Japanese Suffer Heavy Losses In Far East

RUSSIANS ARE FAR BEYOND A GERMAN BASE

Front line dispatches from Russia today reported that troops of the Red Russian Army had swept 20 to 25 miles west of Moshaisk, after trading heavy blows with the Germans at Borodino, where Napoleon fought his last victorious battle in 1812 in his march upon Moscow.

The retreating Germans, putting up a stiffening resistance, are still unable to stem the Russian tide, it was reported in London, where it was said that the Germans had razed Borodino before retreating. Moshaisk, which the Russians have already taken, was reported to have been damaged less than other abandoned Russian towns.

Russian troops, using propeller-driven sleds, similar to ones tried out in the Russian-Finnish war of last year, are reported to be relentlessly pursuing the German forces as they withdraw from the Moshaisk-Borodino sectors.

Pharmacists Have Part In National Defense Program

AUSTIN, Texas. — Recommendations to pharmacists concerning the part they can play in National Defense have been released by the United States Office of Civilian Defense, according to Doctor Go. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who is serving as State Chairman for Health and Emergency Medical Service.

The Office of Civilian Defense urges every pharmacist to register with the Chief of the Emergency Medical Service in his community, indicating what supplies he has available; register with the Transport Office of the local Defense Corps; make delivery trucks available for emergency transport; register his pharmacy with his air raid warden, indicating the telephone and refuge facilities he has available.

Every pharmacist should place his services at the disposal of the local Defense Council for distributing literature and information on Civilian Defense; inform himself of the location, and character of protection facilities in his neighborhood so that he can direct citizens to shelters, wardens posts, casualty stations, and first aid posts; review and extend his own training in first aid and prepare himself to instruct his employees.

Large pharmacies should establish a first aid detachment among their employees which can be immediately available as a stretcher team to assist rescue squads. They would be equipped with a stretcher and with first aid supplies.

Doctor Cox pointed out that the Office of Civilian Defense urged all pharmacies to keep their stocks of drugs, medical, surgical, and sickroom supplies constantly replenished.

"Already thousands of pharmacists have inquired of this office how they can best serve in this emergency," Doctor Cox said. "Dean W. F. Gidley, of the University of Texas School of Pharmacy, together with other representatives of the pharmaceutical profession, have indicated that their profession desires to serve in every way possible."

Singapore Battle How Is Looming In Far Eastern War

SINGAPORE, Jan. 23.—The Malayan fighting front is surging steadily closer to the big naval base at Singapore and the public tonight began talking about the "Battle of Singapore."

The "Battle of Malaya," however, still is raging to the north, where Imperial forces are fighting increased Japanese pressure on three main sectors, less than 60 miles away from Singapore. Imperial forces were reported to have opposed the enemy thrust inland from the Batu Pahat area.

Little Girl's Flight Has Happy Ending Thanks To Police

TYLER, Tex. (UP) — Ten-year-old Mary's step-mother forced her to get up at six o'clock in the morning and do all the housework before she went to school.

The step-mother also administered frequent whippings.

Then, came the blackest night of all. Her father left town for a few days.

Mary could stand her home no longer. So, shortly before 3 a. m. she sneaked into the night and started a trip to her real mother's home, which was in California.

Night Policemen L. L. Sides and J. T. Billingsley spotted her before she had gone far and brought the little girl to the police headquarters for a talk with Desk Sergeant Bruce Mosley.

After hearing her story, Mosley called a fellow employee of her father's. When he arrived she ran to him with outstretched arms.

He consoled her and told Mary that she could stay at his home until her father returned and the affair was straightened out. With that she smiled through her tears and left.

The hard-bitten boys at the police station were accountably sad.

Farmers Warned to Be Careful About Quality of Seed

AUSTIN. — Because of the scarcity of seed and the danger of poor quality in the seed offered for sale this year, B. V. Hasselfield, Tivoli, recently elected president of the Texas Certified Seed Breeders Association, warned farmers to carefully examine the tag before buying.

"Because of bad climatic conditions this year, many growers made little or no seed. And much of that seed harvested will have inferior germination," Hasselfield stated.

Texas law requires that all seed, excepting that sold by the farmer who grew it, and sold unadvised in his own county, must be tested and tagged. The tag shows germination, purity and weed content of the seed, and any farmer may protect himself by simply examining the tag before buying.

If seed has met the exacting requirements of the certification program, it may also bear the certified seed label, as issued by the Field Seed Certification Division of the State Department of Agriculture. The program is voluntary, but offers an additional guarantee of good seed to the farmer, Hasselfield said.

Representative Is Back In The Army

AUSTIN. — Roy Irving Tennant, Representative from Longview in the 45th and 46th Texas Legislatures, is back in the Army for the second time, both times a buck private.

Tennant, who has been in the State Comptroller's Department, first was inducted at Fort Sam Houston and sent to Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells.

One of the smallest men ever to serve in the House of Representatives, Tennant carried a coldier's full pack through the Louisiana maneuvers and didn't drop out at any time.

Then he was discharged under the 28-year-old limit that had been in effect. With war declared and the 28-year limit removed, he was inducted again last week.

Family Meal Looks Like C of C Banquet

LOCKHART, Tex. (UP) — Andrews Cyphers, Caldwell county negro farmer, is the father of just one big happy family.

Recently his wife presented him with a son who was named Harvey. It was his 21st child.

All but one child, which died at infancy, live on the same farm.

"Their dining table at mealtime," one white neighbor reported, "looks like preparations are being made for the annual chamber of commerce banquet."

Mineral Wells Is Denied Airport On Parker Co. Land

AUSTIN, Jan. 23.—Palo Pinto County is without authority to acquire land in Parker County for the use of Mineral Wells as an airport, Attorney General Gerald C. Mann's department ruled today in answer to an inquiry by Gov. Coke R. Stevenson.

Ranger Man To Be Buried In Stamford

The body of George Boyles, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Gorman Morton, in Ranger Thursday night at 7:30, was shipped to Stamford this afternoon for services and burial.

Services were conducted from the First Baptist church of Stamford at 8 o'clock Friday afternoon with Rev. Balch, pastor of the church, in charge.

Mrs. Morton, with whom the deceased had made his home for some time, was unable to attend the services, because of the critical illness of her mother, Mrs. George Boyles, who also makes her home with Mrs. Morton.

Mr. Boyles had suffered a stroke Thursday morning, and his relatives were called to his bedside immediately.

HEAD COACH OF BULLDOGS HAS RESIGNED

H. G. Jennings, head coach of the Ranger High School football team for the past two years, today submitted his resignation to Dr. G. C. Boswell, superintendent of school and to the members of the school board.

The letter of resignation, which was handed to Dr. Boswell this morning by Coach Jennings, reads as follows:

"To Dr. Boswell and Members of the Ranger School Board: "Due to present conditions and circumstances I feel it advisable for me to resign my position for re-election to my present position. I feel that it is proper and right that I should make a statement at this time to enable you to make early arrangements and plans for the coming football season. I wish to sincerely thank the faculty members, school board members, and football fans who have co-operated in carrying out my athletic program during the five years I have been connected with the Ranger School System. I am vitally interested in both the present and future welfare of every athlete who has been under my supervision, and with added experience and weight I see no reason why the Bulldogs of 1942 should not make a fine record."

"I want to assure the members of the Board and the patrons of the school that I shall have the same interest in my school work throughout the remainder of this year as I have had in the past."

"Very sincerely yours, (Signed) "H. G. Jennings."

M. C. Ulmer, mayor and banker of Midland, also WTCC vice-president, this year heads the membership bureau. Ulmer has written the 196 directors reminding them of their action at the chamber's Midland convention in November in setting up a five cents per capita town quota. Ulmer's letter called attention to the West Texas chamber's policy, maintained since 1930, of paying as it goes. He said, "We have made our regional chamber a going concern with absolutely no debts and with cash resources with which to get the job done. We do not solicit our modest budget requirements through commission salesmen. The small staff with the organization are all on a salary basis, and the money we get largely comes to us through the voluntary services of our town directors and committees. The result is that our West Texas chamber leads all organizations of its kind in the nation in its sound financing plans."

MANY PLANES AND VESSELS ARE ATTACKED

British-American Air Forces
In 10-to-One Victory Over Japanese Fliers.

