For Hurried Readers News Events In Brief

AUSTIN, Mar. 26 (AP)—A marked improvement in qualifications of Texas public school teachers was noted in a bulletin issued today by the state department of education.

The decrease in the total number of teachers' certificates issued annually, the department said, "is a highly favorable condition in that quality supersedes quantity, for there has been a significant increase in the number of permanent high school certificates issued. These teaching documents presuppose college graduation."

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) urged today that congress prohibit sales of helium for airships traveling to foreign countries.

Mentioning the pending billion-dollar naval expansion bill, Vandenberg declared:

"In view of the fact that we are being asked to tremendously expand our defenses against an unidentified enemy, it seems only fair not to give away anything that might become a vital defense factor."

AUSTIN, Mar. 26 (AP)—State police headquarters today announced April 18 as starting date for a training school with an enrollment of 100 rookies.

The men, successful candidates from a group of nearly 2,000 that took written examinations Feb. 12, will be chosen by April 1, officials said.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Mar. 26 (AP)—Teemer Furr, 24, Johnson City, Tex., rode through Little Rock today on his way from Austin, Tex., to New York City by horseback.

The lean and tanned Texas left Austin on Feb. 28. He said the trip would take at least two months and three more sets of horsehoes.

Furr is a rodeo performer. He said a good season furnished him enough money to make the trip, "something I've wanted to do for a long time." He described his ride as "just a kind of good will tour."

PARIS, Mar. 26 (AP)—A man was killed by lightning today as he walked along highway 24 near Arthur City. A 1936 drivers license found in his pocket was made out to Harry Casey, 508, Rowlett, Dallas county. The body was brought to Paris.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Mar. 26 (AP)—Six defendants charged by the government with using the mails to defraud in selling New Mexico Potash and Chemical company stock were acquitted by a federal court jury today.

The defendants acquitted were W. G. Halthusen of Albuquerque, secretary-treasurer of the company and a one-time adjutant general of New Mexico; Hugh Williams of Deming, a former state corporation commissioner; Charles E. Lamb, Albuquerque; George E. Montgomery, A. C. Nebeker, and George Edgar, all of Carlsbad.

Joe Pickle Reviews The Big Spring Week

It may be too muddy for you to do much driving around Sunday, but if the weather does clear, you might well include the state hospital site in your itinerary. In the heat of the campaign to secure designation for the hospital, Big Spring people talked a lot about the size of the institution. Few really realized just how big it would be. Now it is far enough out of the ground to give a fair conception of the immensity of the project. Still the picture is not complete, for there will be several smaller structures to be raised after completion of the basic units. The space between the front structures and the power house and storage quarters should show accurately what the ultimate size of the hospital may be.

Saturday's turn in the weather provoked a mixture of feelings. The moisture came as a great help to the small grain crops and to land ready for planting. But with the rain came low temperatures that might easily dip to the freezing point. And that was not so good, for most of the fruit trees in the county are well loaded with small fruit. Tender green stuff, up to an early start, stood the chance of getting snipped. Weather prophets added to the misery with many an "I told you so."

Big Spring might be interested in an item originating from Washington last week, telling that San Angelo's application for increased power on its police radio transmitter had been granted. Instead of 90 watts, the neighboring station will now have 500. This city has in a similar application, but for one reason or another it has not been pushed. The city, if not unwilling, is reluctant to bear all the expense in developing a service all in this area may and probably will use.

A noteworthy angle on the development program started in and around Big Spring this year is that churches are having a place in the picture. At Coahoma a $10,000 Baptist church is to be raised. At Fortman a Church of Christ plant will be dedicated Sunday, and in Big Spring the Assembly of God congregation is building a church home and the First Christian church is remodeling.

A week ago L. A. Wilke, president of the Gateway club in El Paso, stressed the importance of the tourist crop as a source of income. His city, he said, received a ten million dollar tourist business during 1937. This was due in a measure to the tax supported advertising program of El Paso, but also due to the city's location on the "Broadway of America." Big Spring is on that same highway and might give more consideration to developing that source of income by holding the tourists here longer, by making this a control point for more and more travelers.

Wilke also said that El Paso hopes, by next year to be the first city in the state to avail itself of the provisions of the home rule amendment by combining city and county administrations. Out in this rocky-ribbed territory, such a doctrine may seem like heresy, but more and more people are coming to advocate just that as an ultimate solution of the problem of how to obtain real economy in local government.

These conventions are wonderful things—they not only attract delegates, but on election years they draw almost as many candidates. Consider the list here last week: Col. E. O. Thompson, candidate for governor; Charley Lockhart, candidate for state treasurer; Coke Stevenson, candidate for lieutenant governor. Bill McCraw's publicity director—Buck Hood—was among those here, and on many days before, G. H. Nelson, state senator and candidate for lieutenant governor, spent some time in Big Spring.

Rumors of an expansive residential building program for this city continue to be heard in many quarters. At least two interests are said to be planning entry into the field building several score houses if there is a market for them. Other agencies are attempting to liberally place requirements for home building. Topping these is the rumor that two lumber concerns are planning on establishing yards here.

Mercury Does A Nosedive In Westex

Temperature Under 40; Moisture Is Welcomed

Shivering from a 90-degree break in temperature in less than 24 hours, Big Spring and territory Saturday night watched the thermometer dip toward freezing.

From a season's high of 90 degrees here Friday afternoon, the thermometer dropped to 40 degrees Saturday afternoon and had lost one more degree late Saturday night.

However, the forecast did not indicate freezing weather. The U. S. weather bureau at the airport reported the wind, although somewhat stronger, was shifting from the northeast to the east-northeast.

Grain Crop Helped

With the north came the first rain of the month. All of Howard county was visited by beneficial showers, enough to make the moisture meet in most places. Wheat growers considered it of great value to the thriving small grain acreage in this area. The precipitation was estimated at about a quarter of an inch.

More rain was forecast for Sunday and skies were due to break Monday with warmer weather.

Windstorms Cause $100,000 Damage

WICHITA FALLS, Mar. 26 (AP)—Early morning wind storms in Archer and Wichita counties injured at least three persons today and caused property damage estimated at $100,000.

Wichita Falls, Dunes, Mankin and the Lazy J ranch bore the brunt of the disturbances.

Meanwhile, general rains cheered other sections. Wheat and oat crops were reported benefitted as were ranges. Stock water tanks were filled for the first time in two years on some Shackelford county ranches.

The three most seriously injured persons were Charles Keys and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Twitty. Their conditions were not considered critical. Others were reported slightly bruised by flying debris.

Keys suffered shock when a one-room home here caved in.

Six occupants of the E. E. Twitty residence near Dundee, in Archer county were swept across a field when the house was shattered. Mr. and Mrs. Twitty received dislocated shoulders. The others were not hurt.

A small twister which hit the Lazy J ranch eight miles south of Electra ripped out buildings apart and wrecked tents of a drilling crew.

A three-teacher school building and a store were demolished at Mankin, Archer county, and nearly every structure in the small community was damaged.

The wind unroofed three industrial plants here and tore away some residential roofs, chimneys and outbuildings.

City Is Given Judges' Meet

County Officials Will Convene Here In September

Big Spring had another major convention added to its list for 1938 Saturday when the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners association chose this city over Amarillo and El Paso in closing out its semi-annual session at Brownwood.

Judge Charles Sullivan headed a group of representatives from Big Spring at the meeting. Assisting him in extending the invitation for the next meeting were Commissioners A. W. Thompson and H. H. Rutherford and J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager.

Big Spring last entertained the association in the autumn of 1936. Officials of the organization said that the meeting here would be held in September and that new officers would be elected at that time.

In closing their Brownwood session, the county officials requested in a resolution the revision of the county officers' salary measure. They also urged congressmen to study carefully before passing the proposed national government reorganization bill.

HEAVY RAINFALL

DALLAS, Mar. 26 (AP)—Almost three inches of rain had fallen here at midnight tonight.

Continued rains may send the Trinity river above flood stage of 28 feet, Dr. J. L. Cline of the weather bureau office said.

A passenger plane on route from Atlanta to Fort Worth was held at Shreveport until the low ceiling cleared in this area.

Weather

WEST TEXAS—Cloudy, rain in the Panhandle Sunday; Monday partly cloudy and warmer.

EAST TEXAS—Showers, cooler in east and south portions Sunday; Monday partly cloudy warmer in the interior.

INSURGENTS PUSH DRIVE TO SEA

Lerida (L), key city in the newly expanded Spanish insurgent drive to the sea, was the immediate goal of General Franco's men, who were advancing under smoke screens. The attack has been shifted to north of the Ebro river, and surrender of two towns south of Huesca (H) has put part of Franco's troops in a position to dominate the Huesca-Zaragoza highway. The new base is Penn (P), from which insurgents are attempting to reach Catalonia, hitherto untouched. The dotted line indicates the Catalan boundary.

Loyalists Trapped In Insurgent Push

Would Strike To Aid Blum

HENDAYE, France At The Spanish Frontier—March 27—Sunday—(AP)—Embattled government troops numbering between 10,000 and 20,000 were reported trapped in the Alcuierre mountains early today by insurgent hordes sweeping eastward toward the Mediterranean.

While insurgent commanders reported government defenders in "complete rout" along sections of the 133-mile Aragon front, two insurgent columns were said to have encircled the mountains, 25 miles east of Saragosa.

At the same time a third insurgent column smashed into rich Castellon province, hitherto untouched by insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's fighters.

City Under Siege

Military advices said insurgent troops laid siege to Sarinena, 15 miles north of the Alcuierre mountains, joining forces with the south of Recuceno on the front.

Sarinena has been a base for government forces defending fortifications in the mountains to the south.

Insurgent dispatches said the entire Sierra was surrounded and that all villages on the northeast slopes, including Lanaja, were now in the hands of Franco's fighters.

After storming into Castellon province, the insurgents headed for the village of Zorita, about 40 miles from the sea.

France's forces on the Aragon front north of the town put on a forward spurt, while on the southern front the insurgents reported they were sweeping forward with little or no resistance.

A number of government prisoners were captured along with materials which the insurgents said "exceeded our wildest hopes."

Government advices said a surprise offensive resulted in the capture of the village of El Cardosa, south of Recuceno on the central Spanish front, 35 miles north of Madrid.

NEW MEXICO GETS BIG DUST BLOW

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Mar. 26 (AP)—High, gusty winds whipped up dust over much of New Mexico today in the steepest first severe blowing of the season.

The winds subsided somewhat tonight and the U. S. weather bureau predicted unsettled weather or possible rains to clear the air tomorrow.

Japan Adds To State Powers By Taking Over Electric Industry

TOKYO, Mar. 26 (AP)—Japan's parliament ended an historic session tonight, having taken the nation far along the road to totalitarianism.

The last bill enacted was a government measure to transfer entire control of Japan's huge electric industry from private hands to the state.

Also voted was the bitterly contested national mobilization bill to give the government unlimited power to draft Japan's manpower and economic resources in a war emergency.

The whole session was marked by conflict between the cabinet and the legislature, discussion between the houses and strife among the parties in the lower house.

School Man Is Quizzed In Jewel Theft

$10,000 In Gems Located At Home Of Dallas Principal

DALLAS, Mar. 26 (AP)—Howard H. Martin, 40-year-old bachelor school principal questioned in connection with a huge Florida jewel robbery, was released from jail today on a writ of habeas corpus issued by Criminal Court Judge Henry King.

The release came shortly after he was turned over to police by federal agents who decided the government had no case against him. Hearing on the writ was set for Friday.

Martin had been questioned by G-men after jewelry valued at $10,000 was found in his home.

Detective Lieutenant Luther Phillips, in charge of the burglary squad, informed Judge King Martin had signed a written statement. The educator's nephew, Floyd Franklin Martin, ex-convict, was shot and killed Thursday at Boca Raton, Fla., by a policeman who reported he fired when he interrupted Martin in a burglary.

Charts describing jewels taken in two recent $80,000 Florida resort city robberies were received late today, but no attempt had been made by authorities to identify the jewelry found in the schoolman's home as part of the Florida loot.

Phillips said the federal agents agreed to turn over to the police Martin's signed statement, together with all data assembled during their investigation and interrogation of Martin.

Martin was arrested about 9 p. m. last night as he was leaving his school. The officers accompanied him home, where the jewelry was found.

THREE ARE HELD ON THEFT CHARGES

DALLAS, Mar. 26 (AP)—Floyd Hamilton, brother of the late Raymond Hamilton, Dallas criminal who died in the electric chair, was charged with theft over $50, along with Jess Keathley and Huron Walters, alias Ed Walters, here today.

The three men are in jail at Ringgold, Texas.

Hamilton is alleged to have stolen $22 worth of truck tires and wheels from Marvin Cox at Cedar Hill, and Keathley and Walters are charged with theft of truck tires, rims and wheels valued at $80 from T. H. Morris at Duncannonville.

