the Premier Camp. They will be observing traditional Muster Day on the 55th anniversary of Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College.

The men will be joining with the Exes attending more than 400 other similar musters. Ceremonies held all over the world will pay tribute to the honored dead of Texas A. & M. and to the heroes of the Battle of San Jacinto.

Dr. Dick Hodges of Ranger is president of the area Exes' organization. Dr. Hodges says the Exes don't have to be reminded of the date. To them San Jacinto means Muster.

Jack Jernigan Is Winner of Oscar Contest

The Academy award sweepstake winners in the Majestic Theatre's contest are: Jack Jernigan 500 Fotch St., Eastland, winner of six months free pass, Jocile Kelley 706 W. 10th, Cisco, winner of four months free pass, Mrs. Sutton Crofts, 512 W. 5th St. Cisco, winner of two months pass; Gene Edwards, Ranger College, Ranger, winner of one month's pass; and Ronnie Qualls, 403 W. 9th St. Cisco, winner one month's Pass.

"Oscar" is thirty years old and still reigns as Hollywood's start of stars; it was in 1927 that the academy of motion picture arts and sciences was organized by a far-seeing group of Hollywood leaders who believe in the future and continued growth of the movies. At a meeting of the first board of governors, the idea to create a statuette as a symbol of excellence and achievement was proposed. While the discussion was going on, Cedric Gibbons, famous studio art director, sketched his conception of a figure that could become a proud, dignified symbol of the movie profession. His drawing was accepted, it was turned over to George Stanley, a Los Angeles sculptor. From the beginning, "Oscar" was born—but it was four years later before he was christened. For the first four years, he was nameless, known merely as the "statuette". In 1931 a new employee of the Academy reported for her first day's work. She saw a copy of the statuette on an executive's desk. She remarked, "He reminds me of my Uncle Oscar."

A newspaper columnist was nearby (as newspaper men always are). The next day his syndicated column contained the news that the statuette was affectionately dubbed "Oscar" by the Academy employees. Since then "Oscar" has never lost his lustre. He has grown in stature and significance, but his height remains 10 inches. He costs a $100, but the winners would not sell him for a $100,000.

Pecan Budding School Planned By County Agent

A pecan budding school will be held in Eastland Wednesday, County Agricultural Agent J. M. Cooper announced today.

Cooper said that due to so many calls concerning pecan budding, he plans to hold the school "in an attempt to teach folks how to bud pecans."

Everyone interested has been urged to attend. The one day school will begin at 10 a.m. at the Texas Electric Service Co. conference room. Classwork will continue until noon. After lunch the group will go to the woods on the north side of Lake Eastland dam where those interested can actually do some budding on small trees. Cooper said the program should end by 3 p.m.

The county agent said that in order to cut the strings and check the buds another half day of schooling will be held in May and another half day in June.

"Those who enroll in the school are asked to make every effort to attend all sessions in order to get every angle of budding and then taking care of the bud after it comes out," Cooper said.

There will be no charge for the school.

Fishing Rodeo Plans For July 4 Revealed

Eastland and Ranger Set Lake Leon Event

An all-day Fishing Rodeo with amateur boat races thrown in for more excitement, has been scheduled for July 4 at Lake Leon by the Ranger and Eastland chambers of commerce.

The boards of directors of both of the chambers have overwhelmingly approved initial plans for the July 4th celebration, and committees from each town will be named to complete plans.

A spokesman for the two chambers said, "We feel that this is going to be the big year for Lake Leon. Fishing so far this year has been great, and it is improving every day. The lake is attracting fishermen from all over the state, and we believe that on July 4th the lake will have more people wetting a hook than ever before."

Although complete plans have not been made, it has been indicated by the chambers that some "outstanding prizes" will be awarded in the fishing rodeo.

Lake Leon is known far and wide for the huge crappie which are being caught out of the lake and this year some good catfish catches have stirred up new interest.

The boat races, according to H. J. Tanner, manager of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, and R. V. Galloway, Ranger C-C manager, will be for amateurs and not professional boatmen.

"That should mean," Tanner said, "that a lot more persons will get the opportunity to participate. With as many boat owners as we have in this part of the state, we know there will be a lot of interest in this phase of the celebration."

