

Sees Further Curb On Holiday And Sunday Trucking

New Order Promulgated In Texas To Take Big Vehicles Off Some Major Highways On Weekends

AUSTIN, July 29 (AP)—Enforced curtailment of truck operations on week ends and holidays in the interest of safety of the motoring public has come to Texas to stay, in the opinion of Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler.

Tomorrow will be the last Sunday that commercial trucks generally can use the main highways between Texas' most populous cities. Thereafter they will be barred from the roads from 8 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. every Sunday and on holidays by railroad commission order.

The order is something new in this part of the nation. Sadler, its author and champion, voiced belief today that most of the truckers themselves were willing to make this sacrifice in the interest of reducing traffic deaths. But regardless of their attitude, he feels the restrictions will be permanent and in the future are more likely to be extended than relaxed.

"As Texas cities grow," he said, "and more and more motorists take to the road on week ends and holidays, the need for reserving the cardinal highways at these peak periods for private traffic will grow instead of diminish."

Trucks hauling perishable products are exempt from the order and Sadler said he would recommend to his colleagues early next week that trucks carrying livestock and newspapers likewise be exempted. The commissioner estimates that would leave approximately 5,500 trucks subject to its terms.

Rumblings indicating validity of the order may be challenged in the courts already have been heard. Sadler stated, however, that the courts had upheld the commissioner's right to refuse applications for new motor truck lines on grounds traffic density already is as great as it can safely be.

"If we can restrict the use of highways in one instance," he said, "we can in another."

Roads on which Sunday and holiday traffic will be limited for the most part to buses and private automobiles and trucks are the highway from Galveston to Denison via Houston, Huntville and Dallas, from Fort Worth to Longview via Dallas, from San Antonio to Beaumont via Houston and from San Antonio and Austin to Dallas and Fort Worth via Hillsboro.

Sadler is hopeful other states will follow Texas' lead in this safety move. For a long time he has been exploring possibilities of an interstate truck compact along the same lines as the oil compact. He said that to his knowledge Wisconsin was the only other state which had restricted truck traffic on week ends.

A 'BIG DAY' FOR PIONEERS AND FAMILIES

Senate Would Guard Private Enterprise

Amendment Voted To Check Govt. Interference; Funds Slashed

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—The senate approved tonight, 45 to 24, an amendment to the administration's $1,640,000,000 lending bill designed to prevent government interference with existing private enterprise.

Debate Limited

Soon after adopting this proposal by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), the chamber agreed to limit debate on the lending measure and recessed until Monday.

The agreement, limiting senators to 15-minute speeches, was obtained by the administration leadership after many previous attempts to hasten a vote had proved futile.

Sentiment for reduction of the lending program spread from the senate to the house banking committee during the day, bringing about an $850,000,000 reduction in the measure at that group's hands.

The banking committee recommended house passage of a curtailed bill carrying a total of $1,950,000,000.

The bill before the senate already had been cut down, by a coalition of republicans and democrats, to $1,640,000,000. When first introduced by administration leaders, the legislation carried $2,800,000,000.

Before it recessed, the senate accepted by a voice vote an amendment by Senator Tydings (D-Md) to prohibit political contributions by labor unions or other organizations except with the foreknowledge of their members.

Tydings indicated during debate that the amendment was aimed at such loans as the $470,000 advance made to the democratic party in 1936 by John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

Acceptance of the O'Mahoney proposal came after hours-long debate, during which Senator Norris (Ind-Rep) charged that its practical effect would be "to make it absolutely impossible for a municipality to construct an electric light plant."

The O'Mahoney amendment provides that none of the pro-

DIXIE DAVIS LEAVES PRISON

Dixie Davis (carrying bags), the "kid mouthpiece" for the late Dutch Schultz and his gambling crowd, leaves jail in New York, technically a free man. Elects Death Over Telling Wife Of Past

HOUSTON, July 29 (AP)—Rather than face his bathing beauty wife when she found he was an ex-convict, H. O. Floyd, 45, of Birmingham, Ala., plunged five floors from a police station window today and died a short time later.

Floyd, a magazine salesman, had been fingerprinted by police after his arrest on a charge of having passed a forged check for $7.50.

His wife, who claimed to have won a beauty title five times since 1928, was held on a charge of having forged the check, which was given three days ago to a tourist camp operator. Mrs. Floyd said she was the former Reba Lee of Memphis, Tenn., and gave her age as 37. She said she won the beauty titles under the name of Reba Lee Wilkes.

After E. E. Whittington, a clerk in the police identification bureau had taken Floyd's fingerprints the ex-convict remarked:

"Those fingerprints will show I have been in trouble before and my wife will be sore when she finds it out."

