Troop Protection Of Kentucky Miners Extended By Chandler

Detachment Is Stationed In Bell County Peace Parley Not Yet Resumed; Officer Relieved Of Duties

HARLAN, Ky., May 16 (AP)—National guard troop protection for coal miners wishing to work has been extended into Bell county.

Governor A. B. Chandler at Frankfort revealed today some militiamen are stationed in a corner of Bell county but are a part of the unit on duty in Harlan county.

Gov. Chandler said the order for troops to go to Harlan, where operators refused to sign a "union shop" agreement with the United Mine

HARLAN, Ky., May 16 (AP)—The Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Operators association capitulated to the United Mine Workers today by signing a union shop contract but national guard protection in the southern part of the state was extended to Bell county.

The Big Sandy contract was signed with United Mine Workers representatives shortly after noon at Ashland and ended the Kentucky feud disseminating to the "bloody Harlan" and hazard groups.

Workers, provided for guardmen "to preserve law and order in Harlan county and its environs."

Chandler said the mine of J. C. Stran, president of the Kentucky Cardinal Coal corporation, is "on the Bell-Harlan county line" and that a detachment of troops was on guard there.

"Sheriff Martin Green of Bell county telephoned me about this morning," Chandler said. "I explained the situation to him and he promised to cooperate with the troops."

A national guard officer was relieved of his command for failure to "show the proper aggressiveness" as 13 additional mines, 19 in all, opened in the disturbed Harlan soft coal field under protective guns of state troops.

Omnibus Tax Bill Advanced

AUSTIN, May 16 (AP)—Proponents of an omnibus tax bill were jubilant today after jockeying their proposal into a favorable position and hearing reports of senate willingness to work for statutory solution of the vexing pension problem.

The bill's backers won a victory yesterday when the house set it for consideration immediately after the departmental appropriations bill has been disposed of. At the same time the chamber refused to take up a bill by Rep. Ross Hardin of Prairie Hill which would levy retail sales-natural resources taxes.

Also given a favorable position in the house was a proposal by Rep. Pat Dwyer of San Antonio levying a two per cent luxury sales tax. Dwyer said it would be a "painless way of raising $38,000,000 a year."

Senate willingness to work with the house on a statutory bill was expressed by the upper branch's Clint Small of Amarillo who said if the house "would get right down to business and seriously consider a tax bill the senate will meet it half-way."

Teachers For Summer Term Appointed

Members of the faculty for the summer school term were elected by the board of trustees of the Big Spring independent school district at a meeting Monday night.

The board deferred action on election of a principal to succeed George Gentry, who resigned to take a junior college post in Temple next year, and planned another meeting for next Monday to consider this problem. There are some 90 applications before the trustees, and members said they were proceeding with deliberation in order to find the most suitable man.

Wayne E. Matthews will be in charge of the summer session, which opens June 5, and continues for ten weeks. Mrs. Lynette McElhannon was selected as a teacher, and Miss Eleanor Byarley was named as a supply. If attendance warrants, she will be a third member of the teaching staff.

Alleged Robbers Taken In Austin

HOUSTON, May 16 (AP)—Edward Wallace Anthony, 21, of Wharton, and Oscar Louis Otzenhoff, 23, of Rosenberg, arrested at Austin last night after a chase through Central Texas, were returned to Houston today to face trial on a robbery by firearms charge growing out of the alleged theft of a car from Bob Feltz, used car salesman.

Feltz said the two men came to a used car lot and showed interest in a car. He took them out and near Rosenberg, he said, they put him out of the car at pistol point.

Feltz walked four miles to a telephone and notified officers. Wharton deputy sheriff sighted the car. A filling station attendant at Edna said the pair had him put 18 gallons of gasoline in the car, then drove away without paying for it.

The officers chased the car through Victoria, Cuero and Gonzales, finally catching up with it at Austin.

Revisits Santone

SAN ANTONIO, May 16 (AP)—So large that it cannot be placed in one of the airdrome's hangars, the army's giant XB-15 airplane—said to be the largest land plane in the world—was staked down on the flying line at Kelly field today following its arrival from the west coast with Brig. Gen. Arnold Krogstad and Maj. V. V. Haynes and others.

It was the second visit of the plane to San Antonio in 17 months. It arrived at Duncan field on Dec. 6, 1937, and remained one week.

Seventieth district court grand jurors continued their investigative work Tuesday morning, with prospects that they would be ready to make a report to Judge Cecil Collings late in the day.

The session is the last for the grand jury during this court term, since Judge Collings winds up his session here this week. Civil cases are being heard during the week.

MAN WHO SWEEP STREETS IN GIVING THANKS FOR RELIEF GIVEN HONORABLE FUNERAL

ALBUQUERQUE, Pa., May 16 (AP)—Mario Izzo was only a humble street sweeper and his funeral in potter's field wasn't much. Townpeople thought it over and gave him a second burial fitting for a hero.

Might Have Been Twins; Escape On Jacksboro Road

CHICO, May 16 (AP)—Two bandits, so alike in appearance they might have been twins, held up and robbed the First Bank of Chico of between $1,500 and $2,000 shortly before noon today.

They escaped in a (Chevrolet) coupe with yellow wheels in the direction of Jacksboro.

The men, described as small, slender and unshaven, each clad in work pants, a brownish shirt and a dirty blue cap, came into the bank at 11:30 o'clock, when only four persons were in the building. They walked up to the window of a cage occupied by W. H. Tallant, assistant cashier, and one of the men, in a low voice, commanded Tallant to raise his hands.

Unaware that a holdup was taking place, Miss Evie Blackmon, secretary in the bank, went to the other man and asked him what he wanted. He turned his back on her and she walked to the file desk.

The man followed her, produced a gun and ordered her to "stick up."

Mrs. Nora Stack, an employee of the bank, and Mark Marshall, a customer, also were in the bank.

After taking the contents of the cash drawer from Tallant, the men walked out of the bank and entered their car, which had been parked behind the building.

Marshall said he was sitting in the bank when one of the robbers approached him.

"He apparently told me to stick my hands up, but I didn't hear him, and asked him what he wanted. Then I saw the gun in his hand, and I didn't have to ask him again.

"They weren't rough with us. They acted like perfect gentlemen."

Marshall said Ralph Nelson, a bank supply salesman from Fort Worth, also saw the holdup.

"He walked right in behind them," he said.

Hitler Continues Inspection Of Fortifications

BERLIN, May 16 (AP)—Adolf Hitler continued today his inspection of the Siegfried fortifications opposite France, fortifications for which his military experts claimed "invincibility" and of which the chancellor himself said:

"In these constructions, my fellow citizens, imagine yourselves the difference between today and the past."

Hitler made the statement to a cheering crowd after a spectacular chain battle yesterday, which the military experts said demonstrated impregnability of the fortifications.

His tour took him from Aachen to Trier in the western fortified zone today, in the company of Generals Walther von Brauchitsch and Wilhelm Keitel and Nazi district leaders.

Von Brauchitsch, who is chief of staff, told Nazi leaders Monday: "The fuhrer's flag will be raised wherever it is ordered."

Coincidentally, a convention of 25,000 Nazis advocating the return of colonies Germany lost in the World war opened in Vienna today.

Sectional meetings of the colonial rally featured a pictorial review of "Italy as a colonizer in Libya."

Some Areas In West Texas Get Rain

While some parts of North and West Texas were receiving beneficial rains, the Big Spring area Tuesday could only look longingly at dark clouds and hope that they would mean moisture sufficiently heavy to revive ranges and season crop lands.

The Foran sector was an exception. A brisk downpour during the morning accounted for an approximate one inch of moisture there, and the skies remained overcast. Garden City, however, reported no rain, and all of Glascock county remained dry.

