LUBBOCK BUS OFFICE BLASTED

LUBBOCK, June 15. (AP)—A dynamite explosion damaged four offices of strike ridden Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico coaches, Inc., early today. L. P. Rheadasil, acting assistant superintendent of drivers, told Jess C. Levens, vice president and general manager of the company, that the blast was at 12:10 a. m. Rheadasil said he heard the tinkle of glass in an office of Hurley W. Carpenter, assistant general manager, went in to investigate. He said he saw a half-stick of dynamite lying on the floor, four or five-inch fuse attached. He ran out and closed the door the the explosion followed, he said.

West Germany Plan Is Near Vote In France

PARIS, June 15. (AP)—The French Assembly is expected to reach a vote late tonight or tomorrow on the six-power accord to create a separate state of Western Germany. France is the only one of the nations whose negotiators evolved the plan which has not approved it. Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg endorsed it yesterday and Britain and the United States did so previously. Here, the plan has been under heavy fire from the right and left and approval, if it is given, is expected to be by a narrow margin. Two British papers this morning cautioned the French that their stubbornness on the agreement may cool American ardor to work closely with Western Europe. The liberal News Chronicle said rejection of the accord by the French would "certainly not improve prospects of a military guarantee for Western Europe." The Conservative Telegraph said American collaboration is essential in Western Europe and added that "it would be a pity if France cooled off this collaboration by being the only one" of the six powers to reject the German proposals.

Truman Pleas Get A Brisk GOP Brushoff

Taft Pushes For Closing Of Congress

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—President Truman's demand that Congress stay in session to enact a controversy-laden eight-point program got a brisk brushoff from Republican leaders today. They held firm to their plans to close up shop on Saturday. "Nothing new," snapped Sen. Taft of Ohio after looking over this list of "very serious situations" the President outlined in a Los Angeles address: Price control, housing, health insurance, aid to education, social security expansion, labor welfare, a long-range farm program and water resources developments. "I think when we get through here the people will be well satisfied with the record of constructive legislation," said Taft, chairman of the Senate's Republican Policy Committee and a candidate for his party's presidential nomination. House Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana said the President "still demands bureaucratic price controls and rationing—those twin destroyers of production."

Draft Passage Is Delayed In House

Leaders Will Seek Action Wednesday

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—House leaders today gave up hope of passing a draft bill by nightfall and aimed for passage tomorrow instead. House Republican Leader Halleck (R-Ind) told newsmen "This bill is too important and too far-reaching to be rammed through in one day." Halleck said he will ask the House to meet early tomorrow so the bill can be disposed of then and sent to a Senate-House conference. Debate on the bill opened with a plea for the chairman of the rules committee for its defeat. The lead-off speaker, Rep. Allen (R-Ill), told the House he is sure that arguments during the debate will convince the members "that this is not a necessary or a good bill."

TEN DAY OLD BABY FOUND ON CREEK BANK—Nurse Betty Austin is shown holding a 10-day-old baby in Pueblo, Colo., found on the bank of a creek 20 hours after a flash flood hit the Pueblo region. Body of the mother, Mrs. Sam Clingen, was found four and one-half miles downstream. Hospital officials said the baby apparently suffered no ill effects from the flood or 20 hours without food, and exposure to rain, hail and cold night followed by eight hours of hot sun. Truman Veto Of Benefits Is Overridden

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—An overridden presidential veto today opened the way to large benefit payments to blind people and dependent children but barred federal old age pensions to some 750,000 job holders. Mr. Truman objected to the bill on the grounds (A) that the increased benefits were not high enough and (B) that more, rather than fewer, people should be brought under the social security program. Shortly before the veto message was read in the House, that chamber did vote to extend the program's coverage to some 3 1/2 million more persons—mostly employees of state and local government agencies and non-profit organizations. But that was far fewer than the number Mr. Truman wanted included. He had asked Congress to add 20 million persons to the 30 million now on the social security rolls. The House turned to the veto message soon after it was delivered. It voted 297 to 75—well over the required two-thirds—to override. A little more than three hours later, the Senate capped a brief but stormy debate by going along with the House, 85 to 12.

Martin Hospital Plans Progress

STANTON, June 15. (AP)—Only approval by the United States Public Health department remains to be hurdled in Martin county's quest for a new hospital plant. The state board of health Monday approved the application for a $65,000 federal aid grant to the Martin County Memorial hospital. This goes to the USPH for final approval. Jim Tom, general chairman of the fund raising campaign for the hospital, said that when final agreements have been signed with federal authorities, authorities will be in a position to let contracts for construction of the new 20-bed plant.

Russians Halt Autobahn Traffic

BERLIN, June 15. (AP)—The Russians halted traffic temporarily today on the autobahn linking Western Germany and Berlin. They said the stoppage was occasioned by closure of a bridge across the Elbe for repairs. Later they said signs for a detour around the bridge had not been completed and permitted traffic to continue. They did not say when the bridge would be closed for the repairs. The span is a makeshift structure built after the original bridge was destroyed in the war. Gen. Lucius D. Clay said last night the Americans would use the detour. "Even if they have to drive 300 more miles!" he was asked. "Yes, I cannot demand the United States go to war just because somebody has to drive 300 more miles."

SIAMESE HAVE LIVELY PARTY

BANGKOK, Siam, June 15. (AP)—Siam's tiger gang had a big party the other night and a rip-roaring time was had. The tiger gang is made up of the elite among Siam's professional thugs and delayed dispatches from Kancharaburi, west of here, said two leaders invited a thousand guests to attend a housewarming. Six yellow-robed Buddhist priests conducted services blessing the occasion. A contest was held to choose the best Siamese dancer. A gang leader was crowned the victor with a floral wreath—and then was shot through the head by a police lieutenant for his pains.

Warships To Crete

ATHENS, June 15. (AP)—Ten more American warships arrived yesterday at Suda Bay, Crete, as replacements for other U. S. warships in Greek waters. At present there are 24 American warships in Greek waters, the largest concentration here since the war.

'Pentagon Lethargy' Charged

LEADERS OF RESERVES LASH DISINTEGRATION OF FORCES

DENVER, June 15. (AP)—Leaders of the nation's reserves said today "Pentagon lethargy" has allowed a disintegration of U. S. military emergency forces. Brig. Gen. E. A. Evans (Reserve) of Washington, director of the Reserve Officers Association gathering here for its annual convention, said in an interview: "Our military leaders have been sitting for three years watching a highly-trained, combat-hardened reserve force disintegrate. The Army and Air Force have done absolutely nothing. The Navy has done something but not enough. They all have lost the cream of the enlisted men of World War II who joined the Reserves for a three-year hitch. The average Reserve officer is disgraced, his morale is way down. We have no real Reserve force which could be rallied for national defense in an emergency." Melvin Maas, former Minnesota congressman and a colonel in the Marine Corps Reserve, declared, "In the last war, 96 per cent of the fighting was done by civilians. Yet in peacetime today, less than two per cent of the armed forces' budgets is devoted to civilian defense activities." And William H. Neblett, ROA president and Reserve Air Force colonel from Richmond, Va., said, "The one thing our organization seeks is an overall policy which will give this country national security. That means plans to keep ready for use in event of a sudden attack, a well-trained, well-equipped civilian reserve. The men in the Pentagon have only parts of such a plan. They have been lethargic. You ask them when they will put such a policy into effect and they can't tell you."

PROBE REPORT

NBC, State Dept. Share 'Voice' Blame

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—A congressional committee said today that "unfortunate" broadcasts went out on the "Voice of America" because the State Department was "negligent" and the National Broadcasting Company failed to use "ordinary safeguards."

