

MOORE about... EASTLAND

by Virgil E. Moore

Latest bit of verse making the square:

The election is done,
And Yarborough won!
Someone said that Bill Blakley run!

Judge John Hart's comment on his heavy vote in Cisco, his home town: "They were afraid I'd move into town if they didn't elect me."

Hart was some 200 votes behind when the big Cisco box came in. That put him about 400 votes ahead. After that Clyde Garrett nibbled on the margin until he cut it down to about 200 votes.

Folks around the courthouse are trying to decide who they are going to call "Landslide." It's a close choice between Johnson Smith and Roy Lan. Neither man seems to care who gets the title. They were both wearing $10 smiles Monday morning.

All the politicians seemed to be happy Monday that the election was over. None of them is as happy as this reporter is, however.

Dwaine Dennis, our shop foreman, was very unhappy with gubernatorial candidate Henry Gonzalez. After setting 26 precincts and printing the candidate's name some 50 times, Dennis discovered he had put "S" on the back of the guy's name instead of a "Z."

The last time we saw Dennis he was moving something about moving the capital to Mexico City.

About the happiest people about the election were members of the Beta Sigma Phi Chapter. They sold drinks and cookies and pocketed some good ready cash. So did members of the W.S.C.S.

Mrs. Andy Taylor, 413 Pershing, says she has a number of cute baby kittens to give away again. Last year there was quite a run when Mrs. Taylor announced she would give some of the kittens away.

Must be pretty ones.

J. O. Earnest says he would like nothing better than to find his missing bull in Frank Hightower's pasture.

Earnest's hull jumped out of a loading shoot behind the Frozen Food Center the other day, and hasn't been seen since. Hightower has sent J. O. on at least one wild goose chase since.

"If I could just find that bull in Frank's pasture I'd get the sheriff and have Hightower locked up for cattle theft," Earnest says.

There are five persons living in Eastland who would like to tip our hat to them. They are the five persons who voted in the Republican primary Saturday.

Don't get us wrong. We are a hard-core Democrat, a Roosevelt Democrat. If you please, and we doubt seriously that we will ever vote for a Republican for anything. (No we didn't vote for Ike, either.)

We respect those five persons, however, for having the courage to vote as they see fit. We think there are just a lot of other Republicans here in Eastland who should have cast their votes in the same precinct with these five instead of in the Democratic primary.

Texas will be a better state when we become a two party state.

EQUALIZATION BOARD MEETS HERE TODAY

Eastland County Commissioners Tuesday morning began sitting as the County Equalization Board.

Tuesday was set aside for the commissioners to hear representatives of the oil, gas and utility representatives. Wednesday is the day set up to hear complaints from individuals.

Persons who do not think their taxes are fair have this opportunity to go before the Board and give their reasons.

Commissioners said the Board would continue to meet throughout the week if for some reason they were unable to complete their work Wednesday.

Building of GI Homes to Start In Few Weeks

A spokesman for the Tri-Cities Real Estate Exchange in Eastland explained today the delay in proposed GI home building that was to have been started here some 3 weeks ago.

According to F. James Dabney, construction has been delayed due to an unexpected overload that was put on the VA office in Dallas by building contractors throughout Texas as a result of the recent housing act that allows eligible veterans to build 100 percent GI homes for no closing cost or down payment.

Dabney stated that C. C. Broyles, Abilene builder who will build the Eastland GI homes, was advised last week by the Veterans Administration Office that he could expect the return, and approval of the Eastland plans within two weeks.

Broyles had previously announced that the GI homes would be built on any desirable lot in Eastland, and that the Veteran need only have a good credit rating, and $150 in cash. The $150 is required by the lending agencies to cover prepaid items such as appraisal fees, attorney fees, and a certain percentage of the first year's taxes and insurance. No other ready cash is needed, or will be called for.

It is not necessary for the veteran to own his lot, or purchase one, Broyles said, as he will provide the lot if the veteran does not already own one.

The proposed houses will be two and three bedroom, with central heating systems, insulated throughout, and with brick trim.

Don Pierson Is Named General Motors Chairman

General Motors has announced that Don Pierson, local Oldsmobile and Cadillac dealer has been re-appointed to serve as GM Community Relations Chairman for Eastland and vicinity.

The chairmanship carries a community service responsibility. Mr. Pierson will make available to the public a variety of interesting and educational material in the form of motion picture booklets and presentations from GMC's Public Relations staff. One of the GM films is "Farmer of Tomorrow," produced especially for the future farmers of America.

