I always thought it was strange to listen to the scientists about other life on other planets. But there may even be life on some of the stars. After hearing the radio signals being sent from outer space, we can't wonder why we haven't received some radio signals from the other planets by now. Actually, life on them. Some of those folks can invent ways they can come up with.

Soloists with the band will be Jerry Voorhees, Dallas; bassoonist; Carol Thompson, El Paso, oboist; and Norvall Crews, Fort Worth, saxophonist. Another special group is the drum ensemble composed of Joe Pullis, Nocona; Roger [unclear], Dallas; and Dennis Alexander, El Paso.

Testing Center Established At Ranger College

Acting Dean of Ranger College, Harold Little, announced today that Ranger College had been selected by the Educational Testing Service for College Board Tests for 1960 and 1961.

A majority of the colleges and universities in Texas now require entrance exams for students entering their schools.

Due to Eastland County being remotely located from present testing centers which are located in Fort Worth and Abilene, Ranger College has been selected to serve Eastland County and surrounding area students who do not wish to travel to Fort Worth or Abilene to take the entrance tests. The College Board Tests are accepted by all Colleges and Universities.

Dates set up for the Ranger College tests are Saturday, December 3, 1960, January 14, 1961 and Saturday, March 18, 1961.

Final Rites for J. H. McKinney 2 p.m. Thursday

J. H. McKinney, 79, died Monday at 6:55 a.m. at his home in Ranger, after a brief illness.

Mr. McKinney was born Dec. 11, 1880, in Alabama. He was a retired carpenter, and had worked for Lone Star Gas Co. during World War II.

He came to Ranger in 1914, and had lived on Elm Street since that time. He married Mammie Huffman in 1912 in Eastland.

He was a member of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America for 58 years and in Local Union No. 2016.

Mr. McKinney was a deacon in the First Baptist Church for more than 25 years.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Ralph E. Perkins, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery with H. Killingsworth, Funeral Home in charge.

Survivors are the wife; a son, J. W. of Hampton, Va.; a granddaughter, Linda Kay McKinney of Albuquerque, N. M.

Pallbearers will be Calvin Brown, J. D. Nichols, L. L. Bruce, F. P. Brasher Sr., V. V. Cooper, Joe Dennis, Wilson Guest and W. A. Lewis.

Gray Matter

By JOE GRAY

It finally looks as if we'll be getting a little spring weather after a long, long winter.

It's about time for old man spring to come around, I'm thinking. We've had some days in the past that have been colder than anything we had this past winter, but it's been a long time since I can remember old man winter hanging on for so long as he did this year.

One sure sign of spring's arrival is the outbreak of high school plays. Last Friday I had the good fortune to watch this year's junior class present its play. The kids did themselves proud. It was as well done as a professional job.

I doubt if professionals would have done as well. It's been a long time since I've seen a professional stage play. They're something we in the small towns don't get too much of a chance to see anymore now that we have television, radio and talking pictures to compete for the entertainment market.

But some years ago this land was filled with traveling stage-shows—tent shows that is.

Two of the best remembered shows that used to play Eastland were Brunk's Comedians and Harley Sadler and His Own Company. Of the two shows Harley Sadler was the more durable and only went out of business a few years ago. Even after Sadler was elected to the State Senate he often spoke of returning to the stage show business, as he had a soft spot in his heart for the business.

He got his share of the business too. He used to play Eastland every fall, and I don't think he ever put on a show that wasn't a good one. Some of these traveling shows weren't famous for the high character of their shows but the Sadler show was fit for anyone to take one's mother to see. As a matter of fact, I think most Eastland mothers loved to see Sadler's company.

Of all the years Sadler played Eastland he used his own tent every time except once during the depression when the Connellee Theatre wasn't making quite a much money as the mint. That year he rented the theater for the week and put his show on the Connellee stage. One night during the week he was here was ladies night when ladies were admitted for almost nothing, and on that occasion they filled the house. I can only personally remember two times that I've seen the Connellee—the old Connellee—filled to standing room. It seated more people than the present Majestic.

Will Rogers was one of the earliest friends of commercial aviation and I think one of the best things I ever read about flying was a piece he did for the Saturday Evening Post about flying.