Then, Whittington said, Floyd confessed he had served 28 months of a one to ten year prison sentence in Illinois for embezzlement. Floyd claimed he was paroled later.

As Mrs. Floyd started to a jail cell, Floyd asked permission to say good bye. A moment later he jumped from the window.

A justice of the peace gave an inquest verdict of suicide.

Mrs. Floyd said she met her husband this spring at a party given in her honor after she had won another bathing beauty contest. She said they were married at Cleveland, Tenn., on May 19.

Floyd told police he formerly lived in Oklahoma.

Old Settlers Close Their 15th Reunion

The second of a brace of old time dances brought the curtain down Saturday night on the 15th annual reunion of the Howard County Old Settlers association—a reunion that many believed to be the best in many years.

Fully 400 people joined in the celebration to which the early settlers and their descendants flocked Friday beneath the cottonwood grove of Dad Parrish's place a mile east of town.

Pioneers found a big supply of barbecued mutton, beans, coffee bread and son-of-a-gun to go with the heavy picnic lunches such as only the pioneer women know how to prepare.

Aided by a public address system furnished by Carnett's, interesting yarns about the days when many settlers arrived were spun in the afternoon before old fiddlers began raking out popular tunes of four decades ago.

A few of the old timers shook off the weight of years to go through some dance routines characteristic of the nineties at the evening session, but mostly younger folks took to the light fantastic.

Among the pioneers who spoke briefly were H. Clay Read, A. Miller, Nettie Boydston, Mrs. M. E. Barrett and B. F. Logan. One Far-

'Human Bomb' To Confer On Bandit Held

KANSAS CITY, July 29 (AP)—Handcuffed and closely guarded, John Thornburg, 27, heard a federal commissioner order him returned to Kansas for trial on a charge he robbed a Chanute, Kas., bank in a daring dynamite raid last March 27.

Thornburg, known as the human bomb bandit, appeared before Commissioner Charles Thompson who set his bond at $25,000, ordered his removal to Kansas and directed that he be arraigned Tuesday at Leavenworth.

His court appearance followed lengthy questioning by FBI men who brought him to Kansas City from Nevada, Mo., where his four-month flight ended after a chance encounter with an old acquaintance.

FBI men said there was little doubt that Thornburg actually had explosive strapped about his waist the day of the robbery or that it would have exploded had he touched the detonator.

S. S. Alexander, United States district attorney for Kansas, said Thornburg probably would be tried next November at Fort Scott.

Thornburg was arrested yesterday after being recognized on a Nevada street by Demus Beckett, Chanute, who formerly attended a Sunday school class taught by Thornburg.

Before he was brought here he met Joe Balch, Chanute city attorney and a former school mate, whom he forced to accompany him to the Chanute bank and persuade officials he really would "blow the place to hell" if not given money.

He told questioners that after abandoning at Fayetteville, Ark., the taxicab in which he escaped, he went east, attended the New York World fair, then went south and even traveled through Old Mexico. Once he bought a car but sold it.

Asked what had become of the $4,800 loot—he had only $2.84 when arrested—Thornburg said:

"I guess I spent it mostly traveling."

TEXAS PROFESSOR WINS DRAMA AWARD

DENTON, July 29 (AP)—Dr. Arthur M. Sampley of the North Texas State Teachers College department of English was informed today he was co-winner of the Maxwell Anderson award in verse drama in an annual national contest conducted by Stanford University.

The award is $300 and will be divided equally between Dr. Sampley and Jean Clark of Eugene, Oregon.

Dr. Sampley's play, "Distant Harvest" is to be presented in a formal group reading by members of the community theatres at the Stanford University theatre July 31.

Britain Expanding Sea Maneuvers At 'Tension Period'

Sino-Jap Situation Is Worrying London Anew; France Offers Bonuses To Boost Birth Rate

By The Associated Press

Battleships and bases claimed attention in war-conscious Europe Saturday—battleships in England for maneuvers during critical months ahead, and bases in France to offset a decline in population.

Harvest time was at hand, too, and in many minds there has been fear that once the men drop the scythe they might have to turn to guns. August and September have been tagged the danger period.

Great Britain, with expanded naval maneuvers arranged to coincide with the period of possible tension next month, put ships under steam for training cruises and firing practice in advance of the mid-August war games.

The French government, alarmed at 34,741 more deaths than births last year, offered cash bonuses for babies and put a tax on bachelors and childless couples to pay the price.

Friction between British and Japanese soldiers flared once again in Shanghai. A dispute over the international settlement boundary, where the Japanese strung wire barricades for a mile and a half, brought Japanese with bayonets fixed to their rifles and British Highlanders but they did not clash.

The Japanese held four Britons and their truck for two and a half hours while officers negotiated to get them released.

