MOORE about... EASTLAND by Virgil E. Moore

Ever noticed that old Coca-Cola clock at Jess Siebert's barber shop?

There's no telling just how old the clock is, but Jess says it was in the shop when he first cut a head of hair in the shop, and that wasn't yesterday.

Siebert says he has been offered several electric clocks to replace the old wind-up job, but he isn't interested. Looks like to us that Coca-Cola is getting their money's worth out of this deal.

A couple of collie pups have been attracting quite a bit of attention lately. The pups have made a home in the culvert at the intersection of Daugherty and Highway 6.

The puppies are real cute and real wild. Several folks have attempted to adopt them, but haven't had any luck getting them out of the culvert. You can drive out that way early and spot them outside the culvert sunning themselves. If you get close, however, they head for cover.

The pups look well fed, but what they eat is something of a question too.

John F. Willingham, McGraw Motor's new salesman, handed us a clipping out of the Jackboro newspaper the other day which had a new slant on the national budget.

"A dollar bill doesn't weigh much, but the Federal budget in dollar bills would weigh 82,680 tons, or 165,360,000 pounds," the article stated.

Which should tend to make us realize, since this is income tax time, that Washington is spending a lot of our money, and just a whole lot of it is being wasted. Something's got to give some times (besides the tax-payers), but it won't until we demand real economy for a change.

Mrs. Mae Rosser says her niece was visiting her grandmother one time and came into the house that she had been playing with Sue Peterson.

Her grandmother didn't understand exactly what she said and asked, "Did you say Peterson?" "No, no Peter's son," the little girl said, "she's a girl!"

Sign spotted in Perry Brothers' window: "Sale on Scandals."

Hey there! That's our racket.

Someone was asking us about a clean-up campaign the other day. We haven't heard and definite reports as yet, but we are confident that this city will have its annual drive. A lot can be accomplished with a united effort.

DR. PRICE R. ASHTON resigns post

DR. THEODORE NICKSICK, JR. named success.

Dr. Theodore Nicksick, Jr. Named As New President of Ranger College

Dr. Price R. Ashton has formally announced his resignation as president of Ranger College. He will be replaced by Dr. Theodore Nicksick, Jr., present director of the Guidance Center and professor of psychology at Austin College in Sherman, in June.

His resignation was accepted, with regret, by the Board of Regents which extended their best wishes to Dr. and Mrs. Ashton for their services during the past six years.

Dr. Nicksick served as Associate Dean of Students during the 1957-58 academic year at Austin College. He came there in 1957 from North Texas State College in Denton where he received his master and doctor degrees and was instructor in education and psychology from 1951 to 1957.

Ashton expressed his regrets at leaving Ranger... "because of many friends here," and then added, "It's been a pleasure to work with the faculty and Board of Regents at the college. We've worked cooperatively and well together."

His reason for leaving the teaching and administration fields was reported for "business reasons." Dr. Ashton will go into private business, the nature of which was undisclosed.

Dr. Nicksick is a member of the American Personnel and Guidance Association, the National Vocational Guidance Association, Phi Delta Kappa, School Personnel As-

TROUBLE FOR REDS IN TIBET—The world is watching the little nation of Tibet whose government has rebelled against its Communist Chinese overlords. Located in central Asia, in the heartland of the Himalaya Mountains, Tibet lies on the border of Red China. Truly on the "roof of the world." It is located some 13,000 to 15,000 feet above sea level. Pictured above, is the great Potala (Palace of Gods), at Lhasa, Tibet's capital. It is from here that a Dalai Lama has ruled his million-odd subjects for centuries. The palace numbers some 1,000 rooms, not counting outbuildings. It is built against and supported by a small mountain. Lamaism, a form of Buddhism, is the religion. Tens of thousands of monks make up the religious community of the nation, most of them housed in several great monasteries scattered throughout the land. Under the treaty recently denounced by the Tibetans, the country was governed by a Tibetan autonomous government. That was a modification of Tibet's traditional theocracy—government by priests claiming to rule with divine authority.

Hospital Volunteer Workers Are Named

By Buda B. Butler

"Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm". Emerson was right that was just the spirit shown by the men reporting for duty at the Eastland Memorial Hospital Monday and Tuesday night.

Some registered for work at a future date when there was a need for electrical work and painters but Monday and Tuesday nights were for carpenters. It was man against the elements, with electric saws buzzing and hammers flying in order to complete the roof of the newly constructed hospital wing.

