If Allred Should Contest Election Of W. Lee O'Daniel Case Would Be Heard In Austin Or Fort Worth

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—Should Former Gov. James V. Allred decide to contest the nomination of U. S. Senator W. Lee O'Daniel for a six-year term, the contest would be heard either at Austin or Fort Worth.

The state election law gives a dissatisfied primary election participant a right to appeal either to the state executive committee of his party or to the district court of the district where the contestee resides.

If Allred contests before the executive committee, the hearing would be at Austin because of a section of the election law which says such a hearing shall be at Austin, unless some other place is agreed upon by the parties.
There seems to be little expectancy that Allred and O'Daniel would agree on anything if there were a contest.

Allred has until Sept. 12 or 13 to give notice of a contest. The final date would be Sept. 12 if the State Democratic Executive Committee declares the result after making its canvass of returns on Sept. 7.

If declaration of the result is delayed until the meeting of the State Democratic Convention on Sept. 8, a contest could be filed as late as Sept. 13.

The notice of contest must state specifically the ground of contest.

If these charges are made, and not otherwise, the law says the chairman shall convene the committee within 20 days after the primary election, hear the evidence and decide the contest in favor of the person they find was nominated.

This provision for a hearing within 20 days after the primary election while the protesting candidate can wait until five days after the result has been declared results in another conflict in the state's election laws.

The primary election was held on Aug. 22. Twenty days after that would expire on Sept. 11, which will have been passed before the time for filing notice of contest will have expired.

With every indication that the returns will show Senator O'Daniel more than 15,000 ahead, the race is not the closest one that has been lost by Allred.

In his first race for Attorney General, in 1926, Allred was defeated by Claude Pollock of Houston.

He did not contest at that time but came back later and defeated Pollard's successor, Robert Lee Hobbitt of San Antonio, who was appointed when Pollard resigned in his second term.

Morgenthau Pays Tribute to Penney Bond, Stamp Sales

The J. C. Penney Company's
1,669 stores, whose 4% July quota for War Stamp and Bond Sales was $1,200,000.00, turned in the staggering total of $8,422,- 553.85—or almost 25% of its merchandise sales. To realize what this figure stands for in actual war material, this sum will buy one destroyer plus one submarine plus 100 Army fighter planes plus 36 light tanks.

The importance of this achievement was acknowledged by a telegram of commendation from Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, who took particular note of the tremendous scope of the Company-wide publicity program which made these results possible.

While the Company average 25% of its total July sales, individual stores and individual states turned in far greater percentages than that. In Tennessee, for example, the Company's 21 stores made 68% of their entire sales in War Stamps and Bonds. In a small store in an upstate New York town the percentage was over 98% of volume—which means that the store sold almost ten times as many War Bonds as merchandise.

The largest amount in War Stamps and Bonds was sold by a store which is by no means one of the Company's largest—Yakima, Washington, where $166,658.95 worth moved over the store's counters into the purses and pockets of thrifty American patriots.

From all over the country came stories of the energetic competition between stores and states and districts. Penney employees made it their chief concern to sell Bonds and Stamps—and they sold them with might and main, to customers, friends, and everybody else who came within range of these super-salesmen and women.

Jester Got Off To A Bad Start With The Newspaper Men

AUSTIN, — Beauford Jester got off wrong with newspapermen in his first official act after being appointed state railroad commissioner. He took the oath of office at Dallas without apprising the press and had to be hunted for hours to confirm the reported action.

This, after the new railroad commissioner's press agents had filed the newspapers since June with every move he made as a candidate for the office.

Here's One Plant's Daily Output of Anti-Aircraft Guns

A pretty sight for American eyes is this symmetrical line-up of Bofors anti-aircraft guns—covered and ready for shipment—a typical day's production at the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. in Akron. Now in all-out assembly line production, the plant turns out 30 or more of these weapons daily.

Less Money for Dependent Children Is Seen Today

The new fiscal year, which began for the state on September 1, will bring sharp curtailment of the Aid to Dependent Children program, the State Department of Public Welfare predicted today. The constitutional amendment and the law authorizing aid to the state's dependent children limit the cost of the program to $1,500,000 a year out of state funds. The federal government matches this with an equal sum.
This makes available a total of $3,000,000 in equal monthly installments of $240,000. This means that in September the state will have only $250,000 to pay grants which will total approximately $430,500, causing a flat cut in each grant of $10.