Meanwhile the London government instructed its ambassador in Tokyo to complain again about the continuing anti-British demonstrations in China. At Peking, a seacoast resort northeast of Tientsin, Chinese coolies said they were paid the equivalent of three American cents and a bottle of soda pop to parade against the British.

London heard reports that Tokyo municipal authorities were arranging anti-British rallies for Monday around the building where diplomats have been trying to settle the Tientsin blockade trouble.

Official circles in London indicated dissatisfaction with progress of the Tokyo negotiations. Pressure for a stronger stand has grown since the United States announced it would conduct interviews with property owners on Aug. 14 and 15. Members of the unit are Curtis Driver, R. L. Cook and W. R. Purser.

REVIEWING THE BIG SPRING WEEK

Patrons of the Big Spring schools were reminded last week of a ruling by the board requiring vaccination against smallpox as a prerequisite to enrollment in the schools this year. Some few people may be constitutionally opposed to vaccinations, but they should remember that the vast majority is constitutionally opposed to having small-pox.

As we turn toward August, we can see that the weather in the next few days may have a very important bearing on what the business outcome will be here this autumn. Another general rain will mean pretty fair crops. Failure to get it will hurt cotton badly and virtually ruin late feed prospects.

Six cows, five spring heifers and three calves—all registered stock—were distributed here last week in an effort to improve dairy herds. A dozen cows seems like a small number to accomplish herd improvement, but when a couple of bull circles are added, results are greater and richer dairy production may be noted in three or four years. Better dairy stock will mean more return per pound of feed, a worthy economic goal.

Governor O'Daniel has sought to make the public conscious of local governmental expenditures by calling attention to the county budget season now at hand. Those interested will note that a copy of the proposed budget is on file with the county clerk. Those not so interested may excuse their apathy by noting that this and other counties in this area are on a much sounder financial footing.

SEEK MODIFICATION

DALLAS, July 29 (AP)—A delegation of leading motor freight truck operators will seek in Austin early next week modification of the Texas railroad commission's Sunday and holiday ban on commercial trucks, Carl Phinney, attorney for the group, said today.

Phinney said the commission would be asked to modify the order so that those truck lines now operating regular Sunday schedules on five Texas highways affected may continue to do so.

"The concession would not put more than 40 extra trucks on the five highways," Phinney said, "and could in no manner interfere with the commission's effort to make the highways safer."

NEW LIMITATION

DALLAS, July 29 (AP)—Copies of a petition asking the Texas railroad commission to limit the load each motor freight truck may carry to the kind and number of packages the commission designates, were circulated here today.

Attorneys for motor freight truck lines said the petition was filed with the commission in Austin earlier in the week, but that no date for a hearing had been set. The petition asks the commission to exercise a statutory right.

NEW POSITIONS ARE RECOMMENDED IN U. OF T. BUDGET

AUSTIN, July 29 (AP)—Creation of 50 new positions, an increase in research, and a few "essential" salary promotions headlined the University of Texas budget for the next two years, approved here today by the board of regents.

Submitted by Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president, the 1939-41 budget carried an annual increase of $250,540 over the preceding biennium. The increase, however, was actually $276,893 below the increase allowed the university two years ago, when legislative appropriations climbed $583,495 above the 1935-37 period.

Legislative appropriations for the main university and extramural departments for the coming biennium were boosted $155,255 to $2,006,760.

LAREDO PHYSICIAN CLAIMED BY DEATH

LAREDO, July 29 (AP)—Dr. Willis Edwards Lowry, 69, Laredo physician for the last 38 years, died in a hospital at San Antonio today.

He went to San Antonio Wednesday for an operation, performed today.

A native of Elkton, Ky., he moved to San Antonio as a small boy, was educated there, and at the University of Texas, and obtained his medical degree from G. P. and S. hospital at Baltimore, which later became Johns Hopkins university.

Disastrous Fires Sweep Western Area

OGDEN, Utah, July 29 (AP)—Vast sections of western timberland, tinder dry from rainless weeks and searing heat, were threatened tonight by fires which killed four in Nevada and caused unestimated damage in several other states.

In addition, lightning storms which brought little rain, killed two, one in Oregon and one in Kentucky.

Four Civilian Conservation Corps enrollees burned to death when a brush and timber fire they were fighting shifted and cut off their retreat. A fifth youth was missing and feared dead.

CAMPAIN AGAINST RELIGIOUS REPRESSION AIM OF BAPTISTS

ATLANTA, July 29 (AP)—Dr. James Henry Rushbrooke, 69-year-old white-bearded Londoner who will head the world's 12,000,000 Baptists the next five years, said today elimination of religious repression would be the principal goal of the denomination.

