

Tornadoes Do Considerable Damage In Texas

30 INJURED AS HIGH WIND STRIKES STATE

Dallas and Ft. Worth Areas Bear Brunt of Storms Early Today

Rain, hail and wind of tornado force left a wreckage strewn path in North Texas Monday night and early Tuesday, injuring 30 persons and causing most damage in the Dallas and Fort Worth areas.

Damage in Dallas alone was estimated in excess of $1,000,000. Much havoc was caused on the grounds of the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas, where thousands of persons were congregated.

Outlying villages near Dallas also were damaged heavily. The town water tower at Lancaster crumpled, leaving the city without a water supply.

Dallas streets were strewn with debris. Five men were overcome by ammonia fumes, but were revived, after lightning struck an ice plant.

A lumber yard was demolished. Part of one wall of a downtown building collapsed, flattening automobiles parked beside it. A concrete building in Oak Cliff also collapsed.

Thousands marooned downtown or on the grounds of the Centennial Exposition were unable to return home until early morning. Two dozen were treated for injuries.

The stage setting for Cavalcade of Texas, historical pageant, was wrecked by the wind and a bolt of lightning struck the men's dressing room.

Nearly two inches of rain fell in less than an hour in Dallas and 75 of an inch in Fort Worth in half an hour.

Fort Worth found expensive relief from the heat wave as merchants and farmers counted their damage toll in thousands of dollars from the 54-mile gale that ripped through the city at 11 p. m.

Warning at Fort Worth prevented serious damage to the Frontier Centennial Exposition. The Magnolia Petroleum Company reported $20,000 damage in a fire which resulted when lightning struck a 55,000-barrel storage tank.

Greenville and McKinney reported minor damage.

The government weather bureau at Dallas said the storm area centered at Dallas and Fort Worth. The 65-mile wind recorded in Dallas was the highest since the weather bureau was established.

Ranger is Winner In Golf Sunday as Eastland is Loser

Ranger golfers defeated Eastland in the final meeting of the two in the Mid-Texas Golf Association schedule Sunday afternoon when they recorded 10 matches won to six for Eastland.

The results of the individual matches were as follows: Gid Faircloth lost to Sam Conner, 1-up; Hal Fox won from J. T. Hammett, 1-up; James Phillips lost to Bob Sikes, 3-2; Sam Brimbert lost to Darrell Tulley, 2-1; H. H. Vaughn won from Jack Gaily, 6-5; Ray Trower won from Charlie Van Geem, 5-4; Elmer Norris won from Hinton Bailey, 5-4; R. H. Snyder lost to L. V. Simmons, 1-up; E. L. Norris won from Wilson Owen, 1-up; 19 holes; Chief Williams lost to Floyd Monday, 1-up; Felto Brasher won from Charlie Koch, 6-5; Sam Gamble won from A. Neill, 4-3; Charles Conley won from Jack Sikes, 5-4; Nath Pirkel won from Veon Howard, 5-4; Glenn West lost to Joe Spark, 4-3; and John Brown won from John Mouser Jr., 3-2.

Gun Club Results Announced Today

The following results were tallied after the Oil Belt Gun club shoot Sunday:

- John Turner—77 x 100. J. T. Hughes—57 x 75. L. F. Mendenhall—81 x 75. Mrs. Horton—54 x 75. Samuel Butler—42 x 75. Jim Horton—41 x 54. Wm. Pardue—35 x 50. —C. J. Rhodes, Sec'y.

Murdered Co-ed

A woman's scream heard above the roar of a thunderstorm helped fix the time of the mysterious murder of blonde Helen Clevenger of Great Hills, N. Y., the pretty New York University co-ed whose pajama clad body was found shot and stabbed in a hotel room at Asheville, N. C. Accompanied by her uncle, Professor W. L. Clevenger of Raleigh, N. C., she had been on a tour of southern universities.

Relief Offices to Open to Register Men for WPA Jobs

AUSTIN, July 21.—Texas Relief Commission will be open in the various counties by August 1 to receive applications of persons desiring to be considered for Works Progress Administration jobs, Adam R. Johnson, director of the Texas Relief Commission, has announced.

Upon the request of Works Progress Administration officials, the Texas Relief Commission has agreed to undertake the task of determining the need of persons who apply for WPA employment, Johnson said. Expense of this service will be paid from federal funds.

In addition to performing this service for WPA, the Texas Relief Commission will continue to sponsor surplus commodity distribution contingent upon the continued cooperation of counties in employing approved case workers, it was explained. Applications for WPA employment or for surplus commodities will be filed and cleared through the same office.

Eligibility for WPA employment or for receipt of surplus commodities is determined upon a basis of need, Johnson explained. Although it is no longer required that a job applicant be a former relief client, present need must be definitely established.

Responsibility and authority of the Texas Relief Commission extends only to the acceptance of clients' applications, and does not encompass assignment of individuals to jobs. Texas relief commission employees examine eligibility status of applicants and refer those persons found eligible to WPA.

Johnson pointed out that certification to WPA does not necessarily mean a job is awaiting the person certified as the quota assigned to Texas will permit the absorption of only a portion of those referred to WPA offices. Unless this surplus is absorbed by private industry in the various localities of the state, these persons must remain jobless, he declared.

"For the Texas Relief Commission to perform the service of intake referral for WPA, and to continue sponsoring the distribution of surplus commodities, we must continue to receive the co-operation of the various counties and cities," Johnson stated. "We anticipate this co-operation, however, as our work consists of making surplus commodities available to the needy and of making WPA jobs a possibility for many of the unemployed workers."

Fire Does Damage To Eastland Home

Fire of undetermined origin did considerable damage to the interior and house furnishings of the Ira L. Hanna home at 300 West Moss street, Eastland, at 12:30 a. m. Monday. The furniture was partially covered by insurance.

CLIMAX NEARS IN SPANISH REVOLT TODAY

Spain's rebellion approached a climax today. Rebels and government forces massed for decisive battles that seemed certain to result in much bloodshed and death.

Developments were: Madrid—government airplanes bombard rebels, advancing on Madrid, inflicting numerous casualties. Strong columns of loyal troops, civil guards and workers' militia were ordered to advance against rebels at Valladolid, Burgos, Caragoza and Toledo.

Government columns were expected to move against Seville and Jaen in the south. Major engagements were expected north of Madrid.

Gibraltar—Rebels appealed for mobilization of fascists and all right wing men under arms at 11 a. m. today for the supreme test against the government.

Geneva—Reputable travelers told of a bloody two-day battle at Barcelona. Casualties were estimated at 2,000 to 3,000 with the government in control.

Lisbon—Rebels claimed sweeping gains, asserted armies are moving from north to south to attack Madrid.

PARIS.—French border police today reported that rebel troops in Northern Spain had captured San Sebastian.

The city is the summer capital of Spain on the north coast and is a popular resort with Americans and other foreigners. Claude Ballard, U. S. Ambassador, is believed to be there.

TERPIGNAN, French-Spanish Frontier.—Spanish government authorities have ordered all bridges dynamited between Barcelona and Tarragona, it was reported today.

LONDON.—The crack Gordon Highlanders are embarking at Alexandria for Gibraltar, the Admiralty announced today. Warships are stationed at key Spanish cities to evacuate residents.

Vagabonds Grown On Arctic Fringe

WINNIPEG, Man.—Great Slave Lake settlers, living in mining villages on the fringe of the frigid Arctic, grow their own vegetables, Austin Cumming, government mining inspector, revealed during a visit here.

Cumming said the settlers managed to grow enough fresh vegetables in the few fertile areas around the lake to meet their own requirements, and sometimes even to export some to settlements further north. The "farming season" begins in June and extends into August.

Mask Permits You to Go on Gassing

The old-fashioned gas mask was a grand silencer, but it looks as though science has deprived us of this meagre boon of war, for here's a new mask developed in France, that permits you to use the telephone. For those who must talk to be happy, it ends one of the horrors of war.

Former Eastland Resident is Dead

Mrs. Mary E. Kendall, formerly of Eastland county but for the past two years of Shawnee, Okla., died suddenly in that city Monday evening.

Mrs. Kendall was about 65 years old. For many years she lived on a farm two miles north of Eastland. Two years ago the Kendalls left for Shawnee where they engaged in the furniture business. She is survived by her husband, J. A. Kendall. Interment will be at Shawnee and funeral services held today.

W. H. McDonald is Injured in Wreck

WILLS POINT, Texas, July 21. E. D. Thurmon was injured seriously and W. H. McDonald of Eastland, candidate for state land commissioner, was hurt today in an automobile collision a mile west of Wills Point.

Thurmon, a rural mail carrier, suffered a crushed chest and head injuries. Both were taken to a hospital at Terrell.

Governor's Race Near Home Stretch With Allred Ahead

AUSTIN, (Sp.) — Candidates for governor pounded down the stretch this week with Governor James V. Allred apparently increasing the lead he has held over his four opponents almost since he began his campaign, after spotting them to a two-months' advance.

