

Air Corps Asks 12 1-2 Billions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—An unprecedented $12,525,872,474 appropriation for 33,000 new war planes was approved by the house with little debate today and sent to the senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—An urgent request by army officials for a $12,525,872,474 appropriation to construct 33,000 planes in preparation for "our offensive knock-out blow" was sent to the house today—and speedy approval was taken for granted.

Lieutenant General H. H. Arnold, deputy chief of staff for air, said the program was necessary to build up an air force both for the United States and its allies, and told the house appropriations committee:

"We are not only accelerating the attainment of our original state of preparedness, but we also are conducting combat operations and must concurrently build toward our offensive knockout blow. . . .

"Now, by decisive action we must counteract the time advantage of the enemy. . . . It is considered essential that funds for this program be made available at the earliest possible date in order that the present facilities may be prepared for further production and that the new facilities may be expected."

Testimony by Arnold and other officials, made public today, showed that $7,144,000,000 of the fund—the largest single military appropriation in the history of congress—would go for complete airplanes. Another $1,547,948,525 has been allocated for arms, munitions, aircraft, cannon, small arms, ammunition, bombs and projectiles.

Spare engines and parts will require almost $1,900,000,000 and new facilities to expedite production of the planes will take another $932,000,000. About $1,000,000,000 will be spent on supplies of the signal corps and chemical warfare service.

Arnold said that the requested program, except for heavy bomb-ars, was a continuation of the present rate of production and was made before President Roosevelt asked congress for 60,000 planes in 1942 and 125,000 in 1943.

Declaring that the pending appropriation would cover procurement of 33,000 combat planes and 10,000 training craft, Arnold testified that he could not agree with a report of the senate defense investigating committee which asserted that relatively few of the nation's planes were on a par with axis craft and that there had been too many production delays.

Repeating directly to statements in that report, under questioning by committee members, Arnold said it was true that he had said that the P-40 type of plane was no longer regarded as better than a good pursuit trainer. But since the original P-40, he said the P-40 A, B, C, D, E, and F had been developed and had been found very effective.

Production of planes on existing orders will reach a peak next August, Arnold said, but there were indications in other testimony—all of which was carefully edited by war department and congressional officials—that production of the $12,000,000,000 program would not be completed until late in 1943.

America Arms Progress Made In Production Of Materiel

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—With "good strong foundations" already established, America is on its way today to "outbuilding the world" in planes and tanks—the "two most important weapons" in modern war—and is stepping up rapidly all lines of war output.

Moreover, said a red, white and blue bordered "report to the nation" issued by the newly formed office of facts and figures, the Navy has 346 new combat vessels under construction—double its present strength; contracts have been let for 899 merchant ships; the Army is expanding toward a possible 7,000,000 men; and economic warfare is proceeding on world-wide fronts.

The report, first official summary of the defense war effort since the government clamped down on publication of production figures several months ago, was prepared at the request of President Roosevelt. It covered the period from the fall of France in 1940 to Pearl Harbor and on to the end of 1941.

Archibald MacLellan, director of O. P. F. (he also is librarian of congress) described American industry as having passed the period of transition and said that while in a sense the "real war is only now beginning," a tremendous start has been made and the job ahead "will be done."

Some of the highlights of the 20,000 word report:

- 1—Production of all weapons and supplies will be increased nearly 300 per cent in 1942 over the last 15 months.
- 2—Army warplane production has been "stepped up to the point where, with Great Britain, we soon will exceed the plane output of the Axis countries. More important, we will have the plant capacity to increase our production to the point where we can seize control of the air in all areas of the world struggle."
- 3—The United States now has four types of Army combat planes "better than anything yet produced abroad, so far as is known."
- 4—American bomber types now in mass production are superior to those built anywhere else in the world. Still better models are on the way.
- 5—Plans and tank production this year will equal that of Hitler "in all the years before 1939 when he was preparing to conquer the world."
- 6—Despite "all handicaps," production of tanks and combat vehicles in more than three times that of a year ago; guns of all types nearly five times as large; ammunition, nine times. "We already are producing light and medium tanks in quantities and the first heavy tank was delivered to the Army the day we declared war on Japan."
- 7—At the time of the attack on Pearl Harbor, the Navy was building 15 battleships to add to its 17 already built; 11 aircraft carriers building, 37 built; 54 cruisers building, 171 built; 73 submarines building, 113 built—in all 345 building.
- 8—The Navy also had under construction by the end of 1941 a total of 90 auxiliaries, 243 mine craft, 235 patrol boats, and had added 2,000 new planes to its air arm.
- 9—Land-lease supplies have expanded from a trickle to a stream that "must become a river, a torrent, and then a flood." These funds have helped the Army ferrying command deliver more than 1,000 planes purchased by Britain, and are bulwarking Far Eastern defenses through construction of British bases at Rangoon in Burma, at Karachi on the Arabian and other vital outposts on the Persian Gulf and in Eritrea.

More Texans Work, More Money Made

AUSTIN, Jan. 23 (AP)—More Texans were employed and they made more money per capita last December than in the same month of 1940.

The University of Texas bureau of business research reported employment was up 11.7 per cent in manufacturing industry and payrolls increased 28.8 per cent. The largest gain in payrolls, 65 per cent, was in quarrying. The same industry showed a 21.5 per cent gain in employment.