Another film, "Safety, Our No. 1 Crop," was produced to assist 4-H in their safety activities. General Motors is the sponsor of the National 4-H Safety Program and Pierson will be able to aid local 4-H Clubs which have members participating.

Fishing Reports Show Fine Catches

Fishing at Lake Leon continues to be good according to the latest reports.

Lake Leon Lodge reports: J. J. Eckert and E. Carson of Dallas caught one four-pound and two three-pound black bass, with top water plug last week.

Burt Ken of Gorman landed three bass, weighing nine and one-half pounds.

Jack O'Keefe, operator of the lodge, caught two four-pound channel cat and one eight-pound blue cat on a trot line in 12-foot water.

MYSTERY FARM—Here is this week's Mystery Farm. The names of all persons correctly identifying the farm will be placed in a hat and one name will be drawn out. That person will receive two tickets to the Majestic Theatre. The owner of the farm will receive a free enlargement if he will call for it at the newspaper office.

COUNTY DECLARES WAR ON RATS

Rodent Control Expert Plans Demonstrations In County

"We have the largest number of rats, rabbits, mice and ground squirrels in the county today that we have had in years and I plan to do my part in helping to eliminate them," one farmer commented today when informed of plans for the August 5-8 ratkilling campaign had been completed.

Sid Knight, Ft. Worth, field agent for the Rodent Control Service will be in the county to assist in the week long campaign according to word from the County Farm Bureau and the County Agricultural Agent, joint sponsors of the affair.

Mice, rabbits and ground squirrels will figure also in the plans but to a lesser degree than the rats that will cause thousands of dollars in damage to stored grain, hay and feed this fall and winter. Fumarin a new anti-blood coagulant that works similar to Warfarin will be the principal bait used. It will be available for distribution over the county at the 14 selected demonstration farms at just a little above actual cost it was explained.

FIRST PRIMARY SINCE 1934

Five Republicans Go to Polls Here

Eastland Republicans made history Saturday. They held the second Republican primary ever held here.

The election was held in Dick Hunt's office in the Conner Building. Only five votes were cast, but they were all Republican, down the line.

The only other Republican primary ever held here was staged in 1934. Usually Republicans hold conventions instead of primaries, but they held the election this year.

Here is how the voting went:
FOR GOVERNOR: Ed S. Mayner, 5 votes.
FOR SENATOR: Roy Whittingburg, 5 votes.
FOR COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE: G. C. Carothers, 5 votes.
FOR SUPREME COURT: John Q. Adams, 5 votes.
FOR PRECINCT CHAIRMAN: H. J. Tanner, 5 votes.

In addition, the precinct went on record as favoring Dick Hunt as county chairman.

The primary was the only Republican election held in the county Saturday. Precinct conventions were held by Republicans in other cities in the county, however.

Saturday at 2 p.m. the county Republican convention will be held in Hunt's office.

Hunt served as election judge Saturday. He admitted the polling place wasn't rushed during the day, but said with a smile, "We got a start, anyway."

Chief Johnson Says State Fire School Success

Fire Chief Billy Jack Johnson, who returned from the state fire school at College Station this week, described the school as highly successful.

Chief Johnson served as one of the instructors at the school. He said a total of 1467 firemen attended from 16 states. In all, 378 Texas fire departments were represented as well as 27 departments from other states and 24 from armed service bases.

Ninety percent of the students attended the school for the first time, Johnson said. He explained that modern fire fighting methods are taught at the school.

Next year it will be held July 19-24.

Commissioners Precincts Will Both Have Run-Offs

Only mix-up resulting from Saturday night's Democratic primary election was solved Monday morning.

The confusion was in the Precinct 2 (Gorman) commissioners race. Unofficial tabulations Saturday night showed B. M. Bennett, the incumbent, was forced into a runoff with A. M. Thurman by two votes.

Monday morning those figures were questioned. A check showed Bennett had gained a majority by two votes. Later, however, it was discovered that absentee votes had not been included in that figure, and when those were added the answer was a runoff.

Bennett polled 543 votes to Thurman's 528, but Buck Foster, the third candidate, got 217. Foster and Thurman's votes combined came to 545, or two more votes than Bennett polled.