Coahoma Votes School Bonds

$26,000 Issue Is Approved At Polls By 73-37 Count

COAHOMA, Mar. 26—Voters of the Coahoma independent school district today approved a $26,000 bond issue for a school enlargement program by a 2-1 margin.

Voters gave the bonds a 73-37 margin and voted 79-33 in favor of establishing a maintenance tax on a portion of the territory taken into the district in 1935. The territory has since had the Snyder oil pool developed on it.

George Beaswell, superintendent of the Coahoma schools, said that the bonds would be offered to the state board in Austin on April 4. If the state board does not exercise its option on the bonds, then the district has a buyer ready to take the five year bonds at three and a quarter per cent.

Bids will be announced immediately after the sale of the bonds. Beaswell said, Strang and Haynes, Big Spring and Lubbock architects, have contract for the plans.

Included in the building program will be addition of two class rooms to the elementary school building and the addition of a west wing to the high school building to house a home economics department, a natural science department, band room and administrative offices.

The high school building was completed in 1926 at a cost of $47,000 as a PWA project with the district paying $26,000 of the amount. The other building was built 19 years ago.

In the past two years the district has paid off all of the outstanding $2,550 of the 1916 issue, refunded the $40,000 voted in 1926 and cut it to $36,000 while reducing the time from 40 year term to 17 year optional.

Evidence of strain on the nation's financial and material resources was seen in a sharp rise in the commodity price index, published today.

For a year before July, 1937, however, Japan had been importing heavily and planning industrial expansion. Living costs, therefore, had reached a peak by then, and, despite the war, had declined until the new rise this month.

PLANE DOWN AT SEA

HONOLULU, Mar. 26 (AP)—The navy intelligence "announced tonight a plane engaged in the current war games in Hawaiian waters had been downed at sea but that all aboard were safe.

The plane was said to be a biplane, including the type of plane, because of the secrecy imposed by the managers.

Administration Moves To Meet Complaints That Long-Term Credits Unavailable; RFC Would Serve

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26 (AP)—The administration asked congress today to authorize a virtually unlimited program of government loans to business and a resumption of self-liquidating loans to public bodies.

The administration's proposal would enable the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make business loans on a long-term basis, meeting directly the complaint of many business men that such credits were not available.

The RFC would be given power also to buy securities of private corporations, opening the way for capital loans for expansion and reconstruction. Small business men have complained to the government that capital for those purposes was difficult to obtain except in large quantities.

Making public a letter from Jesse Jones, RFC chairman, requesting the new authority be granted, Senator Glass (D-Va) said he already had introduced legislation designed to carry out the administration's recommendations.

Jones said in his letter President Roosevelt had authorized him to make the request.

Restrictions Removed

Under existing law the RFC is prohibited from making loans maturing later than January 31, 1945. The total of all private loans outstanding can not be more than $300,000,000. Both restrictions would be eliminated under the administration proposal.

The new provision would emphasize the RFC to "purchase the securities and obligations of and to make loans to any business enterprise when capital or credit, at prevailing rates for the character of loan provided for, is not otherwise available."

The corporation would be restricted only by its judgment as to the solvency of the borrower and the soundness of the loan.

It would be required to determine that the loan or security was of a nature "reasonably to assure retirement or repayment."

The corporation would be permitted to lend money to states, municipalities and other public agencies for projects authorized by federal, state or municipal law.

Under the emergency relief act of 1932, the RFC was authorized to make such loans, but the authority was rescinded when FWA was established. Subsequently FWA authority for such loans was taken away also.

CREDIT MEETING IS SLATED AT TYLER

TYLER, Mar. 26 (AP)—East Texas merchants, retail merchant association secretaries and retail credit men will meet here tomorrow in a joint conference.

Cities to be represented include: Corsicana, Greenville, Palestine, Tyler, Longview, Marshall, Paris and Shreveport, La.

EX-GOVERNOR OF VIRGIN ISLES DIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 26 (AP)—Dr. Paul Martin Pearson, 66, former governor of the Virgin Islands and father of Drew Pearson, Washington, D. C., newspaper columnist, died at Stanford hospital here tonight.

Dr. Pearson had been at the hospital since Feb. 25, when he suffered a stroke. His condition had been regarded as critical the last two days, complicated by heart trouble and high blood pressure.

DALLAS, Mar. 26 (AP)—A tax evasion case against W. L. Nix, oilman, was continued indefinitely today because of illness of a defense attorney.

Nix was given a suspended five-year prison sentence for $10,000 gas tax evasion and a fine of $10,000. The sentence was to be revoked in the event half of the fine was not paid in ninety days.

Inflation In Prospect For Mexico To Ease Acute Money Situation

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 26 (AP)—Financial circles predicted today Mexico would be forced to resort to controlled inflation to ease the monetary situation precipitated by appropriation of the foreign oil industry.

Predictions came from bankers who said they were based primarily on tightness of credit which has put business almost on a 100 per cent cash basis.

Their views coincided with an assertion by Minister of Finance Eduardo Suarez that the exchange rate of 300 pesos to the dollar, in effect before President Lázaro Cárdenas' appropriation decree, "probably would be restored in two or three weeks" provided "the people respond to the necessities of the situation."

The peso improved sharply in today's trading, with bankers buying

Jews Told To Get Out Of Austria

No. 2 Nazi Turns On The Ballyhoo For April Plebiscite

VIENNA, Mar. 26 (AP)—Field Marshal General Hermann Wilhelm Goering, No. 2 Nazi, warned Jews tonight they must get out of Austria.

In a smashing, plebiscite campaign speech to 50,000 Austrians who welcomed him to Vienna as "our Hermann," he declared: "Vienna was not a German city, because 300,000 Jews live here. The Jew must know we do not care to live with him. He must go."

Then Goering outlined Germany's greater world position, said the courts would consider the circumstances of "Schuschnigg's and fake plebiscite plan," and announced with a derisive fling at the Hapsburgs that the monarchist movement is forever dead.

He said national socialism has no desire to do away with the church or religion but that "there will be no compromise if religion meddles in politics."

Gets Cheers

He disclosed that a vast public works program had been planned. Hundreds of cheers greeted every rally of the field marshal.

Traffic in the district was completely blocked while all of former Austria heard the speech, a part of the campaign for a "Yes" vote in the April 10 plebiscite on union of the two countries, from loudspeakers scattered throughout the nation.

"This plebiscite fake will come before the courts," he said in discussing the vote that former Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg had scheduled just before Nazi threats forced him out of office.

Goering was not specific as to whether Schuschnigg's fate would be a trial. However, he promised a court airing of the cloudy political developments between the Feb. 13 Brechtensdalen conference of Schuschnigg and Hitler and Schuschnigg's startling announcement of the plebiscite which was to have been held March 13.

He termed Schuschnigg's plebiscite plan a "blatant swindle," and continued: "God did not let the fuser come into the world for nothing. He had a high mission, x x x The Austrian government had suppressed the people with foreign bayonets."

NO NEW TAXES ON THE LITTLE FELLOW

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26 (AP)—Increasing indications were apparent today that congress would not stand for any higher tax levies on the "little fellow" this year, when house members and many senators are up for reelection.

The senate finance committee, studying the house-approved tax revision bill, soon will vote on a proposal by Senator La Follette (Prog-Wa) to reduce personal income tax exemptions.

The proposal would reduce the $2,500 exemption for married persons to $2,000 and the $1,000 exemption for single individuals to $800.

Several members, protesting privately the finance committee would kill the La Follette proposal.

SLAUGHTER POOL EXTENDED, NEW PAY IN YOAKUM

Hockley Producing Sector Widened Three-Quarters Mile; Gulf-Dixon Bails 4 Barrels

SAN ANGELO, Mar. 26—Gulf No. 1 M. G. Gordon, heading around 125 barrels of oil daily in drilling to 5,062 feet, extended the Slaughter pool in southwestern Hockley county almost three-quarters of a mile southeast, and Gulf No. 1 Dixon, bailing four barrels of oil hourly at 5,371 feet, indicated a new producing spot in southern Yoakum county midway between the Bennett pool and Bond and Bohage's discovery on the M. M. West land to furnish two features of West Texas developments this week.

Showing of an estimated one barrel of oil hourly by Choate & Hogan's No. 1 University, wildcat in extreme northwestern Crockett county, from sandy lime at 1,457.87 feet attracted attention in the south part of the Permian Basin. The brown lime was topped at 1,455 feet, 925 feet above sea level. Seven inch casing was cemented at 1,430 feet to shut off five barrels of salt water hourly from 1,210-35 feet. The test is 1,620 from the south, 2,342 feet from the west line of section 17-14-U.

Gulf No. 1 Gordon in Hockley county had an increase in water from 5,097-62 feet but to a total of only one-half to two gallons hourly. It struck the first oil from 4,970-75 feet. Location is 330 feet out of the northeast corner of section 12-X-pal, two miles southwest of The Texas Co.'s No. 2 Slaughter, largely completed producer in the field, had drilled to 5,090 feet in lime, bailing 10 gallons of oil and 30 gallons of water hourly.

Gulf No. 1 Dixon in Yoakum county cored ahead below 5,385 feet in lime after testing at 5,371 feet following treatment with 5,000 gallons of acid in two stages. It is in southeast quarter of section 609-D-John H. Gibson, Gulf No. 1 Futch, promising a one mile west extension to the Denver pool, swabbed 14 barrels of oil on a three-hour test and showed no water, bailing at 5,170 feet. It is in the southeast corner of section 706.

Wildcat Location
Helmerich & Payne, Inc., and Continental drilled No. 1 Saddle O'Dowd, wildcat on an Ohio farm, out in the northeast corner of section 896, about 2 1/2 miles southwest of Denver production. Gulf States Oil Corp. moved in materials for No. 1 E. A. Graham, a wildcat in northeastern Yoakum county 440 from the south, 1,520 feet from the west line of section 207.

Two locations were staked in the vicinity of Gaines county's first oil producer, Landreth No. 1 Kirk, eight miles south of the town of Seminole. Landreth will drill No. 1 Paul W. Dalmont, 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 24-A21-pal, 1 1/2 miles west by northwest of the discovery. Finley & Cherry and Sawyer Drilling company moved in materials for No. 1 Dalmont, 1,960 from the north, 690 feet from the west line of section 6-A21-pal, 3 1/2 miles northwest of Landreth No. 1 Dalmont.

146 Barrel Flow
Amerasia No. 1 Robertson, 1 1/2 mile east extension to the Seminole pool, was completed at a re-drilled depth of 5,100 feet for a 24-hour flow of 146 barrels of oil through tubing after being treated with 5,000 gallons of acid. It is in the southwest corner of section 196-G-WTRR, Shell No. 1 Robertson, 1 1/2 miles east of the south end of the Wesson pool, was abandoned at 5,330 feet after getting an increase in sulphur water from 5-326-50. It was in the northeast quarter of section 344-G-COSD&RNG.

Frank S. Perkins and others' No. 1 Cowden, southwestern Andrews county wildcat in the northwest quarter of section 14-A55-pal, deepening from 5,001 feet, had reached 6,810 feet in lime with no shows. Scarborough No. 3 Thornberry, in the northeast quarter of section 8-A42-pal, 2 1/4 miles northwest of the Furman pool, topped the anhydrite at 1,835 and the Yates sand at 2,980 feet and drilled ahead at 3,080 feet in red beds and anhydrite. Elevation is 1,394.

Magnolia No. 2-46 (formerly 3-46) Sealy, 3 1/2 miles west of the O'Brien pool in northern Ward county, struck a stray high pay from 2,345-56 feet and flowed 168 barrels of 25 gravity oil in 24 hours through open tubing. It was to shoot. The well is in the southwest quarter of section 46-F-G&MB&A, near a small discovery well.

5 Completions Looming In Abilene Area

Production Due From Palo Pinto Deep Horizons

ABILENE, Mar. 26—Five new completions were in process of completion this weekend for the Jones-Shackelford area of Palo Pinto deep production which includes the Avoca and the Ivy pools. Three wells were showing from Palo Pinto lime, two from the shallow King sand.

On the Ivy pool's second deep producer, the Danziger Oil & Refineries No. 2 J. K. McCown, north offset to Owens-Snebold No. 1 Haterius which opened the Palo Pinto pay, prepared to drill into pay slowly after knocking out plugs set at 3,206 feet. The test had cored saturation from 3,188 to that point where a heavy increase was noted, and cemented pipe at the total depth. It was 12 feet higher structurally than the discovery well and showed no water. Location is 300 feet out of the southeast corner of section 188-BBB&C survey.

Also drilling out plugs, the Owens-Snebold No. 4 D. A. Ivy was heading oil from the King sand as a shallow offset to the No. 2 McCown. Pipe had been cemented at 1,956 feet.

Acid Treatment
On the south, treatment with acid was given the Iron Mountain No. 1 O. E. Beck, another King producer with pay at 1,929-37 feet; while operators drilled ahead past 1,970 feet on its twin well 50 feet to the east, the No. 2 Beck. The twin well had drilled, saturated the King from 1,924-45 feet and set and cemented pipe past the pay for a projected Palo Pinto test. Both are in the northwest corner of section 162-BBB&C survey.

