

Happenings In Rural Communities

MOORE

The Fourth of July picnic here was a real success in spite of the excessive heat. Several hundred friends and neighbors from this and surrounding communities gathered in the morning for the midday baseball game played by boys eleven years and younger. Other features of the morning program was a sack race for the boys which was won by Bill Newton; an egg contest won by the same boy; and a three-legged race for the men which was won by Emmett Hogue and Bill Barber.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phillips and daughter Arak, and Mrs. Roy Phillips of Knott were all Wednesday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phillips, Jr., of Knott. Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Rowland and daughter Barbara Ann of Big Spring and Bill Rowland of this community made a business trip to Austin and San Antonio last Thursday and Friday.

Misses Ruby Helen, and Betty

Ray Fryar of the Highway community were visitors in this community Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Leatherwood visited in the W. H. Ward home Tuesday night. Misses Earlene and Bessie Maud Miller have accepted positions at the state hospital.

ANOTHER GLASS? RIGHT! LIPTON'S ICED TEA SURE HAS MORE FLAVOR, MOTHER! AND HOW IT COOLS YOU OFF WHEN YOU'RE HOT AND THIRSTY!

I GUESS WE ALL LIKE LIPTON'S BETTER, TOM, AND IT'S REALLY ECONOMICAL—I GET MORE THAN 200 GLASSES FROM A POUND!

HERE'S why Lipton's is America's most popular tea: 1. World-Famous Flavor—smooth, full, rich, delicious. 2. Tender Young Leaves—and luscious, flavorful buds—give extra fragrance and bouquet. 3. Distinctive Blend—with choice tea from Lipton's own Ceylon gardens. 4. Economical—you use less Lipton's per glass—it's so rich in flavor.

Lipton's Tea "REFRESHES"

THE ENTIRE COST OF THE C.C.C. COULD BE PAID FOR BY THE TAXES OF THE BREWING INDUSTRY! The Treasury Department shows expenditures of $26 million dollars for the Civilian Conservation Corps for the fiscal year of 1938. The brewing industry pays over a million dollars a day in taxes.

What Beer contributes to the re-building of America would fill a great volume. Over 400 million dollars in taxes every year. Over 1,000,000 jobs. A market for 3,000,000 farm acres of produce.

PHYSICIAN SUPPORTS JEFFER'S DENIALS

LOS ANGELES, July 6 (AP)—A physician aided today in defense of the Rev. Joseph Jeffers and his wife, Zella, accused of morals offenses.

Dr. T. E. Zinkman testified it is "possible" individuals under influence of drugs could be lured into staging immoral exhibitions, such as those which the state charges took place in the Jeffers home between the evangelist and his wife.

The Jeffers have testified a district attorney's investigator placed a white powder in liquor which they were induced to drink, representing that it would counteract the alcohol. Instead, they assert, they were rendered insensible and had no recollection of their activities after that time.

Gambling On Cotton

Two kinds of gambling, maybe three kinds, are done with cotton, and none of the three is beneficial to the producer.

Recently, because of lack of desirable grades of cotton on the market, some producers have withdrawn cotton from the government loan pool...

Unless those who have loan cotton which can be sold at the moderate profit possible at present take advantage of the opportunity, they are likely to find that they waited too long.

Man About Manhattan

And that, my bewildered reader, is a verbatim collection of the cries—the sounds in the night—you get along East Fourteenth street, between Fifth and Third avenues.