The following named volunteers worked Monday night: C. W. Hoffman, Hood King, Bill Frost, Curtis Koen, Tom Stamey, Parks Poe, Curtis Young, Vernon Humphrey, Wayne Jackson, Andy Taylor, James Dabney and Don Phillips. Women's Hospital Auxiliary Hostesses — Mrs. Hood King, Mrs. C. M. McCain and Mrs. Vernon Humphrey.

Tuesday night: Bill Hoffman, Horace Horton, Herman Hassell, C. W. Hoffman, Wayne Jackson, Willie Speaker, Tom Stamey, Waverly Massengale, Herb Weaver, Parks Poe, Curtis Koen, Don Phillips and James Dabney. Hostesses: Mrs. Frank Castleberry, Mrs. R. E. Sikes, Mrs. L. A. Hightower.

Many new citizens have chosen Eastland, as their home, since the completion of The Eastland Memorial Hospital, seven years ago.

Your hospital was built by volunteer workers — in fact it is the volunteer workers who serve on the City Commission, Chamber of Commerce, School Board, Hospital Board of Directors, and the various Church and Club Boards that makes our town tick. You are welcome to join the volunteer workers and help make Eastland a better place in which to live.

Dr. Bulgerin Is Speaker For The Cancer Society

The kick-off coffee for the American Cancer Society Drive was held Tuesday morning in the First Christian Church Annex building under the leadership of Mrs. R. L. Carpenter.

Mrs. Carpenter turned the meeting over to Mrs. Roscoe Hopper from Ranger who presented a film "Time and Two Women." Aubrey Van Hoy ran the film. This film was originally for women only and deals with cancer of the cervix and the prevention and cure thereof. The film will be shown in Abilene and a panel of doctors will answer any questions that the attending audience may have.

Fishermen Urged To Compete In Fishing Tourney

Fishermen in the area are urged by Chamber of Commerce heads in Ranger and Eastland to register for the fishing tournament to be held at Lake Leon, April 19.

Chamber Managers R. V. "Rip" Galloway of Ranger and Herb Tanner of Eastland requested that registration be completed right away.

Membership cards in the Fort Worth Anglers Club, required to compete in the events, and registration blanks are available at both Chamber offices, at O. D. Quarles Lodge at the lake, and Lake Warden Eb Richardson.

In Ranger, cards and blanks are also available at Vaughn Home & Auto Supply, L & J Supply Co., Arterburn's Hardware and Montgomery Ward.

In Eastland, they are available at Bruce Pipkin Sport Center.

Entry fee is $2 per member and membership fees are $2 each. Two men will fish to a boat as a team, competing for one of 24 trophies and for merchandise prizes. Ranger and Eastland merchants are donating prizes.

Buster Graham Is Employed by Sport Center

Buster Graham, who recently completed six months Army training at Fort Chaffee, Ark., is now employed at Bruce Pipkin's Sport Center.

Graham urged all his friends to drop by and visit him.

Ranger Wins District 7-AA Golf Crown

For the fourth consecutive season, the Ranger High School golf team wrapped up the District 7-AA championship. They beat out Coleman by 44 strokes to take honors in the district match held in Balinger Wednesday.

Team members, coached by Boone Yarbrough, won the event with a score of 244.

Gary Bradshaw, a sophomore, and Tommy Warford, senior, tied for medalist honors at 79 each. In the play-off, Bradshaw beat out Warford on the first hole.

Lee King, senior, earned 86 and John Merritt, freshman, took 100. Winters came in third, behind Coleman, and Ballinger took fourth place in District play.

Ranger won the right to play in regional competition at Lubbock next week end. Yarbrough was undecided about entering, since King is to undergo an operation this week. Tommy Robinson is an alternate player.

In 1955, Ranger took the state championship in golf and the following year placed third. Last year, the team lost out in regional play.

Garrett Urges Lions to Do Acts of Kindness

Clyde Garrett, former U.S. congressman, Tuesday told Eastland Lions that the important thing is not "how we make a living, but how we make a life."

Garrett, speaking at the regular noon luncheon of the club in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church, urged his listeners to seek out the little things they can do. He said not everyone can accomplish big things, but everyone can do little things. He said these should be "unselfish acts... things not done for reward."

Program chairman for the day was David Fry.