Japanese Swarm Across South Sea Islands, Landing In New Guinea

Australia Is Endangered By New Thrust

Dutch Aviators Fight Valiantly Against Invaders

By Associated Press
Japan's march of conquest struck directly toward Australia today as sea-borne Japanese troops landed in New Guinea, the Solomon Islands and probably New Britain, in an sweeping thrust not only the land "down under" but also United States routes to the Pacific war zone.

At its nearest point, New Guinea is only 100 miles across the Torres Strait from Cape York, northernmost tip of Australia.

In general, the news was dark from all fronts in the far Pacific conflict, relieved only by word from Washington that the United States was beginning to pour a stream of reinforcements into what has been until now, a lopsided struggle.

Critical hours again were at hand in the battles of Malaya and Burma.

Dutch heavy bombers and fighters landed out at the midnight invasion, in an sweeping thrust into the South Sea Islands, scoring 12 direct hits on eight Japanese warships and transports in the Strait of Macassar, between Dutch Borneo and Celebes Island.

Military strategists emphasized the triple menace of Japan's newest thrusts:

1. The war has been brought to territory within easy striking distance of Australia.
2. Japan has forged a new link in her chain of bases stretching south and east for 2,000 miles from Tokyo to the Solomon Islands.
3. The United States' supply lines to the Dutch East Indies, Singapore, Burma and China have been sharply endangered.

Jap Blow At Australian Territory Indicated

Shortly after a strong Japanese naval force was sighted off Rabaul (1), capital of the Australian-mandated island of New Britain, communications with that city ceased, indicating an invasion was under way. Half an hour later Japanese aircraft raided the Solomon Islands (2). New Britain lies only 900 miles northeast of the nearest point of Australia proper.

From bases in New Guinea and in the 750-mile-long Solomon chain to the east, Japan may now command the vital Torres Strait between Australia and New Guinea, and force allied shipping into a 3,000-mile detour south of the Australia mainland.

In swift alarm, Australia ordered blackouts in all cities, militia units were equipped with full battle dress, and the commonwealth war cabinet was called in emergency session. Urgent new appeals were sent to Washington and London stressing the need for reinforcements.

The locale of the Japanese landing in New Guinea was not given, but presumably the invaders put ashore near off-bomb Madang, on the northeast coast, 450 miles from Cape York, Australia, and 1,500 miles from Australia's great Port Darwin naval base.

Deputy Prime Minister Francis Forde, warning that "we must realize the gravity of the situation," said it was assumed that the Japanese had also landed at Rabaul, New Britain island, where the British garrison had withdrawn after firing and dynamiting dock installations at the approach of a Jap mess fleet of 11 ships late yesterday.

A fleet of commercial airliners, carrying double loads, evacuated 800 women and children from Rabaul in the last few hours before the Japanese landed there.

In Tokyo, Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo boasted that Japan was assured of further triumphs in "greater East Asia," and declared:

"I am not afraid of America, although I do not dismiss lightly the huge military expenditure called for in President Roosevelt's message to congress." Tojo asserted that in manpower "Japan tops the world."

Situation On Malaya Front Is Serious

Aussies And Allies Throw Weight Into Counter-Offensive

On the Malayan front, the Melbourne radio broadcast a message from Maj. Gen. Gordon Bennett, Australian commander, frankly conceding that the situation "if anything is more serious than it was a few days ago."

Dispatches from Singapore said grim-fighting British, Australian and Imperial Indian troops who had stemmed Japan's main invasion armies for three days now are showing their full weight into a terrific counter-offensive, with the battle raging on an 80-mile front across Johore state, less than 70 miles north of Singapore.

This was the picture of the jungle maelstrom as described in front-line dispatches:

Artillery crashing on the Malay east coast. . . . Forward troops fighting the Japanese in the center—and in western Malaya, Australian and British forces heavily attacking the invaders in close-quarter fighting. . . . While overhead, Japanese warplanes bombed and machine-gunned the imperial defense fighters.

British headquarters acknowledged that Japanese pressure was increasing and that the invaders had carried out further infiltrations below the main battle area, in the Batu Pahat sector, 60 miles north of Singapore.

An official Tokyo broadcast declared optimistically that "total collapse" of the British defense system in Johore state was "imminent" and asserted that the 600,000,000 Singapore island naval base was "doomed."

Argentina Offers Counter-Proposal

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 23 (AP)—A high conference source said today that representatives of the American republics would decide on the severance of relations with the axis this afternoon—with or without Argentina.

The Argentine foreign minister, Dr. Enrique Ruiz Guinazu, conferred for half an hour with the heads of Brazilian and United States delegations a short time earlier, and it was reported on good authority that he had submitted his country's counter proposals to the plan for rupture of relations.

The counter-proposal, these sources said, had been drafted by Ramon S. Castillo, acting president of Argentina.

Speaker Says Young Folks Face Big Job

Muddling of the present generation has given the "young folks a big job to do," Jeff Williams, Chickasha, Okla., attorney, told a crowd of 550 at the annual leaders meeting of the Buffalo Trail Boy Scout council at the city auditorium Thursday evening.

In an address devoted to the current international crisis, Williams said that dilatory tactics had made it impossible for "our boys to defend the flag wherever they may be." He warned against over-confidence and thrill-seeking, and decried the drift in the past two decades away from prayer, churches and schools.