The Harley Sadler I mentioned earlier was no fool either. He served Nolan County, (Sweetwater) in the Texas House of Representatives and later was a State Senator. He had a lot of the same and was a useful citizen to his community and nation.

A long time ago show people were looked down on like fallen women or something, but most of them these days are good people. They've done something for the nation that's good and it's amazing how many of them get into show business as a sort of sideline. Some of them are experts in other fields.

Baseball, let's face it, is a part of show business. One of America's finest athletes is the baseball man, Branch Rickey. He is a

Beskows Reveal Plans to Reopen Jewelry Store

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beskow have announced the re-opening of Beskow's Jewelry under their ownership.

In announcing the opening of the store, Beskow revealed that the business would be stocked with all new merchandise. He said that he plans to handle a number of new lines and will feature a gift department.

State Boat License Required by April 1

The Texas Highway Department recently announced that time is getting close to the deadline for boat operators to lawfully operate their boat on Texas waters without it being licensed.

All boats operating in the waters of this state with motors in excess of ten horsepower, regardless of length of the boat, are required to be numbered by the Texas Highway Department before they can legally operate on or after April 1, 1960. The term boat is used to mean every description of watercraft except a seaplane on water that uses any means of locomotion other than paddles, oars or poles.

Boats that are propelled by motors of ten horsepower or less are not required to be numbered; but such boats may be, if their owner so desires. However, all boats that are propelled machinery are subject to the provisions of the Act concerning lights, fire extinguishers, and the reporting of boating accidents.

A schedule of fees is located at the bottom of each application blank for the convenience of motorboat owners. These application blanks may be obtained from the local boat dealers, tax collectors office, or by writing to the Texas Highway Department.

Length of the boat determines the amount of the fee; the horsepower of the motor determines whether the boat is required to be registered. In all cases, the statutory fee for the Certificate of Number depends upon the class of motorboat involved. Each Certificate of Number is valid from the date of its issuance until March 31, 1963. Each number awarded by this Department is permanently assigned to the boat for which it was issued. When the owner of a Texas numbered boat transfers ownership, the number awarded remains with the boat and the new purchaser should apply within ten days from the date of the purchase to the Highway Department for a transfer of the number into his name. The length of the boat is correctly determined by measuring it from end to end, over the deck, but excluding sheer. As you know, sheer is the upward longitudinal curve of the boat's deck when viewed from the side.

Many people own motors in excess of ten horsepower who do not own boats. Any person that installs a motor in excess of ten horsepower on a boat that is not numbered will be held responsible along with the owner of the boat for violating the provisions of this Act. Therefore, most "Boat Livery Operators" are having at least a part of their boats numbered so that they may rent them to people who own motors above ten horsepower.

Numbers must be painted, decal, or otherwise affixed to each side of the bow of the boat. The numbers must be at least three inches in height, of block characters in good proportion and of a color that contrasts with the background.

Upon the receipt of a Texas Certificate of Number, a boat owner should then delete from the bow of his boat all numbers, Coast Guard numbers included, and display only his Texas number. This is in accordance with both Federal and State law.

Parade Friday to Kick Off County Stock Show

Preparations for the annual Eastland County Live Stock Show, to be held Friday and Saturday, were almost complete today. A big downtown parade at 2 p.m. Friday in Eastland will get the show underway.

Four bands, four riding groups and numerous floats have been entered in this year's parade.

Action of the boys and girls prize winning fat steers, lambs and pigs that were exhibited at the Show March 26 will be held on the last day at the Eastland auction barn just east of that City, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

An invitation is being extended, by George Steele, Rising Star, president of the Eastland County Livestock Raisers Association and sponsor of the show, to all who want to fill their deep freezers with top quality meat to come out and purchase one or more of the animals.

A total of 19 fat steers, 139 fat lambs, and 125 fat pigs will be auctioned off. A price ceiling is put on each animal except the grand and reserve champions. The price ceiling depends upon the animal is prime, choice or good grade. All of the fat animals are graded on a packer basis, it was explained.

All animals in the show must be entered and in their places by 12 o'clock on Friday, March 25. This rule has been rigidly enforced the past two years.

