ABOUT Eastland
By VIRGIL E. MOORE

It looks like Eastland may have a March of Dimes drive yet. There has been considerable interest shown since we announced Sunday that Eastland apparently would not have a drive at all this year. We should have definite announcement by Thursday on the name of the local sponsor. Many citizens have stopped us and said they wanted to give to the fund. We asked them to hold their money just a few more days by which time we are sure the drive will be officially underway here. If you still doubt the wisdom of having a drive, we ask you to read the front page story in the Dallas Morning News which appeared Monday. It was written by a police reporter and the story makes you think that this city gave up last year.

After reading accounts of President Eisenhower's record smashing budget—the highest ever presented by a peacetime president—we can think of only one thing the words of Karl Marx. It was Marx who said, "The surest way to overthrow the social order is to debase the currency."

You folks who read this column every day should write it now and then. Frankly, we will admit that most of the time it is fun to write. Sometimes, however, we find it hard to put together. So we are going to borrow the writings of one Larry W. Ross Jr., which appeared in this month's American Mercury magazine. The story was entitled "A new Parlor Game," and to us it sounds like fun. It's Mr. Ross talking from now on.

Suppose you are having some friends in for the evening and you belatedly discover that the TV tube has burned out, the children have ruined all the playing cards and there is no mix for drinks. Your guests are about to arrive. What should you do? Turn off the lights and not answer the doorbell? Call the party off?

No indeed. You greet your friends cordially and when all are assembled and settled comfortably, you calmly announce that the planned entertainment for the evening will be "conversation." To heighten the effect of the announcement you let everyone sit in shocked silence for a few moments before going on to explain the rules of this new and delightful form of entertainment.

The object of the game is to exchange and develop ideas. If this sounds too corny for your group, skip it and go on with the rules. Because you are host you are careful enough to choose a subject with which every member of the

Siebert Given New Contract

Wendell Siebert, superintendent of the Eastland Independent School District, has received a new three-year contract. The announcement was made by Mr. Perry, Board president. He said Siebert was commended for a "job well done." The Eastland native, who formerly served as football coach and high school principal, has just completed his second year as superintendent. The regular meeting of the board was held Thursday night.

AT TURKEY MEETING—Many Eastland turkey growers and other interested citizens attended the turkey banquet held by the Central Texas Turkey Growers Association in Ranger Thursday night. They heard Dr. D. E. Davis, an expert on turkey diseases, speak. A part of the large crowd are pictured above.

Fire Comes... To Firemen

Firemen, accustomed to going to a fire, had the tables turned on them Monday. A fire came to them. The city trash truck caught on fire and rushed to the fire station. Apparently city workers had picked up rubbish somewhere which still had a spark of fire. At any rate, the truck left a trail of smoke behind it and had up full steam when it reached the station. Fire Chief Billy Jack Johnson quickly applied water at high pressure, wet down all the rubbish and then city workmen headed for the dump. "It happens every now and then," the Chief said. "We can't seem to impress folks not to put out trash which they have been burning."

Dates For Livestock Show Announced

The date for the annual Eastland County Livestock Show, at the airport one mile northeast of Eastland, has been set for March 29 and 30 according to Bob Pressley of Cisco president of the County Livestock Raisers Association, sponsors of the show. A committee has been appointed to select and invite the judges. Advertising committees for the livestock show catalogue have been named for all towns in the county it was said. All livestock is to be on the grounds and properly entered by 11 a.m. on the morning of March 29. Judging of all entries will be done on Saturday, March 30. Pressley said, beginning at 8:30 o'clock that morning. Entries for the 1956 show were the largest ever for the county, officials said. Entries this year are expected to be large especially in the boys fat lamb and fat pig division. Judging of the fat pigs, fat steers and boys fat lambs will be on a packer basis. It was explained as has been the custom for the past several years.