In the Avoca field, five miles southwest in Jones county, a one-location northeast extension was given when Pains-McGaha Oil Corporation and Sinclair Prairie No. 2 Mrs. Frances Olson took five feet of the lime from 3,220 to 3,225 feet without coring and ran pipe to cement.

The well's south offset, Humble Oil & Refining company No. 6 J. W. Hollums, cored Palo Pinto saturation from 3,224 to 3,245 feet and cemented six-inch casing. Both operators staked east locations and were skidding rotary derricks.

On Church Land
Pain-McGaha and Sinclair Prairie will drill on land owned by the Swedish church, almost in the back yard of the Rev. H. B. Ha-larson, on whom lands two miles of Palo Pinto pay have been donated. Iron Mountain staked location for a west offset to the Avoca pool, the L. C. J. Peterson, 283 feet out of the northeast corner of the north half of the southeast quarter of section 185-BBB&C survey.

In Northwestern Shackelford, drilling was resumed on the Forest Development corporation and F. R. Hendrick No. 1 T. G. Hendrick after pipe had been lowered to 2,620 feet, and the test drilled past 2,700 feet for the Palo Pinto lime. It is in section 1-A&B&M survey.

Superior Oil corporation resumed activity in its No. 1 Hendrick, to the north in Haskell county, and plugged back from 1,254 feet to 2,748, ran pipe and cemented to test a cored showing in Adams Branch lime at 2,720-40 feet. Acidulation is planned. It is in section 9, A. Rodriguez survey.

Snyder Pool Shows Trend To S'west

Ajax Test To The North Has Only Light Shows

While the Ajax No. 2 Snyder was apparently defining the northern limits of the Snyder pool, the Moore Bros. No. 4 TXL, appeared to bear out the southwest trend from the pool toward production in the Howard-Glascocock area.

Moore Bros. No. 4 TXL, 990 feet out of the northeast corner of section 33-30-1s, T&P, was cleaned out and ready to start a pumping test Saturday after being shot with 720 quarts of solidified nitroglycerine from 2,658-2,830 feet. It made good shows following the shot and appeared to be heavier than the No. 2 TXL, an east offset, Ajax No. 2 Snyder, 2,210 feet from the north and 990 feet from the east line of section 28-30-1s, T&P, had drilled past 3,100 feet with only light shows at the 2,900 foot horizon. It is a west offset to the Ajax No. 1 Snyder which was completed at 2,825 (plugged back depth) feet from 806 barrels daily.

Continental added 1,029 barrels to its daily potential with completion of its No. 6-A Clay, deepened test, 199-20, W&NW, at 5229 feet for 545 barrels, and its No. 17-A Sefties, 8-23-2s, T&P, at 1,309 feet for 484 barrels. The latter test defined the northern limits of deeper pay when it failed to commercial production at 2,300 feet.

Wildcat operations in this territory still featured the Texas No. 1 H. H. Wilkerson, 330 feet from the north and 904 feet from the west line of section 33-34-1s, T&P, preparing to set 10-inch string below 822 feet. The well is four miles northwest of nearest production in the small Harding pool.

Loffland Bros.-Moore Bros. No. 1 D. D. Parramore, 2,210 feet from the east and 330 feet from the south line of section 28-2, H&T, northwest Sterling county wildcat,

Is Charged In Bank Robbery

Second Suspect In Oklahoma Holdup Is Sought

ADA, Okla., Mar. 26 (UP)—Sam Shockley, suspected Paoli bank robber and kidnaper, was held under $50,000 bond tonight while officers followed a damp and cooling trail south of Idabel looking for a confederate.

The sandy-haired, taciturn former Granite reformatory convict was brought here secretly from Idabel, pleaded innocent to charges of robbery and abduction, waived preliminary hearing and was taken on to Pauls Valley.

Somewhere in the mountains around Tom, Okla., federal bureau of investigation agents believed, was a former Idaho convict who was the second man in a desperate dust that robbed the Bank of Paoli, March 15, of $1,000 and abducted Cashier D. F. Pendley and his wife.

The agents believed the fugitive had stolen an automobile from Bob Lacey, Idabel merchant, and fled into the hills.

Shockley admitted he had lived four and a half years in Idaho and left his wife there, but denied knowledge of the bank robbery.

Agents released a McCurtain farmer and his wife, arrested with Shockley in a raid on a farm home yesterday, after the couple told them they were simply visiting at the home.

85 OF COUNTY'S RANCHES MAY BE IN U. S. PROGRAM

Possibility that 85 ranches, representing a large percentage of those in the county, would be in the 1938 range program was seen by County Agent O. F. Griffin and O. Y. Miller, county range inspector.

New ranch program forms are here, said Griffin, and many ranchers are preparing to enter the program. Miller and Griffin assisted in the preliminary planning of two large earthen tanks on the Norman and Noble Read ranches east of Coahoma Friday.

Griffin suggested it would be wise if all intending to be included in the program conferred with the agent's office at the outset so that mistakes might be offered to prevent any difficulty in approval later in the program.

Gas Rate Case Is Argued

Companies Contend Commission Exceeding Its Authority

DALLAS, Mar. 26 (AP)—The Texas Cities Gas company and the Community Natural Gas company charged today the Texas railroad commission was seeking to usurp a power it did not possess in attempting to exercise original jurisdiction in regulating gas utility rates in incorporated cities and towns.

The contention was made in arguments before the fifth court of civil appeals. The commission was appealing from a ruling of Forty-Fourth District Judge W. L. Thornton which overruled a plea that his court did not have jurisdiction in a suit the gas company brought to halt the commission from exercising jurisdiction.

The gas company suit also asked that a rate hearing at Trenton, Tarrant county, be stopped, and that commission employes halt activities in El Paso in connection with gas rates.

Judge Thornton held a temporary restraining order previously granted was still in effect when the commission, through the attorney general's office, filed a plea of privilege which would have the effect, if sustained, of transferring the litigation to Travis county. Hearing is set before Judge Thornton for April 4 on the plea of privilege, with the temporary restraining order remaining in effect until that date.

The litigation became involved when the railroad commission obtained an injunction in a Travis county court against any interference with the railroad commission activities, the Austin court claiming jurisdiction. The gas companies contend Judge Thornton's court has jurisdiction.

The Dallas appellate court is expected to act before April 4 on the appeal argued before it today. Involved in the appeal is whether Judge Thornton's court has jurisdiction and whether the appellate court shall issue a mandamus to dismiss the suit.

MOVE TO ADJUST ALLOTMENTS TO HOWARD FARMS

County and community committees Saturday adjusted the total acreage and wheat acreage as a preliminary step toward fixing the cotton allotments for the 1,000 farms of the county.

In announcing that cotton acreage allotments would be made soon, County Agent O. P. Griffin said that it would be possible for producers to receive their subsidy payments if they do not overplant their cotton allotment, although the general base acreage might be planted entirely for harvest.

He suggested that it would be better for persons to either comply fully or not at all under provisions which would entitle them to soil conservation payments.

Power Authority Sought For Texas Dam Project

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26 (AP)—John A. Norris, chief engineer and general manager of the Brazos river (Texas) conservation and reclamation district, said today he hoped to wind up negotiations with the federal power commission over power aspects of the projected Possum Kingdom dam next week.

Norris and Senator Sheppard (D-Tex) have been trying to work out an arrangement with the power commission under which the commission would approve electricity contracts to be offered by the Brazos river district.

Norris explained the Possum Kingdom dam would be designed to provide water for consumption, industrial plants and irrigation and other purposes more important than power production. Thus, he said, contracts for the sale of power will include a clause permitting their cancellation within two years.

He said he was trying to procure power commission approval of such contracts.

Sheppard said about 10 days remain for the letting of contracts for the Possum Kingdom dam. Norris asserted he was hopeful he could reach an agreement with the power commission and return to Texas next week, after which the reclamation district's directors would meet for the contract letting.

Thompson And McCraw Shaping Up Platforms; Others Trying To Decide Whether To Seek Office

AUSTIN, Mar. 26 (AP)—Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson and Attorney General William McCraw, who have drawn much of the attention thus far in the 1938 governor's race, worked long and hard this week on their platforms and campaign organizations.

If they or the other two active candidates, Mayor P. D. Renfro of Beaumont and Rep. Clarence E. Farmer of Fort Worth, were disturbed by the possibility of three more nominees being thrown into the ring they gave no indication of it.

Still undecided on whether to go to the starters' post were former Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, State Highway Commissioner Harry Hines and Karl Crowley of Fort Worth, solicitor of the United States post office department.

James E. Ferguson, who does most of the public talking for Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, intimated that those who concluded his wife would not run because Gov. James V. Alfred decided against doing so had jumped a little fast. He said Mrs. Ferguson might try for a third term if the platforms of the other candidates were considerably out of line with her views on important issues. Sales Tax Issue - Ferguson favors a liberal old age pension program supported by a general sales tax. It appeared certain neither McCraw nor Thompson would advocate a sales tax and both would oppose pensioning persons who have incomes sufficient to provide them the necessities of life.

Most observers believed Mrs. Ferguson would announce within the next three weeks if at all. There was some talk she might enter the race, then withdraw if the reaction to her candidacy is not as favorable as she hopes for.

Hines promised a decision around April 1 or shortly thereafter. An Alfred appointee to the highway commission, he probably would draw the support of the governor's friends.

The commissioner said here a few days ago many persons had urged him to run and he was weighing their opinions against those of others who believed he would have

TEXAS SPENDING FOR EDUCATION OF NEGRO RISES

AUSTIN, (UP)—Negro education in the state of Texas, according to the state department of education, has increased in 1937 over 1936. The cost of negro education last year was slightly more than $3,500,000.

Texas has 12 negro colleges, only one of which is state supported. Seven of the colleges are full-time year accredited schools and five are junior institutions. Two of the senior colleges were given an A rating by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The state department reported a total of 244,150 negro students in state schools last year. The state has increased the number of pupils in negro schools from 19 to 290.

But there is still a large number of negro students who have not been reached. Records show 20,000 negro children who did not enroll in schools last year and 25,000 who did not attend classes regularly.

Tie For Lead In Meet At Greensboro, N. C., Revolta Trails

By EDDIE BRITZ
GREENSBORO, N. C., Mar. 26 (AP)—Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Winchester, Mass., and Sammy Sneed, of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., shot subpar rounds of 66 today to hop into the lead in the first round of the $5,000 Greater Greensboro golf tournament.

The record for the Starmount course, over which the first two rounds of the meet are being played, was cracked twice today as the cream of the nation's golfing talent hunkered down on the tricky traps and greens. Monday's 36-hole final will be fought out over the Valley Brook course at the Sedgewick country club.

Before McSpaden, runner-up in the 1937 P. G. A. tournament, and the long-litigating Sneed posted their stinging rounds, Johnny Revolta had come in with a 65 to better by one stroke the record set in 1932 by Henry Picard in leading the veteran Walter Hagen in the playoff for the Carolina's open championship.

Ghazal Off Stride
The day's disappointment was Victor Ghazal, of Deal, N. J., winner of the North and South open at Pinehurst yesterday and a red hot favorite. He bogged down from the sensational pace he set in the sandhills meet and the best he could do today was a 75 which left him far back in the field.

Revolta's well-shot 65 put him in a threatening position for tomorrow's second round. Two strokes behind him came Bill Heinlein, of Indianapolis, Leo Mallory of West Conn., and Johnny Bulla, a former High Point, N. C., amateur now playing out of Chicago.

Officials Named For Tournaments

NEW YORK, Mar. 26 (AP)—Commissioners to supervise district and state tournaments in forty of the 48 states were named today by Raymond Dumont, president of the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress, who said eight more will be selected April 15.

A series of 75 district play-offs, drawing representatives from about 25,000 member clubs, will form the first part of the championship program. District winners will qualify for the state title tournaments, and the state winners in turn will battle for 30 regional championships. The regional winners will be eligible to compete in the national finals at Wichita, Kas., Aug. 12-24.

State commissioners approved today included: Texas, A. H. Kirksey, Waco.

PLAY INITIAL GAME

HENDERSON, Mar. 26 (AP)—The Henderson Oilers and the Tyler Trojans, both of the East Texas league, will play their first exhibition game here tomorrow. The Oilers will use their twin brother battery, Pitcher Beecher Twitchell and Catcher Dan Twitchell, while Greg Lippold was expected to start on the mound for Tyler.

AAU CHAMPS TO MAKE TRIP TO NATL. FINALS

DALLAS, Mar. 26 (AP)—Three, maybe five, Southwestern A. A. U. boxing champions will represent Texas in the national tournament starting at Boston April 4 and lasting three days. Bob Humphrey, director, said tonight. Without funds now, Humphrey said the A. A. U. would conduct a subscription campaign within the next few days and "we're going to raise that money somehow—you can depend on that."