President Clyde Young named a four man committee to nominate new officers for the coming year. Serving on the committee will be Homer Smith, J. T. Gregory, James Reid and E. E. Freyschlag.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

It is an experience that every American should have — to visit the State Capitol of Virginia, a beautiful white building with stately columns, atop a hill surrounded by grassy slopes. The structure was based upon the design of an ancient temple in Nimes, France. The plaster model which Thomas Jefferson sent from France can be seen in the rotunda. So as not to break the classic lines of the building, the dome is beneath the roof.

In the center of the rotunda is Houdon's marble figure of Washington; and in niches are busts of the eight Virginia-born presidents. I could have named Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe and Wilson but did not know, or had forgotten, that William Henry Harrison, Tyler and Taylor were born in the Old Dominion.

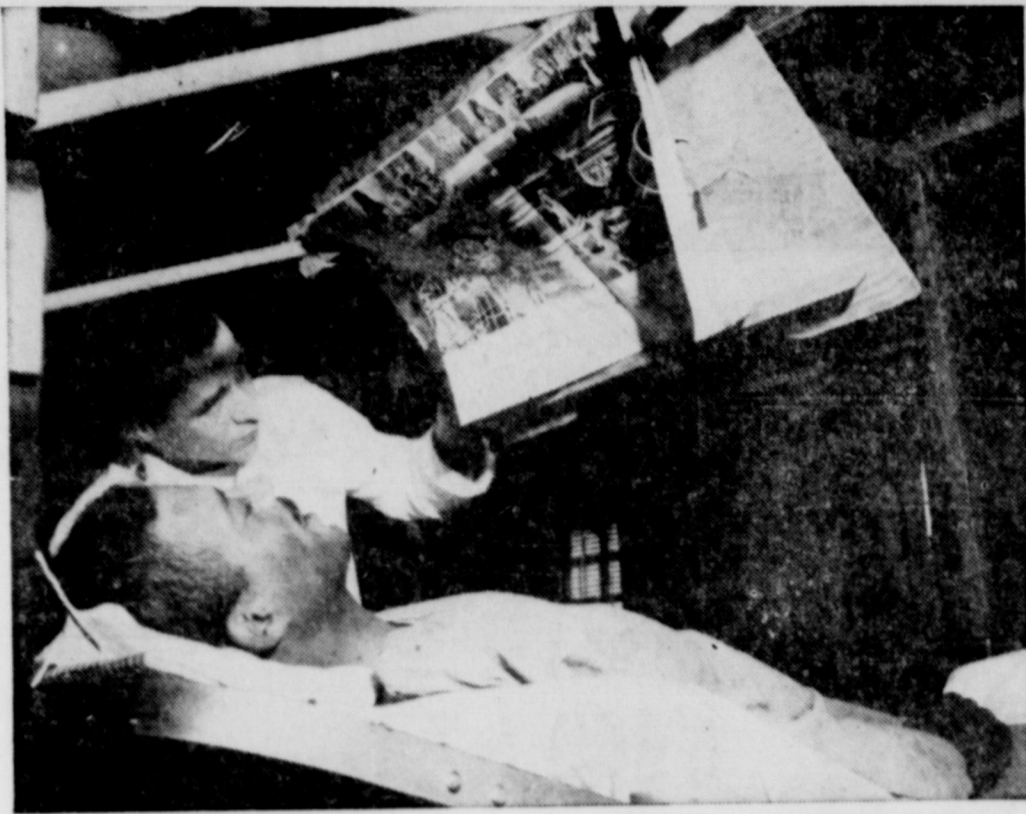

The Old Hall of the House of Delegates was astir the day I was there for, in a little while, ceremonies honoring the 150th anniversary of the birth of Jefferson Davis were to be held. A statue of Robert E. Lee marks the spot where he stood as he accepted command of the forces of Virginia. There is a statue also of Henry Clay as well as full figures or busts of other great native sons, including Sam Houston, in this hall. It was here that the treason trial of Aaron Burr was held, Chief Justice John Marshall presiding. In the old Senate Chamber, the Confederate Senate met; and here the body of Stonewall Jackson lay in state.

In one town, I bought a box of apple candy. Well, I'd never heard of apple candy, either. As I sent it to a friend in Texas, I'm unable to report what it tasted like but no doubt it was good.

