Sanity in South American Sales

Funk fulminates in Koenigsburg and Molotoff mutters in Moscow.

Both misrepresent the American ideal of trade relationships with South America. Funk wants the world to believe that the United States seeks to monopolize South American trade by embargoing and boycotting others out of that field.

The United States, as we understand it, has no wish to exclude anybody from South American trade. That goes for Germany and Japan, as well as for everybody else in the world.

Anybody with half an eye knows that there are vast regions of South America which must trade with Europe. Vast quantities of South American products are needed in Europe and not needed in the United States.

Nobody questions this; nobody considers it an evil. Even if the United States could corner the whole of South American trade it would not be desirable.

What the United States is interested in is this: it wants to assure that no South American country is placed in a position where it must of necessity barter away its economic and political independence with its beef, coffee, wheat or bananas.

Had the totalitarian countries not exhibited such a wolfish insistence on mixing into the internal affairs of countries with which they trade, nobody would have minded the trade itself.

Anytime they want to give up intrigue and go back to hoss-tradin', Uncle Sam is willin'.

News comes from the White House on the heels of the latest poll that President Roosevelt is allergic to straw votes.

Prime Minister Churchill warns the House of Commons that the danger to Britain has not yet passed and if they don't believe it, they can just look out the window.

MODERN MENUS

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX NEA Service Staff Writer

CHILDREN require abundant food to keep well, grow and develop mentally and physically. But that food must be wisely chosen.

Plan your meals for a week at a time, not day by day. Then you will be able to buy more economically.

Here's a week's market list planned by recognized nutritionists, which provides enough of each kind of food to meet nutritional needs with a margin of safety for a family of four, two children under 13 years.

Milk—17 1/2 quarts, potatoes 11 lbs., fresh or canned tomatoes 4 lbs., leafy, green or yellow vegetable 7 lbs., dried beans or peas 2 lbs., dried fruits 1 1/2 lbs., other vegetables and fruits 7 lbs., eggs 1 1/2 dozen, lean meat or fish 4 1/2 lbs., bread, flour, other grain products 15 lbs., butter, lard, bacon, other fats 3 1/2 lbs., sugar, molasses, sorgo syrup 3 3/4 lbs.

LIVER AND RICE LOAF

One-half cup brown rice, 4 cups boiling water, 1 pound sliced liver, 2 tablespoons butter or other fat, 1 small onion, chopped fine; 1 cup chopped celery, 1/4 cup chopped parsley, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup tomatoes, canned or fresh, 2 teaspoons salt.

Cook rice in boiling water until tender. Do not drain, but let rice absorb water so as to form sticky mass which will act as binder for the loaf.

Wipe liver with damp cloth and remove skin. Sprinkle liver with salt and flour and cook in fat in skillet for about three minutes. Remove liver and grind or chop very fine.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit juice, wholewheat muffins, butter, crisp bacon, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Diced potatoes with parsley sauce, baked beets, bread and butter, lemon sponge with custard sauce, tea, milk.

DINNER: Broiled beef on toast, stewed tomatoes and celery, toast, creamy rice with stewed apricots, coffee, milk.

Mix all ingredients until thoroughly blended, form into loaf with hands on parchment paper, place on rack in open roasting pan. Bake for about 30 minutes in moderate oven (350 degrees F.).

BEEF STEW, VEGETABLES

One and one-half lbs. beef, rump or round, 1/4 cup flour, 2 onions, chopped; 1 quart water, 3 cups diced potatoes, 2 cups diced carrots, salt, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley.

Wipe meat and cut in inch cubes. Try out fat in skillet and add meat, which has been rolled in the flour, and chopped onions. Cook and stir until browned. Then transfer meat and onions to kettle. Add water, after first pouring it into skillet so as to get full benefit of browned-meat flavor. Cover and simmer about one hour. Add vegetables, and cook until tender.

Dove Hunting Is To Be Improved Over Last Year

AUSTIN, Texas—When dove hunters blast the lid off the closed season in Texas on Sept. 1 in the northern part of the state and on Sept. 15 in the remainder they will find a far better crop of the fast little birds than last year, the executive secretary of the State Game Department said Saturday after perusing reports from its game managers in all parts of the State.