Houston May Be Site Of World's Tallest Building

HOUSTON, June 15. (AP)—The world's tallest building may be erected here, giving Texans a new tall tale that won't need to be stretched. Officials of the United Building Supply Company said yesterday they are considering the project. Their plans call for 140 stories 1,566 feet high. That would be a foot taller than the palace of the Soviets in Russia. It would dwarf New York's Empire State building by 116 feet. Murel Goodell, general manager, said the company has been getting opinions from leading businessmen throughout the country. Goodell said he expects to know definitely by the first of the year whether the project will be carried out. As the skyscraper is planned now, nearly everything about it would be on a "biggest" scale. Goodell said it would house "the world's largest department store, the world's largest theater, and the world's largest hotel."

Texas Demos Are Still Split

AUSTIN, June 15. (AP)—A Texas Democratic faction determined to go all the way in disavowing President Truman and his civil rights proposals refuses to admit defeat. This group kept the issue alive at yesterday's State Democratic Executive Committee meeting, where it took another beating on the question of submitting the civil rights matter to Democratic voters in a party referendum July 24. They went ahead with their surprise plan to press the matter, in the face of almost certain knowledge they were out-voted. Committee leaders held 23 proxies of absent members, which they cast against the civil rights referendum proposal. The states' rights faction had failed at the Brownwood convention to get a floor vote on the referendum. This irked its leaders, who said they had been promised a vote. The resolution for the referendum was killed in committee at Brownwood.

Zant Condition Now Improved

Condition of Dudley Zant of Vealmoor, injured in a fall from an 87-foot derrick west of Barnhart Sunday, was reported improved today. Young Zant suffered a shattered leg and a broken elbow in the fall, which apparently occurred as he began a descent from the top of the derrick. He was told he could probably be removed to Big Spring in a couple of weeks. Dudley's brother, Max, suffered a broken foot in an oil field accident here several weeks ago. The Zant boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. (Nathan) Zant of Borden county and the grandson of Mrs. Mae Zant, 808 Main street, Big Spring.

One-Day Strike Is Called In Turin

ROME, June 15. (AP)—Italy's biggest post-election strike began today. A one-day general stoppage, called by the Communist-led Chamber of Labor in the populous province of Turin, began at 6 a. m. The strike was called to protest against what labor said was police occupation of the Lancia Automobile Works. All workers, except those employed in hospitals or performing the "prime necessities" were idle.

Urge Swedish Pact

LONDON, June 15. (AP)—A Swedish informant said today the United States and Britain have urged Sweden to join a Scandinavian defense pact. He said the pact would be a member of the Royal Flying Corps. For 13 years he lived an almost normal life, physically speaking. In 1930, however, he became bedridden. Both his mother and wife died. By dealing in real estate and selling Christmas cards, he brought up his daughter and put her through college. Eight years ago he lost his right eye. He is in pain almost constantly. "When my lower jaw became paralyzed," he said the other day, "I had to learn to talk all over again with just my lips. For a while it was hard to tell what kind of a foreigner I was." He designed and had built last year a wheel-chair coach. It already has travelled thousands of miles around Nova Scotia taking paralyzed veterans, old people and crippled children to baseball games, county fairs, hockey matches and festivals. He now is embarked on a scheme to place 30 such buses across Canada and another 2,000 in the United States. To do this he is soliciting the help of private industry. He has written to 13,000 firms in Canada. Mr. Callow received a present himself recently: a new bed. It came from the Lions Club in Dallas, Tex. It is a special affair that rocks and enables him to get exercise, which he cannot feel.

Church Bells Ring In Nuevo Laredo Centennial Year

NUOVO LAREDO, Mex., June 15. (AP)—Church bells rang at midnight and torch-bearers raced to touch off a votive light in Juarez Plaza. Nuevo Laredo had entered its one-hundredth year. After the chiming bells quieted, the faithful gathered in Santo Nino de Atoche Church for a 15-minute exposition of the blessed sacrament. The votive light will burn throughout Nuevo Laredo's two-week centennial celebration. This city of 43,000, just across the Rio Grande from Laredo, Tex., is decked out in Mexico's national colors, red, green and white. The presidential staff band was to take part in today's program, along with the Guillermina Bravo ballet of the Instituto de Bellas Artes of Mexico City. Her gracious majesty Maria Teresa (Resendes) I will be coronated tonight in Plaza Hidalgo in front of the federal building. A ball will be held tomorrow night in honor of the queen and her court.

Water Consumption Figures Jump Here

Soaring temperatures have caused another jump in city water consumption figures, officials reported this morning. Although light showers Sunday produced a temporary decrease, Friday and Saturday volume amounted to more than 4,000,000 gallons a day. Sunday's total dropped to 3,478,000 gallons, but on Monday the volume had climbed back to 3,934,000 gallons.

Colorado City Is Using DDT Machine

After completing a busy period here the DDT fogging machine was carried to Colorado City this morning to help fight a heavy infestation of houseflies, officials reported. A request for use of the machine for a brief period was submitted by the Colorado City Junior chamber of commerce. For the past 10 days the apparatus has been in continuous operation in Big Spring.

Railmen Set Wage Demands

CHICAGO, June 15. (AP)—The wage committee of two railroad operating brotherhoods voted yesterday to demand a wage increase of 25 per cent from the nation's class carriers. Spokesmen for the unions, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors, said the demand will be served on the railroads on July 1 with the provision that the raise become effective on Aug. 1. They said the unions also expect to ask some other changes but these will be decided later. The two brotherhoods, which represent some 225,000 conductors, trainmen and yardmen, received a pay hike of 15 1/2 cents an hour and some other changes in a negotiated settlement last November. They are not involved in the present wage-rate dispute which led to government seizure of the railroads last month when a strike was threatened by three other operating unions—the engineers, the firemen and engine-men and the switchmen. The latter had rejected a 15 1/2 cents an hour pay boost.

British Fight Over Aid Terms

LONDON, June 15. (AP)—A Foreign Office official sidestepped parliamentary demands today to disclose "the iniquitous terms which the Yankees are demanding" in Britain's bilateral agreement on Marshall aid. Christopher P. Mayhew, under-secretary to the Foreign Office, urged the House of Commons "not to press for comment while negotiations are going on." He said this after John Platts-Mills (independent) demanded "assurance that in negotiating the bilateral agreement... he would not surrender to the European Recovery Program administrator the power to decide the rate of exchange of British currency or the right to veto or in any way to interfere with the British tariff policy and structure." Platts-Mills asked: "It is now high time the British people were told these iniquitous terms which the Yankees are demanding so that we can back up our negotiator in rejecting them?" There were cries of "answer" as Mayhew at first made no attempt to reply.

HOUSE COMPLETES ACTION Tariff Bill Sent To White House

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Congress passed and sent to the White House today a Republican-sponsored bill extending the reciprocal trade agreements act for one year with some changes in its provisions. The House completed congressional action, passing the tariff bill by voice vote after accepting amendments tacked on by the Senate in adopting the measure yesterday. In approving a one-year extension and changing provisions of the act, the Republican-dominated Congress again disregarded recommendations of President Truman. The administration had asked for a three-year extension of the reciprocal trade measure without changes. Unless Mr. Truman should veto the GOP-sponsored bill, it will revive the trade agreements act which expired last Saturday midnight. Urging renewal of the act on "an" basis, Secretary of State Marshall had told Congress any other action would cripple America's global economic leaders. The Republican-backed bill gives new authority to the Federal Tariff Commission to recommend "peril points" beyond which the commission feels the President should not go in making agreements. The commission would have to make such reports within four months after it is called upon to do so. The President could disregard these recommendations but would have to tell Congress why he did so within 30 days.

