

Moore... ABOUT Eastland

By VIRGIL E. MOORE

One Eastland citizen who attended the Fort Worth Stock show was telling another just how cold it got the afternoon of the parade. "Boy, there we were right out in the open," he said, "with no pack-age store or anything else to stand behind."

Here are a few of the latest making the square:

Guide: "This castle has stood for 600 years. Not a stone has been touched, nothing altered, nothing replaced."

Visitor: "Um, they must have the same landlord we have."

A certain train had been late every day for years. But one day it rolled into the station exactly on the dot. The surprised and pleased passengers got together and made up a handsome purse for the engineer and presented it to him with an eloquent speech, commending him for being on time at last.

The engineer refused the purse sadly, saying "Gentlemen, it breaks my heart to refuse this, for I need the money, but this here is yesterday's train."

A long-winded political speaker shouted: "What I want is reform. I want tax reform, judicial reform, high price reform..." Just when he was about formed-catch a fellow in the back yelled, "I don't know what all you want, but what you need is chloroform!"

City Manager Jimmy Young tells us that the City got off pretty light on fixing up the new street signs. They didn't have to buy any new pipe for the standards. What they didn't have already was donated by Bill Hoffmann.

Paul Brashear, state representative from this district, was home over the weekend and reported his bill to strengthen the 91st District Court is getting a lot more support this session than it did the last time he tried to push it through. It might be wise for folks in Eastland to write both Brashear and Sen. Floyd Bradshaw, urging their support. Just write in-care-of the Capitol Station Austin.

The Eastland County Sheriff's Fosse added a feather to the organization's cap when they won top honors in the Fort Worth Fair Stock Show parade. Sharing in the valuable publicity, of course was all of Eastland County Press, radio and TV plugs were all gained by the riders.

We don't know how much trouble it's gonna get us in to tell this story, but we just have to do it. For three editions now we have been wanting to, but just hadn't been able to get up the courage before.

Travis Hilliard, superintendent at Olden, made out a bank deposit back in 1953 for some $50 or so. Before he could make the deposit, however, he had to leave home, so he stuck it deep into the throom closet. And that's where Travis Reese found it the other day. Reese was re-doing the Hilliard bathroom, and when he started working on the closet he came across the bank bag. Hilliard had forgotten all about it, so the Olden school has been 50 bucks richer for the past four years that it thought it was.

Add these to your list of quotes: "The greatest remedy for anger is delay."—Seneca.

"Although men are accused of not knowing their own weakness, yet perhaps few know their own strength. It is in men as in soils, where sometimes there is a vein of gold which the owner knows not of."—Swift.

"Nothing relieves and ventilates the mind like a resolution."—John Burroughs.

"Good humor is one of the best articles of dress one can wear in society."—Thackeray.

Good temper, like a sunny day, sheds a ray of brightness over everything; it is the sweetener of toil and the soother of disquietude!

YOUR POLL TAX

You can help write history—and also help to determine your own living conditions—if you remember to pay your poll tax before January 31st.

If you do, it is entirely possible that your vote alone could change the course of history. It has happened before.

More than a century ago, one vote sent a certain man to the Indiana State Legislature. A vote cast by this legislature sent Edward A. Hannegan to the United States Senate. And the vote cast by Senator Hannegan was the margin by which Texas was admitted to the Union.

One vote was also the margin by which an Indiana Congressman was elected... and a single vote, cast by that same Congressman in 1876, made Rutherford B. Hayes President of the United States.

Texas has had many close elections—some so close that a mere handful of votes determined the outcome. So remember:

1. All citizens, 21 to 60 years of age, must obtain a poll tax receipt (the tax is only $1.75) in order to vote. This includes citizens in the regular military services (to be paid or secured in the county of their residence at the time they entered the service.)

2. Persons 60 years of age or older before Jan. 1, 1956, are exempt but must secure an exemption certificate before Jan. 31, 1957, if they reside in cities of 10,000 population or more. (If they live outside the city limits of a city that size they do not need a certificate to vote.)

3. A husband can apply for his wife's poll tax receipt and vice versa.

4. Any person becoming 21 year of age after Jan. 1, 1956, and before Dec. 31, 1957, is exempt from the payment of tax but must secure an exemption certificate.

5. New residents of the State of Texas, after Jan. 1, 1956, are entitled to exemption certificates, but must have lived in Texas for at least one year and in the County where they offer to vote for six months prior to the election in which they wish to vote.