Armed forces of the United Nations inflicted heavy losses on the enemy today in counter attacks against the spreading Japanese offensive from Burma to the Dutch East Indies and strategic islands off of Australia.

American, British, Chinese and Dutch fliers—apparently strongly reinforced with the newest type of war planes—blasted eight warships and transports with a dozen direct hits, dumped 20 tons of explosives on the big enemy base at Hanoi in Indo-China, and shot down 19 to 26 Japanese planes that vainly attempted to raid the Burmese port of Rangoon.

American and British fighters over Rangoon took the sensational toll of possibly 35 per cent of an estimated 70 attacking aircraft, while not a bomb fell on the city itself, the Rangoon radio reported. Two allied planes were lost for a 10 to one triumph over the Japanese.

Rapidly improving performances of the allied air forces throughout the Far East fighting zone came at a time when the Japanese were thrusting into Bismarck, Colomon and New Guenes island sectors northeast of Australia and were pushing closer to Singapore on the hotly-contested land front in Malaya.

Still another Japanese invasion force headed toward the big Dutch oilport of Balikpapan on the East Coast of Borneo, suffered large losses when Dutch warplanes scored 12 direct hits with bombs weighing up to 660 pounds on eight enemy vessels.

On the other fronts the situation was:

Philippines — Forces of Gen. Douglas MacArthur fought off continuous attacks by reinforced Japanese troops, inflicting heavy casualties on the enemy.

Australia — The militia at the island outpost was believed to be fighting "to the limit" against Japanese air and sea fleets that had landed at Kieta on the Bougainville Island in the Solomon group. Enemy landings were also reported at Rabaul, on the New Britain and on the New Guinea Islands.

Bill Johnson To Face 2nd Assault To Murder Charge

The recent 91st district court grand jury returned an indictment against Bill Johnson of Rising Star charging him with assault with intent to murder one Shelby Nunally also of Rising Star. The offense is alleged to have been committed on January 16, last.

Johnson is also under an indictment for assault with intent to murder one V. B. Fenwick of Rising Star. He has faced trial on this charge twice, the last time resulting in a hung jury. The case is scheduled to be tried again Monday, January 26 before Judge B. W. Patterson of the 88th district court at Eastland. Bond has been posted in all cases.

Brothers in Blood

As 1941 ended, Manuel L. Quezon took the oath in a secret headquarters of General MacArthur's army somewhere in the Philippines, as President of the Philippine Commonwealth.

"We have become brothers in blood shed for the defense of common ideals." So spoke U. S. Commissioner Francis B. Sayre at this strange ceremony.

Manuel Quezon is President of the Philippine Commonwealth until the end of 1945. Before the end of that time he will actually be governing in that capacity over his liberated people. To this we of the United States have given our word. It is as solemn an obligation as a people can assume.

It is a cause worthy our undertaking it, not only because we go to rescue from oppression a people conquered by ruthless force despite their dependence on us. It is a worthy cause also because the same force which overcame them menaces us, and all the world. There can be no peace until it is eliminated.

Shoulder to shoulder, American boys and Filipino boys are dying in Luzon. They are indeed brothers in blood, and so the whole Filipino people and the whole American people become blood brothers also.

That blood has blotted out one of the most vicious theories of which the Nazi and Fascist mind stands guilty and the Pacific war shows once again their utter folly.

For what do we have there? We have Hitler, the racial maniac, clasp firmly the "yellow fist" he not so long ago professed to despise. And we have China, another "yellow race," as an anchor of resistance to oppression. We have the "little brown men" of the Philippines on our side, and proud we are to call them brothers, for they have shown their love for freedom in the ultimate way—by fighting for it.

The racial theories of Hitler and Mussolini are proved false and ridiculous by their own standards when they unite as partners with a race they have always called inferior. It is not the color of a man's skin but the color of his loyalties that counts. The self-proclaimed "pure Aryan" Nazis have bowed down to the false gods of tyranny and oppression, while races and peoples which they have chosen to call unenlightened and inferior stand head and shoulders above them, fighting for freedom.

There are vicious, mean, and evil men and groups of men in all races. And so there are in all races men and groups of men capable of standing firm for decency and freedom. It is a supreme irony that the arrogant racial theories built up by the Nazis should be so eloquently disproved by the Nazis themselves.

Chicagoan bought a diamond which proved to be paste. He was stuck for $250!

SERIAL STORY

TAMBAY GOLD

BY SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

COPYRIGHT, 1942.
NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Mom Hammer sets up "Feeder" lunch wagon at run-down Tambay Plantation, forms tourist camp partnership with its aristocratic, impoverished owner, Jane Ann Judson, last of the Mauries and sored on the world. Mom tells Juddy she has a daughter, Carnival Juddy tells Mom of a lonely childhood. Other characters: Loren Oliver, Welliver V. prof digging for Indian relics at Tambay and harboring Old Swoosh, a Slovene refugee. Doc, Swoosh's pet skunk; lawyer Maurice Sears and football star Angel Todd, both in love with Juddy. Sheriff Hollister Mowery thinks Oliver after gold. Juddy is ill after mob lynching at Hanging Tree of Tambay.

A LETTER FROM KENT

CHAPTER XIV

"AN idea a day keeps the sheriff away," Juddy said. "Or am I wrong, Mom?"

"You're wrong," I said. "He was here yesterday."

"What did he want?"

"Family stuff," I said. "Believe it or not that ancestral mistake is worrying about your virtue."

"What business is that of his?"

"Pride of the House of Tambay and all that. He thinks the family on-nah is in danger and that Angel Todd's the triple threat to the Maurie scutcheon."

"If that's all he came for—"

"It isn't. He's all fussed and flustered over Doc and the diggings. In his opinion, the Wandos are so much bull and Doc is really after gold."

She sort of smiled. "Angel's good for what ails me," she said. "It's a fact that since she had the grumps, he was the only one who could make her snap out of it. The theory was that the two of them were working up the Amerind Ethnology course. Well, maybe they were. Anything that kept her from brooding about Tambay Tree was all to the good."

At that, I figured they must have put in some honest toil, for when the Am-Eth test came on, Angel went through it on grease. Juddy was tickled pink. I doubt if she'd really expected him to lick the exam. I thought I'd have a little fun needling Prof. Loren Oliver when he came over for his lunch.

"ANGEL TODD passed his test in your subject, I hear," I said.

"Todd's term standing has been below fifty. He passed his test above ninety. What kind of a thissenat does that make him?" That jarred me. "Are you telling me he pulled a phony?"

"What do you think?" he said.

"What are you going to do about it?"

"Send in his paper to the Board in regular course."

"What happens then?"

"Nothing, probably. It will be passed over. In the interests of the Higher Learning. We need a good right end."

After he'd left, Juddy came in and started to rack the dishes.

"What has Loren Oliver told you about me?" she said after a minute.

"Nothing," I said. "Except a little about your folks."

She stopped and thought some more. Her face was drawn. "All right," she said. "Come on. Let's go over and see him."

Doc put down his hand trowel and came to the gate. She opened up on him.

"Did you write Hendy Kent that I was here?"

"Certainly not," he said, and pretty sharp, at that.

"Who's Hendy Kent?" I said.

"My husband," Juddy said.

"The only thing I could think of to say was, 'Oh, yeah?'—which didn't seem to fully cover the ground."

"I haven't seen Henderson Kent for several years, you know," Doc said to her. "I never knew him well in college. He was the gilded youth of the place until he flunked out. Did he continue to be a high-flyer?"

"The highest," she said. "I tried to fly with him. It didn't work."

"You knew all about this?" I said to Doc.

"Not all. Part."

"And never opened your face to me?"

"I thought that if Mrs. Kent—" "Please!" Juddy said.

"—wanted you to know she'd have told you."

"THE good old competition motive. He waved an emerald hoop in front of me and my theory was that I'd better jump through it before some other girl nosed me out. He was gay and good-looking and had all kinds of superficial charm and knew all the patter and the double talk and the cafe-society cliches. I thought that was life. But there wasn't anything behind it."

The Doc shook his head. "It doesn't fit in with my picture of you," he told her. "So he'd been carrying a picture of her in his mind, had he? I don't believe she noticed that, but you bet I did. She said:

"It's simple. At that age and in the set I ran with, you think—'Oh, well! what the hell! Why not give it a try? It doesn't have to last. And it won't change any-

Eat Proper Food And Be Healthy Is Agent's Advice

Helping the people of Eastland county to meet the nutritional needs is one of the large objectives of the Eastland county Land Use Planning Committee. Bumper crops, improved soil, better housing and better home conditions are directly or indirectly affected by the food taken into the body. Knowing that a healthy body is the key to a healthy nation, the county, or nation is built, the Land Use Planning Committee is making a vast effort to see that every rural family of Eastland county becomes acquainted with the Texas Food Standard. This Food Standard was set up by the State Nutritional Committee and made for Texas as people.

Five thousand copies of this Food Standard have been printed so that each school child in Eastland county may receive one. January twenty third has been designated as "Texas Food Standard Day in Eastland County." Each school is to devote some part of the day in explaining, practicing or giving a program to emphasize the need of the correct food.

Copies of these food requirements are being sent to each school with the anticipation that Eastland county will profit through an increase in health, energy, and efficiency.

A contest is also being sponsored along with the distribution of the Food requirements. The object of the contest is to make a poster illustrating the "Texas Food Standard." Every school child in Eastland county is eligible for the contest. Prizes of defense stamps will be given to the three best high school and the three best grade school posters as follows: 1st, $2, 2nd, $2, 3rd, $1. From each grade and each high school, these posters will be turned into the office of the county home demonstration agent by Jan.

T. C. Williams

T. C. Williams Is A Candidate For Superintendent

This issue of the paper announces the candidacy of T. C. Williams for re-election to the office of County School Superintendent.

The trustees and teachers of the county are to be congratulated for their efforts in giving the schools of the county, an up-to-date, progressive school program. The budgets are carefully planned by the trustees and most of the schools are operating on a cash basis, paying their bills when they come due, and not contracting bills that they cannot pay. The County School Trustees have provided high school advantages and transportation for every high school boy and girl in the county. Hot lunch programs in nearly all schools, a county school library of approximately one thousand volumes, and a visual instruction program are in operation in the county.

He says that every effort has been put forth to administer the affairs of the office in the most efficient, friendly and courteous way. He solicits and will appreciate your vote and active support in the coming July primary.

Dime for Defense Against Paralysis

Good Neighbors in South America Want Goods Delivered, but Ship Shortage Slows Shipments

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Service Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The questions of getting strategic materials from South America and of sending priority consignments of goods to South America boil down to the problem of ships. No ships, no shipments.

So for the last few weeks the problem of getting cargo space for South American commerce has been getting tougher and tougher. For obvious reasons, tonnage has been withdrawn from hemisphere runs in large amounts and on both coasts. First the passenger liners were called in. Nobody wanted to travel on cruises in war times and the cargo carrying capacity of the luxury liners isn't so great. Then some of the fruit boats, the refrigerator ships were called in. And gradually the tankers and the cargo boats began to operate on irregular schedules. Service was disrupted and delays were frequent. Cargoes began to pile up on the wharves, including stuff for the government priority shipments and stock piles.

All these sore points are to be taken up by the economic experts who sit in on the meeting of 21 American republics' foreign ministers, opening in Rio de Janeiro Jan. 15, and the United States delegation headed by Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles is probably in for some sharp questioning. In general, the South and Central Americans understand what the United States is up against. They have grumbled, but understandingly, and hoping that matters could be improved upon.

In the first place, much of the goods the United States is now shipping to the Latins is new cargo we did not handle before. Newsprint, which used to come from Denmark and Sweden and Finland. Coal, which came from Europe. The Maritime Commission has put on ships for this emergency cargo and for petroleum to keep the railroads and public utilities of the east coast countries going. Thus far none has been shut down, but at times the reserves have run low and caused a scare.

LOADING boats fuller and speeding up unloading operations have helped considerably, and while the total tonnage of 1941 trade with South America will break all records, it still isn't enough, for the demands at both ends of the runs are greater than ever before. Another factor that has helped has been the putting in service of the approximately 100 axis ships tied up in South and Central American ports at the outbreak of the war. Some 60 of these were freighters and 18 were tankers. About half these ships have been taken over for service between the Americas and gradually others will be mobilized and recommissioned to relieve the traffic jam. Some, however, were so badly sabotaged by their crews that their recommissioning will be almost impossible. Who pays for the repairs and who conveys these ships must be determined.

Even if there were enough ships to haul everything that had to be hauled, there would still be the problem of United States priorities and the question of whether our war production program can spare enough materials to keep South America going. There just isn't any aluminum for South America, and that's understood. But 3 per cent of the United States iron and steel production would keep South American railroads and factories and mines and plantations going enough to get by on—if we can spare it.

One proposal which the other American republics are likely to present to the United States delegation is to do away with the priorities system of basing everything on the individual order, and give each country an allocation of such and such a quantity of this and that material. Then let the governments divide up the allocation where it will do the most good.

Clothespin Culprit Gets Weekly Term

By United Press
SALAMANCA, N. Y.—Jimmy as learned that crime doesn't pay and his penalty is staying indoors two days a week.

The confinement of Jimmy, pet crow of Merle Nichols, Jr., resulted from his pranks of pilfering clothespins off the line and stealing windshield wiper blades. Complaints from irate housewives and motorists caused Merle's father to order him to keep Jimmy indoors on washdays and Saturdays, when traffic is heaviest.

Another trick of Jimmy's, snatching milk bottle caps, almost proved his undoing. Beating the milkman one morning, he picked up some coins which a householder had left for an extra quart, and nearly choked.

MORNING WORSHIP

The morning church service of worship begins at 11. Others are finding them to be extremely helpful. You, too, might derive benefit from them were you to cultivate the habit of regular attendance. The service is designed to equip you for a fuller living of your life. Extensive psychological tests, confirmed by pastoral observations, prove that church-going families are happier.

SERMON ON THE MOUNT

The Sermon on the Mount is being discussed for several months by the young adults in their Fellowship meetings following vespers on Sunday evenings. The group meets at the parsonage. Many of them testify that they are learning more about the Bible than ever before.

VEPERS

A considerable congregation enjoys the vespers at five on Sunday evenings. One thing the vespers have lacked has been music of a higher quality. Sunday we expect to improve this feature of an otherwise inspiring service.

WE NEED A FLAG

Mrs. Jos. M. Perkins makes a timely suggestion which we heartily approve. Let the church secure a fairly large and substantial American flag to be displayed in the church on occasions. Some individual, individuals or group may like to donate such a flag to the church.

MUSIC LAST SUNDAY

Our Sunday morning church music is always good, sometimes grand. Sunday it was grand. The church is indebted to Miss Drago and the choir for their highly efficient aid in the worship services. We anticipate another musical feast Sunday.

WORLD SERVICE SUNDAY

Sunday is World Service Sunday! That is the day we lift our eyes to the world as a whole, as well as Eastland in particular. Our gifts in November to World Service amounted to $17. In December $30. What if we went up to $60 this month? Our total World Service budget, you know, is $751. Money contributed on fourth Sunday, and so designated, is credited to the donor on his annual World Service or Benevolences.

MORNING COFFEE

All Methodist ladies are invited to a morning coffee from 8:30 to 12 Monday, January 26, in the home of Mrs. Frank Castleberry, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. The coffee is sponsored by the following members of the executive committee of the society: Mrs. J. Daniel Barron, Ed Willman, Frank Crowell, W. F. Davenport, M. H. Kelley, Cyrus B. Frost, Bert Glamery, Cecil Sylvester, F. L. Drago, Joe Stephen, W. H. Mullings, Ed Sparr, B. O. Harrell, B. G. Blair, W. P. Leslie, Jack Ammer, Claude Boles, Earl Bender, Robert Vaughan, Ida B. Foster, F. M. Kenney. Additional members of the house party will be Mrs. Von Howard, Mrs. Herman Hague, Mrs. Lola Mitchell.

BANG! WE DID IT

Last week the finance committee called in at the twelfth hour the additional dollars required to keep all expenses of the church paid in full on time for the second month of the year. This is an outstanding accomplishment for the church. The masses of the members are contributing to the Approximately 85% of the troops in the Comanche Trail Council are gathering old newspapers, magazines and cardboard for defense. Some troops are also collecting discarded glass and tin cans. At present this work is going forward at a rapid pace. Most towns have made available to the Scouts storage space for the papers, and the work of collecting is done by Scouts, under the supervision of their leaders, after school hours and on Saturdays. Business men who have trucks take turns in letting Scouts and Scouters use their trucks when large quantities are gathered as on Saturdays.

The Boy Scout Emergency Patrol of Brownwood, led by Scoutmaster H. H. Gilliam, had an Alert Call, Friday afternoon, at which time they worked on the various requirements necessary for this service.

E. L. Vredenburg, Assistant National Director of Health and Safety Service of the Boy Scouts of America with headquarters in Los Angeles, will present a program in Brownwood, February 9th and 10th. Members of troop 46, Mullin, participated in the recent Red Cross Campaign there.

A Pow-Wow for the North Section of the Council was held in Cisco, Monday night, January 19th. A Court of Honor for the Stephens Co. District will be held in Breckenridge, February 9th.

The following troops have been organized recently: troop 5, which is being sponsored by Coggan Avenue Baptist Church, Brownwood; troop 37 of Seldon, Erath Co.; troop 14, Seranton, Eastland Co.; troop 52, Morton Valley, Eastland Co.; troop 53 in Ranger, sponsored by the Lions Club.

Troops being organized at this time are: troop 4, which is to be sponsored by the Central Methodist Church, Brownwood; and two troops in San Saba. Much more expansion work is planned for the year.

W. S. Adamson Is A Candidate For County Judge

This issue of the paper carries the announcement of W. S. Adamson for the office of County Judge of Eastland County.

Perhaps no man has woven himself into the hearts of the people of this entire county more than has Judge Adamson in his excellent judgment and jurisdiction in the official capacities of his office.

Judge Adamson has proven himself worthy and without question to administer the affairs of his office both from the standpoint of presiding over the Commissioners Court as well as presiding over the court on the bench. His duties are varied and many and he has demonstrated his efficiency in economy and impartial jurisdiction in every phase of the taxpayers interest.

It is truly an achievement made when one can see the great improvements made in lateral roads and highways as well as the financial condition of the county.

Below we present his personal remarks to the voters of the county:

TO THE CITIZENS OF EASTLAND COUNTY:

In making my announcement as a candidate for reelection to the Office of County Judge of Eastland County I want to thank each and everyone for the support they have given me in the past.

In these trying times when our country is calling upon every loyal citizen to do his part to help win the war it is the duty of every patriotic citizen to try and find the place he is best qualified to fill that he may serve his country in this emergency.

As a patriotic citizen I want to do my part and I know of no place that I am better qualified to fill and be of service to my country and the citizens of my county than in the Office of County Judge.

As your County Judge I have always looked after the interest and welfare of the citizens and taxpayers of the county; I have kept the expenses of the county within the county's income and have reduced the taxes at every opportunity; in presiding over the County Court I have tried to be fair, just and impartial in the trial of all cases.

W. S. Adamson

Seeks Re-election as County Judge of Eastland County.

The county's finances are in excellent condition, we have the best system of rural roads of any county in West Texas and we are continuing the building of rural roads.

Most County Officials have deputies who can look after the business while they are away, but the County Judge cannot delegate his authority to someone else and when he is out of the office his office must be closed. Eastland County has never had a County Judge who stayed closer to his office and looked after the county's business more diligently than your present County Judge.

Believing that I have made you a good County Judge I am asking that you reelect me to this important office, and it is my purpose to see each and every voter before the Primaries but if I do not see you I want you to take this as a personal solicitation for your vote and support.

Very sincerely,
W. S. Adamson.

FREEZE ENDANGERS PEACH CROP

By United Press
WEST PLAINS, Mo.—The severe freezes during January are feared to have ruined the 1942 peach crop in some sections of this fruit growing area. Below zero temperatures are not believed to have hurt other fruit crops and growers hope the peach damage will not extend over the entire area.

Buy a good chick, not a good price.

What is a good chick? A: Good breeding. B: Disease control. D: Good feeding.

How many chicks should be started? The right answer is to consider how many chicks may be brooded safely in the brooder house that is available. There must be at the start one square foot of space for each two chicks. Guard against overcrowding.

When the chicks reach the age of three or four weeks they require one square foot of floor space each, therefore you must look ahead to see whether additional housing will be available at that time.

Before the chicks arrive see that there is plenty of ventilation and fresh air, but no drafts, scrub the floor thoroughly and disinfect. Put clean litter on the floor about one inch deep. Scrub feed hoppers and disinfect and provide at least two water fountains for each 100 chicks.

In order to prevent spread of disease put tablets in their drinking water. Place fountains between and around the feed hoppers so that the chicks will always have plenty of fresh water close to their feed.

Build a roost before the chicks arrive. Build the roost with hinges so they can be let down when the chicks are about three weeks old to prevent overcrowding, overheating and danger of Macrodiosis, and to teach the chicks to roost early.

How to feed: Fill the hoppers daily or as often as necessary. Don't fill hoppers too full or the chicks will waste more than they eat. Keep chicks on the starter until they have consumed two pounds each, no more. After that change to growing ration.

Remember these fundamentals—Chicks will thrive if they have fresh air, not too hot (more chicks are killed by overheating than by chilling); fresh water, with fountains cleaned daily and placed in convenient places; plenty of feeding space, and fresh starter feed every day.

(Next week: Growing Pullets)

Spend all your time chasing rainbows and you'll run into a storm.

The man of the hour didn't get there in a minute.

Loss Woods Seeks Sheriffs Position For This County

This issue of the paper carries the announcement of Loss Woods for Sheriff of Eastland County. No one in the entire county as well as the State needs an introduction to our sheriff as he is and has been known as an outstanding peace officer, one who has been diligent, effective and considerate of all affairs of his office, as well as the protection of the people. He has rendered a service with honor and integrity. It is well known over the state that Eastland county has less crime and violations of the law than any county in the state. This naturally reflects upon the efficiency of his office as well as the good judgment of selecting the deputies that serve under his jurisdiction. He has been deeply appreciative of the people for their support and cooperation in the past.

To the voters and all my friends of Eastland County:

In making my announcement

County Boy Scout Committee Met Thursday Night

Members of the Eastland County District Committee, Comanche Trail Council, met at the Troop 103 scout house in Eastland Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. After a typical Boy Scout "feed" the session was formally opened with District Chairman John Kindie of Ranger presiding.

The committee reviewed scouting activities for 1941, and discussed and set objectives for 1942.

It is the plan of the Organization and Extension Committee to organize one cub pack, two Boy Scout Troops and three Emergency Service Units in the County.

The Training Committee will conduct monthly round tables for Scoutmasters and Scouters, that for Sheriff of Eastland County, I do so with the feeling that I have done everything that you expected of me in upholding the laws of this state. I have in every instance been fair and impartial in this service. I have and intend to keep a consecrated vigilance throughout the county in bringing to justice all those who offend the people of this state and county by their acts of violence or law violations. I have cooperated fully and without favor with the district attorney and district judges of the county. I have done everything possible to watch the expenditures of my official office in order that the taxpayers would not suffer losses due to unnecessary law enforcement expenses.

I feel that with my experience, and with the knowledge that I have at my command of state and national government in these trying affairs that war conditions have caused that I am more fully prepared to meet every emergency than any one else.

I kindly ask your consideration, your influence and your vote in the coming primaries to keeping me in the office that I pledge by continued unselfish and wholehearted interest to the duties that you trust me with.

Sincerely,
Loss Woods.

Baling Wire May Be Saved To Use Again By Farmers

COLLEGE STATION.—Texas farmers and ranchmen were told today that they would do well to save baling wire for possible reuse during the 1942 hay baling season.

A recent OPM order assigned baling wire, along with nails and wire rope, a rating that will assure delivery of the same amount of these articles as supplied in the corresponding quarter of 1940.

But, M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, reports that the U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates 1942 needs for baling wire at around 100,000 tons. This is equivalent in weight to three battleships or 3,000 medium tanks.

Thousands of bales of hay and other forage are now being fed in Texas, Bentley pointed out. The usual practice is to cut the ties, but farmers will do well to unwrap the wires, straighten them out, and then store them on a flat surface protected from the weather so they can be used again if a shortage develops, he said.
