Sergeant Inherits Base Ball Library

FOSTER FIELD, Victoria, Tex. (UP)—Sergt. Ray Keyes, former baseball writer for the Williamsport, Pa., Gazette and Bulletin, now a member of the Foster Field public relations office, has inherited a coveted baseball library of Maj. William P. Clarke, Pennsylvania newspaperman.

The Clarke library of baseball record books, scorecards, clippings, and programs dates back to 1884, the year Connie Mack donned his first uniform for the Meridian, Conn., nine, and Cy Young thought the grand old game wasn't here to stay and would go—along with rubberized buggy wheels.

The Clarke baseball collection is reputed to be one of the best in the country, and this added to the individual collection of Sergt. Keyes makes the Keyes baseball library one of the largest in the United States.

Keyes started assembling data concerning the national pastime approximately 15 years ago, when as a 10-year-old child he was spending his weekly allowance for old scorecards and yearbooks. In his collection he also has autographed baseballs on which are the signatures of almost every baseball hero of this era.

Maj. Clarke, who was 80 years old when he died, was a veteran newsman who foresaw the possibilities of baseball and kept in duplicate much of his baseball data. The duplicates he recently donated to the Cooperstown Memorial famous baseball shrine.

DEATHS UPON HIGHWAYS IN BIG DECLINE

AUSTIN — Patriotism, curtailment of traffic and stronger law enforcement reduced traffic fatalities 19 per cent during the first five months of 1942 as against the same period last year, State Police Director Homer Garrison announced today.

"But that's not enough," Garrison declared.

"It is encouraging that Texas is leading the nation far and away in traffic death reduction, but Texans have done so many outstanding things in this war that Texas leadership is taken for granted. The Texans who bombed Tokyo and Rumania aren't satisfied with a "first." They want to keep on striking until their task is completed.

"It's going to take that kind of spirit here at home. It's not enough that 138 lives have been saved in five months. We must think of the 574 lives that were lost in this period. We must forget any notions that the traffic problem has solved or will solve itself.

"If the time comes when all the tires are worn out and gasoline rationing has been forgotten, automobiles will move in Texas and the Nation. Our economy is geared to automotive transportation, and nothing is going to stop it. "This needless loss of human life will not stop until pedestrians and motorists alike accept their patriotic responsibility to be careful for the sake of the war effort. Local officers and the Highway Patrol are helping some of the more stubborn ones. Last month the Highway Patrol arrested or warned 25,624 persons, against 20,125 in May, 1941, for traffic law violations. This was a 22 per cent increase. It may be larger in June."

Court Asks Help On Kilday Plea

By United Press
AUSTIN, June 25—The State Supreme Court has requested all members of the two commissions that assist the court to sit with three court judges this afternoon and hear arguments on whether James E. Kilday is entitled to run unopposed for the Democratic nomination for State Railroad Commissioner.

IOWA CITY IS WINNER 1942 SAFETY AWARD

DALLAS, Texas, June 24—Two years of conscientious effort to improve the street lighting in its community won today for the Iowa City Junior Chamber of Commerce the coveted "Safety with Light" prize of $250.00 and a plaque. The award was made at the termination of the annual convention of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce at Dallas, and was the chief of five similar prizes presented by the Street and Highway Lighting Safety Bureau to groups which had done outstanding work in this field during the past year. Other winners were Cleveland, Ohio; Monett, Missouri; Long Beach, California, and East St. Louis, Illinois.

The Iowa City Jaycees merited the highest award by effecting a marked reduction in the number of night traffic accidents—sufficient in itself to pay for the new street lighting system. The city was beautified as well, and the Junior Chamber reported that transient traffic increased as a result of the newly installed lights.

The Cleveland Junior Chamber brought about a reduction of 34 per cent in night accidents because of their relighting several heavily travelled thoroughfares and a traffic circle. It is estimated that as many as 266 automobile accidents will annually be prevented through the improved visibility on these streets. Their final report states that "there were more night accidents on Superior Avenue per mile before the new light than in any other section. After relighting this artery has a night traffic accident rate considerably lower than the other streets studied, despite the fact that it has an equal or greater flow of vehicular traffic." The Cleveland Junior Chamber was awarded $100.00 for its Safety with Light activities.