Texas Water Supplies Up

AUSTIN, June 15. (AP)—Slight improvement in Texas water supplies during May was reported today by the United States Department of the Interior. Runoff continued deficient in Southern Texas, however, the department's report said. Flow of the Delaware River near Red Bluff, N. M., which has been almost continuously record-low since June, 1947, increased notably as a result of rains during the last week in May, it was noted. Runoff on May 31 was 1,040 acre-feet, which was more than the total runoff for the entire period Oct. 1 to May 30. No significant changes were reported during the month in storage reserves in the major reservoirs. Medina Reservoir near San Antonio remained dry. Three reservoirs in the Trinity River basin in Northern Texas gained about 40,000 acre-feet and two Colorado River reservoirs gained about half as much, the report said. Small rises occurred in the headwaters of the Colorado River and on tributaries near San Angelo. Lake Nasworthy on the South Concho River was full, in contrast with the practically no-flow conditions which had prevailed in this area for eight to ten months.

Indians Peaceful Despite Rumors

NEW DELHI, June 15. (AP)—Police reported the Delhi area quiet today—rumored date for the outbreak of new communal disturbances. A few minor incidents occurred last night, but police quickly intervened. Tight security precautions were taken in this capital city and throughout Northwest India following persistent rumors that Hindus and Sikhs would clash with Moslems on June 15. In the Delhi area alone 220 arrests have been made. Cars are being searched on the outskirts of the city. Police have been posted at strategic areas. Patrols toured the city all night. Public officials have appealed for peace.

Missing Texarkana Girl Reported Seen

DEQUEEN, Ark., June 15. (AP)—A Texarkana girl missing since June 1 was reported to have been seen here Saturday night but disappeared again before police or her mother could contact her.

She is Miss Virginia Carpenter, 21, who went to Denton, Tex., June 1 to enroll at Texas State College for Women and had not been accounted for since.

A ticket agent at the Dequeen bus station, Mrs. Earl James, said a girl she later learned was Miss Carpenter stepped off a bus Sunday night, waited in the station a few minutes, met a young man and departed with him.

Mrs. James said a few minutes later a woman called and asked if "Miss Virginia Carpenter" was in the bus station.

The ticket agent did not know of the search for Miss Carpenter until she read of it in a Texarkana newspaper Saturday.

FBI Agent H. S. Hallett and Sheriff W. H. Pressley of Texarkana came here and showed Mrs. James two group pictures including pictures of Miss Carpenter. Mrs. James pointed out Miss Carpenter as the girl she had seen. Officers checked Dequeen rooming houses and hotels but none reported having the girl as a guest last night. Miss Carpenter is the daughter of Mrs. Hazel Carpenter of Texarkana.

E. C. Dodd, uncle of the missing girl, said he had talked with his sister, Mrs. Carpenter, Sunday and that she could give him no information beyond the fact that the Dequeen lead looked like a "hot tip." Dodd said that Virginia was definitely seen in Denton but that no trace of her had been found since then. Reward now is up to $1,600 for finding her, he said.

Gottwald Is Czech Head

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 15. (AP)—Klement Gottwald, a Communist, was elected president of Czechoslovakia yesterday.

Parliament, which numbers 214 Communists among its 300 members, chose him by acclamation to succeed Eduard Benes, who resigned the presidency a week ago yesterday.

Gottwald, who has been Czechoslovakia's premier since July 3, 1946, was the only candidate and thus became this nation's third president. Sixteen years ago he stood for the presidency against Thomas G. Masaryk, the country's first chief executive, but received only a handful of votes.

Anton Zapotocky, a trades union leader who has been the deputy premier, succeeds Gottwald as the cabinet head.

Spellman Gives Views On China

NEW YORK, June 15. (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman, returning here by plane Sunday night, said that in China he saw "a great many refugees from Communist persecution."

He said he saw "many priests expelled from their missions, which had been burned."

War tension in the Far East "is the same as it is all over the world," he said.

"Japan is peaceful and orderly, and the men in charge are pleased by the low crime rate," he added.

The Cardinal returned from Australia, where he attended the Diocesan Centenary Celebration at Melbourne.

Asks Materials For Austrian Youth Program

A Big Spring man who is serving with the armed forces overseas has asked people of his home town to help provide some materials for a youth program in the American Zone of occupation in Austria.

In a letter addressed to the local chamber of commerce Master Sgt. Virgil D. Evans said that since April, 1946, the U. S. Army has had, as part of its military mission, the active assistance of organized youth groups. As NCO in charge of the Austrian Youth Activities program for the First Battalion, 16th Inf. Regiment, Sgt. Evans now has four Austrian Scout troops and about 1,000 university students engaged in the program.

The Austrian youths would especially appreciate correspondence with youths in the United States, Sgt. Evans said. Letters should be addressed to M-Sgt. Virgil D. Evans, 1st Bn. 16th Inf. Regt., APO 777, in care of the postmaster, New York City.

Sgt. Evans also listed several items needed to continue operation of the program, such as Scout manuals, old Scout clothing, old tentage, books, magazines, old clothing, shoes, writing paper, pencils, crayons, water colors, vegetable seeds, ping pong balls, old hats, yarn, neck scarfs. The Army furnishes many materials, but cannot meet the pressing needs of the children, he explained.

SPECIAL GUARD POSTED

Boy Slayer Tries To Hang Himself

CHICAGO, June 15. (AP)—Guards were on 24-hour watch today at the Cook County jail cell of Roy Adams after the 14 year old confessed slayer of an eight-year-old girl attempted to hang himself yesterday.

Warden Frank Sain said the youth calmed down last night after having tantrums following failure to hang himself. He had thrown food in the face of an attendant and threatened to starve himself and also had beat his head against cell bars, Sain said. But later he ate his evening meal peacefully.

Sain said after Adams returned to his cell from the criminal court where he had pleaded innocent to a charge of murdering Nancy Schuler, 8, he had told a deputy sheriff, "They'll never get me back in a courtroom."

Alone in his cell, Sain said Adams looped his belt around his neck and a bunk support. The belt broke when the 165-pound youth stepped off the bunk.

In court, Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington ordered Adams be examined by the county behavior clinic and the hearing was continued to June 25.

Young Adams, in a signed statement, has said he smothered Nancy in his bedroom in the Adams apartment on May 27. Nancy lived across the hall from the Adams family on the city's northwest side.

Woman Is Held In Poison Case

CINCINNATI, June 15. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Clay Watts, whose husband and daughter died of poison, went before Mayor R. Edward Tepe yesterday for preliminary hearing on a charge of murder.

The 43-year-old, dark-eyed woman was charged Sunday in the death of her 11-year-old daughter, Barbara Ann. Barbara died May 15 after a several months-long illness of nausea and vomiting.

Questioned throughout yesterday, the calm, slender matron denied any connection with the deaths and answered many queries with the statement: "See my lawyer."

She refused to submit to a lie detector test.

Coroner Herbert P. Lyle ruled the girl's death a homicide about two weeks ago, and last week exhumed the body of her father, Willis, to determine the cause of his death. Pathologist reports showed the girl's body contained two types of poison, mercury and a barbiturate, and the father died of arsenic, Lyle disclosed.

Taft Backers See Chance For Pennsylvania Support

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Backers of Sen. Robert A. Taft claimed today that Gov. James H. Duff may try to swing Pennsylvania to the Ohioan if the GOP presidential boom for Sen. Arthur Vandenberg collapses.