The Aid to Dependent children program issued its first checks in September, 1941. In the early months of the program, while the rolls were small, not all of the monthly installment of $250,000 was required and this money built up a reserve which enabled the state to pay out more than the monthly installment of $250,000 developed on overload. In August, 19,226 families with 39,680 children received a total of $394,004.
Grants in September will probably call for distribution of $430,000 to around 21,000 recipients—with only $250,000 with which to pay the obligation. The average check in September is expected to drop to around $11.50 as compared with an average of $20.49 in August.

Maximum grants under the con-state law are $16 for a family with one child and $24 for a family with two or more children.
Under proration maximum checks will probably drop in September to $6 for a family with one child and $14 for larger families with still lower checks in prospect if eligibles are added to the rolls.

Fifteen Youths from County Enlist in Navy In August

ing the North Texas recruiting district with enlisting 3,243 men during August, showed that Eastland County, with a quota of 25 recruits, contributed 15 recruits to the monthly total, the highest in the history of the district.
Encouraged by he banner month of enlistments, 243 above the assigned quota and 1,111 more than ever before sworn in during a single month in the district.
Lieut. L. H. Rideout, Jr., officer in charge, established 3,600 recruits as the September quota.

If Short on Feed Farmers Should Look Into This

Eastland County farmers and ranchers that are short on feed should investigate the feed wheat that is available through the Commodity Credit Corporation.
The government is making this wheat available at a price that is cheaper than other grains can be bought for at this time. Rising Star and Cisco Areas have already made application for this service.
If a group of farmers other than those in the areas already mentioned are interested in securing a car load, the first thing to do is to discuss your desires with your local seed dealer and get him to prepare the necessary papers through your Triple A Office.

County Agent Lynch is urging all farmers to take advantage of this feed wheat. Wheat, like other small grain feeds, always should be balanced with a protein supplement. It is deficient in vitamins A and D, and these must be made up by green grazing, or by the addition of alfalfa hay or meal to the ration. For best results wheat should not be the only grain fed.
Hogs might go off feed if fed wheat alone. It can be mixed with equal parts with corn or grain or grain sorghums. A good ration is 40 pounds ground wheat, 40 lbs. ground corn or grain sorghums, 4 lbs. cottonseed meal or peanut meal, four lbs. of tankage, and five pounds of alfalfa meal or hay if the hogs have access to good green grazing alfalfa meal or hay is not necessary. According to Mr. E. M. Regenbrecht, A.
& M. Extension Service Swine Specialist, farmers can afford to pay about one percent more for ground wheat for feeding pigs than for corn on a per pound basis.

It takes about 400 pounds of grain to put on a hundred pounds of grain on a hog. Can't you afford to feed out hogs when they are selling for 14 cents per pound? The fast method of feeding is what County Agent Lynch is recommending. But that is meant keep a self feeder before the hogs at all times with the above balanced ration in it. Start your sows and litter on half feeders when the pigs are three weeks old.
Call the county agent's office for a blue print of a self feeder.

Too Many Strikes

The National Association of Manufacturers has made a study of "strikes since Pearl Harbor," covering the first six months of 1942.

During that period the association learned of 21 consequential walkouts, involving from as few as 119 employes up to as many as 12,392. Most were short-lived. They cost, in six months 7,176,344 man-hours, which is equivalent to 3588 man-years.

That does not bulk very large in our manpower economy. It represents a minute decimal of 1 per cent of the men engaged in war work.

But we feel, with Mrs. Elinore Herrick, New York regional director of the National Labor Relations Board and one of the truest friends organized labor ever had, that "one strike in a defense plant is one too many, even though it may have been provoked by the employer, as often happens."

We also agree with the National Association of Manufacturers that "the percentage of workers involved in strikes is not important. Where the strikes occurred is important. One-tenth thousandth of 1 per cent of all workers might paralyze the production of planes or tanks, if they struck."

Moreover the figures compiled by the National Association of Manufacturers are not truly representative of the seriousness of the labor situation today. They have to do solely with strikes, and most labor disturbances which are delaying war production are not formally strikes.

Eight hundred C. I. O.ers in Detroit, seeking higher wages took a four-day "vacation." There was no strike.

Twenty-nine C. I. O.ers in Trenton closed down two departments doing Navy work by refusing to move materials in a pay dispute. There was no strike.