In Monett, Missouri, the Jaycees included a provision for a new downtown lighting system in a bond issue for $36,000, primarily intended to finance a new airport for the community. The street lights have brought to the town a reduction of 30 per cent in night accidents on the streets which were relighted according to the Monett Chief of Police. The Monett Jaycees won $50.00 for their part in securing modern street lights for their locality.

The Long Beach, California, group has been active in improving their street lights for many years. In continuing their program since last July, the organization replaced 483 antiquated street lights with new units. It points to a decline of 13 per cent in traffic fatalities for the city as largely being a result of their work in the field. Accidents for California as a whole had increased 15 per cent during the year, and the amount of traffic on the streets of the city is 25 per cent more than it was in 1940.

In presenting the awards, A. H. Bamish, director of the program, said that there are many roads leading to vital war plants that are still unsafe for night shift workers. He urged the Junior Chamber of Commerce and other civic minded organizations to provide better visibility on these thoroughfares so that night traffic accidents will be kept to a minimum on the production front. "There are two kinds of streets that must be lighted night now," he said. "The first are the streets of Tokyo, and I think we can entrust that job to Jimmy Doolittle. The second, and almost equally important, are those thoroughfares that hold the fate of our war production. That is largely a Jaycee job for the next year. We know that they will receive the support of all patriotic people and our national Government as well in their forthcoming efforts to make these vital roads safe and speedy for our workers and our war materials."

Allred In Attack On O'Daniel Statement

By United Press
PORT ARTHUR, June 25—People of France heard the same lulling song Texans are hearing now, James V. Allred, candidate for United States Senator, said today in a fresh assault upon Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel's statement that the war would end a lot sooner than a lot of people think.

Last Flingers To Jam the Highways On July Fourth

CHICAGO — A parade of last-ling drivers will jam the nation's highways over the Fourth of July, the National Safety Council predicted today.

The Council believes that the threat of nationwide gasoline rationing, plus the long holiday week-end, will prompt motorists by the thousands to make that trip to Aunt Minnie's, to visit the boy in camp, or to see Susie's new baby while they still have the chance.

Added to these last-ling pleasure drivers will be a legion of war plant workers who will stay on the job this Fourth of July, many of whom will be driving to and from work.

Contrary to general expectations the net result will be a traffic volume only slightly less than in normal years, in the Council's opinion. Backing up its prediction, the Council is launching a nationwide campaign against accidents that will result from the heavy traffic and other recreational activities. The need for a safe celebration of the Fourth is especially acute this year, since every accident wastes manpower, time and material vital to victory.

The Council urges motorists to forego all unnecessary driving over the holiday as a patriotic way of cooperating in the government's program to conserve tires and relieve congestion.

For those who feel they must use their cars, the Council recommends slower speeds and unusual caution, both to conserve rubber and to avoid accidents that are so costly this year to the individual and the war effort alike.

National organizations and government officials are joining with the council in the campaign to "Put Victory First on the Fourth."

The public is being asked to contribute to the safe celebration of the Independence Day holiday by being extra alert for the hazards of motoring, swimming, fireworks and other recreational activities—all the ingredients of the "accidents that help the Axis."

Thompson Quotes Figures Upon An Eight Inch Line

AUSTIN (UP) — Col. Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas Railroad Commission is a great believer in figures. He can cite them on oil storage, gasoline consumption, market demand, and all the other factors that control the oil industry.

He also knows what the figure mean, what they do for them, and what they mean to the following day. He knows that if it is not done, it will be a disaster.

An eight-inch line will carry 50,000 barrels of oil a day or 2,100,000 gallons of gasoline. That equals 14,700,000 gallons of gasoline a week and will supply fuel for 4,900,000 automobiles, giving them three gallons a week which they are rationed.

However, this supply cares for less than a fifth of the passenger automobiles now in use, which Thompson estimates to be approximately 27,000,000. If 1941 driving habits continue there will be less than 5,000,000 of these still in operation on Jan. 1, 1945, when rubber is to be available.

The other 22,000,000 cars will be parked in the garage because their tires will have been worn out in the meantime.

An incident of the last statewide oil proration hearing was elaborated upon by Thompson in a recent radio broadcast. At the hearing Humble Oil and Refining Company reported it might have to slacken operation of two of its big refineries producing war supplies because the co-incident supply of motor gasoline was piling up at a rate to occupy all storage capacity.