To the east, Comaha had very light showers, and to the west Stanton reported no rain. There was no moisture to the north.

San Angelo recorded a general fall Monday night and Tuesday morning, with ranges greatly helped and cotton and sorghums—just planted—similarly benefited. The usually dry Devil's river draw in the Sonora area was put on a big rise Tuesday morning by a five-inch deluge on the divide country between Eldorado and Sonora.

The northern part of the state had heavy rainfall, the Associated Press reported.

Heaviest precipitation was in the Olney territory near Wichita Falls. Three and a half inches drenched the countryside in a 12-hour period starting late yesterday afternoon.

In the Brownwood area, Winchell reported two inches; Coleman, 1.50; Comanche, 1.18, and the Fry oil field, two inches. Brownwood recorded .75.

Fort Worth was struck by a 40-mile-an-hour wind and lightning which did slight damage along with its 1.40-inch rain. The Trinity was up 2.5 feet at the dam near there, and creeks in the area, generally were rising, in some spots pouring over the highways.

A big boost to feed crops was the 1.5 inches fall over Falls county (Marlin). Farm prospects also were brightened in the Ft. Hancock region, where rains were heavy.

Four persons were injured slightly when a hailstorm forced cars off the road between Jolly and Henrietta last night. At Archer City, hail smashed the courthouse windows and globes of electric signs.

A general fall in the Corsicana territory aided crops. Rains also were reported by Dallas, Amarillo, Abilene, Austin and Palestine.

Santone Firemen's Union Organized

SAN ANTONIO, May 16 (AP)—San Antonio firemen have organized a union under the banner of the American Federation of Labor, with almost 100 per cent membership among those eligible, it was learned today.

Although such an organization has been rumored for some time, and although the individual firemen still deny existence of the local union, it was revealed definitely today that the organization has been perfected with the granting of an A.F. of L. charter and the election of officers. Of the 215 members of the fire department eligible for membership, 206 have signed up, it was learned.

The president takes the view, it was reported, that if congress wants to curtail expenditures, it should do so when it is considering individual items.

Legislation proposed by senate economy advocates would direct all government departments to impose a certain proportion—5 to 10 per cent—of their funds for the year beginning July 1. Senator Adams (C-Colo.) said at least $250,000,000 of the anticipated $10,000,000,000 in appropriations should be withheld in such a manner.

This proposal, Adams declared, would give each department discretion in selecting the items to be cut.

Amid this general discussion of federal expenditures, economy-minded house members and some city representatives were trying to eliminate the $383,000,000 which the senate added to the agricultural bill.

Make Use Of Resources, Is Splawn's Plea

ICC Chairman Makes No Reference To Rate Agitation

ABILENE, May 16 (AP)—Chairman Walter M. W. Splawn of the interstate commerce commission counseled members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce today to utilize their abundant oil and gas resources to process their raw materials in numerous "small scale" factories.

Small Plants The chairman of the national rate-regulatory body made no reference to the regional chambers current battle for freight rate revision, but advised West Texans to establish small packing plants, flour mills, cereal factories, tanneries, shoe factories, wool and cotton fabricating mills.

"With such a wealth of natural resources and with so highly intelligent a citizenship, it seems incredible that the people should not acquire the techniques and utilize the business organization which would bring to this favored country the highest standard of material prosperity," Splawn said.

The chairman of the interstate commerce commission traced the history of transportation in the United States and particularly in West Texas. He referred to recent "phenomenal" development of airways, and the tremendous increase in highway mileage. Decline in tonnage hauled by the railroads he attributed partly to the depression and partly to diversion "to other agencies of transportation."

Splawn expressed belief Texas opportunities in foreign trade now lie chiefly in South and Central America. He suggested transportation legislation now before congress "may be an important beginning in the solution of the problem."

In referring to an oversupply of railway labor, he said: "The government could well consider some plan for retraining on a reasonable and just basis the older employees and assist several hundred thousand of the younger ones to find employment in other lines of endeavor." Some of these, he suggested, could be absorbed by new industries in West Texas.

Fraising West Texas educational facilities, he said: "You have in the Technological College at Lubbock an institution which could man all the high schools and evening classes with expert instructors who could put the picked young people in the way to get to those parts of the country

Ready To Veto Bills Asking Funds Cut

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt was described by congressional circles today as ready to veto any measure demanding a flat percentage reduction in appropriations.

The president takes the view, it was reported, that if congress wants to curtail expenditures, it should do so when it is considering individual items.

Legislation proposed by senate economy advocates would direct all government departments to impose a certain proportion—5 to 10 per cent—of their funds for the year beginning July 1. Insurance Murder Racket Is Called So Vast That Number Of Victims Beyond Estimate

PHILADELPHIA, May 16 (AP)—The head of the nation's G-man forces was told today Philadelphia's insurance-murder racket is so vast that "no one can estimate the number of crimes committed to date or the ramifications of the heinous murderers."

Toppling all previous calculations, this new definition of the ring's possible scope was given by Judge Harry S. McDevitt, in a telegram urging J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, to come here and make a "personal survey of this unbelievable crime syndicate."

Judge McDevitt, who presided at the first murder trial growing out of the case, expressed appreciation for the FBI's proffered aid in the investigation and told Hoover it would give local authorities access to "now unexplored fields of murderous activity."

Judge McDevitt declared weeks ago at the trial of Herman Petrillo, convicted poisoner of a WPA worker, that "scores and scores" of persons had been murdered by the "ring in Eastern states. More recently, with 24 persons in custody, authorities said there were 50 known dead and that the ultimate total might exceed 100.

While the FBI has said it has not entered the case actively, Hoover has promised "immediate consideration" of the request Philadelphia authorities might make for

Oahu Island Scene Of Army 'Blackout'

HONOLULU, May 16 (AP)—Army authorities completed plans today for a "blackout" of Oahu island against an attack by "enemy" air raiders Thursday night.

The raid will be a phase of Hawaii's most spectacular army maneuvers which started yesterday with swift mobilization of 20,000 soldiers.

The entire island was ringed by troops and heavy artillery today as the army operated with wartime secrecy to test its ability to meet any phase of war and repel a possible sudden thrust against this key point in the United States' Pacific defenses.

SLAIN POSTAL OFFICIALS

Secrecy surrounded circumstances of the fatal shooting of Corpus Christi's postmaster, Gilbert McGloin, left, and his assistant, A. E. Dittmer, right, in McGloin's office Saturday. A postal inspector who investigated the shooting refused comment. Washington officials said it might be weeks before the inspector reported his findings. McGloin, shot in the back of the head, died two and a half hours later. Dittmer, shot in the temple, died almost instantly. (Associated Press Photo).

France Tries To Mend Her Allies' Pact

PARIS, May 16 (AP)—France strove today to bridge the conflicting views of her two allies, Great Britain and Soviet Russia, into a strong alliance that would be acceptable to all three.

The foreign ministry, said reliably to have in mind a plan which it thought would break the deadlock, kept in close touch with London. An opportunity for direct dealing will be provided when the French, Russian and British foreign ministers meet in Geneva Saturday.

British Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax planned to confer here with Premier Daladier and Foreign Minister Bonnet before going to Geneva.

Soviet Russia was reported reliably to have refused to join the British front on British terms—with Russia's promise to fight, it asked, for Poland and Rumania should Britain and France first go to the aid of those countries.

Russia, in rejecting the British offer, was said to have suggested a return to the original plan advanced by Moscow of reciprocal military pledges among the three powers and British guarantees for the safety of Baltic states.

Columbia University will receive an estimated $188,822 as the residuary legacies.