Still, he figured that this generation and the next in line has a destiny, that "America ought to demand its rights but be willing to accept its responsibility," for "America ought to stand for something besides chewing gum, slot machines, cinemas and scy magazines."

Sacrifices are ahead, he admitted, but added that "I don't care if I have to ride a bicycle; all I want is that we all do the same thing." With the spirit that Texas has, he said, the victory can and will be won, but an enduring peace must be based upon "getting together by showing we really

Girls, The Girdles Are Out

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Sorry, girls, but the War Production Board confirmed that had news about girdles today.

After Feb. 1, an order declared no more crude rubber or latex may be used in manufacturing girdles or other foundation garments, golf and tennis balls, erasers, bathing suits and caps, lawn and garden hose and hundreds of other common household items.

Extending already strict government control over the rubber industry, the board made public a long list of "essential" products which may be manufactured; established production quotas for each class of products, and directed that use of crude rubber for a wide variety of "essential" civilian goods be reduced about 75 per cent below recent annual consumption.

Futility

LONDON, Jan. 23 (AP)—A Hebeost made a 22-mile dash from a lonely Shetland lighthouse last Dec. 3 with 16-year-old Margaret Smith, who was suffering from acute appendicitis.

An operation saved her life. Margaret was killed yesterday by a bomb dropped by a daylight air raider.

Dutch Drop Bombs On Jap Warships

BATAVIA, N. E. I., Jan. 23 (AP)—Dutch bombers and fighters scored direct hits on four Japanese warships—a large warship, a heavy cruiser, one other cruiser and a large transport—in the Macassar Straits, it was officially announced today.

A communique released through the news agency Aneta said 500-pound bombs were dropped directly on a large warship, a heavy cruiser, a smaller cruiser and a large transport, while dive-bombers scored with their 150-pound bombs on a destroyer and three transports.

The Dutch suffered no losses, it was announced.

Chinese Guerillas Raid Jap Island

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP)—The British radio relayed today a report that Chinese guerillas had crossed the Yellow Sea and stormed Japanese naval headquarters on Yoko Island, off the coast of Korea. CBS recorded the BBC broadcast.

The report seems to have come from Central News, an agency of the Chinese government, because the BBC announcer added:

"The Chinese Central News agency reports that more than 200 Japanese were killed."

Fire Plugs In Canada Sabotaged

TORONTO, Jan. 23 (Canadian Press)—Officials said today a widespread effort to sabotage Toronto's fire-fighting facilities in industrial areas had been thwarted with the discovery of 23 damaged hydrants.

Officials said 20 hydrants had been found damaged yesterday and 19 more today in an east-end industrial area near the waterfront.

The soft brass spindles on the hydrants had been hammered out of shape so that key wrenches used by the fire department to turn on the water would be of no use.

Jap Attacks Repulsed By U.S. Troops

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur reported to the war department today the repulse of all Japanese attacks on the Bataan peninsula in the Philippines which he said had been extremely heavy in the past 24 hours.

The war department said in a communique that apparently the enemy was making continuous assaults without regard to losses with intent to crush the American-Philippine defenders by sheer force of numbers.

Japanese assault troops have been strongly reinforced, the communique said.

Meanwhile, reports from the Southern Philippine island of Mindanao, more than 500 miles south of the struggle on Luzon, were that the Japanese had organized a local military force composed of some 10,000 Japanese residents of that locality.

Davao, on Mindanao, is a city populated largely by Japanese, who for years have dominated the production of Manila hemp. Early in the invasion the Japanese made Davao a base of offensive operations against Borneo and other parts of the Netherlands Indies.

News Bad In Libya, Good In Russia

By The Associated Press
Russia's victorious red armies, repeating the triumphs their forebears scored against Napoleon in 1812, drove the Germans 23 miles west of Moshark in a seven-mile-a-day advance today. While on the North African front, allied forces suffered a startling reverse.

Coupled with their smashing triumph on the Moscow front, Russian troops advancing in a blinding snowstorm launched a drive to outflank the Nazi armies before Leningrad.

Dispatches said the Russians took the Germans by surprise in an attack on the 40-mile sector between Novgorod, just north of Lake Ilmen, and the Moscow-Leningrad railroad, resulting in the most violent fighting of the new year.

On the southern (Ukraine) front, a late bulletin reported that Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's armies were continuing to advance along a 100-mile line between Kuruk and Kharkov, Russia's "Pittsburgh."

To the north, soviet troops were said to have recaptured 44 towns and villages in the Orel sector, 210 miles below Moscow, and it was reported that Orel itself, encircled for the past fortnight, may already have fallen.

British Middle East headquarters acknowledged that axis mechanized forces, striking 90 miles northeastward from El Aghelia, had recaptured Agadaba, and it was apparent that Gen. Erwin Rommel had begun a full-fledged counteroffensive.

Agadaba, the scene of a brief axis stand after Gen. Rommel's armies had been thrown back 300 miles from the Egyptian-Libyan frontier, is 80 miles south of Bengasi on the Gulf of Sirte.

A Cairo bulletin said axis troops, screened by a swirling red sandstorm, lunged forward from the Marsa Brega sector, 25 miles northeast of El Aghelia, on the second day of what was described as a "reconnaissance in force" yesterday.