Duff is reported to have told Taft last week he intends to do his best to get a large slice of Pennsylvania's 73 convention votes cast for Vandenberg, who says he isn't a candidate.

Haste Makes Waste Today

There is no more immediate example of haste making waste than Congress and its half-bent-for-election adjournment shaping up for Saturday.

Numbers of important measures, debated and fought laboriously over months and months of time, may die on the calendar simply because the solons want to go to the national Republican convention.

There is some advantage of working under the press of deadline, for under such circumstances many things can be brought to a head. This, unhappily, is more apt to be true of individual or business situations than it is with legislative processes. There is no body in the world which is such a great slave to rules and tradition than is Congress, and heaven and earth may pass away before one lot of these may be changed even in the public interest.

Who are we to protest this rigid procedure? Little good it would do. Congress is a slave to its rules and to its calendar, and many measures, including the oleomargarine repeal, tidelands measure, farm programs and even the highly controversial bills dealing with poll taxes, communists and lynching, may perish in the rush.

It seems if these bills were worth spending months of time for hearings multiplied thousands of dollars of the taxpayers' money, they ought to be important enough to merit a vote, whatever the outcome of that vote might be. Alas, conventions are more important.

County Faces Road Problem

Howard county has received official word from the state highway department regarding its lateral road program.

The state proposes to do two things: 1) Enter into an agreement to construct 12.2 miles of new lateral road under the so-called "75-25" plan whereby the county pays 75 per cent of an estimated $90,000 cost, and the state pays 25 per cent, furnishes engineering and supervision and agrees to accept and maintain when completed; 2) to take over some 26.7 miles of existing paved lateral road.

There is, however, a little proviso. Tersely, it is this: That the county furnish an 80-foot right-of-way for all these roads, existing and contemplated.

This sounds simple, for perhaps not over four or five miles would be involved, but it is not so simple. For one thing, the county likely is so straining at the traces to meet its obligations with the state under the 75-25 agreement. A certain amount of expense is certain in eliminating right-angle turns. There may be other incidental expenses.

In the past, property owners have been cooperative in furnishing roadway without cost for widening projects since only negligible amounts of land and virtually no damage is involved. How well this tradition is followed now may have a pronounced effect on the county's course in relation to the state proposals.

It is estimated that a human blood stream contains 85 trillion red cells.

The human body contains approximately 25,000 miles of capillaries, the smallest vessels used by the circulatory system.

Red cells bring oxygen to the tissues of the human body.

Despite territorial losses since World War II, the British Commonwealth of Nations still has more than half a billion people and covers some 13,000,000 square miles.

Approximately 3,000,000 people live on the South Sea Islands of the Pacific.

SPECIAL FEARS FIND DWELLING IN CITY HEARTS

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, June 15. (AP)—Fear has a home in you. It has a home in every man.

Fear is a color—yellow. Fear has a taste—and men in war know its acrid flavor. Fear is a hand clutching at your throat, or squeezing your vitals.

People who live in big cities have fears all their own. These fears came with the cities, and will pass perhaps only when the cities are gone.

One of the strangest big-city fears is that of being hit by something falling. It is a fear that becomes stronger with many persons the longer they live amid Manhattan's high canyon walls.

What could hurt them? Icicles crashing down hundreds of feet from skyscraper towers in winter. A window-washer's bucket slipping from a ledge. Lighted cigar stubs tossed from a high window. A flower pot falling from a penthouse farmer's garden. Miscellaneous objects thrown from upper-level apartments by quarrelling couples or playful children.

There is a long chance here that a person afraid to live can hurtle down in a suicidal plunge and kill someone below who is afraid to die. This indeed is a strange meeting of fears. But it has happened more than once in this metropolis where strange things are the rule.

Perhaps the greatest fear among women is to walk a dark street alone. A wave of "muggings"—robberies by prowlers who choke their victims—creates terror in millions of hearts.

The fear of being lonely here is common, but it has a terrible quality in New York, because it is always worse to be lonely in a crowd.

The fear here isn't what your neighbor may think of you, but rather that he'll try to become friendly—and expect something from you.

But the fear of fears in this market place of the world, where every kind of talent seeks a buyer, is the fear of failure—the fear of falling behind the mob that clamors for what you seek. This is the fear that makes the human race—so hard.

Unsought U. S. Power

BY SIGRID ARNE
For James Marlow
WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—The Sam can virtually dictate which nations build what industries and when.

He can pass on everything Europe wants to buy here. He can send stuff to Western Europe which he denies to Russia and her satellites.

He can decide whether Europe or Latin America gets stuff that is scarce—like power-generating equipment. He can decide between Europe and the Far East.

He could cut off help to Western Europe if it should sell anything to Russia which the Soviets could use for war.

He has left one gate open. Canada can buy anything she wants. For good or evil, the U. S. must make the decisions: Whether world markets can stand one more textile mill in France, whether Brazil needs power lines worse than Austria.

This unsought power stems from the fact that only American factories to date can pour out the flood of goods the world wants. The need to make intelligent choices on where to send these goods has had government trade experts down to shirt sleeves and black coffee for months. They have just about jelled a system. Here's how the system works:

1. There is a list of 400 commodities which are so scarce (mostly raw materials such as wheat and steel) that every ton leaving the country must have an export license for anywhere in the world.

2. Men shipping to Western Europe (Marshall Plan nations) must have a license to ship anything at all. This is so France will get a locomotive (which she needs) and not a carload of nylon (which French women may want but which the nation doesn't need).

3. Men shipping to the Russian bloc can ship nothing that could be used for war. What's more, the nations we're helping are not allowed to ship anything of the sort to Russia.

This list of "war potential" goods includes mostly heavy machinery, 4. Men who ship to Latin America, the Far and Middle East need licenses only for the 400 scarce items. But Secretary of State Marshall has told the Latins that Europe must be some first for a while because peace in Europe is important to us all.

5. Then there are a few special restrictions—The Atomic Energy Commission can deny sales of anything to do with that bomb to any nation in the world.

The Munitions Board decides who gets our arms and ammunition. The Treasury says who gets our gold and narcotics.

The average American roach grows to about 1 1/2 inches long and has a normal life span of about 14 months.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Last-Minute Bell Kills Education Bill In Maneuver By Missourian

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON. — Congressman Edward McCowen, Ohio Republican, who has fathered the federal-aid-to-education bill in the House, moved, in a closed-door meeting recently, to call a special session of the Education and Labor Committee in order to report the bill out of committee.

He started speaking at 11:59 a. m. Before he finished his motion, the bells rang out the notice that congress had convened at 12 noon. Technically committees are not supposed to meet while the House is in session, although it is accepted practice to wind up the pending business before adjournment.

But big Max Schwabe, Missouri Republican, didn't give McCowen a chance.

"Mr. Chairman, the House is now in session," he shouted, jumping to his feet. "It is illegal for the committee to sit while the House is in session. I move that we adjourn."

As the meeting broke up, New York's Congressman Ralph Gwinn rushed over to Schwabe, slapped him on the back and congratulated him for his parliamentary maneuver. What Schwabe did was to kill any chance of bringing the education bill to a test vote, since the committee has only one final meeting day before Congress is supposed to adjourn.

Afterward, Speaker Joe Martin breathed a sigh of relief. For Schwabe's action in bottling up the education bill gets Joe and others off the hook. They can continue to blame the Education and Labor Committee.