Securities in the estate were valued at $145,376, of which the United States treasury, two and seven-eighths per cent certificates due March 15, 1960, were valued at $71,703.

No Charges In Palmer Death

SARASOTA, Fla., May 16 (AP)—Potter D'Orsay Palmer, four times married playboy scion of Chicago wealth, was apparently the aggressor, Sheriff C. J. Hutches said today, in a stag picnic fist fight which resulted in his death.

The 34-year-old Palmer died late yesterday of a cerebral hemorrhage which followed a blow on the head Thursday at a Junior Chamber of Commerce outing near Bradenton.

Assistant State Attorney W. M. Smiley said Kenneth Norworthy, a Bradenton meat cutter, voluntarily admitted he struck Palmer with his fist.

Norworthy remained at liberty today, Sheriff Hutches asserting he saw no reason to detain him because he was available and "from all I can find out, Palmer was the aggressor."

Smiley said Norworthy gave this account of the fatal altercation: Palmer, who had been drinking, singled Norworthy out, followed him around and invited him. Norworthy tried to avoid him, but Palmer pursued the meat cutter, cursed him and struck him with his fist.

Norworthy returned the blow, knocking Palmer to the ground. Palmer pulled Norworthy down, then got to their feet. Palmer then tried to "wield a bottle and when he did, Norworthy struck the Sarasonian a hard blow with his fist. The two battled and Palmer left the picnic sometime later.

Rules Government Did Not Act In Sovereign Capacity

DALLAS, May 16 (AP)—Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson ruled the government acted in a commercial sense rather than in its sovereign capacity and that the statute of limitations applied in several suits the government brought against cotton ginners and buyers over cotton loans.

The decision, handed down at Lubbock and released here yesterday, covered the cases against W. T. Thomas; Fred C. Kelly; Homer R. Stephens; Will Christian; Israel R. L. Lackey; James A. Lackey; Lenville H. Fitzgerald, and others in each case.

The Farm Credit Administration made loans to farmers in the Lubbock division in 1936, taking notes and crop mortgages. Farmers applied proceeds of the cotton on mortgages, but some took out harvesting and other expenses, asserting they were given permission by FCA agents.

Three years later the government charged conversion of the cotton and sued for judgments of its value.

Defendants claimed the debts were barred by the limitations statute because the FCA acted in a commercial sense and that using part of the proceeds for necessary purposes did not represent a proper conversion charge.

The ginners contended that since the FCA administrator permitted sale of the cotton to them he was stopped from maintaining any action for conversion.

The government contended the statute of limitations did not apply because the government acted in its sovereign capacity nor had any agent of the government authority to waive any debt or lien by which it is or was secured.

Oil Men Have Sights On Three-Mile Oil Well

NEW ORLEANS, May 16 (AP)—Oil men were thinking of wells to penetrate the earth to a depth of three miles as the American Petroleum Institute opened its four-day convention here today.

Carl A. Young of Dallas, secretary of the division of production, said:

"We are constantly learning how to dig deeper wells and how to ascertain geological conditions at the bottom of deep wells.

"These deep holes give promise of reducing to use the oil which we firmly believe lies at the lower depths of the earth's crust. Some of this oil will be produced from sands underlying present fields. Additional oil will come from great depths below territory that has not yet been prospected.

"It was only a few years ago that the 5,000-foot well was drilled. Now 10,000-foot wells are not uncommon and the 15,000-foot level has been reached.

"At the first of this year the amount of oil in sight, that is, oil known to be recoverable by modern methods was estimated at more than 17,000,000,000 barrels in just one year."

Racial Persecution Not Unknown In US, Says E. Roosevelt

FORT WORTH, May 16 (AP)—Elliot Roosevelt commented in his semi-weekly radio program last night that while "we of the United States look with disfavor on the persecution of Jews in various nations of Europe... Racial persecution is not an unknown thing on American soil."

The president's son reviewed the attacks of the Alabamians on the Indians, of whom fewer than 200 now remain on a Fok county, Texas reservation.

"Most of the Indians moved on to the reservation," said Roosevelt, "and lived in hope that a promise made them by (Sam) Houston, that the white man eventually would do something for them, would come true."

He declared the once proud lineage of the Alabamians and Coushattas is sealed, that "it is a sad commentary to our present advanced civilization," and that the pioneers who developed the nation did not intend that the route of the Indians should reach the proportions of mass racial persecution.

REENACTS KIDNAPING

WTCC—BENEFACTOR OF WEST TEXAS

In its 20-year history the West Texas chamber of commerce has touched every phase of West Texas industrial, commercial and social life. There is not a community, no matter how small, that has failed to profit by the general good that has resulted from this organization's multifarious and indefatigable activities.

It is idle to speculate on the extent of the contribution this organization has made to the growth and development of West Texas, for it is beyond computation.

Suffice it to say that it has given impetus, direction and purpose to West Texas' aspiration to improve her lot in life; and that it has tackled all jobs in community building that have come its way without flinching and with a great deal more success than failure.

Mistakes are longer remembered than success, but the WTCC has made surprisingly few mistakes in its career. How many can you recall, if any? On the other hand you probably could think of 20 useful things it has done, not the least of which has been the creation of a regional consciousness which has resulted in many fine things for West Texas through cooperative and concentrated effort.

Its current leadership for the equalization of freight rates is a case in point. If it accomplishes a tenth of what it set out to do in this matter it will have justified its existence 10 times over.

LAYING THE STRESS WHERE IT IS DUE

In an 86-page, six-section paper, the Abilene Reporter-News has faithfully portrayed the picture and spirit of West Texas upon the occasion of the convening of the 21st annual regional chamber of commerce convention in that city.

Not only does the paper touch upon the resources of Abilene and surrounding area, but it covers the whole of the territory encompassed by the WTCC.

Life's Darkest Moment

Hot-Headed Nazi Whooper-Upper in Danzig, Is Getting Stage All Set For Herr Hitler

By the AP Feature Service

Perhaps the hottest spot in Europe today is the Free City of Danzig—and one of the hottest-headed leaders in Europe is the Nazi "gaulter," or boss, of that area, 37-year-old Albert Forster.

He is one big reason why harried European diplomats are having a fine case of jitters for fear some unplanned incident in Danzig may provoke war.

The petulant Herr Forster has even given his own bosses in Berlin some bad moments when they've had to "explain" indiscreet statements made by him.

Back in 1933, Hitler's organ, Volkischer Beobachter, called Forster a "fast stepper," but asserted he was "eminently suited" to inculcate Nazism in Danzig.

He's Done Some Work And no one can deny he has done that job thoroughly. When Herr Hitler sent him there as his liaison man in 1930 the Nazis in German Danzig were a squabbling minority. Now no one doubts they control all but a few per cent of the residents.

Only Poland's interest in the Danzig harbor, which it helps supervise, has kept Danzig from falling into Hitler's lap already.

If Poland had not howled so convincingly last month, there is little doubt that Forster would have presented Danzig to Hitler as a birthday present. Instead, Forster made Der Fuehrer an "honorary citizen"—which drew smiles from cynical Danzigers, who know that Forster himself is only an honorary citizen.

He was born 480 miles away in southern Germany, near Nurnberg. A son of a civil servant, the husky, two-footed lad entered Hitler's Youth movement while still in school and became a protégé of that rabid Jew-hater, Julius Streicher.

Albert entered business as a bank clerk, but couldn't seem to hold a job. He blazed it on vindictive Jewish employers—and began devoting even more time to storm-trooping. Now he's married to the attractive daughter of a wealthy Danzig contractor and has a part-time job as commissar of clerks in the Reich's Labor Front.

Wrested It From League When Forster went to this tiny region on the Baltic, with its 400,000 population, it was under the firm control of the League of Nations. He had orders from Hitler to undermine the League authority. He did this mainly by having Nazis snub, insult and ridicule the League's commissioner.