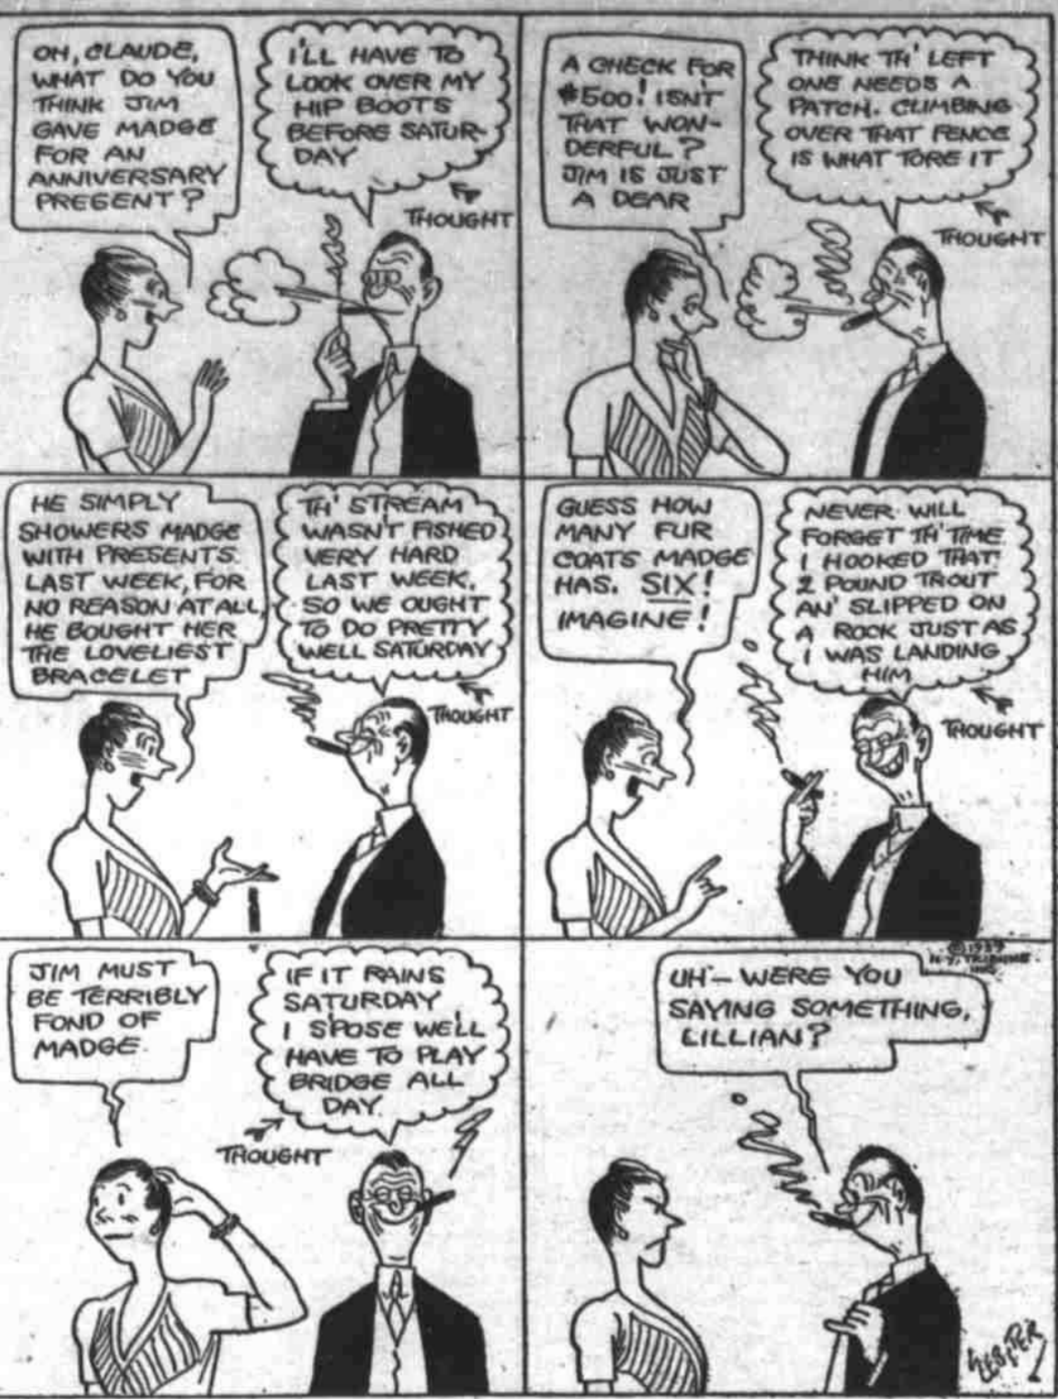

Some men rise to patriotism, or nearly so, unawares. I myself am one of these. It happened in a restaurant after the big fight, and I happened to glance up and see Frederic March with a four-inch hand the similar to the one I had on.