Biggest question to be decided Saturday is not who will lead the ticket but whether or not Allred will poll enough votes to win without a run-off campaign. Second biggest question is which of his four opponents will read the other three into second place position.

Allred leaders are making no secret of their conviction that the governor will be renominated in the first primary.

"We are not, however, growing over confident," State Campaign Manager Marvin Hall said. Governor Allred has announced that he is leaving no stone unturned and has urged his friends to leave no stone unturned, and we are taking his advice. The fight will be waged right up to the primary eve."

The subject of old age pensions remain the outstanding issue of the campaign. To crowds aggregating near 40,000 last week Governor Allred has discussed the question of assistance payments to the needy versus pension payments to all, including the wealthy.

"I recommended old age pensions to the legislature and the legislature submitted the subject of old age assistance to the people," the governor explained. "By a vote of four to one the people endorsed old age assistance and directed the setting up of a system under such limitations and restrictions and regulations as may be deemed by the legislature expedient."

"The limitations, restrictions and regulations" that the legislature deemed expedient — after consultation with officials of the National Social Security Board, are the basis of our present old age assistance law.

"It isn't a perfect law, as I said when I signed it and on numerous occasions since, but it is the best law that we could get from two special sessions of the legislature.

"If we had waited for the 'perfect law'—the law that would have satisfied everyone—we would be waiting yet. As it is, more than 50,000 aged needy citizens of Texas already are receiving checks and others are being added to the rolls daily."

The rising tide of Allred sentiment, apparent all over the state, is influenced by a number of significant factors.

First, the crowds that have turned out to hear the governor speak are far larger than those that are being attracted by other opponents. Second, since he first took the stump early this month there has been an almost constant parade of recruits to the Allred banner from the camps of one-time political enemies. Third, a majority of 85 per cent of the state's approximately 700 weekly newspapers, as revealed in an independent survey completed last week for an industrial concern, is strongly pro-Allred.

On Style Range

For roughing it in the country or on a dude ranch, nothing equals sturdy denim—but it must be feminine in cut and style-conscious to a degree as is this overall outfit worn with a neat red plaid blouse. It won't lose a mite of its easy fitting style in sanforized-shrunk variety.

Lowdown on Bees Gives Interesting Habits of Insects

DALLAS, Texas, July 21.—You get the lowdown on bees at the Texas Bookkeepers Association exhibit at the Hall of Agriculture at the Texas Centennial Exposition.

A queen is never selected after being born. Her Majesty is chosen while she is still an egg. When the bees elect a queen they pick out an egg and surround it with the sweetest of sweets to appease the royal baby's appetite.

A queen bee only mates once in a lifetime. She spends the remainder of her days laying eggs. The honeymoon is over when the queen quits the embrace of her drone mate. He dies instantly.

Ladies in waiting push food into Her Majesty's mouth while her Queenship deposits eggs. The digestive machinery of a queen is so highly geared that food is almost instantly converted into eggs.

Bees have a keen sense of selecting the choicest of sweets for the queen's menu. The workers are content with coarser stuff. A queen has a crop of servants as extensive as a dowager.

A queen's daily egg production is bigger in size than the queen herself. She will produce between 2,000 and 3,000 eggs every twenty-four hours.

In Texas a queen spends ten months laying eggs and takes her vacation during the two coldest months. A working bee always commits suicide, works herself to death. Her normal span of life is eight weeks.

There are more than 200 practical uses for bee products, strongly pro-Allred.

HEAT WAVE IS BROKEN TODAY BY COOL WIND

KANSAS CITY, July 21.—The searing heat fled away before a cool wind and rain in the southwest today. As relief from the heat came, steadily mounting damage was counted where the wind reached gale proportions.

The wind that rose in the north and cut a path across the middle of the nation struck Texas last night. The blast came into Texas and Oklahoma after reducing temperatures in Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, and Illinois.

The weather bureau forecast cooler weather after a long heat wave which caused 4,500 deaths. Everywhere in the southwest, temperatures dropped from 15 to 25 degrees. The farmers were jubilant as the wind blew away grasshoppers.

A serious water shortage remained in many sections, with Nebraska fearing municipal shortages. Kansas was in most serious condition.

TULSA, Okla., July 21.—Deaths of two elderly persons Monday night brought a total of 24 fatalities caused by the greatest heat wave this city ever experienced. Temperatures stood at 75 degrees at 8 a. m. today, after showers had brought it down from 109 1/2 late Monday.

CANDIDATES IN LAST LAPS OF THE CAMPAIGN

Gov. James V. Allred, candidate for reelection, moved on to Galveston Tuesday for another speech after he charged in San Antonio last night, that his opponents were "political bubble blowers."

Reminding his listeners that his opponents have said that everyone past 60 or 65 would get $15 a month from the federal government and $15 a month from the state, Allred said, "Think a minute and you'll see the resemblance between their promises and the carnival man ballyhoo."

One of Allred's opponents, State Senator Roy Sanderford of Belton, proposed abolishment of the state liquor control board in an address at Breckenridge.

"I propose to abolish this political liquor board entirely," Sanderford said, "and put the administration of the tax feature under direction of the state comptroller and the regulation under local authorities."

F. W. Fisher, Tyler candidate, announced he will be in East Texas for the remainder of the week. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the railroad commission, will speak tonight in Wichita Falls and close his campaign at Amarillo at an all-Panhandle home-coming rally.

"It is no time for the state land office to award the Galveston Bay leases and menace the oil industry with another huge field," declared W. H. McDonald of Eastland, candidate for state land commissioner in an address at Mincoia.

Two Licenses For One Couple Puzzle

BUCYRUS, O.—Two marriage licenses were issued to one couple here, but officials were a little uncertain why, although the couple explained the licenses were to be used in two different counties.

The following notation was made in probate Judge J. W. Schwencik's marriage record: "The object of this demand is somewhat hazy to report. We are assuming no responsibility for the legality for these licenses."

Tower Holdup Nets 50 Cents

TOLEDO.—A bandit climbed up a railroad-tower to hold up John R. Morton, towerman. His troubles were worth 50 cents.

Ely Fills Threat to "Take a Walk"

Reported ready to campaign for Governor Alf M. Landon's presidential candidacy, Joseph B. Ely (right), former Democratic governor of Massachusetts, is seen "taking a walk" with John D. Hamilton, Republican national chairman, at Springfield, Mass., after a breakfast conference. Ely joined in Al Smith's protest against Roosevelt's renomination.

Flatwood HDC Has an All-Day Club Meeting

The Flatwood Home Demonstration Club met July 16 in an all-day meeting at the Church of Christ tabernacle. The quilts which the club has been working on for the orphans' home were all finished.

Miss Ramey was present and further plans for the short course were discussed.

The club voted to finance the trips of one boy and one girl from the 4-H Club to the short course. Also two ladies from the club were sent.

A basket lunch was brought by each member. Visitors present were Mrs. Skaggs and daughter, Pauline; Mrs. Laura Murrell and daughter, Irene; Mrs. L. L. Hartman, Mozelle Hallmark, Mrs. Mathews, D. A. Reese, Louise King and Glenna Parker.

Imprisoned Again by Roosevelt Edict

Released from prison during good behavior by President Harding's provisional commutation, Ignazio Sietto (above), known as "The Wolf," was returned to the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta on an order signed by President Roosevelt following complaints of Brooklyn bakers that the convict had exacted hundreds of thousands of dollars from them in a racketeering enterprise.

Thos. L. Blanton To Speak Tonight

Hon. Thomas L. Blanton will speak tonight at 8:30 on the courthouse lawn. Those in charge of the arrangements state a paid 40-piece Eastland band will give an hour's concert prior to Mr. Blanton's address. Plenty of seats for those who come out to hear him will be available. Mr. Blanton is seeking re-election for congress from the 17th district.

That reminds me...

New York. Thomas L. Blanton, congressman from the 17th district, addressed the citizens of this community tonight at 8:30 on the courthouse lawn. A forty-piece band will give an hour's concert from 7:30 to 8:30. This supporter is being paid for their services by Blanton supporters. Plenty of seats will be available for all those who come out to hear Mr. Blanton discuss the issues of his campaign for reelection.

Starting Wednesday morning the Fashion Shop will stage its annual final clearance sale. A full page advertisement in this issue of the Eastland Telegram will give an insight into the remarkable values this store is making to all those who want to take advantage of the bargain. The Fashion Shop features a guest list of nationally advertised merchandise and Mrs. Blanton states that prices have been extremely reduced for the event.

The first dirt was broken this morning on the new Eastland post office building. Plenty of activity was going on around the site. This means more money in the local cash registers from added payrolls. It means that folks who haven't anything else to do can sit around and watch the thing from start to finish. . . and in the end it means a new, handsome building for Eastland that will make the city stand-out for its already best skyline in the oil belt.

Plenty hot in spite of a young wind storm during the night that didn't do any damage. A good rain would be welcome. Lightning and thunder did a little scaring for awhile.