Angora goats, dairy cattle and the breeding classes of sheep are to be judged on the first afternoon of the show. All other classes will be judged the second day.

Animals will be sifted as they come in—by a qualified man from another county. Animals deemed to be poorly finished or of a quality not a credit to the show will be sifted out and returned home.

First Christian Church Revival Is Now Underway

Revival services are being held each night at the Christian Church with Rev. Lee Lindsley doing the preaching.

Rev. Lindsley is a native of Michigan and has preached in every state in the nation except Alaska and Hawaii. The most well known part of his evangelistic ministry has been his radio production which have been released on more than 130 stations from coast to coast.

Rev. and Mrs. Lindsley originated the famed "Call of the Cross" program which was heard daily throughout the south and the weekly program which originated out of Washington and was carried nationwide. Rev. Lindsley also produced a weekly commentary on the International Sunday School lesson and a "Religious News of the Week" program. The most successful daily commercial program he produced was a recorded program known as "Hymnspiration Time" which was also carried by stations throughout the south.

Rev. Lindsley studied at Marion College, Marion, Ind., University of Toronto, and the University of Mississippi; and has taken graduate work at Temple and T. C. U. During the past three years he has been doing advanced work in religious television production at T.C.U. and has conducted research for the Broadcasting and Film Commission of the National Council of Churches.

During the week Rev. Lindsley will discuss subjects as: How old is "Old Time Religion"; Is Prayer an Aladdin's Lamp? Who makes the body of Christ? What does it mean to be lost? and Born in a Grave.

Advance Census Report Forms Are Distributed

Advance Report Forms for the 1960 Census of Population and Housing will be distributed by the Post Office this week to all households in this area, District Supervisor Max V. Mossholder announced today.

The Advance Report Form is a new census-taking device which is designed to speed up the field canvass and provide more accurate statistics. Distribution of this form before the start of the household canvass gives the family a chance to assemble information about each member in advance of the census taker's visit. The district supervisor urges all residents to fill out the forms and have them ready for the census takers when they start their rounds on April 1.

The Advance Report Form contains seven questions about every person in the household and six questions about the household's dwelling. The household information asked for is name, address, sex, color or race, month and year of birth, whether married or single, and relationship to head of the household. The information required about the dwelling is the number of rooms, cooking facilities, plumbing, if rented or owned.

At every fourth household, the census taker will seek the answers to additional questions covering population and household characteristics which are being asked of a 25 percent sample of the nation's population. The sample population questions include inquiries on country of birth, schooling, employment, income, and related items. The additional housing questions relate to rent or value of dwelling heating equipment, water supply, and other facilities and equipment.

The district supervisor pointed out that information about individuals and their homes furnished to the Census Bureau is kept confidential under Federal law. Only statistical totals and averages are published. No individual person can be identified in published reports and census information cannot be used for regulation, investigation, or taxation.

Good Taste

By Emily Post

Tact VS. Truth

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband is a firm believer in telling the truth at all times even when the truth means hurting someone's feelings. When someone asks him if he likes something, he tells them exactly what he thinks whether it is complimentary or not. I, on the other hand, always say something is nice whether I think so or not. We have had many an argument over this and whenever someone asks his opinion about something I hold my breath in fear of what he is going to say. Doesn't courtesy exact that we say something is nice even if we don't think so rather than offend someone?

Answer: You certainly avoid saying something that is disagreeable when you possibly can, but you don't tell lies in order to be polite. In other words, you evade the truth by finding something pleasant to say about whatever it is that isn't a lie.

A Girl's Bus Fare

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like you to settle a point of etiquette. I am 15 years old and go out occasionally with a 16 year-old boy. Whenever we get on a bus, he always hands me my fare to put in the coin box. I think this is wrong and that he should pay both our fares while I walk to the back. Will you please tell me who is right?

Answer: You are right. He should not hand you money but put both fares in the box.

Silencing A Gossip

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me what I can say to a neighbor who is always gossiping about someone in the neighborhood? I get along well with all of my neighbors and like most of them very much and cannot stand to listen to idle gossip about them. I do hope you have a solution to this problem.

