CLOCKS TO BE SET UP HOUR ON FEB. 9TH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 — President Roosevelt today signed the legislation placing the entire nation on daylight saving time, effective at 2 a. m. on Monday, Feb. 9.

The statute, which placed the clocks ahead one hour, will continue in effect for the duration of the war and for not more than six months after the national emergency is over. It can be nullified, meantime, by an act of congress, however.

The bill provided for daylight saving time to become operative 20 days after the formal enactment of the bill, and, with the president's signature today, the effective hour date thus was made at 2 a. m. Feb. 9, according to the White House.

William S. Knudsen, in his capacity as director general of the Office of Production Management, prior to passage of the bill, reported to President Roosevelt that nationwide daylight saving time would save an estimated 500,000 kilowatt hours of power annually.

Security Tax Was Not Increased On First Of The Year

ABILENE, Texas. — Some employers seem to be under the impression that the old-age and survivors' insurance tax rate was scheduled to be increased on January 1, 1942, said Mr. W. O. King, manager of the Abilene field office of the Social Security Board.

"Under the present law," King continued, "the tax rate for the worker is one percent on each dollar of his wages. The employer pays one percent on each dollar of his wages. The employer pays one percent on each dollar of his pay roll, making a total of two percent divided equally between the employer and the wage earner. This rate will continue until 1943 according to the law as it now stands," King, stated, "at which time the rate will be increased to two percent on the employer's pay roll and an equal amount on the wages of the worker. In 1946 the tax rate will be advanced to 2 1/2 percent and in 1949 to 3 percent, applying to employer and employee alike," King said.

It was pointed out by Mr. King that changes in the Social Security Act by Congress in 1939 removed the 65-year age limit for wage credits and thus made it possible for many workers to continue their employment in covered occupations and build up old-age and survivors insurance benefits. "This feature is particularly attractive at this time," King said, "owing to the fact that many an older person heretofore unemployed and not having sufficient wage credits was unable to qualify for old-age insurance benefits. These workers are now working and receiving credit for their wages and most of them, it is believed, will be able under the present labor supply emergency to continue working until they are able to qualify for benefits," King stated.

Anyone desiring information regarding the filing of claims, securing social security account numbers, etc. may call or write to the Abilene Social Security Board office at 102 Pine in the Grand Building.

TIRE BOARD MEETS TWICE EACH WEEK

Has Handled 28 Applications For Tires. Quotes Rules For Applicants

In its second week of operation the Eastland County Tire Rationing Board, which is composed of Jack W. Frost, chairman, Eastland; O. J. Russell, Cisco and E. A. Ringold, Ranger, had received and passed on 28 applications for tires.

The board, the members of which serve without compensation, meets at Eastland each Tuesday and Friday afternoons for the transaction of such business as has come up since the last meeting.

The tire rationing board requests that persons contemplating making application to purchase new tires ascertain first if their car comes within the "Eligibility Classification," which is given below, and refrain from making application if their car is not within the "Eligibility Classification" as the board is absolutely without authority to grant applications for such cars.

Eligibility Classification (List of vehicles which may be equipped with new rubber tires or tubes): No certificate shall be issued unless the applicant for the certificate certifies that the tire or tube for which application is made is to be mounted:

- (a) On a vehicle which is operated by a surgeon, visiting nurse, or a veterinarian, and which is used principally for professional services.

Town Police May Give Out Tickets To Speeding Engineers

BURLINGTON, N. J. (UP) — Motorcycle police soon may be detailed to give summonses to railroad engineers who speed their "iron horses" down this city's main street.

Councilman Neal Hancock said the Amboy division of the Pennsylvania Railroad agreed to operate its trains at a speed not exceeding 5 miles an hour over a one-mile stretch of track which crosses seven intersections. However, Police Sergeant Clarence Bennett reported that trains have been clocked going through the town at 25 miles an hour.

Postmasters Are Asked To Aid In Marine Recruiting

Postmasters in North, East and West Texas have been called on to assist the Marine Corps in recruiting by enlisting at least two men each during the next thirty days.

