

WAR APPEARS TO BE ON VERGE OF NEW PHASE AS SECOND FRONT HINTED

The war appearing to be moving today to the verge of a new phase in which Allied war planes and land forces will strike at Nazi Europe with unprecedented fury.

London dispatches indicated preparations may be in full swing to subject Germany and the occupied countries to all day and all night bombardments.

The bombardments will be followed by moves to open a second front on the land, against Germany.

From the French frontier came revelation that a spokesman of the parliamentarians of the Third Republic still were fighting for the France which existed before the Germans took it.

The letter placed Marshal Henri P. Petain and Pierre Laval on notice that an effort to swing France into the war on the side of the Nazis would produce "convulsions"—a thinly veiled threat of revolt against the Vichy regime.

A sharply different reaction was revealed in a Moscow dispatch which expressed the Soviet's resentment and disappointment at what they regarded as insufficient aid by Britain and the United States in relieving German pressure on the Russian fighting lines.

The Moscow dispatch made it plain that there was a deep divergence of opinion between Winston Churchill and Josef Stalin regarding the conduct of the war.

Churchill was sharply attacked in the House of Commons today by Labor Party Leader Aneurin Bevan, who charged Churchill no longer represented the spirit of the British people and that his continuance in office would be "disaster."

On the Russian front the battle of Stalingrad held the Germans and Russians locked in bloody combat.

In the Southwest Pacific the Australians were holding strong positions in the Owen Stanley Mountains against a Japanese thrust aimed at Port Moresby, about 50 miles away.

The Royal Air Force was maintaining persistent pressure on Germany and carried out a heavy attack during the night on Frankfurt Am Main and over North France.

There was relative quiet in the Western Egypt Desert.

Dove Bag Limit To Be 10 Not 12 For This Season

AUSTIN, Tex.—The bag possession limit on mourning and white-winged doves is given as 12 in the printed matter on the reverse of the new 1942-43 State hunting licenses, but the actual limits are 10 per day and 10 in possession at any one time, the Executive Secretary of the Game Commission cautioned today.

The inconsistency is the result of new Federal regulations which conflict with State laws. A note to sportsmen warning them to check the latest Digest of Game Laws for any changes is printed on the reverse of the licenses as a further warning to sportsmen.

State law provides that new licenses must have printed on the back the bag limit and possession limits of game species, and the current State law limits provided by the Legislature last year were followed when the licenses were made up and sent to the printer months ago. Recently these State limits fixed by the legislature were superseded by Federal regulations issued by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, which has regulatory power over migratory birds and migratory waterfowl.

For the same reason, limits on geese and brant as printed on the new licenses are in error. Last year's Federal regulations, which had to be followed in printing the new licenses, provided a daily bag of four geese and a possession limit of eight. But the Federal authorities recently amended the waterfowl rules to provide for a daily bag to two geese or brant and a possession limit of four.

There is a qualification, there was last year, concerning the geese limits. The daily limit is two, but in addition four blue geese may be taken. If blue geese only are taken, then the bag limit is six.

The possession limit on geese other than blue geese is 4 a day, but in addition two blue geese are allowed and if only blue geese are taken the possession limit is six. On the opening day of the season the possession limit is the same as the daily bag limit, and this provision applies also to ducks.

Eastland County Lags Behind But Recruiting Grows

"The heartening picture of 3,243 Navy recruits being enlisted in August throughout the North Texas district is only half the story," Lieut. L. H. Ridout Jr., officer in charge, stressed today.

"The other half is not encouraging. Part of the reason may be found in the fact that Eastland County was assigned a quota of 28 recruits and obtained only 15 during the month.

"Despite this showing, the district as a whole, through the increased efforts of other counties, surpassed by 243 men its 3,000-man quota.

"But is this county willing to relax in its past diligence and allow other counties to carry the load of filling their own quotas as well as yours?"

"Renewed effort, revitalized energy, and an unwavering answer to the recruiting call which is your American duty will make this a banner month here, with the possibility that the September quota will be reached in addition to the remainder of the August quota.

"The Navy needs men from this vicinity, from every other vicinity in North Texas, and to get them, we need your help," Lieutenant Ridout concluded. "Others are doing their part successfully. This is a total drive and we're depending on this county to contribute its patriotic share."