Thirty hoisting engineers slowed down work in five Rochester war plants because of "illness" which, their union agent said, could be cured by raising their 40-hour weekly wage from $65 to $70. There was no strike.

A Philadelphia shipyard lay idle two hours because the men feared wage raise demands would not be met. There was no strike.

These are typical items out of a few days' news. They have their counterparts by the hundreds, everywhere.

They are more important than the official strike record.

Waiting to Slide Down the Beanstalk

The Payoff

BY HARRY GRAYSON
 NEA Service Sports Editor

PERHAPS this will ease Comm. James J. Tunney's fears. Outside of the two All-Army squads, which will be at it for no longer than six weeks, football this fall will be relegated to after-hour duty for service men.

Every man on the Great Lakes Naval Station squad, for example, will be an assistant company commander in recruit training. All will go through their regular day's work before reporting for practice.

Except on the day of games, sailors out for football will hit the deck at 5:30 a. m., direct mass calisthenics at 6, lead their troops to chow at 6:40 and hold inspection of barracks and personnel at 7:45. At 8, they open the study day, assisting company commanders in teaching drill, manual of arms, seamanship, ordnance, boat drill and in lecturing at classes devoted to Navy fundamentals. Following football practice, their duties continue until lights out at 9:30 p. m.

Even such a hardy old sea dog as Comm. Gene Tunney will agree that such a program hardly will be all tea and crumpets.

COMMANDER TUNNEY is also assured that the bluejackets aren't going to be away from quarters for any great length of time. According to Navy Department regulation, an athletic team can be absent from its base for only 48 hours.

Commander Tunney also will sleep easier knowing that squads are to be restricted to athletes presently on duty at their particular station. Men will not be held at a station for the express purpose of playing football.

Just recently, transfers to duty elsewhere cost Great Lakes the services of three outstanding stars—Passing Paul Christman of Missouri; Joe Kuharich, an all-America guard at Notre Dame, and Aldo Forte, who played the same position for Montana and the professional Chicago Bears.

WITH an aggregation that includes a Minnesota delegation headed by Bruce Smith, however, Great Lakes will somehow manage to struggle through a 12-game schedule, embracing, in the order named: Michigan, Iowa, Pittsburgh, Wisconsin, Michigan State, Missouri, Purdue, Camp Grant at Rockford, Marquette, Illinois, Northwestern and Notre Dame.

Lieut. Tony Hinkle, director of the outfit, must be ready for the opener at Ann Arbor, Sept. 26, with less than a month's drill.

In mid-November, the Gobs tackle three opponents within eight days—Purdue on Nov. 7; Camp Grant on Armistice Day and Marquette on Nov. 14. Great Lakes meets Northwestern on Thanksgiving Day after a rest of only four days from its contest at Illinois.

CHENEY NEWS

By MRS. BILL TUCKER

Hi! Everybody. Wake up! Cheney is still on the map. We wonder if you would not like to hear about us again.

This scribe has had a very busy summer. What with canning, helping the husband plow and hoe the peanuts and attending protracted meetings, over a period of four weeks or more. Here's what we have gathered in the way of news this time:

School is in full sway, with 4 new teachers—Misses Cohen, Turner, Cooksey, Miss Miller.

Those on the sick list are, Mrs. Pat Brown, Joe Tucker, Bob Underwood, Aunt Ellen Tucker.

Marvin Brock and family attended a reunion of kinfolk at Glen-Rose Sunday.

Carl Sullivan left Sunday for Gordon where he will be employed by the Lone Star Co., for some weeks.

Miss Peggy Vandiver, who has been visiting her uncle and family, the Cookseys returned to her home in Turnersville Sunday morning.

Clanton Pilgrim, camp Wolters and Olive pilgrim, Camp Barclay, visited home folks this week end. While Ezize Pilgrim who has been working in Dumas for some time, returned for physical examination preparatory for draft.

Mrs. Ellen Box came in from San Francisco, last week, after visiting her husband before he sailed.

Mrs. Etta Britton was a visitor attending Alameda Church service Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt of Moran were Alameda visitors Sunday also.

The Harry E. Deal family have moved to Ranger. He will be high school janitor.

The Nelson family were moving to Weatherford Saturday.

Mrs. Jenny Kimbrough visited Mrs. Elmer Blackwell Sunday afternoon.