Answer: The only thing I know is to try to change the subject when she begins gossiping. If this doesn't help, then say politely, but firmly, "I'm sorry, but I'm very fond of Mary and don't want to hear anything against her."

A Tactless Friend

Dear Mrs. Post: Isn't it the height of bad manners, when visiting at the house of a friend, to call the hostess' attention to the fact that there are cobwebs hanging from the ceiling in the living room? This happened to me recently and I was very much upset over it. I am aware of the fact that the cobwebs shouldn't have been there in the first place, but I can only say in my own defense that my house was thoroughly cleaned the day before, but unfortunately I happen to have the type of heating system that seems to produce an unusual amount of webs. The friend who called them to my attention is a friend of long standing, but even so, isn't there a point beyond which even a very old friend should not venture?

Answer: The very fact that you were upset proves the tactlessness and even bad manners of the friend who called your attention to the cobwebs.

Seating In Theater

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please advise the correct seating in a theater when a couple have a young lady guest with them? Heretofore, we have allowed our guest to precede us to her seat, then I followed, then my husband. I have been told that our guest should be seated in the center. Is this true, and if so, wouldn't it be discourteous of me to enter the row before her?

Answer: You should precede your guest saying, "I'll go first so that you can sit between us."

The Bride's Mother's Dress

Dear Mrs. Post: At an eleven o'clock morning wedding is it proper for the bride's mother to wear a long dress?

Answer: If she chooses to, this is the one occasion when a long skirt is properly worn in the morning. This assumes, naturally that the bride is wearing a long bridal dress with veil.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-2, entitled, "Formal Wedding Procedure," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of (this newspaper), P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. (Released by The Bell Syndicate)

Spiced Cherry Sauce—Handy Delicous

By Betty Barclay
CHERRY Sauce perked up with spices is a perfect topping for cakes, ice cream and puddings. Quick to make, it thickens to a sauce enough to drizzle over fruit. It helps brighten, and adds flavor.

Cherry Sauce
2 tablespoons Minute Tapioca
dash of salt; 1/4 cup cherry
1/4 cup water; 1/2 cup sugar teaspoon cinnamon; dash ground cloves; 1/2 teaspoon meg; 1 1/2 cups (18 oz.)
drained canned pitted cherries (water-packed)
food coloring (optional).
Combine tapioca, salt,
juice, and water in sauce pan. Mix well. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture is a full boil. Remove from heat. Let stand 15 minutes. Then in sugar, spices, cherries food coloring. Serve warm cool to room temperature.

Who Discovers the Discoverers?

"A professor can never better distinguish himself in his work than encouraging a clever pupil, for the true discoverers are among the comets amongst the stars."
CARL LINN

Somewhere in this mighty land of ours, a gifted youth is learning to see the light of tomorrow. Somewhere, in a college classroom or laboratory, a dedicated teacher is gently leading genius toward goals of lofty attainment. Somewhere the mind of a future discoverer—in science, engineering, government, or the arts—is being trained to greatness.

Our nation has been richly rewarded by the quality of thought nurtured in our colleges and universities. The caliber of learning generated there has been responsible in no small part for our American way of life. To our college teachers, the selfless men and women who inspire our priceless human resources, we owe more than we will ever be able to repay.

Today low salaries are not only driving gifted teachers from other fields, but are steadily reducing the number of people who choose college teaching as a career. At the time, classrooms are beginning to get overcrowded. In the face of this, college applications are expected to double in 1967, if not sooner.