A final breakdown shows these returns in the Precinct 2 race:

	Thurman	Bennett	Foster
Kokomo	29	16	7
Carbon	98	71	45
Desdemona	39	65	15
Staff	18	10	3
Alameda	19	6	4
Gorman	120	369	138
Absentee	5	6	5
TOTALS	328	543	217

Precinct 4 (Cisco) voters will face a runoff battle between Carl Lamb and Clifford R. Phippen for the county commissioners post.

Lamb led the six-man race with 346 votes, but Phippen was close behind with 332 votes. The other four candidates all ran well, too.

Clarence B. Dill was third with 290 votes, Carl D. Gorr had 289, Don Rupe 283 and J. J. Honeta 152.

The County Democratic Committee meets today to canvass the votes and if they are approved as they now stand it will mean Bennett has won a four year term.

County races all stood up as reported in Sunday's paper. John S. Hart won re-election as county judge by a 220 margin. He polled 2794 votes to 2574 for Clyde Garrett.

Roy L. Lane won another term as district clerk by defeating Richard C. Cox by a margin of 3804 votes to 1494.

Johnson Smith was another easy winner, gaining four more years as county clerk with a 3709 to 1596 victory over Arlon E. Smith.

Paul Brashear won a third term as state representative, defeating Omar Burkett and C. H. Dawson. Brashear had a total of 4437 votes in Eastland, Callahan and Shackelford counties. Burkett polled 3276 votes and Dawson got 683. In Eastland County Brashear led with 2833 votes, Burkett had 2138 and Dawson 345.

Eastland County voters helped Gov. Price Daniel win a second term without a runoff, giving him 3052 votes to 1809 for W. Lee O'Daniel, who ran second. Henry B. Gonzalez polled 373 votes here and Joe A. Irwin got 10. Daniel was far ahead statewide.

Local voters also helped to elect Ralph W. Yarborough to a six-year term as U. S. Senator. Yarborough ended up with 3255 votes here to 2301 for Blakley, and he

Tour of County Farms Shows Crops Are Good

A tour of Eastland county farms and ranches got underway this morning at 8:50, when a good delegation left from the Don Kincaid turkey ranch, west of Cisco on Highway 80.

The farm tour is being sponsored by the Eastland County Farm Bureau.

Farm Bureau members and others making the tour inspected the Kincaid ranch, then went to the FFA Pig Parlor. From there the group went to the Henry Fry Hereford Ranch. They spread sack lunches there at noon.

The afternoon visits began at W. B. Starr's peanut farm. Also inspected was O. C. Stewart's flock of 2100 White Rock hens and the Herman Schaefer farm in the Nimrod community.

The Schaefer farm is well diversified, and those making the tour got to see how a lot of crops are coming along in the county.

Everywhere there was optimism on the tour and crops looked extra good.

Gray Matter

By JOE GRAY

The fellow who said that a dog's life was a hard life didn't know what he was talking about. I've heard that saying all of my life. In my early days I used to believe it, and today I find it is taken by a lot of people as being a statement based on sound philosophical fact.

No statement ever made was farther from the truth. Dogs have an easy life. Many dogs have a much better life than many people.

Ol' Midge and Ol' Doc, the dogs that used to rule the roost out in this neighborhood, lived off the very fat of the land. Those dogs didn't have to do a lick of work and they never knew what it was to be hungry. We used to feed them when they didn't need it to keep them from getting hungry.

Along about that time some people were poisoning dogs by throwing out poisoned pieces of meat up and down the street. In order that our dogs would never eat except at home we always saw to it that they were fed so well it was literally running out their ears.

Ol' Midge used to lie around and give me the horse laugh. On a hot day when I used to have to mow the lawn he would lie in the shade of the nearest tree and watch me.

You understand that this wasn't with a power mower. Nobody had a power then. All we had were hand-powered reel-type lawnmowers. And sometimes pushing them over a yard that wasn't too smooth could get to be quite a chore, especially if the yard was as large as ours.

Midge and Doc sure enjoyed watching me mow our lawn. They'd lie there like they were helping me. Then about the time I got up a good flow of sweat and had to stop now and then to wipe my damp brow they would start to play and act smart. Those two dogs had a little bit of smart-aleckness in their nature. They'd turn over on their backs and wiggle to scratch their backs on the new-mowed grass. It seems a new-mowed spot attracted them better than a place that hadn't been mowed. I guess the freshly cut grass was a little stiffer and made a better back scratcher.