Galloway said, "It is natural that Ranger and Eastland should get together and sponsor such an event, but we want everyone in Eastland County, and all over this area for that matter, to know that they are being considered in our plans. We want everyone to start now to spread the day at Lake Leon on July 4th."

Barbecue Plans At Lakeside Club Announced

Directors of the Lakeside Country Club had a busy session this week.

It was voted to re-top and reseed all greens at the course, 900 feet of new hose was ordered and Homer Williams was elected as a new member of the Board of Directors.

Plans for a barbecue to be held Thursday night at 7 p.m. at the club were also revealed.

There will be plenty of barbecued turkey and all the trimmings and soft drinks, a spokesman said. All members have been urged to attend the informal get acquainted gathering, and were urged to bring their friends and neighbors out for the occasion.

"Anyone wanting to bring their own steak, hamburger meat or weiners is welcomed to do so," a spokesman said, "but there will be plenty of turkey for those who prefer it."

Following the barbecue bingo, dominoes and bridge will be played.

HDC To Sponsor Drivers Course

The public is invited to attend an adult driver's re-education course to be presented April 30 at 1:30 p.m. in the Lutheran Parish Hall, 18th and Avenue D, in Cisco.

More than 200 persons from Humble's Western Sales Division are expected to participate in the convention.

Attending from Eastland will be: Otis K. Coleman, R. O. Duncan, C. P. Hastings, W. A. Anderson, and T. C. Shahan. From Cisco, F. D. Carlile, W. T. Donham, and J. T. Richardson; from Rising Star, E. M. Crisp and Bill Johnson; from Ranger, G. H. Faulk, T. L. Dempsey, and Morris Campbell; from Okra, G. A. Earp; from Gordon, W. E. Jones and from Mungus, Frank Martin will attend.

Purpose of the convention is to provide information on techniques and aids which will help the managers furnish better service to their customers.

Four skits will be presented on a simulated life-size television set. The stage will be decorated to represent an 8 by 10 feet television screen.

Speakers include Ray Horton, Humble director; Frank Watts, sales manager; and Lee M. Sharer legal counsel for the sales department.

GOLF CHATTER

By HAB SIMMONS

It is most enlightening to know the caliber of people we have in the City of Eastland. The semi-annual club membership meeting was held Wednesday night and the most obvious thing at the meeting was the complete cooperation of all the members present. This is the caliber club we want. This is the kind of club we still have.

The E. H. S. golf team, hot off winning the district championship, is to make a bid for further success at the Regional Meet in Brownwood this week. We anticipate victory, we will not accept defeat.

Stephenville is holding a Ladies Day meet on the 24th and if any of you gals are interested this should be a very enjoyable affair. They have a fine days entertainment lined up down there on a very good golf course.

It's about Scotch Foursome time again. This monthly affair will be held on the 27th weather permitting.

The one hole champion this week: Aubrey Kincaid. A duce on No. 8 from 90 yards out. Aubrey says: "If you got luck anything will do for skill."

This is five by five for now except for this: Why go someplace else to buy what you can get in Eastland for the same price? See you in Church Sunday.

Three Declared Delinquent by Draft Board

Three registrants of Local Board No. 36, Eastland, have been declared delinquent by the local Selective Service Board, this week, it was revealed today.

According to Selective Service regulations it is the duty of each registrant to keep his local board advised at all times of the address where mail will reach him. The mailing of any order, notice, or blank form by the local board to a registrant at the last address last reported by him to the local board shall constitute notice to him of the contents of the communication, whether he actually received it or not.

The following registrants have been declared delinquent: Noble Stouard, Jimmie Harold Reeve and E. J. Grisham.

Unless these men are located they will be ordered to report for induction as delinquents, and if they fail to report they will be reported to the U. S. Attorney. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of these men should get in touch with them, Mrs. Jewel Reeves, local clerk, said.

The Universal Military Training and Service Act, as amended (usually called "the draft law"), requires that every man who was born on or after August 31, 1922, and who has reached his 18th birthday, and has not previously registered under this law, should present himself for and submit to registration before a local board. Men should register within five days of their 18th birthday.