This request for assistance from the postmasters throughout his territory is just one of many steps to be taken soon in an effort to reach all eligible young men, according to Major John D. O'Leary, Officer in Charge at Dallas.

"Of course, we have our headquarters office in Dallas, where recruits are given their final physical examinations prior to being sent to the Marine Corps Base at San Diego, California, for their basic training. We have also maintained substations at Abilene, Denison, Longview, Fort Worth and Waco, and have sent recruiting parties out in the station wagon to other points from time to time. But we still feel," O'Leary said, "that we are missing lots of young fellows in the smaller towns of the State who would like to belong to the Marines."

Marine Corps enlistment requirements have not been lowered since the declaration of war. Applicants must be between the ages of 17 and 30, unmarried and without dependents, between 64 and 75 inches in height, and in average normal health. Those qualified and interested in belonging to this famous branch of the service are encouraged to contact their local postmasters, who will in turn—phone or wire the Dallas Marine Corps office collect.

The Marines are confident that they will soon be shattering all previous recruiting records for their area.

Camp Named After First Air Hero Is Now A Possibility

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (UP) — If an army camp is located at Gainesville — and there has been talk of such a move — city fathers would like to name it "Camp Colin P. Kelly."

Kelly was the first United States hero of the second World War. He bombed to destruction the Japanese battleship Havana. Gainesville citizens are fearful, however, that the war department would not allow the name to stand because Texas already has Kelly field at San Antonio.

WOMEN'S ARMY IS FORESEEN IN NEW WAR BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The United States Army will recruit an initial force of 12,200 volunteers to form a women's auxiliary corps, if enabling legislation recommended by the War Department is approved, Lt. Col. Ita Swift, of the Army's general staff, told the House Military Affairs Committee today.

Col. Swift estimated it would cost $10,000,000 to get the program underway. Although he set the initial force at only 12,200, Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers, Republican, Massachusetts, author of the bill, said the force probably would reach a total of 20,000 to 25,000 women in non-combatant posts.

Earlier Gen. Geo. C. Marshall, chief of staff, informed the committee by letter that the bill presented a "sound method of meeting the military requirements."

"I think it can be assumed," he said, "that all of our available manpower and womanpower, in uniform and in industry, will be needed to win this war."

Gen. Marshall wrote there were many military jobs for women, which they could perform better than soldiers can.

Democracy Needs A Post-War Order

AUSTIN, Tex. — Unless the United States establishes a post-war international order—with peace as a guarantee of its existence — to prevent a recurrence of the militant fanaticism that has arisen today, a University of Texas government professor believes democracy is doomed.

Pointing out that America's other foreign wars have been insignificant, Dr. C. P. Patterson declares that "for the first time in our history, a contest has evolved in which the very existence of American democracy is challenged by foreign powers."

Unless Americans accept the challenge to assure a lasting peace when this war ends, democracy as it is known in this country faces death, he says.

"The rise of totalitarian doctrines has challenged democracy to improve itself. Our democracy is not perfect. In our present economic, political and social systems, there must be changes which will point to higher goals and greater happiness for our people," he emphasized.

"After the democracies stem the present threat to their survival they must so strengthen themselves by curing present ills that never again will totalitarianism be able to send in the soil of democracy's failures."

Chemical Warfare Service Asks Oil Industry for Personnel Assistance

Assistance of the petroleum industry has been asked in obtaining trained operating personnel for chemical warfare service in the national defense program. Positions in three classifications, under U. S. Civil Service rating, are available: chemical plant workman, $5.28 to $6.24 a day; chemical plant operator, $6.25 to $8.00 a day; and foreman, chemical plant operator, $8.00 to $10.00 a day. Overtime of time and a half is paid after 40 hours.

In asking the help of the petroleum industry in publicizing this need to its employees, Brigadier General R. C. Ditto, of Huntsville Arsenal, Alabama, states that several hundred operators are required at his arsenal alone, and that the entire Chemical Warfare Service is expanding rapidly. General Ditto's letter follows:

"The demand for trained operating personnel in industry, occasioned by the national defense efforts, is tremendous. This is particularly true in the Chemical Warfare Service where the expansion is of exceedingly large proportions. Several hundred operators will be required at this Arsenal alone.