After I had cut one section of our yard I'd move over to another section, across the driveway or one of the walks. The dogs would get up and follow and plant themselves right in front of where I had to work. Then they'd move just in time to get out of the way of the mower.

I used to wonder who it was that first said a dog's life was a hard life every time I had to mow our lawn, because Midge's and Doc's lives certainly weren't hard.

Those two dogs lived in the lap of luxury, at least it was the lap of dogs' luxury. But looking back on it, I don't think either the Perkins or we would have changed our treatment of those two pooches for the world. They were a world of good company and about as fine a friend as growing boys can find.

I was watching Spud, the pooch down at Doc Davis' Drug store the other day. That's another dog that has a hard life. I'll bet it would be easier to walk out with the cash register than it would be to walk off with Spud.

Doc says Spud's spoiled; he isn't; he's just a smart dog. Smart dogs get to where they like to eat. (Continued on Page Two)

MEET MRS. MORGAN

I would like for you to meet your new Telephone Company Business Office Representative, Mrs. Lou Morgan. She replaces Mrs. Ernestine Pierce. At present Mrs. Pierce is on a year's leave of absence from the company. Mrs. Morgan moved here from Jacksboro where she was employed in the same capacity for the company. She was born and reared in Jacksboro, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mathis. After graduation from High School she started working for the Telephone Company as an operator. She transferred into the Business Office, where she worked until her transfer to Eastland.

Mrs. Morgan is married to Mr. John Morgan, a resident of Eastland County. He was reared in the Okra Community near Carbon. He is employed by the Lone Star Gas Co.

Mrs. Morgan likes Eastland very much. She says she is favorably impressed with the community spirit of the people of Eastland and Eastland County.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan are making their home on South Seaman and are members of the Baptist Church.

TIPS FOR BUSINESSMEN

Ever try answering your out-of-town mail with long distance calls instead of letters?
 Nothing can beat long distance when it comes to getting things done.
 Just the other day, for example, I had three or four letters on my desk, all waiting to be answered. I just couldn't seem to get them done. Finally, I picked up the telephone and called the people. In 20 minutes I was through. I must have saved myself at least an hour's work.
 Try doing it that way yourself. When you do, I think you'll like the quick action you get—as well as the small amount it costs.

DRESS UP YOUR KITCHEN

A lot of people who have remodeled their kitchen add a finishing touch by ordering a wall telephone in color to blend with the new color scheme.
 You don't have to remodel, of course... a wall telephone in color will brighten your present kitchen—let you reach for the telephone and bake a cake at the same time.
 There are seven attractive colors... light gray, cherry red, white, moss green, ivory, pastel yellow, and light beige. Table model telephones are available in all these colors, too, plus aqua blue and rose pink. Call the telephone company today to put more color in your kitchen—or any other room in your home.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Cookouts Call for Hamburger and Ketchup

Ever have trouble getting the cookout hamburger exactly the right size? Well, next time, place one of those wide mouth jar caps flat on a plate, put a wad of hamburger in center of hand and pat it flat. Then, your burgers will fit an averaged sized bun. But it takes more than shape and size to make a hamburger taste just right—for that you need good ketchup. We like ours on the hot side. If you prefer yours mild, leave out the hot pepper when you use this easy recipe. If your tomatoes are red-ripe with no green spots, the ketchup will be picture pretty.

Easy to Make Tomato Ketchup

- 4 quarts (about 8 pounds) tomatoes
- 1 pod red cayenne pepper
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 2 tablespoons pickling spice (tied in piece of cloth)
- 1 tablespoon paprika
- 1 cup vinegar

Wash and drain tomatoes before coring and chopping. Chop pepper; discard seed. Cook tomatoes, pepper and onion until soft. Drain off juice (good to drink). Press vegetables through fine sieve to remove skins and seed. Mix all ingredients except vinegar and boil until very thick. Add vinegar and boil 5 to 10 minutes or until as thick as wanted. Taste and add more salt if wanted. Pour boiling hot ketchup to within 1/4 inch of top of pint fruit jar. Put lid on jar; screw band tight.

Physically active people achieve a lappy equilibrium between the energy they spend and the food they eat. Results: They don't gain weight. You upset this balance when you lose the exercise habit. Because appetite remains the same, you continue to eat like a rabbit. Results: A gain in weight.

This is the time to bring up your activity scores. Seek a five-hole golf course, a garden, or clean a roomful of windows a week. A walk through the park, a night of dancing, a regular routine of setting up exercises—any one of these may be all that is needed to keep energy calories balancing food calories. Results: Your weight is cut to fit your figure.