Looking to the future, the church diplomat asserted the Baptists would emphasize their traditional opposition to "coercive restraint" by governmental agencies of the right to freedom of worship.

"We have no political axe to grind," he said, referring to the overtures the Baptist World Alliance will make to Russia and Rumania, countries where religious liberty has been restricted.

"International deputations will carry our protests to the diplomatic representatives of those countries. We will watch for develop-

LAND IN DISPUTE MUST BE SOLD

AUSTIN, July 29 (AP)—A new state board laid preliminary plans today for sale of 20,000 acres of Panhandle land in Lipcomb, Hamphill, Wheeler, Collingsworth and Childress counties awarded Texas in a border dispute with Oklahoma.

The area, decreed to be a part of Texas by the United States supreme court, must be sold under terms of a law passed by the Texas legislature to proper claimants at $1 an acre.

Some Sectors Aided By Rain Start Fencing On Lake Road

Spotted showers, ranging from dust settling sprinkles to two inch downpours, changed the crop outlook in separated areas over the county Friday night and gave others relief from heat.

Heaviest precipitation was reported in the southeast corner of the county where a dashing two inch shower wet a country that has heretofore been misused by almost all rains.

It was heavy enough at the two city dams to settle the dirt work water behind each of the two and to impound a small amount of structure.

At Vealmoor, on the northern county line, a thunderstorm created enough excitement to break up a one-variety cotton community meeting. Rainfall from there westward to Ackerly amounted to about a quarter of an inch.

In south of Knott, more beneficial showers were reported. The area as far south as the old Highway community had as much as an inch and several tanks and natural lakes caught water.

At Millow there was only a light sprinkling. North and east of town the rain grew heavier than the light shower which laid the dust here, but finally played out about 14 miles north.

Cotton Subsidy An Aid To Japs

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—This government's new policy of subsidizing cotton exports may be a boon to Japan to the extent of $4,000,000 to $10,000,000, officials of the agriculture department said today.

They explained that, although the state department had given notice of its intention to abrogate the 1911 commercial treaty between the United States and Tokyo, that pact would continue in effect for six months and make it impossible to deny Japan the export subsidy benefits granted other nations.

Whether such benefits would be taken from the Japanese after See COTTON, Page 13, Col. 5

TAX EQUALIZATION HEARINGS ARE SET

Preliminary work of the board of equalization sitting for the city and the local independent school district was finished Saturday and dates for public hearing fixed.

The board announced it would conduct interviews with property owners on Aug. 14 and 15. Members of the unit are Curtis Driver, R. L. Cook and W. R. Purser.

CONGRESS NOT AS ACTIVE AS FD IN 'GOOD NEIGHBOR' DEALS

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—Congress has given evidence this session of lagging some distance behind the president in the promotion of what administration officials call his good neighbor policy.

Of a vast administration program submitted to congress for collaboration with Latin America, some of the projects have been turned down, some accepted, some of the remainder pruned and some not acted upon.

Congress, whose ideas on good neighborliness now appear to differ somewhat from those of the president and state department, just as in the case of neutrality legislation, recently refused an appropriation for translating American technical publications into Spanish, and Portuguese for distribution in Latin America.

Overruled the president's desire to purchase Argentine corned beef for the navy.

Moreover, the senate is stubbornly refusing its consent to the so-called "convention" negotiated with Argentina which would permit the transportation into the United States of Argentine beef. The convention has been before the senate for three

Hardy Family Returns To Ritz Screen

Adventure And Romance In 'Andy Hardy Gets Spring Fever'

The Hardy Family takes a fling at life, both romantic and dramatic, in the seventh of the popular series, "Andy Hardy Gets Spring Fever," playing today and Monday at the Ritz theatre.

All the familiar faces are back. However, Lewis Stone as the Judge, Mickey Rooney as Andy and Cecilia Parker as Marian fall victims to a spirit of caprice and it is up to Fay Holden (Mother Hardy) and Sara Haden (Aunt Milly) to remain the stabilizing members. Newcomers to the cast are Helen Gilbert, a new discovery who plays Andy's latest love, and Terry Kilburn, who recently scored an outstanding success in "Goodbye, Mr. Chips."

W. S. Van Dyke II, director of such pictures as "The Thin Man," "San Francisco" and "Sweethearts," is said to fully capitalize all the possibilities of the humorous situations in which the Hardy family finds itself.

The adventurous spirit strikes the Hardys like a cyclone. In this picture, the Judge loses his usual conservatism and almost loses everything he owns in a crooked promotion stunt. In the end, however, his good sense prevails and he turns a "gold brick" into pay dirt. Then Andy quarrels with his sweetheart, Polly Benedict, played by Ann Rutherford, and falls crazily in love with a beautiful school teacher. To win her esteem, he turns playwright-actor, and, despite his father's advice, even proposes to the older girl. Marian decides to forsake social life for a career and in return gets mixed up with the swindling promoters.