As a citizen of a free country, it is your solemn duty to vote in every election. You can help defend your freedom, but ONLY if you are armed with a poll tax receipt or exemption certificate.

Mavs Take On Wylie Tonight

Eastland's Mavericks take on Wylie tonight in a game that could hand the district crown to Clyde on a silver platter.

Both the girls and boys will see action tonight, with game time set for 7 p.m.

If Eastland can knock off Wylie's boys, it will mean that Clyde, two point winners over Eastland, will have a near cinch on the district cage crown. The games tonight start the second round of play in District 10-A. Wylie soundly defeated the Mavs in the first district game of the year, but lost to both Throckmorton and Clyde. Eastland beat Throckmorton, and gave Clyde a

Pierson Named Rotary Prexy

Eastland Rotarians Monday elected Don Pierson as president of the club for the coming year. Joining the roll of officer is Earl Stephens, who was re-elected secretary.

Rotarians also elected four new directors. They are Jack Frost, Dr. J. O. Jolly, Wayne Hudson and Norris Wilson. One of the four will fill the vice president post in the club. An announcement will be made next week.

Holdover directors are Stephens, Tom Wilson and Pierson. Outstanding directors are Dr. Jim Wittington, Larry McGraw, Dr. M. A. Treadwell and Bernard Hanna. Wilson is outgoing president.

Dr. J. H. Caton served as program chairman for the meeting Monday. He introduced H. R. Heleman, who discussed the new Hollywood-Maxwell plant, and invited Rotarians to visit the plant.

Heleman told club members that Hollywood-Maxwell now employs more workers than they did when they operated under three roofs. He said the present payroll at the plant is about $7000 a week and said the Eastland factory turns out some 400 dozen pieces a day.

Seniors Get Needed Knowledge At T.C.U.

Seniors of Eastland High School attended a career conference at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth Friday and everyone who attended gained needed knowledge concerning their future careers and also received a good lunch in the T.C.U. cafeteria.

Registration began at 8:30 in the lobby of the Fine Arts Building. There were many booklets in the lobby concerning different careers and also T.C.U. and its campus. At 9:45 all students assembled in the Ed Landreth Auditorium.

At 12 lunch was served in the T.C.U. cafeteria. After lunch students were free until 1:30 to tour the campus.

Between 1:30 and 2:30 each student attended a conference directed at his particular career.

Professors of T.C.U. conducted all conferences.

The seniors arrived in Eastland a cold group but everyone who attended enjoyed the visit and learned a lot about their careers.

Mother March On Polio Thursday

Turn Porch Lights On, Chairman Says

The mothers of Eastland will begin their march on Polio Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock. Only those who have their porch light on, indicating they would like to donate to the March of Dimes, will be called on.

Mrs. Arthur Gallagher, chairman of the Mother's March, said every block in Eastland would be covered. If you do not have a porch light and would like to donate to this worthy cause, call Mrs. Gallagher at 848 and someone will come by for your money Thursday night.

Those joining in the march are asked to meet at the White Elephant when they have finished their territory and turn in their money. Free coffee, compliments of Victor Cornelius, will be served at that time.

Hemophilia Victim Writes Own Story

EDITOR'S NOTE: Hemophilia is the disease that afflicts Robby Robinson, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Robinson, for whom 40 blood donors are sought in Ranger.

To acquaint our readers with this malady, we are printing the following story written by Ralph Zimmerman, of Wisconsin, a victim of the disease. Ralph later died, last Spring, after 34 transfusions, while a student at the University of Wisconsin.

People of Ranger who will donate blood for Robby are asked to contact Jess Cole, or the Robinsons, and as soon as 40 people have signed up the Wadley Bloodmobile of Dallas will come to Ranger to take the transfusions and place them to Robby's credit.

If given any cause to bleed, Robby stands the chance of bleeding to death within 12 minutes, and there is no time to seek donors.

Ralph Zimmerman's story follows:

I am a hemophiliac. To many of you, that word signifies little or nothing. A few may pause a moment and then remember that it has something to do with bleeding. Probably none of you can appreciate the gigantic impact of what those words mean to me.

What is this thing called hemophilia? Webster defines it as "a tendency, usually hereditary, to profuse bleeding even from slight wounds." Dr. Armand J. Quick, Professor of Biochemistry at Marquette University and recognized world authority on this topic, defines it as "a prothrombin consumption time of 8 to 13 seconds."