Evening Classes At RJC Offer Varied Courses

Evening classes at Ranger Junior College for the spring semester offer classes in government, typing, accounting, office machines, shorthand, trig, calculus, English, commercial art, survey of arts, speech, business law, American history, animal husbandry and chorus. Classes meet on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. For a veteran to register he will need a certified copy of his separation papers. If he is married, a certified copy of both marriage license and birth certificates for any children he may have will also be needed. Pat Thomas is director of the Ranger Evening program.

Wm. T. Johnson Funeral Services Are Held Today

Funeral services for William Thomas Johnson, 37, were held at 2:30 today, Tuesday, at the Second Baptist Church in Ranger, with Rev. Charles Masseege officiating, assisted by the Rev. Jackie Heath. Burial was in Evergreen cemetery under direction of Killingsworth Funeral Home. Mr. Johnson was chief engineer of Premier Oil Company's Mingo pumping station and was killed Sunday morning when an air compressor on a diesel engine blew up. Premier Supt. Dave Pickrell surmised that Johnson must have been killed around 8 a.m., as he went on duty at 7, and nobody was around the plant but him. His body was not found until 2:30 Sunday afternoon when a relief man reported to replace him. Pickrell said the force of the explosion demolished the diesel engine but did not damage the building appreciably. The diesel was not on a pumping line at the time and it is thought that Johnson was apparently adjusting the valves when the accident occurred.

Johnson had been employed by Premier for about 10 years, and he and his wife and son, Billy, lived in the Bullock Community about four miles north of Ranger. He was born in Eastland County on June 1, 1919 and had lived in the vicinity all of his life. Survivors in addition to the wife and son include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson of Ranger; a brother, Wallace, and a sister, Mrs. Oma Merritt, both of Ranger.

Eastland County Has Played Part In Highway Story

Eastland County citizens have helped to play a big part in the amazing success of the Texas Highway Department, a story in this month's Texas Parade magazine reveals. The story, entitled "The First 40 Years," was written by William E. Alderman. It contains some historic pictures, and they, as well as the story, show that this county has played its part in the Texas highway story. Two pictures accompany the story. One pictures Texas who attended the first public hearing of the Highway Commission at Mineral Wells on June 21, 1917 after the 35th Texas Legislature had created the commission in January of that year. Only 13 of the persons in the picture have been identified. Two of them, H. P. Bressford and Senator Joe Burkett, at that time called Eastland their home. The story asks that any person able to identify any others in the picture write to the magazine. Since two of the men were from Eastland, it seems highly possible others may be. A copy of the magazine is at the Telegram office for anyone who would care to look the picture over.

Two Face Charges After Wild Chase

Burglary Suspects Seized After Wreck

Burglary charges have been filed against a Houston and a Cisco man in Eastland following what police describe as an attempt to burgle Jim Horton Tire Service Sunday night. David Merritt of Houston and Roy Sneed of Cisco are being held in the Eastland County jail. Two other suspects are also being sought by local officers. Merritt and Sneed, and two teenage girls, were arrested by Eastland City Patrolmen Aubrey Hicks and Howard Bradford after a speeding auto chase. Bradford spotted a man near the Horton building and tried to give chase. He hid from the officer, however. Bradford quickly drove back to town, picked up Hicks and the two returned to the scene in time to see the men fleeing from Horton's. The suspects jumped into a 1950 Mercury and roared off. Hicks and Bradford gave chase. They radioed Highway Patrolmen Les Strawn and Alfred White for help and those officers joined in the chase. Near Mangum the suspects' car overturned and the city police made the arrests.