Shower Falls in Eastland Tuesday

Small sprinkling showers that barely laid the dust followed a sudden wind, lightning and thunderstorm that struck Eastland in the early morning hours today. No damage was done according to a checkup.

Ranger Girls Win In Eastland Monday

The Ranger Merchants' team defeated the Eastland Merchants' team at the Eastland field Monday night by a score of 6 to 0. Moore, Ranger pitcher, struck out 12 Eastland batters and only four players got to first base.

To Speak Tonight

Congressman Thomas L. Blanton, candidate for re-election, will speak on the courthouse lawn tonight at 8:30, in the interest of his candidacy.

EASTLAND TELEGRAM

Published every afternoon (except Saturday and Sunday) and every Sunday morning

Member Advertising Bureau—Texas Daily Press League Member of United Press Association

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person...

Obituaries, cards of thanks, notices of lodge meetings, etc., are charged for at regular advertising rates...

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Eastland, Texas, under Act of March, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION RATE

ONE YEAR BY MAIL (In Texas) $3.00

Attack On Social Workers Does Not Solve Relief

There seems to be something about the relief problem that makes it hard for people to think straight...

In Ohio, for instance, the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce issued a long blast against the way relief was being handled...

These accusations—because they are heard almost every time a relief administration comes under fire—are worth looking at in detail.

The most obvious thing about them is that they simply don't mesh.

The social worker, whatever his faults, is at least experienced in dealing with people who have to ask for charity.

If anyone on earth should be qualified to tell whether a given applicant for relief is a "deserving case" or a shiftless moocher it should be the social worker.

The very best insurance against having chiselers on the relief rolls then, would logically be an administrative staff loaded to the guards with trained social workers.

Instead, they demand—for some obscure reason—that the social workers be fired, to be replaced presumably by gifted amateurs...

Just how the amateurs are going to be more skilled than the social workers in telling a deadbeat from an honest man is something that the critics never take time to explain.

The relief problem of course is one of the meanest and most pressing problems facing America today.

But to base one's attack on the problem on the social worker and the chiseler—to talk as if most of our relief troubles would vanish overnight if the deadbeats could be removed from the rolls...

It is vicious because it tends to make people forget the real nature of the problem. The primary trouble is, has been, and always will be the lack of jobs in private industry.

Until that trouble is remedied, the other relief headaches are secondary.

The skeleton found on Florida sands marks a new low in beach regulations. It apparently is okay now to lie around in your bones.

THAT STRONG GRIP OF FELLOWSHIP

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people...

Q. Why has all the fuss been made about placing the Buffalo Bill statue on the Centennial grounds at Dallas? A. G. Columbia, Mo.

A. Claiming he was a Union spy during the Civil war and never identified with Texas in a way to receive such an honor, a citizen of Austin sought an injunction to prevent erection of the statue...

Q. Did Stephen F. Austin ever advertise for Texas colonists? S. G., Austin.

A. He advertised extensively in newspapers throughout the Mississippi and Ohio river valleys, setting forth fully the terms and conditions.

Q. What were the "Turtle Bayou resolutions"? M. P., Groesbeck.

A. Following the actions of Col. John D. Bradburn in enforcing certain customs regulations and in imprisoning W. B. Travis and Patrick C. Jack, about 160 Texans organized for resisting Bradburn...

Q. Where is Llano Estacado and why is it so called? E. R., Llano.

A. It is an area about 150 miles wide and extending about 250 miles from the Canadian river south to the breaks of the Colorado, so named because Coronado staked his passage across the plain with white flags in order to be able to find his way back.

Crayon Projects In Texas History

It is easy to teach children history with penciled outline pictures of historical subjects and colored crayons. History taught in this way is never forgotten and a taste is created for more information.

"Centennial Projects, Texas Under Six Flags," contains 36 pages of outlines on many phases of Texas history and events, with cover showing the Texas Capitol under six flags, each in its correct colors.

This beautiful project book mailed postpaid for 25 cents. Send all orders to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Will H. Mayes, 2610 Salado Street, Austin, Texas

I enclose 25 cents in coins, securely wrapped, for a copy of "Texas Under Six Flags."

Name _____ Address _____

MARKETS

Closing selected New York stocks:

Table listing various stocks and their prices, including Am Can, Am P & L, Am Rad & S S, Am Smelt, Am T & T, Anaconda, Asso D G pf, Auburn Auto, Avn Corp Del, Barnsdall, Bendix Avn, Beth Steel, Byers A M, Canada Dry, Case J I, Chrysler, Comw & Sou, Cons Oil, Curtis Wright, Elec Au L, Elec St Bat, Foster Wheel, Freeport Tex, Gen Elec, Gen Foods, Gen Mot, Gillette e S R, Goodyear, Gt Nor Ore, Gt West Sugar, Houston Oil, Hudson Mot, Ind Rayon, Int Cement, Int Harvester, Int T & T.

MARKETS (continued)

Table listing various commodities and their prices, including Johns Manville, Kroger G & B, Liq Carb, Marshall Field, Montg Ward, Nat Dairy, Ohio Oil, Packard, Penney J C, Phelps Dodge, Phillips Pet, Pure Oil, Purity Bak, Radio, Sears Roebuck, Shell Union Oil, Socony Vac, Southern Pac, Stan Oil Ind, Stan Oil N J, Studebaker, Swift & Co, Texas Corp, Tex Gulf Sul, Tex Pac C & O, Und Elliott, Union Carb, Un Avn Corp, United Corp, U S Gypsum, U S Ind Alc, U S Steel, Vanadium, Westing Elec, Worthington, Carb Stocks, Butler Bros, Cities Service, Elec B & Sh, Ford M Ltd, Gulf Oil Pa, Humble Oil, Lone Star Gas.

Air Conditioning Of Western Trains Changes Fashions

CHICAGO, July 21.—"Something old, something dark," used to be the standard prescription for travel clothes—and it always induced "something blue" in the traveler's mood.

Today, she leaves the old dark things behind, and when she boards the train she looks like a holiday and not like a funeral.

Clean, washed air and sealed windows that keep out dust and soot mean that a white glove can stay white from Chicago to California.

The vacation crowds now rolling to mountains, woods and lakes on the western railroads give the impression of a summer resort on wheels.

Niag Hud Pwr 15%

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK Hogs, 700. Top butchers, 1020; bulk good butchers, 1010-1020; mixed grades, 950-1000; packing sows, 850-900.

FORT WORTH CASH GRAIN Wheat—No. 1 hard, 126 1/2-127 1/2.

OUR OFFER: Roll yourself 30 swell cigarettes from Prince Albert. If you don't find them the finest, tastiest roll-your-own cigarettes you ever smoked, return the packet in with the rest of the tobacco in it to us at any time within a month from this date...

70 fine roll-your-own cigarettes in every 2-ounce tin of Prince Albert

PRINCE ALBERT THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

USE THE RAILROAD

Sample Low Fares

Table showing fares for various destinations: Chicago, Ill. $38.15; Dallas, Tex. 4.15; Denver, Colo. 21.80; Ft. Worth, Texas. 3.15; Los Angeles, Calif. 43.50; Mexico City, Mex. 59.25; Minneapolis, Minn. 36.80; New Orleans, La. 24.05; St. Louis, Mo. 28.26; St. Paul, Minn. 36.80; San Francisco, Calif. 48.00; Portland, Ore. 56.40; Seattle, Wash. 59.70.

There's no travel-weariness when you ride in a cool, clean, healthful air-conditioned car. It's the newest thrill in traveling, and costs nothing extra.

Air-conditioning controls temperature and humidity inside the car to ideal degree, regardless of thunder storms, dust, high winds or sultry summer heat.

Save money—fares lowest in history—substantial reductions on round trip tickets—new coach comforts, world's finest sleeping cars and service, economy meals, faster schedules, dependability, safety.

WESTERN RAILROADS AND THE PULLMAN COMPANY

Squirrel Stirs Up Commotion In

BROOKLINE, Mass.—More than passing the first second valves down "Fuzzy," the pet squirrel tin and John Gannon, to a of a bass horn.

Fuzzy, curious, decided to explore the interior. He tried in vain to coax the out, and finally called the mal Rescue League. After long schemes they hit solution by placing gasoline mouth of the horn and of the fumes into the instr.

ZOO BEAR RUNS AMOK

HOOSICK FALLS, N.Y.—A petary three-toed American bear of wild boar, named Hans Ehmier, in the right leg. Ehmier, zoo rictor, pried the peccary's from his leg with a cano. stitches were taken to close jagged, three-cornered wound.

Vicar Is Shocked By Grave Epitaphs

LONDON.—The Rev. J. W. Huxley-Williams, Vicar of Christ Church, Fulham—a London suburb—spent his time while in the cemetery waiting for funerals to arrive reading the epitaphs and they shocked him.

He was so moved that he wrote in his parish magazine protesting against the "collection of nonsensical doggerel on the headstones."

"How some of the inscriptions

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

E. C. CRESSON has been trouble Prince Albert for 20 years. He says: "P. A. just naturally slides up easy into a neat, slow-burning, cool-smoking cigarette."