Unless this gasoline is used by motorists there is nothing to do but burn it or dump it back into the ground, Thompson said. "If we burn it, that certainly would be a scandalous waste, and if we put it back in the ground I seriously doubt if it could again be recovered from the ground."

GERMANS ADVANCE FAR INTO EGYPT IN ATTACK AIMED AT SUEZ CANAL

CHURCHILL IS NOT AFRAID ABOUT EGYPT

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25—Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain told congressional leaders today that Britain feels confident she can hold Egypt against any mechanized drive of Germany's desert legions.

House Republican Leaders Joseph W. Martin, Mass., told newsmen in a joint press conference with Speaker Sam Rayburn, Democrat, Texas, that Churchill had given the conferees considerable encouragement on the African situation, despite serious reverses this week.

"He indicated that Britain will hold, and there is no danger of losing Egypt," Martin said.

NYA Boys And Girls Are Trained In Aviation Work

AUSTIN — Live at an NYA Center and work at a Naval Air Station, that's the plan for 296 boys and girls are doing in Corpus Christi.

J. C. Keilam, state youth administrator, said these young people live at the Corpus Christi NYA War Work Center, sponsored by the United States Air Service, where, and obtain work experience at the station in the reconstruction and maintenance of planes and airplane engines.

Since February, 320 boys from the NYA Center have been appointed by the Civil Service Commission to the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station as helper trainees at $120 a month; three young men have been appointed as helper electricians at $44.48 a day; and two young women have been appointed as mechanic learners at $105 a month.

Formerly assigned to the NYA Center, they worked in the Naval Air Station shop units in engine repair, aero repair, metal manufacture and repair, electrical, drafting, maintenance, and instrument work. These youth assisted in checking the conditions of the airplanes and engines; made repairs, replacements, and adjustments to each; and inspected critical parts of the craft, such as electric and control systems, undercarriage brakes, motors, and propellers.

Having been referred to the Corpus Christi NYA War Work Center by the United States Employment Service, these young people also attended related information and training classes after working hours in radio theory, shop mathematics, and blueprint reading taught by instructors furnished through the Corpus Christi Public Schools and the State Board for Vocational Education.

Second Front Of U. S. Forces Seen

By United Press
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25—Establishment of a "European theatre of operations for United States Forces"—presumably a prelude to eventual opening of a second European front by the United Nations—was announced today by the War Department.

Announcements were made here today of an all-day singing, to be held in the Kokomo Community on Sunday, June 28.

Wheat Growers To Substitute War Corps On Lands

COLLEGE STATION, June 25—Texas wheat growers will be urged to substitute war crops for wheat on land where such crops can be successfully raised, B. F. Vance, chairman of the Texas USDA War Board, said in announcing the Texas 1943 wheat acreage allotment of 3,727,966 acres.

"We have plenty of wheat, while we still are short of having enough of some crops, particularly oil-bearing crops," the war board official pointed out. "Under present law, the national wheat acreage allotment of the AAA cannot be less than the 55,000,000 acres which Secretary Wickard has announced, but I hope that Texas growers will voluntarily shift part of their wheat acreage to the production of crops which we need much more than we need wheat."

Vance said that AAA committees will work out with each grower a "production plan" to get the maximum production from each farm to meet war needs.

Panhandle wheat growers already are being forced to pile wheat on the ground because of a severe shortage of storage space, the USDA official explained. USDA war boards have carried on a campaign for several months acquainting more farm storage capacity. Despite these efforts, however, a lot of wheat will be lost for lack of storage.

Harringtons Win At Post Rodeo In Roping And Milking

Phelton and Zelma Harrington both won day money at the Post Stampede, one of the outstanding rodeos held in that part of the state this year. Big crowds attended and the number of contestants was far greater than ever before.

Each of the winners has received a $100 Defense Bond for the best time in roping and wild cow milking, with 62 contestants being entered in the calf roping and 67 in the wild cow milking contests.

Henry McCrary won second place in the calf roping event.

By United Press
Strong Axis mechanized columns drove deeply into Egypt today and threatened to drive the British Eighth Army back 140 miles to the Mersa Matruh defenses, despite hammering counter-blows by American and British units.

Three enemy columns under Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel crashed across the Libyan Frontier, throwing their main strength into the Sidi Omar Sector, and forced the British to fall back from their frontier forts at Solum to avoid encirclement.

