ABOUT Eastland

By VIRGIL E. MOORE

That Norman Wright! Now Norman the Unnormal has come out with the statement that we have volunteered to help Ranger build that oil derrick they have been talking about. The Ranger Times editor says our only stipulation was that we got to name the first three Eastland citizens who got hanged from the derrick. We can tell you who the first will be. It will be Norman Wright, a fellow who can't tear himself away from the Connellee Hotel here despite the fact he works in Ranger.

If you supported President Eisenhower and his leadership can you in good conscience vote to send to the Senate a member of the opposition who will assure an organization of harassment and a program of frustration? Is it not good, common sense to vote for the only candidate who is a member of the President's party, enjoys his endorsement and would give the chief executive the kind of sympathetic but objective support contemplated by our constitutional form of government?

Nope, Moore about hasn't switched horses in the middle of the stream. Those are the words of Thad Hutcherson, Republican candidate for Senate, not ours. But they do ring a true bell, don't they? We agree with Mr. Hutcherson. If you voted for Ike, we feel you should indeed give him a Republican majority in the Senate. That's what we have said all along.

But we notice the Republicans of our state have changed tunes. During the election it was the Democratic thing to do to vote for Ike. He was "a better Democrat than Stevenson," remember? Suddenly that isn't so anymore. Suddenly Ike needs a Republican Senate. Could it be after all that Eisenhower is a Republican? Of course he has told us that he was all along, but we Texans just wouldn't believe him.

Go ahead and give him his Republican Senate, and find out how much of a Democrat Eisenhower is.

Two lifelong denizens of a lunatic asylum were engaged in solemn converse. "I have decided one. 'Historians will never be able to say that Julius Caesar rested on his laurels.'"

"England, hey?" mused the other. "Well, Julius, if I were you—and incidentally, I am..."

Rev. Russell Reagan, one of the speakers at the Brotherhood meeting Monday, told one we would like to pass along to you. Seems that when he got his first church assignment as pastor, he also had to serve as choir director. At his first meeting with the choir, he found he had one member who was ruining the sound of the choir because of a speech defect. After exhausting other means of trying to get the poor fellow out of the choir, Reagan went to him and told him he would just have to get (Continued on Page 2)

Weather Balloon Has Folks Busy

Eastland folks were craning their necks late Monday afternoon, keeping their eyes on an experimental weather balloon which hovered above the city for a number of hours.

The "four story high" balloon looked like a miniature sun hanging in the north here. A number of persons viewed the balloon with power lenses and said it was transparent, but had a black stripe around it. To the naked eye, it appeared to be a bright orange.

The balloon, which was released by Goodfellow Air Force Base in San Angelo, is 128 feet in diameter and carries 440 pounds of weather recording instruments.

The balloon, which failed to deflate after its time aloft, first seemed to be getting closer to the ground here, but then it seemed to start rising again. It could not be seen this morning.

Junior Girls And Boys Win Tournament Honors

Eastland Junior High Schools boys and girls scored impressive victories in Cisco Saturday night.

Eastland's girls undefeated this year in 10 starts, spanked once-defeated Anson 22-17 in the finals while Eastland's boys downed Cisco 30-18. Both teams brought back gold trophies for the school's trophy case.

Patsy Hollis was Eastland's star for the girls. The short, but fast Junior star netted 56 points in three games to take scoring honors in the tourney. In the opening girls game, Patsy pushed in 28 points to lead Eastland to run-a-way 51-18 win over Scranton's Juniors. Kathie Jones had 12 and Yvonne Green 11 in the tilt.

Eastland's girls swamped Cisco in second round play. Yvonne Green was highpointer in the game with 18 points. Hollis had 14, Kathie Jones, Glenda Johnson four and Betty Hallmark 2. Against Anson Patsy had 14 points, Yvonne netted four and Kathie had four.

Eastland's boys slapped Scranton 42-15 for their first round victory. Clifton Slate led the parade with 16 points. The locals drew a forfeit from Breckenridge in second-round play and then dumped Cisco 30-18 in the finals. Slate was again high pointer man, this time getting 14 points.