Then he began applying relentless pressure to squeeze out opposition parties.

He received a set-back in 1935 when Nazis failed to get a majority in the parliament—but by 1937 he was in complete control. During that year he told off the League of Nations with:

"We refuse to be dictated to by the League. Danzig is German and Hitler alone counts here."

And since then Hitler alone has counted.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF

It is a mistake, I think, to talk about whether or not there will be a world war. There is a war going on at this minute. The forces have been coalesced; the struggle is in the open; and the question is what other weapons may eventually be used, and where, and how.

What Hitler has done has been to revive the pre-war pan-German program, plus a system of planned economy making for total industrial mobilization and the greatest possible economic self-sufficiency, plus a revolutionary strategy designed to create international pressure like that of the refugees, and internal dissensions in every country.

The economic measures and the revolutionary tactics are only supplements to the central program of pan-Germanism.

They have contributed greatly to confusing the issue, but it is now perfectly plain. What Hitler has done has simply been to resume the war which started in 1914, and to take over in toto the war aims that existed in 1915 and 1916, when Germany was winning that war.

In the last nineteen years the liberal had conscience has been so busy attacking the Treaty of Versailles that it has totally forgotten the kind of peace that the German military machine had designed for the world in case of a German victory—a peace which had the backing, incidentally, of the great body of German intellectuals and industrialists.

Inasmuch as the Treaty of Versailles is long since as dead as mutton, while the renaissance of the German military state is the central fact of the era, we may as well forget Versailles and reconsider 1915 and 1916, when the Germans were confident of complete victory.

It was in order to win this total victory that the Germany of the great war rejected the peace overtures of the Pope, the proffered mediation of President Wilson and the attempt of the Hapsburg dynasty to negotiate with France.

Verailles never would have happened and there would have been a genuine "peace without victory"—a peace of general justice—had the German military machine not willfully prolonged the bloody holocaust in the hope of a total realization of all its aims.

We have historical proof of what their intentions were in the East because they won the war against Russia and Rumania and dictated the peace terms. (Incidentally, then as now they had no scruples about playing with revolutionary forces, and themselves introduced the revolutionary Bolshevik leaders into Russia.)

The treaties which Russia and Rumania were forced to sign "at the point of a gun" were made invalid by the general Allied victory. But they stand on paper for the world to see what German militarism considers justice and equality to be.

Russia was forced to relinquish Russian Poland and all her Baltic provinces—not in order to give them national emancipation as provided later in the Treaty of Versailles, but in order to give them national emancipation as provided later in the Treaty of Versailles.

Russia lost a third of her agricultural, nearly a third of her population land, more than half of all her industries and 89 per cent of her coal mines; her Black Sea ports were wholly lost and she was practically cut off from the Baltic.

Rumania was made into a colony, bound economically hand and foot to Germany.

The aims of Germany in the west are known through official documents and speeches and inspired editorials in the German wartime press. To read them again today is to find one's self on highly familiar ground. Apart from the Left Wing Social Democrats and a few distinguished dissenters, the entire nation was regimented behind them.

TWO AGAINST LOVE

Chapter 16 REPUTATIONS

It worried Jocelyn that Geoffrey was becoming increasingly frantic. He seemed to have forgotten his sick pony. Before the end of the evening Jocelyn felt as if Tally and Geoff were playing on opposite teams in a football game and she was the football. Still, she would not have been feminine or quite human if she had not enjoyed it just a little. She did.

At one o'clock the orchestra declared a half-hour's intermission for supper. Lights went on in the banquet room and the dancers spilled in. It was a gay and hilarious throng of young people. Bright repartee and quick laughter heightened the excitement.

Someone called to Jocelyn: "Where's the Texan boy friend of yours, darling?"

Another called to Geoff: "Better marry her quick, old man. I've heard these Lone Star men are fast on the draw!"

Jocelyn, herself, wondered at Tally's non-appearance at supper. Turning to look into the now deserted ballroom she saw Thorn hurrying across the floor, his face pale and worried.

"Lyn," he whispered on reaching her, "come with me. There's trouble outside."

By the time they reached the rambling veranda a knot of people had gathered on the steps. The moonlight illuminated the scene with almost daylight clearness. Lyn pushed through the assemblage just in time to see Tally's flat clip another man's chin and knock him down. She ran forward; recognized the fallen man as Art Mason, one of the club directors and a player on Geoff's polo team.

"Why did you do it?" she demanded angrily of Tally.

His eyes were black and cold. "I'm not sorry," he said.

Such unreasoning anger gripped Jocelyn that the blood drained from her face and it became as white as her gown. "You—you roughneck," she spluttered. "You—you—"

"Fussant!" he suggested, then turned his back on her and strode off toward the parked cars.

Some of the group on the porch came down and surrounded Art Mason. One of the men helped him to his feet and led him to the locker rooms. Ruth Benton took Jocelyn aside and declared:

"I saw and heard the whole thing and I don't blame the friend of yours one bit! Art was talking to a couple of other fellows when he came out on the terrace and heard Art wise-cracking about you living in the same house with him. Art had been drinking of course, but it wasn't a nice remark. He should have had his jaw broken!"

"Oh..."

"Without waiting for Thorn she ran after Tally; caught him just as he started backing his old sedan out of the parking space.

"Tally," she cried, jumping on the running-board and clinging to the rolled-down window. "Tally, I'm sorry I said that about your being a roughneck. I just found out why you hit Art—I want to thank you. It—it was good of you to resent gossip about me."

"He did not turn his head. His profile was uncompromising. "Your reputation?" he asked. "Why, you silly child, it was my reputation I was fighting for. Do you think I want people to say I'm trying to cut in on Geoffrey Kensing? Now get off my runningboard or you might get hurt."

ones in a kiss that was oddly tender. His fingers touched her hair; moved against the soft skin of her shoulders. Abruptly she knew she did not want him to let her go. She wanted him to kiss her again. It was all mad and senseless and impossible; but true.

However, he set her gently on her feet; brushed the sand and gravel off her dress. "Jocelyn, I'm sorry about tonight. I didn't mean to harm you or cause trouble. I was sore because I figured you only asked me here in the hope of showing me up before your friends as a crude, clumsy farmer, and I tried to get even. I hope I haven't made trouble between you and Geoffrey. I think I'd better go now. Good night, Jocelyn."

She stood like a lovely wraith in the moonlight and watched his car disappear in the darkness.

Jocelyn waded out of the surf, detached a piece of seaweed from her left ankle, peeled off her green rubber cap, and sank with a sigh to the spread of beach canvas. Without lifting his head from his arms, Geoffrey asked:

"Want me to rub some sun-tan oil on your back, Lyn?"

"Oh, I won't burn now. I'm so brown I look like a native of Samoa. You're the latest people I ever saw! There's a perfectly grand ocean ten feet away and you lie here and sleep."

Nola sat up, adjusted her sunglasses, and regarded her long, lithe limbs with critical glance. "Why is it so hard to tan the front of me?" she demanded.

"Because you insist upon lying on your stomach," Thorn explained. "Want to go in for a dip?"

"No, I don't feel like driving in to the hairdresser's afterward. The salt water makes a mess of my bleached locks... can't you think of something interesting to do?"

Jocelyn wriggled her toes in the sand, resisting the impulse to scoop up handfuls of it to pour over Geoff's bulky shoulders. He'd have a fit if she did. He glistened with oil and the sand would stick to it. She wondered idly if any of the Mack family were on the other side of the dividing fence. Tally surely could not work in this abominable August heat; anyhow, his truck garden was flourishing—at least it looked flourishing from the windows at the back of the house. Nola would know, she mused resentfully. Nola spent at least half of her time on the other side of the house; Bob, three-quarters. Yet, as if by some tacit agreement, neither Nola nor Bob ever mentioned a word about the Macks and neither Thorn nor she would ask information.

