U. S. - BRITISH - SOVIET SECOND FRONT PROGRAM FOR 1942 IS APPROVED

American Forces Now Massing in Great Britain Are Presumably to be Used in Opening Second Front Against the Axis, Expected This Year.

The United States, Great Britain and Soviet Russia today agreed upon a framework of a master plan for a 1942 second front in Europe to destroy the Axis and for post-war system of maintaining peace and security.

The agreement was disclosed by official announcements in Washington and in London, where a 20-year mutual aid treaty between Russia and Great Britain was signed. The British-Russian pact calls for mutual aid in event of aggression on the part of any of the countries with which both nations are now at war.

The most spectacular point in the announcement was the three-way agreement on the urgent task of opening the second front against the Axis in Europe, in 1942, presumably with American armed forces now being massed in Great Britain. These forces were assumed to have entered into the agreement for a second front on a big scale.

R. A. Lerner Is Rated "Key Man" In TESCO Service

R. A. Lerner of Eastland returned this past week from a 15-day trip to New York and Boston on business for his company. One week of this time was spent in setting up the Texas Electric service company and inter-connected company systems on the Massachusetts Institute of Technology "network analyzer" for a study of the effect of increased war industry loads particularly in the Fort Worth area.

Use was also made of the analyzer for studying the effects of short circuits and lightning flash-overs on the entire transmission system including Big Spring, Eastland, Wichita Falls, Brownwood and Fort Worth areas.

Mr. Lerner states that he has just been notified by the Adjutant General of the Army that he is classified as a key employee of the Texas Electric Service Co. He will therefore not be called to active duty in the rank which he holds as Major of Coast Artillery. The Texas Electric Service company has contracts to furnish power for a great many war projects in the Fort Worth area and West Texas.

He Was Looking Through The Bars From Wrong Side

"There is a man here who says that he wants to be locked up," attendants at the county jail told sheriff Loss Woods over the telephone Sunday and asked what they must do about it.

"Comply with his request," was Wood's reply. The man, who was known to the sheriff but was not known to the attendants at the county jail, appeared at the jail and told the keeper that he was drunk and wanted to be locked up. The attendant, not used to people wanting to be locked up, hesitated to grant his request until he asked the sheriff what to do about it.

Next morning after the man had "slept off" his drunk he was released.

TRICKY VICHY RADIO FOOLS MANY PEOPLE

By RALPH HEINZEN United Press Staff Correspondent

VICHY (UP) — France has complicated the already troubled ether of Europe by officially sponsoring two "clandestine" broadcasting stations — one "Degaulist" and the other "revolutionary." Both are government controlled and although they come on the air with great mystery and shift around the wave bands as though trying to dodge the either police, they are, in fact, broadcast from the government studio in the Vichy casino — the same studio from which the regular "nonclandestine" national broadcast chain programs take the air.

The creation of the two new "clandestine" stations is intended by the government to satisfy the demand of those who do not believe the official radios and are always turning the dials in the hope of finding an announcer who will give them the real lowdown. The "clandestine" stations have been operating for several weeks and many listeners still are convinced that they are authentically clandestine.

"Radio Revolution" began its career with considerable allegorical waving of red flags on the ether. It played red hymns and pretended to be what it is not. Gradually, however, it drifted away from international revolution to the national Petain revolution and still mixes its fare so that the average listener may still get the impression that the speaker is hiding in a cellar, broadcasting from a homemade microphone with the police hot on his heels.

The "Degaulist" radio broadcasts which come in on a wavelength suspiciously near to that of Radio Toulouse also make a pretense of rousing the fury of the law every time the speaker goes on the air. He talks in undertones and even resorts to double-talk as though he was afraid he might be understood. Yet when he quits the studio in the casino he walks across the street to the Ambassador bar and joins his chums of the Radio National.

That station was created as an antidote to Brazzaville and Beyrouth which are in the hands of real Degaulists and which pour very vitriolic abuse on the heads of those in authority in this watering resort. The government hoped to convince those who violate the laws to listen to dissident speakers that the "Degaulist" transmitter on the Toulouse wave length was more interesting.

In that way, they got them away from the Brazzaville and Beyrouth speakers. To hold them, the official "clandestine" speaker tells stories of the heroism of "Degaulists" and once in a while takes a few weak swings at Vichy. But the fare is watered in comparison with the real broadcasts from the hot colonies in the hands of the dissidents.

The French have learned a lot of tricks from the authoritarian powers in Europe, among them that of "jamming." It is now virtually impossible to enjoy a London program anywhere in France, but particularly in Vichy. To make sure that no one with pro-Allied sympathies can listen to anything favorable to that cause, a chain of jamming transmitters has been installed in a circle around Vichy.