There will be music—just dins of it over at Sullivan's. They've acquired a piano and Miss Cohen and J. W. Turner both play. Selah.

It seems that Majorie Calvert, James Odis Jones, Peggy Vandiver and Charles Sullivan all attended the show Friday night at Ranger.

But we wonder why Alice Calvert says Saturday night is lamb night at her house—perhaps she means htw.

Mrs. Sullivan, the three teachers, Gloria and ye scribe visited Mrs. Pat Brown a while Monday night.

The Renfro family are moving soon, to Breckenridge, whose going will be our loss.

Miss Clara Mae Miller spent the week end at home near Cisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sellers of Olden visited Mrs. Morgan Box Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tucker spent the day with her parents, The William Sheltons, Monday.

Baby James Thomas Rainey was very pleasantly surprised last Tuesday with a lot of nice gifts. Congratulations sonny!

The Luther Cooksey's were East land visitors Saturday.

Miss Imogene Jones is visiting home folks and friends in the community.

Odie Melton, Elzie and Afton Pilgrim were Mineral Wells visitors Friday.

Charlotte Love or Ranger visited her cousin, Beryl June Blackwell and came to church service at Alameda Sunday.

Miss Addie Bell Howard visited Jimmy Nell Sullivan, Saturday night.

Mrs. Pearl Hunt of Ranger, is teaching music at the school one day each week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonzi Melton were visitors at Gatesville, latter part of the week.

Mr. Noonan Melton of Par, Tex., is here visiting a brother, William Melton and other relatives.

Word has been received that two of the Elrod boys have sailed.

Earnest Calvert took a truck load of livestock to Fort Worth Sunday night.

And we would not forget the gospel meeting at Alameda church which closed Sunday night, resulting in one baptism and one acknowledging wrongs.

Those attending from Desdemona Saturday night were: Mrs. Joe Quinn, Mrs. Loman, Mrs. Elton and Mrs. Clark, Lawrence Hughes and wife, the former Davy Lee Ables of Abilene, were present, also Mr. and Mrs. Merritt of Moran.

Cheney folks attended church services at Alameda Sunday morning, staying for a basket lunch and short service in the afternoon. Some of those present Sunday were: Mrs. Etta Britton, Mrs. Minnie Alsbrook, Mrs. Ora Franklin, of Gorman; and Mrs. Ables, Jewel Manchester and mother of Desdemona. The other son, Mont Manchester, who is minister for the Clarendon church did the preaching throughout the meeting. He an his family returned to Clarendon, Tuesday.

People smiled when the rains began so maybe everyone had a pleasant mood. We hope so.

ONE of America's leading screwball organizations had its very heart and "raison d'etre" cut right out the other day when Walt Disney donated to the war production scrap iron collection campaign a couple of cast-iron deer weighing about a ton. Back some years there sprang up an organization known as The Guild of Former Pipe Organ Pumpers. Ring Lardner was one of the moving spirits and the only qualifications for membership was that as a boy the member must have operated a hand pump organ in his hometown church. In the goofy '20s, the Guild flourished. It held meetings any place and any time two or more members got together, and it made a show of several real national conventions. Like all existing on the Guild had to pass resolutions and do things officially. So finally there emerged a Guild Purpose. It was "The preservation of cast-iron animal life in America."

Well, this business of Walt Disney's donating his cast-iron deer to be melted up into howitzers, bombs and high explosive shells just about wrecks the motto of the G. O. F. P. O. P., and there seems to be nothing that can be done about it.

THE Puerto Rican sugar industry which has been battling Gov. Rex Tugwell all over the island and back to Washington has a new reason for warfare. Puerto Rico has a surplus of sugar and a shortage of food, and the business interests of the island want those commodities given priority on the few boats which do make the trip to and from the States.

But Governor Tugwell wants Puerto Rican rum given some consideration on shipping priorities, moving the empty bottles and cases from the mainland to the island, and bringing them back full. The reason is that all the tax receipts derived from the sale of the rum go back to the island treasury. For the year ending last June 30, that rum revenue on 1.4 million cases exported to the United States amounted to around $20 million. The Tugwell administration needs that money to carry on its program of reforms.