Every City Is Urged To Aid In Fat Salvage

Every state and city in the union was asked today to do its full share in the nation-wide drive for one-half billion pounds of waste fat per year, as Conservation Division officials set state and city annual monthly quotas for the campaign.

City dwellers are expected to furnish more of the waste fats needed for the war effort than country residents, according to the basis used in determining collection goals. Quotas were arrived at by estimating a per capita yearly collection of 2.8 pounds per farm dwellers and 4.5 pounds per capita for urban residents.

The smaller goals in rural communities take into account extensive farm use of waste fats in home soap-making and in feed for livestock, both consistent with the drive policy of getting fullest use from all fats before considering them as "waste."

In contrast to these goals, the actual average collection from the urban areas is two pounds per man per month. Despite difference in conditions, this indicates that the civilian quotas should be attainable.

The following tabulation lists quotas for Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana, as well as for cities of over 100,000 population in the Southwest region. Monthly reports will be issued showing actual fat collections in these areas.

Texas—Quota for month, 1,910,000 pounds; quota per year, 22,920,000 pounds.

Oklahoma—Quota for month, 670,000 pounds; quota per year, 8,040,000 pounds.

Louisiana—Quota per month, 690,000 pounds; quota per year, 8,300,000 pounds.

Quotas for cities with a population of 100,000 and up:

Dallas, Tex.—quota per month, 111,000; quota per year, 1,332,000 pounds.

Houston, Tex.—quota per month, 144,000 pounds; quota per year, 1,728,000 pounds.

Fort Worth, Tex.—quota per month, 67,000 pounds; quota per year, 804,000 pounds.

San Antonio, Tex.—quota per month, 95,000 pounds; quota per year, 1,140,000 pounds.

New Orleans, La.—quota per month, 185,000 pounds; quota per year, 2,220,000 pounds.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—quota per month, 77,000 pounds; quota per year, 924,000 pounds.

Tulsa, Okla.—quota per month, 63,000 pounds; quota per year, 756,000 pounds.

All Branches Of Armed Forces Are Represented At U. T.

AUSTIN, Tex.—All branches of the armed forces—Army, Air Force, Navy, Naval Aviation, Marine Corps—are offering an opportunity to capable students who will attend The University of Texas this fall, and who can meet the physical requirements to enlist in the appropriate Reserve Corps, continue in college, and obtain a college degree. Registrar E. J. Matthews announced today.

This applies to all undergraduates—freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors. The primary purpose of enlisting college students in the various Reserve Corps is to furnish a source of future officer material.

A board of officers representing the six services listed above will come to the University in October, Mr. Matthews said. They will explain in detail the advantages and opportunities of their respective services, and the students will be given an opportunity to discuss their problems with these officers.

A few weeks later, a joint recruiting party representing the six services will come to the campus to enlist those men interested.

Upon enlistment in the Reserve Corps, the student is assigned to inactive duty and is permitted to continue his college work. In general, he is permitted a maximum of four calendar years from the time he entered college as a freshman to complete the requirements for his degree. Generally speaking, first year students will be deferred four years; second year students, three years; third year students, two years; fourth year students, one year.

State yield of revenue from motor-fuel taxation totaled $915 million in 1941, 25 per cent of all State tax collections, according to the Department of Commerce.

If P.-T. A. Should Adopt Shoulder Emblem, It Should Be A Sanitary Drinking Fountain, Writer States

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—If the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers ever adopts a shoulder emblem, like those worn by soldiers of the various army divisions, the shoulder piece likely will picture a small sanitary drinking fountain.

The first sanitary drinking fountain exhibited in Texas, according to best available information, was displayed at an early child welfare meeting held under auspices of the organization. Soon they were placed in Texas schools.

The Congress was founded at a meeting in Dallas on Oct. 19, 1909, attended by a small group of school teachers and parents of school pupils. It has grown today in a membership of 143,013, which is considered too small. A membership drive is to be conducted the week of October 18-24.

Gov. Coke R. Stevenson has designated the week "Parent-Teacher Membership Week." The designation was made in recognition of work it has accomplished for Texas schools and their pupils.

"Texas is fortunate to have such an organization to promote child welfare through co-operative efforts of parents and teachers," he said. Original name of the organization was "Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers Associations." Mrs. Elias Caruthers Porter of Dallas called the organization meeting at request of the National Congress of Mothers.

