MOORE about ... EASTLAND

by Virgil E. Moore

e are pleased to note that the Eastland County Home Demonstration Council will sponsor Candidates' rally at City Park the night of June 27.. We hope that all county candidates will stake advantage of the meeting, will come forth and make platform known. We also. he general public takes age of the rally and turns to hear what the can-didates have to say. -vem-

Welcome home to the Pearso Grimes. Of course Pearson been back at the old stand for quite a while now, but his wife and son, Pearson., have just re turned from Eastland. It's always good to get ex-citizens back.

We recently asked County Agent J. M. Cooper if the county had any fire ants. He gave us a look at his quick grin and said, "No, and if we did I would-n't be sitting here." The fire ant has drawn a lot of attention in this state, and Cooper says it deserves it. The ant can cause a lot of harm and the good county agent hopes he doesn't ever have to face them.

About the easiest way we know of writting a column is to steal someone else's. That's what we are fixing to do. The following appeared Wednesday morning in The Dallas Morning News in Paul Crume's front page column, "Big

A handout from some Eastern wildlife expert is around the desk here somewhere, and it says that the horned frog really can squirt blood out of its eyes.

This is all very well, but who ever said it couldn't in the first There is a lot of foolish folk lore going around about horned frogs and how they squirt blood from their eyes. The naturalists say fear causes a rupture in the sinus at the corner of the horned frog's eye. Actually, what hap-pens is that the frog squints an eye and lets fly. If the blood hits you anywhere, it will cause a wart. Nearly everybody in West Texas knew this from experience and we had it confirmed by an expert in such matters.

She was Aunt Bessie Easter, catch-as-catch-can healer mainly made up a liniment onium, camphor and whiskey for anybody who wanted it. She once spotted a wart on our hand. 'Stay away from the toads," she ordered.

In West Texas, it is still horn tcad or horned frog, not horned lizard. People out there knew what a horned frog was a long time before the experts butted in West Texans all know very well that the horned frog is a remarkable animal. It is only outlanders ters bubt his staying power and guirting.

nstance, a lot of the forewere skeptical about Old Rip he horned frog who lived for 40 years in the cornerstone of the courthouse at Eastland. Or was it Ranger? Or Cisco? We will have to check Boyce House about this. Anyway, the cynics say a horned frog cannot live 40 years in a cornerstone.

This is obivious nonsense. The horned frog has no sense of time. If you put him in a cornerstone and then take him out 40 years later, how does he know whether has been there 40 years or

The outlanders say he couldn't have breathed. We have never yet seen anyone even attempt prove that the horned frog breath-

The Interest and Sinking Fund showed a $1,519 decrease, from $8,058 to $6,539.

Forty percent of all tax money must go to retire outstanding tax bonds. That puts a big bite on the City's pursestring. The bonds are due to be retired by 1971, and actually the City has already purchased some bonds which were not due until 1960.

Yarbrough Asks Grant for Public Junior Colleges

Senator Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex.) has introduced in the Senate a bill to authorize an annual grant of $200 million for five years to help states cope with the emergency in higher education presented by skyrocketing enrollments. The bill would provide for Federal assistance in the construction of public community junior colleges.

Speaking on the floor of the Senate, Senator Yarbrough said.

"Testimony I have heard before the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee indicates the number of potential college students in the United States will be doubled by 1970. Unless immediate steps are taken to construct buildings to accomodate them, the children of the Veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict will be denied opportunities to attend college, simply because there would be no room for them.

"Many high school graduates are being denied an opportunity to go to college today simply because the colleges say they are full and have no more room. This is a denial of the American dream of a college education for every boy and girl who wants it and is capable of mastering the courses.

"This bill would provide grants for extension of existing public junior college facilities, or the establishment of new facilities. It provides for the development of State and local junior colleges, 2 p.m. - Mrs. Homer White with special priority to those areas will be hostess to the Eastland Art in need of higher educational faci-Club in her home, 405 South Wal- litres. States whose plans are approved would receive a flat Fed eral grant, with additional funds

"This bill leaves control of these public junior colleges wholly under the States. There is no danger, under this bill, of Federal control of junior colleges. "The failure to provide ade quate facilities for the young people of America is leading to the waste of the greatest of all our resources, our human resources. "In the next 15 years ,the college poplation of Texas alone will ncrease by 75 to 100 per cent, similar increases will take place throughout the nation. There are 32 public junior colleges in Texas, with additional ones authorized and in the process of formation.