Virginia is a land of beauty, the highway from Richmond to the Tennessee line offering a succession of vistas of mountains, valleys, groves, cattle grazing in meadows, a log house beside a stream — all this arched by a blue sky adorned with white clouds. No wonder Lee loved the state so much and that so many of her sons were willing to die in the defense of Virginia.

READING AID—Private First Class Richard E. Trudeau of Worcester, Mass., a therapist at the Army hospital, Fort Dix, N. J., shows a patient how to use his do-it-yourself reading device he made from a few pieces of wood and plastic to help relieve patients' boredom.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

OMAR BURLISON, M. C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Under the provisions of legislation in the last Congress, there will be five experimental plants built in the United States to convert salt water to fresh water. A new lower cost method has been developed since 1957 at a plant located in North Carolina. Experiments in a small plant near Wichita Falls have produced most satisfying results.

Of the five plants to be built by the Federal Government, one will be located on the Atlantic Seaboard, one on the Pacific, and one on the Gulf Coast. The other two plants will be located inland to convert "brackish" water to fresh water. West Central Texas certainly has an abundance of brackish water to convert. Efforts are being made to convince officials of the Department of the Interior of the feasibility of locating such a plant in the 17th Congressional District. Competition with this effort is not only provided by other areas in the State of Texas, but by New Mexico, Oklahoma and many others. The first reaction by the Department of the Interior is that Texas will likely have a salt water plant on the Gulf and that another would not be located in the State. Regardless of this discouraging logic, efforts will be continued to get both plants for Texas.

The idea that two plants should not be located in Texas follows the pattern of what is often said about Texas in Washington. We are criticized for having been favored over other States to what many believe is to their disadvantage. This is often heard with reference to military installations, and particularly air bases. The fact that we have more to offer in weather and other conditions seemingly is not convincing enough.

Speaking of resources in Texas, both human and economic those of us only a short distance away forget that almost the entire world supply of helium gas is located within a 250-mile radius of Amarillo. It is of the highest strategic importance to our Nation's Atomic Energy Program and in outer space experiments. It is used in welding light metals for jet aircraft, rockets and for other purposes for which there is no adequate substitute. It is used for refrigerating other gasses in a highly developed scientific way. From reports, the supply produced near Amarillo is limited and may not last more than 20 to 30 years longer. There has been some indication that the Congress may be asked to institute some sort of conservation program for storing and recovering about 3 billion cubic feet of helium. The Interior Department has proposed new plants to be located on helium gas pipe lines, in an effort to recover that lost each year in natural gas transmission for fuel to areas far removed from Amarillo. It is certainly important to conserve all natural resources, and especially this one for which the supply is seriously limited, as related to its present day consumption.

Likewise, it is vitally important that we practice the very best water and soil conservation possible. These resources will not be with us for always unless we handle them with care.

This matter of converting salt water and brackish water to fresh water at a cost we can afford to pay, certainly could be a boon to dry West Texas.

Due to the fact I expect to spend the week following Easter in my Congressional District, this column will not appear next week.

HOMESTEAD MAY BE SOLD FOR TAXES
 Many Texans have the mistaken impression that their homestead cannot be seized and sold for delinquent taxes. In many cases, this idea has led to considerable grief and monetary loss which could have been avoided. A homestead should be rendered to tax assessors like any other property, and taxes assessed against it should be paid as faithfully as those on any other taxable property.

by the County Tax Collector. Under the Texas Constitution, each family is entitled to claim one piece of real property as their homestead. This claim must be established by an affidavit filed with the county tax assessor on or before April 30, each and every year. This affidavit must be filed by the owner himself. A lending agency cannot do so, even though it may actually pay the annual taxes thereon from a fund created by the owner's monthly installments.

When the homestead affidavit is properly filed, the owner becomes entitled to an exemption of State taxes up to the value of $3,000 or 200-acres in the case of farm lands. This is an exemption from payment, not a complete exemption from rendition and assessment. There is no similar exemption with reference to the city taxes, or to county taxes, except in certain counties levying a special 30 cent farm-to-market and lateral road tax.

The homestead claimed for tax purposes need not be the property which is actually occupied by the owner as his residence. When the homestead affidavit is not filed by April 30, the taxpayer loses his right to the $3,000 or 200-acre exemption, and consequently becomes liable for more taxes than he would otherwise be required to pay.