Eight New Oil Tries Staked In Eastland Co. Area

Oil activity in this area continued to paint a bright picture this week. Eight new wells were spotted in or near the county. Crump and Jones of Lubbock has started a re-entry project in a 2548 foot failure 2 1-2 miles west of Rising Star on a 160 acre lease. It is the No. 1 John Yochum. Location is 660 feet from the north line and 330 feet from the west line of Section 1 I&GN Survey A-589 on a 160-acre lease. Proposed depth is 2537 feet with casing tools. Seven miles northeast of Eastland Harding Brothers of Eastland are drilling the No. 1 E. F. Kline. Location of the wildcat try is 990 feet from the south line and 330 feet from the west line of Section 123, HT&B Survey on a 60 acre lease. Proposed depth is 2990 feet with rotary to the Strawn sand. Dixon Management Corp. of Houston has staked the No. 1 S. G. Copeland in the Ies Coz field 14 miles northeast of Caddo on a 261 acre lease in Stephens County. The try is in Section 1, MEPRR Survey A-1270. Proposed depth is 4200 feet with rotary.

Five tries have been staked 11 miles northwest of Strawn on a 160 acre lease. Phil Daviss of Corsicana has staked the wells on land owned by A. B. Hohnertz. The tries are all in Section 58, Block 4. Proposed depth on all of the wells 1725 feet with a rotary.

Eastland Rotarians rank tops in the 36 club district this past month in attendance. The report of Earl Bender, chairman of the attendance committee, showed the club had 100 percent attendance during December. Rochester was the nearest ranking club with 99 percent attendance. Cisco ranked third and Graham fourth. Abilene ranked 17th, Panger 19th and Breckenridge 24th. This was one of the few 100 percent attendance months ever recorded by the local club, although the Eastland club always ranks high in the district attendance record.

Rotarians Will Elect Officers At Next Meeting

Eastland Rotarians will elect new officers at the regular meeting of the club next Monday. Outgoing officers will be Tom Wilson, president; Don Pierson, vice president; and Earl Stephens, secretary-treasurer. Plans were also made for the annual ladies night. A definite date will be announced soon. "Hobbies and Mottos" was the topic discussed by Larry McGraw, who brought the program for the day. McGraw gave a humorous and entertaining talk, telling about such slogans as the one used by a mattress factory, "We stand behind every bed we sell."

Fourteen Planes Spotted By Local Ground Observers

Fourteen aircraft were spotted and reported to the Dallas Filter Center Sunday by members of the Eastland Ground Observer Post, according to Billy Jack Johnson, commander. Johnson said all of the planes were flying high. Members of the Post were on a called alert. The alert was scheduled by the Air Defense Filter Center in Dallas and was conducted over the entire state. Johnson said jets, bombers and other aircraft was spotted. He also announced plans to make the local Post a church-sponsored one. What Johnson hopes to do is have a different church group be in charge on each drill. Participation in the program only requires about four hours a month and the Ground Observer program is vital to warning defenses of our nation, he explained. The minimum age for participation in the program is 14 years of age.

party has some familiarity so that everyone may participate. The success of the entertainment depends upon your success in handling this most difficult problem. You realize that if the subject is not interesting to everyone you will soon have three or four "gab-fests" going on at once, and the entertainment will be a flop. The difficulty of the task confronting you is made apparent by the fact that most of the members of your group share no common heritage of either backgrounds, education or ideas. You are attempting to find a common area of literacy, and unless you know your guests well you may be hard put to find a suitable subject. The individuals may variously be versed in foreign affairs, art, local politics, basket weaving and literature, and their contributions may shed much light as the discussion progresses, but you try to determine how each can be brought to bear on a general conversation. Perhaps there is a play or book which everyone has seen or read that can be discussed. Your conversation will be better if your subject is clearly in focus and the issue sharply defined. But you may be forced to choose a more general area, such as education, about which everyone is likely to have some information and an opinion. However, you will avoid a topic on which one of your guests is an expert, knowing that you run the risk of the conversation turning rapidly into a lecture. A conversation is always an exchange of Clarify the meanings of key words in the conversation. A pre-occupation with definitions is tedious and soon leads to a breakdown of the conversation, but some attention to meaning is necessary to make sure you are not talking about different things.

