

Ranger Dumps Eastland Mavs 21-0

Second Half Spurt Gives Dogs Victory

Ranger's Bulldogs rode down a surprisingly hard to handle Eastland Maverick eleven 21-0 Friday night in a non-district game that saw the heavily favored Dogs fighting to hold their own in the first half.

Before a large, well-divided crowd of cheering fans, the Bulldogs ended the first two periods of play leading 7-0 as they were forced to go to the airways to get the Maverick goal. It was perfect football weather at Ranger's Bulldog Stadium, and the two longtime rivals spent just about everyone away happy.

The scrappy bunch of visiting Mavericks, whose first team was composed of seven sophomores and four juniors, shocked the Ranger eleven in the second period of play when they sent hard-charging Jimmy Martin racing 96 yards for a touchdown. The Maverick fans halted their cheering quickly, however, when the referee began to step off a 15-yard clipping penalty against the red and black, pushing them back to their own 27 and rubbing out what would have been the first touchdown an Eastland team had scored on Ranger in four years.

Eastland bogged down on their 32 and Lupe Herrera booted to the 50, from where Ranger began their first scoring drive. The Bulldogs advanced to the Mav 45 by the penalty route and then drove a penalty back to their own 41. Left half Bennie Robinson raced to the Eastland 43 from that point and then all-state prospect Scott Forney, who played great ball from his man-under spot, raced to the 38 on a keeper play. From their Forney faded back and hit Right-half Jerry Wharton on the 20.

Three Eastland County 4-H Club members will have turkeys entered in the Junior Market Turkey Show at the State Fair, R. S. Higgins, Jr., assistant county agent, who took the birds to Dallas Friday, said Saturday.

Pat Agnew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Agnew of Rising Star had three hens and three toms entered. James Royce and Louise Yancey, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Yancey will each have the same number of the big birds of the Bronze variety entered. The Yanceys live in the Alameda Community and James Royce and Louise are members of the Desdemona 4-H Club.

After the turkeys are scored they are sold at an auction at the State Fair and based on past records have brought good prices it was said.

Eastland County 4-H Club members who have shown at the State show in the past have done exceptionally well with both prize and sale money according to the report from Higgins.

County Pig Show To Be Held Oct. 20 At Eastland County Show Barn

The County Sear's Pig Show date has been set for Wednesday morning, Oct. 20 at the county show barn at the old airport northeast of Eastland, according to R. S. Higgins, Jr., Eastland Assistant County Agent.

The county show is for the eight boys over the county who received a registered Duroc gilt under the Sear's Pig Plan last May. The Duroc boar will also be on exhibit so that all can see how well he has developed. He was secured from a breeder in Haskell County. The gilts are from club boys over the county who received pigs in the spring of 1953 and returned a gilt pig this past May.

The first five places will receive a check from the Sear's Foundation for various amounts. The money is to be used for wire, lumber, cement, posts, or other materials for futhering their pig projects.

The first place gilt will go to the District Sear's Pig Show in Breckenridge on Saturday morning, Oct. 23 where she will compete against the best gilt from Palo Pinto, Stephens, Young, Throckmorton, and Jack Counties. The boar will also be in competition from the boys in those counties.

The gilts will be bred in November. Each boy will turn a pig back to the County Agent next spring to be given to another boy. Hundreds of good blooded hogs have been distributed over the county in the past ten years it was said.

Boys to show gilts include: Bobby Koonce and Willie Paul Johnson, Desdemona, Jackie Don Simpson, Gorman, Charles Bryant, Carbon, Talwin Caudle, Rising Star, Robert Boetick, Nimrod, Harold Reese, Cisco, and Jimmy Hamilton, Ranger.

The boy who has the boar is Robert Bell of the Nimrod Community and a grandson of Ed Townsend of that community.

Judge for the show will be Jack Willingham of Hamlin. Willingham is a graduate of Texas A&M College. While in college he was a member of the livestock judging team. He participated in judging contests in Fort Worth, Oklahoma City, Kansas City, and Chicago. Chicago the largest judging contest in the world. At the present time Mr. Willingham is ranching at Hamlin.

Cover Crop Program Drawn Up By ASC

A cover crop program for Eastland County has been drawn up by the County Stabilization and Conversation Committee and forwarded to State headquarters for approval, Emmett Powell, head of the Eastland ASC office said Saturday.

Powell said the action came after an all-day meeting of the committee Thursday, at which time members of the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce, which recently issued a resolution calling for such a program, attended.