Mrs. Porter was elected president and remained at the head of the organization from 1909 to 1912. During the first year, 150 local organizations in the state became members of the Congress. Today, there are 2,300 state members.

The Congress' first office was in the Methodist Publishing House at Dallas. Now it has its own state headquarters building at Austin.

Many of the early members of the Congress have died, but the results of the organization's work apparently will last indefinitely.

Records at Austin show that the original officers beside Mrs. Porter included: Miss Eleanor Braclenridge of San Antonio; Mrs. W. D. Smiley of Houston; Mrs. Gus McKemie of Gainesville; Mrs. Robert Lazenby of Waco; Mrs. John S. Turner of Dallas; Mrs. H. Henderson of San Angelo and Mrs. J. F. Posey of Haskell.

Doves Plentiful As Open Season Sept. 16th, Nears

AUSTIN, Tex.—Mourning doves in the northern tier of counties where the season opened September 1, are big, fat and numerous nimrods are having little difficulty bagging their limits each day, according to reports from Game Wardens in that section of the State.

The season opens in most of the remainder of the State on September 16. Mourning doves appear plentiful in almost all localities, but the white-winged crop in the lower Rio Grande Valley appears short of expectations.

Hunters who will take out after white-wings at high noon of September 17th were urged, incidentally, to retrieve every possible bird brought down. Thousands of these rapidly vanishing birds each year are crippled and left to die in the dense brush that is their native habitat. If hunters were to retrieve every bird shot, they would greatly help those trying to save the white-winged from extermination in this state.

COUNTY SURPASSES ITS AUGUST BOND QUOTA A REPORT TODAY REVEALS

MAN ESCAPES FROM COUNTY JAIL TODAY

Officers were searching in the vicinity of Eastland today for Lawrence Hays, 22, of Ft. Worth, who escaped from the County Jail early this morning.

Hays, who the sheriff's department said was being held on cash bail, made his escape when he got the advantage of Mrs. J. R. Crossley, County jailer, as she was serving the inmates of the County Jail breakfast about 7:00 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Crossley said that Hays concealed himself in the building and when she unlocked the door to pass the food in to the prisoners, he grabbed her. She struggled with him and gained the outer door before he did, but he stuck his arm in the door as she attempted to close it and forced his way outside and escaped.

Hays managed to jerk the telephone loose so Mrs. Crossley could not telephone from the building.

Mrs. Crossley was uninjured in the struggle with Hays and stated she didn't get scared until it was all over. Officers said she put up a good fight against Hays who they said was about 6 feet and strong physically.

Highway Patrol Standards Not To Be Lowered Soon

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Standards for State Highway Patrolmen will not be dropped although the state safety department is hard-pressed for men. More than 100 of the state officers have been granted leaves of absence to enter the federal armed forces and the department has been forced to issue a call for applicants.

"Peacetime requirements for patrol applicants will remain in force," State Police Director Homer Garrison, Jr., said. "A lot of this war is being fought on the home front, and we must have capable men."

Garrison admitted it probably will be more difficult to get men now. The last time the department announced that applicants were wanted, more than 5,000 inquiries were received. Now, the highest sight placed on the number of applicants is 500.

However, out of 500 who can meet the basic requirements, the department expects to pick 70 outstanding candidates to put through a 7-weeks training course.

The basic requirements are almost the same as those for the army—23 to 35 years of age, minimum height of five feet, eight inches, and a weight of not less than two or more than three pounds to each inch of height.

Rayburn In Favor Of Stabilizing Prices and Wages

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 9.—Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, Democrat, Texas, advised President Roosevelt today that he favors accomplishing the chief executive's request for a new anti-inflation control by brief resolution giving the president full authority to stabilize all prices and wages, "notwithstanding any provision of the existing law."

"We are going to try to go along with this thing as fast as possible," Rayburn said. "I favor a resolution couched in general terms, giving the president authority to stabilize things, notwithstanding the provisions of the existing law."

John W. McCormack, House Democrat Leader, interpolated that such a resolution would "include all factors."

Two Day Church Convention Was Well Attended

Due to the shortage of tires and a number of other things in connection with the emergency now confronting the Nation, attendance of delegates on the State Convention of Young Peoples' group meeting in Eastland last Sunday and Monday, was not as large as had been anticipated, but there was a good attendance.