A friend of mine, returning by rail coach from the Midwest, found at her seatmate out of Cleveland a Burton-wedged man in perhaps her seventh summer.

Are You Listening?

FOUR BLIND DATES

By Edwin Rutt

Chapter 27 TEMPORARY TRUCE "I know what I'll do," said Packy, with decision.

"You'd look great with your husband in jail, wouldn't you?" "Husband. The day I marry you Long Island Sound will turn to ink."

"If you hadn't broken your date with me for tonight in a very unspatsmanlike manner this wouldn't have happened."

"Unspatsmanlike? What could have been more unspatsmanlike than the way you forced me into the date in the first place?"

"Now, listen! At great risk, I rescued you from the slaver's jaws of an infuriated beast. Instead of falling on my neck as a well-bred young lady should, you acceded to my request for a date in a most ungracious manner."

"You are the most long-winded person."

"I resent that. I am a copious thinker. To resume, you gave me the slip in a most unworthy fashion, leaving me alone and unarmed with probably the most dangerous dog in New York."

"You haven't got a side, and incidentally, it might interest you to know that I love you."

"You are without doubt the coldest woman I have ever met," said Tacks very seriously. "You just naturally break a guy's heart."

"That's the trouble with you," she complained. "Every time I get a generous impulse in your direction, you kill it immediately with some smart remark. I started to say that I didn't want to be too hard on you. You have, of course, annoyed me terribly for some time, but I... oh, well, if it will make you feel any better, I—I don't actively dislike you. In fact, there was a time—just once—when I was almost on the verge of liking you."

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Baiting a trap with many kinds of bait will get many kinds of game, and that is the policy followed by the silver senators to gain enough support for silver money legislation.

Every bit of silver legislation that has passed in the recent half dozen years has been accompanied by other monetary or economic legislation to attract votes.

If this sounds cunning and calculating and a bit unethical, remember that nearly every major piece of legislation is a compromise of views. In the Senate and in the House there are several groups advocating different ways of manipulating the currency to bring about economic improvements.

That is exactly what was done in 1933 and again in those exciting days at the end of June this year when the Senate seemed to be kicking mighty high over the traces to vote for an increased rice for silver and withdrawal of the President's power to devalue the dollar.

In the Senate there never have been more than 12 to 15 senators in the "silver bloc." Acting alone they could not have secured a dime's worth of silver legislation. But when silver is up they hang together like a battalion of death.

Still others, like Connally of Texas, wanted to cut the gold value of the dollar. So that was included. As for silver, the bill gave the President authority to buy silver and monetize it at any ratio to gold he chose.

Enough senators wanted all or part of that bill to insure its passage. For a time some New Deal figures were frightened, but President Roosevelt saw the value to his administration of the authority to issue currency and devalue the gold dollar.

TREATY HELPFUL Influenced by the same forces, the administration agreed to let Senator Pittman negotiate a silver treaty with 66 nations in 1933 designed to increase the value and use of silver as money.

But the Treasury bought only U. S. silver, at 64.64 cents an ounce. For silver money men that was not enough. They wanted the U. S. to lead the world in establishing silver on a higher money plane.

This June, silver men feared the Treasury was going to let the price for U. S. silver sag from 64.64 to the world price of 43. No go, said they. Again they needed outside support.

The silver men were looking to summer tourist travel, not yet at its height, to bolster their until now disappointing takes. The movie exhibitors, and Hollywood which depends on them, are looking as usual to each other.

It's about time, in the order of things, for another outraged exhibitors' list of "box-office poison" stars. (Hint: One exhibitor recently put forth his opinion that Shirley Temple, of all people, is "washed up.")