Fighters entered in the national meet included George Porter, Dallas, lightweight; Arthur Dorrell, Dallas, welterweight; Alex Parrish, Wichita Falls, featherweight; Delmar Koeh, Amarillo, light heavyweight, and Jay Pietagch, Amarillo, heavyweight.

Porter, clever boxer and dynamic slugger, was named the most outstanding boxer of the tournament. Humphrey said there was a possibility "either three, four or five" of the boys named would make the trip. A manager and trainer would accompany them.

Parrish and Dorrell are Texas Golden Gloves champions.

York, Connors And Anton Hit Homers

DALLAS, Mar. 26 (AP)—A deluge of rain, striking just before the game had progressed far enough to be made an official contest, ended the Dallas-St. Paul exhibition game today with the Texas league team ahead, 6 to 3.

St. Paul was at bat, with one out and a man on first, when the rain came in the fifth inning. Three home runs were clouted in the abbreviated game by Tony York and Marvin Connors, former Dallas players now with St. Paul, and Anton, St. Paul first-baseman.

Browns Win 7th

HOUSTON, Mar. 26 (AP)—Stopped cold by two left-handers, the St. Louis Browns had more success with a succeeding pair of right-handers and eked out an 8 to 6 victory in 11 innings today over Houston of the Texas league. The victory, the Browns' seventh in a row, resulted from excellent work by Russ Van Atta and Ed Cole. Van Atta, although wild, showed he had fully recovered from his elbow complaint. Cole, obtained from Cleveland, displayed a fast ball and a snapping curve.

Many Shares Hit The Lowest Mark In Three Years

NEW YORK, Mar. 26 (AP)—An early rally failed to hold in today's stock market and a last-minute burst of selling swept leaders into new low ground for the past three years and longer.

Losses, on the whole, ranged from fractions to two points, but there were a few relapses of five or six.

With today's short session the list finished one of its worst weeks since the sharp break last fall. Transfers totaled 1,383,370 shares, the largest volume for a Saturday since October 23. It compared with 442,078 a week ago.

The Associated Presses average of 60 stocks was off 7 of a point at 26, a new bottom since March 25, 1935. On the week the composite was down 4.9 points net, the fourth consecutive weeks setback.

The breadth of today's session was indicated by the fact 580 individual issues changed hands, several hundred more than is usual the weekend. Of the aggregate there were 618 declines, 87 advances and 194 were unchanged. New lows for 1938 were registered by 559 stocks.

Cotton

NEW YORK, Mar. 26 (AP)—Cotton turned steadier today, July advanced from 2.65 to 2.80 and closed at 2.75, with final prices 3 to 5 points net higher.

The market opened 2 to 5 points lower, reflecting declines at Liverpool and Bombay and a small volume of scattered selling. Prices eased a few points further during the first 15 minutes but displayed resistance on moderate trade buying and the market advanced rather easily on a small demand.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Mar. 26 (AP)—Wheat prices came within 3-8 cent of touching three-year low levels today when the market receded slightly under selling pressure inspired by prospects of rain in the southwest, lower quotations at Liverpool and slow export demand.

Quotations dropped as much as 7-8 cent below yesterday's finish before buying broadened enough to permit a mild recovery movement that pared the extreme losses. Wide fluctuations in securities, with losses predominating at the close, also unsettled the grain market.

Wheat closed unchanged to 3-8 lower compared with yesterday's finish. May 25 3-4 to 7-8, July 22 1-4 to 3-8, September 23 to 23 1-8; corn was unchanged to 3-8 higher, May 60 7-8 to 61, July 62 1-2, September 62 3-8; oats 1-8 to 3-8, down, May 30; rye 1-4 off to 3-8 up, May 64 5-8; lard unchanged to 10 lower.

Chinese Recapture Strategic Point

SHANGHAI, Mar. 27 (Sunday)—(AP)—Chinese today reported the recapture of Menghsien, on the north bank of the Yellow river, a vital position for defense of the Lungshai railroad.

The town, they said, was taken through a strategy of jabbing at Japanese positions left exposed by withdrawals of the east to bolster the still-deadlocked Japanese offensive against Suchow.

Menghsien is in Honan province inland from Chengchow, where the East-West Lungshai and North-South Peiping-Hankow railroads intersect.

On the same front, in the northwest corner of the Lungshai corridor, Chinese reported capture also of Taokow, eastern terminus of a spur railroad from the Peiping-Hankow line. Both are important links in Japan's communications network.

These victories, the Chinese said, were typical of steady pressure being exerted in Honan to prevent an estimated 50,000 Japanese from leaving that area.

Both sides gave conflicting versions of the situation on the eastern, coastal side of the corridor which separates Japan's conquests in north and central China.

Spanish Issue Is Troubling Democracies

Mediterranean Security Problem For Britain, France

LONDON, Mar. 26 (AP)—British and French security in the Mediterranean becoms a more vital issue tonight as sweeping insurgent advances put the Spanish government in perhaps the most dangerous position of the 30-month civil war.

How much longer the defending Spaniards could hold out unless the tide turned unexpectedly in their favor or outside aid came was a matter of wide speculation.

But despite fears held by many British and French that a victory by the insurgents with Italian and German help would seriously endanger the security of both democratic nations, neither government indicated any change from the policy of nonintervention.

The British government, seemingly less concerned than France over Spain's future, pressed on toward an attempted settlement with Italy, seeking thereby to preclude possible Italian domination in Spain.

Combatant Withdrawal Informed quarters in Rome however said completion of an Italian-British accord was being delayed by the necessity of obtaining agreement of France and Soviet Russia, from whom aid has gone to the Spanish government, to the proposal for withdrawing foreign combatants from Spain.

The British government was given the green light by its cabinet.

Organized labor's millions of workers in Britain apparently were ready to negotiate on a non-political basis with the government on their part in the greater rearmament effort.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain arranged for the government's general plan for increased spending of defense preparations before Industrial leaders Monday.

The labor party, disappointed at Chamberlain's Spanish policy and skeptical of Italy-Italian negotiations, promised meanwhile to keep up its attacks on the government.

Chamberlain in last Thursday's statement on foreign policy made it plain he intended to continue to keep British hands off Spain and at the same time he forecast hopeful results from the talks with Italy.

Would Send Refugees To Paraguay

Texan Fears U. S. Will Be Flooded By Europeans

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26 (AP)—Representative Dies (D-Tex) proposed today that political refugees from Germany and Austria be colonized in Paraguay, South American republic which he said has thousands of unpopulated acres.

The Texan directed his suggestion to Secretary Hull, who three days ago called on other governments to join the United States in aiding such refugees.

Dies said that unless his proposal or something like it were adopted the United States would be flooded by the persecuted and jobless of Europe.

He asserted most European countries had basic laws denying aliens the right to work except under conditions which "in most instances prove impossible of compliance."

"I, therefore, fear that while other nations will enthusiastically agree to the proposal (of Hull's) yet the effect will be merely to open our doors for these unfortunate peoples with little or no reciprocal action on the part of the other countries involved."

Dies recalled that he introduced legislation several years ago to provide colonization of Paraguay with unemployed and persecuted persons, and said he was assured by the South American country at that time that such colonists would be welcomed with free grants of land.

He proposed that the international committee suggested by Hull be authorized to negotiate with Paraguay and other sparsely inhabited South American countries for establishment of refugee colonies.

"This international committee can secure from private persons and from racial organizations vast sums of money to pay for transportation of these aliens and to colonize them on this land," he wrote.

Although Hull's proposal would not require any country to take more refugees than its present immigration laws permit, Dies said that might mean the annual admission into this country of 185,000 aliens from Europe. In addition, he said, German and Austrian refugees might go first to some other part of the western hemisphere from whence they could enter the United States without quota restrictions.

LEADING LADY OF STOCK COMPANY WEDS MUSICIAN

AMARILLO, Mar. 26 (AP)—Dianne De Laire of Denver, leading lady of a stock company, took here today to cupid and was wed here today to Johnnie Gibbs, a Chicago musician.

But she was back on the stage tonight as "Rose of the Rio Grande."

True to the superstitions of her profession, Miss De Laire held her own elaborate wardrobe in disdain, borrowing a wedding dress from Mrs. Harley Sadler, wife of the company's owner-producer, because of the Sadlers' long and happily married life.

The Gibbses have elected to remain with the company and will leave tomorrow with the cast for a two-weeks engagement at Wichita Falls.

Harley Sadler, who has become an institution to West Texas theatergoers, soon will begin the twenty-first season of his own company with an engagement in Anson, which is in his home county.

REGENTS MAY NAME U.T. PRESIDENT DURING JUNE

AUSTIN, Mar. 26 (AP)—University of Texas regents today appointed Dr. James Umstatt of Wayne university, Detroit, professor of secondary education in the school of education, effective in September.

Mrs. Sarah Lockwood Williams was named associate professor of journalism to substitute for Dewitt Reddick who was given a leave of absence for the next long term.

Mrs. Williams is the widow of Dean Walter Williams, founder of the University of Missouri's school of journalism and one time president of that university.

The regents discussed at considerable length selection of a president to succeed the late Dr. H. Y. Benedict and although all were noncommittal it was understood the selective process by which the list of prospects has been narrowed from time to time moved several notches forward with indications a final selection would be made in June.

The group also discussed budget recommendations for the next biennium but took no action. They named the second unit of the women's dormitories Asenath dormitory, the given name of the late Mrs. Nell Carothers, director of the women's building between 1903 and 1928.

CONVICT RETURNS

HUNTSVILLE, Mar. 26 (AP)—Roy Lynch, who abandoned a prison truck at Houston Wednesday, voluntarily surrendered today.

Lynch, serving 20 years for murder from Dallas county, and Aubrey Brown, serving ten years for murder from Hill county, disappeared while trucking a load of oats to the Darrington prison farm in Brazoria county. No trace of Brown had been found.

O. J. S. Ellington, general manager of the prison system, said Lynch returned to the system after a trip to Dallas. Ellington said he did not know whether Lynch would be punished. "That depends on what he did while out," the manager said, adding that voluntarily surrender by a runaway trusty usually precludes his receiving the usual whippings meted captured trusties.

GIRLS STAGE RIOT

HOUSTON, Mar. 26 (AP)—Seven persons were injured and 28 arrested today as the aftermath of a minor riot at the gates of the Lane Star Bag and Bagging company, where striking girl workers sought to halt a truck.

Charges filed by a police squad, which broke up the fighting, ranged from simple assault to disturbing the peace.

The riot started when a truck driver tried to pass through a picket line and deliver his daughter to her job in the bag company. Girl pickets piled on the truck and a fight for all followed.

STATE PLANNING BOARD TO MEET IN FT. WORTH

AUSTIN, Mar. 26 (AP)—The state planning board today set a meeting April 30 in Fort Worth, the first session of the group outside of Austin since its creation in 1935.

The plan provides for orderly development of rivers, including drainage, irrigation, flood control and navigation with recommendation for elimination of stream pollution and construction of sewage disposal plants.

Students To Aid In Highway Study

Students in the Big Spring high school will be enlisted this week to assist in a special study of the use of state highways, county roads and city streets by car owners in Howard county.

R. E. Rice, district supervisor of the highway planning survey, who with T. S. Holland, field instructor, will direct the survey, said that it is a part of a state and nationwide program to collect information needed in planning the construction and maintenance of highways, roads and streets.

Students in the English classes of the high school will be furnished with forms and instructions in compiling information on a sample of driving habits and conditions in Howard county.

Rice said that these forms would furnish a fairly accurate cross section for information needed in the planning of a highway program.

Beer Zoning Law To Be Up For Hearing

City Officials Plan Action Monday Or Tuesday

Open hearing on the city beer zoning ordinance will be conducted probably Monday or Tuesday, it was learned on good authority at the city hall Saturday.

City commissioners are expected to hear protests voiced with any dissatisfaction with the ordinance which restricts the sale of beer to the five zones and to the highway streets in the residential districts. It also forbids the establishment of a beer parlor nearer than 200 feet to a church or school.

City officials indicated that the liquor control board would be asked to have a representative present for the hearing. Persons favoring the zoning ordinance, as well as those opposed, may appear at the hearing.

By Saturday the total number of beer applications since March 16 had mounted to 57 with filing of seven additional ones. Among them were applications by G. V. Rosson, who withdrew after having a Can City application protested, to sell 12 miles west of here; Mrs. Clara McCormick, applying in lieu of A. L. McCormick, who was protested; and West Texas Operating company, protested last week and withdrawn.

P. O. At Lamesa Is Dedicated

Large Crowd At Ceremony; Crowley Unable To Attend

LAMESA, Mar. 26 (AP)—This city dedicated its new $60,000 federal post office building Saturday before a large crowd that braved a chilling mist.

Dedication of the building and turning it over to Owen C. Taylor, postmaster, climaxed a long fight on the part of Lamesa and Dawson county leaders for a federal building.