"It is felt that the American Petroleum Institute could render a very great service to the country by calling to the attention of their members the open competitive examinations for Chemical Plant Operators, Chemical Plant Workmen and Foremen, the requirements for which are attached.

Second Sweep Toward Smolensk

It was just six months ago that the Germans were driving on Smolensk, but now the Russians are doing it, from the other direction. Map shows Soviet sweeps toward Smolensk, encirclement of Nazis at Mzhaisk and drives on other towns as Germans retreat and leave a widening gap of territory retaken by Russians on the Moscow front.

FEDERAL AUTO TAX STAMPS PLACED ON SALE AT POST OFFICE WINDOW THIS WEEK

Federal motor vehicle stamps have been received at the local post office and were placed on sale immediately in order that everyone may secure them before Feb. 1, when they must be placed on all automobiles.

Vehicle owners are required to purchase the stamps before Feb. 1. One stamp must be purchased for each motor-driven vehicle, including passenger vehicles, trucks, motorcycles and other motor-propelled devices.

Regulations require that the $2.00 purchase price for a stamp be paid in cash, and postal employees are therefore not permitted to accept checks. The postmaster asked the public not to embarrass postal employees by presenting checks, which would have to be refused, regardless of who presented one.

Accompanying each Federal motor vehicle stamp will be a self-addressed card with blanks to be filled out with certain information required. These must be filled out immediately and be mailed to the Collector of Internal Revenue at Dallas. Each of these cards requires a one cent stamp. Blanks must be filled out in legible writing, with pen and ink or typewriter preferable but not absolutely required. Legibility is the requirement.

The public was urged to buy their stamps early. If they wait until the last day or two in January, the post office might be unable to get a sufficient number of the stamps on such short notice to meet the demand. But if they call now, a sufficient number of stamps can be ordered from day to day so that there will be plenty for everybody.

Each stamp is approximately 1 1/4 by 1 1/2 inches in size. It has muclage on one side and the vehicle owner is asked to affix the stamp on the windshield, dash or some other place on the car convenient for inspection.

The tax is on the car, and the stamps now being issued will be good until July of this year. If the car is traded before July, the stamp will go with the car—in other words, the tax is transferable.

Drafting Women Is Urged By A Judge

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP) — Drafting women as well as men for war-time service is advocated by Mrs. Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, Texas' only woman district judge.

"It seems to me that the government needs the services of all men, it needs the services of all women," Mrs. Hughes told a group of university and professional women. "It shouldn't be left to the women to volunteer."

Mrs. Hughes said that women have made considerable progress toward equal participation in national affairs, but they still are "only half-citizens." In Texas, she pointed out, women are not allowed to serve on juries.

"Time and education will give us full rights under the Constitution," concluded the former Texas legislator.

JAP ATTACKS ARE MET WITH STIFF PUNCHES

The Japanese held the offensive against the United Nations in the Far East today, but took stiff counter punches in return.

From the Philippines Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported that the enemy again was driving behind aerial attacks at the center of the Patana Peninsula line, but he said that three Japanese planes had been shot down and that United States Army bombers had sunk an enemy cruiser and had hit and set afire an enemy tanker off the southern island of Jolo.

Philippine troops are also fighting the Japanese invaders of Mindanao Island, about 35 miles north of the big port of Davao, which the Japanese had sought to use as a base for the invasion of the Dutch East Indies.

On Malaya Peninsula the British reported increasing enemy attacks on the front south of the Muer river, and probably about 75 to 80 miles north of Singapore.

Galloway Is Named Federal Explosive Licensing Agent

County Clerk R. V. Galloway has been appointed Explosives Licensing agent for Eastland county under the Federal Explosives Act of December 26, 1941. The appointment, made by the United States Department of the Interior, Bureau of Mines, is for the duration of the present war emergency.

Mr. Galloway promptly notified the authorities of his acceptance of the appointment, assuring them at the same time of his willingness to cooperate in this or any other capacity in which his services are needed.