Gen. Rommel smashed through to a point southeast of Sidi Barrani, 50 to 65 miles within the Egyptian border. Italian communiques claimed that the stronghold of Sidi Barrani had already fallen to the Axis, but there was no confirmation, as yet, from British headquarters at Cairo.

Dispatches from Cairo and London indicated that Lt. Gen. Beil M. Titchie might not be able to make a strong stand short of Mersa Matruh, which is 140 miles inside Egypt.

The Axis gains provided a threat to the Alexander Naval Base. There was no decisive change on either the Sevastopol or Kharkov Front, where the Germans were reported to be making slow advances at tremendous losses in men and materials. From Moscow it was indicated that Russian Marines had landed back of the German lines near Sevastopol and were engaged in battle with the enemy.

In the Far East, fighting centered in China, where a Chungking communique told of successes in counter-blows against the enemy, with air support being given the Chinese in Southeastern China for the first time. Allied planes were reported to have sunk several Japanese-governed boats and to have shot down at least one Japanese fighter plane.

Announcements have been received here that Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Stuart of Strawn will be at home Tuesday, June 30, from 3:00 p. m. to 10:00 p. m. in honor of their golden wedding anniversary.

All friends of the couple have been invited to attend, and it has been especially requested that no gifts be brought.

We All Are Consumers

Just because we now have an ostensible ceiling over prices, we can not afford to relax and assume that all danger of price inflation has been removed.

The ceiling is Leon Henderson's, and that alert gentleman is not fooling himself. He knows that the step we have taken thus far is merely a stopgap, helpful but limited in its effectiveness.

That, of course, is why Mr. Henderson has been back before a congressional committee and is reported opposing general increases in the wage level and favoring taxes even more onerous than Treasury Secretary Morgenthau proposed.

The hearing was closed, and only secondhand reports as to Mr. Henderson's proposals have been made available. These did not mention a ceiling upon the prices of farm products. Since the Price Czar is a realist, and hard-boiled, it seems probable that he did bring us this third element in the program needed to avert further—and potentially disastrous—price inflation.

Working men, who support their families on wages and try to save a bit, hate to have Uncle Sam decree that their incomes shall be fixed, for the duration of the war, at present levels.

Farmers, who took a beating for years, would like to recoup out of the present war-induced prosperity. They, too, dislike having any effective roof put over the prices they can obtain for their products.

We can sympathize with both, just as we sympathize with the industrialist and the merchant who squaked through the long depression, often by drawing upon capital assets and mortgaging their futures, and now are forbidden to make good their losses.

We are almost as sorry for the wage-earner and the farmer and the business man—but not quite—as we are for millions who are being drafted into the Army at $21, $30, or $42 a month, and are wondering what is going to happen to their families while they are gone, and to themselves after they come back, if they do.

Nevertheless, the people have resolved that nobody shall make money out of this war. If, by miscalculation or fraud, some contractor does profiteer, we are determined that his antisocial profits shall be taken from him by taxation.

Most of us are either farmers or wage-workers. All of us are consumers. We have come, or been brought, to the point where we must subordinate our interest as earners to our interest as consumers—where we must rest content with present income in order that we shall not force the cost of living beyond our reach.

Successful Well Adds Virginia As 24th Oil State

RICHMOND, Va.—Half of the states in the nation are now producing crude oil, if the report of oil discovery in the twenty-fourth state, Virginia, is correct.

Drillers in Lee County, on the far western boundary of Virginia, have reported a successful oil well completion at a depth of about 1,100 feet, with a high-gravity crude oil being pumped at around 20 barrels a day.

The most recent addition to the ranks of the oil producing states were Mississippi and Nebraska, both of which became important to the oil industry with the discovery of good oil fields in 1939. Added significance was given to the Virginia discovery because it is located at the extreme eastern limit of the area, which geological theory has designated as possibly productive. Some authorities believe that this discovery may serve to make necessary a revision of that theory, and with it the inferred possibility that oil can be discovered in areas previously held to be geologically unfavorable.

Tomatoes Are On List Of Victory Food Specials

COLLEGE STATION, June 22—Tomatoes are on the list as the Victory Food Special for the week June 29 to July 4, the Texas USDA War Board has announced.

Although most Texas tomatoes already have been marketed at good prices, some of the East Texas crop probably still will be moving during the period, B. F. Vance board chairman, said.