Area Peanut Farmers Plan Strip Cropping

(Editor's Note: The following article was prepared for this newspaper by the local Soil Conservation Service.)

The conservation farmer continues to be a highly skilled worker in his field of endeavor. For example, he is now starting his row crop operations for the current season. Cover crops seeded last fall have given excellent soil protection against both wind and water erosion. To destroy these cover crops and still leave maximum crop residue on or near the surface of the soil is his goal, realizing that good ground cover, to include dead litter, is essential.

The peanut farmer can also plan a strip crop program to further supplement the highly important vegetative program. Last fall during the "blow season" strips prevented peanuts in the wind row from being covered with sand, thus preventing partial or in some instances, a complete loss of the crop.

Strip crops are very effective in holding sands in place. They also fit well into a system of crop rotation. The crop residue from strips such as sudan and grain sorghum are coarse and prove effective in wind and water erosion control for a longer period of time. These coarser stalks do not decompose as rapidly as small grain residue.

Strip crops, such as sudan, pearl millet, red top sorghum and grain sorghum should be fertilized with a balanced fertilizer to insure an adequate growth and in turn increase the yield of grain in case the land owner chooses to make a head harvest.

Former experiences indicate the importance of strip width, not less than two rows of closely drilled and well fertilized sudan or millet and eight rows of peanuts are required and not less than four rows of well fertilized and thickly seeded grain sorghums and eight rows of peanuts will give the needed protection.

Nature will control both wind and water erosion if given a chance, by preserving a mulch on the land. Landowners who understand these needs of the land furnish this protection through cover crops, crop residue management and strip cropping. This type of treatment results in increased yields plus the personal satisfaction of doing a satisfactory job of conservation.

Virgil Massingill recently completed a farm pond for livestock water and a diversion terrace to divert outside water from his cropland field.

A farm pond was staked for Earnest Sneed and ponds have been requested by M. R. Frye, H. E. Wagley, Carl Simpson and J. F. Reynolds. Terrace lines have been run and are in process of construction on the J. F. Harlow farm. Harlow had completed a farm pond this week.

If you have loved ones here your help is earnestly solicited and will be appreciated."

The Telegram Speaks

Republican Party Primary Election In County Is Looked On With Favor (An Editorial)

The Telegram is pleased to see that there will be a Republican Party primary election in Eastland County this year.

While this newspaper, in the true tradition of the South claims to be independent, it has long been a backer of Democratic candidates. Of course, on a local level, there has been nothing else to support. A Republican candidate for public office in Eastland County would be big news indeed.

While we lean heavily toward the Democratic side of the ledger, we can see a lot of weakness in a one-party state. We believe that the GOP has a place in Texas. In fact, we feel that many so-called Democrats are at heart real Republicans.

A two-party state, like a two-party nation, would be a better place to live. With one party looking over the other's shoulder, there is undoubtedly less chance for graft and corruption.

Rambler Sales In Zone Soar During Quarter
Rambler sales in American Motors' Dallas zone in the first three months of 1958 soared 48.6 per cent over the comparable quarter of last year to establish a new record, according to T. J. Sloggett, zone manager.
The Dallas zone covers Texas and part of New Mexico.
"The great sales gains posted by the Rambler dealers in the Dallas zone indicate that the trend toward compact, economical cars has reached new heights," Sloggett said.
Sloggett added that national Rambler sales in March climbed to 14,139 units to set a new all-time record, and were almost double the sales of March, 1957. The previous high month was June, 1957, when 12,810 Ramblers were delivered.

Moore About—

When you arrive at the crossing of the main Concho River, go downstream about one furlong. Upon finding the treasure, if it is all within your power, control your excited emotions momentarily and say a word of thanks to the disbeliever who shunned the homesick soldiers tale in the beginning. For if he hadn't... It would not be there for you.

The treasure hunt caravan forms at the courthouse square tonight at midnight. See you there.

and by meeting health requirements. Lapsed permanent plan policies, he said, may be reinstated at any time with the payment of all back premiums with interest and by meeting health requirements.
Special reinstatement or new privileges apply to veterans whose National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) five-year term policies lapsed on or after July 23, 1953, through failure to pay timely either or both of the last two monthly premiums of the term period, Mr. Harrington explained.
These veterans, he said, may apply for reinstatement or renewal of their policies any time within the succeeding five-year period, but must meet premium and health requirements.
Full information concerning reinstatement is available at any VA office, Mr. Harrington said.