The Federal Explosive Act regulates the purchase, sale and use of explosives during the present war emergency, and authorizes the Bureau of Mines to designate State officials, among others, to assist in administering the law.

Section 7 of the Explosives Act provides for a fee of 25 cents for each license issued, and Galloway was advised by R. R. Sayers, director of the Department of the Interior, Bureau of Mines, that this would be the only source of revenue for the licensing agent.

Such fees as are received for licenses issued would go to Eastland county, Mr. Galloway said, since he would do the work in connection with his work as County clerk.

The purpose of the Explosives Act is to prevent explosives from coming into the hands of those not sufficiently reliable and experienced to be authorized to handle them, or who may be disloyal or hostile to the United States.

Indies Governor Gets Promise Of "More Strength"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 — Lieut. Governor General Hubertus van Mook of the Netherlands East Indies said after a White House conference today that he had received a "lot of good news from President Roosevelt regarding the efforts to be made to 'strengthen' the allied positions in the Southwest Pacific."

Gov. Gen. van Mook, accompanied by the Netherlands Minister, Dr. A. Loudon, conferred with President Roosevelt for about 45 minutes.

He predicted that his people would "hold out all right" in the Indies, "just as they have from the first day."

Mission to Ankara

A world which used to call Turkey "the sick man of Europe" today finds itself with a raging fever, and Turkey almost the only country with a normal temperature. To the next phase of the world-wide conflict Turkey, sitting astride the road to the lower Caucasus, to Iran and India, to Syria and the Near East, may hold the key. It is the road to oil, the road to a junction of German and Japanese forces, a road to prolongation of the war ad infinitum.

No greater task lies before the allied nations than to keep Turkey at least neutral and in the mood to fight if Germany's next drive should come her way. Turkey must be shown that it is to her advantage to cleave to the allied cause, for it is on advantage that the acts of nations hinge.

There are two ways to do this, talking and acting. As far as talking can go, the United States has made an excellent first move in sending to Ankara Laurence Steinhardt, a diplomat who has proved his worth in more than eight years of exacting service.

Steinhardt, an acute New York lawyer, was appointed in the early days of the New Deal. While not a career man, he has since that time served as ambassador to Sweden, to Peru, to Russia, and his appointment to a fourth ambassadorship, at Ankara, will give him a record equaled by few career men with a lifetime in the State Department. His experience, compressed into a little more than eight years, is greater than that of many men with 20 years' service. He has made good at every job, and few diplomats ever faced a more difficult job than he when he was sent to Russia at a time when our relations with the Soviets were at sixes and sevens. He knows a great deal about Russia, about Europe and the world. We will be represented at Ankara by a man who sees clearly, talks plainly, and inspires confidence.

So much for that. However, such a mission can accomplish only so much with bare words. Action must back them up. Sufficient allied force to demonstrate to Turkey that North Africa, the Red Sea basin, Iran and the Caucasus can be held are an important supplement to any words Steinhardt can speak. Arms to help equip the Turkish armies for defense are needed and recent extension of Lend Lease to that country must be made effective.

Just what active demonstrations will be required of allied good intentions toward Turkey, and the means to back up those intentions, we do not yet know. But this is one of the most important diplomatic missions of our time, and we trust that the competent hands to which it has been entrusted will be supported in such a manner as to make it completely successful.

Men whose trousers always need pressing can get consolation by looking at any statue.

Prices Aren't All That Need to Be Stabilized

Some Facts About Our Hefty New Budget And the Billion a Week to Push the War

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Service Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The printed budget of the United States government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1943, weighs 5 pounds and 4 ounces. It has nearly 1400 pages, size 9 x 11 1/2 inches, and a conservative guess would be that it has two and a half million words and figures. You can buy a copy from the government printing office for $2.25 which is cheap, being only about $1 a million words.

In all other respects, however, this 1943 budget is no bargain. It is considerably duller reading than a mail-order catalog and while its sedative qualities might make it the perfect companion for an air raid shelter, it is not recommended as a substitute for a whodunit?