It's about time, too, for Hollywood to set up its perennial plaint about insufficient revenue from theaters, mounting costs of production, too little profit. (Voice from the balcony: "How much is too little? What about Louise's salary?")

The various picture companies have been indulging in the annual pep sessions known as sales conventions, gala occasions on which bigwigs prate about the super-super that are coming up from the home lot to lift the dear exhibitor's mortgage come October.

And then there's the school that insists the business won't pick up until the general average of admission price is lowered. They hold (and rightly) that a working family man will take more kindly to the movie habits of old—attendance at least once a week—when he can pass the box-office without being relieved of half or more of a $5 bill (if he has a wife and three children). On the other hand, there are a lot of 30-cent theaters where that family man can go for a half a buck—if the family feels like it, and doesn't mind "old" pictures.

The old cry—"good pictures will cure bad box-office"—is raised constantly. Lately the crop of outstandingly good pictures has been poor. You hear about the "epic" coming up, but the preview screen (where the summer's releases are dress-rehearsed) has seen little compelling fare. The run of pictures is light, summery stuff of varying dullness or interest.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—The melancholy days are come, the saddest of the year—for exhibitors and show business in general.

From coast to coast, from north to south, the entertainment world (if you can believe reports) has been leaning heavily on its wailing wall. Broadway shudders as most of its plays collapse, night club owners in Hollywood as on Broadway cry into their soda pop.

The fairs are looking to summer tourist travel, not yet at its height, to bolster their until now disappointing takes. The movie exhibitors, and Hollywood which depends on them, are looking as usual to each other.

The Sports Parade

By HANK HART

A recent news story sent from Alpine recently relates to the effect that the Sul Ross College Lobos will open their 1939 football schedule with Abilene Christian college in a game at Big Spring Sept. 30 but according to J. B. Collins, who with his brother, Alfred, agreed to underwrite the guarantee for the chamber of commerce, all contracts for the game have not been signed.

It seems that an agreement was drawn up locally by the game committee and dispatched to B. C. Graves, Sul Ross coach, who, unsusited with the terms, edited a new one, forwarded it here.

Collins stated recently that he expected the game to be played here, however, would work toward an early settlement of the difficulties.

Incidentally, Graves has lined up an attractive schedule for his charges. The remainder of the lineup:

- Oct. 6 - Texas A&I at Marfa.
Oct. 14 - Texas Wesleyan at Alpine.
Oct. 20 - St. Mary's at San Antonio.
Oct. 27 - Oklahoma City university at Oklahoma City.
Nov. 4 - Okla. East Central Teachers at Alpine.
Nov. 18 - West Texas State at Alpine.
Nov. 25 - Trinity at Alpine.

By the Associated Press
Things are shaping up for a tight battle among top division teams of the Texas league.

Anderson's Devils and Montgomery Ward will tangle in tonight's first game with Forsan meeting Jack Frost in the aftermath.

His staid made him the tenth pitcher this season to yield no more than two hits—which put him in some pretty select company.

The Boston Red Sox topped the Philadelphia Athletics by the same score, 6-4, with a 14-hit attack led by the sparkling Ted Williams.

The Cincinnati Reds had no trouble turning back the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-2, on Bucky Walters' four-hit pitching. It was Walters' 12th victory.

Carl Hubbell pitched three hitless innings in relief to take the sting out of the Boston Bees in a slugfest session which the Giants finally won, 11-7.

The Brooklyn Dodgers pounced on the Phillies for their third in a row, 7-1, to move into fourth place at the Pittsburgh Pirates choked off the Chicago Cubs, 10-1.

Pastor To Get Second Chance

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs said today Champion Joe Louis and Bob Pastor, the former New York University footballer, would sign for a heavyweight title match tomorrow.

Although the promoter has not decided when or where the fight will be held, the chances are it will be over the 20-round route in Detroit in September.