Powell said the meeting went off smoothly with the committee explaining to the Rising Star delegation just what they faced. The program has not been put into force before now because of the lack of funds. Powell said it would mean that farmers could get vetch and small grain for cover crops from the ASC office amounting to a fifth of the farmer's cropland, or not over 30 acres, if the State office approves the program as drawn up.

Commenting on a news story that appeared in Thursday's Telegram, Powell said that there is "certainly no fight with us and the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce." He said the Telegram's story was too strongly worded and held that he was misquoted as saying that the Rising Star group "just don't know the score." He said what he actually said was that the Rising Star group didn't have all the facts.

Eastland County has not had a cover crop program until the present time because of lack of funds, Powell explained. He said that the county committee is definitely in favor of such a program.

The county committee is composed of E. E. Blackwell of Cheaney, W. R. Usery of Carbon and W. E. Cooper of Rising Star. Powell said that both the ASC committee and the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce is working toward the same thing — the betterment of the county's farmers. He stressed that there was no hard feelings between the two organizations.

The Rising Star C-C passed a resolution which said in part, "... we are informed that the P.M.A. program in Eastland County does not include at the present time and does not intend to include during the remainder of 1954, a supported legume program for cover crops."

The resolution went on to add, "... it is our opinion that such program in Eastland County is practically necessary and exceedingly advisable at this time in order that the soil conservation and soil building practices of our county may be carried on."

Moore... ABOUT Eastland

By VIRGIL E. MOORE

It may work out, but we just can't see how it possibly will. Speaking of the set-up over at the home demonstration office in the courthouse.

The new assistant home demonstration agent arrived this week, and to and behold she's from Texas State College for Women. Now that might not mean much to you, but if you knew what Moore About does it would.

You see, her boss, the county home demonstration agent, is a recent graduate of North Texas State College. Perhaps you still don't understand the full meaning of the thing. Both TSCW and NTSAC are located in Denton. Across town, we might add, but in Denton. After trying vainly to get an education at NTS, we learned but one thing — that a Tessie just don't care much for a lassie from North Texas. Too many of North Texas' male students have burned the rope at both ends, we suppose.

But we forgot to mention names. The new assistant is Miss Faye Mason (business name: Miss Julia LaFaye Mason). Our home demonstration agent is Miss Minnie Mae Billingsley.

Hope it works out, but just can't see how it will. Why it's worse than putting a booted Aggie with a Teasipper.

You know, a while back, we were complaining cause James Reid wouldn't let us have one of Piggly Wiggly's coloring books. Finally we managed to get one by taking Trippy, (that's the boy, Streak's the dog) down and explaining that we wanted one for him. The reason we brought the thing up is that we are planning to sue James for damages to our furniture. Or does anyone know how to get colors off a good desk?

Gee, those were pretty socks the wife brought home from the Stylorama. We got stuck with baby sitting ourselves, and missed out on the big affair. Frances did okay for herself though, winning the men's attendance prize. She still hasn't quite explained how she happened to win the men's prize, however. Could we have a scouting report on that from one of our assistants please.

Well, grandmaws will be grandmaws, even if it does make old Moore About late for lunch. Grandmaw Faye Dick and Grandmaw Irma Parker Wednesday decided to take their granddaughters on a train ride to Cisco. So off they went. Everyone was happy except the two little girls. For them it was too short of a trip.

Have you seen that device Scottie has? Scottie's the new band director, you know. Well, he's got a deal which looks somewhat like a musical instrument, and which he can speak through to his band members. He says it's the only one of its kind in these parts. He also tells us he can send code messages over the thing to his band when they are on the field. Maybe Coach Shelton could borrow that thing Friday night.

See you Tuesday.

Miss Mason is New Assistant County Agent

Eastland County has a new assistant home demonstration agent. She is Miss Julia LaFaye Mason, formerly of Madisonville.

Miss Mason, an August graduate of Texas State College for Women, will assist Miss Minnie Mae Billingsley, who recently took over duties as home demonstration agent.

The new assistant agent majored in home economics at TSCW where she received her bachelor's degree. She will work closely with County 4-H Clubs.

Water, Irrigation Studies Planned

The Texas Board of Water Engineers has granted to the A&M College system a permit to use up to 500 acre-feet of water a year from the Brazos River. Studies will be made to determine how to use water most efficiently to supplement rainfall in the production of common crops and to protect valuable stocks of new plants being developed in the plant breeding program of the college system.