In the end, however, the Judge has emerged victorious; Andy gets his old love, Polly, is still the best, and Marian decides she is not a career-girl. In brief, the Hardy Family returns to normal.

'SAN FRANCISCO' RETURNS HERE

One of the more sensationally successful productions of a season back was "San Francisco," a dramatic tale of the West coast city, which now is being returned here for Sunday-Monday showings at the Lyric. Clark Gable and Jeanette MacDonald have leading roles, along with Spencer Tracy. Gable is a ruler of the Barbary coast, Miss MacDonald a singer in whom he becomes interested, and Tracy a priest who helps the two. The affair of the three come to a mighty climax in scenes depicting the Frisco earthquake and fire, considered some of the finest photographic work ever done in Hollywood.

ADVENTURE DRAMA AT QUEEN

Lloyd Nolan, Patricia Morrison and the able actor, Akim Tamiroff are seen here in a scene from "The Magnificent Fraud," an adventure drama which tops the bill for today and Monday at the Queen theatre. Tamiroff is given ample opportunity to demonstrate his wares as one of filmdom's finest character actors.

STATE FACES A BIG PROBLEM IN MATCHING OF TEACHERS' PART IN RETIREMENT FUND

Herald Austin Bureau
AUSTIN, July 29—Practically unnoticed by officials on capitol hill, the state teachers' retirement system is building up a financial problem for the next legislature which will vie in importance with the old-age pension problem.

Under a law enacted two years ago, 41,000 teachers began contributing five per cent of their salaries to a retirement fund, relying on the state to appropriate an equal amount. The law was passed in accordance with a constitutional amendment adopted by the people to extend "social security" to Texas teachers.

The teachers' fund on June 30 totaled $4,437,202.27. But not a cent has been appropriated so far by the state. It is estimated that the teachers' contributions will approach $5,000,000 by the close of the current fiscal year and by Sept. 1, 1941, beginning of the new biennium two years hence, the fund will have reached $10,000,000 New Revenue.

The regular session of the legislature, convening in January, 1941, will face the problem of having to meet this amount dollar for dollar and will have to raise another $5,000,000 to match contributions for the biennium starting Sept. 1, 1941. The task will be to provide new revenue totaling $15,000,000.

Because of the staggering amount the state will be in arrears on its matching, observers are expecting the next legislature will make an effort to avoid the problem of meeting the deficit. At the most, some observers believe, the legislature probably will finance the program for the approaching biennium and make provision to retire the deficit in annual installments of $500,000 or $1,000,000. In that event, it will take 10 to 20 years for the state to catch up with its matching of teachers' contributions.

Officials of the teachers' retirement system point out, however, that contributions of the teachers are perfectly safe. They are invested in U. S. bonds and in obligations of cities and counties that have not defaulted during the past 30 years.

An account is set up for each teacher contributing to the retirement fund. The teacher's contributions draw three per cent interest

Tamiroff Has Varied Roles In Queen Film

Character Player Wins New Laurels In 'The Magnificent Fraud'

Akim Tamiroff has probably brought a greater variety of clever characterizations to the screen than any other living Hollywood performer. In the course of the past five years he has been seen as a Chinese General in "The General Died at Dawn"; as an ex-cannoneer of Napoleon in "The Buccaneers"; as a crafty Greek gambler in "High, Wide and Handsome"; as a Russian sea raider in "Spawns of the North"; as a comedian in "Paris Honey-moon"; and a Mexican trouble-shooter in "Union Pacific." And that is just scratching the surface!

But in Tamiroff's newest screen venture, the daring Paramount drama, "The Magnificent Fraud," playing today and Monday at the Queen, he plays the best role, or rather roles—of his career. First of all, he is seen as a dictator of a mythical South American country, called San Cristobal. Then he is seen as an actor who substitutes for the dictator. And while he is still in character as an actor, he gives his impressions of three great rulers—of Napoleon, of Henry VIII, and of Cyranoe de Bergerac, that long-nosed ruler of ladies' hearts.

Tamiroff is noted for his ability to change the inflection of his voice, to bring a character to life with movements of the hands, change in posture, and with all the subtle nuances requisite for a great character actor. Never has he had a greater opportunity to demonstrate his ability than in "The Magnificent Fraud." Never has he realized upon an opportunity to a greater degree.