Delegates began arriving last Saturday and continued to arrive through Sunday. Mrs. J. W. Greathouse, chairman of the housing committee, and her faithful helpers among the young people of Eastland, were rushed Saturday night to take care of those coming in.

Miss Bethel Hudson of Tyler, vice-president opened the worship service at 8:45 a. m. and six or eight services were conducted during the day Sunday and several others on Monday.

L. J. Lambert, representing Mayor C. W. Hoffmann, welcomed the visitors to Eastland. He was introduced by Giles Boucher, president of the convention. Mr. Lambert's words of welcome were appreciated by all.

Rev. J. R. Hale, Eastland pastor, presented the "key of welcome" to Mrs. Sessums, the state secretary, as the representative of the delegates.

The services were conducted by good speakers and many things of interest to all were discussed.

A vote of thanks was given the City of Eastland and the following firms for their efforts to make the convention a success: Texas Electric Service Company, Fullen Plumbing Co., Crowell Lumber Co., The Baptist Church, Dee High and Judge Earl Conner, Sr.

Must We Have Inflation?

Is inflation inevitable? Undoubtedly. Since we have it already, it would seem much too late to avoid having it.

The daily index of spot market prices, compiled by the Bureau of Labor Statistics for the first week in August, was up 67 per cent—two-thirds—above the August, 1939, level.

The cost of living for July, as computed by the National Industrial Conference Board, was up almost 10 per cent above July of 1941.

The price of manufactured goods, reported by the Alexander Hamilton Institute, last March already was up 24 per cent above August of 1939.

All of that, and much more of similar purport, denotes inflation just like the rising mercury in a thermometer indicates warmth.

But as yet inflation has not become distressing. There are those who make a convincing argument that much of the inflation thus far is not damaging, provided the brakes are put on promptly.

As a result of the depression, prices had fallen so low that the administration deliberately devalued money, in an effort to force inflation. Temporarily the effect was small. Now the war has accomplished just about what Washington tried to do.

Moreover, realistic economists argue that in time of war some measure of inflation gets out from under control and begins to feed upon itself.

It is not the fact that some inflation could not be avoided, or even the fact that considerable inflation has taken place, that should trouble us now.

The danger, if effective permanent measures are not taken soon enough, is that inflation will go on in a spiral until our economy is upset.

Not only the industrial and commercial economy. The menace is equally to the household and personal economics of every family.

If such a thing happens, the poor will suffer more than the wealthy. In inflation, wages always lag behind prices, and the closer the family comes to a hand-to-mouth existence, the less it can afford to have prices always going up faster than income.

Also, the poorer a family, the closer it must figure its savings against emergencies, and the harder it is hit when the emergencies arrive and disclose that, because of inflation, the savings have become inadequate to buy what they were intended to buy.

Money can be lost in more ways than won.

A scientist says the average man speaks about 12,000,000 words a year. Must be more bachelors than we thought.

SO heavy are these levies that in January, 1942, the Dominion had to suspend the collection of income taxes by the provinces and municipalities. This had to be done for the salvation of the taxpayers—for at one time before the suspension order was put into effect, Montreal people who made $200,000 a year actually were called on for more than $200,000 a year in taxes. In return, the Dominion was forced to pay the local government a subsidy, or assume their debts.

Canada's taxes today are supposedly the highest in the world. Take price control. There are far fewer Canadian exemptions to price legislation than in America. But there is a provision by which wage earners are paid a bonus if

Question for Future Historians

THE PAYOFF

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

QUOTE OF THE WEEK: "If that Tunney doesn't lay off football, I'm going to have to clamp down on Shakespeare."—Jimmy Conzelmann, coach of the Chicago Cardinals and noted raconteur.

FINANCIAL REPORT: Someone told Branch Ripkey that the Cardinals would win in a breeze had they not sold certain players, notably the veteran pitchers—Lon Warneke and Curt Davis.

"But," replied the director of the far-flung St. Louis system, "we have to be solvent to be as close as we are."

NUMBERS GAME: Merton Cooper of the Cardinals, 13 at the start, now wears the uniform carrying the number corresponding to the victory for which he is striving. Cotton Ed Smith of the White Sox could do a non-change performance of that. Pitcher Cooper is setting a mighty alarming precedent. Suppose the fad takes? Players will be wearing batting averages, dates of their children's birthdays, the date their mothers-in-law died or fell down a manhole or perhaps their income tax deduction. Fans will start playing bingo.