Of course it takes a book of these Chicago telephone directory, bull-choking proportions to account for ways in which $56 billion might be spent and a national debt of $110 billion be accumulated by July 1, 1943. It takes in such a wide variety of items—thousands of them. On page 573, for instance, you learn that the Department of the Interior contemplates spending only $135,000 next year, instead of $150,000, to aid the Indians in the culture of fruits, grains and other crops. On page 5 is the estimate of $4000 for the purchase, exchange, driving, maintenance and operation of an automobile for the vice president. On page 1031 is an estimate of $16,940 to run the dog pound for the District of Columbia.

This hits the middle, beginning and end of the budget book, but it is also being facetious, and that is not polite in wartime. Also, why pick on chickenfeed items like these when there are millions and tens of millions and hundreds of millions and billions and tens of billions and half a hundred billion to be spent?

THE President does not read this message to Congress himself, but in a rather amazing session which he calls his annual seminar with the press, he goes over this message sentence by sentence, with frequent interruptions for questions and explanations.

The budget itself, the message, the tabulations and all the columns of figures are a matter of record, but from the presidential asides at this conference, there are a number of tips on the shape of things to come. And to hit the highlights, here are just a few:

Only about 35 per cent of the nation's steel production now goes for war, but this will be raised to 50 or 60 per cent. Shipbuilding, originally estimated at a possible maximum of six million tons a year, will be raised to eight million and perhaps to 10 million tons in 1943.

Fifty thousand planes a year used to be thought an unattainable goal, but by sharpening their pencils the production men have found ways to step it up to 60,000 or even 125,000 a year. The types of planes, combat, bomber, training and so on, will hereafter not be specified.

The $56 billion budget does not include anything for St. Lawrence power and navigation project, nor for any project now before Congress in the form of a special appropriation bill.

The budget includes what is an initial $13.6 billion for the war. Large supplemental requests will be made later, as will additional requests for farm aid, WPA, youth program and others.

Most hopeful and encouraging aspects of war financing are that the interest rates are lower—2 1/2 per cent today as against 4 per cent and better in 1917, that inflation is being prevented by price control, and there is a possibility of keeping up the national income after the war.

Eat The Proper Foods And Keep Physically Fit

As part of the national campaign to strengthen national defense by building a stronger, healthier America, Grady Pipkin, chairman, Eastland Food Industry Committee urged all homemakers to serve the right foods to help keep their families fit.

"Eating the right food", Mr. Pipkin said, "builds and repairs your body. Keeps it in good running order and gives you energy for work and play. Helps prolong your prime of life, and is a basis for good health. Let's make it a new year's resolution to follow the findings of the Bureau of Home Economics U. S. D. A., and eat the right food to help keep us fit. Here's what to do:"

"Try to include in your meals every day—

"Milk—For a growing child, 3-4 to 1 quart. For an expectant or nursing mother, 1 quart. For other family members, 1 pint or more. Tomatoes, Oranges, Grapefruit, Green cabbage, raw salad greens—1 or more servings. Leafy Green or yellow vegetables—1 or more serving. Other vegetables or fruit — 2 or more servings. Eggs — 1 (or at least 3 or 4 a week). Lean meat, poultry, fish — 1 or more servings. Cereals and bread — At least 2 servings of whole-grain products or "enriched" bread. Fats. Sweets. Water — 6 or more glasses.

"Use fluid whole or skim milk, buttermilk, evaporated milk, dry milk, cheese — on the table and in cooking. Count 1 pint of undiluted milk (a little more than 1 tall can), or 1-4 pound of dry milk, or 1-2 pound of cheese as having about the same food value as 1 quart of fluid milk.