"The Magnificent Fraud" is a sensational story of an actor who doubles for a dictator in order to make certain that San Cristobal will obtain a ten million dollar loan. Also in the cast are Lloyd Nolan, as a reckless romantic American, right-hand man of the dictator; Mary Boland, as an ex-fiance of the dictator; Patricia Morrison, in the best romantic role of her budding career, and George Zucco as an honest patriot. DEAL IS REPORTED FOR U. S. SALE OF COTTON TO SPAIN

WASHINGTON, July 29, (AP)—Senator Byrnes, (D-SC) said today he understood negotiations were under way to sell an undetermined amount of government-held cotton, to Spain on a cash deal.

Reports from Madrid indicated the Spanish government had tentatively agreed to take 250,000 of the 11,000,000 bales now held by the Commodity Credit Corporation under government loans.

If the sale is made to Spain, the $7.70 per bale export subsidy offered yesterday by secretary of agriculture Wallace, is expected to figure in the deal.

Byrnes, emphasized, however, that if an agreement were reached with Spain, it would involve cotton for immediate use of that country and not cotton to be stored for five years for military purposes, as would be required under tentative agreements with France and Switzerland.

STATE AVIATION BODY IS PLANNED

SAN ANTONIO, July 29, (AP)—Efforts looking toward creation of a state aviation body, which is necessary before Texas can participate in the proposed $125,000,000 Federal airport development program, will be made early next week at Austin at the conference between several San Antonians and Governor W. Lee O'Daniel and Attorney General Gerald C. Mann.

A proposed program for Stinson field, the municipal airport, which a survey would cost $600,000 would come under the federal program provided the bill is passed by Congress and Texas obtains an official state aviation group.

States having no aviation body, of which there are 15, cannot, under provisions of the bill, participate in the federal program.

ing out the cast are Steffi Duna and Ernest Cosart.

Mr. Lewis Pops Off

A great many people, including practically all employers who have felt some of its injustices, and even some labor leaders, think it would be wise to amend the wage-hour act. Hardly anybody defends it as a perfect measure.

But John L. Lewis, big shot of the C.I.O., wants the act left alone. He could have carried on his fight on principle, and perhaps have won the victory, at least for this session of congress. He made a grave mistake the other day in dipping his campaign into personalities, with a vicious attack on none other than the vice president of the United States, Texan John Garner.

If Mr. Lewis expected that stricture to help his cause, he was proved mistaken in mighty short time. A great clamor of defense for Mr. Garner has arisen over the nation, and his many friends in congressional circles hastened to decry the Lewis outburst.

It will be recalled that Garner was considered by some conservative elements as "too radical" for the vice-presidency back in 1932. What now, when the most brazen radical of them all announces his unequivocal opposition to the man from Uvalde? It is being said generally that the Lewis attack will be a definite boost to the Garner presidential-nomination campaign. And it is just as much a boost for advocates of the wage-hour act revision. The answer to Lewis came promptly, when three measures were introduced in congress calling for revisions.

So Mr. Lewis is due to lose his immediate battle, and the chances are whether Garner wins the nomination or not—he will be a loser in whatever campaign he essays in the elections of 1940.

Garner, it is remembered, was a bitter critic of the sit-down strikes of a few years ago, and it may be that the Lewis hatred for him was engendered there. But Mr. Lewis ought to remind himself that a great mass of American people also oppose the principle of the sit-down strikes, and are in opposition to many of the policies furthered by the labor leader and his C. I. O.

In fact, a lot of people are pretty well fed up with Mr. Lewis, and his popping off against the vice-president helped his standing not a bit. It is also true that Garner's status was increased by the Lewis tirade. His were unwarranted remarks about a man who enjoys the respect and confidence of the American people.

George Tucker Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—O. Henry once wrote the story of a man who was in love with a New York sales girl. Familiar with world capitals and accustomed to spending parts of each year at the fashionable European watering places, the man drew alluring pictures of the casinos and the soft, pearly sand along the beach under Mediterranean moonlight. All this and many similar delights he promised her if she would marry him.

Next day the girl recounted this proposal to one of her girl friends. "Well, aren't you going to marry him?" she demanded. "Naw," her friend replied, "He's just a cheap skate. He wants to take me to Coney Island."

These quotes are from memory, and I use them only to introduce that sometimes bizarre and always slightly astonishing adjunct of Metropolitan Life—Coney Island.

Unless you have been there in the crush of mid-summer, on hot, sultry nights, you cannot hope to understand Coney Island. It frequently accommodates more than a million people at one time. If there is one ferris wheel there are a thousand. It must have ten thousand side-shows, thriller-movies, joy rides, hot dog stands, houses of mirrors, girl shows, and similar tourist traps.

You may reach Coney Island from Manhattan at the cost of only a nickel, by subway. If you are in a mood for serious entertainment, Coney has it, too. On the recommended list is the American Museum of Recreation, which has on display the ancient vehicles on which the dandies of other days disported themselves.