PAGING PSYCHOANALYST: The human psyche is a mystery.

phenomenon, or, in other words, people are sometimes just plain nuts. Take, for example, a passing acquaintance who became a nervous wreck while his beloved Brooklyn Bums were doing the el foldo in St. Louis. Sleepless nights and foodless days made this man a shadow of his former self. His world crashed around his shoulders. Meanwhile, far across the seas, battles are taking place but the implications seem to miss this fellow, or at least are being postponed until the Dodgers cinch or lose the pennant. Is this foolishness or just Freudian? We pass.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? New York professional football Giants finally gave up on pronouncing the name of the Holy Cross full-back turned tackle, Al Klaskoski. The athlete was perfectly willing to co-operate to the extent of being known as Joe Klaskoski, but his teammates simply settled on Jones. As they point out, it is so much easier to shout: "Atta way to go in there, Jonesy, old boy." Instead of: "That's the way to go in there, Klaskoski."

RECRUITING NOTICE: A Navy procurement officer describes the most vexing enticement he has to face: "A young man who wants to be an admiral, preferably near home."

NEA Service Washington Correspondent

THE gag in Washington among the wartime economic planners is that if you want to know what life in the United States is going to be like six months or a year from now, or if you want to know in this war a little more than the present "ankle deep" participation all you have to do is take a look at Canada today.

Edson

Jack Canuck, of course, dived into this war over two years before Uncle Sam stuck in his big toe. That gave the Dominion previous knowledge of what the water was like, and how muddy and rocky it was on the bottom.

Canada discovered the crags and cross currents of manpower shortage, material shortages, need for increased revenue, price freezing, job freezing, curbs on credit buying and a lot of things like those long before the United States did.

Take taxation. Canada has a wage tax that begins at 7 per cent of wages for single people making $660 a year or $1200 for married people with dependents. This wage tax is levied on the whole income, and not just on excess over the minimums. There are, in addition, minimum savings requirements, running from $20 for single people making $700 a year and $25 for married people making $1250 on up to $600 for single people making $10,000 or more a year.

These two taxes are in the nature of credits against income taxes, and here the fun really begins for Canada has in effect put a confiscatory tax on all income over $27,000 a year for single people, or $38,000 for married people with dependents. People making $2000 a year pay $600 income taxes if single, $215 if married and having two children. All these taxes are deducted from income, right at the source each pay day.

As if that weren't enough, there is an 8 per cent manufacturer's sales tax and a 25 per cent tax on top of that for luxuries such as furs and jewelry.

So effective was the Canadian price control that the cost of living has advanced only 2.5 per cent since the bonus law went into effect last October. Take manpower. Canada now has gone beyond the equivalent of "full employment." Its 30,000 unemployed are all definitely determined unemployables. Five million of its population of 11,000,000 population are employed. Three of those five million are in the war effort or essential industries. From now on the problem is to get more of the two million shifted from the non-essential industries.

Course Started In Identifying Models Of Planes In Use

By BERNICE SCHLEMMER
United Press Staff Correspondent

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 20 (UP)—The Twin Cities chapter of the National Aeronautics Association today inaugurated a plan for instructing civilians in airplane identification and warning.

Officials said it is the first such program for civilians in the nation. President and originator of the plan, said an initial 10-week training course would be offered members of the Twin Cities NAA, who later would instruct other civilians.

The course, Swenson explained, differs from the type of training given airplane spotters working with the Army Interceptor Command, inasmuch as spotters will be able to identify, as well as locate, aircraft.

"Every child can identify an automobile either by its wheels, radiator cap or body, but only a few of us know what kind of aircraft is flying overhead everyday," he said.

"Our program will be useful, not only in defense, but also in giving the people a better knowledge of aviation."

He said civilians taking the course will be taught means of identifying plane silhouettes, their basic features of construction such as wing shape, placing and number of engines and shape of fuselages, the way Army and Navy air corps cadets are trained.

After the initial course offered Twin City NAA members is completed the program will be extended to the general public, he said.

Leonard C. Olson, state supervisor of trade and industrial education, will supervise the first 10-week course of instruction.

Identification of five planes will be taught at each session so that students can identify 50 models of Axis and United Nations planes at a glance.

