

MOORE about... EASTLAND

by Virgil E. Moore

Our Lake Leon scouts report that Milton Fullen had quite a fight on his hand the other day before landing the biggest "fish" caught at the lake so far.

Milton claims the fish was a "sucker". It weighed approximately 150 pound.

The way we get the story, Fullen was doing some loafing fishing when he got the big bite. He was sitting on the edge of the boathouse about half asleep when his pole suddenly almost jerked from his hand. He grabbed hold just in time to save the pole and started the big fight. It was a question for awhile whether the "fish" would pull Milton in or Milton would pull the fish out.

Finally, however, Milton came out on top. He reeled his catch out of the water and looked into the laughing eyes of Red Graham, who had tricked him by swimming under the boathouse and jerking the line.

That Teenage baseball game slated July 24 between Eastland and Albany has been changed a bit. The game will now be played here instead of in Albany.

We get it straight that Bennett Ragsdale will remain here next year on the Eastland High faculty. That will mean that E. H. S. will get to keep both Jon Tate and Bennett, two fine assistant coaches. Jon, by the way, is due back from the Army next month.

Drove south the other day and looked over the peanuts. They are sure looking good.

Noticed that strip cropping is catching on more and more in our county. Farmers are planting grain sorghums with their peanuts for wind protection. It is paying good dividends, it seems to us.

This is the year, folks. We're gonna have lots of peanuts.

We never did tell who won Mystery Farm Contest last week, some one pointed out to us today. The farm was the J. E. McDaniel place out at Carbon. Winner of the contest was Tony Jordan, 411 South Green. Tony will get a couple of passes to the Majestic Theatre by mail in the next few days.

Mrs. Edna Hatcher, now of Abilene, but formerly secretary to Joe Nueces when he was county attorney, was in Eastland this week. We always enjoyed talking to Mrs. Hatcher, especially since her husband had been a newspaperman himself. It was certainly a pleasure to see her again in the courthouse.

Politics is a subject which makes interesting reading, but it is also subject which is avoided in many community newspapers. We do not plan to kill any stories of the type which ran in Tuesday's Telegram. We strive to do a fair job of reporting, feeling we did that Tuesday, we have no regrets. We didn't make the news, we just reported what we heard.

Don Pierson has come up with the "most" at Lake Leon. He launched a boat, if you call it that, yesterday which has everything from bunks, to a kitchen sink, to a restroom.

Guess it's about time for that Ranger Ford dealer to launch a battleship.

Local Little League Stars Are Defeated

Eastland's Little League All-Stars bowed out of the Zone Little League Tournament Tuesday night, falling 5-0 to Cisco in the finals.

Cisco's Tim Bennie hurled a no hit ball game at the locals and left Eastland with nothing but a series of gooseeggs on the scoreboard.

Jodie Cooper hurled five hit balls himself, but his teammates committed eight costly errors. Eastland could touch Bennie's offerings, but couldn't get them into clean hits. The Cisco infield played headsup ball all the way.

New Telephone Directories Are Placed In Mail

Eastland's new telephone directories were mailed to subscribers here July 15. Wm. H. McAnally, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company manager announced today.

"The new directory contains about 2000 alphabetical listings," McAnally said.

Old directories should be thrown away as soon as the new issue is received. However, care should be taken to remove any items such as photos, letters, and notes which might have been placed between the pages, the manager advised.

The Eastland directory has a gray cover and contains 12 "white" or alphabetical pages and 24 "yellow" or classified pages. Approximately 2645 copies of the directory have been printed.

"A number of extra copies are printed as replacements for those used in public telephone booths and other places where much use occurs," McAnally explained.

"The telephone directory," he added, "remains one of the 'best read' books in Eastland."

You can save time by referring to it if you are not sure of a number or need assistance of any kind. The yellow pages are a convenient listing of almost every business in town, he added.

Neither team scored in the first inning, then Cisco got a single run in the second with two away. The winners got two more runs in the third inning off three hits. They got their last two runs in the fifth, off two hits and three errors.

Eastland got just four men on base for the night and Cisco had just 11 base runners.

Blanser defeated Clyde 11-10, for consolation honors. Ranger almost blew the game after going into the bottom half of the final frame with a seven run lead.

Cisco's victory earned them the right to go to Graham for the Area tournament.

Eastland Little Leaguers will now hang up their uniforms for the year. League president James Wright urged parents of the boys to see that their boys turned their uniforms in to their managers.