"Use green leafy vegetables often—spinach, kale, chard, collards, mustard greens, cabbage, broccoli, beet or turnip tops, or wild greens such as dandelion, lambsquarters, dock, cross, purslane. Save vitamins and minerals in all vegetables by not cooking any longer or in more water than necessary. Use the cooking water or juices. Do not use soda in cooking vegetables. Potatoes and apples, available everywhere the year round, contribute important food value when abundantly used. Eat eggs poached, scrambled, fried, or cooked in the shell—and count the eggs used in custards and sauces and in baking. Choose different kinds of meats, fish, poultry for variety of food values and flavor. Occasionally, use liver, kidney, and such salt-water fish as salmon, herring, and mackerel. In economical diets use dried beans or peas as the main dish several times a week. Use whole-grain bread or cereals . . . such as dark rye or whole-wheat bread, rolled oats, cracked wheat, whole-ground corn meal . . . or "enrich-

Mrs. Ruth Branton Is A Candidate For Treasurer Job

This issue of the paper announces the candidacy of Mrs. Ruth (Garland) Branton for the office of County Treasurer. The fact that the Commissioners' Court appointed her to this position was enough to convince the general public which she is serving that she was found fully capable of handling the job. Since her appointment, she has demonstrated that she is exceptionally qualified to carry on the work of her husband who lost his life in a tragic accident last November. We gladly present Mrs. Branton's statement as follows:

To the friends and voters of Eastland county:

In placing my announcement before you I will state that it is my desire to give you every possible service that is best for the interests of all concerned. Naturally I have my home in Eastland and expect to remain where I can rear and educate my children if it is the will of the people to continue to let me serve you.

I feel that I am fully qualified and competent to take care of the duties of county treasurer and that I will apply myself to the job with the purpose of doing it so well that no one will ever regret giving me the opportunity of serving you.

I was reared and am well known in this county.

I will earnestly and sincerely appreciate the influence and wholehearted support of the voters of this county.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Ruth (Garland) Branton.

ed" flour and bread. Count spaghetti, macaroni, noodles, grits, and white rice as cereals—not as vegetables. Count salt pork, fatback and bacon as fat—not as meat. Use butter or other vitamin-rich fat every day. Use sweets in moderation to make the diet palatable, but not enough to spoil the appetite. For other foods, count very sweet desserts, molasses, syrups, honey, jellies, jams, sugars, and candies as sweets. Form a regular water-drinking habit and drink plenty of water, especially in summer. When perspiration is excessive, use an abundance of water and extra salt. Remember that infants and growing children, and pregnant and nursing mothers, need fish-liver oil, direct sunshine, or some other rich source of vitamin D."

DENTON, Texas. — So much fan mail has come to Miss Jo Frances Worley, North Texas State Teachers College senior, since her picture appeared in newspapers all over the nation that the postmaster has quit stamping "delivery delayed on account of incomplete address," on all letters addressed to her at Denton, Texas.

A pilot even added "co-ed extraordinary" to Miss Worley's address.

In the picture, Miss Worley was mailing the 108 letters North Texas co-eds wrote consoling Private Alvin E. Reed, Louisville, Kentucky, who had his feelings hurt when 60 per cent of the girls voted to marry a draftee.

Miss Worley has received letters and Christmas cards from different states including Ohio,

Mississippi, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Missouri, and Texas. Soldiers, sailors, pilots, business men, and a convict have written her, begging for letters "to cheer up lonely hearts." One young man suggests that if the girls do not write him for any other reason, they may write in the cause of national defense!"

TAMBAY GOLD

BY SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

THE STORY: Mom Hammer sets up "Frederia" lunch wagon at run-down Tammany plantation...

WE rented a truck and ran in a squad of backwoods home-builders. Carpenters? They were magicians...

TAMBAY TOURIST CAMP

CHAPTER XI MAURIE SEARS DID FIX UP THE TOURIST CAMP CONTRACT, TOO...

On the way back I had an attack of jitters. Or maybe I'd call it conscience if I were sure I had one.

"Look, Juddy," I said. "It isn't too late to back-track. Say the word and I'll tear up this scrap of paper and forget it."

"What's on your mind now, Mom?" Juddy said. "It's this way. If this goes floozy, I've still got the Frederia...

"Then we play ball?" I said. "Yes; we play ball," she said. After the final wash-up that evening the two of us sat back and built our tourist castle in the air with towers and a moated grange...

"By midnight Judson and Baumer were a couple of millionaires."