Studies dealing with rates and timing of supplemental water application on such crops as cotton, corn and pastures will be made. Answers to questions regarding irrigation being asked by agricultural producers, particularly in the eastern third of the state, also will be sought, says Experiment Station Director R. D. Lewis.

The continuing drought, he adds, has greatly increased the use of water for supplemental irrigation in East Texas and the queries from farmers regarding the place of irrigation in their operations. The interest in efficient use of water is statewide.

Our immediate concern, says Lewis, is to save the valuable breeding blocks on which experimental crops are now growing but our longtime program will be developed to get information farmers and others can use in their operations.

The water will be taken from the Brazos River by means of a portable pumping plant.

WHERE'S THE PILOT LIGHT—Western Holly's contribution to kitchen efficiency, the "Micro-jet" pilot, is so small that lovely Eleanor Tanin needs a magnifying glass to get a good look at it. The Micro-jet is made from a small stainless steel hypodermic needle. The flame, on the tip of the needle, is about the size of the head on a hatpin; it causes the needle to become red hot, assuring a stabilized flame. This cool Micro-jet pilot is positive, instantaneous and economical, with each top burner producing only one-seventh as much heat as a human being in the kitchen puts out.

Abilene Social Security Office Has New Manager

Official designation of the Abilene Social Security office as a District office and the appointment of R. R. Tuley, Jr., as District Manager were joint announcements made a few days ago by James H. Bond, Regional Director of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in Dallas. The cumulative effects of the recently enacted 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Act led to this upward revision in the status of the Abilene office.

Tuley's past service includes field work in the Houston, Beaumont, and Shreveport areas; field office managements at Lake Charles, La., Galveston and Waco; and most recently assistant manager of the large Houston office. Reared in Teague, Texas, and a graduate of Trinity University, Tuley spent some six years as a teacher before joining the Social Security organization in early 1939.

Ralph T. Fisher, former manager of the Abilene field office, accepted promotion to the newly created post of Assistant District Manager rather than leave the Abilene area for a Managementship in another location.

The extension of coverage and other major changes made by the 1954 amendments led to a number of shifts of administrative personnel in the five-State region of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas — of which the creation of the team of Tuley and Fisher for heading the enlarged Abilene office is one example.

Burros Are Still In Strong Demand

LAREDO — The burro still has a place in this day of motor cars, Antonio Cavazos believes. He has raised and imported burros for 50 years.

The market is still good, Cavazos said. The burros are used in donkey baseball games, as pack animals in the mountains, for shepherding, and by hunters to carry equipment.

Cavazos said many of the burros are sold for children to ride or drive. Some of the youngest gentlest animals, he said, make good pets for crippled children.

Cavazos has a ranch near Villaladama, Nuevo Leon State, Mexico. He raises some burros there and buys others. He has pens on both sides of the international boundary — in Nuevo Laredo, Mex., and Laredo, Tex., where he keeps the animals until they can be sold and shipped to buyers in the United States.

The burros coming into the United States have to be dipped to kill ticks and other insects. Then the burros are tagged with a tin plate tied to a rope around the neck. Cavazos formerly tagged his burros with pieces of cardboard, but he had to change to metal ones because the burros often ate the paper tags before they got to their destination.

Bible Comment:

Here Is Wise Guidance For Living

THREE things at least are valuable, if not essential, for wise and good living:

1. Good teaching and sound precepts, the power of great examples, and signposts and directions at the doubtful and perplexing paths we must travel in our lives.

2. We all need direction and guidance, as much in the journey of life as upon our modern, complicated highways.

It was always so. That is why the Bible makes so much of wisdom, guidance and a working faith, even if all the perplexities were not made plain.

At its deepest and most intense point, Job, or the author of that truth-searching drama, faces the doubts and perplexities. If he did not come to a solution, he did come to a working faith.

"Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?"

It is the same unsolved mystery that underlies even the great words of Jesus' assurance: "Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? And one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father?"

The underlying mystery is, why does the sparrow fall? It is the mystery in the presence of war, suffering and disaster, as well as in the presence of death.

Perhaps, as the poet has written: "Whatever there is to know, that shall we know one day." But at present, life and death, despite all mystery, are very real. We need faith, direction and guidance.

Where can we get the guidance we need? Counsel for living is available on every hand. But the Bible is still our best guide. Hebrew saints and seers, and Christian witnesses, have made the Bible what it has been rightly called "God's book for man's life."

How much of strife, unhappiness and worry might have been spared if men had given more heed to its counsel?

The Bible is indeed God's book for man's life, and if heert is given to it, as the Book itself says, "the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein."