Property taxes are assessed against the person who is the record owner of each piece of real and personal property on the first day of January of each year. Individuals purchasing property during the year should make sure that the taxes for all previous years have been paid. Otherwise, the purchaser may be forced to pay hundreds of dollars in delinquent taxes to protect his property. Unpaid taxes create a lien against the property which can be enforced regardless of change of ownership.

One should also keep in mind to make some arrangement for the previous owner to pay his pro-rata share of taxes for the current year. Otherwise, the buyer may find it necessary to pay the entire taxes for that year.

When taxes are not paid by the deadline prescribed for the particular taxing unit (city, county, State or district), monetary penalties and interest are added from month to month. In addition, the property becomes subject to seizure and sale to satisfy the tax lien. This lien applies to all property, whether homestead or not.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH
 A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.
HENRY A. HOLLER, M.D., Consultant

You're 16, and just when you wanted to look your best you break out with a new crop of pimples. Discouraging? Yes, but not a permanent tragedy.

In nine of ten cases acne will disappear without treatment by your mid-20's. But why wait, when you can do something about it now?

The most important thing is to wash your face with soap and warm water at least three times daily. Why? Because at your age oil glands are over active and tend to clog pores. Result: Pimples and blackheads.

So it's just common sense to wash often to rid your skin of excess oil and dirt and to help remove the plugs. Cosmetic cleansing creams, incidentally, are not nearly as effective as soap and water. In fact, some of them make acne worse by plugging up already clogged pores.

Your trouble might be particularly items of food. So unless you are sure they do not cause flare ups, your physician will probably suggest that you watch out for: Chocolate in any form such as candy, cookies, cake, ice cream sodas, sauces, cola drinks. Instead, stick to vanilla or fruit flavored sodas and soft drinks, white cakes and cookies.

Nuts, especially peanut and peanut butter, are capable of causing skin eruptions. Sharp cheese won't help your acne either, but cream or cottage cheeses are usually okay.

Shellfish or salt water fish, and melons can be aggravating to acne. Woolen clothing next to bare skin might cause your neck or back to break out. If so, the solution is simple—don't wear wool except as an outer garment.

The bromides in cold pills, nerve medicines and sedatives cause skin difficulties for some people. So can iodine in cough syrup and table salt.

Lacasa Lines
 Mrs. D. B. Raney

New Hope Baptist Church is observing Youth Week this week with the following young people in charge of the different activities:

Ernest Stuard, pastor; Charles Veale, chorister and teacher of the men's class; Ann Raney, pianist and Training Union director; Suzanne Mitchell, teacher of the Gleaners Sunday School class; Frances Veale, teacher of the Searchers Sunday School class; and Linda Mitchell, Sunday School Superintendent.

The young people led the Wednesday night prayer services and will also lead cottage prayer meetings Thursday and Saturday nights in preparation for the Youth-led revival to be held April 12 through April 19. Charles Massee of Ranger will be the Evangelist and Larry Boyer of Fort Worth the Singer, with Ann Raney as pianist.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Miller announce the birth of a grandson to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Miller of Ranger. The baby has been named Michael.

The ladies of the Lacasa Community Club met and quilted Thursday.

New Hope Baptist Church met Monday night for Missionary organization night. Mrs. John Gray was in charge of WMU, Mrs. D. B. Raney of G.A.'s, Rev. Frank Brooks of R.A.'s, Gaillard McGowan of Brotherhood, and Mrs. Frank Brooks of Sunbeams. The Brotherhood worked on the Elementary auditorium.

Don't expect the blemishes to disappear overnight. If you follow these suggestions for three or four months and your acne hasn't improved, your family physician, or a specialist he will recommend, will probably prescribe internal and external medicines for your particular case.

So between you and your doctor, you have a much better than even chance of having a clean, clear complexion in time for the first big dance of the new school year next fall. It's well worth working for. (A weekly feature of the Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

Who's on Who's Back—
 ... is a timely question in insurance circles. Every insurance buyer should know that he is helping to carry the load inflicted by the careless driver ... the homeowner who allows hazards to exist on his premises ... the person who abuses the broken glass privilege ... the householder who overloads electrical circuits ... the juror who allows himself to be swayed by emotional pleas for sympathy ... to name only a few which cause premiums to rise. When an insured loss occurs, the cost must be reflected in the premiums you pay in the future. So do your part to help prevent needless claims. Join the drive to keep needless insurance costs down ... not to run them up.