When you get an idea of what your adversary means by a word, you accept his definition, realizing that most of us are poorly practiced in the use of words, and we are likely to have no true notion about the meanings of many of them.

Of course, all the rules of courtesy and fair play are carried out in friendly conversation. You coax your opponents to see your position by developing it with cogent arguments, illustrating it with apt similitudes and identifying it with known truths. And certainly you refrain from taking advantage of the mistakes and ignorance of your adversaries unless, of course, the party gets dull. And now . . . En garde!

It's us talking again now. That game sounds pretty good to us, but don't think it would work in our crowd. You see, all of our friends are experts on every subject, and we imagine we would have to put on the boxing gloves to break up the game. See you Thursday.

Looking Back on 1956- . . . the inventory shows that the scales weighed out a good portion of the better things for us to enjoy. While the mistakes we made stick out like a sore thumb and our failures almost overwhelm us, yet these discouragements are small indeed when compared to the unhappiness and tragic experiences of some who happen to live in other countries. We are glad we live right here in Eastland County where we have had the opportunity to serve a host of loyal customers for more than 30 years. just "replacing" milk isn't enough
Raise 'em one-third bigger* at one-half the cost

During the past year, calves fed today's Nursing Chow-Calf Startena Program at Purina's Research Farm have averaged roughly one-third heavier than the accepted Morrison's standard at four months of age.

At the same time, the cost of raising calves the Purina way has been consistently less than half the cost of raising the same calves on whole milk.

Purina's Calf Program is much more than a milk replacement, or milk-saving plan. The program takes advantage of the miraculous protective and life-stimulating powers of the mother cow's colostrum milk. After the calf has nursed the colostrum, the Purina feeding program takes over to provide extra vitamins, minerals, energy and disease protection not found in cow's whole milk.

Let us help you start raising your calves a third bigger... at half the cost... right away!

*Compared to accepted Morrison's "Feeds and Feeding" average at four months of age.

Preview of Coming Movies At Local Theatre Is Given By Aubrey VanHoy

Now that the hectic holiday season has gone into the limbo, Interstate City Manager Aubrey Van Hoy, has had time to straighten up his desk and take a survey of what the future holds for movie patrons of Eastland.

What he has come up with is a list of motion picture attractions that portends to excel even the fine and unusual crop of productions that have been offered to customers of the large screens in recent months.

A list of Hollywood's offerings to be presented in this sector in the near future indicates a great variety of subject matter, a brilliant roster of stars and magnificent production values, with filmings both here in America on location, and in certain instances, abroad. Some of these films have already opened in various sections of the country in test dates, and results are such that Mr. Van Hoy feels it of local interest to inform the fans of this trade area about their approaching availability here.

Without further discussion, here are some of the outstanding films that will be seen by the movie fans of Eastland in the very near future:

"The Ten Commandments," the long-awaited biblical production of Cecil B. de Mille, produced in minute detail and de Mille splendor, which is destined to be probably the most important motion picture ever filmed. Among its scores of stars are Charlton Heston, Yul Brynner, Ann Baxter, Edw. G. Robinson, Debra Paget, Martha Scott, John Derek, Yvonne De Carlo and Vincent Price.

"The Giant," the sensational adaptation of Edna Ferber's novel about Texas, with a history of Box Office records throughout the country, and with such stars as Elizabeth Taylor, Rock Hudson, James Dean in his last picture, Chill Wills, and the "baby doll" herself, Carol Baker.

"Baby Doll," the controversial picturization of the Tennessee Williams story, with the sensational Carroll Baker in the title role, with the able help of Karl Malden, Eli Wallach, and the citizens of a small backwoods Mississippi community, where the picture was filmed.

"The Great Man," with an odd and unusual plot, will rank with one of the superior films of the year with its absorbing, suspenseful and stimulating interest. It stars Jose Ferrer, Dean Jagger, Keenan Wynn, Julie London, Joanne Gilbert and the first dramatic role of his long stage career, by Ed Wynn, father of Keenan.