Most of the British and Degaulist regular broadcasts are jammed. Thus far, the French official jamming stations have not begun to "isolate" American broadcasts and the French-language transmissions from New York, Schenectady and Boston come through powerfully and exceptionally clear. It has been made very clear to Vichy that any tampering with American broadcasts would bring immediate reprisals against Vichy's own colonial stations or the "Voice of France" and the jamming of French broadcasts would deprive their American colonies of their last link with Vichy.

Use Moles For Fish Bait Says Eastland Angler

If you want to catch a fish first catch a mole, says L. B. Porter of the Cashway Feed Store in Eastland who vouches for the following story being an experience he had recently at a nearby fishing spot.

Porter was swinging a pole from a high bank without much luck when suddenly he heard a splash in the water below and looking down saw an earth mole frantically endeavoring to reach shore. It evidently having fallen into the water from the overhanging bank.

Just at this time a big catfish swam a dive for the mole, and, swallowing it disappeared beneath the water.

Porter sat thoughtfully looking down at the water where the fish and mole had disappeared, when the big catfish slowly came to the surface and turned upon its back.

Curious as to the cause Porter worked the fish to the bank with his pole and taking it ashore opened it with his knife and there in the fish's stomach he found the dead mole, but further examination disclosed that the mole had literally cut the fish's stomach and intestines to shreds in its struggle to get away.

EASTLAND PLANING BIG TWO-DAY CELEBRATION FOR JULY FOURTH-FIFTH

NEW METHOD IN OBTAINING SUGAR TO "CAN"

There have been some changes in the manner of rationing sugar for canning purposes, it is announced by Jack Frost, chairman of the Eastland County Rationing Board.

Previously persons desiring sugar for canning purposes were allowed five pounds per person for that purpose. This has been changed, however, and now one pound is allowed for each four quarts of fruits it is desired to can. Chairman Frost pointed out that the following rules must be observed in obtaining sugar for canning purposes and warned that the regulations are very strict and penalties severe for violations.

Before you go to the Rationing board to apply for sugar compile the following information which you will need:

- (1)—How much fruits did you can last year?
- (2)—How much of that fruit do you now have?
- (3)—How much fruit do you propose to can now?

Persons who secured canning sugar at the rate of five pounds per person must sit on the basis of one pound per four quarts of fruits.

It is necessary in order to save time that as few certificates as possible are allowed one person and for that reason it is necessary that you ascertain your needs and make one certificate cover your entire canning operations if possible.

Chairman Frost also pointed out that should any person for any reason fail to use for canning all the sugar allotted them for that purpose, they are required to report the amount left over and under no circumstances use it for any other purpose without proper authority. The penalty for violation of this regulation is heavy.

Eastland will stage a big Fourth of July celebration this year as in former years.

This was definitely decided at a meeting of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon.

At a roundtable discussion by Eastland business men at the meeting Thursday called by Secretary-Manager H. J. Tanner, L. J. Lambert was named as chairman of a committee having in charge the planning and arranging of entertainments for the Fourth of July event, and while plans are far from complete considerable headway was made on them. One thing that was definitely decided was that the affair would be Saturday, July 4th and Sunday, July 5th. Also it was decided that two of the feature attractions would be a bathing revue and a street dance.

Some of the other attractions being considered is a Military Revue put on by soldiers from some of the nearby military camps.

Another meeting of the Chamber of Commerce is to be held within a few days at which plans for the coming event will be further discussed. In the meantime plans for a celebration in keeping with those held on this occasion in former years, are in the making.

ARMY RATIONS MUST UNDERGO SEVERE TESTS

By HARRY M. HESS, Jr. United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, June 4 (UP)—Before the Quartermaster Corps Subsistence Depot gives final approval to a food, it must stand up under the kind of field condition it will ultimately face.

For ordinary camp foods, this is not an exacting test. One of the exceptions is "Carter's Spread," a type of butter designed to withstand extreme heat.

Before "Carter Spread" was considered to be a practical camp butter, an experimental batch of it was shipped unrefrigerated from Chicago to the Philippines, back through the Panama Canal, thence to New York and from New York back to Chicago.

The most extensive tests outside the laboratory, however, were performed on Field Ration "K" Originally developed for parachute troops, it was first tested at Fort Benning, Ga.

After the Benning tests, army technicians took "K" to other climatic extremes. Ski troops on Mt. Rainer were chosen to act as "guinea pigs."

In both tests, "control" groups and "experimental" groups were chosen from the regular troops. The "control" groups were fed regular rations and the "experimental" groups were given ration "K."

Each group was given physical examinations before and after the tests to determine what effect the different rations had on bodily functions. Trained physiologists and food experts, including Drs. Ansel Keyes, Olaf Michelson and Austin Herschel of the University of Minnesota, and Col. Rohland Isker of the Depot, accompanied the men.