"By evening, our light forces had withdrawn east of Agadaba, which the enemy occupied," British headquarters said.

Astonished by the setback, "at the peak of the British drive toward Tripolitania, London military quarters suggested heavy aerial reinforcements must have reached the Germans and Italians."

Japan Aims Peace Feelers To Chungking

TOKYO, Jan. 23 (Official Broadcast Recorded by AP)—Addressing parliament this afternoon, Premier General Hideki Tojo reiterated Japanese willingness to accept any Chungking overtures for peaceful reconciliation if that regime changes its attitude.

He declared that although Japan has been fighting Chungking for five years she still regards China as a sister nation and has not changed her mind about receiving Chungking with open arms if she only rectifies her mistaken ideas.

"Japan is chastening a spoiled child who was pampered by Anglo-America," the premier stated.

He asserted that past faults in China would vanish with the disappearance of Anglo-American influence.

"Now is the time for China's leaders to awaken and I take this occasion to urge them to do so."

LONDON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese ambassador to London, told a press conference today he doubted "very much" the rumors that China might conclude a separate peace with Japan.

He said that the "situation in Malaya and the South Seas in general gives us cause for anxiety," but that he knew the government and the people were "confident of the ultimate outcome of the struggle."

Even if a statement about a separate peace had been made, he declared, "it would not in any way reflect either the feelings, the sentiments or the determination of the Chinese government."

DOWNTOWN STROLLER

BILLY MOORE of McAllen and a former Big Spring resident is now stationed at Camp Bowie, Brownwood, with the 14th Infantry so he says in a letter to friends here. He's been in the army for about 14 months.

Just back from a trip to Pittsburgh, Pa., and points east, Mrs. J. H. KIRKPATRICK says she doesn't know whether she'll ever get all that coal smoke out of her hair and eyes or not. But outside of that, she has nothing but good reports of her trip.

Friends of NELSON "SPIKE" HENDRIGER, Jr., a former resident here, might be interested to know that he has joined the air corps and is stationed at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls. He has been in Postville, Idaho, for the past two years.

Come a note from the treasury department in Washington that's worth repeating. "Springtime is showertime—for the new crop of brides. All the old shower-stylos go by the board. Aluminum is on priorities—so out goes the kitchen shower. Rubber is on priorities—so out goes the bathroom shower. Wool is on priorities—so out goes the blanket shower. What's left? A DEFENSE SAVINGS STAMP shower—money for the bride and bridegroom to put into a DEFENSE BOND—to cash, with interest, on that tenth anniversary celebration. Yes—it's a "tin" anniversary—and those bonds will assure "tin" of being off the priority list by then." Sounds like a pretty good idea doesn't it...

22-B Cage Race Now One Of Also Rans

The District 22-B chase stimmers down this evening to a case of also-rans while Forsan ticks its wounds and prepares for a do-or-die comeback attempt next month against the Sterling City Eagles.

Cosmos must go to Sterling City this evening to meet the team that administered a rather convincing drubbing to the Forsan Buffaloes on Tuesday. The outcome is hardly in doubt, for Cosmos seemingly doesn't have the material this year.

Westbrook ties into Forsan at Forsan this evening and the Buffs are favored because they are at home and because their record is the more impressive of the two. It isn't probable that Coach Cagle Hunt will allow his Buffs to brood over their recent loss to the extent they would lose this one tonight.

In the other tilt, Gardner saddles up for a trip to Garden City, and this is due to be the most closely played game of the evening. Neither has an exceptionally strong team, but while Gardner has slightly more indicated strength, Garden City will have at home advantage.

Norton Favors Putting Frosh Into Varsity

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 23 (AP)—The 1942 freshman at Texas A. and M. will have only two years of varsity eligibility unless Southwest conference rules are changed.

Coach Homer Norton, pointing to the school's accelerated educational program, said yesterday he hoped sanction of freshman participation in varsity sports would come from the May meeting of conference officials.

Ted Schroeder Next Champ?

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 23 (AP)—Towering George Lyttleton-Rogers, colorful Irish international tennis figure for nearly two decades, predicted today that hard-hitting Ted Schroeder of California would be the next U. S. singles champion—provided the Army doesn't get him first.

"Schroeder hits very hard, has a good, all around game and is improving all the time," declared the six-foot, seven-inch Lyttleton-Rogers who has won 15 Irish championships, a number of European titles and been a member of Irish Davis cup teams.

"Furthermore," he asserted, "Schroeder's ability to play well on grass gives him an advantage over players like Frank Parker, Don McNeill, and Jack Kramer, who also loom as strong contenders for the title vacated when Bobby Riggs turned professional."

Lyttleton-Rogers expressed belief too that the standard of amateur tennis in the United States is as high as ever.

Pepper Martin Has Eye On Ranching

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Jan. 23 (AP)—The wild horse of the Osage is taming down.

Pepper Martin, one time ring-leader of the St. Louis Cardinals' gashouse gang and now manager of Sacramento in the Pacific Coast league, puts it this way:

"I know my days in baseball are numbered unless I am successful as a manager, so I want a good ranch where I can raise fine cattle and perhaps settle down and run for sheriff."

Martin was reported negotiating for a ranch in Muskogee county.

It's In The Blood Golfer's Son, At Age 12, Takes Tough Course In 74

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23 (AP)—Henry Mac Gregor Hunter shot a 74 at Riviera country club the other day over a course that is long and a true test of championship golf.

Just a year ago the nation's leading professionals, including Sam Snead, Byron Nelson, Jimmy Demaret and Forgy Oliver, were shooting 74's over this same course in the Los Angeles open, and were glad to get them.

But Henry Mac Gregor Hunter is just 12 years old. He weighs only 100 pounds and has, and stands five feet two with the aid of the spikes in his shoes.

So this two-over-par 74 by a 12-year-old sprout is unusual.

It's less unusual, however, if you look closer at that name. For Henry Mac Gregor, or Mac, is the son of renowned Willie Hunter, former British amateur champion, captain of Scotland's international team and now a ranking California player and pro at Riviera.

Son Mac shot his round in competition—in a monthly club sweepstakes—and played with older members who saw him hole out every putt.

How long has he been playing? "He started swinging a club soon after he arrived," Father Willie said, "but he's been keenly interested in playing less than three years."

Radford Cinches Slow Loop Title

Radford sacked up the first half title in the city basketball slow league Thursday evening, trimming the Lions club 21-14.

In the fast league, Crystal took a firm hold on the lead by barely getting by the scrapping Vaughn team, 23-21, while Carnett, growing stronger all the time, slammed out Cosden for the second time this season, 32-30.

As long as the Lions could hold out, they made a real game of it. The first quarter ended with Radford holding a 4-3 advantage, the half with Radford ahead 8-7, and the third quarter 16-12. Jack Smith, Lions bulwark, topped the scoring parade with 12 points, ahead of Radford's Abernathy with 10.

Vaughn had tough luck in its most brilliant game of the season. At the end of the first quarter the team had Crystal down 9-1 only to lose most of the advantage in the second quarter for a 13-9 half score.

Most furiously fought of all was the Cosden-Carnett tilt. Carnett led 8-7 at the quarter, it was tied 11-11 at the half and Cosden held a 23-22 lead at the end of the third. Still two points ahead with some 15 seconds left to go, Martin fouled Dawson as he shot. The ball went in anyhow to tie the score and Dawson sank his shot.

Another free throw added to the margin of victory.

Hogan Grabs Lead In Frisco Open

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Jan. 23 (AP)—Texas born Benny Hogan setting a pace comparable to a jackrabbit in his native state, was out in front today as the field teed off in the second round of the 72-hole San Francisco open golf tournament.

The 187-pound dynamite, leading pro golfer of the country the last two years and winner of the recent Los Angeles open for a flying 1942 start, knocked par yesterday with a first round 65.

He topped seven strokes off standard figures for the California club course. Par for the 6,500 yard, heavily-wooded layout is a pair of 80. Hogan teed with it to the tune of 22-23.

As the leader, Hogan enjoyed a three-shot advantage over his closest rival starting today's second round. Veteran Harry Cooper of Minneapolis came home with a 23-25-68. Another old timer, Horton Smith, of Pinehurst, N. C., crowded Cooper with a 20-34-68.

Others among the nine stars breaking par were Harry Baerler, Los Altos, Calif., 20-25-70; Dick Metz, Oak Park, Ill., 23-27-70 and the following 71 shooters: Lawson Little, San Francisco, 25-26; Denney Shute, Chicago, 25-26; Ralph Hutchinson, Bethlehem, Penn., 25-26; and Lloyd Mangrum, 26-25.

Half a dozen had par. Among those who fell back to rear guard positions were such notable as Byron Nelson of Toledo, Ohio, former U. S. open and national F. G. A. champion. He had a 25-25-76, a dismal showing of his six under par 74 and a victory in the Oakland open last week. Nelson was shaky from tee to green much of the way.

San Jose, Hot Springs, Va., Jimmy Hines, Grand Neck, Long Island, Leonard Dodson, Kansas City, and Clayton Heafner, Charlotte, N. C., were grouped at 75. Heafner found his trouble in a tree. Two years ago in Oakland he had similar difficulty. This time it cost him two strokes. He battled at the ball, lodged three feet above the ground. It bounced upward and stuck but he got it out on the fourth try and took a six on the hole.

Two years ago in Oakland he had similar difficulty. This time it cost him two strokes. He battled at the ball, lodged three feet above the ground. It bounced upward and stuck but he got it out on the fourth try and took a six on the hole.

San Jose, Hot Springs, Va., Jimmy Hines, Grand Neck, Long Island, Leonard Dodson, Kansas City, and Clayton Heafner, Charlotte, N. C., were grouped at 75. Heafner found his trouble in a tree. Steers Meet Real Test In Form Of Sweetwater Cagers Tonight

Big Spring Steers, currently sharing a four-way deadlock for leadership of district 3-A, undertake to negotiate the first of two remaining major h.d.s here at 7:30 p. m. today.

That hurdle is the Sweetwater Mustangs, a lively bunch that came near clipping the wings of the high-flying Abilene Eagles before finally dropping the encounter 34-31.

Showing of Big Spring against the visiting Mustangs should throw some light on chances of the Steers against the Eagles here Monday evening. Should Big Spring make it two more straight, the surprising Steers would be on the inside track of the district race.

That would throw them into a series of combats either with weaker teams, or with tougher ones at home.

Other games in the district this evening see Midland going to San Angelo to absorb what promises to be another licking. The Bulldogs show no disposition to improve in their last few games, and a victory over Angelo would be an upset of the most remarkable sort.

Odessa journeys to Abilene, and should the Bronchos muster sufficient strength, this could be the prime offering of the evening. Odessa has the wherewithal to turn the trick if all players are in harness, and certainly the Bulldogs are about due to break their losing streak.

Colorado City moves in on Lamesa, and Lamesa probably will clean up on the hapless Wolves. The Colorado boys have shown considerable improvement of late, but the least of power is finding the first liners to hold to much too fast a pace. Consequently, the Wolves have been crumbling after the initial round.

MIDLAND, Jan. 23—Mrs. P. H. Liberty was re-elected president and Mrs. Walter Smith was re-elected treasurer of the Women's Golf association at a meeting this week.

Other officers elected were Mrs. S. P. Haalip, secretary; Mrs. Fred Hogan, chairman of the golf committee, and Mrs. J. A. Mascho and Mrs. J. H. Longbaugh as co-chairmen of the bridge and bingo committees.

Mrs. Bob Porterfield was elected president of the woman's auxiliary of the Midland country club.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23 (AP)—The nation's bus lines want a 10 per cent increase in passenger fares, but Chairman L. C. Markel of the National Bus Traffic Association, which he said represents 95 per cent of bus traffic, announced operators' proposals were similar to those approved for the railroads.

The Interstate Commerce Commission on Wednesday authorized railroads to raise fares and Markel said the bus lines hoped to make their increases effective simultaneously.

Proposed changes, the chairman said, will not affect rates for military travel.

AUSTIN, Jan. 23 (AP)—University of Texas regents began a two-day meeting today and one result might be initiation of a $600,000 state-financed cancer program.

The school's governing board was entrusted with administration of the research project by the last general session of the legislature which appropriated the money.

The bill authorized the regents to determine the location of the research center, although under terms of the legislation the program could be operated concurrently at several new or existing centers.

Nice Ride, No Injuries
CHILMARK, Mass.—When 94-year-old Freeman Hayden fell down the cellar stairs, his relatives called an ambulance. He protested furiously but finally agreed to go to the hospital when he learned it would be the first person to ride in the new Martha's Vineyard ambulance. He was right all the time—no injuries.

Radio Monitoring Station Planned For Kingsville

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Establishment of a radio monitoring station at Kingsville, Tex., is planned by the federal communications commission, according to a statement submitted to a congressional committee during hearings on the independent office appropriation bill introduced today in the house.

The station would serve the south central part of the United States. A suboffice monitoring station would be operated at Beaumont, Tex., to accommodate greatly increased marine activity in the Sabine area, it was further pointed out.

Monitoring stations police the airways to see that broadcast stations stay within the frequency assignments under which they are licensed to operate. Seven engineers would be employed at the Kingsville station, and two at Beaumont.

Film Tells What To Do In Air Raid

"When Air Raids Strike" is the latest March of Time film appearing at the Ritz theatre today and tomorrow with a comprehensive and informative pictorialization of civilian defenses and air raid precautions, both in this country and in Great Britain.

Recognizing the fact that modern total war demands of civilians the same discipline and alertness as that required of the military forces, this newest March of Time highlights points to the urgent needs of this country's civilian defense program, showing how, through hard and bitter experience, Britain's celebrated Air Raid Precautions (ARP) system has been perfected.

The film first touches upon the military defenses, and then shows the work of both the Air Raid Warden, who is largely responsible for the preservation of human lives, and the Auxiliary Fire Fighter whose task is to minimize property damage. And, for the benefit of the individual household, the film shows exactly how to extinguish an incendiary bomb.

In a war whose most decisive victories and defeats have been largely determined by air power, the March of Time points out, the ability to meet and master attack from the air is vitally important. U. S. coastal cities, and particularly industrial areas, are likely to be attacked repeatedly by hit-and-run enemy planes, not for purposes of wholesale destruction but to create hysteria and panic among the U. S. people.

To prepare for such raids, many thousands of Americans are already learning the routine of ARP and civilian defense work—determined to profit by Britain's early mistakes.

Oil Quotas Fixed For February

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Interior Secretary Ickes, the petroleum coordinator, today set the nation's production quota for February at 4,161,800 barrels a day, and prorated the output among the 30 oil-producing states.

The quota, he said, was based on a bureau of mines estimate of the national requirements. It is 34,000 barrels a day less than the January rate.

The recommended daily production rates by states, and a comparison with January, included:

State	Feb.	Jan.
Texas	1,200,000	1,170,000
Oklahoma	800,000	820,000
Arkansas	74,000	75,000

MONEY FOR HOSPITAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Plans of the Veterans administration to make alterations and repairs costing $100,000 at the Legion, Tex., hospital during the 1942 fiscal year, beginning July 1, were disclosed on introduction in the house of the independent offices appropriation bill.

We Did It Before... and WE WILL DO IT AGAIN!

National Defense starts in communities like Big Spring. It is in places like ours that industry and agriculture are busy producing in all-out effort... an effort that starts at home, cements unity and contributes much toward ultimate victory.

Now, as never before, we MUST maintain—and enlarge—our program. A refinery must have crude oil, a creamery must have butterfat, gins, cotton oil must have cotton, defense industry must have skilled labor. All of these are as vital to our fight for democracy—the American way—as the plant that produces gunpowder or airplanes for our combat forces.

Ahead of us lies new opportunities in work and prosperity of the nation... and only by being alert and organized can we realize the full measure of those opportunities.

Industry and agriculture need the guiding hand of every community's No. 1 civic organization—the CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. Around this representative group of citizens, banded together for the common good, we can rally for any common purpose—the prosecution of the war, the defense of our community, the production of food and materials for our army and the conquered countries.

In time of a crisis, as in times of peace, the CHAMBER OF COMMERCE is our servant, always ready to aid in making life secure and prosperous... It is an asset 365 days in the year!

THE BIG SPRING CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IS BIG SPRING REGIMENTED, AND WE MUST FINANCE IT FOR THE 1942 STRUGGLE.

We did it before... and WE WILL DO IT AGAIN!

Help Fight Infantile Paralysis

"Fight Infantile Paralysis!" You have heard and read that slogan. You know it is emphasized in the annual appeal for funds to sustain the great work of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis—for the war against that crippling disease which, as Sister Kenny pointed out in a recent Saturday Evening Post article, leaves its victims "neither dead nor alive," and which, in the past three years, has entered more than 30,000 American homes.

That, in itself, would be sufficient to arouse a generous response from the American public. But now the appeal carries additional significance and serves, not only its specified, but other, vital purposes.

Today our nation is at war. Today public health is a prime necessity, in the military training camp, in the munitions factory, in the home. Today national unity is of the essence. Today there is occasion for a convincing demonstration of America's oneness with the loyalty to our commander-in-chief.

And of those objectives can be served through participation in the 1942 "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign.

This war against Infantile Paralysis was instituted by President Roosevelt. And, because it is close to his heart, he granted the use of

Washington Daybook—

So A. Hitler Is Having Troubles

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — Most engrossing subject of discussion in official and unofficial Washington right now is: "What's cooking in the Nazi high command?"

Discounting most of it as uninformed, wishful thinking, the fact remains that officials most often sight in their past predictions are privately on record that the resignations, "illnesses" and dismissals currently afflicting the general staff are rumblings of a distant earthquake.

In short, A. Hitler is having his troubles, but plenty.

The list of German generals "busted" since the wehrmacht began its advance toward Berlin in Russia includes men rated by professional soldiers here as tops in the fighting man business.

Military scholars have nothing but respect for such men as von Braunscheik, von Kessel, Guderian and von Beck.

These observers don't discount unconfirmed reports of discord in the Nazi high command as so much superheated balloon juice, either. When it was reported that Vice Admiral Kari Doernitz was at odds with Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, it confirmed informed guesses that all was not a pleasure cruise in the Nazi army.

Reader is not held in very high regard by professional soldiers. He's been a yes-man for the boss to the point of political groveling. The steadily declining effectiveness of the submarine campaign, and the losses known to have been inflicted on German U-boat strength by British and U. S. fleets in the Atlantic, together indicated some sort of blowoff was imminent. Apparently Raeder, realizing which way the wind was blowing, got out from under.

Another kernel of information held to be highly significant is the dispatch from Reuvenon that all German soldiers were shot for refusal to return to the Russian front. It seems to indicate flagging of the fanatic seal so evident in the early east campaign.

Capital comment often compares the Russian army purges and the present German house-cleaning under Generalissimo Adolf of the inner voice. Ambassador Joseph Davies took "Mission to Moscow," makes it clear that the Russian commanders killed with a bullet got theirs for good reasons such as treason.

It seems obvious now that the red army generally knew of their conspiracies, and approved their execution. Certainly the magnificent Russian army morale to date indicates confidence in its present leader.

Further, the Russian purges were carried out in peacetime. The Nazi generals were busting in face of an aggressive enemy.

Finally, men who know armies say army grapevine carries the truth about any development down to the lowest ranks. The German army rank and file knows by now that capable generals they respected and followed to great victories were unjustly ousted because they couldn't carry out impossible tasks Hitler assigned them over their protests.

Chapter 25
COOL RECEPTION
It couldn't be! She was seeing things. Maybe she had stayed in the sun too long that day. Maybe she had a touch of sun-stroke. "Lavinia—darling!" Rod cried. "Oh," said Lavinia. "It's you." Just like that—motivated by a pervasiveness she herself couldn't understand.

Rod was beside her. She was in his arms. He was holding her close. She thought: "He can't do this to me. He can't tell me to forget he took me in his arms and kissed me, and then come and take me in his arms again. Who does he think I am?"

Then suddenly, almost roughly, she freed herself.

"Am I supposed to forget that also?" she said.

"Lavinia—please—"

"I was expecting my aunt, anyway," Lavinia rushed on.

"She sent me in her place," Rod said.

"You mean you've met her?"

"Yes, we came down from Harbor Head together."

"She went there?"

"She wanted to know what made you leave so suddenly."

"And I suppose you told her?"

"I did," said Rod. "I told her everything. And now I've come to take you back to New York. We're going to be married right away, darling, and then—"

"Oh, we are, are we?" Lavinia stared. "Just like that? It seems to me you're taking an awful lot for granted."

"Please, Lavinia, don't take that tone," Rod begged. "I can explain everything. Just give me a chance."

All of a sudden Lavinia was angry, unreasonably angry. She had an unexplainable desire to hurt Rod, to make him suffer—remembering how he had hurt and humiliated her.

"If you think you can walk out on me," she said, "and then barge right back into my life, expecting me to go to—welcome you with open arms, you're badly mistaken." She looked wildly about until she located the driver. "Andy!" she called.

"My aunt's not coming," Lavinia said. "So we can go back to the farm now."

"You're Andy eyed Rod. "Is this here gentleman going out to the farm too?"

"I'm sure I don't know," said Lavinia.

"Of course I am," said Rod. "Will you please put that bag in the car?"

"It ain't a car," said Andy. "It's a station wagon."

The three of them went around back of the depot and got into the wagon. Andy drove off. Lavinia sat staring straight ahead of her, and Rod, sitting beside her, admired her profile.

"It's only fair that you give me an opportunity to explain," he said softly.

"Nobody's stopping you," said Lavinia.

"All right, Lavinia. You see, I—"

"But I hardly think Andy wants to hear the explanation."

"Oh," said Rod. "Well, it'll keep."

"And you'll have more time to think up new angles," said Lavinia.

"I don't need any time for that," Rod said. "But I suppose it would be better to talk after we get to the farm. It's a long story, and—"

"And you're probably stuck with it," said Lavinia.

Rod laughed, not very mirthfully. "No, I'm not," he said. "But I have been carrying it around with me—waiting to tell it to you."

"Really?"

"I rushed back from Boston to tell you all that was in my heart, Lavinia, but you'd gone."

"So you want me to think you went to Boston?"

"It did go to Boston."

"Is that battered boat of yours?"

"No, I let a fisherman friend have that for a few days."

"Oh!" said Lavinia. Her interest was aroused.

"When I got back from Boston to when I met your aunt," said Rod. "Say, Aunt Dorcas is a peach!"

"So you're calling her that," said Lavinia. "My, but you do have a way with the ladies, don't you?"

"All right, all right," said Rod. "Be angry. But maybe you'll feel differently when you hear what I told her. I had to tell someone, darling, and so Aunt Dorcas listened."

"And believed, I suppose," said Lavinia.

"Yes, Lavinia," said Rod, "she believed. And I pray God you'll do the same."

When they reached the farm, and as soon as Rod had made arrangements for staying overnight, he entered the room Mr. Stone had reserved for Miss Dorcas, he joined Lavinia on the porch.

"I'm ready," he said.

"Ready for what?" said Lavinia.

"Ready to tell you my story," said Rod.

"Very well," said Lavinia. "Let's walk down to that old arbor. It's a good place to talk."

"Lavinia," said Rod as they crossed the yard.

"Yes?"

"You're adorable."

Lavinia ignored the compliment.

"Here's the arbor," she said, and walked in.

Rod sat down beside her. Presently he was pouring out to her all that he had told Aunt Dorcas. Lavinia listened herself at first, but when she felt herself stir the horrors of Dunkirk, when she let herself see Rod in the midst of those horrors, her hardness lessened. However, she said nothing. She just let Rod talk.

"And that," said Rod, "is my story—the one you said I was probably stuck with."

"I'm sorry," said Lavinia. "I was rude—cruel."

"You had a right to be," said Rod.

"No! No!" Lavinia's eyes were wide, her heart beating wildly. "I had no idea it—it was like that with you, Rod."

"And you don't think it's a sort of fairy-tale I made up?"

"Of course not!" said Lavinia. "But, Rod, why didn't you tell me before?"

"I tried to explain why just now," Rod said. "You see, darling, I was afraid you might feel you should make a sacrifice and take care of me. I mean, I had the feeling that you were beginning to love me, and that if I told you the story I've just told you, you'd insist that I needed you—and—oh, you do understand, don't you?"

"Yes," said Lavinia. "I think I do." She was silent for a moment.

"But that was a cruel thing to do to me—leaving me so abruptly. It's something I find hard to forget and forgive."

"I know," said Rod. "I realize that now. But the moment I got the doctor's verdict, and the news that I am to have a good job, I hurried to you. He tried to take Lavinia's hand, but she pulled it away. "You will go on loving me, won't you, Lavinia? Now that everything's worked out so wonderfully, you'll marry me, won't you?"

"Yes," said Lavinia. "I think I do." She was silent for a moment.

D&C Packing Co. Commercial Asset

The D&C Packing Co. in Big Spring pays top market prices for locally produced livestock and packs a high grade line of fresh beef, pork and veal and other packing house products.

The establishment of the D&C Packing Co. here 4 years ago marked an important step in the commercial development of Big Spring. It was a welcome addition to the growing group of manufacturers and wholesalers which have since then made Big Spring the chief supply point for a large part of West Texas.

The owners and employees of the D&C Packing Co. are all local people—in many cases home owners—and, through taxes, the firm makes substantial contributions to county and municipal expenses—a thing which, of course, is not true of packers whose offices and packing plants are in distant cities.

Their products are on sale at leading retail meat stores in this section where everything in the way of service, courtesy and price appeal which a discriminating public could ask for is offered. Ask for D&C Packing company fresh and cured meats at your store and not only will you be sure of the best but do your share in supporting home-owned industry.
