Sugar Rationing Dates for Dealers

W. G. Womack, superintendent of the Eastland schools calls attention to the fact that Tuesday and Wednesday, April 28 and 29, are Sugar Rationing Registration days on which the "trade," which means merchants and dealers of any and all kinds selling sugar, must register.

Mr. Womack states that he will pass out to the dealers before the registration date, blanks which they are to fill out. This is in order that they may study them prior to the time of filling them out. These forms are not to be filled out until the time of registration, however.

Registration, Mr. Womack stated, will be held in Room No. 1 at the High School from 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 5 p. m. each day.

REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS FOR APRIL 27

With the announcement that local boards throughout Texas have reported all in readiness for the April 27 registration, General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, left today for Washington where he will confer with officials of the War Department and National Selective Service Headquarters.

General Page pointed out that there are only three main requirements for this registration, which he summarized thus:

(1) Every male citizen and every male alien residing in Texas, other than persons excepted by the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended, who had attained the forty-fifth anniversary of the day of his birth on or before February 16, 1942, and has not attained the sixty-fifth anniversary of the day of his birth on or before April 27, 1942, is required to present himself for and submit to registration on April 27, 1942.

(2) Registration should be made at a designated registration place of the local board area in which the registrant has his permanent home, or in which he may happen to be between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. on April 27. This registration place may be the office of the local board having jurisdiction in the area, or other public place properly designated by that local board.

(3) Registrants must answer all questions asked by the registrar for notation on the registration card. It is important that the registrant describe his place of residence in detail as well as give full particulars as to the address at which he will be sure to receive mail or other communications.

Anyone who is unavoidably away from his home on April 27 may register at the registration place most convenient on the day, General Page said, but all registrants are urged to make every effort to register with their own local boards to avoid possible confusion in the future. Any person who must register away from home is also warned to carefully specify his home address so that his registration card may be forwarded promptly to his own local board.

Special registrars also will be provided to register men who cannot appear at a designated registration place because of illness or other incapacity, General Page stated, but it is incumbent upon these men to advise a registrar in their local board area of their inability to appear at a registration place.

A registrant who has more than one place of residence may choose which one he wants recorded as his place of residence, but no transient address may be recorded. After the registrant has answered all questions and signed his name to the registration card, he will be given a registration certificate signed by the registrar. This certificate must be in the personal possession of the registrant at all times. Failure to possess this certificate, or to show it to authorized persons constitutes a violation of Selective Service Regulations and is considered prima facie evidence of failure to register.

General Page pointed out that those who register on April 27 are not liable for military service under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended. They will be required later to fill out an occupational questionnaire, concerning their civilian qualifications and skills, but that is for the purpose of obtaining information only.

88th Grand Jury Continues Session

The 88th district court grand jury, recalled last Monday by Judge B. W. Patterson, was still in session late Thursday afternoon and it was indicated that it would remain in session possibly over the week-end.

On the Double—With Planes for the Fighting Fronts

U. S. Army Ferrying Command pilots at Baltimore base run to their planes after receiving instructions. New—only 10 months old—the Ferrying Command completes delivery of U. S.-built planes to all United Nations. Hundreds of civilian pilots augment Army forces in this work.

ALLIES AGAIN RETREAT UPON BURMA FRONT

CHUNGKING, China, April 23.—British and Chinese troops fell back today under Japanese drives against the center of the Allies' 240-mile Burma front, abandoning the towns of Pinyinana and Taungdingyi, after heavy fighting.

On the Eastern Allied flank, the Chinese communicate acknowledged that Chinese troops had evacuated Lokaw, and important point of resistance against the Japanese forces advancing from Thailand across the Salween River. The withdrawal was to escape encirclement by a superior enemy force.

Heavy Japanese attacks were resumed on Yenaungyang, on the West Burma oil field sector, but the Chinese were reported to have repulsed an enemy tank and plane assault just north of Pinyinana.

Infernal Agitation Slows Ship Plan

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 23.—Chairman Emory Land of the Maritime Commission charged today that "infernal agitation" among shipyard workers and delays in deliveries of steel plate were retarding the shipbuilding program in the United States.

Permit to Teach First Aid Arrives For Ranger Man

Certificates for four instructors in the first aid classes, to be held in Ranger under the direction of the American Red Cross, have been received, after nearly six weeks of delay, and plans now are for the classes to be started as soon as possible.