A NEW YORK department store recently wrote into the Army, asking for the loan of a typewriter that had been through the war. What the store wanted was something that looked pretty well shot-up to put in the window to encourage people to turn in their surplus typewriters for government use. In the Services of Supply headquarters there was finally found a battered old portable which was just what was ordered. Maj. Karl Detzer, who used to write pieces for the magazines before he became a public relations officer for the S. O. S. and a ghost writer of speeches for generals, thereupon sat down and ghosted the poor little typewriter's autobiography. It read like this: "I am an Army typewriter. "I have been to war on five continents and above the seven seas. "Last year, aboard a plane of the Ferry Command, Army Air Forces, I flew the Atlantic to England. I have heard the sirens cry their warning of a London air raid. I was in Moscow when the Nazi army was pounding at the gates. "I have done duty at Cairo and have flown over the African desert, Right now they're working out plans for blackouts and evacuation of civilians in case of emergency. They are mapping secondary roads and listing possible accommodations in case of evacuation.

ALLEY OPP

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

SERIAL STORY SPECIAL INVESTIGATOR

BY BLANCHE ROBERTS

COPYRIGHT, 1942, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Judith Kingsley and Tom Burke are employees of an airplane factory. Following a lover's quarrel, they are both sent to the firm's west coast branch—Judith to investigate a "leak" in the organization, Tom to take the reins of a new bomber. Two foreigners and the co-pilot had the airplane in which the two are riding and kidnap Tom. He slips Judith the plans. When the kidnapers return to the plane for the plane, Judith steals their car, finds Tom bound in a shack. She cuts him loose, escapes while he battles his captor. Pursued, she leaves the car, thumps a ride with a truck driver.

the wheel and off they rolled. "Am I helping a criminal escape?" he demanded bluntly. "No," she answered readily, not taking offense at his question. "Those are the men I escaped from last night. They must not catch me again. They are dangerous. The blond one is a foreigner. He would kill me, I think."

THOSE MEN AGAIN

CHAPTER V

THE grinning driver opened the door and Judith climbed up into the truck without a second invitation. "Thanks," she said to him, relieved. "Where are you headed for?" "San Diego," he answered. "Where do you want to go?" "To San Diego. May I ride all the way, please?" "Sure, baby, why not?" He pulled the truck back into the road.

He was a swell guy, she decided. Lucky for her things had turned out as well as they had. Without his help, she would probably have been caught by now. Sudden she snapped to attention. "He turned to Harry. "Is there a car back of you?" He looked into the side mirror. "Yeah—a big black one. Coming fast, too."

AT noon they stopped at a roadside cafe. Judith was ravenously hungry. She had not eaten since last night when the plane stopped. She ate greedily, her head bent over the plate. Thus she did not see the two men enter the cafe and sit down at the other end of the lunch counter.

Harry glanced in the mirror and saw the car gaining on them. As it drew up level with them again, his jaws set in a stubborn line. "You asked for it!" yelled Harry out of his window. "Here I come!"

She peered around at her newfound friend cautiously. Instantly, she recognized Heavy and the foreigner, Karl. Her appetite vanished. She reached in her purse for a pencil and paper, wrote a note and slipped it to the truck driver at her side.

Without a backward glance, Harry put the accelerator to the floor and sped on. "You can come up for air now," he told Judith, with grim satisfaction. "Nobody's going to make me pull over and stop if I don't want to—not while I'm driving this wagon."

AS they rolled on down the highway, Judith realized she must change her course. Harry had become a friend—a good friend—in these few short hours, and as long as she was with him, his life was in danger. The truck would be easy to follow, and her pursuers would show up again, she was sure of that. And this time they would use their guns.

She reached in her purse for a handkerchief, and her fingers touched a small package. The sleeping pills! A plan began to materialize. About sundown, Harry pulled into a dumpy looking tourist camp and stopped. "Well, baby, here's where we spend the night. Not much to look at, but it's clean enough. I'll see about getting you a cabin. I usually sleep in the truck."

Red Cross Opens Surgical Dressing Unit in Eastland

Three Red Cross Surgical Dressing Units will be opened in Eastland County soon as organization is completed and supplies arrive. One will be located in Cisco, one in Ranger and one in Eastland. These units are a part of the War Relieff Production Unit with Mrs. Curtis Kimbrell as county chairman.

The Red Cross has been asked to prepare its chapters immediately for the production during the next sixteen months of very large quotas of surgical dressings. These dressings will not be in a position to produce. Only one-tenth of the needed dressings can now be supplied by the manufacturers.