"Written On The Wind," the wild-fire story of a Texas family of oil millionaires, with Academy Award nomination performances by Robert Stack and Texas' own Dorothy Malone, and Rock Hudson and Lauren Bacall heading the cast.

"The Girl Can't Help It," introducing the voluptuous Texas blond sensation, more recently from a big Broadway show, to the screen in her first starring role. She is Jayne Mansfield, with more points of interest than Marilyn Monroe. Miss Mansfield is aided and abetted by Tom Ewell, Edmon O'Brien, Julie London, and practically every Rock and Roll star in the country; she is also presented in CinemaScope, which she really does not need.

"The Rainmaker," a fascinating adaptation of the famous Broadway play, with Burt Lancaster, Katharine Hepburn, Wendell Corey and Lloyd Bridges giving it a humor that is shing and captivating. It, like "The Great Man," will be one of the fine productions of 1957 when the various awards are passed around.

"I Married a Woman," the further and funnier adventures of little George Gobel, this time supported by the ravishing English beauty, Diana Dors, the British answer to Marilyn Monroe and Jayne Mansfield.

"Buddy of Joy," co-starring Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher, is a song and comedy laden affair all about a mix-up with a cute baby and a merry matrimonial mixup before nuptials.

"Anastasia," an exceptionally beautiful production in CinemaScope, with Ingrid Bergman, Yul Brynner and Helen Hayes enacting one of the fabled stories that is a come out of the Czar of Russia and his family.

"Zarak," a spectacular CinemaScope production, with Victor Mature, Michael Wilding, and the amply-endowed Anita Ekberg.

"The Iron Petticoat," produced in London, Paris and other points, starring Bob Hope and Katharine Hepburn in a very funny story about a female Russian fighter pilot sent to London to try to instill the creed of Lenin into the American and British Air Forces. What happens to her could only happen to Hope and Hepburn.

On the list of coming attractions for this territory are a number of outstanding motion pictures, each of which proves that Hollywood has really gone all out for quality instead of quantity, but the above list will give the reader some of the film fare that awaits him and his family in the coming weeks.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Joyce Tucker, Billy Joe Dennis

A double ring ceremony by candlelight was performed before an altar of white chrysanthemums and greenery for Miss Norma Joyce Tucker and Billy Joe Dennis. Miss Tucker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Tucker of Beall Hurst Ranch, Eastland, and Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Dennis of Gorman. The wedding took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Russell and sons, John and Joe, of Beall Hurst Drive on Dec. 22, at 8 p.m.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and chose for her wedding a teal blue crepe rayon dress with navy accessories. Her traditional "something old" was a string of pearls and matching earrings. She wore a halo of carnations in her hair.

Rev. M. F. Dennis, father of the groom, performed the ceremony and Roy Dennis, brother of the groom, served as best man. Mrs. Tommie M. Tucker Jr., served her sister-in-law as matron of honor. Mrs. Tucker chose a navy faille suit to wear with navy accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Tucker wore a blue and gray dress with navy accessories. The mother of the groom chose to wear a navy dress with black accessories. Both mothers wore carnation corsages.

Mrs. James Kinser, sister of the groom, played the wedding music. Her selections included "True Love," "The Wedding March" by Mendelssohn, and "Always."

After the wedding a receiving line was formed in the music room. After greeting their guests, the bride and groom went into the lovely reception room where they cut a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake. The cake was decorated with a miniature bride and groom; the groom was in Air Force uniform. Mrs. Myron Vann of Lubbock served the wedding cake and Mrs. A. L. Mayfield of Clifton ladeled punch from a crystal punch bowl. The napkins were white with "Joyce and Billy Joe" engraved in silver.

Mrs. Otis Arnett and Mrs. James Kinser, sisters of the groom, alternated with Mrs. Tommie Tucker in registering the guests in a white bride's book, a gift for the bride from the Russells.