Results of a two-year survey, made by the North Carolina Industrial Commission reveal that in a large textile plant, three out of four workers who had accidents had eaten no breakfast.

To play it safe, eat a breakfast of fruit, cereal, and milk or an egg, enriched or whole grain toast, and the beverage of your choice. These simple, easy to prepare foods may be the lifesavers which keep you from being a vital statistic.

Now is the time for picnics and outdoor cooking. A tender broiled steak makes any outdoor meal or picnic a real occasion. In selecting a steak for broiling over a charcoal fire, look for a well-marbled steak. By marbling they mean a steak when fat is interspersed within the lean. A well-marbled steak will usually be tender and juicy when broiled—if it came from a young beef animal. The food shopper has no way of judging this last point but federal meat graders do—and the shopper can take advantage of their knowledge by using U. S. grades as a guide in selecting a picnic steak.

USDA Prime and Choice grades provide steaks which are best for broiling. You can easily tell if beef is Federally graded. On the fat covering you will find one or more purple shield-shaped stamps enclosing the grade name and the letters USDA. This shield grade mark is registered in the U. S. patent office for your protection. In addition to knowing the grades of beef that are good for broiling it is important to know what cuts are appropriate. Porterhouse, T-Bone, Sirloin, and Club steaks are the best. However a Rib steak compared favorably with these in tenderness and flavor, and usually costs less per pound.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

Judge Walter Malone, author of the inspiring poem, "Opportunity" presided over a court in Memphis when I was a schoolboy and I was once a witness before him. I had been on a street car when a passenger tendered a bill for his fare. It was a ten and the company had a rule that it was not required to provide change for anything more than a five—or maybe only a two.

The passenger said he had no change and offered to permit the conductor to keep the bill until they reached the center of town but the conductor stopped the car and put him off, giving him a shove as he stepped to the ground. It was to tell what I had seen that I was called.

Judge Malone was a rather heavy-set man with graying hair serious in bearing but with a kindly expression and he asked the very nervous young witness a few questions in a quiet, reassuring tone.

(The plaintiff won a verdict for $75 damages, as I now recall.)

Variety is the spice of any program. As Jimmy Walker, the cleverest man who was ever mayor of New York City, used to say "Never follow a banjo act with another banjo act."

Speaking of Jimmy Walker—In one of his campaigns, he began a speech: "I came here with the idea that I was going to express written down. But I don't need a planned speech when I speak here in the good old Forty-Ninth Ward."

And he pulled a piece of paper from his pocket, crumpled it up and threw it in a corner of the stage, then he declared, "I'll just speak from the heart." He made a witty and eloquent speech, which his audience received enthusiastically.

Afterward, a reporter, out of curiosity, retrieved the piece of paper and opened it up. It was a laundry bill.

Life has happenings more incredible than Hollywood scripts. For instance, a producer was going to make a picture which was placed 10 years in the past and he needed a song for a piano-player to give, more or less as the theme song. He wanted a tune which actually had been written in the period but not one that had been a hit because it would be somewhat shopworn. So he selected one which had attracted almost no attention—and it skyrocketed to a place on the Hit Parade.

But the man who wrote it had died.

WASHINGTON, D. C. —It is difficult, if not impossible, to identify the real monetary obligations of the Federal Government. We generally know what the Public Debt is supposed to be. We know the amount of the obligations for which appropriated money has not yet been spent. But we do not know the real obligation of the United Treasury for programs underwritten and guaranteed by the Government. The practice of financing large-scale spending programs by Treasury borrowing without getting the approval of the Congress is a serious defect of our system. In fact, there is considerable doubt that it is a part of our system, but it is a practice of recent years. There is even doubt that it is a constitutional action.

The Government is in the guaranty business for numerous enterprises, and actually has on hand billions of borrowed money which does not show up in its obligated column. This is another instance of the Congress having yielded the control of the purse strings to the Executive Department.

It has already yielded up to more than one-third of its control in direct appropriations on the installment plan. In other words, of our total budget more than one-third must be "appropriated" to meet fixed charges such as interest on the Public Debt and numerous other items over which no one has any control as to whether it shall be paid or not. The Congress should, however, control the borrowing authority of the Federal Treasury to underwrite and guarantee all the programs now in vogue.