Normal time is 15 seconds. Now do you know what hemophilia is? It is by no means a 20th century phenomenon. Ancient writings reveal that Jewish rabbis upon the death of first born sons from bleeding after circumcision, allowed the parents to dispense with this ceremony for any more sons.

Family laws of ancient Egypt did not permit a woman to bear any more children if the first born should die of severe bleeding from a minor wound. How odd it seems to link the pyramids of the 4th dynasty with prothrombin consumption of 1955.

Hemophilia has had significant influence on the pages of history. Victoria, the queen of an empire on which the sun never sets, was a transmitter of this dread ailment.

Through her daughter, Alice, it was passed to the Russian royal family and Czaravitch Alexis, heir apparent to the throne of Nicholas II. Alexis, the hemophilic heir apparent, was so crippled by his ailment that the Bolshevik revolution had to carry him bodily to the cellar to execute him.

Services For James M. O'Neil Held Monday

Requiem mass was held at 9 a. m. Tuesday at St. Rita's Catholic Church in Ranger for James M. O'Neil, 83-year-old Ranger resident, who died at 1:30 a.m. Sunday in a Ranger hospital.

The Rev. C. Boesman, pastor at St. Rita's officiated. Rosary was held in Killingsworth Funeral Chapel at 8 p.m. Monday. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery under direction of Killingsworth Funeral Home.

Mr. O'Neil was born Nov. 23, 1873 in Alton, Ill., and moved to Ranger in 1919. With the exception of one year, he had been a Ranger resident ever since. He was a bookkeeper for an independent operator for 16 years. He married the former Elizabeth Conway on Sept. 5, 1905, in North Oakland, Pa.

Survivors include his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Ralph Boyvey of Corpus Christi; one sister, Mrs. A. G. Hopton of Memphis, Tenn., and one grandson, James L. Boyvey of Corpus Christi.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Monday at the First Christian Church. The Rev. Mabee officiated. Burial was in the cemetery.

Mr. Mabee will also serve with Chester Crow, executive secretary of the Texas Board of Christian Churches, as resource leader for the all day Church Evaluation Program. He will meet with the Education Committee and Church School teachers at 2 p.m.; the Membership Cultivation committee at 3 p.m. and the Worship Committee at 4 p.m.

Rev. Mabee's subject for the sermon will be: "Power of Christian Growth" based on Acts 1:6-11. Mabee is a native of Iowa and was educated in the public schools of that state. He is a graduate of and took his graduate seminary work at the University of Chicago.

He served in the United States Navy during World War II. Mr. Mabee served student churches at Lahoma and Meno, Okla. and Sherburne, Ill. He served the First Christian Church of Freeport before coming to the State position. He has served as district president, director of Chi Rho camp (Junior High), was on the faculty of the CYF (high school) conference and participated in the establishment of the Joint Board of Christian Churches for the Gulf Coast area.

He has served the state board as chairman of the District presidents organization, chairman for the Commission on Social Action and Community Service and the Texas (Continued on Page Four)

Superintendents For Stock Show Revealed

Superintendents of the various divisions for the annual County Livestock Show to be held at the airport northeast of Eastland, March 29 and 30 have been named according to C. M. McCain, Eastland rancher and general superintendent of the show.

Ed Harrison of Gorman and A. D. Campbell of Olden have been named as superintendents of the beef cattle division of the show.

Both Harrison and Campbell are breeders of purebred Hereford cattle. Jerry Colburn, of Olden will be in charge of the fat steer class.

F. Ernest Reich of Cisco and Marshall Berry of Carbon have been named as superintendents of the dairy cattle division of the show. Not as many dairy cattle are expected as in former years.

Clinton Ray Humphreys of Eastland will be superintendent of the fat lamb class of the boys division. A large number of entries are expected in this division according to McCain.

Walter Kurklin, prominent sheep breeder of Cisco, will be in charge of the class of sheep and goats, other than fat lambs. He will be assisted by Don Fox of Olden.

N. R. Eaves of Carbon was named in charge of the fat pig class. Eaves will have several assistants it was said. According to McCain this is "one of the toughest jobs at the show."

Schools resumed classes today after a one day holiday caused by icy conditions. Schools in Eastland, Ranger, Olden and Cisco let out classes Monday. Main reason was because of the hardship of running school buses.

The recent cold spell began breaking up Monday and by Tuesday morning all ice was melted. The weatherman today warned of more cold weather, however. "In all, Eastland got about 11 of an inch of moisture out of the snow, sleet and ice. Low recorded during the freeze was 22 degrees. For six days the mercury never rose above the freezing mark.