The museum has a model of the old "loop-the-loop" ride which Edwin Prescott invented in 1901 and considered at that time entirely too risky for anyone with intelligence to ride. The model grinds slowly to the top of the long incline, much as the present day roller coasters, and then swoops down, turning a complete loop. Perhaps the bravos of that day didn't realize that they had centrifugal force on their side. There wasn't even a chance of falling out, even at the top of the loop.

Roper's steam bicycle, which finally killed him, used to draw crowds in Boston. Twice he was arrested for "blocking the carriage track." The wheels generated 200 pounds of steam and had unplumbed speed. It's still in excellent shape if you want to ride it.

Another relic is the "bone-shaker," an iron bicycle on hard rubber tires, without springs. A half hour on a rough road with this and you think the Inquisition has you.

The first machine gun, invented in 1718 by James Puckle, an Englishman, is also on display. Puckle dedicated his masterpiece to the defense of King George and the Protestant faith. Action of the gun is based on a revolving screw.

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

Meet Mr. Lochinvar

By Marie Blizard

Chapter Eight Engaged Olivia had arranged a cruise for Gloria and three of her visiting sister-debutantes from New York for the third week in July. Once she had decided that she was going to "do things" for Cecily, she was firm about it. Cecily must, of course, be one of the party to cruise to Canada in the small yacht she had chartered for the weekend.

Cecily said to Laura, "I hate to miss the weekend here. It's so exciting when guests come to the inn on Saturdays and come in here. But Aunt Olivia had been so kind to me, I can't refuse."

"You'll have fun, Cecily," Laura consoled. "Fun!" Cecily echoed. "I've already had those chattering, giggling females under foot for the last two days. They think it's 'cute' to run a shop and then look at me as though I were glasses three inches thick and woolen underwear. I don't fit with them at all."

Nor did she. She mightn't have been so conscious of it, had she not been in such close company with them. She shared a cabin on the yacht with Allene Bixby, who was "engaged" to four men—one Yale one Princeton, one band leader and one tennis champion. She drew Karen Willoughby for a room-mate at the big hotel at St. Andrews.

Karen wasn't much of an improvement; she was torn between trying to decide whether to elope to Arm-onk at midnight or to have a formal wedding with doves released in the church as she turned from the altar.

Beaux. Parties. Clothes. More beaux. At first, Cecily had listened to all the talk and tried to make conversation. After a while she simply gave up. She didn't have any beaux. She wasn't interested in her clothes once she had bought them, at least as a subject of conversation, and her parties weren't the kind the girls were talking about.

But Cecily was only twenty-one and she was either hard-boiled nor an old maid. She was feminine and she was sensitive. After two days, it was apparent to her that she was being tolerated, looked upon as an outcast. She didn't mind that but she was piqued by their pity. So she was sorry for her, were they?

She waited her opportunity and when Allene said that she thought she'd probably marry the tennis champion because he was the only one who did "anything" worthwhile, Cecily knew her opportunity had come.

"I know how you feel," she said, surprisingly, and discovered that she had engaged their interest. "Do you?" someone asked. "Yes, you see I'm... well, I'm sort of engaged, too. My fiance is just starting his career and when he... she let it drift off, thinking there that'll hold them!

And, immediately, it did. It also did something else. It admitted her to their circle. To a debutante, a girl without a beau is an oddity; they didn't understand her. They hadn't understood Cecily but when they thought she was one of them they discovered that they liked her.

"His Name Is" One day in the middle of the week after the cruise, Cecily rather wished that they didn't like her quite so much. Laura had gone to Boston on a business trip and she was alone in the shop with a great deal to do. She had some baskets to paint, an order from the inn and now the girls were trooping in to tell about the shop during the rainy afternoon that made boating or swimming impossible.

She gave them tea and went on with her painting. "By the way," Karen Willoughby said, "didn't you say that your boy-friend was a writer?" "Uh... yes, I guess I did," Cecily said, and scowled over her paintbrush, wishing she could think of something to say to change the subject.

"Who is he? Do we know him? What's his name?" Allene asked. "Rather desperately Cecily tried to assemble her thoughts in an orderly manner. Cornered, her imagination refused utterly to function. To save her life—not to mention the present situation—she couldn't think of a single imaginary name. Her eyes were level with a book-shelf and rested there on the copy of "Ride the Rainbow."

She said, "His name is Callen Philip. But you've never heard of him, I'm sure."

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Anybody wishing to remain cool and collected this summer should harden himself to atrocity stories on the one hand and to war prosperity stories on the other. They have already begun to arrive.