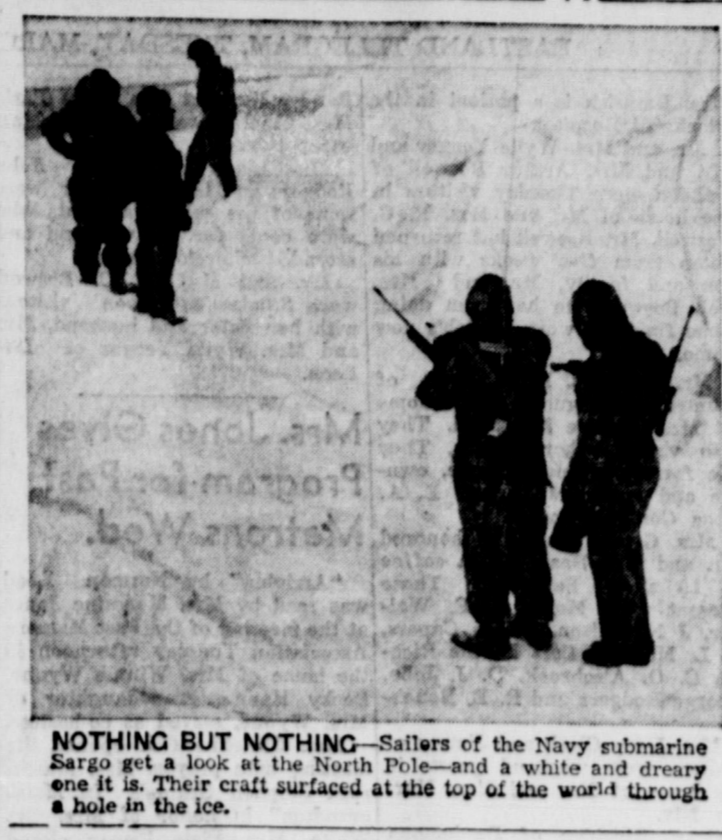

This is a severe threat to our system of education, our way of life, even to our very existence as a nation. Our colleges need help—and they need it now!

If you want to know more about what the college crisis means and what you can do to help, write for a free booklet to: NATIONAL EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 26, New York.

 lawyer by profession and if he had devoted his time to the law as he has to baseball he'd probably be a judge or very successful lawyer today.
 Then there's TV's Charley Weaver. Believe it or not that fellow is an expert on the Civil War and he actually owns a museum in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, just off the battlefield there.
 That's makes him a neighbor to the President of the United States, because Gettysburg is probably no larger today than it was the time the battle was fought. Everyone there knows everyone else as in almost all small towns.
 I doubt if any of Eastlands youngsters who played in the show Friday were bitten by the acting bug, but if they were I'm sure they'll do well at it, as the play itself was a very professional type thing. The acting and directing were superb and Eastland can well be proud that these are our children.

Recital Held In Methodist Church Is Reported Success

The recital held in the Methodist Church Tuesday evening, March 15, presented by Robert E. Poer, Virginia Garrett Seelig and Ben F. Karnes, with Elizabeth McKinney accompanying was reported a success.

The program was beautifully given and was most enthusiastically received by a large and warm audience.

Guests were greeted at the door by the president, Mrs. D. L. Kincaid, Jan Robertson and Judy Hassell, senior students, Mike Perry, John Russel, Eddy Dry and Clark Conner were ushers for the evening.

Mrs. Johnson presented Virginia Seelig's mother, Mrs. Clyde L. Garrett and sister, Sara, along with Mrs. Paul Pate and Mrs. A. F. Taylor.

In closing her program Mrs. Seelig dedicated "Danny Boy" to her father and her closing song was "Rendezvous of the Worm."

Following the close of the program, everyone was invited to attend the reception to be held in the church parlor. Hostesses for the evening were Mmes. R. L. Carpenter, Art Johnson, R. N. Grisham, Don Russell, A. F. Taylor, Myrtle Anderson and Miss Marjorie Van Hoose.

The devotion was led by Rev. Eugene Surface after which the meeting was turned over to Mr. C. R. Shelton, who spoke on religious life in relation to political life.

Those who attended were as follows: Linda Huckabay, Marvin Agnew, Martin Day, Susan Johnston, Gracie Tankersley, C. R. Shelton, Rev. Ray Heckendorn and Rev. Eugene Surface.

Lynda Edison Is Hostess to Meet Of Socialites

The Socialites met at the home of Lynda Edison Wednesday. The president, Judy MacMillen, called the meeting to order for a short business meeting.

Nona Butler gave the devotion and the group then recited the Lord's Prayer. The meeting was then adjourned.

Refreshments were served to Judy MacMillen, Beverly Kline, Jane Mayers, Judy Keith, Gracie Tankersley, Peggy Hazard, Kay Poe, Nona Butler and the hostess, Lynda Edison.

The next meeting will be held March 23 at the home of Peggy Hazard.
