Horace Mann said, "In our country, in our times no man is worthy of the honored name of statesman who does not include the highest practicable education of the people in all his plans of administration. He may have eloquence, he may have a knowledge of all history, diplomacy, jurisprudence; and by these he might claim, in other countries the elevated rank of a statesman; but unless he speaks, plans, labors, at all times and in all places, for the culture and edification of the whole people he is not, he cannot be, an American statesman."

What reminds me...

Now that politics will get the first page spread as well as most of the radio hours, there is no time for thinking just what started politics nor when it had its beginning. We know that Pontius Pilate played politics when he washed his hands and said "I am innocent of the blood of this just person; see ye to it." But long before that politics was a part of the functions of the human race. That happens to be politics as some of us now define it. But that certainly isn't the politics of the kind that it takes to make a servant to the people in government supervision. Somebody has to be appointed to the job... which means in our system that all who are qualified have an equal right to apply for the job. Our system happens also to be in... which the ce in easy... ballot box decides. Unfortunately... well place... in many instances it is not quality... E. L. Craig... fications that are taken into... consideration at all times in some... places. Emotion, brow beating, threats and other methods of the... all powerful seat of the unqualified.

Sally, Ninth 'Man' in Rollins Crew

Imagine the chagrin of Manhattan University's husky oarsmen when they learned that a girl was in the crew from Rollins College, near Orlando, Fla., that defeated them on the Karlem River. Here is the history-making young woman—Sally Stearns, coxswain who set the beat for the row to victory. She's related to the prominent Boston Stearns family.

MARTIAL LAW THREATENED IN BEATING CASE

EARLE, Ark., June 17.—Threatened with a martial law proclamation, Sheriff Howard Curlin said today he "might make some arrests" of men who flogged a girl social worker, a Presbyterian minister and another man for aiding striking cotton plantation workers. Gov. J. M. Futrell, who mobilized national guardsmen to suppress strike violence near Forrest City, Ark., recently, indicated he might declare martial law, pointing out that he could not investigate the floggings without it. Sheriff Curlin announced he would go to Little Rock, the capital, today. "There might be some arrests later," he said. The flogged girl and the minister, who said six men forced them onto a train for Memphis after they were beaten at an isolated spot on the river bank with a brass-studded harness strap, appealed to Attorney General Homer Cummings through the Southern Tenant Farmers Union, for federal intervention. Miss Sue Blagden, 28, and Rev. Claude Williams, Socialist candidate for governor in 1932, said their assailants were planters opposing cotton choppers' demands for $1.25 daily wage and union recognition. Williams was lashed 14 times and Miss Blagden five. Doctors who examined her found welts five inches wide across her thighs and hips.

Noose Shadow Over Texan, First Doomed Under Lindbergh Law

Death by the noose only a few days away, Arthur Gooch, first man to be sentenced to death for kidnaping under the Lindbergh law, is pictured above in his cell in McAlester, Okla., state penitentiary, waiting to be hanged on June 19. Originally condemned to die on Sept. 13 of last year for abducting two Paris, Texas, police officers, whom he took into Oklahoma, the Texas outlaw lost his fight for clemency, which was taken to the United States Supreme Court.

SENATE LOSES ANOTHER OF ITS LEADERS

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Duncan Fletcher, 77, veteran Florida senator, key administration figure in the senate and deeply respected by his associates, died suddenly today. His death cast a new doubt on congressional adjournment plans. There was a possibility a recess may be forced over the period of the Democratic national convention, with congress returning later to finish its business. The Florida senator, whose age in the senate was surpassed only by that of his close friend and associate, Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, died in his Washington apartment after being seized by a heart attack. Fletcher was the second ranking member of the senate, having served since March 4, 1909. His invalid wife and his daughter were with him when he died. Fletcher, though failing in health, was apparently well when he arose today. A few moments after breakfast he was seized with the fatal attack. President Roosevelt in a formal statement mourned the death of Fletcher. "The country has lost an able and conscientious servant in the death of Senator Fletcher," he said.

Shatters G. O. P. Precedent

First woman ever to serve on a G. O. P. platform committee, Miss Mildred Reeves, shown here at the Cleveland convention, has been an attorney in the capital since the death of Nicholas Longworth, whom she served as secretary. She has a wide acquaintance among party powers and has been active in work of the Young Republicans.