P. A. doesn't blow all over your body. Great for pipes too.

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

Rolling the sand "makin's" brand for 20 years!

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

JOHN ADAMS, SECOND PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, LIVED TO SEE HIS SON, JOHN QUINCY ADAMS, BECOME THE SIXTH PRESIDENT.

GENERATES ABOUT 640,000 HORSE POWER ON EACH SQUARE MILE OF THE EARTH! IF WE COULD HARNESS THE SUN, NO OTHER SOURCE OF ENERGY WOULD BE NEEDED.

SEA LIONS WERE TRAINED TO TRACK SUBMARINES DURING THE EARLY DAYS OF THE WORLD WAR.

JOHN ADAMS and John Q. Adams are the only father and son ever to become president of the United States. The elder Adams was inaugurated in 1789 and the younger in 1801.

JOHN ADAMS and John Q. Adams are the only father and son ever to become president of the United States. The elder Adams was inaugurated in 1789 and the younger in 1801.

JOHN ADAMS and John Q. Adams are the only father and son ever to become president of the United States. The elder Adams was inaugurated in 1789 and the younger in 1801.

JOHN ADAMS and John Q. Adams are the only father and son ever to become president of the United States. The elder Adams was inaugurated in 1789 and the younger in 1801.

Too Much for Love

WEDDING HERE TODAY
 HELEN DERRICK, youthful of the women's sportsman at Helga's store, ac-
 's stock an invitation from one of otations, SANDRA LEIGH, pretension
 a week-end party at Crest rect repre-
 ain Lodge.
 ach, he Also a member of party is handsome PETER DERSON from a nearby
 ometry."
 It is a case of love at first between Helena and Peter.
 not immediately he asks her surey him. Helena hesitates, ly agrees. It is decided that marriage shall take place that day and a justice of peace is moned to perform the ceremony.

There are several hours before the wedding, on which Peter and Helena plan to depart leaves, and whole crowd decides to go saying, Peter dives recklessly is certainly injured.
 Helena flies from Sandra's comforting presence to learn Peter's condition.
 "How is he, doctor?"
 The serious-faced little man met her gaze. "Your husband is in rather a serious state, Mrs. Henderson. Concussion, of course."
 Helena lowered his voice. "His condition complicates matters."
 Sandra rushed toward them, her eyes blazing in her excitement.
 "Doctor, if you're bluffing—if you're stalling and don't know the answer to this—you'd better call a specialist from the city."
 The little doctor faced her calmly. "My dear young woman, this is a very simple case. Even simple enough for a poor country doctor like myself. A young man has been overdoing himself for months, possibly years. Under the influence of alcohol he dives against a submerged stump, in-curs a concussion of the brain.
 Even a specialist from the city could do only what I am going to do."
 "And what is that?" demanded Sandra.
 "Wait," smiled the doctor.
 "Make the patient comfortable, and . . . wait. I hope it will be possible for me to stay here tonight."
 Under his steady gaze Sandra was quickly reasonable, and contrite. "Please forgive me, doctor, I—we're all so wrought up. Of course you may stay here."
 "Thank you," the doctor turned to Helena. "I want to suggest that you get some sleep, Mrs.
 Henderson."
 Helena nodded. She let Sandra guide her to the door of her room, but she felt certain she would be unable to sleep. Nevertheless, she lay fully dressed on the bed, and soon had drifted into a troubled doze from sheer weariness.

When she awoke, the first
 streaks of dawn painted the sky beyond her window. Helena
 lay there a moment, thinking:
 "It's been a horrible dream. Peter wasn't hurt. There—there wasn't even a wedding."
 She clamped her damp palms
 to her head and sat upright. How could she have slept? Somehow
 she dreamed going into that other
 room, facing Sandra and the rest.
 But nobody was in the big room
 except the Leigh girl who stood
 by the fireplace in the same clothes she had worn the night
 before.
 "How is he?" Helena asked
 fearfully.
 The other tried to smile. "About
 the same, I think. Mr. Courtney
 and the doctor are in there now."
 "Oh. . . . Then he—then the lawyer arrived last night?"
 Sandra nodded. "On the midnight plane. Someone drove them over from the town." She hesi-tated, then went on. "You know
 that Leah Frazier came, too?"
 Helena did not answer at once,
 and Sandra added another question. "Peter told you about Leah?"
 A cold fear took hold of
 Helena's heart, but she said, "Yes.
 He asked me to tell Mr. Courtney
 to bring her along."
 Sandra looked relieved. "It's
 natural that he should ask that.
 You see, he's known Leah all his life—and I suppose that in his home town everyone expected
 them to marry. You know how it is in places like that."

The door opened behind Helena.
 Without turning she somehow
 knew that it was the doctor and Courtney who were coming into the room. And suddenly, horribly, she knew something else. Un-accountably, she knew. With a choking sob, she flung herself into Sandra's arms. "Sandra! Oh, Sandra. . . . he's dead. Peter's
 dead."
 Hours later she sat facing John
 Courtney, her eyes red with constant weeping, her lips pale and stant. He had been talking for several minutes, but Helena had not heard him. Since that first awful moment she had neither
 heard nor seen anything. And then suddenly something that Courtney said struck into her consciousness, brought her back into
 the semblance of a living person.
 ". . . so you will be well provided for, Mrs. Henderson, if you exercise reasonable care in the management of the Henderson Department Store. It is a profitable
 business—quite the largest of its kind in our town. And as Peter's sole heir, you are naturally its owner."
 "I won't do it," Helena said,
 getting to her feet unsteadily.
 "There must be someone else who deserves it."
 (To Be Continued)

When she awoke, the first
 streaks of dawn painted the
 sky beyond her window. Helena
 lay there a moment, thinking:
 "It's been a horrible dream. Peter
 wasn't hurt. There—there wasn't
 even a wedding."
 She clamped her damp palms
 to her head and sat upright. How could she have slept? Somehow
 she dreamed going into that other
 room, facing Sandra and the rest.
 But nobody was in the big room
 except the Leigh girl who stood
 by the fireplace in the same clothes she had worn the night
 before.
 "How is he?" Helena asked
 fearfully.
 The other tried to smile. "About
 the same, I think. Mr. Courtney
 and the doctor are in there now."
 "Oh. . . . Then he—then the lawyer arrived last night?"
 Sandra nodded. "On the mid-
 night plane. Someone drove them
 over from the town." She hesi-tated, then went on. "You know
 that Leah Frazier came, too?"
 Helena did not answer at once,
 and Sandra added another question. "Peter told you about Leah?"
 A cold fear took hold of
 Helena's heart, but she said, "Yes.
 He asked me to tell Mr. Courtney
 to bring her along."
 Sandra looked relieved. "It's
 natural that he should ask that.
 You see, he's known Leah all his
 life—and I suppose that in his
 home town everyone expected
 them to marry. You know how it is in places like that."

The door opened behind Helena.
 Without turning she somehow
 knew that it was the doctor and Courtney who were coming into
 the room. And suddenly, horribly, she knew something else. Un-accountably, she knew. With a choking sob, she flung herself into
 Sandra's arms. "Sandra! Oh,
 Sandra. . . . he's dead. Peter's
 dead."
 Hours later she sat facing John
 Courtney, her eyes red with constant weeping, her lips pale and
 stant. He had been talking for several minutes, but Helena had
 not heard him. Since that first
 awful moment she had neither
 heard nor seen anything. And
 then suddenly something that Courtney said struck into her consciousness, brought her back into
 the semblance of a living person.
 ". . . so you will be well provided for, Mrs. Henderson, if you
 exercise reasonable care in the management of the Henderson Department Store. It is a profitable
 business—quite the largest of its kind in our town. And as Peter's sole heir, you are naturally its
 owner."
 "I won't do it," Helena said,
 getting to her feet unsteadily.
 "There must be someone else who
 deserves it."
 (To Be Continued)

When she awoke, the first
 streaks of dawn painted the
 sky beyond her window. Helena
 lay there a moment, thinking:
 "It's been a horrible dream. Peter
 wasn't hurt. There—there wasn't
 even a wedding."
 She clamped her damp palms
 to her head and sat upright. How could she have slept? Somehow
 she dreamed going into that other
 room, facing Sandra and the rest.
 But nobody was in the big room
 except the Leigh girl who stood
 by the fireplace in the same clothes she had worn the night
 before.
 "How is he?" Helena asked
 fearfully.
 The other tried to smile. "About
 the same, I think. Mr. Courtney
 and the doctor are in there now."
 "Oh. . . . Then he—then the lawyer arrived last night?"
 Sandra nodded. "On the mid-
 night plane. Someone drove them
 over from the town." She hesi-tated, then went on. "You know
 that Leah Frazier came, too?"
 Helena did not answer at once,
 and Sandra added another question. "Peter told you about Leah?"
 A cold fear took hold of
 Helena's heart, but she said, "Yes.
 He asked me to tell Mr. Courtney
 to bring her along."
 Sandra looked relieved. "It's
 natural that he should ask that.
 You see, he's known Leah all his
 life—and I suppose that in his
 home town everyone expected
 them to marry. You know how it is in places like that."