Carl Roundtree, Lamesa attorney, made the dedicatory address after Karl Crowley, solicitor general of the post office department, had been forced to turn back to Fort Worth early Saturday morning after attempting to fly to Lamesa. Alva S. Page, Fort Worth postal inspector, spoke briefly.

Mrs. Laura E. Lindsey, wife of the late J. J. Lindsey, first Lamesa postmaster, told how the first post office had been located in the front of a ramshackle building. The family lived in the rear and cooked its meals near a dugout, but in the midst of these surroundings, said Mrs. Lindsey, her husband envisioned a greater Lamesa and a fine post office building.

Owen C. Taylor, postmaster since May, 1928, accepted the building and said that service would start there without interruption.

Other speakers, at the dedication and at a luncheon, included District Judge Lewis Reed, A. G. Bear, chamber of commerce manager, H. H. Mann, Levelland postmaster, M. C. Lindsey, Lamesa, and Sen. G. H. Nelson, Lubbock.

Others on the program were Conway E. King, Melvin Norris, Wilda Boldin, Jonelle Flaniken, and Mrs. Matt McCall.

Postmasters were present from Stanton, Lubbock, Brownfield, Levelland, Littlefield, Tahoka, Sweetwater, Fossil, and Big Spring.

Attending from Big Spring were Postmaster Nat Shick, Mrs. Shick, Lillian Shick, Elmer Boatler, D. F. Bigony, A. A. Porter, Alvin Smith, Paul Attaway and W. T. Sargeant. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bowen, Sweetwater, joined the local party here as did Mrs. Harris and Postman. Both Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Bowen are postmistresses.

COURT WILL HEAR TEST OF JOBLESS INSURANCE ACT

CORPUS CHRISTI, Mar. 26 (AP)—District Judge Cullen W. Briggs overruled today pleas of the state and took jurisdiction in a suit filed by 97 South Texas fruit and vegetable shippers attacking constitutionality of the Texas unemployment compensation act.

Jurisdiction of the 117th district court was challenged by the state on grounds permission of the legislature should have been obtained before suit was filed since the compensation commission is a state agency.

Arguments for a change of venue will be heard Tuesday, the state holding the suit should be tried in Austin, if anywhere.

Wants State To Pay Debt To Counties

McCraw Would Use Surplus To Reimburse Units

AUSTIN, Mar. 26 (AP)—Use of the large and steadily growing surplus in the state fund for road bond assumptions to reimburse counties for payments they have had to make on state highway bonds since passage of the assumption act was advocated today by Attorney General William McCraw.

McCraw said in a message to the convention at Brownwood of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners association he opposed transfer of the $5,000,000 surplus to highway construction or any other purpose until counties had been repaid.

The legislature in 1922 provided that one per cent of the four-cent gasoline tax be used to pay off bonds issued by counties or districts for construction of state highways. Revenue from this one cent per gallon levy was not sufficient to pay 100 per cent of the principal on bonds maturing between 1933 and 1935 but it now is considerably more than enough to meet all principal and interest payments.

"Since the state paid but 33-1/3 per cent of its part of the principal in 1933," McCraw said, "30 per cent in 1934, 50 per cent in 1935, 75 per cent in 1936 and 90 per cent in 1937, the shortages remain a moral charge against the funds on hand."

The state always has met the interest obligations in full.

Sewers Yield A Nice Income In Gold For These Enterprising Fellows; Court Halts Work

NEW YORK, Mar. 26 (AP)—A gold rush that might have developed into a subterranean Klondike was averted today when Magistrate Irving and Ben Cooper ordered three young 1938 forty-niners to quit panning the city sewers.

An early-rising resident of the Bronx, taking a brisk one-two-three in front of his bedroom window, was horrified to see three dark figures sulking around an open manhole at Tremont avenue and South-north boulevard this morning.

Bounding to the telephone, he shrieked an alarm of murder. At that very moment, he said, the assassins were lowering the body of their victim into the labyrinthian sewer system.

The police arrived and seized the three skulkers. Several hours later they turned up, considerably bewildered and somewhat muddy, in front of Magistrate Cooper.

After ascertaining that their names were, respectively, Louis Cassano, 25, Anthony Cassano, 20, his brother, and Joseph Marrone, 20, he inquired the nature of their nocturnal prowling.

"We were just looking for gold," said Louis Cassano. "You know, old gold."

"Gold, old gold?" inquired the magistrate archly. He demanded details.

It developed then that the Cassano brothers and their fellow argonaut, Marrone, had discovered that the sewers were indeed nothing less than Bonanza creeks.

During the last eight months, working in the early morning hours, when traffic was light, they had panned enough old gold to yield them an average weekly income of from $25 to $50. They fished out gold teeth, coins and jewelry of every description. Once they found a diamond ring that brought $150, they said.

The magistrate was impressed with their enterprise, but ordered them to cease and desist.

COURT WILL HEAR TEST OF JOBLESS INSURANCE ACT

CORPUS CHRISTI, Mar. 26 (AP)—District Judge Cullen W. Briggs overruled today pleas of the state and took jurisdiction in a suit filed by 97 South Texas fruit and vegetable shippers attacking constitutionality of the Texas unemployment compensation act.

Jurisdiction of the 117th district court was challenged by the state on grounds permission of the legislature should have been obtained before suit was filed since the compensation commission is a state agency.

Arguments for a change of venue will be heard Tuesday, the state holding the suit should be tried in Austin, if anywhere.

ATTORNEY FOUND DEAD IN ROOM

BEAUMONT, Mar. 26 (AP)—George W. Chilton, 60, prominent local attorney, was found dead, apparently of a heart attack, in his room in a local hotel today.

He had lived in Beaumont for 22 years and was a member of a widely-known southern family.

The body will be taken to Tyler and will lie in state in Christ Episcopal church from 1 until 4 P. M. Sunday. Funeral rites will be held at 4 o'clock with Rev. Meade Brown officiating. Burial will be in the Tyler cemetery.

Wants State To Pay Debt To Counties

School Census Near An End

Families Missed Urged To Call Superintendent

Completion of enumeration of the 1933 scholastic census was in sight Saturday as workers sought to finish their task of listing scholastics before April 1.

Some of the enumerators in the rural areas had listed all the children in their districts and had submitted their rolls to County Superintendent Anne Martin Saturday.

In Big Spring the work was well along with only a percentage of checking and special calls to be made. There was no way of telling how the census would show up, but Superintendent W. C. Blankenship said that the original supply of 1,750 blanks had been exhausted as had an additional 400 blanks. At the present time old blanks are being used for the work.

He said several families, missed by the enumerators had called his office. The superintendent urged all others not contacted to do likewise each child between 5 and 18 years of age, as of Sept. 1, 1933, will net the school system around $22.

Medical Auxiliary Is Feted With Luncheon

Easter Motif Is Attractively Used For Luncheon

All of the pastel hue representations of the approaching season, Easter, were used attractively Friday when Mrs. Preston B. Sanders was hostess to a monthly meeting of the District Medical Auxiliary at her home.

A profusion of sprays and lilacs decorated the reception rooms and a centerpiece of irises was used for the luncheon table. Individual tables were centered with other spring flowers. Place cards were daintily hand-painted Easter flowers with the guests' name inscribed.

Miss Doris Casel entertained with the reading of a one-act play, "Ashes of Rome." She also gave a clever Italian dialect monologue and another reading entitled "Mustard Plaster."

At the next meeting, which will probably be some time the first of April, the auxiliary is expecting a visit from Mrs. Thompson of Fort Worth who is state president. There is planned a luncheon in her honor to take place at the Settles hotel.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. E. V. Headlee of Odessa, president, presided over a business meeting. Mrs. W. G. Whitcomb of Midland, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting.

Radio Used To Bring English To Students

New Course To Be Started In High School

Radio has been used to bring the rarest music and drama to the barest cabin in Arkansas—it has brought incalculable joy to shut-in—washed fireside chats across the nation and over the seas—it has brought news of floods, fires and other major disasters to your own cozy cottage in an incredibly short time—it has employed thousands and added millions to the income tax of screen stars—and now it brings a new slant on the old fundamentals of English to Big Spring high school seniors.

Beginning Monday, for the first time in the annals of local high school English, a seven weeks course is to be inaugurated employing the radio as a means of teaching grammar, pronunciation and literary appreciation. Miss Eloise Haley, promoter of the idea and instructor of the new class.

Chattergrams

By Jeane Suits

Without regard for life and property, the average Texas driver mounts a car and starts down the highway or street as if he were riding the range in a thousand acre pasture uninhabited except for mesquite and a few fences. He hurries the rough spots like his forefathers did on horseback, and cuts capers worse than a high-spirted filly.

Without a doubt the wildcat drivers in the United States are found in this state. It must be a hang-over from the pioneer days when grandpa lived in a dugout with two guns and a wild notion that this country was coming to a good end, once it got settled. Little did he know that thousands may settle here but the native sons never settle. The pioneer could ride for miles without seeing signs of life and the present generation proceeds as if conditions were similar.

In other states, a motorist stops his car and looks in both directions before entering a highway. But not a Texan. He's venturesome—he's dauntless—he dashes on the main thoroughfare without so much as a glimpse in either direction. In cities, cars jump hither and yon like jackrabbits in a wheat field. Corners are cut in the most unsuspecting places and abrupt stops made without a signal. And there is a peace of mind among drivers there not evident here. Naturally you are more comfortable and relaxed if you are not expecting to be run into a borrow-ditch or dashed against a utility moment. When we discover we are riding cars and not horses, maybe Texas too will be more uniform and dependable drivers.

In other parts of the nation, you can depend on your fellow driver, especially in this true in the East. And there is a peace of mind among drivers there not evident here. Naturally you are more comfortable and relaxed if you are not expecting to be run into a borrow-ditch or dashed against a utility moment. When we discover we are riding cars and not horses, maybe Texas too will be more uniform and dependable drivers.

Tech Topics—

Spring Has Come To The Campus; Names Change When Free Show Tickets Offered

By Nancy Philips

LUBBOCK, Mar. 26—This matter of Spring up 'til now, has been a rather indecisive thing but with the presence of flowers in bloom, mesquite blossoms and love in bloom I believe I can safely state that Spring has come.

This past week at Tech has been filled with style shows and a play given by the Speech department. The style show featured dresses from Bonwit Teller, Saks, Lord and Taylor and Best. Two creations were from Paris and Vienna. Two wedding gowns of forty and sixty yards were modeled by starchy eyed coeds who played the part of the bride amazingly well! The play, "Night of January 16" was a hilarious success. It was a court room drama and the jury was picked from the audience and not even the players knew what the verdict would be. Incidentally, the verdict was not guilty—need I say the defendant was a definitely smooth looking coed. In the middle of the play I was suddenly started out of a year's growth. I hope, by one of the members of the audience who leaped out of his seat, starting racing up to the stage screaming wildly, "I did it! I did it! Of course it was one of the actors but the audience was petrified."

All people, coeds, bearing the name Irelly, Irene or Mary were admitted to the show of that name free while it was here, this week. It was suspiciously surprising how many have one of the three names. The show was simply packed. So until another show of that type comes I remain affectionately yours, Nancy Irene.

Demonstration Of Frame Garden Is Witnessed By Club

Miss Lora Farnsworth, home demonstration agent, told Overton club members Friday afternoon that the wind, sand and a shortage of moisture in Howard county made it necessary to use the frame-type garden with the for sub-irrigation.

In making the garden, the soil was dug out to a depth of 10 inches and two rows of tile laid three feet apart to a length of 18 feet. It was suggested that the rows of tile could be any number of feet. The soil was replaced with fertilizer and a frame five feet by 18 feet constructed from scrap lumber.

The side walls were made 18 and 12 inches. Strips 1x1 inch were nailed across the frame five feet apart to support the cloth covering. The cover was tacked in place so it could be removed easily when necessary.

Those attending the demonstration were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hill, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pickle, Mrs. Frank Tate, Mrs. Duke Lipscomb, Mrs. J. M. Craig, O. Y. Miller, O. P. Griffin and Mr. and Mrs. Asbury.

Mrs. Ida Gentry returned home from Lubbock Friday after spending a week there visiting.

'The Hurricane,' With Its Famous Climaxing Storm Sequence, Opens At The Ritz Today

Jon Hall, Dorothy Lamour Seen In Leading Roles

Samuel Goldwyn's version of 'The Hurricane' from the famous novel from the typewriters of Charles Nordhoff and James Norman Hall, authors of 'Mutiny on the Bounty,' arrives at the Ritz theatre today for a two-day showing. It is a film calculated to give the customers their money's worth in entertainment.

The high point of the picture is, of course, the amazing spectacle which gives the story its climax and its name, but the picture is also effective for its romance, drama and picturesque setting. The climactic 'big blow' has been hailed as one of the most impressive sequences ever done before a camera, one which eclipses the famed earthquake scenes of 'San Francisco.'