Texas' 49th Division Will Be Realigned

CAMP WOLTERS, Texas—The Texas National Guard's 49th Armored Division and the Texas Army Reserve's 90th Infantry Division are two of twenty-one National Guard and Army Reserve Divisions which will be fully organized under the Department of the Army's realignment of the reserve structure.

On March 31, the Secretary of the Army announced plans to reorganize the Army's Reserve components.

Since that time the Secretary of Defense has modified previous guidance so that "The Army has been authorized to develop a plan looking toward the retention of the present 37 divisions in the Reserve Forces structure, that is, 27 National Guard Divisions and 10 U. S. Army Reserve Divisions, provided that this troop structure is maintained with no increase of cost or personnel beyond currently programmed levels."

The Army National Guard solution preserves the 27 Army National Guard combat divisions, reaffirms the essential importance of nondivisional units in the Army National Guard and provides the high priority units required by war plans. It also represents the maximum number of Army Na-

County Farm Tour Is Slated For July 29

A Farm Tour July 29 is being sponsored by the county farm group to include some of the outstanding turkey ranches, hog farms, cattle ranches, peanut farms, chicken farms, and a demonstration on diversified farming in Eastland County.

If time permits the tour group will visit the Pecan orchard belonging to J. W. Sitton, located between the O. C. Stewart farm and the Herman Schaefer farm.

The tour will start at the Don Kincaid Turkey Ranch at 8:50 a. m. with an inspection of his modern equipment and operations. A stop will then be made at the 'FA Pig Parlor. The next stop will be at Henry Fry's Hereford Ranch at noon where everyone will spread a sack lunch together.

The afternoon visits will include W. B. Starr's peanut farm, O. C. Stewart's flock of 2,100 White Rock hens, and the Herman Schaefer farm in the Nimrod community. This is one of the well-diversified farms where one will see many crops being grown both for home use and for sale.

A cordial invitation is being extended to all interested to bring sack lunch and join the cavalcade to spend the day touring and inspecting some of Eastland County's outstanding farms and farming operations.

ROY LANE

Roy Lane Asks Re-Election As District Clerk

Roy L. Lane, candidate for re-election as district clerk, today issued his formal statement in behalf of his candidacy.

Here is Lane's statement: Due to the duties of the office of district clerk, which you have heretofore entrusted to me, I have been unable to see all of you as of this date, and probably will not be able to see you before July 26. Therefore, may I take this opportunity to express my appreciation to you for the honor of serving you in this important office, and I want to thank each of you personally for the trust that you have placed in me, and for the many courtesies and favors that you have extended me while serving as your district clerk.

As most of you know, the duties of the district clerk are many. He must be posted and familiar with the rules of practice and procedure in all civil actions as well as criminal cases brought in the District Courts of our county and the State of Texas. It is his duty to issue all process in connection with these cases, whether civil or criminal, and to record and keep all the records of and for the District Court, and to issue abstracts of judgment, to consider the solvency of various bonds and to approve or reject them. He is responsible for all moneys paid into the registry of the Court as Trust Fund and Child Support Funds, as well as moneys deposited as court costs, fines, etc. There are many other duties that could be mentioned but space will not permit.

When I first asked you for this important office, I told you that if elected I would render you the most efficient service possible. I have tried to make that promise good, and I welcome an investigation of my record, and when you have done this and considered my experience I have had, I hope you will help me again in this campaign.

During my tenure in office we have filed and processed nearly 6000 cases, which is almost double the number of cases filed and processed for the same length of time preceding it. This of course was largely due to the years following the war and our oil activity, which always causes more litigation. I am proud that I have been able to handle these cases with one regular deputy to help (Continued on Page Two)

Eastland Has Four Active Scout Units

By JAMES REID

Member UF Publicity Committee The Boy Scouts of America, one of the United Fund Organization members, certainly is not "top-heavy" with paid professional help in the Comanche Trail Council.

The Council, consisting of eight counties and parts of two others, has only three paid professional scouts on the staff. Working with these three men are 725 volunteer helpers giving their time and money to help over 2,100 boys to become better citizens for tomorrow.

Eastland has had several meetings with the council headquarters over the past 26 years since the organization was activated. Grady Piskin has served in some capacity almost every year since its conception.

Eastland has a Cub Pack, sponsored by the Methodist Church, with Lois Dunlap as Cubmaster, two troops, troop 6, with Jimmy Hearn as scoutmaster, sponsored by the Rotary Club and troop 103, with M. G. Cartwright as scoutmaster, sponsored by the Lions Club, and Post 48, Explorer Scouts, sponsored by the American Legion, which is at present without an explorer advisor.