Tax Bulletin Available for Farmer's Income

COLLEGE STATION — February 15, 1957 is the income tax report deadline for Texas farm and ranch families who did not file an estimate and payment before January 15, 1957, warns C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

Farmers and ranchers should not overlook the fact that certain livestock sales made under drought conditions need not be reported in taxable income provided the animals are to be replaced within one year, says Bates. An extension of this 12-month provision may be obtained from the District Director of Internal Revenue if drought conditions continue, he adds.

Bates says all operators with a "net farm profit" of $400 or more must file a return and pay a 3 percent social security tax whether any income tax is due or not. Operators with less than $400 net profit, but over $600 gross farm income may use two-thirds of their gross income for determining self-employment tax up to $1200, says the specialist.

Landlords are covered for self-employment benefits this year provided they "materially participate" in the farm's operations. Bates points out. He says "material participation" may be determined either on the basis of actual physical work or through management decisions affecting farm and ranch production.

The Farmer's 1956 Tax Guide Bulletin provides information on tax credits and other deductions allowed farm operators. It is free from your county agent or the Internal Revenue staff. Also, suggests Bates, ask your county agent about a farm record book designed for income tax and social security.

Traffic Laws Misconstrued By Drivers

The past eighteen years experience of the Texas Safety Association reveals that many Texas drivers and pedestrians have misconceptions about traffic laws. Here are seven such misconceptions — how is your score?

1. The driver on the right always has the right-of-way at an intersection. Not so; Texas law states that the car entering the intersection first has the right-of-way. When two cars approach the intersection from different directions at approximately the same time the driver of the vehicle on the left shall yield the right-of-way to the vehicle on the right.

2. Pedestrians must yield to cars at intersections where there are no traffic lights. Wrong! The law gives pedestrians the right-of-way, with certain limitations, at all marked crosswalks.

3. When a school bus stops to pick up or discharge children, you have to stop if you are behind it and traveling in the same direction. This is only partly correct. Texas law requires you to stop in such cases no matter in which direction you are driving.

4. You don't have to stop on yellow when a traffic signal is changing from green to red. Wrong! The Caution, or yellow light is a signal that the red or Stop signal will be exhibited immediately thereafter and vehicular traffic shall not enter or be crossing the intersection when the red or Stop signal is exhibited.

5. You can make a turn any time as long as you signal. That's incorrect. To make a turn, you have to be in the proper lane and you are required to signal at least 100 feet before you turn.

6. You may pass any time you see an opening. Wrong again. Texas law says that you have to give a car coming from the opposite direction at least 100 feet clearance after you have passed. You cannot pass at all when approaching within 100 feet of a bridge, viaduct or tunnel; or traversing an intersection or railroad crossing. The passing laws, of course, contain many other specific limitations.

7. Drivers must watch out for pedestrians walking on the roadway. This is a good idea, but the law says a pedestrian must walk on the left side of the road or on the left shoulder. It is also illegal to walk in a roadway if a sidewalk is provided.

Every room will be needed to house all the visitors in Eastland June 8-9. Make your home available for Texas' Biggest Homecoming.

Golden Esso Extra

has the highest octane rating of any gasoline.

Modern cars, especially the 1957 models, have engines with very high compression ratios (9 to 1, and higher!).

These engines require a gasoline that's better than the best of "premium" gasolines, better than the "supers."

The one gasoline—the only one—that permits every high compression engine to deliver its full power output is Humble's Golden Esso Extra.

It is the world's finest automotive fuel . . . with the highest octane rating of any gasoline.

Protect the value of your automobile investment—use the gasoline that gives you added value from full performance. Fill up at the golden pump under your neighbor's Humble sign.

If you answer yes to any one of these questions, you should try Golden Esso Extra—world's finest gasoline.

- Does your car knock on "premium" gasoline?
- Is your car air-conditioned? (On an average the engine pulls a 3-ton air conditioner.)
- Does the engine have a compression ratio of 9 to 1, or higher?
- Does your car have more than one carburetor or a "Power-Pack"?
- Is the engine rated at 200 horsepower or higher?

(These points become even more important as you add miles to a new car. Anti-knock requirements increase when you pass the break-in period.)

HUMBLE HUMBLE OIL & REFINING COMPANY

Don't let a "knock you can't hear" rob your car of power!

Engineers call it "trace knock," a knock so faint that only a trained technician can hear it. But like all knocks, it robs your engine of power, forecasts engine damage. If yours is a modern car in any price class—especially if it's a 1957 model—prevent "trace knock" with Golden Esso Extra, the gasoline with the highest octane rating ever.

ALL-ELECTRIC Heat Pump

The All-Year Air Conditioner that "thinks for itself"

- Maintains any selected temperature the year around—automatically
- Switches from heating to cooling or back again, as needed, without attention
- Eliminates seasonal startups and shutdowns of heating and cooling equipment . . . just set it and forget it!

Imagine a home in which the indoor temperature stays at the level you like best—from season to season, from day to day, even from hour to hour—all automatically—without lifting a finger.

That's the kind of automatic comfort you can enjoy with the All-Electric Heat Pump. Using only air and electricity, it both heats and cools from a single compact unit—switches automatically from heating to cooling or back again, as needed, to maintain perfect comfort the year around, regardless of weather changes.

With the Heat Pump, there's no manual start-up or shutdown of heating or cooling equipment . . . no discomfort from unseasonably warm or cold days. And because the Heat Pump is all-electric, it's clean, modern, convenient—an investment in better living that adds permanent value to your home.

For additional information, phone, write or come by for your copy of the free booklet, ELECTRIC HEATING TODAY. It tells about the Heat Pump and gives helpful information about all types of electric heating.

Hemophilia—

 that 85 percent of all hemophiliacs die during that period. While the figure is exaggerated, it tends to indicate this salient point: if society can keep a hemophilic alive until after adolescence, society has saved a member. During those years, society is given a responsibility it too often refuses to accept.

You might ask—but what can I do? What do you expect of me? The answer lies in the title of this oration: mingled blood. For all that boy needs is blood, blood, and more blood. Blood for transfusions, blood for fresh frozen plasma, blood for serum fractions. Not Red Cross Blood Bank, for stored blood loses its clot-producing factors. But fresh blood directly from you to him in a matter of hours. Your blood, dark and thick, rich with all the complex protein fractions that make for conagation—mingled with the thin, weak, and deficient liquid that flows in his veins. Blood directly from you to the medical researcher for transformation into fresh frozen plasma or anti-hemophilic globulin. During those years, his very life is flowing in your veins. No synthetic substitute has been found—only fresh blood and its derivatives.

Because medical science had not advanced far enough, and fresh blood not given often enough, my memories of childhood and adolescence are memories of pain and heart-break. I remember missing school for weeks and months at a stretch—of being very proud because I attended school once for four whole weeks without missing a single day. I remember the three long years when I couldn't even walk because repented hemorrhages had twisted my ankles and knees to pretzel-like forms. I remember being pulled to school in a wagon while other boys rode their bikes, and being pushed to my table. I remember sitting in the dark empty classroom by myself during recess while the others went out in the sun to run and to play. And I remember the first terrible day at the big high school when I came on crutches and built-up shoes carrying my books in a sack around my neck.

But what I remember most of all is the pain. Medical authorities agree that a hemophilic joint hemorrhage is one of the most excruciating pains known to mankind. To concentrate a large amount of blood into a small compact area causes a pressure that words can never hope to describe.

And now well remember the endless pounding, squeezing pain. When you seemingly drown in your own perspiration, when your teeth ache from incessant clenching, when your tongue floats in your mouth and bombs explode back of you eyeballs; when darkness and light fuse into one hue of gray; when day becomes night and night becomes day—time stands still—and all that matters is that ugly pain. The scars of pain are not easily erased.

Once a hemophilic successfully passes through the dangerous period, his need for blood steadily decreases and his health improves. The nightmare of youth is gradually hidden behind a protective curtain of objectivity that is seldom raised. In contrast to my childhood days, I can look back on more than three years of college with joy and a sense of achievement. I've had some good breaks. I've been in debate and forensics for four years and had a variety of satisfying experiences. I've been lucky in politics. My constituents, the student body at our college, elected me President of Student Government. Like so many other American youths, I've worked my way through college as a clerk in a hardware store. On warm weekends, while not a Ben Hogan at golf, I have shot an 82. And back home, a girl wears my wedding band.

For today, except for periodic transfusions, my life is as normal as anyone else's, and my aims and ambitions are the same as anyone else's. But now, a different type of social relationship needs to be found. Because a hemophilic is so totally dependent on society during his early years and because his very existence is some-

Use Curtains, Cut Brooder Costs In Half

COLLEGE STATION — Cost of brooding chicks in infrared-lamp brooders can be cut almost in half if the brooders are fitted with side curtains. W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer, is a recently completed tests in Indiana proved the value of fitting infrared brooders with curtains when used by commercial producers. No significant differences in gains nor feed efficiencies between chicks reared in brooders with or without curtains was noted. But, Ulich said the tests showed that brooders without side curtains required 93 percent more electrical energy than those fitted with curtains.

The materials used for these energy-saving curtains—white vinyl plastic, clear vinyl plastic and 32-gauge aluminum sheeting—all proved equally effective in cutting production costs. Clear plastic curtains have the added advantage of visibility.

The brooders used in the tests were of home-made plywood construction, fitted with four 250-watt lamps mounted under a 4 x 4 foot plywood top. Thermostats controlling the lamps were set to maintain the same air temperatures under all the brooders in the tests.

The lamp-controller systems used in the experiments were a proportional-time modulator, a commercial brooder "wafer" type and a commercial high-sensitivity thermostat. The proportional-time modulator type gave a slightly greater cost advantage, amounting to .2 cents per chick when compared with the high-sensitivity regulator and .9 cents per chick better than the wafer-type thermostat.

The tests were conducted in four 10' x 12' insulated colony-houses and in one 26' x 132' house separated by wire partitions into 12' x 26' pens.

Ulich said that using curtains is nothing new but in the past, makeshift materials—many of which created fire hazards—were used, and did not materially reduce brooder operating costs.

SIMPLE... EASY... COST-CUTTING CALF PROGRAM

just "replacing" milk isn't enough
Raise 'em one-third bigger* at one-half the cost

During the past year, calves fed on today's Nursing Chow-Calf Startena Program at Purina's Research Farm have averaged roughly one-third heavier than the accepted Morrison's standard at four months of age.

At the same time, the cost of raising calves the Purina way, has been consistently less than half the cost of raising the same calves on whole milk.

Purina's Calf Program is much more than a milk replacement, or milk-saving plan. The program takes advantage of the miraculous protective and life-stimulating powers of the mother cow's colostrum milk. After the calf has nursed the colostrum, the Purina feeding program takes over to provide extra vitamins, minerals, energy and disease protection not found in cow's whole milk.

Let us help you start raising your calves a third bigger... at half the cost... right away!

*Compared to accepted Morrison's "Feeds and Feeding" average at four months of age.
 Compared to raising the same calves on whole milk.

Mrs. Tidwell Shows Slides To Howard HD Club

Members of the Howard Home Demonstration Club were shown colored slides Thursday at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Ella Tidwell in Desdemona.

The pictures, shown by Mrs. Tidwell, were of the Tidwell turkey farm, their children and of a booth at the turkey meet in Atlantic City. Other slides shown of the Davis Mountains and the Grand Canyon were taken during a trip by the Tidwells.

During the business meeting, the members voted to make a donation to the March of Dimes, and a report was read from the council and THDA.

The group has started quilting three quilts which will be donated to a victim of a fire or other disasters.

Refreshments of angel food cake, dainty sandwiches and coffee were served from a table centered with yellow jasmines and green and red mandena leaves in a large glass bowl. The coffee table held a beautiful flower arrangement.

Those attending were Meses. Della Ryan, Ollie Fuqua, Ora Fuqua, Ida Wilhite, Mat Davis, John Burleson, Floyd Moore, Willie Warden, M. Wittie, Jodie Walls, J. Heeter and the hostess.

The next meeting will be February 7 with Mrs. Ida Wilhite.

COTTON ON ICE

Cotton costumes by internationally known designer Renie are featured in the 1957 Ice Follies. Mary Gaudreau is dressed as a bootblack for one of seven productions in the Shipstads and Johnson show. Her long-sleeved blouse is tangerine cotton with black-stitched patches. All costumes are lined with cotton broadcloth.

Jack Sharkey Appointed New Field Supervisor for Area Salvation Army

Jesse L. (Jack) Sharkey, who for years aided in the Eastland Salvation Army drive, has been appointed to the newly created position of Service Unit Field Supervisor for the Salvation Army in the Texas Division, it was announced today by Lt. Colonel John A. Morrison, divisional commander, and Dan Eddy, state service unit director, in Dallas. The appointment is effective immediately.

According to Eddy, the new position became necessary because of the rapid growth of the Service Unit Department of The Salvation Army throughout the state. He explained that the number of Service Unit Committees has increased to a new high of 150 groups composed of over 1400 of the leading citizens in their communities.

Sharkey formerly served as field representative in Region I which consisted of 51 countries in north and central Texas. A new field man will be appointed to replace him in that area shortly, Eddy said.

He further explained that the Service Unit Department employs four field representatives for various areas of the state. Sharkey will be available to work with all the field men in all areas of the state working with committees already set up. He will also help expedite the organization of new committees in cities where interest in bringing in the welfare program of The Salvation Army has been shown.

Eddy explained that the Service Unit Department is set up to bring the welfare services of the Army to cities where a regular Salvation Army officer is not available. Local committees of volunteer citizens carry on such a program in their own areas, he explained, and meet need at the time and point of need quickly and without red tape. Each committee has authority to make immediate decisions on what constitutes need and the best way of meeting it without having to obtain permission from distant headquarters.

Here in Eastland, Hubert Westfall is the chairman of the local Salvation Army Service Unit Committee.

Sharkey has been with the Service Unit Department of The Salvation Army for six years. He is a veteran of World War II, having spent three years in the Seabees with a tour of duty in the Philippines. He has been in Chamber of Commerce work and spent two years in Saudi Arabia for Bechtel International Corporation. He and Mrs. Sharkey live in Dallas.

Sharkey has also served in south and west Texas prior to his new assignment. He helped organize many of the existing Service Unit Committees in those areas.

In announcing the new appointment, Eddy stated that Sharkey has merited the increased responsibility through the "fine work he has already done in the expansion of the welfare program of The Salvation Army throughout Texas. He has rendered valuable assistance to us in the past, and we are sure that he will justify the confidence we have placed in him. We are looking forward to an even more rapid growth of the Service Unit program throughout the entire state."

Remember the dates, June 8-9. That's when Texas' biggest Homecoming of 1957 will be held in Eastland.

FOR THE DROUGHT AREAS OF THE WEST AND SOUTHWEST

If all of the banks in the sun-scorched areas of the West and Southwest were asked by President Eisenhower to make a fifty percent reduction in interest rates on their loans to farmers and ranchers, it would be considered most unusual.

Or, if all of the merchants of the area were asked to make a fifty percent reduction in the prices of one or more of their basic items, as an aid to the farmers and ranchers, that, also, would be considered most unusual.

Either of these requests by the President of the United States would make front page news, stimulate editorial comment, and create extensive public discussion.

But when the railroads are asked by the President to make a fifty percent reduction in their rates on hay, or other feedstuffs, it is not regarded as something unusual.

Thus when President Eisenhower on three different occasions in the past four years asked the railroads of the West and Southwest to make a fifty percent reduction in their carload rates on hay, or other feedstuffs, it hardly created a ripple on the sea of public opinion.

Somehow, the railroads are expected to do the unusual. So, when they do, it is not considered unusual at all.

Within the past four years the railroads have contributed to the farmers and ranchers, through these various rate reductions, TWENTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS.

The railroads have moved into the drought-stricken areas of the West and Southwest, on these reduced rates, approximately 150,000 carloads of hay and other feedstuffs.

If all of these cars were consolidated into one train, it would reach from El Paso, Texas, almost to Chicago, Illinois, a distance of nearly 1,600 miles.

Cattle have been shipped from the drought areas to grazing lands in other sections, on the basis of existing freight rates... but the railroads have moved the cattle back to the home ranches FREE OF CHARGE.

Of the several forms of transportation, ONLY the railroads have extended the distressed farmers and ranchers a financial helping hand, in the form of reduced rates on hay or other feedstuffs and on the free movement of cattle back home.

Down through the years the railroads always have extended a helping hand to their neighbors in times of disaster.

And their action in this crisis is not unusual!

INCOME TAX AIDS

One of a Series of 12 Articles Prepared by The Internal Revenue Service

This is the ninth in a series of 12 articles prepared by the Internal Revenue Service to assist taxpayers in avoiding tax audits. Today we are presenting four of the most common reasons for the Internal Revenue Service having to adjust taxpayers' Miscellaneous Deductions:

1. To be deductible as alimony, payments must be periodic, must be made under authority of and subsequent to a decree of divorce or separate maintenance, a written separation agreement executed after Aug. 16, 1954, or a decree for support entered after March 1, 1954, or an interlocutory decree of divorce.

2. Child support payments are not deductible.

3. Expenses are not deductible unless they are ordinary and necessary for the production or collection of income or for the management, conservation, or maintenance of property held for the production of income.