NOTE—Last week this column reported Rep. Kelley, Pennsylvania Democrat, as opposed to the education bill because it did not aid church schools. Mr. Kelley now points out that he has introduced a bill giving $5,000,000 aid to non-public schools, but that he is for the education bill in any event. Also, Rep. Buck, New York Republican, who was described as being for the education bill if he had the courage to vote against House G. O. P. leaders, now emphatically proclaims that he would be against the bill under any and all circumstances.

TAFT VS. MARTIN
Senator Taft called at Speaker Martin's office last week with a long list of bills that should be given a hearing before Congress adjourns. He pointed out that it would be bad politics to leave any of these important bills in mid-air. "We can't make it by June 19," Taft pleaded.

But Martin, now a definite candidate for the GOP nomination against Taft, was unimpressed. "We can make it over here," he shrugged, referring to the House side of the capitol. "If you aren't ready to quit on time, that's your concern."

Martin suggested longer hours and harder work, added that nothing on the list was important enough to bring Congress back again.

NOTE — Afterward, Martin admitted to Republican congressmen at a private dinner-meeting that the Senate was at a disadvantage because it couldn't control filibusters. If it was necessary for Congress to return, however, he said he preferred to wait until both political conventions are over. Taft has suggested calling Congress back between the conventions.

TIPS FROM TRUMAN TRAIN
President Truman himself is good-natured and philosophical about everything on his tour, ban-dies jokes with local citizens. . . . In Idaho, he told about a soldier he met in the guardhouse up in Maine during the war. The soldier, he said, was an Idaho G. I. who "preferred the guardhouse to being forced to peel Maine potatoes. . . . In Butte, Montana, Truman was serenaded before his talk by the local high-school band, pride of the community. When he got up to talk, Truman asked the band to play one more number, first saying he was sure most of the crowd came to hear the cracker-jack band rather than him. It went over big.

Truman is a good sport at all times. He rode 200 miles in an open car over dusty roads through sparsely settled Idaho. . . . At Sun Valley he was the answer to a press agent's prayer. He posed at skeet-shooting, fly-casting, even dangled 50 feet above the ground by a thin cable from the Sun Valley Ski lift to the horror of secret service men. . . . Press Agent Steve Hannegan hoped for some good publicity pictures, but when Truman went through every stunt in the "cheese-cake routine," Hannegan chartered a private plane to fly the pictures all the way back to New York.

REAL-ESTATE LOBBY DIES HARD
G. O. P. friends of the real-estate lobby tried a smart, last-minute maneuver to try to block the housing bill.

Noticing that only four or five Democratic members of the House Banking and Currency Committee were present, G. O. P. Congressman Clarence Kilburn of Malone, N. Y., quickly moved to report out the Wolcott bill minus public housing, slum clearance, and other humanitarian features of the original Taft-Elliender-Wagner bill. "I object," declared Democrat

Wright Patman of Texas. "Some of our colleagues are not present. We should have time to run them out so that they can vote on this."

"It's now 20 minutes to 2 o'clock," ruled Wolcott from the chair. "You can have until 2 o'clock to produce absent members. We vote then."

Representative Boggs of Louisiana and Mike Monroney of Oklahoma jumped into action, rounded up Democratic colleagues and all eleven were on hand to help defeat the Kilburn motion, 14 to 13, with the support of three Republicans—Hull of Wisconsin, Stratton of Illinois and Scott of Pennsylvania.

G. O. P. Congressman Frank Sundstrom of East Orange, N. J., then moved that loans to farm housing be deleted. This put Scott, a city man from Philadelphia, on the spot.

But Scott fooled his G. O. P. colleagues by voting "present," thus defeating the motion by a 13-10-3 tie vote. Again, Republicans Hull and Stratton, both with many farm voters, voted with the Democrats. However the desperate Republicans didn't give up. Representative John Kunkel of Harrisburg, Pa., demanded a reconsideration of the vote, still hoping Scott would switch back to the Republicans.

"Gentlemen's motion is out of order," hotly contended Boggs of Louisiana.

Chairman Wolcott agreed that Boggs was right, Kunkel was ruled out of order.

NOTE—Besides Republicans Stratton, Hull and Scott, who put their country's welfare above party policy, Democrats who deserve a major share of the credit for forcing House action on public housing are Representatives Boggs, Patman, and Helen Gahagan Douglas of California.

Montgomery Is Hunting For Unknown Actress

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—The currently tight market for film actresses is forcing Robert Montgomery to hunt for an unknown as his next co-star.

"I've canvassed Hollywood," he said on the "June Bride" set, and the handful of girls who could play the role are either too expensive or tied up with contracts. "He's seeking a special type to appear in his next comedy, 'Come Be My Love.'"

"I'm tired of building up actresses in my films, only to have studios hire them away from me," he remarked. "Wanda Hendrix and Aubrey Tozer were both virtually unknown before I used them. Now if I could get them at all, they would cost me a fortune. The next girl I hire will be put under my contract."

Mary Pickford is off to meet Buddy Rogers in New York. They'll take a three-month vacation in Europe. Mary is taking a secretary along and she plans to dictate her memoirs en route. It should be a fascinating volume.

The Eddy-MacDonald reunion may yet take place. Joe Pasternak is reported preparing a remake of his old Deanna Durbin film, "It's A Date." It is being tailored for Jeanette, Nelson and Jane Powell.

NO SURRENDER AND NO TREATY IN WAR SORROW

BY WILLIAM C. BARNARD

For the sorrows of war, there's no surrender; for its tears, no treaty.

Mrs. A. J. Herron, a Texas woman who now lives in Australia, gave four sons to the services and her husband spent the war years in Europe as an essential civilian.

The youngest son, Jack C. Herron, grew up in Dallas and was an 18-year-old sophomore at Texas A. & M. when he decided in 1943 to join the Air Corps. He had to get his parent's signed consent. "I feel that I'm signing your death warrant," the father, an oil executive said, shaking his head. Jack, tall, handsome and red-headed, laughed, and handed his father a fountain pen.

Jack was commissioned at 19 and shipped to Italy where he became the radar man and observer on one of the 12th Air Force's night-fighter planes. By 1945 he had completed dozens of missions. His pilot on the missions was Lt. Wesley E. Kangas, a Californian.

Jack wrote his mother every day. On April 20, 1945 he sent her a Mother's Day card, a picture of three roses. The war was going well for the Allies, he thought. "It looks like the beginning of the end," he told his mother.

Two days later, at 11 a. m., Herron and Kangas took off from Pisa Air Base on a strafing mission. They did not return. The advancing Fifth Army found the burned plane and two bodies on a farm in the Po valley. The bodies were buried in a military cemetery 200 miles east of Genoa, Italy.

A year later, Mr. and Mrs. Herron moved from Dallas to Australia. Last winter Mrs. Herron read that the bodies of American war dead would be sent home. It had been the fervent wish of the parents that the body of Jack be brought back to Texas.

Mrs. Herron left Sydney, alone, Feb. 16, to be in Dallas when her son's remains would reach that city. She took a Norwegian ship that would go to America the long way—via the Suez Canal—in order that she might stop at Genoa, A. J. Herron's hometown, and at the military cemetery where she learned that the Army had never been able to determine which was the body of Herron and which the body of Kangas.

There were the two graves. One was marked: "Lt. Jack C. Herron or Lt. Wesley E. Kangas." The other was marked: "Lt. Wesley E. Kangas or Lt. Jack C. Herron."

Mrs. Herron's journey to Texas was slow—she reached Dallas the 21st of last month. There, at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Joseph Carden, she found a letter from the War Department. It explained that unless the body of a soldier could be positively identified, it is the rule of the Army to return it to America for reburial in a military cemetery—that it cannot be returned to the probable relatives for private burial.