Let's remember these 2000 scouts and scouters in our district this fall when it comes time to vote in our United Fund. Let's pocket them down.

GOOD COVER—Close-up photograph of rangeland in good condition. Grasses shown are Indian grass, Bluestems and tall dropseed. These grasses are now in their most active stage of growth. About 5000 pounds of green grass per acre is already present on the land.

Grass Cover In County Termed Best In Years

(Editor's Note: The following article was prepared by members of the Eastland County Soil Conservation Work Unit).

Prolific grass is a basic heritage in our area. A few more summer showers and our grass crop this year will be by far our best in recent times.

Recent grass clipping tests by local Soil Conservation Service work unit personnel show higher yields of winter and spring grasses than have been recorded in many years. This has come about because our native pastures are at present receiving less abuse from overstocking, and we have been blessed with abundant timely rainfall.

Grass growth is much better this year than last even though we had more rain in the spring of 1957. This year we had better cover and have saved more of the rain. After the three driest years in history—1954 through 1956—most of our range was in poor condition with very little cover. Even with a wet year like 1957 we could retain very little moisture in the land, and it took a wet year for growing enough cover. We had to have more cover to utilize enough moisture to start recovering former production.

In early spring this year our mixed land ranges in good condition with good cover were wet eight to nine feet deep. Before our recent showers this moisture had generally depleted from the top three feet of soil by a vigorous growth of grass. The same range site in poor condition with a lighter cover was wet only three to four feet in early spring. Before our recent showers this moisture was about gone, and the grass either matured or showing signs of wilt. Clippings of the grass on these two conditions show five to 6000 pounds of green forage per acre where the range is in good condition, and an average of 2500 pounds per acre on the rangeland in a poor condition.

Our most remarkable recovery of grass growth has been on our shale prairie range site. This site has a very tight soil and is often locally referred to as mesquite flats. Many areas on this range site will now clip over 5000 pounds of grass per acre.

In the period of 1954-1956 many completely bare areas were found on this site and very few places would clip over a thousand pounds. In this period with such light cover moisture penetration was seldom over one foot even after flood producing rains. In this period areas with best cover would wet down around three feet after big rains. In the winter season of 1956-57 this land grew a fair cover of winter grass. In the spring of 1957 this land wet down some deeper, and rains last fall showed much better penetration. Grass growth last winter and spring was truly remarkable and shows the high potential of production for this site. Most of this production has been Texas winter grass. Texas winter is high quality forage in winter and early spring, but the mature forage now present is of low grazing value. The better forage plants for summer grazing on this site (Buffalo, vine mesquite, Side-outs gama, etc.) are in a vigorous stage of growth and spreading rapidly.

Our present big need on most native grazing land is an improvement of forage quality, although many pastures because of overstocking still need more cover to adequately utilize our rainfall. Practically all pastures because of abuse during the drought contain a low percentage of our most desirable grasses. This improvement of composition of better quality forage producing grasses can only come about through range management which will allow these grasses to produce a fall seed crop. Some of these better quality high forage producing grasses are Side outs gama, Little bluestem, Indian grass, Buffalo grass, and Sand love grass. These grasses had not generally recovered sufficiently last fall for a heavy seed crop. This year they are in more vigorous condition, have a deeper root system, and should make a good seed crop where they are given the opportunity.

The wheel of fortune which should have been at least fifty years old, was a center of attraction at the carnival in a small town. Only one man was playing and he lost steadily, five or ten dollars at a time. He had been drinking and friends tried to persuade him to quit but he continued until he had dropped all he had, a couple of hundred dollars.

Some of the crowd muttered at the clean-cut fellow townsmen and he man in charge closed the concession for the night. Next night when he reopened, he began to spin the wheel and to chant his seductive spiel. A country fellow halted and the operator addressed him, "Come over, neighbor, and try your luck, pick the winning number and win ten for one." Actually, although the odds sounded attractive, they should have been at least fifty to one—even if the wheel had been honest, which it was not. It was customary however to let the first player or two win a bet; it was good for business. The sight of a man winning ten dollars on a venture of one dollar always drew a flock of suckers.

The country fellow looked uncertain and then, his face reflecting that he had made up his mind, he drew closer. Three or four others drifted over. Silas Cortassel held up his left hand which clutched a folded bill and said: "Ten to one! I'll try you, Mister; No. 69."

"Yes, sir; here's a man with red blood in his veins," sang out the operator. "He's a real sport." And he spun the wheel.

By this time a dozen men were watching. The wheel slowed down and stopped. The operator said, "What do you know! Number 69! Friend, you win", and he counted out ten one dollar bills on the counter.