A part of this spending authority and underwriting even applies to foreign governments. To a large degree, the President has been given a "blank check" to spend as he sees fit to meet emergencies around the world.

It reminds us that in spite of all the world spending, we are in desperate trouble in many places. If our "foreign aid" has accomplished its purpose, it is a good question to ask why we in this tragic situation in the Middle East.

The truth is we have been caught in a web of blackmail. Countries never heard of a few years ago now emerge with demands that, unless they receive our dollars, they will go over to the Soviets on promises. Several countries which have given the right for United States defense bases within their territory are now threatening to expel us unless more "aid" is given them.

The sentiment grows here in Washington that the U. S. is supporting a considerable number of international "moochers," who are playing both sides of the street in their dealing with Russia and America.

There are two principal ways to break this policy. The first cure for this situation is to challenge these threats with the exercise of greater prudence in handouts which have not proved their worth.

The second is to develop as rapidly as possible an operational intercontinental missile or space-wagon, which can defend this Country from its own shores.

Unless these two things are done there is little chance that our tremendous defense expenditures (which are almost two-thirds of all expenditures) are likely to be reduced.

The time for the development of such weapons may be only two to four years away.

When the U. S. has such weapons, the need for foreign bases will not be necessary. These billions in handouts certainly can be reduced, if not entirely stopped. Our own defense appropriations can be reduced. Until this happens, the bill will continue to be high.

This is not an attitude of isolationism. The fact is, we have little choice but to engage in world cooperation. The world has gotten too small to live otherwise. We can not, however, continue to be subjected to the blackmail pressure from every corner of the earth.

STOCKS AND BONDS

The phrase "stocks and bonds" is pretty familiar to most Americans whether they own any of them or not. The phrase has been used so often that many persons don't realize that there is a difference between stocks and bonds.

When you buy a share of stock in a corporation, you become a part owner of it. You own a share of everything the corporation has. If there are 1,000 shares outstanding and you own one share, you have an "undivided" one thousandth share in the corporation. This means that no particular piece of the corporation's property is yours but that you have an interest in every piece of property.

When you buy a corporation's bond, you are lending money to the corporation. You do not own any part of it. The corporation promises to pay you interest on the loan and to return money when the bond "matures."

Unlike a stockholder, a bondholder usually has no voice in how the corporation is managed or in selection of the corporation officers. However, the bondholder receives his interest payments before any money is paid to the stockholder. He must be paid even if there is then nothing left to pay dividends to the stockholders.

If the corporation quits doing business or goes bankrupt, the bondholders are repaid for their loans before any of the investment of the stockholders is returned. Perhaps you have heard of "preferred stock". Usually, preferred stockholders have a right to collect a particular fixed amount of dividend before the "common" stockholders receive any dividend. There are many possible preferred stock arrangements. But frequently, in return for their first chance at the profits, the preferred stockholders give up any voting rights or ability to control the company.

If it turns out that the corporation is fabulously successful and earns huge profits, most of the profits will go to the common stockholders. It is a rule of thumb that the common stockholders take a greater risk with their investment but stand to make a greater profit.

They overpower "jamming" by Red stations, tell the news as it really happens, and, above all, renew hope that freedom will some day return to the peoples behind the Iron Curtain. That is what

Mr. and Mrs. Cody Bell Jr.

Donna Blackwell, Cody Bell Jr. United in Double-Ring Ceremony

Miss Donna Ollene Blackwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Earl Blackwell Sr. of 501 Alice Street, Ranger, became the bride of Cody Mood Bell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Cody Mood Bell Sr. of 2543 W. Twohig, San Angelo, at 8:00 o'clock p.m., July 18, in the Mesquite and Rusk Church of Christ, Ranger.

Lonnie Branam, minister, officiated during the double ring ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony, a vocal quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Morris George of Ranger and Mr. and Mrs. David Fry of Eastland sang "Because." Other musical selections were the wedding march and recessional.

Mrs. Everett Weaver of Fort Worth was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a dress of pink lace over taffeta, with pink accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink frenched carnations.

She carried a white satin-covered Bible, topped with the bridal bouquet of white stephanotis, centered with a white orchid.

Her traditional "something old" was a white silk embroidered handkerchief which was sent to her grandmother, Mrs. T. H. McGlothlin, from France. Something blue was a garter; something borrowed was the white Bible. She carried a penny in her shoe.

The groom's mother chose a dress of light blue lace, with navy accessories. Her corsage was of white glamelias.