The letter added that the remains of Herron and Kangas were being exhumed in an effort at positive identification.

Last night, Mrs. Herron had received another letter from the War Department, saying that the effort at identification had failed. There would be no return to Texas for Jack, the letter said in effect. The thin, 56-year-old brown-eyed mother could not keep back the tears.

"I have come all this way," she told us. "I don't know what I will do now."

Affairs Of The World

Reds' Game In Palestine

BY CLARKE BEACH

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—What is Russia's game in Palestine?

For many years the Soviets were anti-Zionist. Now they have recognized the new state of Israel.

Both of these diametrically-opposed policies follow a consistent USSR program, according to a report published by the House Foreign Affairs Committee. The author was Sidney Glazer, acting chief of the Near East section of the Library of Congress.

The USSR policy throughout, says the report, has been "the weakening of the British Middle East empire from within."

This is the story the report tells: While Britain strove to find a peaceful way to establish a Jewish homeland in Palestine, the Soviets opposed it. Arabs were encouraged to resist the growth of the Jewish community.

The party line, according to a comintern open letter of Nov. 26, 1930, was that "Zionism is the exponent of . . . the Hebrew bourgeoisie. . . a weapon of British imperialism."

A reversal of the Soviet attitude became apparent after the British issued their white paper in 1939 proposing that an independent Palestine state be created within 10 years but that in the meantime Jewish immigration and land purchases be limited.

Zionists turned hostile to the British and the Russians recognized them as potential allies.

In May 1947 Andrei A. Gromyko, Russia's UN representative, announced the USSR would support partition if no other solution of the Palestine problem proved feasible.

They will find, I believe, that the key to the mystery is that while the European Recovery Program has been "justified" by a torrent of statistics, in fact this extraordinary enterprise, unique in the history of the world, will have to be justified by intangible, uneconomic, political and moral results. The American people hope, of course, that production will rise, that trade will increase, that inflation will be mastered, and that the balance of payments will be righted. But what they are really looking for are signs which they can take seriously that a new Europe is in the making.

It is because signs of that kind are lacking that even the first appropriation for E. C. A. is in danger. For the Martin-Taber attack reflected so much the strength of the opposition to the recovery program as it did the lack of strong conviction on the part of its supporters.

Around The Rim—By The Herald Staff

When Girl Has Twin Brother

Along about this time of year, when the farmers are busy planting crops, worrying about the amount of rainfall and the growth of weeds, I am reminded of my childhood which was spent on the farm.

I am one of those creatures who has a twin brother and I must say that being a girl with a twin brother has its drawbacks. As such I thought that I should and could do everything that he could do. It took me many years to learn that I was a member of the weaker sex and my skills were different from his.

To us, at the age of six, field work was the most exciting thing that we knew, for of course we were not allowed to do it. On one occasion, we begged mother so hard to let us chop the cotton that was near the house that she let us, telling us before we started that we had to stay busy for the remainder of the afternoon.

The fact that she had finally consented was a great victory but the rider on the consent was something else again, especially after we had started because the cotton was full of tiny weeds and the rows were long or seemed so to us.

Being what Derrell, my twin brother, called a sissy, I naturally stayed behind and could not keep up with him—I thought that he left too many weeds, so began fussing at him. I had to stay up some way, but when that brought forth no more than a rebuffed effort to stay in front of me, I started to leaving more and more weeds just to keep up with him. By the time we got to the end of the first row of cotton, I was hitting at a weed only every once in awhile and was practically running. On the return trip toward the house, I gave up all pretense of chopping weeds and began running; but my ability to run did not compare with Derrell's, so I began to cry. Mother could not imagine what I had happened to us. We were running so fast I was letting out such screams, that she ran out to see what was the matter.

Her concern of our welfare grew less and less as she obtained the story from us. I spent the remainder of the afternoon, not chopping the cotton, for she would not let us return, but in being reminded that I "was the cause of it all."

I suppose that my sister found fault with one of us, and told the other one about it, for the first thing that we knew, we were allied in an attack on her, as was the usual procedure. How she survived all of those many gang fights with the two of us against her, I often wonder.

Having a twin brother also had its compensations, I suppose, but to my way of thinking we received more spankings than most children, because we just naturally got into more trouble as there were two of us to think it up and what one did, the other always assisted when it came to mischievous deeds.—BILLIE BURRELL

Today And Tomorrow

General Overhaul For ECA Program

"Until then I beg of you," said Senator Vandenberg, "that you give E. C. A. a fair chance." Until when? Until "next January, when we shall know whereof we speak. When the second annual appropriation impends, we shall know what kind of job Administrator Hoffman and his staff are doing. We shall know to what extent self-help and mutual cooperation are meeting our expectations."

Though these words were part of Senator Vandenberg's appeal to Congress to honor a solemn commitment, they carry with them an urgent warning to the leading governments of Europe and also to the President and the Department of State. It is a warning that the continuation of E. C. A. is not assured by the original authorization, nor will it be if the Martin-Taber raid is repeated. It is notice that "a general overhaul," as Mr. Vandenberg put it—that is to say a general reconsideration of the basic policy—will be undertaken by the next Administration and the next Congress. It will be undertaken not merely by the enemies of E. C. A. but by its strongest supporters—who will then "know to what extent self-help and mutual co-operation are meeting our expectations."

No doubt six months—for that is what it comes to—will seem like an exceedingly short time in which to prove that E. C. A. should be continued. But if the European governments, and particularly the British and French make a serious effort to understand the real attitude of this country, they will know what kind of action on their part will in fact meet American "expectations."

They will find, I believe, that the key to the mystery is that while the European Recovery Program has been "justified" by a torrent of statistics, in fact this extraordinary enterprise, unique in the history of the world, will have to be justified by intangible, uneconomic, political and moral results. The American people hope, of course, that production will rise, that trade will increase, that inflation will be mastered, and that the balance of payments will be righted. But what they are really looking for are signs which they can take seriously that a new Europe is in the making.

It is because signs of that kind are lacking that even the first appropriation for E. C. A. is in danger. For the Martin-Taber attack reflected so much the strength of the opposition to the recovery program as it did the lack of strong conviction on the part of its supporters.

Mrs. Jean Marie Faircloth MacArthur, after 11 years of marriage to the famous general, never has been interviewed. She is a daughter of a Murfreesboro, Tenn., banker-business man.

On a trip to the Orient in the 1920's Miss Faircloth met Mrs. Arthur MacArthur, the general's mother, who introduced her to the general.

She was born in Nashville, went to Soule College and the Ward-Belmont school. Her most notable friend is Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh. She became the second wife of Gen. MacArthur in the Municipal Building of New York City in 1937. She remained with her husband during the siege of Corregidor and went with him to Australia in a speedboat and plane.

Plans For Membership Drive Of STHA Are Outlined Monday Night

Plans were discussed at the meeting of the Big Spring Federation of Women's Clubs Monday evening at the Howard County Junior College for the ticket sales of the Southern Town Hall Association.

Miss Wall of the Southern Town Hall in Dallas will be in Big Spring to supervise the drive. Each member club of the Federation are asked to have at least three members present at the breakfast and it is up to the president of the club to designate that many and as many more as will come.

Negro Declares Pressure Keeps Him From School

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 15. (AP)—A 34-year-old Negro waiter said he had decided against entering the Langston University School of Law for Negroes yesterday because of "pressure."

His entrance would have given the school its first student since its organization last January. The state opened the school when the United States Supreme Court ruled Oklahoma had to provide equal educational facilities for Negroes.