HAMILTON TO RUN CAMPAIGN FOR LANDON

TOPEKA, Kan., June 17.—John Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee and manager of Gov. Alf Landon's candidacy for the presidential nomination, is going to run the party's campaign, he said today. "I'm going to run this show since I have the responsibility and I must have the authority," he said. He said the so-called Republican brain trust is "out." "I believe in having research officials but I don't intend to make administrative officials of them," he said. Hamilton added he didn't intend to try "master minding" in the campaign and termed the "brain trust" phase unfortunate. Hamilton's only comment on reports Father Coughlin, radio priest, might sponsor a third party, was that such was everyone's privilege.

BONUS RUNS NATIONAL DEBT TO NEW HIGH

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Bonus costs rocketed the nation's public debt $2,644,000,000 this week to an all-time high of $34,331,355,867, the treasury balance sheet for June 15 showed today. The balance sheet for June 15 reflected for the first time the fiscal operations carried on by the treasury in connection with payments of the soldier bonus bonds. The statement disclosed an almost overnight jump of more than $1,500,000,000 in the government operating deficit for the 1936 fiscal year. At the same time the public debt mounted into new high grounds and the government cash balance showed a skyrocket increase.

Pioneer Faculty Given Reelection

CISCO, June 17.—According to Oscar Schaefer, member of the Pioneer board of trustees of that school at the regular monthly meeting of the board, held last Thursday night, the old faculty of teachers were re-elected, consisting of L. C. Cash, superintendent; C. Hassell, agricultural teacher; Charles Rutherford, home economics; Charles Rutherford, Miss Corlyne Gray, grammar school. Other teachers were Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Battle and Misses Brown and Buel. Mr. Wilburn was employed as driver of the school bus for the Cook and Curtis route, and J. R. Gober driver of the south route. The trustees purchased another bus for the school which was expected to be delivered the first of this week. Pioneer, Schaefer said, sent 29 pupils and teachers to the Centennial singing. Had the new bus been delivered it was the intention of the school to send 35.

Man Loses Fight To Get On Ballot

How Governor Travels So Much On So Small A Salary Is No Longer A Secret

AUSTIN.—How a governor does much traveling on his small salary and meager travel allowance is puzzling some people. The governor has no railroad pass. He pays his way on airlines. The trick to the thing is that the governor has to pay for few of his trips. When he is invited places, local committees usually provide transportation and hotel accommodations. Since James V. Allred became Governor he has made a half dozen trips on air liners. He has flown many more times but these other flights have been as guests of a private plane owner or in planes operated by the National Guard. Use of the National Guard planes does not cost the state a penny. Nine are furnished by the War department to the 36th Division Air Service for practice and training purposes. The pilots and men in the air service of the National Guard are required to fly them a specified number of hours. If the governor flew continuously, he could not use up the assigned time for all the planes and pilots. Full credit is allowed them for flights with the governor who is commander-in-chief of the guard. Besides, the War department pays for the fuel and care of the planes. If the pilots did not ferry the governor, they would have to put in the time in other flights. Use of the regular Army planes is also tendered governors on occasion. Dan Moody, first Texas governor to fly, made his first flight in an army plane from Fort Crockett, which called at Austin to take him to an air carnival at Dallas, preceding an ill-fated trans-Pacific attempted flight. For official travel, the governor's office is allowed $1,000 a year in the current appropriation. This has to be divided between the governor's personal use and that of Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul when he becomes acting governor. For the salary expense of the governor's office the state appropriates $200,901 a year, including the governor's pay of $4,000 a year and $500 a year for the lieutenant governor, when he acts as governor. The force provided for the office is: Secretary; two assistant secretaries; two stenographers; one stenographer-bookkeeper; one stenographer-clerk; a combination porter and file custodian; another porter shared with the adjutant general's office and the board of pardons and paroles. Total appropriation for the executive department for this fiscal year was $61,746. The total includes the salaries, mansion expense and an item of $13,750 to pay for past trips of sheriffs to get prisoners for whom requisitions had been issued; $7,500 for rewards and other law enforcement expenses; $7,500 for returning fugitives, and $5,000 for telegraph, telephone and contingent expenses including accounting. The appropriation was itemized by the legislators down to $140 for a water cooler. Next year's appropriation is $48,036, the principal omitted item being the $13,570 for past expense of returning prisoners from other states. Mansion expense paid by the state does not include food. The items are: maintenance of house and grounds, $1,500; labor and employes, $2,000; fuel, electricity, water, ice and telephone, $1,350.