The picture introduces a new star in Jon Hall, the young man of the magnificent physique, chosen to play the native hero of the story, Dorothy Lamour, who made her screen debut as the native heroine in 'The Jungle Princess' is so attractive in a sarong that she wins the part of the South sea belle. Miss Lamour is also known to radio listeners as a vocalist of ability.

In the supporting cast are Mary Astor, C. Aubrey Smith, Thomas Mitchell, Raymond Massey, John C. Brattain and Jerome Cowan.

The story, which is set on the low island of Manukura, 600 miles from Tahiti, opens with the wedding of the native lovers, Terangi and Marama. Their short-lived happiness ends abruptly when Terangi, returning to Tahiti with the schooner of which he is first mate, strikes a drunken white man who insults him. The man has influence, so Terangi is imprisoned. Yearning to see Marama, he attempts to escape but is apprehended and his sentence extended. In the ensuing five years, he makes several unsuccessful attempts and in his final break accidentally kills a guard.

Terangi finds his way to his native island, but cannot remain there because of the attitude of the duty-ridden French administrator DeLange, played by Massey. He takes refuge on a neighboring island where he is reunited with his bride and sees his little daughter. While the search for him is at its height, the great hurricane begins to blow. Unmindful of his own safety, Terangi goes to Manukura to warn the inhabitants and plays a heroic role in the great catastrophe. Although most of the inhabitants of the island are lost, Terangi is able to save his wife and child and the sympathetic Madame DeLange, played by Mary Astor, who intercedes with her husband to close his eyes to Terangi's escape to freedom and a new life.

Gaelic is still the spoken language of the Hebrides islands, off the west coast of Scotland.

EVEN NATURE FIGHTS THEM

As the young South Sea island lovers, Jon Hall and Dorothy Lamour have many obstacles in the path of their romance. Even Nature conspires against them in a devastating storm which climaxes the story of 'The Hurricane,' a Samuel Goldwyn production which is at the Ritz today and Monday. Hall and Miss Lamour are shown here in a scene from the picture.

'Sergeant Murphy' Is Attraction At Queen Today, Monday

Among cavalrymen the world over, they say there's a legend—or maybe it's a true story—about a service horse that was branded 'T. C.' (inspected and condemned), turned out of the troop, trained by the veteran mount, then made into a steeplechase racer that goes on to win the Grand National in England.

True or legendary, the story has been made into a film called 'Sergeant Murphy,' and the production is offered at the Queen today and Monday.

Most of the picture was made at the Presidio of Monterey, in California, and a great number of authentic cavalrymen, artillerymen and infantrymen take part in it.

Ronald Reagan, a newcomer from the radio ranks, takes the part of Danny Murphy, who loved his horse so well—and a fine looking animal it is, too, that plays 'The Sarge.'

Mary Maguire, a starlet from Australia, is the Colonel's daughter with whom Reagan falls in love. Donald Crisp, able character actor, plays the Colonel himself. And so the story revolves around a man's love for his horse, his romance with an attractive girl, and how true love wins in the end as the horse triumphs in a race.

The army background adds to the story. There are many interesting scenes of cavalry charges and artillery tactics; beauty is introduced in some Santa Barbara horse show sequences; and the height of thrills come along with a reproduction of the Grand National steeplechase. This was filmed at the Santa Anita track.

Reeves Eason, who directed the famed charge in 'The Charge of the Light Brigade,' directed the story.

The examiner said the station failed to show a need for additional services in the El Paso area.

'Awful Truth' Brightens The Lyric Screen

Dunne-Grant Comedy Booked Today And Monday

One of the pictures which shared in the annual Motion Picture Academy awards—its director won an 'Oscar' for his megaphone wielding—and a production which the public generally regarded as the gayest, brightest comedy of the past year is brought back for showings today and Monday at the Lyric theatre.

It is 'The Awful Truth,' in which the delightful Irene Dunne and personable Cary Grant are starred. Leo McCary was the director honored for the smooth story of a madcap couple who had a difficult, though amusing, time in deciding whether they were made for each other.

Miss Dunne proved her capabilities as a comedienne in 'Theodore Goes Wild' and Grant hit the laugh parade in 'Topper.' In 'The Awful Truth' they reach new heights in entertainment.

The fun starts when the Warners, Jerry (Grant) and Lucy (Miss Dunne) decide to separate with only bone of contention the custody of Mr. Smith, their wire-haired terrier. Mr. Smith, incidentally, is featured player in the picture and contributes to one of the most genuinely hilarious sequences that has been screened in many a moon. Mr. Smith is none other than Asta of 'Thin Man' fame. Quite a pup.

The court allows Mr. Smith to Lucy but permits Jerry to visit the dog. Thus many of the film's outstanding comedy scenes arise out of Jerry's visits to Lucy's apartment while she is entertaining impatient suitors.

Le Affaire Warriner takes its most ludicrous turn, however, when Jerry announces his engagement to a flighty young thing with a social register background, Lucy, determined to win Jerry back at all costs, attends the sumptuous engagement party, posing as Jerry's sister, and by actions totally unbecoming a lady, manages to have herself and her 'brother' thrown out on their collective ear.

After these many difficulties the picture speeds toward a gay and satisfactory climax. The final scene is a fitting epitome to all the comedy of the story.

Ralph Bellamy is a standout in the supporting cast, as the libidinous father of Oklahoma who would have Lucy as his wife. Other players are Cecil Cunningham and Alexander D'Arcy.

Alfred Calls For Commemoration Of Good Friday Throughout State

AUSTIN, Mar. 26 (AP)—Governor James V. Alfred today called upon all Christians in Texas to commemorate Good Friday with prayer, urging business houses to join with state departments in a cessation of activities April 15 between 12 p. m. and 3 p. m. for fitting observances.

His proclamation follows: Again we are reminded that we should give praise to him who gave His all for the redemption of the souls of men, as we near the anniversary of the day upon which our Saviour Jesus Christ made the supreme sacrifice so that we might have eternal life.

The life of Jesus brings to mind the great comfort and blessings to be gained on this sacred day through faith, hope and prayer. In remembrance of Him and this anniversary,

Now, therefore, I, James V. Alfred, governor of the State of Texas, do hereby set aside and proclaim the Friday before Easter Sunday, April 15th, 1933, as Good Friday in Texas, and I call upon all Christians to reverently observe and commemorate this day with prayers and other fitting observances recalling the sacrifice made by the son of man on that historic day in ancient times when His blood was shed for the world He loved.

I further urge that business houses join with state departments in a cessation of all activities on Good Friday between the hours of 12 and 3 p. m. and urge everyone to take advantage of this pause from official duties for prayer to the observance of this day through meditation and prayer, in holy remembrance of the crucifixion of our Lord and to reflect upon the greatest message of love mortals have ever heard—'For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life.'

EVEN VERMONT HAS A 'DUST BOWL'

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26 (AP)—Vermont, 2,000 miles from the high winds of the semi-arid Great Plains, has a 'dust bowl' problem, too.

Federal soil conservation service officials told today of progress in halting encroachment of blowing sandy wastes on pasturelands on the Vermont plateau and steep slopes above the Winooski river.

Acting under direction of conservation engineers, the Vermont farmers are constructing 'chick-lens' terraces built of tree limbs and brush on blowing land to check erosion. They also are planting thousands of pine seedlings in 'shelter belt' fashion in an attempt to provide wooded thickets for wild life.

RADIO STATION IS DENIED INCREASE IN POWER

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26 (AP)—Denial of an application of the Tri-State Broadcasting company, Inc. (KTSM) El Paso, Tex., for permission to change its frequency and increase its power and time of operation was recommended today by a communications commission examiner.

The station sought to change its frequency from 1310 to 1350 kilocycles and to increase its power to 500 watts. The station now has power of 100 watts night and 250 watts daytime.

The examiner said the station failed to show a need for additional services in the El Paso area.

In keeping with the agreement whereby he started on his publicity tour.

Forty - Ounce Baby Kept Alive In A Home - Made Incubator

Quite comfy, thanks Here's Charley Jo Weeks in her home-made incubator. That's her mother at the right, Nurse Josephine Higdon at left.

KISSIMMEE, Fla. — The stork pulled a fast one on Dr. Charles C. Tindall, an osteopathic surgeon here. But Dr. Tindall pulled a faster one on Joe Stork.

A girl, Charley Jo Weeks, was born prematurely to Mrs. J. P. Weeks, wife of a road mender. Charley Jo weighed only 40 ounces and Dr. Tindall despaired of saving her. But she had such good pulse and respiration, he did some quick thinking.

He got a tub, padded it with blankets and then filled a lot of quart preserve jars with hot water and plopped them around Charley Jo, who lay swathed in warm clothes in the middle of the arrangement.

It seemed to work as well as a highly mechanized incubator. Charley Jo was looking normal and soon was taking 14 ounces of milk a day instead of the six ounces that were her first day's rations.

Dr. Tindall improved on his original incubator by substituting a cardboard carton for the tub. It seemed to work better. Charley Jo was smiling at the doctor and her weight had climbed to three pounds 35 days after she was born.

READING AND WRITING A book a day on people, for the Week— SUNDAY—"Helen Keller's Journal" is a tender and brave, though pathetic record of Helen Keller's life after the death of her life companion and teacher, Anne Sullivan Macy.

TUESDAY—"Black and Beautiful" is the life cycle of an Italian boy of 19 who tried to lose his fear of a faint of insanity in his blood in Arica, and lost himself to the life and rhythm of Africa, instead. Marcus Fortin went native, knew Africa from the inside, made money, lost it; in short lived without fear. He tells a great story. (Bobbs-Merrill: $3.50).

WEDNESDAY—As a very young man J. M. Barrie wrote a number of pieces for the St. James Gazette. Some were published; some not. A few years before he died in 1937 Barrie resurrected the pieces and accompanied each with a reminiscence article, combining the whole in a privately printed book called "The Greenwood Hat"—it is said that the book contains all of autobiography the world will have from Sir James. (Scribner: $2.75).

THURSDAY—Prince Hubertus von Loewenstein is a Bavarian aristocrat who lost his Africa and almost his life fighting to preserve the German republic from both Communists and Nazis. He now for obvious reasons lives in America; his excellent autobiography ("Conquest of the Past") shows modern Germany from a new and revealing angle. (Houghton Mifflin: $3.50).

FRIDAY—The late Harriet Monroe's "A Poet's Life" is misnamed, for it was as editor of "Poetry," not as a writer, that she was best known. But the book is a useful addition to American cultural history. (Macmillan: $5.)

SATURDAY—"Paint and Prejudice" is the life of G. R. W. Nevins, a painter who lived everywhere and could laugh at all of them, and himself too. (Harcourt, Brace: $3.50).

Our County In The Making

A Series Of Articles By John R. Hutto

One thousand years ago the earls of England comprised the highest stratum of the English nobility. The territory over which they ruled included from one to several shires.

EARL OF AYLESFORD

A shire corresponds to the political division of a county in this country. The earl, the shire-reef (sheriff) and the bishop were the executive officers of the king who assisted him in the administration of justice. Today the earls, to be sure, do not enjoy any such distinction, but they are addressed in person as "My Lord" and in writing as "The Right Honorable Earl of—". His wife is a countess and is addressed as "My Lady." The daughters enjoy the same distinction. His son is called viscount.

occasion were made to order. Some of those famous guns were brought to Big Spring by the Earl. Money was spent lavishly and debts accumulated that ran into the millions. It seems that the courts of England condemned the profligate living of the Earl, and his expenses were curtailed to an allowance of $50,000 a year. In disgust he sought consolation in the companionship of strangers in far-away Texas.

Possibly no one is quite so well qualified to speak of the activities of the Earl while he lived in Big Spring as is Mrs. John Birdwell, now living in San Antonio. While she visited in our city recently, in an interview some interesting facts were ascertained about the Earl. Divorce proceedings had broken up his home and had marred his hopes. He had no son to succeed to his peerage, and by law, his brother, the Honorable Charles Finch, was to be his successor. The desire to accumulate property in Texas, according to the statements of Mrs. Birdwell, was not mere wild speculation on the part of the Earl, but was motivated by a desire to build up an estate for his daughters who, under the English law of primogeniture, were not so favored. It seems the Earl had visited Colorado, Texas, then a wild and rollicky town, about two years before his coming to Big Spring. While there he had met John Birdwell who had been recommended as a good guide and companion in hunting. On the Earl's return west and to Big Spring two years later, a house was built in what is now the Mexican colony, where Mr. Birdwell lived and where wild horses were trained.

The liberal purchases of property by the Earl in Howard county correspond to the statements made by Mrs. Birdwell with reference to his daughters. He doubtless intended to make Big Spring his permanent home. Local records show that he purchased sections 17, 19, and 25, located about fifteen miles north of town, for the sum of $5,760 in cash. The Earl, his brother, D. H. Finch, and J. A. Monohans, on March 20, 1884, bought the Cosmopolitan hotel of Mrs. Emma F. Duggan for the sum of one thousand dollars. He built the first permanent structure in Big Spring on 121 Main street which is now occupied by a barber shop. It was erected for a meat market. Oldtimers recall the immense marble slab which covered the counter. The Earl also contracted for a ranch of 37,000 acres and put up a forfeit of $10,000 to hold the trade. His failure to receive the money expected caused him to lose the forfeit. He owned other lesser properties about town, but his unexpected death put an end to his investments.