The waiter, T. M. Roberts of Oklahoma City, said last Tuesday he would enroll. His application was approved by Dean Jerome Henry. The school's summer classes were scheduled to start today.

Roberts said he made his decision against entering after a four-hour meeting with an unnamed group yesterday.

"The pressure was more than I could take," he said. "I've bucked the church, the fraternal organizations and the man in the street since I said I was going. And I know the pressure wouldn't let up when I got started."

The Supreme Court ruling came as a result of efforts of Mrs. Ada Lois Fisher, 24-year-old Langston graduate, who sought to enter the all-white University of Oklahoma law school at Norman.

She twice was denied entrance. She filed a second suit in district court protesting the Langston school was not equal to the University of Oklahoma school. A ruling is now pending.

Broncs Edge Del Rio, 4-2; Move Into Angelo Tonight

O'Dowdy Loses Gory Decision To Big Train

Patrick O'Dowdy's first wrestling appearance at the Big Spring Athletic club Monday night might have been his last—he's the promoter, you know—but at least he gave a jam packed house something to remember him by.

The Irishman was beaten in a three-fall match by burly Ray Clements of Lubbock but not before probably the goriest match ever seen here.

Both tin-ears were bleeding like stuffed pigs before it was over. Clements brought claret to O'Dowdy's eye-brows first by getting him into a corner and using his right arm for a club.

If that wasn't enough to make anyone queasy inside, O'Dowdy came back later and cut the Big Train about the face and head with slashing blows.

The seto resembled a waterfront brawl more than it did a wrestling match and Referee Billy Sandow might as well not have been around for all the influence he had on the pair.

O'Dowdy was the first fat with a complicated arm lock. Clements the last two with body smotherers.

In the opener, Billy Hickson of Knoxville, Tenn. and George Lopez, Tampico, Mexico, went to an hour's draw.

Locals Return Home Friday

DEL RIO, June 15—Big Spring's Broncs kept within striking distance of the league leading Midland Indians by thumping the rejuvenated Del Rio Cowboys, 4-2, in ten innings here Monday night.

The Cayuses were outhit, 10-6, and none of their blows were for extra bases.

George Cox kept Del Rio in the ball game with a home run. Sam Harshaney collected three of the Waddies' hits, two of them doubles.

Jake McClain banged out a brace of assties for Big Spring.

The Steeds move to San Angelo today where they open a three game series with Pepper Martin's Colts.

They return home Friday with the Vernon Dusters as their guests.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Barring mishap, misery in the back or another scorpion bite, Jake McClain of Our Town may shatter the Longhorn baseball league's stolen base record this year.

With the campaign a little more than one third gone, the Bronc second sacker has pilfered 23 sacks. The league mark of 50 was established by Rex Pearce of Odessa last year.

Before the first game of the season, McClain announced a determination to lead the league in base thefts without knowing what Pearce's mark was. At the rate he's going, he could register 70 steals.

Gasper Del Toro set the club mark in stolen bases last year when he swiped 37. Orlando Moreno was not far behind with 28. McClain himself stole only 11 times.

BOBBY DECKER SET ALL TIME RECORD BACK IN 1939
The all-time Big Spring record in stolen bases is held by Bobby Decker of the 1939 WT-NM league team. Decker, who is now with Pensacola, Fla., in the Southeastern League, snatched 67 hssocks that season, establishing a record that still stands in that circuit.

THIEF KNOWS RIGHT WAY IF HE CAN MAKE IT
Take it from George White, who played some good baseball around 20 years ago, a good base thief generally knows on the first step on his jaunt down the next station whether or not he is going to make the trip.

George says he's seen many a good runner turn back to first after starting an apparent steal of the middle station, that a sixth sense will tell him that something is wrong.

McCLAIN READY TO CHALLENGE CALOI OR ANYONE
McClain, incidentally, is set to wage a duel with George Caloi of the Del Rio club or anyone else in the circuit for base stealing honors. Caloi started out like a house afire but now trails the Big Springer by some ten thefts.

Jake isn't neglecting his hitting, not by any means. He says he's just now beginning to feel good at the dish and expects his average to spiral between now and Labor Day.

The Bronc second sacker clouted at a .359 clip last year, drove in a respectable 89 runs.

MILES SMITHHART PLAYED WINTER BALL ON COAST
Miles Smithhart, the San Angelo second sacker who performed for Ballinger last year, was active in winter baseball in California.

AL MATOS PINCH HITTER IN NATIVE CUBA
Al Matos, who participated in that wild struggle with San Angelo the other night—the one in which Pepper Martin and Armando Traspuesto squared away—a pinch hitter on one of the winter league clubs in his native Cuba.

He looks fair with the stick.

Another of the Big Spring-hurlers, Larry Shaw, bats from either side of the dish but his hits have come few and far between.

Muny Managers Meet Thursday
Managers of the newly formed Muny softball league will gather at the Settles hotel at 7:30 p. m. Thursday to dispose of impending business.

Among the things which must be discussed are the appointment of umpires, the by-laws and constitution. In addition, managers will post $5 forfeit fees at that time.

If managers cannot attend, they can appoint someone to act in their places.

Oilers Advance On Lead Spot With 4-3 Win
By HAROLD V. PARTLIFF
By The Associated Press
Tulsa's Oilers were wallowing in the Texas League cellar on May 5. They weren't expected to improve their status appreciably.

Today those same Oilers, described as a general mixture of players from other Texas League clubs, are hurrying toward the top. Guiding them in a dramatic drive that has them leaping at the heels of the Fort Worth Cats, who are in second place, is Al Vincent, the guy Dallas fired last year when his club didn't win the pennant.

Just six percentage points out of the runner-up slot are the Oilers today. They actually are one-half game away. And they are only two games behind front-running Houston.

Last night the Oilers whipped Shreveport 4-3 while Houston and Fort Worth obligingly were losing their games.

Houston fell to Dallas 11-3 while Fort Worth took it on the chin from San Antonio 3-2.

In the other game of the night cellar-dwelling Oklahoma City strapped Beaumont 9-4.

Grapette Wins From Mixers
Grapette's Bottlers and the Big Spring Vocational school scored victories in the initial round of Muny softball league at the city park Monday night.

Grapette thrashed the West Texas Sand and Gravel company Ready-Mixers, 12-1, while Big Spring Vocational school was taking care of T & P Motor Transport, 8-7.

T & P Shop team and McKee's Construction swing into action for the first time Friday. They play at 7:30 o'clock. The second contest will pit the Ready Mixers against Motor Transport.

Marshall Keeps Lone Star Club
TYLER, June 15.—The transfer of the Marshall baseball franchise from E.R. (Gabby) Lusk to a group of Marshall business men after Lusk met financial trouble was ratified early today by Lone Star League club owners.

The meeting was called last night by George W. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues. It lasted until 1 a. m. today.

Trautman called the session after trustees of the Marshall club charged a breach of contract and questioned methods used to reach an appraisal figure.

A group of business men headed by Willard Coker took over the franchise. Coker became club president. Eleven player contracts went to the new owners with the franchise.

Trautman said all obligations, including players' salaries, incurred before June 3 would be assumed by Lusk and all after that by the new owners.

They were given permission to buy all equipment owned by the former operators, including uniforms, balls and bats. An appraisal board will fix the price in 10 days.

R. W. Burnett, Gladewater oil man who owns the Dallas club of the Texas League and Texarkana of the Big State League, attended the meeting. Burnett owned the club's equipment. He withdrew it and Marshall had to forfeit a game. The club has been playing in uniforms borrowed from Tyler since then.