"Build yourself one, Mom," she said. "But not for me. Leave the old house by itself?"

"Mom," she said. "You told Angel I was your niece. Why?"

"That's a thought," I said. "But what do you know about me? I might not even be respectable."

"Her name is Carniv. I. We were in that line of business when she was born. I'd run away from a jerkwater western college that you never even heard of, to marry a jolly sport of a tightrope artist...

"I am too," she said, "except when the wind comes from the north or the rain from the east."

"Look," I said. "There's a dozen windows needing glass. The roof leaks. And a self-respecting sparrow wouldn't have our plumbing in his nest. Cabins are weather-proof."

Vitamin Treatment Of Measles Urged

NEW YORK (UP) — The possibility that measles — now more prevalent over the country than for some time — may be treated successfully and its complications avoided by the use of large doses of vitamin A is suggested in the current issue of Clinical Medicine.

In a preliminary clinical note Dr. Irwin I. Lubowe of New York reported that he had tested the treatment on a number of cases all of which responded in some measure. Coughing, Dr. Lubowe said, was "reduced to a minimum and the occasional complications of mastoiditis, otitis media and pneumonia are avoided."

The magazine suggested editorially that this was a favorable time for further testing of the treatment by other doctors and commented that it might prove of "great value."

Training Program On Child Care Is To Be Perfected

AUSTIN.—Training programs for certified child care volunteers will be made available to local defense coordinators shortly, according to Doctor Geo. W. Cox, State Defense Coordinator and State Health Officer.

The program as provided under the Office of Civilian Defense is intended to provide a nucleus of trained voluntary workers in local communities to aid in the care of well children as distinguished from volunteer nursing aides trained through Red Cross assistance. The program is an extension of the present program of child growth and development of the State Health Department.

With mothers needed for defense work or being drawn into industrial activities, this training program will provide a volunteer group capable through a background of information regarding the normal development and every day care of the child to care for groups of children adequately.

The courses as now under consideration will be made available to anyone with time, ability, willingness to work, and a sincere interest in making a contribution to the growth, development and welfare of the child.

Doctor Cox indicated that final details of subject matter would be referred to the Texas Inter-professional Commission on Child Growth and Development which is made up of outstanding physicians, dentists, nurses, educators, welfare workers, and others in order to assure that the best resources of the state can be brought to bear on planning.

"We recognize," said Dr. Cox, "that the Health Department is but a part in the whole picture of growth and development, and we will need aid and guidance from the general groups listed as well as nutritionists, home economists, day nursery school workers, as well as volunteers, but we must provide a unified plan to safeguard our children in any situation."

Resignations From Legislature Are Running Far Short of the Average

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN.—The number of resignations from the 47th Texas Legislature falls far short of equalling past records in this respect.

Nine House members have resigned and there has been one vacancy in the House caused by death. The number of resignations may grow before the end of the year when present memberships expire, but the resignations will have to come fast to equal the record of the 35th Legislature in 1917-18.

Three Senators and 22 House members resigned before their terms expired.

Quite a number of them resigned to go to war. It was not the law then that a member could hold his civil office and also go into active military service—at least no one considered that to be the law in 1917.

Sen. James A. Harley of Seguin resigned to go into service with the 36th Division, of which he was an officer. He was recalled from camp to become Adjutant General of Texas. In that capacity, he organized the new National Guard of Texas, which the War Department authorized to replace units of the 36th Division and the Texas Train of the Rainbow Division. Harley became a brigadier general.

Sen. S. M. King of the Legislature resigned to become a member of the Court of Civil Appeals at Beaumont and Sen. E. A. Decherd Jr. of Franklin resigned also.

Speaker Frank O. Fuller of the House of Representatives of the 35th Legislature was among those who resigned. He had represented the district about Cold Springs, which was made up of Polk and San Jacinto counties, and moved to Houston.

Other members who resigned for military duty included: Myron G. Blalock of Marshall (again on active war duty); Tom J. Martin of Fredericksburg; Geo. E. B. Peddy of Tenaha; Woodville Rogers of McKinney; Harry V. Fisher and Stanley Beard of Houston, and J. C. Russell of Sinton. Beard enlisted in the Marines.