The Juniors have lost only one game this season. It was a two point setback at the hands of Ranger, a team they earlier beat easily.

The Juniors will swing back into action Thursday night. The boys and girls play Rising Star in second round play of the Carbon Tournament. Then Friday night they play Gorman.

Sheriff's Posse Adds Polo To Activities

The Eastland County Sheriff's Posse is adding a new sport to their activities. Palmetto polo is now being played by the local riders.

Riders held their first workout over the weekend. It was easy go for both the horses and riders for awhile. The horses, as yet untrained for the game, shied away from the ball, and at one point a rider fell.

The posse recently learned that it won more first prizes during the past year in parades than any other riders club in the state. All of the posse's trophies have now been displayed in a glass case, which has been placed on the first floor of the courthouse.

A spokesman for the posse said that a polo league is being formed. He said regular league games would be played here in the near future.

Oil Activity In County Is Still Brisk

Oil activity in the Eastland County area continues to be bright.

Marvin McCulloch of Abilene has spotted the No. 2 L. A. Hightower 200 feet from the north line and 800 feet from the east line of the William Van Norman Bronson Subdivision 1, five miles south of Ranger. Proposed depth is 1600 feet.

The No. 1 J. Z. Miller is a regular field try being drilled by Victor Cornelius of Eastland. Location is 2500 feet from the south line and 1102 feet from the west line of Section 2, Block 4, BBE&C Survey, three miles north-west of Eastland. Proposed depth is 1700 feet.

A wildcat try is being drilled by the Red River Drilling Co. and Bentley and Pruet of Ranger. Proposed depth is 1999 feet and location is 330 feet from the north line and 720 feet from the west line of B. H. Epperson Survey A-112.

Lions Club Pancake Supper Is Thursday

David Fry, supreme top Lion in charge of flipping pancakes, announced today that everything is in readiness for the Lions Club pancake supper, to be held Thursday night in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

"Charlie Marshall, our head cook, reports everything is ready," Fry said. Homer Smith will be in charge of the waiters and Virgil Moore is chief bottle washer.

Pancakes, sausage and all the trimmings will be served on a "eat as much as you can basis." Tickets, which can be purchased from any Lion, are just 50 cents. The supper will begin at 6 p.m. and Lions will continue to serve until 8:30 p.m.

Rumor is out that Marshall has a secret formula for cooking pancakes in the form of a heart. Ask about his plans for the Valentine Day supper, Charlie refused to make a statement. Smith said

Banker To Speak At Father-Son Banquet

Lawrence Melton, Dallas banker, insurance man and Boy Scout worker, will be the principal speaker at the 28th annual Father and Son Banquet Friday, Feb. 22, Travis Harrell announced Sunday. The banquet will be held in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church at 7 p.m.

Tickets are now available at $1 a plate. The menu is being prepared by the woman of the Martha Dorcas of the Methodists Church.

Ed Willman will head the ticket sales this year. He said today that the public could get tickets from almost any member of the class, but in case anyone did not see any class member, he would leave some tickets at Davis Drug for sale there.

Program chairman Grady Pipkin has been associated with Melton for several years in Boy Scout work and is proud of being able to get Melton as speaker this year. Melton is prominent in church work in Dallas and very active in Circle 10 of Boy Scouting.

Nine Forty-Nine class president Travis Harrell, which is the sponsoring Sunday-school class, said his class would provide a "father" for boys whose own father was unable for any reason to take him to the banquet. "We especially want to have all Boy Scouts in Eastland and members of the championship football squad of our high school as guests at this banquet," Harrell said today.

Any boy who would like for the class to provide for a "father" should get in touch with Wendell Siebert or Jay Whatley. Likewise any "father" who has no boy to take this year should get in touch with either of these men.

The Father and Son banquet has come to be a vital part of the culture of Eastland since its inception 28 years ago. The class has been fortunate in its choice of speakers at one time or another, spoken at this banquet. Some of the best after-dinner speakers in the Southwest with some of the best presented philosophy have appeared at the annual banquet.