Jacobs also wanted to reach some decision tomorrow on the proposed Tony Galento-Lou Nova fight, also slated for this fall, but Galento was unavailable having gone to Toronto for a refereeing appearance.

Vance Randolph faced a perfect setup when he went to bat in the ninth inning of an East Texas League game last night—and he made the most of it.

With the score tied at 2-all, two men out and the bases loaded, Randolph homered to give Kilgore a 3 to 2 victory over Texarkana.

Behind going into the ninth inning, Longview scored two runs to defeat the league-leading Henderson Oilers, 6 to 7.

Palentine defeated Marshall, 7 to 1, as Grover Miller scattered seven Tiger hits.

Jacksonville collected 10 hits off three hurlers to defeat Tyler 9 to 1.

"Our football isn't quite so gentlemanly as cricket," admitted the perturbed visitor, "but still it's nothing like so rough as your baseball. The penalties are so severe a player hardly dare make a second, much less start a regular fight.

"Several times in my memory a team has gone off the deep end and handled an official roughly. Each time the secretary has closed the grounds for two or three weeks.

"What strikes me as the worst, though is the throwing of bottles," Walter continued. "If a man tried that in England he would be caught by the crowd and perhaps injured before the police could get to him."

Make Opposes Trouble Maker

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 6 (AP)—Eighteen-year-old "Deacon" Parsons of Huntington, the West Virginia tennis champion, was in a good spot today to make himself a name.

The deacon, who eliminated defending champion George Pero of Miami, Fla., in the Kentucky open tournament's first round Monday, was scheduled to play Gene Mako of the nation's No. 2 man in singles and the top-seeded tourney entrant, in the only remaining third round match.

The winner steps into the round of eight along with Frank Parker of California, seeded second; Gardner Mulloy, fourth; Frank Guernsey of Orlando, Fla., national intercollegiate champion, fifth; George Toley of Miami, sixth; Welby Van Horn of Los Angeles, seventh; Russell Bobbitt of Atlanta, Ga., eighth; and Louis Faquin of Memphis, 12th.

GEHRIG BREAKS DOWN AS 60,000 PAY TRIBUTE

Sixty thousand baseball fans rose as one at Yankee Stadium, New York, in a nightly ovation to Lou Gehrig—"Iron Horse" of baseball whose great endurance record of 139 consecutive games came to an end recently when he learned he was suffering from an unusual form of infantile paralysis.

Foreigners To Be Tough, However

Munny Course Is Busy Scene; Layout Is In Good Shape
Young stick welders of the vicinity continue to assault the Munny golf course as starting time for the second annual West Texas Junior Golf tournament, July 13-15, inclusive, nears.

Frustated in its campaign for a title in '39, the local contingent, strengthened with late additions, hopes to produce a short artist capable of shoving aside the threat of Jack Johnson, defending champion of San Angelo, who is returning for the meeting.

One of the longer hitters slated to figure prominently in the running is Jack Vaughn, Lamesa ace who spent that the title will remain here when the firing is over.

The "foreign" threats besides Johnson are many. Johnson is one of several fine prospects coming from Angelo. Glen Bean will supply the popular Bill Roden who has been shooting championship golf in numerous senior events since the season was inaugurated.

SMALL EDITION OF 'PICKABACK' PLANE—A duet performance is scheduled for above model being checked by its builder, Capt. S. T. Grant of Bournemouth, England. The model is a small-scale reproduction of the Mayo composite aircraft. In operation, the smaller machine rides on a larger one to a height of 300 feet where they separate. Each ship lands "on its own."

IN WAR ZONE—Side by side stand Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander of U. S. Pacific fleet, and Maj. Gen. Frank Keith Simmons (left), new commander of British defense in China. Both are concerned over nationals, Yarnell bluntly having told Japan that U. S. ships would go wherever necessary to protect Americans in spite of Japan's attempt to bar foreign vessels.

WINGED HISTORY—Above calm waters skims the Dixie Clipper, which recently left U. S. shores on the first scheduled commercial passenger flight of an American plane to Europe. The Dixie Clipper is one of six 41-ton flying boats designed for trans-oceanic service, two unnamed ships already flying the Pacific and the Yankee and American Clippers crossing the Atlantic.