Quotas assigned to chapters will be based on the requests received from the War Department. Undoubtedly some of the dressings made for the army will be used eventually by the medical services of other Allied Nations.

The Eastland units will be located on the third floor of the Eastland National Bank building. Mrs. Curtis Hertig, who attended the Regional Institute held in Mineral Wells in August will be the Eastland chairman with Mesdames Harry Taylor, Clyde Grissom, Carl Jaggard, James Horton, Herbert Turner, Curt's Kimbrell and Olney Black as co-chairmen.

Every woman in Eastland with the time to give this worthwhile and urgent need is asked to enroll in a class by calling Mrs. Curtis Hertig, or Mrs. Herbert Tanner.

Classes will start as soon as supplies arrive and final preparations are completed in the work room. Classes of twenty each will be trained in the making, tying and packing of each type of dressing, before work begins on actual quotas for the army. Only one class at a time will be trained. These classes will be trained by the chairmen and co-chairmen on Tuesdays and Fridays, from 9:30 a. m. to 12 a. m. and from 2 to 5 p. m. at three consecutive meetings. Each class member is requested to attend each consecutive meeting, a total of fifteen hours.

After completing this training course, workers are eligible to work at any time for any length of time they may be able during the regular stated hours each Tuesday and Friday.

To earn a Red Cross Volunteer Pin within a year, a worker is required to work one hundred hours which would average four hours a week. A very accurate account of the workers hours will be kept by a card system. It is not compulsory to give four hours a week to the work, but workers are urged to do if possible. It helps to complete a large quota efficiently.

Pointers On How To Remove Fruit Stains Are Given

Fresh fruits are one of the pleasures of summer time, but these fruits often leave a tell-tale mark on table linens and clothes. If possible, get after them while still fresh and before they dry. If you let a stain dry it is much harder to remove.

Simple remedies will take out most stains. Sometimes warm water or water just from the faucet will take out fresh stains from white or color fast cotton or linen. If that does not remove it, try boiling water. Stretch the stained material over a bucket and fasten it with a string. Then pour the boiling water from a height so that it strikes the stain with force. If the stain is hard to get out, rub it and pour on more boiling water.

Sometimes peach, pear and plum stains are a little harder to remove. If boiling water does not do so, then try one ounce of oxalic acid crystals dissolved in one pint of water. You can make up a small amount and bottle it. Remember that it is poison. Label it poison and keep away from children. To apply place the stained material over a bowl and pour water through the stain. With a medicine dropper apply a little oxalic acid solution directly on the stain. Then pour water through the spot and then acid solution. Repeat until stain is removed. Then rinse the material thoroughly to remove all acid. If acid is allowed to dry on material it will eat holes in it.

Grass and foliage contain a green coloring matter which is easily removed by washing in cold water when fresh. An old method which is effective is to rub the green spot with molasses and let stand a few minutes, then wash in warm water. For delicate fabrics sponge the spot with denatured alcohol and water, equal parts, using the pad method.

Navy Sets Quota Of 34 Recruits From County

Eastland county was assigned 34 Navy recruits today as its quota for September in the North Texas to join the Navy. The 600 men between the ages of 17 and 50 during the thirty-day period.

"During August, more than 3,100 men left their homes in North Texas to join the Navy. The month's quota, which was the highest ever realized in the district was only 3,000 recruits. That is why our September quota has been set twenty per cent higher."

This, Lieut. L. H. Rideout, Jr., officer in charge of the district, stated simply plans to make this district as representative as any other in the nation in the Navy's combined fighting force.

"We can enlist 3,600 men in thirty days because we have only started our campaign to sell the Navy," he insisted. "The country is becoming more war-conscious every day. Washington dispatches predict that 3-A classifications will be tapped before Christmas. Increasing numbers of men are convincing themselves daily of the immediate need for all the manpower we can possibly muster." He expressed again the sense

Furniture-Type Heaters

For Sale in the U. S. A., only to persons who positively need them.

Heaters are going to be scarce, of course (just like gas ranges), because these factories are making war goods. So you are not allowed to buy them unless you positively need them. Therefore we urge you to take good care of the heaters you have on hand, and profit by them. Have them in top condition for the first chilly day, to keep the place healthfully warm all winter.

The operating cost will be especially thrifty, because this town runs with cheap Natufal Gas.