Christian Science

The power of the Christ, Truth, to heal will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon to be read at Christian Science church services this Sunday, on the subject, "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"

Christ Jesus' healing of the leproser will be read from Matthew (8: 1-10) when he commanded of the stricken man "be thou clean," and "immediately his leprosy cleansed."

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (p. 474): "If sin, sickness, and death are as real as Life, Truth, and Love, then they must all be from the same source; God must be their author. Now Jesus came to destroy sin, sickness, and death; yet the Scriptures aver, 'I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.' Is it possible, then, to believe that the evils which Jesus lived to destroy are real or the offspring of the divine will?"

The Golden Text is from Psalms: "The Lord is my strength and song, and is become my salvation . . . I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord." (118:14, 17).

Lone Star Gas Company Exhibit Is 'A Must' For Visitors To Fair

Lone Star Gas Company's 1954 State Fair exhibit is a "must for the menfolk."

When the gates opened Saturday, a special "Just for Poppa" display had them tugging their wives in the direction of the gas exhibit building. And it isn't often that the man of the family does the tugging.

The former Miss Bernice Chatham and her husband of Duster spent a short while Sunday afternoon with the H. H. Williams.

A group of Women of this community gathered at the home of Mrs. John Arnold. The past Thursday and quilted three quilts for Mrs. Hubert Rainey. Mrs. Rainey's family lost their home by fire about three weeks ago.

Another quilting will be held this Tuesday at Mrs. Arnolds and quilts will be quilted for several different ones.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maltby and his brother, Ike Maltby spent the week end of last week in Dallas visiting with a daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Scottie LeMaster.

Ethel Keith and Mrs. Nina Lohman was visiting in Dublin Sunday and Mrs. Keith's mother returned home with them for a short visit.

Sisters Meet First Time In 59 Years

Mrs. Ida Wilhite was happy the past week when a sister, Mrs. Zula Mahaffey, whom she had not seen in 59 years, also a brother, Munn Wilhite and wife and Mrs. Pearl Vest of Birmingham, Ala. spent several days here.

The group also visited another sister, Mrs. Charlie Young, and Mr. Young of Hico. They left Monday for their return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Moore spent the week end in Seagraves with a daughter, Mrs. Virgil Branham and Mr. Branham, and had lunch Sunday in Big Spring with Mrs. Moore's sister, Mrs. H. J. Rogers and Mr. Rogers.

Little Karen and Derral Branham returned home with the Moores for an extended visit.

But this year 3.5 million readers of American Home, the magazine devoted exclusively to the do-it-yourself theme and home decorating and furnishing ideas for the entire family, are reading about the Lone Star exhibit.

The pages of American Home's October issue have come to life for those fortunate ones close enough to visit the Fair — in the two outstanding kitchens being featured by Lone Star — and in that workshop hobby room described as "Poppa's domain."

The hobby room has one brick wall inset with gas-fired barbecue and an in-a-wall oven. It also boasts a wood-burning fireplace, beamed ceiling, gun display rack, drink-mixing center and ranchtype furniture. There is also an area devoted to woodworking tools and work counters.

When Poppa has feasted his eyes on this roomful of ideas strictly of masculine gender, then Momma can lure him back into the building area featuring the two American Home kitchens.

Designed and arranged under the direct supervision of American Home editors who were in Dallas last May, they include the Bluebonnet kitchen featured in the national magazine's October issue, and the Mengel issue to be featured in November.

"Down in Texas they cook good, eat good, live good and look good," states the magazine caption introducing the Bluebonnet kitchen to American Home readers. "American Home editors designed the kitchen for the Lone Star Gas Company, who built it at the Texas State Fair grounds where you can see it — if you live anywhere near Dallas — during Fair time, Oct. 9-23."

Pictures made in Dallas of the Bluebonnet kitchen are featured on the cover and three inside pages of the October issue. Models for the pictures were Aubrie Owens, Lone Star's display supervisor who installed the kitchen, and Joyce Hargrove, Dallas Division home economist who will be on duty in the kitchen during the Fair.

Both display kitchens carry out the theme of family activity centered in this important room of the house. The Bluebonnet kitchen includes a dining area and a gas rotisserie set in one brick wall. A hinged snack shelf that folds against the work counter which divides the room, can be used for children's after school snacks. The main work center features a Universal range and Servel refrigerator, also St. Charles cabinets.