The door opened behind Helena.
 Without turning she somehow
 knew that it was the doctor and Courtney who were coming into
 the room. And suddenly, horribly, she knew something else. Un-accountably, she knew. With a choking sob, she flung herself into
 Sandra's arms. "Sandra! Oh,
 Sandra. . . . he's dead. Peter's
 dead."
 Hours later she sat facing John
 Courtney, her eyes red with constant weeping, her lips pale and
 stant. He had been talking for several minutes, but Helena had
 not heard him. Since that first
 awful moment she had neither
 heard nor seen anything. And
 then suddenly something that Courtney said struck into her consciousness, brought her back into
 the semblance of a living person.
 ". . . so you will be well provided for, Mrs. Henderson, if you
 exercise reasonable care in the management of the Henderson Department Store. It is a profitable
 business—quite the largest of its kind in our town. And as Peter's sole heir, you are naturally its
 owner."
 "I won't do it," Helena said,
 getting to her feet unsteadily.
 "There must be someone else who
 deserves it."
 (To Be Continued)

When she awoke, the first
 streaks of dawn painted the
 sky beyond her window. Helena
 lay there a moment, thinking:
 "It's been a horrible dream. Peter
 wasn't hurt. There—there wasn't
 even a wedding."
 She clamped her damp palms
 to her head and sat upright. How could she have slept? Somehow
 she dreamed going into that other
 room, facing Sandra and the rest.
 But nobody was in the big room
 except the Leigh girl who stood
 by the fireplace in the same clothes she had worn the night
 before.
 "How is he?" Helena asked
 fearfully.
 The other tried to smile. "About
 the same, I think. Mr. Courtney
 and the doctor are in there now."
 "Oh. . . . Then he—then the lawyer arrived last night?"
 Sandra nodded. "On the mid-
 night plane. Someone drove them
 over from the town." She hesi-tated, then went on. "You know
 that Leah Frazier came, too?"
 Helena did not answer at once,
 and Sandra added another question. "Peter told you about Leah?"
 A cold fear took hold of
 Helena's heart, but she said, "Yes.
 He asked me to tell Mr. Courtney
 to bring her along."
 Sandra looked relieved. "It's
 natural that he should ask that.
 You see, he's known Leah all his
 life—and I suppose that in his
 home town everyone expected
 them to marry. You know how it is in places like that."

The door opened behind Helena.
 Without turning she somehow
 knew that it was the doctor and Courtney who were coming into
 the room. And suddenly, horribly, she knew something else. Un-accountably, she knew. With a choking sob, she flung herself into
 Sandra's arms. "Sandra! Oh,
 Sandra. . . . he's dead. Peter's
 dead."
 Hours later she sat facing John
 Courtney, her eyes red with constant weeping, her lips pale and
 stant. He had been talking for several minutes, but Helena had
 not heard him. Since that first
 awful moment she had neither
 heard nor seen anything. And
 then suddenly something that Courtney said struck into her consciousness, brought her back into
 the semblance of a living person.
 ". . . so you will be well provided for, Mrs. Henderson, if you
 exercise reasonable care in the management of the Henderson Department Store. It is a profitable
 business—quite the largest of its kind in our town. And as Peter's sole heir, you are naturally its
 owner."
 "I won't do it," Helena said,
 getting to her feet unsteadily.
 "There must be someone else who
 deserves it."
 (To Be Continued)

When she awoke, the first
 streaks of dawn painted the
 sky beyond her window. Helena
 lay there a moment, thinking:
 "It's been a horrible dream. Peter
 wasn't hurt. There—there wasn't
 even a wedding."
 She clamped her damp palms
 to her head and sat upright. How could she have slept? Somehow
 she dreamed going into that other
 room, facing Sandra and the rest.
 But nobody was in the big room
 except the Leigh girl who stood
 by the fireplace in the same clothes she had worn the night
 before.
 "How is he?" Helena asked
 fearfully.
 The other tried to smile. "About
 the same, I think. Mr. Courtney
 and the doctor are in there now."
 "Oh. . . . Then he—then the lawyer arrived last night?"
 Sandra nodded. "On the mid-
 night plane. Someone drove them
 over from the town." She hesi-tated, then went on. "You know
 that Leah Frazier came, too?"
 Helena did not answer at once,
 and Sandra added another question. "Peter told you about Leah?"
 A cold fear took hold of
 Helena's heart, but she said, "Yes.
 He asked me to tell Mr. Courtney
 to bring her along."
 Sandra looked relieved. "It's
 natural that he should ask that.
 You see, he's known Leah all his
 life—and I suppose that in his
 home town everyone expected
 them to marry. You know how it is in places like that."

The door opened behind Helena.
 Without turning she somehow
 knew that it was the doctor and Courtney who were coming into
 the room. And suddenly, horribly, she knew something else. Un-accountably, she knew. With a choking sob, she flung herself into
 Sandra's arms. "Sandra! Oh,
 Sandra. . . . he's dead. Peter's
 dead."
 Hours later she sat facing John
 Courtney, her eyes red with constant weeping, her lips pale and
 stant. He had been talking for several minutes, but Helena had
 not heard him. Since that first
 awful moment she had neither
 heard nor seen anything. And
 then suddenly something that Courtney said struck into her consciousness, brought her back into
 the semblance of a living person.
 ". . . so you will be well provided for, Mrs. Henderson, if you
 exercise reasonable care in the management of the Henderson Department Store. It is a profitable
 business—quite the largest of its kind in our town. And as Peter's sole heir, you are naturally its
 owner."
 "I won't do it," Helena said,
 getting to her feet unsteadily.
 "There must be someone else who
 deserves it."
 (To Be Continued)

When she awoke, the first
 streaks of dawn painted the
 sky beyond her window. Helena
 lay there a moment, thinking:
 "It's been a horrible dream. Peter
 wasn't hurt. There—there wasn't
 even a wedding."
 She clamped her damp palms
 to her head and sat upright. How could she have slept? Somehow
 she dreamed going into that other
 room, facing Sandra and the rest.
 But nobody was in the big room
 except the Leigh girl who stood
 by the fireplace in the same clothes she had worn the night
 before.
 "How is he?" Helena asked
 fearfully.
 The other tried to smile. "About
 the same, I think. Mr. Courtney
 and the doctor are in there now."
 "Oh. . . . Then he—then the lawyer arrived last night?"
 Sandra nodded. "On the mid-
 night plane. Someone drove them
 over from the town." She hesi-tated, then went on. "You know
 that Leah Frazier came, too?"
 Helena did not answer at once,
 and Sandra added another question. "Peter told you about Leah?"
 A cold fear took hold of
 Helena's heart, but she said, "Yes.
 He asked me to tell Mr. Courtney
 to bring her along."
 Sandra looked relieved. "It's
 natural that he should ask that.
 You see, he's known Leah all his
 life—and I suppose that in his
 home town everyone expected
 them to marry. You know how it is in places like that."

The door opened behind Helena.
 Without turning she somehow
 knew that it was the doctor and Courtney who were coming into
 the room. And suddenly, horribly, she knew something else. Un-accountably, she knew. With a choking sob, she flung herself into
 Sandra's arms. "Sandra! Oh,
 Sandra. . . . he's dead. Peter's
 dead."
 Hours later she sat facing John
 Courtney, her eyes red with constant weeping, her lips pale and
 stant. He had been talking for several minutes, but Helena had
 not heard him. Since that first
 awful moment she had neither
 heard nor seen anything. And
 then suddenly something that Courtney said struck into her consciousness, brought her back into
 the semblance of a living person.
 ". . . so you will be well provided for, Mrs. Henderson, if you
 exercise reasonable care in the management of the Henderson Department Store. It is a profitable
 business—quite the largest of its kind in our town. And as Peter's sole heir, you are naturally its
 owner."
 "I won't do it," Helena said,
 getting to her feet unsteadily.
 "There must be someone else who
 deserves it."
 (To Be Continued)

South Americans' Song Bird

Dolores Anderson, member of the celebrated South American orchestra headed by Jose Manzanera, appears regularly at the Texas Centennial in the Ford Exposition building. The orchestra has established an enviable reputation for an unusual type of music and Dolores is the vocal soloist and cellist for the group.

Ambitious to climax a vocal career by reaching the grand opera stage, Dolores Anderson, cellist and soloist with Jose Manzanera and his South American orchestra, is an industrious person completely wrapped up in the study of music.
 She is an important member of the celebrated musical group appearing in nightly concerts in the court of the Ford building at the Texas Centennial in Dallas.
 Dolores was born in Oakland, California. She attended school there and was considered a good student. Her first job was as a stenographer in San Francisco and it was there that she met Jose Manzanera.
 Able to speak in Spanish, Dolores also can sing in five languages.
 They are Spanish, Italian, Russian, French and English.
 Although Dolores appears mostly in the role of singer and cellist, she is an able pianist and arranger.

Food and Feed is Moved to Drouth Sections of Nation

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Shipment of 844 carloads of food and feed into drought areas for relief distribution was announced today by the Department of Agriculture Drought Committee. Some of the products already have been moved,
 and the rest now is being shipped.
 Distribution is being made to state relief agencies by the federal surplus commodities corporation. In most instances, the commodities were obtained by the commodities purchase section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in connection with the removal of surpluses in the hands of growers and distributors.

Of the shipments, 669 carloads, or 25,179,950 pounds, are foodstuffs for human consumption, and 175 carloads, or 7,000,000 pounds, are mill feed for livestock.
 In addition, five carloads of fresh vegetables donated by the California Emergency Relief Administration are being shipped into the drought territory by the F.S.C.
 Ten states into which shipments have been made, or have made, include designated drought territory. These states are Georgia, Kentucky, Montana, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Carolina,
 South Dakota, Tennessee, Virginia, and Wyoming. Distribution also is being made in Arkansas, Colorado, North Carolina and Texas.
 The commodities and total quantities of the food and feed shipments are as follows: Dried beans, 620,000 pounds; canned beef, 2,700,000 pounds; flour, 25-401,400 pounds; dry skim milk, 440,550 pounds; mill feed, approximately 7,000,000 pounds; fresh peas, 600,000 pounds; dried peas, 780,000 pounds; fresh pears, approximately 3,087,000 pounds; prunes, 1,560,000 pounds, and fresh vegetables, 120,000 pounds each week.
 TEXAS: 23 carloads canned beef; 105 carloads flour; 13 carloads mill feed; 6 carloads dried prunes.

"OUT OUR WAY" - - - - - By Williams

ALLEY OOP - - - - - By HAMLIN

MYRA NORTH, Special Nurse - - - - - By Thompson and Coll

Australia Aids Auto Industry

CAMBERRA.—Australia is adopting a definite policy of making itself self-sufficient in the production of all the automobiles it may need. Government subsidies on the manufacture of parts will be the principal means adopted.
 According to Sir Henry Gullett, who is in charge of the government's trade treaties, Australia is already manufacturing 80 per cent of the many types of complete cars now sold on the Australian market.
 Sir Henry expressed his conviction in the Australian House of Representatives that not only the engine and the chassis, but all accessories, such as radiator cores, gear boxes, and gasoline tanks that are now imported can be produced in the Commonwealth efficiently and economically.
 To provide funds for subsidizing local motor industries, Sir Henry announced that the government proposes to impose an additional duty of about 25 per cent on each imported chassis that will be used in building up a local industry of the same thing.
 The government proposes to put a bounty on each local unit produced as follows: $150 for 1933 $30 for 1934; $40 for 1940 and $15 for 1941.
 It is believed that after the industry will become not only self-supporting but profitable.
 It is also expected that the production will begin with 5,000 chassis in 1938; 15,000 in 1939; 30,000 in 1940 and 40,000 in 1941.
 In this manner, Sir Henry announces, Australia hopes to free itself entirely from the necessity of importing automobiles and thus reduce its unfavorable trade balance immensely.

MINERS STUDY SAFETY

By United Press
 JUNEAU, Alaska.—Nearly 900 employees at the Alask-Juneau

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS—By Blosser

BASEBALL

TEXAS LEAGUE

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Dallas	60	41	.594
Houston	54	41	.568
Beaumont	51	44	.537
Oklahoma City	54	47	.535
Tulsa	53	49	.520
San Antonio	40	53	.430
Fort Worth	41	55	.427
Galveston	37	59	.385

Yesterday's Results
 Fort Worth 4, Houston 1.
 Dallas 4, Galveston 2.
 Oklahoma City 10, San Antonio 2.
 Tulsa at Beaumont, off day.

Today's Schedule
 Fort Worth at Houston.
 Dallas at Galveston.
 Oklahoma City at San Antonio.
 Tulsa at Beaumont.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	58	30	.659
Cleveland	49	39	.557
Boston	48	41	.539
Detroit	46	40	.535
Chicago	46	40	.535
Washington	45	42	.517
Philadelphia	38	47	.447
St. Louis	27	58	.318

Yesterday's Results
 No games scheduled.

Today's Schedule
 Philadelphia at Detroit.
 New York at St. Louis.
 Boston at Cleveland.
 Washington at Chicago.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Chicago	53	31	.631
St. Louis	53	33	.616
Pittsburgh	44	41	.518
New York	45	42	.517
Cincinnati	42	41	.506
Boston	41	46	.471
Philadelphia	33	52	.388
Brooklyn	30	55	.353

Yesterday's Results
 No games scheduled.

Today's Schedule
 Chicago at Brooklyn.
 St. Louis at New York.
 Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
 Cincinnati at Boston.

A really lazy man is one who buys a front seat for a fan dance, just to get the breeze.

Aquatic Star

Answer to Previous Puzzle

14 She appeared in 16 To attempt.
 17 Preposition.
 19 She is 21 Happiness.
 24 Children.
 25 Heavenly body.
 27 Uncooked.
 29 Female fowl.
 33 Layer.
 36 Cat's cry.
 38 To marry.
 39 To sew loosely.
 41 Frees.
 43 Pertaining to air.
 44 Sun god.
 45 Prophet.
 46 To eat sparingly.
 48 To soak flux.
 50 Wing.
 51 Mother.
 52 Railroad.
 54 Northwest.
 55 Senior.

You Can't Advertise Today and Quit Tomorrow

You're Not Talking to a Mass Meeting . . . You're Talking to a Parade . . . !

BRUCE BARTON

Ceaseless hammering on the same spot helps win prize fights . . . it is the essence of advertising success. Not until enough individuals in the same neighborhood have been sufficiently saturated with a certain slogan, say, to cause them to react on one another does advertising become a social phenomenon.

The modern business man realizes that his best customers wear out at a rate of nearly 3 per cent a year. Advertising-made prospects disappear far faster. Casual impressions, however favorable, dry like dew in the heat of competition.

"Cumulative" effects of advertising come not from one advertisement paving the way for another. This is negligible, to say the least. Cumulative effect, on the contrary, comes from salvaging as customers half-finished prospects.

Each advertiser is in much the same plight. If he quits successful, he loses money. If he quits unsuccessful, he tosses away an equity in public recognition far more valuable than the money: So many thousand partly manufactured customers. The second group are spending as little money as they can and still keep their names before the public. They believe themselves wise spenders because they spend so very cautiously—or perhaps reluctantly is a better word . . . THE BALD TRUTH IS THAT THESE RELUCTANT SPENDERS ARE, AS A CLASS, THE REAL OVER-SPENDERS IN ADVERTISING!

EASTLAND TELEGRAM

THE FASHION URGES YOU TO ATTEND IT'S GIGANTIC VALUE DEMONSTRATION IN OUR MID-SUMMER

BIG Final

CLEARANCE

SALE STARTS WEDNESDAY
JULY 22
8:30 A. M.

GLOVES
Wash and Kid
$1.00 to $3.95 Values
ONE-HALF PRICE
Limit 2 to Customer

SALE

PURSES
ALL WHITE AND PASTEL BAGS
ONE-HALF PRICE!

SALE STARTS WEDNESDAY
JULY 22
8:30 A. M.

SUPER SALES!
PRICES THAT SAY
BUY NOW!

ONE GROUP SILK AND LACE
DRESSES $1
EXTRA SPECIAL, CHOICE

WASH FROCKS $1
EVERY REGULAR $1.95 VALUE
Nelly Don, Marcy Lee and La Grace
Limit 2 to Customer

FINAL CLEARANCE
ALL SUMMER MERCHANDISE at COST or LESS!

FOUR GROUPS

Spectacular Reductions
DRESSES
That You Can Wear Thru July, August and September

- LeVine
- Snyder Knit Suits
- Madame Rinauld
- Marjorie
- Montgomery
- Reich
- Franklin
- And Nelly Don

None Reserved
None Higher

Values from $7.95 to $29.50

FOUR PRICES

$3.33

$5.55

$7.77

and

$9.99

This Sale Is One That We Can Truthfully Say
Will Give You the Best Values You Will Find Anywhere!

No Refunds—No Exchanges—No Approvals—All Sales Final

CLEARANCE SALE

-OF-

HATS

38c 68c 99c

ALL BETTER HATS

Were $4.98 and $6.98

$1.98

DOBBS AND CHALFONTE

ONE-HALF PRICE!

Final Clearance

of ALL SUMMER SHOES

DRASTIC PRICE REDUCTIONS ON EVERY PAIR IN STOCK!

ALL WHITE SHOES

All Styles, Up to $4.95 Value
Broken $2.49
Sizes

One Lot SANDALS
Up to $2.95 Values.

$1.49

ONE LOT
200 PAIR

SANDALS
To Clear Out

89c

NATURAL BRIDGE

Regular $6.00 Value

$3.89

No Refunds... No Exchanges... All Sales Final!

MARVELOUS SAVINGS

PURE LINEN SUITS

Pilot Brand
Values to $5.95

$1.98

and $2.98

Tans, Browns, Whites

PHENOMENAL VALUES

ONE GROUP WASH DRESSES

Values to $3.95
CHOICE

$1.98

THE FASHION

NORTH SIDE SQUARE

EASTLAND

LOCAL - EASTLAND - SOCIAL

OFFICE 601 TELEPHONES RESIDENCE 288

Tonight

Ladies Auxiliary, Firemen's Association, 8 p. m., City Hall.

Wednesday

Bluebonnet club, 2:30 p. m., residence Mrs. James Watson, hostess.

Ladies Auxiliary, Firemen's Association, 8 p. m., clubroom, City Hall.

Gadabout club 7 p. m., residence of Mrs. Carl Miller, hostess.

Booster Bible Class

The Booster Bible class dismissed their regular session Sunday morning in order to attend the lesson of their teacher, Judge W. P. Taylor, at the Men's 9:49 Bible class in lieu of Virgil T. Seaberry out of the city.

The lecture on Social Service was in Judge Leslie's usual thoughtful vein.

Booster members attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ed F. Willman and son, Jim Ned; Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Tyson, Mmes. R. A. P. Pool, Bird; P. L. Crossley, Misses Jessie Lee Ligon and Opal Morris.

Bethany Class

Round Table Lesson Mrs. C. W. Estes, teacher of the Bethany class of the Presbyterian church, opened their session Sunday morning following Sunday school assembly.

The lesson, "Social Service of the Early Church," was conducted in round table, with divisions presented by Mmes. Harry B. Sone, M. H. Lobaugh, L. O. Black, H. C. Craven, Mrs. James of Oden, and Mrs. Estes, who gave the background and historical setting. In the attendance contest of the Sunday school Mrs. James Horton's side was reported as having the greater percentage Sunday morning. The contest closes next Sunday.

Martha Dorcas Class

Has Lesson Discussion The Martha Dorcas class held their usual meeting Sunday morning in Methodist church with the session opened by their vice president, Mrs. I. J. Kilgough.

Hymns, "I Love to Thee," and "Take the Name of Jesus with You," were led by Mrs. Roy Stokes and Mrs. C. J. Germany, pianist, and closed with prayer by Mrs. C. C. Robey, class teacher.

The lesson, "Christ in Social Service," aroused a discussion, the members tending their ideas of social service, and the unconscious influence each person exerts on the life of some other.

Mrs. Jack Clemmons of Dallas, guest of Mrs. Roy Stokes, was presented.

Members present: Mmes. J. Atchley, R. L. Jones, W. H. Mullings, Fred Hale, W. P. Leslie, C. J. Germany, W. E. Trimble, Mattie Taylor, Jack Dwyer, Roy Stokes, R. E. Sikes, I. J. Kilgough, C. C. Robey, and W. E. Coleman.

Home Makers Class

Hears Fine Lesson The Home Makers class of the Baptist church Sunday school heard a fine lesson Sunday morning, brought by their teacher, Mrs. W. G. Womack, on the current subject in all churches, "Social Service."

There was no formal opening, as the president was absent. Members attending, Mmes. R. L. Slaughter, H. R. Pentecost, J. E. Lewellen, Artie Liles, W. G. Womack, Howard Gaston.

Mrs. Kitchen Attends

Training Camp Mrs. Johnny Kitchen, who is deeply interested in Camp Fire Girls work, attended Camp Heald at Swartout, California, taking a five days' course in Camp Fire Training, whilst on her recent California visit.

Mrs. Kitchen stated, this is one of the eight national summer training courses in the United States. She has brought back many fine ideas for her group of girls, the Pupae, for whom she is guardian.

Thursday Afternoon Club Announces Picnic Date

The chairman committee in charge of arrangements and invitations for the Thursday Afternoon club picnic, when their husbands are invited guests, announced that this summer meeting has been set for Thursday, July 30, at 6:30 p. m., at the Gun Club on the Breckenridge Highway.

The committee, Mmes. James Horton, W. B. Pickens, and Art H. Johnson notify the members to keep this date unengaged if possible.

They will also notify each club member later on the article assigned her to bring for the basket supper.

Planning For

The Hickman Visit Judge and Mrs. J. E. Hickman of Austin will arrive Friday afternoon of this week, make their headquarters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Childress and visit among homes of other friends as well until their departure, the following Wednesday.

Mrs. V. T. Seaberry, assisted by Mrs. W. P. Leslie and others, are arranging a picnic for them to be held Friday, 7:30 p. m., at Lake Cisco.

Everyone going is asked to take a basket supper.

Socialites Plan

Summer Affairs Miss Marjorie Moore, president of the little group called the Socialites, was hostess to the girls at her home Saturday afternoon, and opened the meeting, in which members planned summer outings, to be announced later.

Miss Ruby Lee Pritchard will be hostess to the club next Saturday at 3:30 p. m.

Refreshments were served of ice cream and ice box cake to Misses Wilma Williams, Ruby Lee Pritchard, Nona Mae Seale, Louise Cook, Barbara Blythe, Marjorie Moore, and Mildred McGlamery.

Miss Merle Ticer

Renews Friendships Eastland friends were greeting Miss Merle Ticer of Gladewater, who was in the city a few days, stopping at the Connelles, but attending a round of informal small affairs and family dinners given by friends of many years, and who returned Friday.

Miss Ticer lived in Eastland since the oil boom, until two years ago, and is now private secretary to C. R. Skarnes, also formerly of Eastland.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hertig had an informal seven o'clock supper for Miss Ticer in their lovely yard. Places at the al fresco tables were laid for Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Furse, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cheatam, Jr., Miss Ticer, and Mr. and Mrs. Hertig.

The largest affair honoring Miss Ticer, an evening of cards, was hosted by Mrs. Fred Maxey at her home.

Guests were Mrs. Sam Gamble, and her house guest, Mrs. Felix McCurdy of Gainesville, here for the day; Mmes. Ben E. Hamner, W. E. Chaney, John Ernst, C. G. Kimbrell, J. O. Earnest; Misses Jessie Lee Ligon, Nina Whitfield, Melba Gamble, Viola Munyon and honoree, Merle Ticer.

Mrs. Maxey was assisted by her sister, Miss Madge Rose. A chicken salad plate was served with iced tea and lemon, and second course of ice cream frappe and cake.

Favor in contract, a pottery coffee pot, was awarded Mrs. Chaney, and a garden set, salt and pepper, went in the cut, to Mrs. Gamble.

The hostess presented Miss Ticer hand made kerchiefs as guest favor.

Exchange Locations Mr. and Mrs. Dan Childress have just moved from 417 South Dixie, to 413, next door.

They are renovating, repapering and repainting the residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Cook, exchanged residences with the Childress family, and are now located at 417 South Dixie street.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook are at present attending the short course at A. & M., College Station.

Mrs. Arnold's Guests Mrs. J. Leroy Arnold had as her guests from Wednesday to Friday, Clifford Arnold of New London, Connecticut, who is being transferred from that base to Honolulu, in the submarine service as an engineer.

He was accompanied by his friend, LeRoy Hinton, and Ed Ganshaw, from La Porte, Indiana, who are enroute to California.

Mrs. Pickens Entertains Guests Mrs. W. B. Pickens is entertaining her sister and husband, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Dannelley of Denton, and 2 little daughters, Marjorie Merle and Neta Jo, who arrived Saturday for a week's stay.

Dr. Dannelley is professor of Romance Languages at North Texas State Teachers College at Denton.

Eastland Personal

Miss Helen Corbett of Fort Worth arrived Sunday night to visit Miss Barbara Ann Arnold.

Mrs. Gilbert Reineman, of Fort Worth, will be here Friday to visit her parents, Judge and Mrs. Earl Conner, and her little daughter, Beth Coner, who is staying with her grandparents and attending summer school.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hoffmann of Dallas were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ligon.

Mr. Joe Laurent accompanied his son, Edward, Sunday to Austin, to spend the day with his son, Frank Laurent, who is taking a summer course in law at University of Texas.

Mayetta Carter of Graham is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. E. Coleman.

Miss Rosalie Leslie returns tonight from a week-end visit in Dallas with friends.

Mayor and Mrs. C. W. Hoffmann, accompanied by Mrs. L. A. Hightower, Sunday with their sons at Camp Crockett near Granbury.

J. Wright Ligon of Stamford spent Sunday with Mrs. C. C. Ligon.

Judge Earl Conner will spend Wednesday in Abilene, attending court.

Miss Frances Hefley of Dallas is the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. D. Mahon.