H. B. WALTHALL FAMED ACTOR, DIES TODAY

MONROVIA, Calif., June 17.—Henry B. Walthall, the "Little Colonel" of the motion picture, "Birth of a Nation," died in a sanitarium here today. Sanitarium attaches refused to reveal the cause of death. The elderly actor had been coming here for treatment off and on for some months. Despite ill health Walthall rose from a sick bed last month to play his last part here in a role that was prophetic of his end. In a film romance built around the China Clipper, under care of a nurse, he went to the waterfront for scenes in which he was an aeronautical engineer who designed a clipper ship and then broke down just as word came that the ship had crossed successfully to China.

Finding Labor for Building Capitol Was a Problem

AUSTIN.—Fifty years ago when the state capital was being built, the problem was not how to give most employment but how to find labor to do the job. The conditions that then existed are related by Gus Birker, Luling, in a letter to State Comptroller George H. Sheppard. Birker, now 75, says he was a rock mason working for Gus Wilke who held a sub-contract from the guiding syndicate. When the contractors found they could not quarry material in time to finish the building in five years with available labor in the state, they applied to the state for the service of 500 convicts. The convicts were used in the granite quarry at Burnett and the limestone quarry at Oatmanville, now called Oakville, Birker writes. There also was difficulty in obtaining enough skilled workmen. Rock masons were brought from Chicago and granite cutters from Scotland. When the contractor imported them, the state fined him $60,000, Birker said. He relates that Swedes, Irishmen, Frenchmen, Germans and Italians worked on the job. Most of the iron workers came from Berlin, Germany. Carpenters came from all parts of the United States. Thirteen large derricks were used for hoisting material. Guywires for the hoist to supply material to the home builders "ran a mile out of town when the boom was at the highest point," Birker recalls.

Third Party May Be Formed Soon

CHICAGO, June 17.—A third party movement intended to elect a President of the United States, will be launched by a coalition of three organizations backing radical legislative proposals by July 1, unless a clash upsets present plans. He would be supported by Dr. Townsend and OARP, Inc., the Rev. Charles Coughlin and his national union for social justice, and Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith as the remnants of the late Huey Long's Share the Wealth Club.

League May Be Saved For World Peace

Looking at the dark skies overseas, it is exceedingly easy to say that the League of Nations has failed abjectly.

Nothing could be more foolish, however, than to say that because the League has failed it must continue to fail...

We built the League in an hour of great terror. The World War had dragged its bloody way to its last corpse...

Now the fence has broken down. If mankind has half the sense it is supposed to have, something will be done to redesign this League...

A good starting point for such discussion is to be found in a bulletin recently sent out by the League of Nations association in New York.

This group offers four major proposals. They are: That the League accept the Kellogg treaty as the fundamental principle of its existence...

That the burden of military sanctions be made a regional matter; That the League covenant be unconditional divorced from the Treaty of Versailles.

Here, at least, is a basis for discussion. It gives us the rough outlines of a League which would not be content to sit on the safety valve...

A League whose members, pledged in advance not to go to war, functioning regularly to work out peaceful solutions of their troubles...

It is not the kind of League we have had, to date. The old League existed to save the spoils of war for the Allied victors...

A new one, concerned solely with international justice and peace, would be the sort of thing the war-sick people of the world have dreamed of.

It might even be the sort of thing the people of America would be willing to support.

Tonight Gadabout Club, 7:30 p. m., home of Miss Betty Perkins, hostesses.

Baptist Church Plans Father's Day Program Rev. Fred C. Eastham announced that special services honoring Father's Day, next Sunday morning, June 21, at 11 a. m., will be held in Baptist Church auditorium, and that members of the Sub Deb Club and their fathers will be special honor guests.

Mrs. E. R. Townsend Hostess to Society The Womens Missionary Society of Presbyterian Church spent a hospitable afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. R. Townsend on South Seaman street, hostess on Monday to the organization.

The president, Mrs. J. L. Arnold, opened the procedure with the Lord's Prayer in unison, and minutes were presented by their secretary, Mrs. L. D. Black.

Roll call responses resulted in an interesting program on current events of Philippines and West Indies, that ranged from political to church news.

