The playing area of a football field measures 300 feet by 160 feet.

The United States currency measures about 2 1/4 inches by 6 1/4 inches.

If a football field was completely covered with one dollar bills, then a layer of two dollar bills, then a layer of five dollar bills, then a layer of ten dollar bills, then a layer of twenty dollar bills, then a layer of fifty dollar bills, then a layer of hundred dollar bills, then a layer of five hundred dollar bills, then a layer of one thousand dollar bills, then on top of these nine layers of paper money, dump 9,996 tons of silver dollars - the money on that football field would represent the economic loss we suffered in Texas for the year 1972.

The $1,035,000,000 estimated loss for this one year would buy:

- 10,000 homes at $30,000 each
- 10,000 refrigerators at $400 each
- 10,000 electric ranges at $350 each
- 10,000 TV sets at $500 each
- 10,000 dishwashers at $300 each
- 10,000 automobiles at $3,000 each
- 10,000 central air conditioning at $1,400 each and furnish the head of each of the 10,000 households with a bank account of $67,550.

Quilting Bee Puts Cash In Library Hope Chest

A gift which grew out of the Centennial Celebration helped increase the fund of its namesake, the Centennial Memorial Library, this week to $18,905.

The money was that obtained from the sale of the Centennial quilts made under the sponsorship of the Civic League and Garden Club. Mrs. Cora Davis and Mrs. Marene Johnson were in charge of the quilting session, designing and laying out the quilts which were made by volunteers at the Centennial Center.

The Las Leales Club added its name to the list of contributors as did a number of individuals.

The building committee headed by Dan Childress met Thursday in the conference room of the building at 210 South Lamar to make preliminary plans for the library which will be at that address. The exterior of the building will have a Spanish design.

Information will be gathered and more detailed reports given at the next meeting on air conditioning, electrical needs, carpeting, roofing and other improvements.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER
By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

One morning a boy named Farady thrust his arms and head through an iron gate. As he looked at himself he laughingly said, "My head and hands are on one side, but my heart and body are on the other."

Before he could free himself a stranger came along and pushed the gate with all his strength, and Farady never forgot that painful wrench.

Later in life, when he became a great chemist, he said, "That experience taught me one thing. My head and hands should be on the same side."

There was another famous man who felt that way, and he wrote in Psalm 110:3, "Thy people shall be willing in the day of Thy power." The word "willing" means "a freewill offering." The verse could be rendered, "Thy people shall be a freewill offering."

That is the meaning of consecration. It is the voluntary surrender of the heart and hands to the Lord. It is to say to Him, "Lord Jesus, I put myself unreservedly in Thy hands; now do with me just what Thou wilt."

When one does that, the Lord, who is infinite love, infinite wisdom and infinite power, does the very best thing with and for that one. Care to try?

REX BONEY, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene C. Boney, 501 S. Bassett participated in Football four years; Lettered two years; Jr. Play stage crew; Sr. Play stage crew; Basketball two years; "E" Association for two years; Thespian Club; Spanish Club; Fire theme winner his freshman and junior years; Library staff his Senior year; He plans to attend Cisco Jr. College.

BERETTE BROWN 18 year old daughter of Mr and Mrs. Lawson C. Brown, of 404 E. Sadosa, participated in FHA four years, FHA officer, Junior Year, Spanish Club, three years, Library Staff, 3,4, Office Staff, Senior Year, Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award, Merit's Who's Who Among American High School Students. Berette plans to further her education in a junior college then attend Texas Woman's University with a major in Home Economics and a minor in Sociology.

"On Memorial Day, we honor those who have died defending our freedom," Mrs. Bourdeau said. "They have died for a noble cause and we should never forget their sacrifice. But what of those millions who have died needlessly of heart attack, stroke and related heart diseases? We should also remember them with a gift of love that helps in our day-to-day fight against our nation's Number 1 Killer, heart disease."

"Group memorials can be made by groups such as office personnel, unions, clubs, and organizations," continued Mrs. Bourdeau.

Mrs. Bourdeau went on to explain that memorial giving is a dignified means whereby individuals and groups may pay lasting tribute to the memory of loved ones. Gordon's pot

by DeMarquis Gordon

There will be a premium price on peaches this year. There is no doubt about it, those growers that escaped extensive freeze damage this year will get top dollar for their product.

Dr. Earl Puls, Extension Horticulturist, tells us that number-one early peaches are now selling for $10.00 to $20.00 per half-bushel. And, in many areas, despite heavy hail damage, culls are selling at what were formerly No. 1 prices.

Many peach growers who thought their peaches escaped the freeze are now seeing delayed shedding. Much of their shedding can be attributed to the earlier freeze of April.

You may find that despite an otherwise healthy appearing peach, the kernel (embryo) of the seed have been killed and are brown and discolored. This type damage usually results in immediate shedding of the fruit. But, don't be fooled because some varieties will hold their fruit longer than others following a freeze. Upon investigation you may find that the seed or kernel is damaged, but the fruit still stuck on the tree a month or more after a damaging freeze.

The freeze may not have damaged the pecan crop as much as we had earlier believed. After the freeze, the terminal buds growth was forced out on the primary shoots below the freeze damage. This new growth also contains flowering parts which results in pecans.

Although the top soil is getting pretty dry we do have good deep soil moisture in most parts of the county. Because of this there is lots of hope for a good hay crop this year.