Delegates for State Convention Are Elected by Thursday Club

Mr. Iral Inzer and Mrs. Frank Sparks were elected as delegates to attend the state convention of Federated Clubs in Fort Worth at the meeting of the Thursday Afternoon Club in the Woman's Club Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Inzer, president, presided during the business meeting. Mrs. M. S. Long read the minutes of the previous meeting.

Mrs. T. M. Collie gave the treasurer's report. She reported the resignation of Mrs. Cecilia Hass a librarian and accepted her resignation with regrets.

Mrs. Cecil Collings, chairman of the library committee, gave her report. She announced the club plans of a reading month during the summer. The club voted to install some new bookcases in the library.

Mrs. W. P. Leslie announced the closing meeting for the year will be a picnic held at the Treadwell home on May 15.

Mrs. Inzer thanked the committees for helping to make the reception, honoring state president, Mrs. A. J. House, a success.

Elected delegates, Mrs. Inzer and Mrs. Sparks, will attend the State convention being held in the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth May 5 through 8. Mrs. Arthur Murrell and Mrs. Long were elected as alternate delegates.

Mrs. Frank Crowell, program leader, introduced Mmes. C. W. Hoffmann, Cecil Collings and Fred Davenport, who participated on the program. Mrs. Hoffmann in turn introduced Wendell Siebert, who showed a film titled "Your Home as You Like It."

Mrs. Collings gave a talk on "Remodeling or Building a House." Mrs. Collings stated the "real key to a successful and happy remodeling job is your frame of mind. You have to be a stark realist about this matter from the very start or you'll come to grief. You must not allow yourself to bite off more than you can chew. You must be able to know when to stop and to make the most of what you've got, and what you can do." Mrs. Collings advised anyone who plans to remodel to do their planning, studying and experimenting before actual work starts.

Mrs. Davenport talked on "Making a House a Home." Mr. Davenport told the group, "A House is not a home. A home is a set of intimate, personal relationships within a house. We build a house out of wood, stone, brick and cement, but we create a home out of intelligence, understanding and love. The house may be destroyed but the home goes on." She further stated that "no contractor builds a home. It is made of personalities of those who live in it; the way they look on life; the way they talk at the dinner table; the friends they invite into the home and the books they read.

Members present were Mmes. Ronald Burton, Hubert Jones, Frank Castleberry, J. C. Caraway, F. R. Townsend, W. A. Martin, D. L. Houle, Arthur Murrell, M. A. Treadwell, T. M. Collie, C. M. Hoffmann, Fred Davenport, Cecil Collings, James Horton, Frank Crowell, Iral Inzer, M. S. Long, Harold White, W. P. Leslie, Frank Sparks, and Robert Perkins.

She started something — this winsome chauffeurette of 50 years ago! She sometimes scorched down the road at 20 m.p.h. (except against a strong wind or when the batteries needed recharging).

But daredevil that she was, our fair heroine would pale to see her darling daughter as she pilots the family station wagon through 1958 traffic on her daily rounds to school, supermarket and train.

And her housewifely duties don't end there. Today's young mother is also cook, nursemaid, social secretary and purchasing agent. Sometimes she even helps earn the family income — always has a big say in spending it. And whether or not a family has a regular savings program usually depends on her.

That's why so many women are the instigators of a regular investment program in U. S. Savings Bonds. They appreciate the feeling of security that such a program guarantees. They know that U. S. Series E Savings Bonds are one of the best investments a family can make. The principal invested in Bonds is safe. The returns are sure. And now every Series E Bond pays a new, higher interest — 3 1/4% when held to maturity!

If you're one of today's daring young ladies of the flying horsepower, you undoubtedly take an active interest in your family's future financial security. Remember — one of the best ways to do something about it is to encourage your husband to start investing regularly in Savings Bonds today!

Here's another thrifty idea! To see how fast small change can add up, put it into Savings Stamps. 10¢ and 25¢ denominations available at your post office along with handy albums to keep them in. Start a book today.