Tomatoes will be featured in advertisements and displays of stores during the week in a drive to increase sales to consumers of this perishable farm product. The merchandising campaign is being conducted in cooperation with the Agricultural Marketing Administration of the USDA.

Although tomatoes have been relatively high in price so far this year, lower prices are expected to prevail in consumer markets with the shipment of heavier supplies from producing areas, the AMA reports.

Tomato marketings are aggravated this year by the war-time transportation situation. Shippers and dealers will not be able to hold tomatoes in freight cars for ripening as has been the practice in the past. This year it will be necessary to ship an unload as quickly as possible in order to release cars.

The Victory Food Special program is intended to facilitate movement of the crop by increasing consumer purchases, thus reducing possibilities of accumulation in terminal markets of excessive supplies.

Peanut Pickers Are Available For The 1942 Crops

COLLEGE STATION, June 25—Approximately 1,800 peanut pickers are available for harvesting this year's peanut crop in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana, the Texas USDA War Board announced this week.

Sufficient machinery for harvesting Texas' 1,056,000-acre crop is assured since the pickers will be distributed according to state goals, B. F. Vance, chairman of the board said.

Pickers may be bought from any of the implement dealers throughout the state that are designated by Southwestern Peanut Growers Association, Gorman, and all machines sold will be upon basis of application to the Gorman office. Buyers may secure proper application forms through dealer agencies, county USDA War Boards, county agents, or AAA offices, the chairman said.

Tenative price schedule ranges from $550 to $630, cash basis, for all makes of pickers and credit price ranges from $600 to $705. Additional freight charges and taxes will be added to machines after they are received from the factory.

Already, approximately 500 pickers are in the hands of dealer agencies and approximately 100 applications for pickers have been received by the Gorman office.

of it the more positive he became that Webber had been on the outside and the steward on the inside of the door when a prearranged conversation was exchanged. It was the steward who had told him who Webber was supposed to be; that definitely lined the steward with Webber.

Webber's door. No sound. The bald-head hadn't come back. No use trying to break in. He already knew what he wanted to know about him anyway.

Cotton In War And Peace To Be Meeting Subject

DALLAS — "Cotton in War and Peace" will be the theme of the Third Annual Cotton Congress at the Baker Hotel in Dallas, July 9-10, under the sponsorship of the State-Wide Cotton Committee of Texas, Burris C. Jackson, Hillsboro has announced.

Director A. B. Conner of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station is Congress Chairman. A. L. Ward, Dallas, Educational Director, National Cottonseed Products Association; H. H. Williamson, College Station, director, Texas Extension Service; and Doctor A. B. Cox, Austin, Director, Bureau of Business Research, University of Texas, are program chairmen for the three Congress sessions.

More than thirty Texas organizations and such national organizations as the Cotton-Textile Institute and National Cotton Council are cooperating in the convention program, to be featured by a large number of exhibits of products and potential products made from cotton and cottonseed, as well as speeches by leaders in the cotton industry. Nationally-known speakers on the Congress program will include: Doctor Henry G. Knight, chief, Bureau of Agricultural Chemistry; president, The Cotton-Textile Institute, New York; Ed Lipscomb, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington; Section, National Cotton Council of America; and others.

Launching submarines hundreds of miles from the ocean, one Midwest shipbuilding company is helping to wage America's sea war by turning out huge fighting boats on the shore of Lake Michigan. When they are completed, these subs are floated down the Mississippi, going part of the way on a floating drydock that carries them over shallow water in the Illinois River.

is predicted that American shipyards will smash all construction records by turning out a sub in nine months instead of twenty-one as in the past.

In this yard parts of the fighting "fish" are built in fabricating shops and then are assembled into large sections. When a whole section has been completed, it is taken out to the building ways, set into place, and fastened to the other sections. Several parts of several ships are cut and fabricated simultaneously—a construction technique that has already saved hundreds of hours of building time. The first sub was built flush with the water's edge and was launched sideways instead of head on in first such launching in America.

Compared with the submarines used in the last war, today's new vessels are extremely complicated ships. Since 1918 they have become full-fledged fighting boats. They are larger, have a greater cruising range and carry more and bigger torpedoes than the World War models.

Development of efficient means of communication enables them to move in fleets, coordinating their actions to achieve maximum striking power. On the surface they can keep in touch with each other by means of radio.