Social Insurance Becomes Reality

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 21—For the first time in America a governmental system of old age retirement annuities (for other than governmental employees) began to function July 13 in the payment of annuities, when the United States Treasury, on certification of the railroad retirement board, placed the first check for 18 recipients of such annuities in the mail, according to a communication just received by the regional office of the social security board from Oscar M. Powell, who is now in Washington attending a conference of all regional directors. Murray W. Latimer, chairman of the railroad retirement board, and director of the bureau of old age benefits, social security board, told the regional director that these checks to retired railroad workers represent the first of a series of monthly payments to which, under the railroad retirement act, the recipients will be entitled as long as they live. Some 4,000 railroad workers are immediately eligible for such annuities; more than 20,000 other railroad workers have made application for these annuities. The railroad retirement board, according to Mr. Powell, is proceeding at top speed to secure the data necessary to certify to the United States Treasury annuity payments for all railroad workers who are eligible.

Of the first 18 annuities certified to the United States Treasury by the railroad retirement board, Mr. Latimer said the largest was $91.04 per month, and the smallest was $13.55—the others ranging from $40 to $70 per month. The largest, $91.04, goes to Thomas Biddle Strain, 510 West Locust street, Johnson City, Tennessee. Mr. Strain, who recently celebrated his 73rd birthday, has worked on the railroads of America for 54 years. He was retired from employment on the East Tennessee and Western North Carolina railroad on May 31 of this year. One of the 18 was Mrs. Cora Miranda Jones, who retired in April of this year from her position as station agent of the Wichita Northwestern railway at Iuka, Kansas.

Mr. Powell said Mr. Latimer pointed out that "The payments which are being made today have great historical significance, not only to railroad workers but to workers of all sorts in America, because they forecast what is in store for 26,000,000 to 30,000,000 American working men and women for whom similar annuities begin to accrue on January 1, 1937, under the Social Security Act." "At that time," said Mr. Powell, "all employees in Texas, Louisiana, and New Mexico, as well as those in all other states, Alaska and Hawaii, except those groups in service excluded from terms of the Social Security Act, which will be paid to them each month as long as they live after they reach the age of 65." Mr. Powell, who left San Antonio on July 14, will return to his headquarters here by way of New Orleans and Houston, following adjournment of the regional directors conference.

GIRL FARMERS PREFERRED By United Press HAMILTON CITY, Cal.—Agricultural preparation seems to be

Political The Eastland Telegram is authorized to announce the following Democratic Primary Election candidates for office, subject to July 25, 1936:

For Judge 91st Judicial District: GEORGE L. DAVENPORT

For Judge 88th District Court: BURETTE W. PATTERSON

For Criminal District Attorney: EARL CONNER, Jr. GRADY OWEN

Floterial Representative, 107th District (Eastland and Callahan Counties): T. S. (Tip) ROSS E. M. (Ed) CURRY CECIL A. LOTIEF

For Representative 106th District: ED T. COX GEORGE A. DAVISSON, Jr. (Re-election)

For District Clerk: P. L. CROSSLEY

For County Judge: T. L. COOPER W. S. ADAMSON W. D. R. OWEN

For Sheriff: STEELE HILL LOSS WOODS A. D. CARROLL G. W. (Dick) RUST A. D. (Red) McFARLANE J. W. (Jess) NOBLE

Tax Assessor and Collector: CLYDE S. KARKALITS C. H. O'BRIEN

For County Clerk: TURNER COLLIE R. L. (Bob) DAVENPORT R. V. (Rip) GALLOWAY

Commissioner Precinct 1: H. V. DAVENPORT (Re-election) W. G. POUNDS

Hotel Garage TEXACO PRODUCTS Storage and Tire Service West Main Phone 42

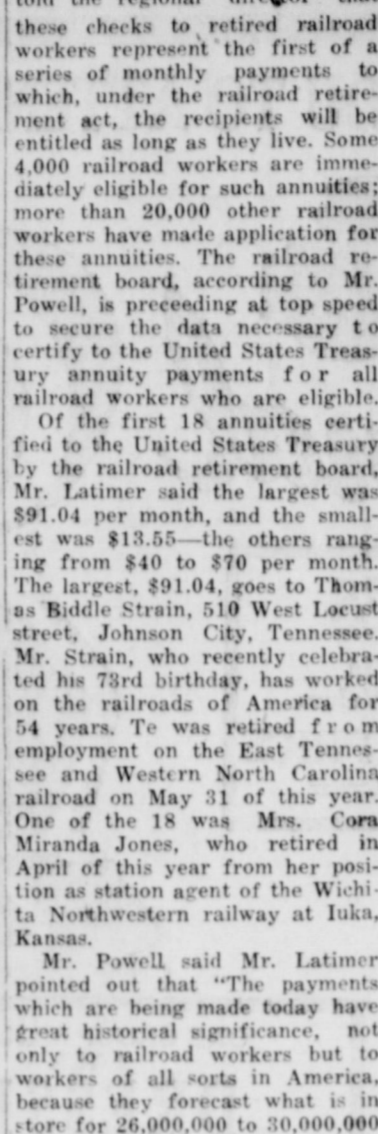

ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES Texas Electric Service Co.

Going 'Over There'

If you're fitting tunes to pictures, this one calls for "Over There." For here you see composer Irving Berlin accompanied by Mrs. Berlin, the former Ellin Mackay, looking a bit surprised when the newscameraman recognizes them on ship board as they sailed from New York for a five-week vacation in Europe.

Shirley Temple's British Rival

Already a star in her own right, 7-year-old Deidre Gale Broughton is nearing Hollywood to vie with Shirley Temple, Jane Withers and other cinema prodigies for American fame. Deidre is seen emulating grownup stars on arrival at New York from her native England.

America Sees More Precious

NEW YORK.—More precious stones are being bought, reports K. Ikeda, industrialist affiliated with Eastern pearl trade. Ikeda is on a world tour that in many countries stones are considered property of the wealthy. The United States does not exist in States, he says.

CONNEL

Now Playing In "Educating Father" With Spring Bunch Dixie Dumb

"Romance in Air" With Phil Reagans Wini Shaw

Traveltalk "Modern Times"

CLASSIFIED

19—FOR SALE OR FOR SALE—Practically Buick, 80 Sedan, perfect driven 3,400 miles. Clear up an estate. If a suitable person is interested contact with Samuel Butler, Texas.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WHERE is there a cook with soul so dead she hasn't sighed for new culinary worlds to conquer? I do it, too. And yet none of us begin to make the most of all the foods available. Which suggests that the thing to do is to combine the old, tried and true dishes into new concoctions. I'll never forget the family's surprise the first time my spirit of adventure prompted me to serve raw carrots cut in narrow strips. From there it was just a step to add lustre to a salad with grated raw beets.

Even such old food affinities as toast and egg become different when served as an egg nest, which is merely the stiffly beaten egg white piled on buttered toast with a bit of butter and the unbroken egg yolk dropped in the center. Salt and pepper are sprinkled over the top and the combination is put in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) until the egg is set. It will take about ten minutes. It's a spicidid idea for breakfast.

To Make "Egg Nests"

Cold meat platters, too, gain appeal if you provide contrast in color and are careful to arrange the pieces attractively. There will be the dull rosy-tan of cold sliced roast beef, the brighter pink of baked ham, the creamy tones of cold roast pork, the pure white of breast of chicken and the speckled pink of tongue. Garnish with pickle fans and pond lilies made of thin slices of cucumber and radishes with the skins left on, and a half ripe olive for the center. Silvers and thin slices of dill pickle make stems and leaves if you want to trace a border around the edge of the platter. The old family friend, rice pudding, wears an alluring disguise when it appears as cream rice meringue. The same sugar and eggs and milk all are there but they're in a different combination.

Monday's Menu BREAKFAST: Chilled mixed fruits, cereal, cream, egg nests, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON: Baked green peppers stuffed with macaroni and cheese, whole wheat rolls baked while peppers are baking, apple sauce, ginger bread, milk, tea. DINNER: Cream of mushroom soup, platter of cold cut mixed vegetable salad, toasted rolls, cream rice meringue, milk, coffee

Cream Rice Meringue

One-half cup rice, 3 cups milk 1-2 cup sugar, 3-4 teaspoon salt, grated rind 1 orange, 2 tablespoons orange juice, 1-2 cup chopped dates, 2 eggs, few drops vanilla, 4 tablespoons powdered sugar.

Cook rice and milk in a double boiler until rice is soft. Add sugar, salt, grated orange rind and juice, dates and slightly beaten egg yolks. Cook until mixture thickens. Turn into a serving dish and chill. Beat whites of eggs until stiff. Beat in powdered sugar and vanilla and drop small spoonfuls onto a baking sheet covered with waxed paper. Bake twenty minutes in a slow oven (300 degrees F.). Slide to top of rice pudding and serve.

Perhaps it's a little more trouble to beat the eggs separately, and make the meringue but why shouldn't we be more anxious to take pains for our family than for anyone else? It's so easy to let little things that mean a few extra minutes assume overwhelming proportions for everyday meals and the special touch that lifts food from the humdrum to the unusual is neglected.

Once-Fertile Farmland Now Is Huge Dust Heap

Transformed by blazing heat and drought into a waste of choking dust is this section of once-fertile farmland near Bismarck, N. D. On the rolling prairie not a vestige of grass or weeds can be seen, a typical sight in a region where hundreds of farm families now are destitute.