Silas slowly opened his left eye. "Ten to one! I'll try you, Mister; No. 69."

Look Who's New

hand and displayed the bill he was holding. The denomination was one hundred dollars. "Ten for one, you said," the bumpkin, whose expression did not look so bumpkinish any more, declared.

"That's right—ten for one!" chorused the crowd and the men closed in. The owner of the carnival was summoned and he paid the thousand dollars.

The lucky man hunted up the drunk of the night before and gave him the two hundred dollars he had lost. Maybe I ought to apologize to the reader. The winner's name was not Cortassel, not really. His last name was the same as the drunk's which was not surprising, seeing as they were brothers.

Sure-footed Man Serves Texas

The colorful language of the ranch and trail seems to fit Bill Blakley, who made his start in life as a working cowhand. He still rides and ropes with the hands on his ranch at roundup time.

Speaking of Blakley's service as U. S. Senator in 1957, the Dallas News said: "... If he was as unassuming as an old boot, it was nevertheless a well polished boot that never wobbled or wavered from its purposeful path. For this man Blakley is a sure-footed man who knows exactly where he stands and what he believes."

Texans will vote to return William A. Blakley to the Senate on July 26 because he truly represents the spirit, traditions and views of all Texas.

Representatives from the girl's 4-H clubs are now planning the 1958-59 4-H yearbooks. The first planning meeting was held on July 14th, with ass't agent, Miss Nancy Weathers. New Senate Hand Aided Democrats

When William A. Blakley was appointed to the U. S. Senate in 1957, he was a political unknown in Texas. But Washington awaited his arrival with great interest. So close was the party balance in the Senate that Blakley's vote was the difference between Democratic and Republican control.
True to his Democratic tradition, Blakley voted with his fellow Democrats. They have been in control ever since.
Now Bill Blakley seeks his first elective term in the U. S. Senate. A vote for Blakley is a vote for sound, Democratic government.

MOVIE
Comments

Tarzan, the universally known jungle hero, returns to the screen in his new movie "Tarzan's Fight For Life." Gordon Scott plays the role of Tarzan and he represents a symbol of strength and freedom which one seeks.

Jane, Tarzan's wife, is portrayed by Eve Brent.

"Tarzan's Fight for Life" was filmed in the jungle. This action filled story of Tarzan and his fight for life will be enjoyed by all Tarzan fans at the Majestic.

With an outstanding cast of Glenn Ford, Red Buttons and Taina Elg, "Imitation General" will be a hit with everyone as the story of a sergeant who impersonates a general and saves the army unit from defeat is told.

Ford as the sergeant with the help of Red Buttons, fools his comrades into believing he is a general. As the story unfolds Ford falls in love with a French farm girl who can't speak English but reads minds and makes a scared soldier into a fighter. You will want to see this movie at the Majestic Theater.

Elvis Presley returns to the screen with his last movie, "King Creole" until he returns from the army. Presley sings ten new songs in his new exciting drama with music film, "King Creole."

"King Creole," which was filmed in the colorful New Orleans, is the story of a young boy who rises from the gutter to become a success but has to fight with ruthless racketeers. Carolyn Jones plays the feminine role in the picture at the Majestic theater this week.

Surplus Food Program Being Used For Political Purposes Clyde Garrett Says

Upon learning that a 'political football' is being made by one or two of the employees of the Government's Surplus Food Program (not the county's program) in that they are contacting, high-pressure and intimidating our old people who are receiving old age assistance—for whose benefit the program was primarily set up, and urging them to vote for my opponent, the present County Judge, I appeared before the Commissioners Court and pointed out such practices which are in strict violation of the Federal laws as well as in violation of the contract which the county has with the government.
Knowing our commissioners to be honorable and upright men and knowing they were aware of the fact that our county's Surplus Food Contract could be terminated by the Government if the program was used as a political football, I appeared before the court and pointed out just how our old people are being intimidated in an effort to obtain votes for my opponent, telling them the program might be discontinued if he is not re-elected. The Court gave me a very courteous and attentive hearing. However, after I had given them example after example of the unfair and unlawful tactics mentioned, I respectfully asked the Court to go on record as being opposed to such 'George Parr—Duke of Duvall' methods. Following my request, the county judge, the presiding officer, my opponent said to the Commissioners: "I hope you will not pay any attention to these rumors." Following this I obtained affidavits from reliable and upstanding citizens, which appear below, and which number could be multiplied many times, which will convince any fair-minded person that my statements to the Court were not rumors. Be it said to the credit of a number of the employees of the Food Program, they have had no part in harrasing and intimidating our old people.