Restless A derisive smile twisted her lips. It had been four months since the club's spring hop; four months since she had been in Tally's arms. She had been foolish enough to imagine that dance and his aftermath would make a change at Beal cliff. It had not. If such a circumstance were possible, the events of that night had caused even more constraint between Tally and her. He rigorously kept himself and his entire family out of her sight. The few times they had encountered each other in the riding stable he had spoken briefly and curtly, leaving no opening for further conversation.

Four months. A twinge in her breast, familiar now from repetition, caught her. There seemed to be life and love and rich, warm living on the other side of the barrier. Laughter and eagerness and happy voices. Even Tex, the bane of existence, seldom trespassed.

Why as I so different from Nola and Bob? she wondered. They accepted the Macks and the Macks accepted them. Thorn was jealous of Nola's informal intimacy with them but when he romanced with her she merely laughed and informed him he was missing the time of his life; and, since she was not yet a Russell, she intended doing as she pleased. The situation between them was strained, although, Jocelyn pondered, Nola appeared genuinely fond of Thorn.

Geoff turned over on his back and looked at her. "Lyn," he implored, "when are you going to marry me?"

"Oh, pretty soon."

"That's what you've been saying for months," he grumbled. "Let's make it the first of September."

"But—that's only a bit more than three weeks away," she protested. "I couldn't possibly get ready for a wedding that quickly."

"You've had about four years to get ready," he pointed out.

Nola grinned. "He's right, Lyn. And I'm here to help you."

Jocelyn knew the sensation of being cornered and was glad when Sandy trotted up to her with a long strand of seaweed in his teeth which he deposited with a triumphant bark at her feet. Pretending preoccupation with the Scottie gave her time to frame an answer. Certainly she intended to marry Geoffrey. What made her hesitate about setting a date? Because a very bold and insolent young man had once set her pulses pounding with his kiss? Ridiculous! The sooner she married Geoffrey and put an end to such silly thoughts, the better.

Giving Sandy a final pat, she said: "Geoff, I'll set the date as soon as I make a list of all the things to be done. I'll know in a few days. Okay?"

"I suppose so," he frowned, wondering why she was sliding his engagement ring up and down on her finger. What made her so restless? But what had changed since those impossible people had come here to live.

BARONS COME FROM BEHIND TO TRIP LUBBOCK'S HUBBERS, 10-9

The Sports Parade

By HANK HART

Especially pleased over the turnout of the fairer sex at the baseball game last night was Manager Tony Rego whose Barons charges won a uphill battle with Lubbock, 10-9.

The house of royalty, playing before the largest crowd of the season, one that packed every available bleacher and grandstand seat, dedicated the occasion by playing their best brand of ball of the year, exhibiting an attack with power applied and bringing into evidence a series of uncanny fielding plays that must have left the men as well as the women spell bound.

Ratio of the crowd must have been two in one in favor of the women. Nobody ever celebrated louder and longer than did the women, many of whom probably had never seen the Barons play before.

Rego wants them all to know he appreciates their response, wants to see them there again.

The Barons leave after tonight's game, will not return until Sunday when the league leading Lamesa Lobos will be met. Monday night will, of course, again be Ladies Night.

The decision George Amthor made in conference with Hack Miller and Manager Salty Parker in the ninth frame of last night's fracas where, after Curdell Loyd had doubled and gone to third on Watkins' misplay in center field, Tex Walton and Pat Stacey were purposely passed, would have been alright had not Amthor had to face Billy Capps, the Barons' leading hitter as the next man. As it was, Amthor's glove was cooked.

Amthor will know that an outfield fly or a hit would have scored Loyd anyway so he decided to gamble and play for a force run at home. His infield pulled in after the bases were loaded and Malcolm Stevens had no chance to field Capps' bounding ball out across the right side of the infield.

By the bye, Art Gigg informs his name is pronounced "Ge-Le."

Manager Rego has again suspended Johnny Soden from active duty. The big pitcher, who won his second start with difficulty Sunday, will be out of the lineup for at least 15 days. He is suffering from a chipped elbow but should be ready by June 5.

The skipper also has announced the release of Bill Brown and Charley Morgan, pitchers. The passing of the pair was necessitated by the arrival of Ebsen Bahr and Jack Tilly, both right-handers.

Ump Buster Capps came in for a fine bit of Brooklyn cheering last night when the crowd claimed he was using left handed tactics on

Ferrell, French, Ostermuller In Comebacks

By SID FEDER Associated Press Staff The handwriting on the wall does funny things to ball players. They took a look at the big "period" for their ball-playing careers, and sometimes they come apart at the seams or sometimes they decide they might as well coast along in the bushes without fighting a losing battle in the big time.

But sometimes, the merest hint that maybe their coffee and cakes aren't safe if they don't produce gets their "dander" up, and they come back all or at least part of the way.

In this latter group, you might take the case of yesterday's winning pitchers on the curtailed three-game major league program. There was curly-haired Wesley Ferrell, the Yankees' handsome man; Lefty Larry lost 19 games in '38 for the Cubs, and when he was belted out his first two starts this season the Chicago front office didn't exactly cheer. And Fritz had been anything but a ball of fire in three previous outings this spring.

Last Ditch Stand So yesterday it was more or less the "last ditch" stand. They either had to produce—or else.

Ferrell, even with a sore elbow, went seven innings before giving way to fireman Johnny Murphy. Between them they turned in a five-hitter to blank the Athletics, 3-0, and keep the Yanks a game-and-a-half in front of the American league.

French ran into slight trouble in the second inning, but went on to a six-hit job in turning back the old mates, the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-2. Ostermuller was given a lot of hitting support in trouncing the Washington Senators, 9-2, with an eight-hit elbowing performance.

Wes' win boosted the world champions' victory streak to five straight and marked the second straight day Connie Mack's A's had been blanked by the Yanks.

French's job of work for the Cubs kept Gabby Hartnett's boys in fourth place in the National league, and also moved them up to within a game and a half of the top. They now have won ten of their last 11 starts against Pie Traynor's baffled Bucs.

By winning the only other game on the card, the Red Sox stayed just a game and a half off the Yankees' junior circuit pace.

2,000 Look On As Bill Capps Breaks Up Tilt

Two Teams Meet Again Tonight, 8:15, In Series Finale

By HANK HART Propelled by a gigantic seventh inning rally that had tied the score the Big Spring Barons rose to the occasion when the chips were down in the final round to score a run and defeat the Lubbock Hubbers, 10-9, in the first of a two game series here Monday night before a Ladies Night crowd of 2,000.

Poor strategy on the part of the Lubbock battery set the stage for the Hubber downfall in a dramatic ninth inning that saw Curdell Loyd collect his second double and his third hit of the evening, set up the potential run by gaining the third station when Watty Watkins fumbled the ball in right center. Catcher Hack Miller went into council with his tosser, George Amthor, and Manager Salty Parker. From that conference emerged a decision to pass Tex Walton and Pat Stacey in succession to populate the sacks and work toward a possible force play at home. But apparently they failed to reckon with the inning's cleanest hitter, the league's most dangerous batsman, Billy Capps. The infield drew in close. Capps promptly replied by swinging from the heels after taking a curve ball high and inside for ball one. He missed. But the third pitch was in there, belt high and to the Comanche Kid's liking and he pepped the ball out past Malcolm Stevens at second base for a hit and the run.