The Mengel kitchen has natural birch wooden cabinets. Roper built-in oven and separate burner section set into one work counter. There is a Hobart dishwasher. In the living room area one finds a small table model television set, bookshelves and china cabinets. Furniture is contemporary and the translucent glass window is fronted with staggered shelves for handmade glassware displayed there.

The entire exhibit carries out the American Home editorial theme. At the grand entrance is a stylized farming carrying out the art theme of the magazine. In the reception room a new mural has been painted on the semi-circular south wall and the room features a general display of rag clothes dryers, water heaters and other gas appliances.

Servel refrigerators have their place in the spotlight facing a giant, symbolic S surrounded by ice circles, in one of the hall cubicles.

The long hall is devoted to ranges. A booth, designed in the shape of a cookie cutter, is staffed to give away souvenir cookie cutters to women visitors.

For the man of the house, however, it's the "Just for Poppa" room.

NTSC Halfback Allergic To Bermuda Grass

DENTON — To the long list of those with woeful occupational illnesses — like the one-armed paperhanger with the hives — add the case of John Snead of Grand Prairie.
 Snead, a halfback on the North Texas State College football team, suspected that an allergy might be causing his headaches and nasal irritation.
 A doctor this week confirmed that Snead is allergic, probably to Bermuda grass — that green stuff that so thickly carpets the playing turf and practice grounds at NTSC's Fouts Field.

Mrs. John Van Geem and little grandson, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Kley, all of Washington D.C. are visiting here with relatives and friends.

New Type Vehicle Is Delivered To Army Ordnance

A new experimental Army quarter-ton utility vehicle, named the Ford XM-151 has been formally delivered to the Army Ordnance Corps, by the Ford Motor Company.

The ceremony in Dearborn, Michigan, marked completion of a two-year project during which Ford in cooperation with the Army Ordnance developed a lighter, stronger, faster quarter-ton vehicle without using light-weight materials such as aluminum and magnesium that could become scarce during wartime.

As delivered to the Ordnance Corps for testing, the new vehicle is almost 600 pounds lighter, has a higher power-to-weight ratio, and 30 per cent more cruising range on the same fuel load, compared to the present standard Army quarter-ton vehicle.

It is powered by a new, modern light-weight four cylinder overhead valve engine. The body and welded construction with space for a driver, three passengers and their equipment.

Although it is nearly 7 1/2 inches shorter than the current Army vehicles, the new design provides approximately 26 per cent more cargo space.

OIL IS AT YOUR SERVICE

Oil and natural gas supply power for industries.

Detergents and a hundred other items of daily use are derived from petroleum hydrocarbons.

Synthetic fabrics are made from petroleum hydrocarbons.

Petroleum fuels the machines of national defense.

Oil powers transportation systems.

Natural gas is the fuel for millions of kitchen stoves.

Printing inks, paints and plastics are petroleum derivatives.

Homes are heated by oil or gas-burning furnaces.

Cars burn gasoline, use tires of synthetic rubber.

The products of the petroleum industry are literally everywhere. Every hour of the day, oil or natural gas serves you and virtually every other American. Oil is indispensable to our way of life; it makes the United States a better, safer country to live in.

You may wake in the morning in a room warmed by a furnace burning fuel oil or natural gas.

You drive to work, and your car burns gasoline, uses petroleum oils and greases for lubricants, rolls on tires of synthetic rubber which had their beginning in an oil refinery.

The plant where you work may depend on oil or natural gas as the source of its power. The oil and gas industry supplies 65% of the nation's energy requirements.

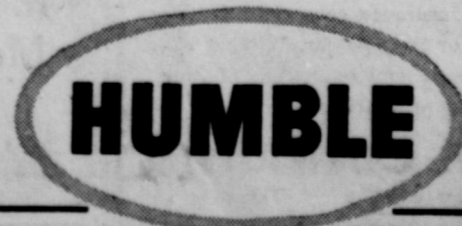

Meanwhile, if you live in Texas, your children are attending schools to the support of which the oil industry pays heavy production and ad valorem taxes. And your U. S. Army, Navy and Air Force plan the national defense with confidence that the oil industry has developed the proven reserves that can fuel their machines of war. Oil also supplies munitions — TNT for instance.

Finally, the lady of the house may prepare dinner on a stove fueled with natural gas, and you may go to bed in pajamas laundered with a petroleum detergent, after reading a newspaper printed with ink made from oil, in a room decorated with a paint manufactured from petroleum.

... And that's only a beginning.

The products of the petroleum industry, oil and natural gas, head the list of our most useful resources. A progressive, competitive oil industry, encouraged in the future as in the past, will undertake the further development that will keep them there.