4. Expenses listed below are not deductible:

- a. Capital expenditures
- b. Attorney fees for preparation of a will
- c. Attorney fees for divorce
- d. Commuting expense
- e. Car pool expense
- f. Moving expense
- g. Bar examination fees
- h. Bribes and illegal payments
- i. Fines
- j. Tax penalties
- k. Federal income taxes
- l. Federal excise taxes

Uncle Sam Asks Quick Filing of Your Tax Return

Early filing of your 1956 income tax return will help Uncle Sam and yourself, A. E. Fogle, Jr., of Internal Revenue Service. The tax returns should be accompanied by a check, for any tax due, payable to Internal Revenue Service, 2101 Pacific Avenue, Dallas, Texas.

"The vast bulk of this area's taxpayers will find no difficulty in making out their own returns," Fogle said. "But for those who have difficulty, our office stands ready to give help or advice."

"To obtain aid and avoid the last minute crowds, call or come in now while our personnel are better able to assist you."

"It's true that the filing deadline is April 15, but little or nothing is gained by waiting until the last minute to pay up. Taking care of your payments now will help your government to carry on its important defense and construction programs and many other activities, and will let you plan your budget for the rest of the year with assurance."

The IRS representative stressed that careful reading of the instructions, accompanying the forms recently mailed out, will enable most taxpayers to prepare their own return, often in less than an hour.

MOLDING HIS FUTURE—This little Hungarian refugee is intent on the task of molding modeling clay at a camp in Traiskirchen, Austria. Once he and his family are relocated, he'll be able to mold his future, free of the shadow of the Red terror. Junior Red Cross supplied the clay, one item in a play kit given to children, who previously had few, if any, playthings in the hastily improvised Austrian havens.

1957 Egg Crop Apt To Exceed 1956 Record

COLLEGE STATION—National egg production in 1957 is likely to exceed the 1956 record output of 169 million cases by 2 percent, according to Texas A&M Extension Economists and Poultry Marketing Specialists. Lower egg prices observed in late 1956 are expected to continue through the first quarter of the new year.

In the first half of 1957, output will come from about the same number of layers as a year earlier but with a higher per-bird rate of lay. Present outlook indicate 1957 summer and fall prices will likely be near 1956 levels, since production after late summer probably won't be up much from 1956 figures.

If enough producers reduce purchases for pullet replacements, the outlook for reasonable profits during the last quarter of 1957 will be much brighter. Prices received by producers in the first quarter of 1957, however, will probably govern the number of pullet replacements. Effects of a drop in pullet replacements could possibly be offset by higher rates of lay per bird.

Third Annual Grain Drying Short Course

COLLEGE STATION — The third annual short course on grain drying and storage will be held in the Memorial Student Center on the campus of Texas A&M College, January 31 and February 1. It is sponsored by the Department of Agriculture Engineering and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

According to W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer and program chairman, the subjects to be covered this year have been mainly selected for drying and storage equipment dealers, manufacturer representatives, and operators of grain drying equipment and storage structures for both farm and commercial use.

Among the subjects up for discussion are "The Outlook for Grains in 1957; Southwest Storage Outlook for 1957; Farm Storage Costs; The ASC Facility Loan Program; Rice Drying Studies; Recommendations on Drying and Storing Grain Sorghum; Aeration of Commercial Storage Facilities for Grain Sorghum and Rice; Economic Considerations in Storing Rice in Commercial Elevators and Gaseous Fumigation."

The speakers will include research and extension personnel of the Texas A&M College System; T. J. Cunningham, deputy director for programs, Commodity Stabilization Service, Dallas; Jack Bradshaw, State Agricultural Stabilization Office; Agricultural Marketing Service Engineers Reed Hutchinson and D. L. Calderwood, and Dr. E. E. Ivy, entomologist, Michigan Chemical Corporation. The last four named speakers all headquartered at College Station.

Looking Back on 1956—

. . . the inventory shows that the scales weighed out a good portion of the better things for us to enjoy. While the mistakes we made stick out like a sore thumb and our failures almost overwhelm us, yet these discouragements are small indeed when compared to the unhappiness and tragic experiences of some who happen to live in other countries. We are glad we live right here in Eastland County where we have had the opportunity to serve a host of loyal customers for more than 30 years.

COME ON EASTLAND

The March of Dimes spent the $47 Eastland gave last year on the little fellow at right pretty fast.

LET'S DO OUR RIGHTFUL PART THIS YEAR

Polio is not licked yet! The discovery of the Salk Vaccine only opened the way. Many children and adults may be stricken before the vaccine can be widely used, and the need for research, care and education is great. Give generously today!