The story of the circumstances that caused the Earl to buy the Cosmopolitan hotel has been going the rounds these many years. It corresponds almost in detail with a story published in the El Paso Morning Times on Sept. 11, 1912: "It was late one evening when the Earl of Aylesford and his party arrived in Big Spring. No preparations had been made to convey them to the ranch and they went to a hotel seeking accommodations. The proprietor told them that all rooms were engaged and he could not give them a place to sleep. 'How much do you ask for this inn?' inquired the Earl. A price was named which was double its value whereupon the Earl said, 'all right, I'll take it.' He took over enough rooms to accommodate his party. Upon leaving the next day he restored the hotel to the owner with the stipulation that a room should be reserved for him when he was in town." Another story is related in the same issue of the Earl's over-night ownership of a popular saloon in the town. Quoting, "The Earl took a notion that he would like to be proprietor of the main saloon for a few hours. He purchased the resort for $8,000, and invited every one in town to drink his fill without cost. All one night and the greater part of the next day practically every man in town indulged in free liquor that went over the bar, the Earl himself acting as one of the bartenders. When the fun was over he gave the saloon back to the owner and returned to his ranch."

A reporter of a Chicago paper, The Inter Ocean, is purported to have visited Big Spring during the stay of the Earl here and a report of his finding was printed in the Herald a few years ago. "At New York he (the Earl) made the acquaintance of Jay Gould who, at the request of the Earl sent Dr. Ennis, the land commissioner, all over the West with him, looking for a ranch." This statement is in keeping with the custom of Mr. Gould who was ever alert to secure settlers for the virgin territory over which his roads had been built. Continuing: "His Lordship found at Big Spring just what he was hunting for, and selected a tract of land twelve miles north of the village where he commenced the erection of a ranch house last August. The house is a plain unpainted board structure, a story and a half high, and merely comfortable, without any sign of luxury, convenience or decoration. The Earl had not been here long before two brothers, Clement and Daniel, arrived. They brought with them five servants, a coach, dog-cart, 20 or 30 horses, besides a lot of miscellaneous baggage for his Lordship's modest castle. The most imposing and important feature of the residence is the hall-way which runs through the center of the house and is entered from each of the eight or nine rooms. It is a formidable arsenal and contains one of the most valuable private collections of guns and hunting paraphernalia in the United States. The walls are covered with rifles, shot guns, revolvers, deringers, cartridge belts, spurs, game bags, and other articles of the same sort in bewildering numbers, and they say it requires the attention of one man to keep them.

"The house is surrounded by a large barn and dog kennels and outhouses, and about two acres of land are enclosed by a high barbed wire fence to keep the dogs in and the cattle out. The most conspicuous thing about the house was a pile of empty bottles as big as a haystack which were inspected as carefully as possible with a view of determining his Lordship's tastes. The consumption of beer had been large, but three-fourths of the pile were empty whiskey bottles, and we came to the conclusion that the Earl generally preferred to take it straight and that is his reputation in the community.

"There is much to be said to the Earl's credit in his association with the cowboys, and he has won their confidence in a most remarkable manner. They will spill their blood in his behalf as readily as he opens his bottle for them, and many a gun has been pulled by an indignant cow-puncher at a fancied reflection on his Lordship's character and manners. He has won their devotion and allegiance, and no knight ever had a more loyal legion."

Much has been said about the cause of the Earl's death. Excessive drinking must have contributed to his early demise. From bills filed by a local saloon keeper of repute and attested before proper authority it is ascertained that he was a heavy drinker and was equally liberal with his friends. As many as 17 drinks were charged to his account at one time. He methodically ordered a half gallon of whiskey daily, and often a quart bottle or two of gin extra. On December 25, he bought 25 bottles of gin. On the day of his death he had charged to his account two quarts of gin and a half gallon of whiskey. But according to all who knew him he carried his whiskey well. He was rarely ever seen entirely under the influence of liquor.

According to descriptions in the paper referred to above and to his old-time friends, the Earl was tall, robust, had a fine form with great physical strength, had blue-gray eyes and had Chesterfieldian manners. He gave practically no attention to women, but was respectful and polite when in their presence.

His physician was Dr. Standiford, but during his last illness he was attended by Dr. J. C. Utter, who made, according to records on file, two daily visits at a charge of $2.50 each. On the 5th and 6th of December he remained "all day and into the night" and presented a charge of $10 for each day. He also presented a charge of $25 in connection with the embalming of the body. This story may be well closed by quotations from a eulogy that appeared at the time of the Earl's death in a local paper, the Pantagraph:

"The citizens of Big Spring are called upon to mourn the death of one of their number who has an interesting history, and whom all revered and held in high esteem. The Right Honorable Earl of Aylesford (Heneage Finch), the seventh of that title, departed this life on January 13, 1885, at his residence in the Cosmopolitan hotel after an illness of about two weeks. He had been complaining some time, but took his bed since Christmas day. In a small neatly furnished room in our city, this noted man breathed his last, unexpectedly to his many friends, and especially to his confidential friend, the Reverend A. C. Burnard. The Earl, though apparently an old man, was but in his 38th year at the time of his death, but his experience and pleasures would cover the life of a man of seventy years.

"His home was Packington Hall, and the Aylesford estate was one of the finest and wealthiest in England. He traveled with the Prince of Wales on his tour of India, Russia, and other places, and had had audiences with nearly all the crownheads of Europe. His manners were polished and pleasing; all were treated with the utmost respect, and the amount of repartee possessed and dispensed by him was remarkable; the most genial and cheerful of men, he had the respect of all. He was addressed as 'Judge'. All were welcomed to his abode, and as a host, he could not be surpassed for his grace in entertaining, and on Christmas day he was the merriest of a large party that partook of the bountiful spread on his table, and yet today he is dead—his worldly life ended and his spirit passed to the beyond. A post mortem examination was made on Wednesday morning by Drs. Standiford and Utter. Undertaker Ed C. Smith of Dallas came down on Thursday and embalmed the body and placed it in a metal casket ready for shipment to England. The remains started to England today in charge of the Reverend Mr. Burnard, who was accompanied by the valet, William Benham."

SLIPPING ON THE SOAP IS YOUR OWN FAULT, SAYS COURT

GREEN BAY, Wis., Mar. 26 (AP)—A circuit court jury found today that a shower bath was not a safe place within the meaning of the law, but rejected a woman's claim for $10,000 because she slipped on a cake of soap and fell.

Sarah Petrasek and her husband, Joseph, sued the Norbertine Fathers corporation, operators of the Columbus club. The jury ruled that while the shower was not safe, the club's negligence was only 15 per cent and the plaintiff's 85 per cent. On that basis, the claim was disallowed.

And There's Feminine Appeal In Entertainment Events Planned For Wichita's WTCC Session

Editor's Note: Miss Margaret Hall, special events director for the 20th annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, to be held in Wichita Falls, on April 25, 26 and 27, has written for this newspaper a sketch of the social activities planned for the feminine contingent. Miss Hall, who held a similar position at the Frontier Fiesta in Fort Worth, 1936 and 1937, is an authority on her subject. She writes of a busy program of social activities for the annual WTCC meeting.

By MARGARET HALL

"We've got something here—for you."

The 20th annual West Texas chamber of commerce convention will be held in Wichita Falls, April 25, 26 and 27, and while this is generally considered a convention for the men folk, we're making sure there'll be plenty of places to go, and things to see, for our feminine WTCC convention goes, as well.

The slogan for the annual West Texas gathering, quoted above, includes plenty of feminine appeal. On Monday night, at the big Memorial auditorium, there'll be a parade of West Texas beauties, named by member cities, who will vie for selection as Her Majesty, Miss West Texas.

Crown For Queen
On Tuesday night, with the selection made, Miss West Texas will receive her crown, and the coronation ceremony will be conducted by no less a personage than His Honor, Mayor Florentino H. LaGuardia, chief executive of America's No. 1 city, who will attend the convention, and make a principal address on Tuesday afternoon.

Official hostess to this galaxy of beauty queens will be Miss Elizabeth Huff, granddaughter of Judge R. E. Huff, pioneer Wichitan and city founder. Miss Huff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Huff, has been a University of Texas co-ed, and an honor student and yearbook editor in Wichita Falls.

Miss Huff will not vie with other West Texas beauty nominees for the title role as queen of West Texas for 1938.

Miss Inez Mayo, of Brownwood, representing the city of Denton, was elected Miss West Texas in 1937, and will reign over the 1938 convention.

Garden Scene
Setting for these nightly pageants will be an outdoor garden scene. Miss Jusita Kinsey, director of speech arts at Hardin Junior college, in Wichita Falls is arranging the presentation of sponsors, or queens, as they are known. These will be introduced by Walter D. Cline, past president of the WTCC, who will be master of ceremonies.

Attendants to Miss Huff will be Miss Anita Underwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Underwood; Peggy Gens Kimbrough, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. T. Kimbrough; Gladys Stevenson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Stevenson, and Joan Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leuther Hoffman.

R. W. Lindsey, and Mrs. W. E. Huff, chairman and vice chairman, respectively, of the committee on entertainment for the queens, are planning a luncheon at the Woman's Forum at noon Tuesday, to which WTCC directors' wives are also invited, and a Wednesday morning breakfast, at the Huff home. This last will honor the new queen.

Dances Each Night
Then, too, there are three dances scheduled for each night of the convention, at the Kemp and Holt hotels, and the Wichita club. All registered delegates may attend, and their registration badge sees them all the way through.

Highlight of the convention, for all who attend, will be the gala parade on Tuesday afternoon, one of the kind for which Wichita Falls is famed. The beauty queens will have places of honor in this, in specially decorated cars. News reel cameras will record the coronation scenes, and they will be shown in the movies throughout the Southwest.

Mercer Announces As A Candidate For Constable

Carl Mercer, 31, said Saturday that he would be a candidate for the office of constable of precinct No. 1. Mercer announced his candidacy subject to action of the democratic primaries.

For the past four years he has been a resident of Big Spring. During that time he has been associated with tire businesses and for nearly two years as a law enforcement officer in Howard county. He is married and has one daughter. Prior to coming to Big Spring he farmed at Eagle Pass, Tex.

Mercer said that he was encouraged by many friends to make the race, and that he felt "that there is a demand and a place for a young, experienced law enforcement officer. If the people elect me their constable, I promise to make it a law enforcement office of which they will be proud. My record is open and I invite investigation by all voters just as much as I invite their support and influence for my candidacy."

Matson To Open News Stand And Shine Parlor

Opening of a new, modernistic and complete shine parlor and newsstand in Big Spring will be held around April 1st, with C. E. Matson, formerly in charge of the service department of the Big Spring Motor company, as the owner and operator. The new business will be located at 304 Runnels street, next to the east entrance of the Douglass hotel building. Mr. Matson announces that he will have the most modern and complete fixtures obtainable, and the people of West Texas and Big Spring will be invited to select a name for the place. Matson said an announcement would be made later as to the exact date of opening.

Mr. Matson left Friday for Dallas, where he will remain several days before returning to Big Spring to open his new place of business.

HE'S LOOKING FOR A MAN NAMED JONES

MILWAUKEE, Mar. 26 (AP)—If you're one of the Jones boys, you might read this.

Otto Becker of 88 Stevens street, Far View Beach, Woodmont, Conn., would like to get in touch with the Jones boy he fished out of Lake Michigan at the foot of E. Wisconsin Ave. in Milwaukee about 50 years ago.

Becker communicated with John R. Jones, register of probate, on a court matter, and inquired whether he was the Jones boy. Jones replied no, "because I'm not 50."

The Jones boy had slipped between ice floes and was going under a field of ice when Becker caught him. "I'm just curious as to what happened to the boy later in life," Becker wrote.

Dallasites To Visit Here

Goodwill Group To Be In City On April 28

DALLAS, Mar. 26—For the 37th time, Dallas' top-flight business men will leave their desks for a week's train journey to sister cities of the Southwest, enabling them to renew old friendships and make new ones. The itinerary for this year's Dallas Business Tour will bring the special train to Big Spring, Thursday, April 28.

The 34 Dallas business men will parade in Big Spring and will stage a concert and entertainment program. They will be accompanied by a 25-piece band under direction of Alex Kesse, program director of radio station WFAA, and will also bring other entertainers. The general public is invited to the concert and entertainment program in Big Spring, according to F. Z. Williams, general chairman of the tour committee.

"For 37 years Dallas has sent a representative group of business men to her sister cities in the Southwest each spring, Williams said. The annual business tour has become one of Dallas' finest traditions, and we believe it has come to mean almost as much to the cities we visit as it does to the men who make the trips.