For her wedding trip the bride wore a suit. Her corsage was a white orchid. The couple took their honeymoon trip to San Antonio, San Marcos, and Austin. They are now at home in Eastland.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Seabourn of Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Gray of Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. Tommie M. Tucker Jr. and sons Tommie, Lester and Bobby of Hobbs, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Mayfield of Clifton, Mrs. Myron W. Vann of Lubbock, Mrs. Virginia Ervin of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Covington of Ranger, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cornwell and Mr. and Mrs. James Kinser all of Gorman, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dennis and Vicki of Denton, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Arnett of Andrews and A-1c Hayden V. Brown and Miss Glendia Jackson of Abilene.

Next "Mrs. America" Could Be Next Door

Somewhere in the United States—perhaps right here in Eastland—there's a housewife destined in May to be crowned "Mrs. America 1958" with the mythical title of the "Nation's No. 1 Homemaker."

"It is entirely possible for a resident of our town to win this great honor and distinction," Hubert Westfall, manager of Lone Star Gas Co., said today.

The new "Mrs. America" will acquire fame and fortune overnight and bring lasting recognition to her home town. For a solid year she will represent the housewives of the nation as an ambassador of all that is good in the home.

The next "Mrs. America" will be chosen primarily for her abilities as a homemaker and a planner. She, of course, will be attractive, well groomed and possess a pleasing personality and poise. After surviving regional and state eliminations, she will travel with her husband to Fort Lauderdale, Florida, to compete for the "Mrs. America" crown. She will face champion homemakers from 47 other states and the District of Columbia.

The home town of the next "Mrs. America" will swell with pride and gratefulness, for she will have literally put it "on the map."

That "home town" could be our very own, the one you live in. And the new "Mrs. America" could well be the neighbor next door. Or she could be you. Yes, as we stated in the beginning, it is entirely possible to have a winner from our town, for each "Mrs. America" has come from such a place. The big prize in the "Mrs. America" contest is highly desired, of course, but even a regional or state winner from our town would do us great honor and we would praise and recognize her for it. But think of the widespread general good that would accrue in our town should it give the nation its "Mrs. America 1958."

Some town is going to furnish the winner. It might as well be our town. And it would be mighty fine for us to be able to say: "Hail and welcome home, 'Mrs. America 1957.'"

Morton Valley Club Meets With Mrs. Stovall

The Morton Valley Home Demonstration Club held their first meeting of 1957 at the home of Mrs. E. E. Stovall with nine members and Mrs. Don Hart, Eastland County agent, present.

The motto, pledge and prayer were repeated in unison. Roll call was answered with "How to be a good neighbor."

The standing rules and recommendations were read by Mrs. Floyd White and approved.

It was decided the club would have a suggestion box. Each member would make a suggestion for improving meetings and put it in the box.

Secret pals of last year were revealed and new ones drawn.

Mrs. Hart gave a demonstration on Quick Breads. She made a muffin recipe with three variations which was sampled and enjoyed by all.

Those present were Mmes. Nevada French, E. B. Stovall, Floyd White, W. J. Graham, James Harris, D. J. West, Alvin Kincaid, J. R. Tankersley, Robert Kincaid and Don Hart.

FOR THE MEN—Inspired by outfits worn by surfboys in Hawaii, these longer swimming pants—makahakas—are making a big splash on California beaches. University of California student Ralph Thomas wears the calf-length makahaka for body surfing and surfboarding, since they protect against bruises and gravel cuts.

CLOTH AND CAMERA—Taking aim, a Catholic priest focuses on the Pope's residence during a visit to the Vatican in Rome, Italy. This clergyman is as much a tourist as his parishioners.

STARTING OVER—Two small girls play with their dolls at refugee camp Judenau, 40 miles from Vienna, Austria. Some 750 of the more than 125,000 Hungarians who have fled their homeland live in the camp run by the Austrian Red Cross.