In business period Mrs. L. D. Black and C. W. Estes reported status of the results to date between contesting teams engaged in raising finances for W. M. S., toward which each side is working hard.

The devotional from Ephesians, brought by Mrs. H. B. Sone, was based on the topic, "We Must Be Easy to Live With."

Miss Ann Estes scanned an article by Jim Marshall on the subject, "Too Easy to Live."

The next meeting of W. M. S. will be July 20 at 4 p. m., residence of Mrs. I. D. Black, hostess. Through the summer meetings will be held monthly.

BRECK GROUP DEALT MISERY IN 22-1 WIN

Hundreds of fans left the Fire department softball field at Eastland Tuesday night without a doubt the Burrettes, sponsored by Burr's Store, are more than a match for the Breckenridge girls' team.

The Breckenridge team made a miserable showing against the Burrettes, only scoring one point to Eastland's 22.

E. Rosenquest and Jennings led the Eastland team with four runs each. Fry reached home plate three times.

Martin, Breck first baseman, got one run. Joe Laurent's All-Stars gave the fans a treat in a 7 to 5 decision over a Putnam team, which previously was undefeated.

Wilson and Miller led the Eastland scorers with two runs each.

Rules Explained For Scoring of Runs From Third By JOE HUGHES Yesterday this column considered the first section of Rule 28, Scoring of Runs. That section explained the procedure that the base-runner takes to legally score a run, and when runs do not score.

on third base. The wording of the rule is just a little tricky. Some players think that they may play off third base but not off first and second. "A runner on third when the pitch started" means that if the base was occupied, but it does not provide for the runner to play off the base.

That Reminds Me

(Continued from Page 1) interest themselves in their community as a public official. Cato once said: "Some have said that it is not the business of private men to meddle with government—a bold and dishonest saying, which is fit to come from no mouth but that of a tyrant or a slave. To say that private men have nothing to do with government is to say that private men have nothing to do with their own happiness or misery; that people ought not to concern themselves whether they be naked or clothed, fed or starved, deceived or instructed, protected or destroyed." Study the man who seeks office, check up on his qualifications as his record. There is no such thing as charity when the people's interests are at stake in the management of government affairs. It is a business proposition just the same as one would hire an employee.

Picked this up from Pathfinder: "Politician—I see that there is but one state where there is no graft. Second politician—Quick, where is it, Let's get out there before the other boys find out about it and get the best pickings."

Reminiscing and looking back over the past few years from the standpoint of law enforcement due to our local sheriff's department over the county, it is safe to say that Eastland county is safely in the first ranks as to its standing in laxity of crime. Most of the criminal types of crimes that have been committed were from sources that no law officer could prevent. When it comes to robberies, burglaries and things of that kind, Eastland county has suffered less than most any county in the state. Our sheriff's department headed by Sheriff Virge Foster has kept liquor law violations almost to a minimum during National prohibition, as far as humanly possible. As far as the cases called before the court have been laxly of other major crimes. In the aggregate this speaks well for the administration of Sheriff Virge Foster and his deputies, and when Sheriff Foster retires from office (he is not a candidate for re-election) Eastland will have lost one of the best sheriffs in its history and he will retire with the honor that is due him. He made a remarkable sheriff and peace officer.

The following editorial was clipped from the Athlete News Reporter in the issue of Tuesday, June 16th, Home of Rep. Thomas L. Blanton.

Re-Elect Tom Blanton

Congress is making extraordinary efforts to adjourn the latter part of this week. That much desired end depends upon how smoothly the machinery operates in the heat, hurry and hurrah of Washington. The country hopes ardently that adjournment will be possible by Saturday or earlier.

Like all other members of the house the Athlete congressman is anxious to get back home and give the home folks an accounting of his services. But he won't leave his post of duty in the capital until the last dog dies, and consequently he will have only about three weeks or a little more in which to cover his district.

That is where the loyalty of his friends comes in. They should be working for him until he can come down here, shuck off his coat, roll up his sleeves, and wade into the fight for himself.

Congress never has had a more useful member than Tom Blanton. He is more useful right now than ever before, more valuable to his district and the country, a man whose experience in the rough and tumble of congressional activity makes him one of the most influential men in the United States.

Let Judge Blanton's friends take up the cudgels for him and see that he has a whopping big majority in July.