"We go to renew old friendships and to make new ones, to say again that Dallas is the partner of all the cities of the Southwest in developing this great region, and to demonstrate in a practical way the spirit of friendliness and cooperation which prevails in Dallas."

Leaving Dallas Sunday night, April 24, on a deluxe special train, the business tour party will travel 1,737 miles and make stops in 28 Oklahoma and West Texas cities in five days.

"Sit At Your Desk And Cry Out Your Eyes, Or Get On Your Feet And Merchandise"

WILLIAM LEVINE

LEVINE BROTHERS
BIG SPRING, TEXAS
March 24, 1938

MORRIS LEVINE
J. W. NELSON, MANAGER

Mr. Joe Galbraith, Publisher Big Spring Daily Herald

Dear Mr. Galbraith:

In 1929 the people grasped the word "depression" as a suitable one for describing the slump in business at that time. 1938 has rolled around and now we find a new term being used, "recession".

The letter has held no significance insofar as the volume of business at Levine's Store is concerned. On the contrary, in comparing our receipts for the first two months of this year with the corresponding months of 1937, we have noticed a decided increase in business.

Our January business showed an increase of 36.10% over the same period of last year, and February produced 35.50% more business. These figures are our basic reason for scoffing at the "recession" idea.

Of course, we attribute this phenomenal increase in sales to one thing in particular - ADVERTISING! Our heavy schedule of advertising in the Big Spring Daily Herald coupled with that used on your affiliated radio station, KBBT, we feel, was our best business producer. The results were most gratifying.

The Business Establishments of our Community reflect Prosperity. That is the reason we are inclined to say, "Sit at your desk and cry out your eyes, or get on your feet and MERCHANDISE!" There is no recession in Big Spring!

Very truly yours,
J. W. Nelson

TRUSTEES NEED PUBLIC SUPPORT. Next Saturday, voters of the Big Spring independent school district will be called on to cast ballots for trustees to serve two-year terms.

The going has been none too smooth for our school system in recent years. A small district and limited taxable values have held down revenues while phenomenal increases in scholastic enrollment have brought a need for greater expenditure.

The fact that three of our busy citizens—Dr. M. H. Bennett, Olie Hestrow and C. W. Cunningham—have consented to serve when they know the trusteeship is a thankless task at best, should evoke an expression of endorsement from the district voters.

And patrons of the school owe a debt to two outgoing trustees, J. K. Collins and H. S. Faw. Both have served on the board for many years, giving unstintingly of their time and thought to seeing our school system through its myriad problems.

Recent developments occurring as an aftermath to the return of legal beer sales in Howard county should serve to meet some of the objections of wets and drys alike. Holdings in the county court, whereby public opinion of any community or section is respected in regard to establishments that would sell beer ought to be acceptable to most thinking people.

For if he succeeds in what he is doing now, does he suppose that the people will look with favor on the idea of entrusting all the other great river valleys to mere subordinate of the president? Does he suppose congress will give to subordinate executive officials the authority to legislate for the people?

What makes T.V.A. a great experiment is not that by subsidizing electricity it sells electricity cheaply to Alabama towns. Any one can reduce the price of anything if some one else pays the cost. What makes T.V.A. a great experiment is that it is a practical test of whether it is possible to develop a new organ of government to which a democracy can safely entrust the management of large economic enterprises.

Today And Tomorrow

By Walter Lippmann. (Mr. Lippmann's column is published as an informational and news feature. His views are personal and are not to be construed as necessarily reflecting the editorial opinion of The Herald—Editor's Note.)

MR. ROOSEVELT UNDERMINES THE T. V. A. The president has put himself in a position where if he wins on the narrow issue of his right to remove Dr. Morgan, he loses on the much broader issue presented by the Tennessee Valley Authority. If ever there was a case of a man sacrificing a big purpose to a little one, it is revealed by the transcript of Mr. Roosevelt's investigation on Monday.

It shows Mr. Roosevelt contending on the one hand that a director of T. V. A. is like "any subordinate in the executive branch of the government," and contending, on the other hand, that T.V.A. is "a great experiment in government." Mr. Roosevelt made both contentions with equal assurance, apparently entirely unaware that if he succeeds in proving that Dr. Morgan is a mere subordinate, he has sacrificed the essential principle which makes T.V.A. a great experiment in government.

Mr. Roosevelt's position at the moment is that T.V.A. is an example of government ownership and operation differing in no fundamental respect from the post-office. Yet the whole claim that T.V.A. is a new experiment in government depends upon a demonstration that the Authority is a fundamentally different thing from an ordinary government department.

For what is there about T.V.A. that makes it a great experiment in government? Is it not that congress created a new type of government agency, so designed that to the agency there could be delegated a great deal of legislative power and to it could be entrusted vast property in one of the great river valleys? From the start it was supposed to be clear to congress, and as it was clear to every informed observer, that such legislative power and such administrative control of natural resources could not and should not be lodged in an ordinary government department.

Yet now Mr. Roosevelt, having become embroiled in a conflict of personal ambition with the public interest, is doing everything he can to prove false the whole argument that T.V.A. is a new type of government agency suited to carrying out a new kind of government function.

For if he succeeds in what he is doing now, does he suppose that the people will look with favor on the idea of entrusting all the other great river valleys to mere subordinate of the president? Does he suppose congress will give to subordinate executive officials the authority to legislate for the people?

What makes T.V.A. a great experiment is not that by subsidizing electricity it sells electricity cheaply to Alabama towns. Any one can reduce the price of anything if some one else pays the cost. What makes T.V.A. a great experiment is that it is a practical test of whether it is possible to develop a new organ of government to which a democracy can safely entrust the management of large economic enterprises.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—It's a day of clouds. Big cottony tufts of cloud, edges gilded silver by the sun in a blue storm-cleaned sky.

The ground of the airport is soggy with intermittent, seemingly interminable rains. Over the mountains new storm clouds press west and gray, and thunder rolls booming over the valley. But up there—10,000 feet up—the clouds are white, the sky blue, and that is what counts.

Manhattan

NEW YORK—Gino DiVico, a slim, olive-skinned Italian from the lower East Side, became a boot-black in the vicinity of City Hall last week. He is 14 years old and wants to grow up and become the head of a shipping company.

Well, I think he's got something there. The "Economic" Alger heroes there all shadow-fiction. It may surprise you to know that fortunes have been made by men who wield the little flannel rag. New York, after all, is a vain, half-garulous old due with fine airs and spends an aggregate of $400,000 a week having its shoes shined. He was approximately 22,000 boys working for him.

In past years the most successful shoeshine kings have been Tony Asti, who gobbled up the concession in the big office buildings, just as corporations now buy the hat checking concessions in hotels and night clubs, and Tony Lauria. Asti is dead now but in his time he was a money titan and owned a string of fine race horses.

The current Mussolini of boot-blackening is Joseph Policastro, who began his career in Brooklyn on less than $2 capital. He started out with a box slung over his shoulder and worked himself up till he had others working for him. Finally he acquired the rights to a small building and installed half a dozen boys shining shoes for him there.

In the big office buildings there may be 50 or 100 boys making the daily rounds. The thousands of offices each have desks. Behind those desks are men, with shoes to be cleaned. Sometimes they pay a nickel, sometimes a dime or a quarter. It all adds up. It adds, in fact, to nearly $21,000,000 a year.

Chapter 11. Radiance died from Judith like a candle suddenly snuffed. Filled with his own plans Gary did not notice. "I'll get a kick out of the experience and the money—"

Clay was going. He felt suddenly desolate. Alone in a strange country. She was part of the old life. He'd call her back—tell her he would follow her to Chicago tomorrow—the next day—as soon as he was able to travel, but before he could voice his quick decision, another step sounded in the hall, another voice—Judith's.

Ship Operator Reports Captain Is Abusive; Fears Trouble At Sea

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Mar. 26 (AP)—No further message came today from the tuna clipper Sea Tern's radio operator, who reported from the Gulf of California last night that he feared "death aboard soon."

"Captain abusive, apparently insane," read a terse message to A. L. Woodruff, federal shipping commissioner here. "Fear death aboard soon. Will give federal department proof of illegal fishing off Peru and Ecuador."

Woodruff said the Sea Tern was near the Mexican port of Guaymas. Advised by the United States navy and coast guard that the ship was outside their jurisdiction, Woodruff advised the radio operator, Earl Jack Van Jaynes, 28:

"Suggest radio nearest American consul and request assistance Mexican authorities."

Mexican gunboats operate in the waters where the Sea Tern was reported fishing.

Capt. Raymond Dragich, 30, was described at the harbor here as a thesaural, well liked man and those who knew him were inclined to believe the report of trouble. He has a wife and two children here. The Sea Tern, which left San Pedro three months ago, is owned by Nick Dragich, brother of the captain, and was fishing for the Van Camp's Sea Food company of San Diego. It carried a crew of 11.

Woodruff said he had received no reply to his suggestion that Van Jaynes seek Mexican aid.

Export Total Shows Gain

Trade Margin Wider As U. S. Imports Fall Off

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26 (AP)—The United States sold $100,000,000 more goods abroad than it bought during February, the commerce department announced today.

February exports were 13 per cent larger than in the same month a year ago and imports were 41 per cent smaller. Both exports and imports were under January levels, however.

Exports totaled $262,733,000 and imports $162,685,000.

Among commodities exported in much larger volume in February than a year ago were lead, wheat, feed grains, feeds, leaf tobacco, wood pulp, petroleum, iron and steel manufactures, wool and refinery machinery, metal working machinery, automobiles, aircraft and fertilizers.

Exports of canned salmon, dried fruit, canned fruit, cotton, lumber, copper, radios, office appliances and coal tar products decreased.

Other items on which imports were reduced were grains, vegetable oils, oil seeds, coffee, cocoa, furs, wool, silk, precious stones and wood pulp.

For the first two months of the year, the United States had in excess of exports over imports of $218,355,000, compared with an excess of imports last year amounting to $42,364,000.

Campaign Against Marijuana Mapped By Sheriffs

The Sheriff's Association of Texas is mobilizing forces for a concerted campaign on marijuana traffic in the state, and ground-work for the drive will be laid at a meeting to be held in San Antonio on March 31.

Announcement of the meeting has been received by local officers from J. B. Arnold of Beville, president of the Sheriff's Association. He wrote that the organization was joining forces with the women's division of the democratic party in Texas in the campaign, and the San Antonio meeting is to be held under sponsorship of the women's group.

Federal and state authorities familiar with the anti-marijuana drive will be at the session to be held at noon on the 31st at the St. Anthony hotel. Arnold wrote that all citizens are invited to attend the meeting.

Pittenger of the University of Texas; T. H. Shady of the University of Texas; Dr. G. O. Clough of Southern Methodist university; Dr. Hari R. Douglas of the University of Minnesota; and Dr. H. T. Manuel of the University of Texas.

West Texas school men will have a part in sectional meetings. Supt. W. C. Blankenship of the Big Spring schools and Thos. E. Pierce, director of elementary education here, will take part in discussions.

COLEMAN MAN DIES IN GRADE CRASH

COLEMAN, Mar. 26 (AP)—A. D. Hopper, 38, was killed instantly today when a truck he was driving was struck by a San Angelo-bound Santa Fe passenger train four miles south of here.

Charles Cook, 36, who was with him at the time, heard the bell of the approaching train and jumped from the truck in time to avoid injury.

Hopper was survived by his wife.
He will be buried tomorrow.

OIL GROUP CALLED IN KANSAS MEETING

ATLANTA, Mar. 26 (AP)—Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the interstate oil compact commission, today called a meeting in Wichita, Kan., April 8 and 9, for a discussion of economic trends in petroleum production.

Thompson, member of the Texas national commission on regulatory matters, said speakers would include W. H. Clegg and J. E. Fugate of New York; Dr. E. A. Moberg of Texas; and J. H. University of Texas.

Imperial Sugar Week Observed

The Texas Independent Grocers' association has declared March 28 to April 3, Imperial Sugar Week.

in Texas, because the grocers recognize the part the Imperial Sugar company has played in the economic development of Texas.

Inasmuch as the Imperial Sugar company is the only sugar refinery in Texas, retail grocers throughout the state will observe Imperial Sugar Week.

Beside refining three types of fine quality pure cane sugar, the Imperial Sugar company has helped the people of Texas very materially in other ways. Since this company began to import raw sugars, it has paid in duties, more money to the United States federal government than the entire amount the government has paid to Texas for improvements in rivers and harbors.

This is significant when one realizes that the federal government largely bases its appropriation for these improvements on customs receipts in each state. Therefore, it can be said that, without the Imperial Sugar company, it is possible that Texas might not have such modern ports as those of Galveston, Houston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Corpus Christi, Brownsville, and other points.

Each year, in addition to paying approximately $3,000,000 to support duties, the Imperial Sugar company has a payroll of almost $1,000,000; state taxes are more than $150,000; miscellaneous supplies purchased in the state of Texas amount to more than $2,000,000.