BIG ORDER—Orders for materials and supplies worth $4,000,000 annually will be handled by perit Mrs. Edith Gaddis, newly-named purchasing agent for N. Y. Steam corp. Born in St. Joseph, Mo., Mrs. Gaddis attended Sweetbriar college.

THEIR MONEY'S WORTH—"It was a good fight," agreed Helen Wills, California's international tennis star, and her camera-shy escort, State Senator Tallant Tubbs of San Francisco—two ringfighters at the Galento-Louis fight in New York. Their names have been coupled together, romantically.

ROLE-ROLLS—As a ground-coverer Jane Wynman knows no equal, as she skates about the Hollywood film lot where she's playing "Torchy Blane" roles in a new series.

OHIOAN—The 1940 presidential sweepstakes may find Gov. John Bricker (above) of Ohio in race, believe some Republicans in Ohio, from whence came five U. S. presidents. Mr. Bricker recently visited F.D.R., along with 21 other governors.

BOVINE NEW DEAL—Importation of blooded Hereford cattle from Nevada to Jefferson county, N. Y., marks the attempt by Carl H. Frink of Clayton to determine whether the production of beef could be more profitable for N. Y. farmers than are dairy cattle. Above bull is one of the importations. Frink hopes to relieve the farmers' dependence on dairy prices.

NO TIRED FEET FOR HIM—Thousands marched and thousands stood during parades at the Shrine's national convention in Baltimore, but this Shriner from Minneapolis had it soft: he motored, towing Zuhrah temple's giant drum along line of march. Shriners chose Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls, Tex., as imperial potentate succeeding A. A. Rahn of Minneapolis.

WELL—LOOK WHO'S HERE!—Imagine the surprise of spectators along this Baltimore street when a small plane piloted by S. F. Tucker landed almost in their front yards. Baffled by rain and fog, Tucker tried to land in a field he saw through the haze, but in coming down one wing ground on a pole and the plane landed right then and there. Tucker was not injured.

TIME OUT FOR LUNCH IN TEXAS WHEAT FIELDS—While mare and man wait patiently, a five-month-old colt, not yet weaned, gets its meal in the wheat fields of the Rango brothers' 1,640-acre ranch near Justin, Tex. There the golden harvest has been on, with an acre averaging 30 to 35 bushels. Wheat harvest times in Texas spells long hours and heavy work for the men who start out at dawn, or about 5:30 a.m., and finish at sundown, or about 8 p.m. And the colts, too, must do their share until the grain is harvested.

Post Holiday Mishaps Are Fatal To Six

By the Associated Press

Six Texans died violently yesterday in the wake of a Fourth of July holiday period during which 44 were killed.

Two others died from injuries previously received.

Troy Lane Bennett, 21 months old, was injured fatally when an automobile driven by his mother, Mrs. Fred Bennett, backed over him in a cotton field 10 miles north of Anson.

V. E. Sampley was killed at Amarillo when he came into contact with high-voltage power lines while he and other utility linemen were replacing transformers.

Mrs. Maria Martin, 38, was shot to death in her San Antonio home and her estranged husband, 63, was critically wounded in a subsequent struggle with detectives, one of whom was stabbed. No motive was advanced in the woman's shooting.

James E. Marney, city sanitary department employe, was killed by sewer gas at Wichita Falls. A. O. Ewing, a fellow worker, was in a serious condition.

Dr. D. C. Wiley, 45, who was under a charge of murder in the fatal shooting of Dr. D. L. Dodd, 41, his former office partner, died in a Stamford hospital. Dr. Dodd was shot to death at Aspermont last Friday night. Later Dr. Wiley was found at his home wounded.

Mrs. Amelia Runge, 65, of Arcadia, died of injuries received in an automobile accident Tuesday night.