The old group will get all money from box seats and advertising.

Tribe, Braves Prove Most Successful Under Lights

HARRY BRECHEEN
... Five of Six

The Cleveland Indians and Boston Braves owe their lofty standing in the major leagues to their exemplary behavior after dark.

The Indians, leading the American League by three games with a .689 percentage, also own the best night game record of any club. Led by their ace, Bob Lemon, the Tribe has won eight and lost two arc light games for an .800 percentage.

The Detroit Tigers also show an .800 percentage, but have played only five night games. Tonight they play their first night game in history at home.

The Braves, tied with the New York Giants for first place in the tight National League pennant race, have won nine and lost four at night. .892 gatt. That is exactly 178 percentage points better than their daylight won and lost record. Only the Philadelphia Phillies, winners of eight of 11, boast a better record in the senior circuit.

Here is how the teams have fared at night:

American League—Cleveland 8-2; Detroit 4-1; Philadelphia 7-4; Washington 11-11; New York 2-3; St. Louis 6-8; Boston 2-3; Chicago 1-7.

National League—Philadelphia 8-3; Boston 9-4; New York 4-3; Chicago 2-2; St. Louis 9-10; Brooklyn 6-7; Cincinnati 2-5; Pittsburgh 3-7.

The best night pitcher in the majors has been Harry Brecheen. The Cardinal southpaw has won five and lost only one. His lifetime record under the lights is a sensational 34-10. He boasted a 29-9 mark prior to this season.

Other National League pitchers with impressive night game records this season include Boston's Johnny Sain (4-1), Brooklyn's Joe Hatten (3-0) and the Giants' Sheldon Jones (3-0).

George (Red) Mungler of the Cardinals and Johnny Vander Meer of the Cincinnati Reds have been least effective under the lights.

Each has lost three games without winning.

Tigers Defeat Angelo, 11-2

John Blanco, formerly with the Big Spring Broncs, pitched the Big Spring Latin-American baseball Tigers to an 11-2 victory over the San Angelo Greyhounds here Sunday afternoon, scattering eight hits.

The visitors took a brief lead in the first inning, scoring one run, but the Bengals came back to tally twice and were never headed thereafter.

Blanco struck out only four but he was tight in the clutches.

Rodriguez set a fine example at bat for Big Spring, lashing out three hits in four expeditions. The Big Springers collected 13 blows in all.

The contest was interrupted for more than half an hour by sand and rain.

Howard County Poet Will Have Verse Published

A poem, representing the first published work of Jack M. Thomas, Knott, is due to be included in a forthcoming collection of poems and songs.

His verse, "In Behalf of Our Dead Heroes," was chosen to be included in the Yalliant House (684 Ave. of Americas, New York 10) issue of the "Important American Poets and Songwriters of 1948."

"You could call it my first experience in publication," observed Thomas, "even though there have been several publishers from California to Chicago, New York and England who have wanted my material." Some wanted to handle it on a percentage basis, he said, and some wanted to record his songs.

Thomas entered his poem in a contest to determine which ones would be included in the Yalliant House volume. He was proud of being author of one of the pieces selected.

Writing is not a new experience for Thomas, for he has been at it off and on, for his own enjoyment, for 20 years.

"Poetry and lyrics are very easy for me," he explained. "I can take almost any subject and make a poem or lyric for a song. I feel that I am like a lot of other authors—all I need is a little help to get started."

Thomas has lived in Howard County for 25 years. He resides two and a half miles northeast of Knott and is a graduate of Knott high school.

COAL TALKS BREAK OFF

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Soft coal operators today broke off contract negotiations with John L. Lewis, saying they were "getting nowhere."

Rotarians Hear Trinidad Cano

Much is being done now to promote neighborliness between the United States and Mexico, Trinidad Cano told the Rotary club Tuesday.

In the past there have been blunders in relationships between the two countries, and at times Mexican interests pumping ammunition to both sides during revolutions did not improve good feeling, he added.

However, the late President Roosevelt inaugurated an era of good will and resulted in the first visit of a Mexican president to the United States, Cano continued.

Schools are doing their part in promoting understanding, he said, and voiced a hope for "liberty, justice and peace for all."

Cano told he had fought against obstacles to get through high school and later college only to be told, on his return home, that "we don't employ Mexicans."

He said he came to Big Spring where he could get a job and was "proud to be a citizen of the U. S. and of Big Spring."

Visiting Rotarian was Jerry Phillips, Patillo, Calif., and other visitors were Walter Phillips, Big Spring, Ralph Langley, Fort Worth, and Ted Smith, Abilene.

INJUNCTIONS' WAKE

Maritime Strike Threat Is Fading

NEW YORK, June 15. (AP)—The threat of an immediate nationwide maritime strike petered out today in the wake of injunctions obtained by federal attorneys in New York, Cleveland and San Francisco.

The CIO National Maritime Union, largest of seven unions involved in disputes with shipowners, was the first to capitulate to a court order.

Union officers sent out instructions to all members directing that they obey an order from Federal Judge John W. Chaney in New York ordering both sides in the dispute to maintain the status quo for a period of 10 days, with a further hearing set for June 18.

Judge Chaney's order covered the East and Gulf Coasts. Similar orders covering the West Coast and the Great Lakes were issued by federal judges in San Francisco and Cleveland.

In San Francisco, five maritime unions last night denounced the restraining order as "a straight-out strike-breaking attempt for which President Truman must take full and odious responsibility."

Although the unions did not immediately rescind strike instructions, there were unofficial indications that the court order would be obeyed. The unions pledged a "fight to have this restraining order lifted so that we may go ahead without unfair governmental interference and reach a just and equitable settlement with our employers."

Chester Young, vice president of the NMU in charge of the Great Lakes district, said seamen already on strike against eight tankers will be ordered back to work.

Although the restraining orders issued by the courts directed the opposing factions to maintain the status quo for ten days, U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey said in New York that the 80-day cooling-off period fixed by the Taft-Hartley law began with the signing of the temporary injunction.

This section of the act never has been interpreted specifically by the courts.

The injunctions were applied for an order of President Truman who acted on receipt of a report from his fact-finding board.

NMU President Curran's order to union members to obey the injunction was backed up by the New York membership of the union at a stormy meeting last night in a two to one vote.

Inflation Rises Higher In China

SHANGHAI, June 15. (AP)—One American dollar sold for 1,900,000 yuan on the black market yesterday. The legal rate is 474,000 yuan to $1.

Black market operators went out on the streets trying to get rid of their large holdings of Chinese banknotes.

The price of rice jumped to a new all time high of ten million yuan for a 133-pound picul. Other prices soared.

President Chiang Kai-Shek sent his eldest son, Gen. Chiang Ching-kuo, here to investigate the runaway money and commodity prices.

GOT QUICK RHEUMATIC RELIEF WITH MERTOX

"For the past 16 years I have been bothered with frequent rheumatic pains in my left shoulder. This trouble later spread to my right shoulder also," writes Mr. J. C. Kirkland of Dallas. In my work I have to use my arms a lot, and my shoulders were beginning to stiffen up. After taking Mertox Compound for a short time this condition was quickly corrected, so that now I am free from rheumatic trouble and free of the aches and pains. I was also troubled with gas and bloating, which were very painful. I felt tired and run-down; just seemed to have no life or pep at all. Had severe headaches, too. The gas would seem to press against my heart and lungs and make it hard to breathe. Now I can eat anything, even meat, which was impossible before taking this splendid medicine. My bowels are now regular and I do not have to get up at night as I did before."

You can get Mertox Compound from any Texas druggist at the new REDUCED price