The late Maj. Sam D. W. Low resigned to go into the new National Guard. Other majors in the new guard, who had been members of the 35th Legislature, were Eugene DeBogory of Abilene, R. D. Thompson of Greenville, and W. D. Cope of Childress.

While the younger men were resigning to go to a new war, the 35th Legislature lost one of its veteran fighters of the Civil War by resignation. Rudolph Tachepo of Seguin, a Confederate Veteran, resigned from the House.

Membership vacancies in several other legislatures have exceeded that of the 47th.

Horse Parking Is Problem In City

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UP)—Ross Lawhon is making friends with his equine acquaintances.

Since tires have become almost unavailable for the average worker, Lawhon has decided to put his car in a garage for the duration and ride a horse to work.

The only hitch in Lawhon's plan is storage space for his horse. A courthouse custodian, Lawhon asked the city attorney's office for a ruling as to whether he can park his horse in the regular auto zones if he is willing to pay meter costs.

If this barrier is hurdled, Lawhon said he will make San Antonio at least a one-horse town.

Tweed Stockings to Be Latest Vogue

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—Tweed stockings, more simple shoes and less-colorful fashions are in prospect for women. Miss Esther Lyman, merchandise editor of Harper's Bazaar, said here during a recent Southwest Shoe dealers convention.

New hile hose, cross-dyed in two colors giving them the appearance of tweed stockings, were shown to convention delegates by Miss Lyman. She said women will wear them for work, country and casual wear and they will take the place of silk and nylon to a great extent.

The fashionable shoe for women next spring will be a stepin model with medium to lower heels and sandals with ankle straps. The colors will range from navy blue to neutral beige and gray.

Because a shortage of dyes is imminent, milady's styles next spring will feature less color.

Miss Lyman forecast a rosy future for the fashion business, however. Women, she said, will want to look the best for men in uniform. In addition there will be plenty of extra money for dresses because of restrictions on the purchase of automobiles, refrigerators, tires and other materials used for war, she said.

Why Go to Africa? AAA Starts Drive On Terracing For More Farm Land

Trailing a mountain lion through snowstorms and frozen passes to a spot 12,000 feet high in northern New Mexico, Mrs. Osa Johnson makes her first kill in United States with one shot. Lion had destroyed several calves on $10,000,000 Cimarron ranch of Waite Phillips of Tulsa.

COLLEGE STATION.—Do a bit more for defense by terracing your land this year.

During the next four weeks, AAA committeemen in every county in Texas where terracing is needed will hear that advice and will be asked to do what they can towards helping farmers to adopt it.

For the AAA is launching an intensive campaign to have every county make use of its terracing program which will enable farmers to terrace their land now and pay later when they get their conservation payments. Six representatives of the state AAA office are each visiting two counties a day, explaining the conservation services program, and offering their help to the counties in getting the program started.

At one time it was planned to tackle the terracing program on an experimental basis in several selected counties, according to V. L. Cade, state AAA committeeman from Lubbock, but the need for greater production of food to meet war demands required that the service be offered immediately throughout the state.

"Terracing improves the soil and the productivity of the soil," Cade said. "Every additional bit of productivity means that much more food will be available to help win the war. We've pledged ourselves to produce a lot of food and it's going to take our best efforts to keep those pledges. Conserving our soil through terraces and other methods is one way of making good on our promises."

When the Japanese finally get smart to their ABCD's (Americans, British, Chinese and Dutch), they'll find themselves at the foot of the class.

Athletic Teams May Hitch Hike To Game

HENDERSON, Tex. (UP)—Rusk county athletic teams may soon be "thumbing" their way to inter-city matches.

It's all due to the rubber shortage. Tire rationing rules prohibit sale of tires to buses used for "excursions", stipulating that the buses are to be used solely for transportation of students to and from school.

They may use private cars, or, as one coach suggested, perhaps "we may have to stand on the road and burn our way to the games."

Practically all of the county schools use buses to transport the athletic teams.