The State of Texas, County of Eastland,
Before me, the undersigned authority, on this day personally appeared Mrs. L. A. Horn, Sr., who after being duly sworn, upon her oath deposes and says: I am seventy-nine years old and have resided in Eastland County sixty-three years. I draw old age assistance. On July 12th, 1958, a lady identifying herself as Mrs. Rosser, Secretary to Mr. Porter, Administrator of the Government Surplus Commodity Program for Eastland County, called me over the telephone. I am a member of the Church of Christ.
After introducing herself, Mrs. Rosser said: "You remember that you are receiving surplus commodities, I want you to vote for John Hart for County Judge. If he is not re-elected, the program might be discontinued."

The State of Texas, County of Eastland,
Before me, the undersigned authority, on this day personally appeared C. A. Harlow who after being duly sworn, deposes and says: I am seventy-one years old and have resided in Eastland County thirty-five years. I receive old age assistance. That on July 11th 1958, a lady called me over the telephone and said: "We, I guess you know that we have got to keep this Surplus Commodity Program going". I then asked her just what she meant. She replied, "I want you to vote for John Hart for County Judge." I said to her "I do not care to receive surplus commodities under such conditions; that I had gotten along without them for a long time and can do without them longer. If you desire, you can just drop me from your list". The lady then said, "What I mean is that we have just got to keep John Hart in as County Judge". I then asked her who she was and she refused to give her name but merely stated "I am just a good friend to Judge Hart". I am a member of the Baptist Church.

I desire to re-emphasize that I favor the continuance of the Surplus Food Program for the benefit of our aged and needy citizens. No reasonable, fair minded citizen can say that a given statement of FACTS is mudslinging.
I do not believe the voters and taxpayers of our county approve of paying salaries to any person or persons to promote the political interests of any candidate and more especially when such meddling in politics in the food program could stop the program entirely and deprive our deserving people of such commodities.

Dawson FOR STATE Representative

Favors 24 oil producing days a month.
Foreign oil imports with proration has caused the state to lose revenue. Everyone is hurt from the producer to the farmer. If elected, I have a plan that if enacted, will bring in enough money to put the state on sound basis, and still have enough money for the old folks, school teachers, highway workers, rural fire protection, and help to repair worn out streets and water mains in cities and towns. On the Eastland County ballot my name is second on the ballot for state representative.

Letters To Editor

July 15th, 1958
Mr. Virgil E. Moore, Editor,
Eastland Telegram,
Eastland, Texas.
Dear Mr. Moore:

I have just read your article in today's paper, titled "Garrett Charges Abuse of Surplus Food Program." There are certain errors in your article which are not quite correct and which could be injurious to me and which I respectfully ask you to correct in Thursday's issue of your paper.

The title given your article is misleading in that it did not charge 'abuse' of the program but I pointed out to the Court the unfair and illegal tactics indulged in by certain employees in the program by handing out candidate cards and making telephone calls to old age pensioners, intimidating them, in an effort to obtain votes for my opponent—using the George Farr technique.

You state in your article that I charged that employees handed out Mr. Hart's cards 'while distributing surplus food.' If you will recall I said that his cards had been handed out in or in front of the Carl Johnson store.

Then, again, I did not charge that Mr. Hart's secretary had been phoning from her office urging old age pensioners to vote for Mr. Hart since the program may be discontinued if he is not elected. I think this statement could be very hurtful to me. Here are the exact words I used, following my reference to other 'phone calls, "I was informed by one of your lodge brothers, not ten minutes before coming in this room, that your Honor's secretary had called him and his wife and discussed the food program with them and in such conversation stated to them that the food program may be discontinued if Mr. Hart was not elected." I also stated that such statement was made in the presence of several witnesses. When Mr. Hart tried to get me to say that she had made such phone call, I declined to do so and repeated, word for word, the statement just mentioned. Incidentally, the same party who made that statement yesterday, made it again today in the presence of a number of witnesses. You will also recall that Mr. Hart's secretary stated that some one could have called and used her name and that she would try, or probably could, to trace the call. Furthermore when she stated she did not make such call, I said "that convinces me that you did not for, one moment question her statement, that I had known her too long. In fairness to me, I know you will make the necessary corrections, on the front page of your Thursday's paper. Be assured, I do not mean to be critical for I know it was utterly impossible to take everything down word for word in longhand.

Your very sincerely,
CLYDE L. GARRETT

Dear Mr. Moore:
