AT RANGER BANQUET

Morrow tells Scouters that Character is Key to Success

The Annual Northeast District Scouter Banquet held at the National Guard Armory in Ranger Tuesday night, drew the largest turnout the annual affair has ever had, with over 160 guests being present.

The banquet is an annual event held each year honoring the Den Mothers, Cubmasters, Scoutmasters and Explorer Advisors from the four-county district.

The district has a total of 15 Cub Packs with 373 Cub Scouts; 24 Scout Troops with 422 Boy Scouts and seven Packs with 109 Explorer Scouts. There are several hundred adults that work directly and indirectly with these 46 units and 904 boys.

Jack Merrill of Breckenridge, District Chairman, was master of ceremonies. The Flag Ceremony and Pledge was conducted by Troop 15 of Ranger and a special Indian dance was performed by members of Scout Troop 10 of Ranger.

Bobby Morrow, noted track and Olympic star, was guest speaker. He was introduced by Coach Jackson, Abilene Christian College track coach. Morrow gave a very inspirational talk on character building, and also a vivid account of the Olympic Games. His talk on character building stressed five points, self control and development of a healthy body, determination, spirit, sportsmanship and faith. He closed with a formula for success, which he said could be described in one word "Character."

Morrow is one of only a few to ever win three gold medals for his country in the Olympic Games.

A Scouters Key award was presented to James D. Horn of Eastland for his outstanding work in the scouting program.

Fiftieth Anniversary Achievement awards for completing the "Round-Up" program was presented to the following adults: Gene Porter of Stephenville, Cubmaster of Pack 7; John Dowd of Gorman, Cubmaster of Pack 8; Clarence Eden of Breckenridge, Cubmaster of Pack 20; E. E. Mulliner of Cisco, Cubmaster of Pack 27; Pat Collins of Ranger, Cubmaster of Pack 34; Freddie Bennett of Ranger, Scoutmaster of Troop 10; James Horn of Eastland, Scoutmaster of Troop 6; Duane Dennis of Ranger, Scoutmaster of Troop 15; Werner Bendorf of Breckenridge, Scoutmaster of Troop 17; Marvin Porter of Breckenridge, Scoutmaster of Troop 20; Duane Oakes of Bluff Dale, Scoutmaster of Troop 21; and James Fox of Breckenridge, Scoutmaster of Troop 99.

Recognition was given to the Scout advancement for the district during the past year. This advancement was highlighted by a total of six Eagle Scout ranks being earned in the District. The Eagle Scout rank is the highest rank a scout can attain.

Reports of committees were given and installation of Northeast District officers was held. Aaron Cooperman of Breckenridge is the new District Chairman.

The Comanche Trail Council's annual dinner meeting was announced for December 8, to be held in Brownwood.

The Closing Ceremony was given by Troop 15 of Ranger.

of the Texas Safety Association, and associate director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Inc. Evans said copies of the Governor's proclamation and other information would go to all TSA district officers, and the Association would make a statewide effort to secure the cooperation of as many local pastors and churches as possible.

Governor Daniel concluded: "For the past three years, our statewide holiday campaign has been saving lives over the official predictions of the number of deaths expected. Throughout this year, the number of traffic deaths has been smaller, month by month, than last year. However, since December is one of the deadliest months in the year in Texas traffic, we must continue our efforts to stop the slaughter. Human life should be more precious to us because of the special nature of the holidays just ahead."