These and other qualities observers took particular notice of the men's morale, physical condition at all times, efficiency, alertness and their general reactions to the rations served them.

During the experiments, the troops carried full equipment and engaged in maneuvers simulating actual battle conditions. They were given "comment" cards, turned in unsigned, to determine their personal reactions.

When the tests were concluded and the results tabulated, the following facts were revealed:

Ration "K" is adaptable to all field conditions and climates. It is handy to carry and presents no problems of preparation or disposal after consumption.

"K" is popular with men except for a few items which have since been replaced, and possesses "appetite appeal."

The men who suddenly switched from regular rations to "K" ration suffered no marked ill effect. They were able to go on eating "K" and still meet the demands of modern fast-moving combat.

The troops maintained the required amount of sugar and protein in the blood. Their physical and mental condition were good.

"K" satisfied the great human desire to nibble between meals. Some of the men saved their sweets and munched as they marched.

Men on the concentrated diet consumed no more water than men fed rations high in water content.

At the conclusion of the test, the QMC proclaimed "K" another stride toward a new and more nearly perfect soldier ration.

"Oh, sure they beef," the Depot officer said, "but it'd be a helluvan army if they didn't beef. It's human nature to want something to grouse about, and in the army it's traditional to grouse about the food."

"But we know that ninety-nine out of one hundred of the men are satisfied. They're gaining weight and they're enjoying their meals. That's the way of judging whether or not we're doing a good job."

CLUB BOYS ARE AWARDED FINE PIGS

Nine Eastland County 4-H Club boys, their parents, and friends were made happy last Saturday afternoon, June 6th, when distribution of registered Poland China pigs were made to the boys at Eastland, Texas.

Present at the distribution were C. A. McGaughy, manager Sears-Roebuck & Co., and Elmo V. Cook, former Eastland County Agent, both from Abilene.

Eastland County Agent, Floyd Lynch called the group to order and introduced McGaughy who complimented last year's winners in the Pig Contest on the fine gilts that were brought in for distribution to the winners this year. Mr. McGaughy remarked that the Eastland County gilts were best that he had seen in five different county distributions made recently in the Abilene territory. Only six counties are included in the Contest in this territory. He also assured the boys that provision would be made for a fall show and prizes awarded as usual.

Assistant County Agent, Joe Glover gave a report on last year's demonstrations. The report showed that an average of 9 pigs for each gilt was farrowed and the number raised per gilt averaged 7 1/2. 48.8 per cent of the pigs raised were gilts. The average net return per gilt, from records submitted by the 4-H Club boys, was $69.18 to date.

Eastland County boys showed the best group or five gilts at the District show last year.

County Agent, Floyd Lynch talked to the group on the feeding and care of swine. He brought economically green pasture must out the fact that to produce hogs be provided and protein supplement fed that will furnish material for the growth of bone and muscle in developing the frame work of hogs. He gave the boys a method to check their hogs by in determined whether proper development and growth was being obtained. It consisted of weighing the pigs at regular intervals to see that they are eating 5 per cent of their live weight and also to determine if for each 3 1/2 pounds of food eaten the pig is gaining 1 pound in weight.

The County Agent told the parents that the success their boys would have with his pig will

How to Get More Light from Your Lamps

Good light that permits faster and better work is important these days, both in the factories and in homes. Dust and grime absorb much of the light that is needed for eyesight protection and better work.

To get all the light from bulbs and fixtures, wipe them with a damp cloth regularly and dust shades. Glass shades and diffusing bowls should be washed periodically, especially those in ceiling fixtures that cannot be wiped frequently.

Floor and table lamps that are out of order usually can be repaired by an electrician. By adding a new, white-lined shade you can have an attractive and useful lamp.

A Lump Gets In Our Throat

WE have seen the Flag floating in front of the post office, watched our boys and girls pledge it allegiance. We remember it on many a Fourth of July picnic in the long ago. All our peaceful yesterdays we have taken it for granted. Today it is fiercely and proudly at war. Now many of us are really seeing it for the first time. We know that we may lose all it has ever stood for; suddenly, it has become the most precious thing in the world. There it goes, fluttering over the khaki lines. A lump gets in our throat and we cannot speak because we love it so much.

ONLY now are we beginning to know the tremendous task before us. We watch dear friends depart and we know that some of these faces we shall never see again. We know the price we shall pay in wrecked bodies, in silent grief and in gold stars. It makes no difference. We are ready.

Through our long years of dream and illusion we had almost forgotten our beginnings and what it means to be free. Our heritage lay neglected while we followed false prophets and feared little fears. Only yesterday we cherished ease above liberty; only yesterday we felt ourselves divided on little things.