It is planned to have two classes, with each class taking the instruction two nights a week, with approximately 50 in a class. There is still room for several more to sign up for the first aid work in either of the classes, it was stated today, but it is expected that the classes may be filled before the first of next week.

Those who received Red Cross instructors' permits today were J. D. Johnson, Jr., Wilburn J. Van Bibber, Arthur Williams and Leslie H. Taylor.

FIRE TRUCKS GET HERO NAMES

BOSTON.—Fire Commissioner William A. Reilly has approved a plan to name pumping apparatus after General Douglas MacArthur and other heroes of the war. "After all," he said, "we're putting out fires here while they're putting out fires in the Far East."

H. D. Agents For District 7 Will Meet In Eastland

A group meeting of home demonstration agents of district 7 will be held in Eastland April 21 and 25. Miss Maurine Hearn, district agent of College Station, will meet with Miss Hannah Nabors of Stephenville, Mrs. Mary Sue Gessell of Palo Pinto, Miss Evelyn Strahan of Breckenridge, Miss Ruth Mayfield of Comanche, Miss Alice Wheatley and Miss Gladys Martin of Eastland. The theme of the meeting will be "Food for Victory" and each agent will have a part on the food preservation program.

18,000 Miles of Wells Are Drilled During Past Year

American oil men in 1941 drilled more than 18,000 miles of hole the equivalent of a round-trip through the earth to china, with 2,000 miles to spare.

Depths of individual wells range all the way from a few hundred feet to nearly three miles. The number of deep wells, drilled to more than 10,000 feet, has been increasing spectacularly since the first one was completed in 1931, but the average depth of all wells has moved only a few feet up and down from 3,000 feet in the last 15 years.

Since 1931 the petroleum industry has drilled 1,044 wells below 10,000 feet, 668 of them in 1940 and 1941. At the end of 1941, 60 others scheduled to pass 10,000 feet were still drilling.

The industry's heaviest and most modern equipment and materials are used to drill these deep wells. Not only have they discovered 63 new oil-producing formations, but they also have been of great importance in the development of new drilling techniques which are readily used in shallow drilling and in the advancement of knowledge of underground.

Of particular importance in the war emergency in the fact that most of the deep fields developed by these wells produce crude oil of extremely high gravity, which is most useful in the manufacture of super aviation motor fuels. Thirteen new deep oil-producing formations were discovered in 1941.

Off the 361 deep wells completed last year, 247 were between 10,000 and 11,000 feet deep; 97 were in the 11,000-foot zone; 13 in the 12,000-foot zone; and two each in the 13,000 and 14,000-foot zones. The 15,004-world's record well drilled in 1938 in the only one which has passed 15,000 feet.

Two-thirds of the deep wells were drilled in Louisiana, which had 244 completions below 10,000 feet; Texas had 74, California 39, and Alabama, Michigan and Mississippi, and West Virginia one each.

Honey production in Canada has been in excess of 20 million pounds for each of the past 10 years, the Department of Commerce says.

ALTERNATIVES DEVELOPED IN MANY FIELDS

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO.—Alternatives, or substitutes, in merchandise requiring critical or priority materials, have been developed rapidly since America entered the war.

Many alternatives already have been manufactured and are now on the market. Others are still in the production stage and more are being planned for manufacture and release in the proper season.

Simplification of design has played an important part in the development of alternative products. There also has been a marked reduction in number of merchandising items.

This joint simplification and reduction has made for economy and efficiency in manufacture.

Many alternatives thus developed have been found superior to the critical materials they were developed to replace.

One item which probably never will go back to the original material is women's rainwear. Raincoats formerly were made of coated imported domestic silk fabric. Now they are made with a coated domestic rayon, equal in water proofness to the silk but slightly weaker in tearing strength.

Men's hats formerly were made of imported fur felt from England, France and Australia. Now they are being made from mixtures of fur felt and casein fiber in proportions of about 15 per cent fiber and 85 per cent felt. Casein fiber, developed within the last two years, is a milk product derived from skim milk.

Women's dresses, formerly of all wool, now are made with mixtures of wool and rayon fiber fabrics.

Sheepskin lined shoes have given way to a shoe with a cowhide outer and an alpaca inner lining. Composition shoe soles which formerly contained 20 per cent rubber now contain no rubber.

Extensive changes have been made in plumbing and heating materials. Sink faucets that formerly were all brass now are made with malleable iron body, spout, and handles of plastic and only the working parts of brass. Twenty-six brass parts in electric pumps were replaced with plastics, steel, or malleable iron. Heating elements, formerly all copper, are now made with all steel.

In addition to alternatives and simplification, efforts have been made to make parts more widely interchangeable. New parts, in new materials, will fit in old units and thus keep the repair parts problem simple.

Fishermen share in the alternative program. Fly and leader boxes have been changed from aluminum to plastic, fishing rod handles from cork to plastic, and floats from cork to plastic.

Golf balls are being reclaimed with a new cover and serve just as well as new ones.

Former Eastland Sheriff Is Dead; Funeral Friday

Funeral services for J. R. (Bob) Skinner, 67, who died Wednesday afternoon at his home in Comanche, will be held at the Eastland Baptist church Friday afternoon at 2:30.

The body will lie in state at the church from 1 p. m. Friday until the hour for the funeral.

Immediate survivors include the widow, one daughter, Miss Lucille of Comanche, and one son, J. R. Skinner Jr. of Los Angeles, Calif. He is also survived by two brothers, Henry of Eastland, and Will of Clint, and one sister, Mrs. W. C. Kennedy of Graham. Mrs. J. C. Whately of Eastland is a niece.

Skinner was born at Woodbury, Hill county, Texas, June 14, 1875, the son of John B. Skinner and wife who had migrated to Texas from Mississippi. The family came to Eastland county, settling at Eastland, in 1899.

Skinner served Eastland county as sheriff for two terms prior to his leaving the county in 1916. He had followed ranching and stockfarming most of his life and for the last ten years had been so engaged in Comanche county. About six months ago he moved from Gustine to Comanche, where he died.

Thirty-eight years ago Skinner married Miss Jessie Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hale, Eastland county pioneers.

Allies Still Hold On In Timor Isle

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, April 23.—Intrepid Netherlands and Australian troops still are fighting on Timor island, the half Dutch, half Portuguese island which was occupied some time ago by Japanese troops.

The troops are reported keeping a foothold 300 miles north of Australia for an Allied offensive, which is to throw the Japanese out of the Southwest Pacific, Gen. Douglas MacArthur revealed in a communique today.

Legion Committees Are Called To Meet

Henry Pullman, commander of the local American Legion post, has called a meeting of all committees for Friday evening, April 24 at 8 p. m. at the clubrooms.

The importance of the matters to be discussed requires the presence of every member of every committee and all are asked to make their plans to be present, without fail.

Maybe spring is responsible for such queries as do drug store clerks conduct sundae schools?

Bonds-to-Be

Copenhagen Bomb Attack Is First Since July 1940

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, April 23.—Two waves of bombers swept over Copenhagen, Denmark, shortly after midnight, in the first attack on the Danish capital since July, 1940.

The attack was reported to have met with anti-aircraft fire, which was reported to have sent 50 persons to hospitals, according to reports received here today.

Pipeline Is Answer To A Gas Shortage

FORT WORTH, April 23.—Construction of a 24-inch pipeline from Texas to Philadelphia is the only solution to the acute gasoline problem in the Eastern States, Frank Buttram, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, said here today.

Black Days in the Bay of Bengal

Massing of allied and Jap battle fleets presages one of history's biggest naval encounters in the Bay of Bengal. Map shows prospective battle arena and target towns along the eastern coast of India.

Adolf Hitler was reported in Russian dispatches today to be calling for another 1,500,000 men to wrest the initiative from the Red Army on the Eastern Front, despite the mounting hints of an Allied invasion of Axis-held Europe.

The Soviet spokesman at Kuibyshev told reporters that the Germans now had concentrated nine tenths of the fighting strength on the Russian Front and that Hitler was urgently demanding, but not always getting, additional soldiers from the Axis satellite states, in addition to calling up 900,000 youthful German reserves.

Nine tenths of the Nazi strength would be probably 4,000,000 men, in view of Axis losses in Russia, but any estimate of such manpower figures is largely guesswork.

In a general way, however, British sources agreed with the Russian estimate of Axis strength on the Eastern Front, reporting that Hitler had planned to use about 85 per cent of his strength in the Soviet Union this summer, while the remaining 15 per cent in the west would go on guarding against Allied attacks from Norway to France.

Two factors, however, apparently have disrupted Nazi plans.

First, the Red Army has kept on attacking, despite the spring thaw, and the Soviet spokesman said that "immense" Russian reserves were moving into the battle in a campaign to break up offensive plans of the enemy's armies from the Arctic to the Black Sea.

Second, the Axis appeared to be taking extraordinary precautions against an American-British invasion of Europe this summer, as well as against the Allied aerial and commando offensives.

Air Raid Warden Part In Defense Is Being Stressed

ANSTIN, April 22.—The dramatic part played by Air Raid Wardens and other Civilian Defense workers during air raids is shown in a series of sound motion pictures which the Department of Public Safety will bring to every Texas city of 10,000 or more population, at Police Director Homer Garrison announced today.

The film will be shown, beginning today in Houston, by Texas Ranger W. E. Naylor, who last week completed the War Department Civilian Defense course at A. & M. College.

The two-hour program opens with "The Bombing of the Marshall Islands," taken at the scene of the great American naval and air attack on this Japanese stronghold. "Air Raid Warden," made in California, shows the American Air Raid Warden at work. "Fighting the Fire Bomb," furnished by the Office of Civilian Defense, shows the various techniques of controlling incendiaries.

Unsafe practices of curious stubborn people during air raids are depicted in "Gopher Trouble." The person who fails to blackout properly is satirized in "Mr. Proudfoot Shows A Light." Finally, the functioning of the entire Civilian Defense organization during a fierce, actual raid is shown in "The Warning." The three latter films were produced in England.

The film schedule for the next two weeks includes Houston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Orange, Galveston, Bryan, Angleton, Wadsworth, Bay City, Corpus Christi and Victoria.

Showing of the film in each scheduled city will be arranged by Highway Patrol Captains in cooperation with local police and Civilian Defense authorities, Colonel Garrison said.

THE WEATHER

An End to Biddling

It won't do to become too optimistic, but there are evidences that Washington is making ready to get hard-boiled about the few thousands of non-alien enemies who are deliberately sabotaging our war effort from within.

Recently the Department of Justice has acted against George W. Christians of the Crusader White Shirts, in Chattanooga; Rudolph Fahl of Denver; Robert Noble and Ellis O. Jones of Los Angeles; and William Durley Pelley, Silver Shirts leader, arrested in Connecticut and taken to Indianapolis.

One need only consider the geographical distribution of these arrests to guess that they are not the individual acts of zealous local prosecutors. They are first steps to carry out a more realistic policy on the part of the nation's top law officer, the attorney general.

As Biddle bears down, there will be outraged screams from certain professional defenders of the civil liberties. Some will be sincere and others disingenuous. To our mind, the most charitable thing that can be said of any such protest will be that it is dangerously shortsighted and mistaken.

REITERATING lifelong devotion to every freedom guaranteed by the Constitution and to some others, we urge Attorney General Biddle not to be swerved in any way from going to town on every fifth columnist his capable G-men can find in this country.

This is not, in a way, denial of those freedoms of speech and of the press without which American democracy could not endure. Neither is it a call for witch-burning, for the sort of hysterical oppression which disgraced the administration of justice after the World War.

Rather, it is frank recognition that these United States are pock-marked with both naturalized and native-born Americans who in word, deed and thought, deliberately are betraying this country to its foreign enemies.

There are not, relatively speaking, many such. For the most part they are well known. Their names and their disloyal deeds are matters of rather common knowledge.

What some people don't know about good judgment is what keeps them in trouble most of the time.

Right now the crying need of our female population is spring clothes.

Advance spring tip: Labeling each garden helps you to remember what it is that isn't coming up.

The leader of India's Moslems doesn't want "one big free state" because the Moslems would be a minority to the Mohammedans. He doesn't care to head a Republican party in India.

The Leopard Changes His Face

THE PAY OFF

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK.—There should be no reflection on a jockey of proven ability when he is replaced on a horse.

Steve Judge tells why one reinsman will ride a thoroughbred better than another of equal skill.

"A boy has to fit a horse just right," explains the 70-year-old trainer. "He must have the hands and seat that suit the horse to a T."

Royce G. Martin's handler rode Wayne Wright on Our Boots in the Tropical Handicap closing Tropical Park because he believed the 4-year-old boy son of Bull Dog and Maid of Arches somehow convinced himself that he did not have to do his best for Con McCreary.

"A lot of horses get like that," he asserts. In his previous start, Our Boots demonstrated he would ramble under Wright.

WHILE the one-eyed blinker probably helped, Whirlaway made no attempt to gallop wide when Eddie Arcaro rode him for the first time—in the Kentucky Derby.

Yet Wendell Eads, who was taken off the little dark chestnut with the flowing tail, remains the No. 1 rider of Calumet Farm.

Alsab failed to respond to the Arcaro treatment at Hialeah, but made a grand bid in the Widener under Bobby Vedder, who batted him to the 2-year-old championship.

Georgie Seabo, taken off Challdon because Bill Brann suspected the son of Challenger II required a stranger boy, was powerful enough to get Big Pebble up in time to take the Widener of a year ago at a fat price.

Col. Edward Riley Bradley and Bill Hurley took Frankie Smith off Bimelech, but the accomplished Don Meade's only explanation following the 1941 Widener was that the others wouldn't wait for the last son of Black Toney.

STEVE JUDGE recalls how Georgie Archibald couldn't get the Rocky O'Brien he conditioned in 1909 to untrack himself, and how the colt, passing from his care, and with Vince Powers in the saddle, beat Sweep, Barleythorpe and others to win the Hopeful.

Ghost of Guthrie Case Looks Alive Again As Truman Pokes Around Dollar-a-Year Men

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Service Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The Guthrie case—remember it?—will get its second and official airing in a few days, this time before the Truman committee investigating national defense. Robert R. Guthrie of New York and Paducah, Ky., will himself be the first witness and he will again be invited to explain how and why he resigned after serving seven months on his dollar-a-year job as head of the textile, clothing and leather goods branch of the War Production Board. There he battled for speedier conversion of the radio, refrigerator, wool, cotton duck and nylon industries from civilian to war goods manufacture.

Guthrie told this story in mid-March to a sub-committee of the House Military Affairs Committee headed by Rep. Charles I. Faddis of Waynesburg, Pa. The Faddis committee kicked the ball around for several days, then recessed. It isn't through with the Guthrie case yet, and will call in more witnesses before making any report.

A third investigation of the Guthrie case is the War Production Board's own probe, being conducted on Donald M. Nelson's order by the WPB chief counsel, John Lord O'Brien. Nelson has indicated that the O'Brien report is about completed but won't be made public unless the Truman committee wants to give it out.

The Guthrie case has therefore become a three-headed calf and like all post-mortems on Washington monstrosities, it isn't likely to prove much beyond the fact that it died a horrible death and it is dead.

THE ghost of the Guthrie case is officially laid by Nelson's new orders prohibiting the use of iron and steel in hundreds of civilian durable goods items, and confining new construction to defense work. Those two orders signify that American durable goods industries are now well on their way to total conversion to war production and therefore all this confusion stirred up by the Guthrie case is a lot of stuff over the thing. What started out to be a surging flood of exposure on the slowness and unwillingness of private business to convert to war effort now dries down to a mere ugly wet spot on the record of mistakes that have gone before.

Before the Truman committee, therefore, the second coming of Guthrie will probably be nothing more than a stepping stone to other things. What the whole thing will lead up to is the moot question of dollar-a-year men, and whether they have hindered the defense program more than they have helped it. This was one of the first big issues that faced Nelson when he took over chairmanship of WPB. He appeared before the Truman committee on this question and asked for time to work out a policy. The committee, expressing confidence in Nelson, granted the request.

Nelson will be the last witness to appear in the forthcoming Guthrie hearings. If Guthrie and the man who was his superior in WPB, Philip Reed, board chairman of the General Electric Company, give any indication to the Truman committee that government responsibility cannot be put into the hands of executives retaining interest in private business, then the whole question of policy on dollar-a-year men will be right back in Nelson's lap, and due for a public airing.

converted into excellent mess sergeants. Musicians have been found to do a better job at army radio work than some of the more experienced radio "hans."

At one school for army cooks, a large percentage of failures was noted. A checkup disclosed that all of these students had been employed as cooks before their induction. But, it was further discovered that these men had been working as cooks only because they hadn't succeeded in getting other jobs and now that they were in the army they wanted to fight and not to fry.

Occasionally some mis-assignments occur and when these are brought to light, re-classifications are made. The questionnaire the man fills out at the time of registration is not always an infallible guide. For illustration, a man may describe himself as a carpenter but neglect to state that he had been employed for a longer period as a blaster with an excavation crew. For that reason, aptitude tests are given when the selectee arrives at the replacement center.

The Adjutant General's office, which has jurisdiction over the classification work, says that no soldier need be discouraged if his civilian training is not being used for a specialized job. Many a man who thought his civilian background was being ignored has been pleasantly surprised when the need for his particular type of ability developed, and the little punch holes in his classification card marked him for the job.

The classification test, it was explained, is not designed to test the soldier's education background but his intelligence and his ability to learn. A bright soldier with no more than a grammar school education may achieve a high score, while another who may have bluffed his way through college shows up as a mental laggard.