OCTOGENARIAN FACES MAIL FRAUD CHARGES

HOUSTON, July 6 (AP) — Aged Willard F. Main of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, today faced an $11,000 fine and a two-year suspended prison sentence as his attorneys prepared to argue a motion Saturday for a new trial.

Convicted with six associates of mail fraud conspiracy in the nationwide sale of coin-operated vending machines the 80-year-old Main was sentenced yesterday by Federal Judge James V. Allred.

His six associates, Miss Jane Slavata, E. L. Weldner, J. H. Arnold, Frank E. Machen and H. A. Vial of Cedar Rapids, and H. Pasleur of Studio City, Calif., a salesman, were given suspended sentences ranging from 18 months in prison to six months in jail.

PAYMENT OF PAST-DUE TAXES COULD RESULT IN HOLIDAY IN SOME WESTEX COUNTIES

(Herald Austin Bureau)

AUSTIN, July 6—If persons owing back taxes paid up in full, all the property holders in seven West Texas counties could take a holiday from paying taxes for school, city, county and state purposes combined for a period of from one to four years.

This is borne out by a recent report of the state auditor showing delinquent taxes outstanding as of Sept. 1, 1938, exceeded 1938 collections in the seven counties from seven to over 400 per cent.

The seven counties are Brown, Callahan, Eastland, Jones, Presidio, Reeves and Terrell. Almost in the same category were Haskell, Mitchell, Taylor, Val Verde and Ward counties where the 1938 collections barely exceeded total delinquencies.

Eastland county showed the largest amount of delinquent taxes outstanding. Property owners in that county on last Sept. 1 owed the state, the county, cities, school districts and other political subdivisions a total of $2,211,361. Collections in 1938 ran $779,401.

Reeves' Battle Heaviest

While Eastland's total of delinquencies topped the list, the ratio of back taxes to 1938 collections was higher in Reeves county. Delinquent taxes in Reeves totaled $387,908, four times more than the $206,971 collections during 1938. The ratio in Eastland was slightly more than three to one.

For the state as a whole, including counties, cities, and all other subdivisions, the auditor's report approximated delinquent taxes at $127,950,384. On the other hand collections for 1938 ran $138,990,887. This was $4,745,372 more than the amount collected during the previous year.

The following table shows total amount of property taxes—for state, county, city and school purposes—collected during the last fiscal year in each of the West Texas counties by the respective authorities, and the total amount of delinquent taxes outstanding as of Sept. 1, 1938:

County	Collec.	Delinquencies

Texas Supplies 36 Pct. Of US Natural Gas

DALLAS, July 6 — Texas furnished last year over 36 per cent of all the natural gas produced and marketed in the United States, according to a report recently completed by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association.

The development of natural gas resources in Texas has closely followed that of oil development. The Panhandle gas field is the largest natural gas reservoir in the world from which natural gas is piped to a large number of consuming states. Texas is not only the largest producer of natural gas but also the heaviest consumer, even though large volumes of gas are transported out of the state by pipeline.

Interstate movement of natural gas involves large receipts from surrounding states to offset heavy shipments of the state. Nearly 76 per cent of all the marketed natural gas production in Texas is consumed within the state for industrial and domestic purposes.

As a result of the state's large natural gas production, numerous allied industries have been created which furnish employment to thousands of Texas people. Among these are the production of natural gasoline from gas and the manufacture of carbon black from so-called "sour" gas. These allied industries along with the natural gas business, comprise a substantial part of the state's sources of tax revenue.

Since 1927, the production of natural gas in Texas has increased from 17 per cent to 36 per cent of the nation's output; natural gasoline production within the same period increased from 19 per cent to nearly 32 per cent of the national supply, while the production of carbon black has in this 11-year period shown an increase from 28 per cent to 82 per cent of the entire output of carbon black in the United States.

house via the driveway entrance. For five minutes he waited in the still night. Then his quick ear caught the sound of a door opening softly. He peered cautiously around the bush. Miss Dorothy South was slipping quietly down the steps.