Tells the Tale In the end the deadly stick work told the tale for the Regemen. The game's 22 hits were evenly divided and the invaders collected the more home runs—three to be exact—but the clutch hitting of the Big Springers was something to see.

Art Gigg, starting Barons hurler who had clouted out a home run for Big Spring in the third frame, apparently was all washed up as early as the fourth when he allowed five runs, no less, to seep through, but he strengthened in the stretch drive and buckled down just in time.

After Dick Hobson had produced a two-run double in the fourth frame, Gigg's heroic exhibition was benefitted by a brace of Lubbock errors in the seventh that touched off a powder house. After Van Marshall had been tossed out on a ground ball by Parker, Al Berndt gained first base when the Lubbock shortstop-manager quered a ground ball. Gigg trooped in and contributed a single that went between Gigg and Taylor before Bobby Decker could advance both runners on Watkins' bad miscue in short center field.

With the sacks laden with valuable cargo Loyd stepped up to clean them with a stinging double into right field. Tex Walton promptly followed with a single that scored Loyd from second and Pat Stacey completed the rally with a key home run over the right field wall.

Finishes Sandreia The round tripper sent the starting Lubbock pitcher, Sandy Sandreia, to the showers. The southpaw made way for Amthor who succeeded in throttling the Barons bats without further trouble until Philadelphia 6 14 .300

Loyd came to bat in the 9'th. Curdell, incidentally, was in rare form. Besides collecting his three hits he contributed one of the greatest steps on Stevens' line drive in the first inning ever seen in Barons park, turning the almost sure bingle into a double play.

The field work on the part of both teams was a thing of beauty. Tex Walton opened a long drive by Johnny Taylor up against the center field wall in the fifth stanza and threw a strike to Loyd at first base to double Nat Zorko off the initial bag. In the ninth Van Marshall turned his back on a fence smash by Taylor and leaned against the wall to make a catch. Bobby Decker's great stab in the sixth inning of Hack Miller's line drive also earned the applause of the throng.

Either Ebsen Bahr or Jodie Marek was due to take the hill duties in tonight's 8:15 finale with the Hubbers. The Barons move to Lamesa Wednesday and will be on the road through Saturday.

DETROIT FARM SYSTEM BEING STUDIED BY COMM. LANDIS

CHICAGO, May 16 (AP)—Farm operations of the Detroit Tigers are the latest to undergo a microscopic study by Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

Whether the investigation will lead to wholesale freeing of minor league players as in the case of the St. Louis Cards a year ago or a clean bill of health for Detroit no one knows.

Leslie O'Connor, Landis' secretary, admitted the investigation was underway and said it would be several days before findings would be available.

"We are looking into transfer of players in the minor leagues," he said, indicating the study of Detroit's minor league connections had been going on for some time. He added Commissioner Landis conferred with Jack Zeller, general manager of the Tigers, two weeks ago.

O'Connor did not reveal names of any players involved or why the investigation was started.

Landis gave about 100 minor league ball players their freedom and levied fines aggregating $2,176 against six club owners in March of last year after completing an investigation of the St. Louis Cardinals chain. At that time, Landis criticized the juggling of players

The Cleveland Indians lost a hard hitting young outfielder two years ago when Commissioner Landis declared Tom Henrich a free agent charging the Indians "covered up" to prevent Henrich from being taken from the minors in the draft. After Landis' decision Henrich signed with the Yankees and since has been a regular in the New York outfield.

Fight Of Two Years Ago Is Recalled

ST. LOUIS, May 16 (AP)—Staggering hard and looking more like the old "Gas House Gang" than they have for five years, the league-leading St. Louis open a three-game series today with their bitter rivals, the New York Giants.

Picked to repeat their "Gas Meter Gang" performance of last year—always headed for the cellar—the Cards got away to a fast start and now have a record of 13 wins and eight losses.

The Giants are in sixth place, just three games behind the leaders, with 10 victories and 13 defeats.

Today's battle, the first with the Giants here this year, recalled a meeting between the teams two years ago almost to the day when Carl Hubbell defeated Dizzy Dean, 4 to 1.

Bitter rivalry, brewing from the start spilled over twice before the finish and the real fireworks started after Dean had thrown too close to batter Ripple's head. Dean and Ripple met at first base, started shoving, and the melee was on. Almost every player got in a good poke before the cops got there.

Gone, however, are several of the Cardinal participants in that "bat- tle of the ball" as well as the original spurs of the Gasometers—Dean, Ripper Collins, Lippy Leo Durocher and Frankie Frisch.

Remaining are Joe Medwick, Pepper Martin, Terry Moore and Paul Dean, whose pitching arm still is a question mark.

Add Johnny Mize to Medwick for a one-two punch that gives opposing pitchers headaches. Medwick's last hit came near the league top and he's second today with a fat .375. Mize, with a .290 average, is tied for home run honors in the league.

Then take a squint at Martin, the wild horse of the organ, who may be a lot older than when he was the whole show in 1931 world series but doesn't act or look it. He proved he has something more than aging legs when he won the Cards a 1 to 0 game from Brooklyn by stealing home in a spectacular piece of larceny.

PHILADELPHIA, May 16 (AP)—Baseball's grand old gentleman, Connie Mack, passes another milestone in his colorful career tonight when his Philadelphia Athletics meet the Cleveland Indians in the first night game ever played in the American league.

Old Heads know how to make Texas telephones talk...

Your telephones in Texas are served by folks who learned their trade in the school of experience... By men who know the feel of a sleet-lashed pole in a wintry wind... By women to whom the state's vast copper network of three million miles of wire is as an open book.

Of the 5,700 employees who watch day and night over this company's lines in Texas, nearly 4,500 have at least 10 years of telephone experience. More than 1,000 of these have been in the business for 20 years or longer, and a small group of 196 veterans count their years of telephone service at 30 and more.

From department heads down, their friendly "know how", born of years of experience, plays a vital part in giving fast, dependable telephone service, at a price that is reasonable to you.

Dates For West Texas Jr. Meet To Be Set

Harold Harvey, president of the Big Spring Tennis Association, and H. A. Primm, life guard of the municipal swimming pool, were guests at the advisory board of the city's recreation department met Monday evening at the city hall.

In an informal discussion in which all members of the board participated, causes of lack of interest locally and ways and means of promoting that interest were brought out.

Walter Morrison said that he would assist in promoting water competition among the city's younger boys with the closing of school, instructions in swimming, life saving, first aid, water stunts and games are to be included in his program.

Dates for the West Texas District Junior golf tournament were not definitely announced but tentative plans call for the event to be given the last week in June or the second week in July.

Members present were Harold Akey, H. F. Malone and Morrison.

Would Increase Cost Of Fishing But Little

AUSTIN, May 16 (AP)—The cost of hunting will be increased very little if the house game and fisheries committee has anything to say about it.

The committee drastically revised a senate measure yesterday which would have invoked a universal hunting license law.

As rewritten by the committee, the bill retains features of the present law allowing hunting in resident county without a license and keeps the fee on small game at $2, but raises that on large game to $3.

Large game is defined as deer, bear, turkey, wild sheep and wild goats. The $3 license will permit shooting of all game.

Other provisions of the rewritten bill include: Slashing from $25 to $10 the out-of-state hunting license. Proponents of this move said it would result in payment of the fee whereas the high license is being evaded.

TENNIS UNIT PLANS TOWARD FIRST 'LADDER' TOURNEY

With the membership drive of the Big Spring Tennis association well advanced, officers started preparations toward the first sponsored tournament which begins May 26.

President Harold Harvey said he hoped to have a record number of entries enter the "ladder" tourney which will serve to rate and place players for future competition.

Entry fee for non-members of the organization will be 50 cents. Work on the two new courts in the Muny park is progressing rapidly but it is doubtful as to whether they will be completed in time for the tournament.