Swenson said prominent persons in aviation would "brighten" regular lecture sessions with personal appearances and talks.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

THE FIRST FATAL AIR CRASH IN HISTORY OCCURRED IN THE YEAR 1100.

THE SARACEN OF CONSTANTINOPLE, USING FAN-LIKE WINGS, JUMPED FROM THE HIPPODROME TOWER, GLIDED A SHORT DISTANCE... THEN CRASHED TO HIS DEATH.

IN A CERTAIN WELL-KNOWN POEM, WHY IS THERE NO JOY IN MUDVILLE?

IN VICTORIA, TEXAS, NORTH EAST STREET IS SOUTH OF EAST NORTH STREET.

ANSWER: Because mighty Casey has struck out.

RED RYDER

BLAST IT, PATCHY! THAT SHOOTIN' SCARED THE MYSTERY MESA GIRL AWAY!

THERE WAS SOMETHIN' TRAILIN' US, I TELL YUH, RED!

IF YOU'D FORGET ABOUT THOSE LEGENDARY MONSTERS-- YOU ONLY HEARD A RABBIT OR SOMETHIN'!

RABBIT NEVER LEAVE-UM TRACK LIKE THESE! LOOKUM, RED RYDER!

ALLEY OPP

Y' MEAN WE ALL GOTTA GO BACK TO MOO JUST 'CAUSE OOOOLA AN' DINNY HAVE GOT THEMSELVES IN A MESS WITH THE LAW?

WE COULDN'T HELP IT, ALLEY... THEY HAD DINNY PENNED UP IN A CAGE WITHOUT ENOUGH TO EAT AND...

... AND NOW THERE'S NO TELLING WHAT MIGHT HAPPEN TO YOUR DINOSAUR WHEN THE POLICE RETURN

YAH!! JUST LET 'EM TRY TO SUMPIN TO MY DINNY! I'LL...

I THOUGHT SO! THAT'S WHY I'M SENDING YOU BACK... TO KEEP YOU OUT OF TROUBLE!

BUT I DON'T WANTA GO BACK T' MOO!! I WANTA STAY HERE AN' FIGHT JAPS!

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

HOW DID YOU FIND OUT THAT NUTTY WAS WORKING ON SYNTHETIC RUBBER EXPERIMENTS?

IT WAS JUST BY ACCIDENT! AND DON'T TELL ANYBODY ABOUT THAT TREE ROOT!

OSSIE AND I JUST ACCIDENTALLY HAPPENED TO CLIMB OVER NUTTY'S BACK FENCE! HE WAS IN HIS WORKSHOP!

WE HEARD VOICES INSIDE, AND THE FIRST THING I KNEW, I LOST MY BALANCE, AND MY EAR FELL UP AGAINST THE KEYHOLE!

WHAT ARE YOU GONNA DO?

I'M GOING TO WARN THAT GOSSIPY JENKS GIRL NOT TO BLAB ABOUT THAT TREE ROOT, IF SHE FINDS OUT ABOUT IT!

THE ENEMY AGAIN

CHAPTER X

THERE were no shots from above, but a murmur of excited voices reached Tom and Judith. Flashlights played all around, never quite spotting them under the wharf. For a few seconds the swimmers stopped paddling in the water and huddled together, holding to the barnacled post.

laughed—a laugh that was next to tears and hysterics. "When I get out of this mess, the company owes me a real vacation and another raise in salary. I'll never be the same."

"Oh, Tom!" she whispered and stumbled forward against him, forgetting her anger, wanting only the love and protection of his arms. "You were right, investigation is not a girl's job. She should stay at home—Oh, Tom!"

NEW WINGS FOR GLIDER PILOTS—Wings for a new group of Army Air Force birdmen—the glider pilots—have recently been authorized by the War Department. The insignia, pictured above, is modeled after the more familiar wings of the Army pilot, but bears a distinguishing "G" in the center. Shown here is Pvt. Beryl Black, Buffalo, N. Y., acknowledging congratulations of his mates upon completion of his first solo flight. Qualified men between the ages of 18 and 36 are being accepted for glider training, some winning commissions as second lieutenants, upon completion of the course, others rating as staff sergeants. All receive flying pay.

WSCS Committee Meet Wednesday

A morning coffee was served Wednesday at 9:00 o'clock for the executive committee of the WSCS of the Methodist church at the home of Mrs. Frank Castleberry, the president.