At the foot of them she looked around quickly, then sped across the lawn toward the parkland. Her course was but thirty feet or so to the starboard of the Chisler's refuge and that dignitary hailed her with the utmost circumspection.

"Hest!" he said sibilantly, like an intellectual serpent.

Miss South veered toward the bush.

"Ah, Chisler," she said, beaming upon him. "So you made it. Nice work."

The Chisler waved his hand as if dismissing a trifle.

"A simple matter," he said. "Come back to where I left Collett. We must have a short conference."

"Short is right, big boy. I'm supposed to be aloft powdering my lip-lilted nose."

"We won't be long," said the Chisler. He took her arm and guided her to the spot where Collett stood scowling beneath the oak tree like the village blacksmith in a felt hat.

"Now, Dorothy," said the Chisler, "what's the layout like inside?"

"Chisler," said Miss South enthusiastically, "you wouldn't believe it. There're Orientals to set the whole of Armenia up in business. The place is absolutely overrun with swell furniture and paintings. And as I was passing the dining-room I lapped a candelabra."

"No, no," the Chisler interrupted impatiently. "I don't care about all that rubbish. Have you noticed, Dorothy, whether the place is—or—conductive to our little venture?"

"Mann said the anti-trust law prohibited two or more persons from fixing prices in any manner. Friends argued it would end unfair trade practices, including 'loss leader' sales, and protect the producer, retailer and consumer."

Woman Publisher Of Daily Paper Here In 90's Recalls Some Of Experiences With The 'Venture'

By RUTH MINTER

Exciting memories of being the publisher of an early daily paper of Big Spring when it was a tiny sleepy town are told by Mrs. Julia Barrett Brown of San Francisco, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. M. E. Barrett.

The paper, The Daily Venture, was originated by Wade Long, E. W. Pool, and Julia Barrett on December 14, 1899 as a small four page sheet, approximately 11 by 15 inches in size. With a few over a hundred subscribers who paid for cents a month, Mrs. Brown took over the paper after her partners left and published it from July 7 until December 12, 1900. Reporting, and doing the printing herself on a hand inked press, she used seven boys to distribute her paper, but otherwise had the entire responsibility.

In reminiscing Mrs. Brown said, "It being a daily paper, I was kept quite busy all the time doing the reporting and printing by myself."

She ran all of the local news, the baseball games, telephone lists, and arrivals into the old T.P. hotel, but had little cooperation from the merchants in the form of advertising.

She exchanged issues with many of the West Texas papers of the day, including the Coming West of Snyder, The Stockman of Colorado City, Gazette of Midland, Star of Baird, the Standard of San Angelo, and others.

Among the subscribers were E. Reagan, Will Hayden, J. and W. Fisher, I. D. Eddins, W. J. Inkman, R. B. Zinn, J. A. Baggett, J. I. Prichard, E. A. Wright, G. W. Hysaw, Mike Maylett, L. O. Ramsey, J. I. McDowell, L. S. McDowell, L. H. Park, Ed. Millhollen, Cliff Talbot, Grandpa Fletcher, L. I. McKay, Dr. J. E. Jiveley, J. T. L. Annis, Harry Homan, J. W. Ward, E. D. Read, and H. C. Read.

Fair Trade Act Is Killed By Governor

AUSTIN, July 6 (AP)—The battle scarred "fair trade" act was dead today, victim of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's veto pen.

The governor killed the bill yesterday, guiding his action by an opinion of Attorney General Gerald C. Mann which ruled the bill violated Texas anti-trust laws.

Authorizing retail price fixing on trademarked articles and commodities, the bill provoked stormy scenes at the recent session of the legislature.

Under its terms manufacturers and retailers could have made contracts for minimum resale prices. Only one merchant need enter an agreement to fix the price of a given commodity throughout the state for the bill stipulated any merchant underselling the fixed price—whether or not he was a party to the contract—was subject to damage suits.

Mann said the anti-trust law prohibited two or more persons from fixing prices in any manner. Friends argued it would end unfair trade practices, including "loss leader" sales, and protect the producer, retailer and consumer.