Report Favorably On Regulation Bill AUSTIN, May 16 (AP)—The house committee on oil and gas last night reported favorably a senate approved bill by Senator Clint Small of Amarillo which would regulate production of sweet gas in the Panhandle field. The vote was 10 to 9.

Stricken from the proposal was an amendment by Senator Morris Roberts of Beville which opponents charged would not only stop construction of additional recycling plants, but would practically destroy the investment already made in existing plants.

Roberts' amendment would have placed in the railroad commission the duty to inquire into the production of gas from wells of the state and where it found that liquid petroleum was being produced along with gas, it should place the production allowable of the liquid petroleum under the same production schedule that governs the production allowable of oil from oil wells.

Speaker Urges Men To Take Leadership Responsibility A challenge to men to assume the responsibility of leadership in the home, church and in personal contacts for Christ was sounded at the First Baptist Brotherhood meeting Monday evening.

Rev. T. A. Patterson, pastor of the First Baptist church in Colorado City, urged the men to take positive, influential stands.

John A. Coffey, who presided in the absence of J. H. Green, president, and Nat Bickel, chairman for the evening, appointed Dr. P. W. Malone as presiding officer for the next meeting; Joe Finkle to secure a speaker; and J. C. Loper, Earl Bibb and Merle Creighton as a program committee.

MACEO'S CASE TO BE DECIDED ON IN FEW DAYS

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—Assistant U. S. Attorney Joseph P. Martin said today disposition of the case against Sam Maceo, Galveston, Tex., night club owner, charged with violation of the federal narcotics law, would be decided within a few days.

Maceo was one of 38 persons indicted. Fifty-five went to trial and all but three of these were convicted. Two are appealing their convictions with arguments based on the defense claim of technical weaknesses in the indictment.

The appeals are to be heard tomorrow in the U. S. circuit court of appeals here. The court's decision is regarded as vitally important in the Maceo case, since it might determine whether Maceo would be brought to trial on the indictment or whether a new indictment would be sought, if the current one should be faulty.

Macias Apparently Named Governor Of Sonora AGUA PRIETA, Sonora, Mex., May 16 (AP)—Gen. Anselmo Macias was hailed today as governor-elect of Sonora on the basis of unofficial returns from the April 30 election.

The official tabulation of votes will be announced from Mexico City May 30. Reliable sources here disclosed General Macias, the national revolutionary party candidate, polled 41,500 votes to 2,800 for Gen. Francisco Borquez, independent candidate. He is scheduled to take office in September.

General Macias' victory became known when he accompanied Gov. Roman Yocupido here to greet President Lázaro Cardenas, whose arrival in Sonora is expected Thursday. Government officials said General Macias would be introduced to the president as Sonora's governor-elect.

END IN SIGHT COLLEGE STATION, May 16 (AP)—The powerful University of Texas Longhorns attempted to take the measure of the Texas Aggies a second day in a row for a perfect Southwest Conference baseball season.

Four Aggie hurlers were unable yesterday to stop the onslaught by which the Longhorns took their 14th conference win, 15 to 3. Centerfielder Clarence Field, who made six star catches, and other Longhorn fielders gave Melvin Deutch fine support to stifle Aggie hopes.

The Effects Of Liquor Cannot Be Repealed One distiller is featuring temperance ads. In one of the latest, men are warned not to get drunk lest their sons lose respect for them.

This ad continues, "Any man who cannot drink wisely and moderately owes it to his son...his family, not to drink at all."

This advice is certainly good psychology. One might think, "Those distillers are not such bad people after all. See how considers they are!"

But also note that the moderate drinker for 30 years who spends $10 to $20 dollars a year on liquor for himself and his friends is a far better customer for the liquor business, and a better advertisement, too, than the man who drinks himself to death in one or two years.

Nevertheless, 1. The moderate drinker is still shortening his life by the use of alcohol; 2. He is still dulling his brain so that he is not so good a business man or thinker as he would be without it; 3. He is spending his money for that which is a curse every way, while there are so many places where that money could do good; 4. He is giving his influence to the young in favor of the drink habit.

He therefore must share the responsibility for all the disaster and misery which is in the wake of the traffic; 5. No matter how temperate—if he drinks at all; he is an unsafe automobile driver; 6. By this habit the drinker is helping to damn his soul, for no man can be a Christian and drinker.—(Submitted by and published at the request of the local WTCU).

Dobie Nominated

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt today nominated Armistead M. Doble, dean of the University of Virginia law school, to the new position of additional federal judge for the western district of Virginia.

The president's first nominee to the post, Floyd H. Roberts, corporation judge of Bristol, Va., was rejected by the senate last February after Senators Glass and Byrd, Virginia Democrats, had invoked the written "senatorial courtesy" rule and declared Roberts to be "personally obnoxious" to them.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE OIL FIELD COMMUNITIES

Jones County Shallow Pay Extended

ABILENE, May 16—Extension of the shallow shinnery area production of the Steffens pool in Jones county to the southeast highlighted a week of activity in west Central Texas which saw a number of new field and outpost starters.

The Petroleum Producers of Wichita Falls No. 3 W. Lou Steffens, proving nearly a quarter mile of new territory to the southeast for the Steffens pool, was estimated good for approximately 1,000 barrels of oil daily natural although a railroad commission gauge had not been taken.

An estimated 2,000,000 feet of gas was encountered in the well at 1,864 feet from the Flippan line, the sixth well to produce from that zone, which is below the Bluff Creek and producing in other parts of the shinnery. Operators drilled only 20 inches of the lime when the well headed oil, and ran tubing under pressure without drilling further. It is 230 feet out of the southeast corner of section 23-15-T&P survey, about ten miles southeast of Abilene.

South Offset Staked The Wichita Production company No. 1 Henry A. Daugherty was staked as a direct outthrust to the well, 230 feet out of the northeast corner of section 35-15-T&P survey. Petroleum Producers planned to try another location to the east.

Additional interest was created in the shinnery area with the sale of an 80-acre lease and two producing wells by Ugrven & Franier of Abilene to F. W. Peckham of Wichita Falls and Stamford. Consideration involved was not announced. The land is owned by the John Brock estate, on which two wells with potentials of approximately 300 barrels each have been completed and a third is shut down at 1,500 feet pending completion of the deal. The lease is in the northwest quarter of the section 35-15-T&P survey.

400-500 Bbls Daily Consolidated Oil company of Wichita Falls and others No. 4 Mrs. J. A. McCaskey, north offset to a recent east extension of the Avoca townsite (Griffin) pool in northeastern Jones county, proved another spread by flowing an estimated 400 to 500 barrels of oil daily showing some water—a first producer on that side of the field to develop water. It is producing from natural Palo Pinto lime at a total depth of 3,287 feet, and is located in section 194-BBB&C survey.

East outpost to the pool, Iron Mountain Oil company No. 1 W. P. Cockerell, indicated another east extension when it topped Palo Pinto lime at 3,249 feet and shut down to run casing before drilling the prospective pay zone. It is also in section 194-BBB&C survey.

Iron Mountain No. 1 Olga Davis, in section 199-BBB&C survey, was flowing an estimated 110 barrels of oil hourly after drilling Palo Pinto lime from 3,262-69 feet. Another producer for the townsite area was indicated on the southwest side when the Bert Fields No. 4 B. C. Humphrey cored oil saturation from 3,250-73 feet, and cemented casing above the pay. It is in section 22-H&TQ survey.

Bill Regulating Loans Units Held Unconstitutional

AUSTIN, May 16 (AP)—A bill providing additional regulation of loans and finance companies was held unconstitutional today by Attorney General Gerald C. Mann.