Following a few simple guidelines makes high-quality hay-making easy.

Fertilization and timely harvesting are the two main factors affecting hay quality.

Fertilizer is a necessity on most Eastland County soils. Plants grown with adequate fertilizer contain more nutrients and leaves than those grown under low fertility conditions.

Harvesting hay at the proper stage of growth is important. As hay crops advance from vegetative to reproductive stages, they become progressively lower in protein content and in appeal to livestock. Stems increase and there are fewer leaves and digestible parts.

Hay quality also depends on the type of plants from which it is made. Although alfalfa is higher in protein and mineral, grass hay can be improved.

Weed control helps. Weeds decrease hay quality by adding objectionable tastes and odors and reducing livestock acceptability.

Growth conditions influence hay quality. Hay grown during a drouth may be stunted and less leafy. Excessive moisture can produce leaf diseases, reducing the crop's leafiness.

Curing conditions are equally important to hay quality. Excess drying in the field before the hay is raked into windrows causes a loss of many brittle leaves in the raking operation. Crushing or conditioning the grass stems at mowing time permits rapid drying and eliminates raking - an operation which often shatters many leaves and mixed dust with the hay.

Hay baled and stored before proper drying will likely develop a musty, moldy odor.

Molds may be toxic to animals feeding on the forage.

We are planning to have a hay show here on September 25, 1973. This will be a good opportunity for hay producers to measure the quality of their hay.

Now is the time to control the pecan nut casebearer in Eastland County, according to County Extension Agent, De Gordon.

Judging from the hatch-out of pupae of the pecan nut casebearer and grove observations, indications are that sprays should be applied from May 25 to June 1 to pecan trees for the control of the first generation of pecan nut casebearers, said Gordon.

The insecticides that can be used for the control of these casebearers are Guthion, Solone, Sevin, Malathion, and Toxaphene. Use these insecticides according to directions given on the label of the container.

Thorough coverage is essential for the control of this insect. Be sure that the spray is applied to the tree to the point of run-off.

To determine the need for a second application of spray, watch for egg-laying. If egg-laying continues for four or five days after the first application, a second should be applied 7 to 10 days later.

Zinc sulfate should be added to your spray solution. Zinc is necessary food for pecan trees. It improves the foliage thereby improving the health and beauty of the trees.

If pecan scab or other pecan disease are usually a problem a fungicide should also be added to the spray solution. Some recommended fungicides are Duter, Cypres, and Polyram.

THE LIGHT TOUCH

A taxpayer is a guy who works hard and saves his money. A politician is a guy who, were it not for the taxpayer, would have to do the same.

It's a mystery how the other half lives, the way the other half drives.

Hospital room: A place where friends of the patient go to talk to other friends of the patient.

Nowadays, prosperity only means you're not as broke this month.

We know every living creature has a purpose in Nature, but it's hard to keep that in mind while being bitten by a mosquito.

Keep us in mind at Bray's in Eastland and Ranger for the service that keeps you humming.

Our customers suggested some changes in our bill form. And we've made them.

Our new bill form is quite different from our old one. It has been specifically designed to give you more information and to make it easier for you to communicate with us. And it's a direct result of suggestions made by our customers and efforts by us to continue giving you better service.

Many of you felt it would be helpful to know the exact number of days covered by each bill. The new bill does just that. It gives you both the date of your most recent meter reading, and the date of the previous reading.

Another thing you asked us to do is to include our office address and phone number. Now it's right there on the front.

We've also moved the space provided for comments, requests, criticisms or suggestions to the front of the portion of the bill you return to us — completely separate from the part you keep.

We think you'll find these and other changes in the bill very helpful, and we appreciate your help in designing a better bill form.

If you have any questions about the new bill form, just give us a call. Or jot them right on your bill when you send it back.

From The Living Bible
John replied, "Don't extort money by threats and violence; don't accuse anyone of what you know he didn't do; and be content with your pay!" Everyone was expecting the Messiah to come soon, and eager to know whether or not John was he. This was the question of the hour, and was being discussed everywhere. John answered the question by saying, "I baptize only with water; but someone is coming soon who has far higher authority than mine; in fact, I am not even worthy of baptizing his slave. He will baptize you with fire—with the Holy Spirit."

LVN Course To Begin July 1 In V-T Division

The 1973-74 Licensed Vocational Nursing Course at Cisco Junior College will begin shortly after July 1, according to an announcement by Russell Lyons, Dean of the Vocational-Technical Division of CJC.

Lyons stated that the course would be open to any interested person, male or female, who has a high school diploma or who can establish a high school equivalency through the taking of a General Educational Development (GED) Test. The GED can be administered through the CJC vocational counselor, Mr. Lyons said.

The course runs one year, and the total cost to each student is approximately $360, Lyons said. It begins with work in the class room and gradually develops into a combination of classroom-hospital activity. The class utilizes both Graham Memorial Hospital in Cisco and Eastland Memorial Hospital during the course of study. No additional expenses beyond the approximate $360 will be encountered by the students, and even uniforms and books are included, he said.

Instructor of the course is Mrs. Maydell Bahr, R.N. Interested persons may contact her or may write or telephone Mr. Lyons or Mrs. Naydine Knight, vocational counselor, at Cisco Junior College, area