A short business session was also held at which plans for the fall work was arranged.

Those present: Mesdames Jack Ammer, Fred Davenport, Frank Crowell, F. M. Kenney, B. E. McClannery, Robt. Vaughn, J. D. Barron, Ida Foster, W. H. Mullings, G. Blair, Joe Stephenson, and the hostess, Mrs. Castleberry.

HAS HEART ATTACK

Guy Patterson of Eastland, who suffered a heart attack early this morning, was struck well at noon today, attendants at the Payne Hospital stated.

Sugar Stamps Can't Be Used After The Expiration Date

DALLAS, Tex. —Sugar sellers were warned today by regional OPA officials that rationing stamps and certificates cannot be used after the expiration date; however, as a necessary auditing step, they must be kept or filed with local war price and rationing boards as a part of inventory records.

Household, industrial and institutional consumers are not affected, OPA spokesmen said, and there is no reason for their not to destroy any past-due stamps or certificates they may have.

The announcement was made to cut off continuing applications to local boards by sellers who have just due ration stamps and certificates and wish to exchange them for others that could be used to get sugar. There is no provision for any such exchanges, OPA said but it was pointed out that the lapsed vouchers do have an important bookkeeping value.

Those who have held certificates or coupons beyond the time when the could be used for stock replenishment will have physical inventories of sugar that are smaller than the supplies they had when rationing began, OPA explained. Unless they have the lapsed certificates to account for the deficiency or have turned them in to the local board for filing with their records, audit by rationing authorities will indicate sale of more than the rationed amounts.

Physical inventory plus stamps and certificates, whether expired or not, should at all times total as much as the original inventory, the OPA said.

POISONOUS SNAKES OF AMERICA

The DRATTLER
THE TALKING SNAKE (USUALLY "SOTTO VOCE") HEARS ALL AND TELLS ALL. AS WITH THE DIAMOND BACK WHEN IT RATTLES, LOOK OUT!

DOLLY-ANACONDA
NO MATTER WHAT HAPPENS, HE JUST SMILES. VERY SHORT LIVED BECAUSE HE BELIEVES IT IS UNPATRIOTIC TO DOUBT THE INVINCIBILITY OF HIS BREED.

The DESSI-MOCCASIN
EASILY IDENTIFIED BECAUSE IT IS ALWAYS IN TEARS. DANGEROUS BECAUSE IT BELIEVES IT IS FUTILE TO STRUGGLE — "THE ENEMY IS TOO POWERFUL."

ATION CONSTRICTOR
THERE IS NEVER ANY SHORTAGES AS FAR AS THIS FELLOW IS CONCERNED BECAUSE HE ALWAYS STORES AWAY PLENTY OF EVERYTHING — "JUST IN CASE."

That Extra Something!

... You can spot it every time

LIKE "winning a letter", keeping out in front of the others takes an extra something. Coca-Cola has it, — in taste ... in quality ... in refreshment.

The finished art that comes from 57 years of practice goes into the making of Coca-Cola. A special blend of flavor-essences merges all the ingredients of Coca-Cola into a unique, original taste of its own.

Everybody recognizes this clean, exciting quality taste in Coca-Cola. There are many ways to quench your thirst, but only Coca-Cola refreshes like Coca-Cola. Contentment comes when you connect with a Coke.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called Coke. Coca-Cola and Coke mean the same thing ... the real thing ... "a single thing coming from a single source, and well known to the community".

The best is always the better buy!

With war, there's less Coca-Cola. So Coca-Cola, first choice, sells out first—sometimes may not be in the red cooler. Worth waiting for ... those times when "The 'Coke's' in".

She's in the Army Now!

— and happy about the whole thing!

"They also serve who only stand and wait" is cold comfort for the American woman of 1942 whose fighting spirit and love for her country make her look with longing eyes toward the battlefield where her brother, husband, son or sweetheart is stationed.

Her chance to help is here! Besides her hours at the Red Cross, her production work at a factory bench, her job as Air Raid Warden or seller of War Bonds, she carries a little white ration book in her purse—badge of an American housewife who is re-arranging her menus to include less sugar, conserving gasoline by walking instead of riding and stands ready to accept with a cheerful smile any other restrictions that are necessary to bring Victory. Hats off to the lady—she's in the Army now!