The opinion had been asked by Emmett C. Morse, speaker of the house of representatives.

Under the bill persons engaged in the business of small loans, with certain exceptions, would be licensed by the state banking commissioner. Charges in addition to the 10 per cent maximum permitted by the constitution would be allowed on loans of $500 or less.

Mann ruled the bill authorized interest of more than 10 per cent a year, was a special law and discriminated among classes of lenders, all in violation of the constitution.

Senate Received Bill Which Would Clamp Down On Rustling

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—The senate received today a house-approved bill designed to curb the motorized modern version of the old-time cattle rustler.

A maximum punishment of $5,000 fine and five years imprisonment for transporting or handling any stolen animal, hide or carcass which has moved in interstate or foreign commerce would be imposed by the measure.

The judiciary committee explained the measure was intended to permit federal cooperation in cases where the movement of stolen animals has gone outside the sphere of effective local action.

MARKETS Wall Street

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—Business taxes rather than European axes concerned securities markets today and trends generally pointed downward.

Stocks got off to a hesitant start, then encountered a sizeable selling flurry before noon that dropped leaders fractions to around two points. There were larger isolated losses. Closing quotations were near bottom marks of the day.

While Washington advised, following yesterday's White House conference attended by treasury and congressional authorities, indicated to Wall street that senate chieftains would attempt some alteration of taxes which industry dislikes, most financial houses seemed to feel little in the way of substantial alleviation could be looked for at this time.

Bethell returned home well armed with information on bettering traffic conditions.

Musical Program Given For Circle

A musical program was presented Monday night when the Supreme Forest Woodmen circle met at the Catholic Recreation hall for a benefit entertainment. A coronation, with Chelito Cehiceros as queen, was held.

The hat dance, "Jarabe Tapatio," was given and a group of girls sang selections including "La Paloma," "Mexicola Rose," and "Cielito Lindo." A quintet sang "Sweet Sue" and "La Panchita" was given.

Maria Cehiceros sang "Celosa" and a play was put on by Lola Martinez and Nette Marques entitled "La Barsovia," a Mexican folk song.

Music was by A. V. Puente's orchestra.

Seaman Fined In Contempt Charge

HOUSTON, May 16 (AP)—Harry Alexander, member of the National Maritime Union strike committee, today faced a $100 fine and three days in jail after refusing to show the county grand jury yesterday records on the tanker strike.

District Judge Whit Boyd yesterday held the seaman in contempt of court.

The union seamen voted today to have their attorney ask Alexander's release on a habeas corpus. They agreed to make his a test case.

Arthur Mandell, attorney for the National Maritime union, said a number of his firm left before noon to appear before the court of criminal appeals at Austin in an effort to obtain bail for Alexander.

Mandell did not reveal the name of the attorney.

minute problems to insure smooth execution of arrangements from the moment the king and queen step ashore tomorrow morning.

The officials were hampered by necessity of telescoping parts of the Canadian tour to make up for a two-day delay forced on the Empress of Australia by fog and ice. Arrangements for their majesties to spend June 8-11, inclusive, in the United States stood unaltered.

Other official headaches, some cured and some still under treatment, were to be classified roughly as follows:

1. Political problems involving sectionalism and alleged "horning in" on the royal program.

2. Complaints and representations of persons who had hoped for more intimate acquaintance with their sovereigns than official functions would permit.

3. The Dionne quintuplets—whether they would go to the king and queen at Toronto or have the king and queen go to them at Callander. It was decided the quintuplets would go to Toronto.

4. Miscellaneous minor problems such as the part Canadian Indians would play in the ceremonies, controversies over decorations and arguments over invitations, precedence and position.

Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Ottawa, dominion capital, cut the royal visit to the capital by half, leaving the rest of the dominion tour practically as originally planned.

A decision to eliminate two 10-minute stops at Cornwall and Brockville to allow the royal visitors more rest after extended Ottawa ceremonies aroused such protest no further effort was made to cut small cities off the list.

Party politics explained many of the minor controversies.

The sovereigns' contacts at the 50 stopping places will be through constituted local authorities.

SEATTLE, May 16 (AP)—Earl Lawrence, 37, had his picture taken to give to his mother on Mother's Day.

Mrs. Lawrence got the picture, but not from Earl. Her husband gave it to her a few hours after the boy was killed in an auto accident.

ture department bill.

Rep. Marcantonio (AL-NY) said unless urban members could obtain assurances congress would grant Mr. Roosevelt's request for $1,750,000,000 for relief next year, farmers could not expect their support in getting more agricultural money.

Administration leaders, however, expressed confidence the house would approve the senate totals.

Sharing interest with the economy measure discussions was an apparent impasse in the house controversy over broadening exemptions from the wage-hour law.

Chairman Norton (D-NJ) of the house labor committee decided at the last minute not to call up yesterday a series of proposed revisions under procedure which would have required approval by two-thirds of the members. It was learned administration leaders were convinced such a majority could not be obtained in view of opposition from farm groups.

Oil Industry Is Prepared To Meet Defense Needs

NEW ORLEANS, May 16 (AP)—Although preferring peacetime progress, the petroleum industry is fully prepared to meet national defense requirements in the event of war, W. R. Boyd, Jr., executive vice president of the American Petroleum Institute, said today.

Boyd, here for the institute's convention, said the size, efficiency and accomplishments of the American petroleum industry had made the United States the only country having adequate wartime supply of petroleum products and services.

Of aerial warfare, he said in an interview, the American petroleum industry has proved the United States with the only adequate supply of high grade 100-octane gasoline for fighting planes in the world.

Comparing the industry's situation today with that of 1917, Boyd said the United States has twice as many producing wells, four times the annual production of crude oil, twice as many refineries and that the annual gasoline output of refineries was eight times more.

Cotton-Aid Project Is Mapped By WTCC

ABILENE, May 16 (AP)—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce today planned a four-sided project to put cotton on the comeback trail as one of the region's major industries and its work committee approved a resolution favoring a sales tax.

The committee sent to the board of directors for final approval, which was considered assured, a resolution creating a cotton clinic committee charged with preparing a comprehensive program for rehabilitation of the cotton industry, particularly in regard to welfare of the producer.

The committee would also be the chamber's vehicle in all matters pertaining to cotton, would inaugurate a cotton improvement project along competitive lines, and cooperate with the Texas state cotton committee.

Another resolution charged cotton and wheat allotments under the AAA were discriminatory in West Texas, and sought means to bring about "fair and equitable allotments" of these crops. Texas congressmen and senators were called upon "to vigorously support the Nichols amendment to the agricultural adjustment act, which bill is calculated to correct these discriminations."

Organization of counties as the new state soil conservation law, rather than "organizing innumerable new political subdivisions," was the substance of another resolution for which formal approval was regarded as a mere formality.

The sales tax measure called for a "general sales tax fairly and legitimately passed on to the consumer, providing a portion of revenues from such general sales tax be used to relieve property taxes."

Distribution Of State Road Funds Under Debate

AUSTIN, May 16 (AP)—A torrent of words surged through house and senate chambers today as both branches of the legislature considered two important bills.

The senate started work on a house bill expanding functions of the county and road district bond fund to distribute, sponsors of the measure estimate, $150,000,000 in 25 years among counties to pay road debts and construct new lateral thoroughfares.

In the house an economy blue inked several attempts at salary boosts in the important departmental appropriation bill, last major money measure left for floor consideration.

The road bond proposal, championed in the senate by Houghton Brownlee of Austin, would allocate the one-cent portion of the state gasoline tax to full payment of debts against locally constructed roads taken into the highway system before 1932 and would permit counties to apply the balance to take up warrants given in purchase of right-of-way or to build new county arteries.