In the past years we have had such men as Lynn Landrum of the Dallas Morning News; Mr. Wimpy, formerly of the armed forces chaplain corps; Judge J. E. Trotter, of the Supreme Court of Texas; Dr. Gaston Foote, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Fort Worth; Senator H. Ray Suddeth, of Sweetwater; President Tom Taylor of Howard Payne, to name a few. And there have been many others over the years who have done yoman service for the youth of Eastland in appearing at the Father and Son banquet.

For many years after the inception of the Father and Son banquet there were people in Eastland who had not missed any of the annual affairs. Today it is not believed that any are left there who have been to all of these banquets. But there are some who have been to all in the last 10 or 20 years.

John Whatley, for example, has not missed one since his birth. His father said Sunday he had to carry John home early at the boy's first one, but he did attend the banquet and he has not missed once since.

Until the last few years Dr. Sam and Gayland Poe had attended all Father and Son banquets without fail. Perhaps there are others in Eastland with as enviable a record of Father and Son banquet attendance.

Continuing the high plane of speakers that have appeared before the Father and Son annual, we are very proud to present Mr. Melton this year Program Chairman Pipkin said. "This man has that rare ability of getting over a thought in an interesting manner that is not over the heads of young people I've been with him in Boy Scout work for several years and have heard him speak at public gatherings. One of his stories alone is worth the dollar."

Plenty of Lawn Mowing Taking Place In Eastland

Many a poor Eastland husband was seen sweating and pushing behind a lawn mower over the past weekend as he struggled with Spring grass, whereas last weekend he was shoveling ice and scraping doorsteps and sidewalks. It's a sad life.

Spring grass in many lawns is almost one-half knee high, and in spite of the cold weather, many venturesome buds are on the verge of busting out all over, especially redbud bushes for those who have them.

It might also be noted there are plenty of fishing worms right now, and worm-lovers, namely fishermen who can't find them during July and August, are advised to make a bed of them while the mowing is good, lest there come a day when they can't be had at any price.

Rotarians And Lions Both Meet

"Intolerance hurts everybody," Eastland Lions and Rotarians were told Monday when they held their annual joint Brotherhood meeting at the White Elephant Cafe.

Three prominent Dallas men—a Protestant, Catholic and a Jew—served on a panel to discuss brotherhood. The three donate their time to the National Council of Christian and Jews. Rev. Russell Reagan, director of religious education, Oak Cliff Methodist Church served as moderator. Jermon Crane, Funeral Chapel owner and prominent Catholic layman, and M. B. Rudman, oilman and Jewish leader, were the other two members of the panel.

"Many sincere people think that everyone should act and think as they do," Crane told the group. He said if everyone would use an old Indian legend as their guide, "I will walk two miles in another's moccasins before criticizing him," there would be less prejudice in the world.

"Better understanding" is the key to better brotherhood, the protestant speaker declared. "We are not born with prejudice," Crane told the civic club members, "we cultivate it."

Crane passed the same wisdom along to his listeners. He put it this way: "The better you get to know someone, the better you understand and like him."

He explained that the three speakers were not here to "make you go to our church or synagogue," but rather to stress the importance of brotherhood. Rudman emphasized that Americans of different faiths "cannot permit Communism to come in and divide us." He said that "there are no bad religions," and said better understanding of other religions would make us all realize that.

Q-Back Club To Meet Thurs. To Plan Minstrel

Quarterback Club members will meet Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. in the High School cafeteria to make plans for this year's Minstrel, Wells Dalton, president, announced today.

Dalton urged all members to be present for the meeting. He explained that it was held at 7:30 in order that everyone will have time to attend the Lions pancake supper beforehand.

He said a definite date would be announced for the Minstrel following the meeting.

Hearing Due On District Court

An open hearing will be held in Austin Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. before the Judicial District Committee of the House of Representatives on House Bill 28, Paul Brashear, state representative, said today.

The bill, introduced by Brashear, concerns adding another county to the 91st District Court.

4. Real estate agents' commissions, forfeited escrow payments, title fees, documentary stamps, attorney fees, cost of surveys, and similar payments in connection with the sale or purchase of a personal residence are not deductible as itemized deductions and they do not constitute a loss that is deductible for income tax purposes.
5. Stocks and securities on which there is a reasonable likelihood of some recovery, even though small, are not entirely worthless therefore the loss incurred as the result of their decrease in value is not deductible.

"Why?" the fellow asked. "Because you just can't sing," Beagan replied. "Who says I can't sing?" the determined choir member demanded. "Two or three persons have," the preacher said, not wanting to call any names. "Well, that's nothing," the man shouted. "Thirty or 40 people have told me you tain't preach."

Baylor Hospital Gets Super Volt X-Ray Machine

Two million volts of harnessed energy will soon be brought to bear against cancer at Baylor Hospital. Purchase of a giant 2,000,000 volt General Electric X-ray Machine for this purpose—valued at $118,000.00—has been made possible by a gift from Mr. Charles A. Sammons, Reserve Life Insurance Company and other companies controlled by Mr. Sammons. The announcement was made Saturday afternoon by Mr. G. H. Penland, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Baylor Hospital. Mr. Penland said, "Mr. Sammons, The Reserve Life Insurance Company and other companies have given this unit to Baylor Hospital to be used as a companion piece of equipment with the present Theratron Cobalt Therapy Unit in operation at Baylor. The Theratron Cobalt Therapy Unit was also given to Baylor by the Reserve Life Insurance Company in honor of Mr. Charles A. Sammons on January 9, 1955. That gift made possible the establishment of the Charles A. Sammons Irradiation Therapy Center at Baylor which was dedicated on September 8, 1955." Mr. Penland stated further, "In the first year of operation of the Charles A. Sammons Irradiation Therapy Center at Baylor, the patient load has increased to three times what it was prior to the opening of the center. Radiologists at Baylor have studied the problem of increased demand for services and it was their conclusion that an additional therapy unit should be installed as early as possible. This new equipment," Mr. Penland continued, "will complement the present Cobalt Unit, each doing certain things better than the other. When the new equipment is installed, the Irradiation Therapy Center at Baylor will have versatility comparable to any Irradiation Therapy Center in the United States. We are deeply grateful for this gift."

addition of the X-ray equipment will enable many more people to receive the benefits of the Center. The new unit, known as a "Maxitron-2000," will be the only one of its kind in the Southwest. Although large in size, the machine is made maneuverable by a motor-driven adjustable supporting structure. It can be aimed at a cancerous growth simply and precisely. Complex interlocking electrical devices prevent operation of the unit unless all operating and safety factors are in order. The Maxitron will be installed in a companion room to the Theratron Cobalt Unit now in operation. This room was designed with sufficient strength and protection for a heavy unit of this type. It will have a special viewing window which provides maximum protection from radiation for the therapist while still permitting a clear view into the treatment area. The powerful 2,000,000 volt X-ray unit, which weighs more than six tons, will be suspended from a ceiling 22 feet in height. Installation of the unit will also require the completion of two additional therapy rooms in the Sammons Center. In order to accommodate the massive equipment, structural changes will have to be made in the large therapy room where it is to be housed. Chiefly the addition of ten feet in height. It is estimated that the structural alterations will cost about $15,000.00, bringing the total cost of this project to approximately $133,000.00. Radiologists at Baylor explained that the new equipment has many medical advantages. First, patients can be treated with this unit with less irradiation sickness. Second, treatments can be given with less skin change. Third, the sharp beam edge of the machine offers protection to adjacent sensitive structures (such as eyes, etc.). Fourth, the large output of the machine decreases treatment time. Fifth, short treatment time permits treatment of a greater number of patients. Sixth, used with its "twin" or "companion piece"—the Cobalt Therapy Unit—it will provide additional flexibility in the handling of cancer problems. Therefore, they feel that this new equipment will materially aid in coping with the increasing number of cancer patients. It will also permit treatment of more than twice the number of patients now treated in the Irradiation Therapy Center. Interest in the new indoor roller rink here has been high. P. P. and J. B. King, owners, announced today. The rink features a 1234 foot long pecan floor, overlaid with plastic. Decorative And Cooking Hints For Valentine

February is the month of hearts and flowers for it brings forth the Valentine season and provides just the occasion for a party to give a gift from winter and an advance touch of spring. It also is a perfect excuse for a frilly feminine luncheon, but equally perfect for a sentimental touch to a party for a mixed crowd. Men, too, like the feminine touch and the bit of sentiment, so long as the food is as good as it looks and is filling. For a Valentine theme giant hearts cut from shiny red paper make festive place mats for a seated meal or for a buffet supper. If time permits, edge the hearts with lace paper doilies cut in half and glued to the underside. White or red flowers may center the table, or vary from the conventional and use a pale pink. A delicate pink does wonders with red. Slip the stem of a flower through the center of a paper doilie, tie the stem with a fluff of ribbon and guests have individual nosegay corsages. Clustered together, the nosegays first make a centerpiece. If there are men present, keep some of the flowers plain to be worn as boutonnieres. Use individual Valentines for place cards—the more sentimental the better. If it's a dessert-only affair, nosegays and Valentines make plate favors. This suggested Valentine menu will serve a mixed dinner crowd, or omit the potatoes and it serves a ladies luncheon as well. Here's the menu:

- Salmon Mousse
 - Spiced Crabapples
 - New Potatoes
 - Green Asparagus
 - Hot Biscuits
 - Pink Angel Hearts
- The menu fits nicely into a "hearts and flowers" theme, with the foods satisfying. Garnish the mousse with chilled canned spiced crabapple. Those with stems on look prettiest. Dress tiny new potatoes with melted butter or margarine and minced parsley. Add lemon juice and grated lemon peel to melted butter or margarine and whip to a froth to make a delicious sauce for the asparagus. One-fourth cup melted butter or margarine with two tablespoons lemon juice and one tablespoon grated peel makes enough sauce for four servings of asparagus. Whether the biscuits are of your own making from start to finish, are made from a packaged mix or are of the canned variety, serve them piping hot with plenty of butter or margarine. A pink dessert seems a "must" for a Valentine party, whether it's a dessert to complete the meal or one to serve as a refreshment course. For Pink Angel Hearts, make your favorite angel food cake mix into cake layers about 1 1/2 inches thick. With a heart-shaped cookie cutter, or by cutting around a cardboard pattern with a sharp knife, cut the cake into individual servings. (Use the

'57 Acre Reserve Programs Getting Underway

COLLEGE STATION — Farmers can now sign agreements to take part in the 1957 Acreage Reserve programs for three basic crops, R. G. Shrauner, Chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today. The three crops are winter wheat, cotton, and rice.

Taking part in the Acreage Reserve programs is entirely voluntary, the Chairman declared. Each farmer will make his own decision, on the basis of the advantages offered for his farm.

Chairman Shrauner explained that the Acreage Reserve programs are one part of the Soil Bank, which is now entering its first year of full operation. The other part is the Conservation Reserve, which is a longer-range plan, offering farmers financial help in changing their use of general cropland from harvested crops to conservation uses.

other hand, gives farmers an opportunity to attack directly the accumulated surpluses of basic crops, by diverting allotment acreage from basic-crop production.

"Farmers may not fully realize all the advantages of participating in the Acreage Reserve programs," Shrauner stated. "For one thing, participating farmers will earn special payments to protect their current income while land is in the Reserve and out of crop production; they will receive the program payments for the Reserve acres, even if they run into a bad growing season; they may rest the Reserve acres, or improve them with cover crops which may qualify for regular Agricultural Conservation Program assistance; they will be in position to reduce their overall investment in the year's farm operations; and finally, by cooperating with other producers, they may cut down burdensome surpluses and improve market prices.

"Producers who are interested in taking part in the Acreage Reserve programs for 1957 crops should get in touch with their County ASC Committee right away, for the agreements will be signed on a "first-come, first-served" basis, as long as the program funds last."