Rainfall at the proper times of the year has provided the mourning doves with an abundance of food and they have prospered.

Too, conditions in most of the state were ideal during the nesting season and mourning doves, prolific enough to raise two and three broods of birds each year, have multiplied rapidly, the executive secretary said. However, game managers studying the white wing situation have reported that while there are apparently more birds in the Rio Grande Valley this year, there is a shortage of certain weeds, especially croton, upon which the white wings feed and there is a possibility the birds will not remain in the Valley as long as they did last year before migrating to Mexico.

The mourning dove situation shapes up like this: An excellent crop of birds is on hand awaiting the hunters in West Texas all the way to El Paso. North central and Central Texas has a better crop this year than last. More birds nested in these areas than in 1939, due to the better conditions and a more abundant food supply.

East Texas had an unusually good nesting period for doves and the game manager for the piney woods area from the coast to Texarkana reports an abundance of birds. South Texas and Southwest Texas also had excellent breeding seasons and the supply of birds there is expected to be considerably better than last year.

That's how Bob Jones describes Prince Albert in his "makin's" smokes

In recent laboratory "smoking bowl" tests, Prince Albert burned 86 DEGREES COOLER than the average of the 30 other of the largest-selling brands tested—coolest of all!

ROLLIN' ALONG WITH P.A. "Prince Albert's the tobacco with the swell aroma," says Abe Clark (left). "A real bargain, too," adds Bob Jones, "each smoke costs so little." Try P.A. in your "makin's" smokes, men. There's no other tobacco like it. (And pipe-smokers everywhere say: "Ditto!")

'Informer' Letters Flood Justice Department, But Officials Reassure Aliens on Registration

This is the receipt aliens will carry after the registration.

BY GERRY DICK
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — Nationwide registration of aliens began Aug. 27, but for more than a week letters have been coming in to the Department of Justice from "informers."

Old-timers in the department look at them, and say "This is a sample. We got hundreds of letters a day like these in 1917. You haven't seen anything yet."

Mrs. Smith wants the attorney general to know that her next door neighbor came here from Europe 10 years ago, and she is of the opinion he is not naturalized, not registered, and a dangerous fellow to boot. Most Mrs. Smiths are super-patriots, some are jittery, and some attempt to settle grudge fights this way.

RECORDS SECRET
Officials in charge of alien registration promise to keep the alien's record secret, and to make it possible for him to register privately. They cannot, however, keep the neighbors from asking questions and writing letters.

That is why they urge the alien to register promptly, even if he originally entered the United States illegally.

It does not follow that, because he registers, he will be deported. Whether or not an alien is deported depends on how the attorney general decides his case.

If the alien has broken the law in entering the country, and does not register, the second violation will prejudice his position.

This information is in a book of 49 questions and answers to be distributed soon.

Some other questions considered typical, which the booklet answers in the affirmative, are:

Must refugee children be registered?

Must an alien register if he has taken out his first citizenship papers?

Must Filipinos, Alaskans, Puerto Ricans, Hawaiians, register?

SOME STICKLERS

When he presents himself at the local postoffice for registration, the alien will be asked 15 questions.

Some of them are sticklers... such as "What was the name of the vessel you arrived in?"

But the alien can get a sample questionnaire from the postoffice, and study in advance.

Registration officials estimate there are about 3,500,000 aliens in the United States now, and 1930 census figures show most of them in the middle Atlantic states, New York principally.

East north central states—Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin—rank second.

According to the 1930 figures, more aliens settled in Brooklyn than in any other U. S. community. Manhattan was second, Chicago third, Detroit fourth, the Bronx fifth, and Los Angeles sixth.

MUST REPORT REGULARLY

Aliens will be required, once they have registered, to report any change of address within five or not.

Failure to comply with this regulation may cost them $100 or send them to jail for three days.

The Registration Division is settling up for business in a roller skating rink back of the capitol. Beaverboard partitions outline offices around the wall.

The central area, where skaters made merry, is being filled with rows on rows of file cases.

There the personal history and fingerprints of millions of aliens will be kept... industrial workers, refugee children, titled visitors from war-torn Europe, queens of Hollywood... preceding or following each other, in alphabetical order.