Today we stand united against the common enemy who would destroy us all.

We know now what we never knew in the days of our illusion, that this last great test had to come. Long ago it was written that those who would keep their freedom must ever stand ready to die for it, and that some day the battle must be joined. Such, sooner or later, has been the destiny of every free people and it was too much to hope that with us it could have been otherwise.

Now have come the days of grim decision. They are also days of hope. Once more the faith and idealism of our fathers are working in our hearts. Once more we march with our brothers of Bunker Hill and Valley Forge, of Gettysburg and the Argonne.

Once more the Flag moves forward, hope of the world, light of the oppressed and downtrodden everywhere, a promise to our children, the living, magic symbol of all that we once were, all that we still can hope to be.

THERE IS NO FREEDOM ON EARTH TO THOSE WHO DENY FREEDOM TO OTHERS

They were: Bob Leslie, Elizabeth Sikes, Jack Germany, Billie Eldridge, Bruce Pipkin, Gienna Johnson, Dorothy Perkins, Tom Haley, W. O. Tyson and J. Daniel Barron. The Fellowship is open to college students, those of college age, as well as other young adults, men and women, married and single. The meeting place is on third floor. The time is 9:45 Sunday mornings. Bob Leslie, Dorothy Perkins, and Elizabeth Sikes were elected as a nominating committee to present to the group next Sunday a list of officers to be elected. With a prospect list of over 100, doubtless the Fellowship will grow rapidly.

JUNIOR CHURCH CHOIR

The Junior Church will be organized this (Friday) morning at 10 o'clock at the church. It will be made up of members from the Primary, Junior, and Intermediate Departments and will be under the direction of Mrs. F. L. Drago, assisted by Miss Wilda Drago. The choir will wear robes, take part in processions, participate in the regular services, and perform itself on occasions. The mothers of the children, insofar as possible, are requested to meet with the group Friday morning.

SENIORS COME THROUGH

The senior department, with the assistance of Mr. Frost, raised its annual pledge to the general youth work. Our representatives, Howard Brock, Sue Bender, Virginia Ferguson (and perhaps another), will be able to report to the conference youth meeting at Georgetown next week that Eastland has done its part. Splendid! Mrs. Jos. M. Perkins gave superb leadership in spurring the youth on to this achievement.

DOROTHY McGLAMERY AT ASSEMBLY

Dorothy McGlamery is attending the Young People's Assembly this week at Glenrose. The youth of the conference are meeting this year in two sections, one at Glenrose this week and the other at Georgetown next week. Dorothy, at her own expense, is representing our church and we are proud of her.

SOCIETY MEETING

The Woman's Society will meet at the church Monday afternoon at three for study directed by Mrs. W. P. Leslie.

Raymond McDaniel has called a special meeting of the Board of Stewards to be held this (Friday) evening at 8:30. It will be in lieu of the regular meeting scheduled for next Monday. A full attendance will be appreciated and most helpful. Business should be

VACATION CHURCH SCHOOL

The vacation church school will be held two weeks, beginning July 19.

TIME AGAIN

Time has come around again for the church to pay its monthly expenses. It pays on the fifteenth, you know. The past six months all obligations have been paid in full on the dot. Mr. Bender, looking into the books and at the bills, says it can be done again but will take tall stretching. Well, watch us stretch!

A REVERSAL OF FORM

When your present pastor was appointed to Eastland people who knew the church told him it was a grand church with two or three exceptions. One of those exceptions was the fact that it had the terrible habit of letting its financial obligations pile upon it. Strange to say, this pastor has never served a church more prompt in keeping its bills paid! The money comes in with practically no effort to get it! Up to now we have had enough every month. Clearly there has been a reversal of form. Everybody is happy about it, including the pastor. We're we to revert to our original sins it would be unforgivable. Having come thus far clean we believe we shall go to the end without blemish.

IMPORTANT SUBJECT

Sunday morning the pastor will think with the people about What is Christian Salvation? Were you present last Sunday to hear the wonderful music and take part in that great service? We are preparing another memorable one for this Sunday morning. You will want to be in it. The best place in the world at the hours of worship is in the service. Whatever you are doing at that time is less important than what is going on at the church.

ADVENTURES IN LIVING

Sunday evening at eight the pastor's subject will be Adventures in Christian Living. Last Sunday evening the primary children sang some numbers and shall attempt to have a larger group of children and youth singing this Sunday evening. We were delighted with the marked increase in attendance over the previous Sunday evenings. Your presence may be the means of filling up a heart.

MYF

The Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet after the evening service. As usual, it will be a forum-type of meeting. The new series of discussions concerns helps for spiritual growth. God's Laws Are a Source of Strength will be the topic Sunday. Shall we see the youth in the worship services preceding their meeting? It would be good.