A member of the French mission recently over here to inspect supply sources said his country intended to buy much steel and brass tubing partially shaped for shells and guns. That way, he said, they could be shipped without conflict with the munitions embargo act. The state department had to correct that story by pointing out that munitions could not be shipped even in a semi-manufactured shape.

During the World War, England had a carefully organized propaganda department with a home division, an American division, an Asiatic division and all the rest. Germany had a similar organization, although the Germans had difficulty getting out their stuff as England controlled the cables.

Hugh Wilson, Ambassador to Germany now bidding his time in this country, helped sum up the situation in his book, "The Education of a Diplomat."

All the time that the British, French and Americans were being horrified by the stories of the terrible Germans, who cut off the hands of little Belgian boys and boiled dead Allied soldiers to get the grease, Germany was keeping up the morale of its own public with similar stories.

Tender German mothers with schoolboy sons at the front were told that troops from the wilds of Canada and Australia refused to take prisoners. They bayoneted or blew up all the Germans they could catch.

HAWAII COMPLAINS But we must get on the pleasanter subjects. John Snell, secretary of the Hawaii Equal Rights Commission, writes from Honolulu that we were unfair in referring to Hawaii as an "Island possession" in a recent epic from our typewriter. Hawaii, he said, is like Texas in that it came into the Union voluntarily and was not snatched, as were the Philippines.

That is all true enough. Hawaii is a piece of the United States historically, strategically and sentimentally.

A HALF CENT COIN? Moreover, we have meant for a long time to tell you about Jean M. Craik of Andover, Massachusetts, who writes in that she is more than a little tired of being bargained out of a penny or into an extra pound by those stores which advertise "two pounds for 17c" if you buy one pound, she says, you lose a half cent. If you buy two pounds you have too much.

"The coin that ought to be minted now" she said, "is a half cent piece. Then we wouldn't be swindled out of whole pennies by these ubiquitous stores that price everything so that if one doesn't buy two pounds or a dozen he always has to give them an extra half cent."

She concedes it seems sort of hopeless, because if you want to buy a 1-2 cent stamp it costs two cents, and that puts the government in the business.

SENATORIAL SCHOLARSHIP But for uncatchable logic, we refer you to Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the majority leader. He was defending the poet, Archibald MacLeish, newly appointed congressional librarian, from senatorial critics. A certain magazine article about which the senators were carping should not be counted, Senator Barkley said, for it was written several months ago before Mr. MacLeish knew he was to be librarian.

"It came out in May," said Barkley, "and was undoubtedly written before May. Most articles in magazines are written in advance of their publication."

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—It is an admirable thing to grow old gracefully. And in Hollywood it is a rare thing, too.

Today I saw an actress who, I believe, has learned the secret. Five years ago a star, she might easily feel that the best years of her life are behind her. She is now, as movie ages go, approaching a period of uncertainty. There is an "in-between age" which harasses all players of her sex—no longer young enough for the roles she has been playing, not old enough for grandmotherly assignments. Just in-between.

Has it worried her, floored her spirits? Not a bit of it. She is going along (she still has a contract with some few years to go) and she is accepting the fact that in her roles as well as in life she must face the years and the toll they take. She has discarded her old coiffure (those famous bangs—and I don't mean Claudette Colbert!) and she has adopted styles in wardrobe in keeping with her increasing dignity.

Her fame came, in the first place, from a certain boyishness boisterousness. She has had the good sense, facing facts, to abandon that harum-scarum personality.

She is grateful, you can tell, for what Hollywood has already done for her. There is a beautiful home, and a swimming pool, hordes of loving pets, and—best of all—security. All this is in beautiful contrast to her early years in this uncertain town, years in which she refused to give up trying, years in which studio gates clang shut in her face more often than they opened. She knows that where she succeeded, hundreds perhaps as ambitious and talented are still fighting for a chance. She is duly grateful.

And it is a strange thing, but her policy of growing old gracefully has done wonders for her personality—and not at all incidentally, for her figure.

The lady has luck. She is not giving in completely to the calendar's quick-turning leaves. Perhaps it is because she knows about Marie Dressler, who found new fame and fortune after Hollywood had her all "washed up." Perhaps it is because, like any sensible woman, she realizes that the years have nothing to do, really, with one's grooming. Even an octogenarian can look sweet and neat if she tries—as this actress's 81-year-old grandmother, now here on a visit, proves.

But the strangest thing of all is this: by growing old gracefully, the actress undoubtedly has prolonged her stardom. A couple of years ago, some of us were afraid that her cute ways were slipping into mere muggishness; she was working too hard at her trade. Today, all that is gone. Poise and serenity, and greater charm therefore, are hers. And she is a better actress.

In her present film, "We're in the Army Now," she sings a song about flowers (her voice is improving too) and at the end she is required to give freely of tears. She wept and wept (perhaps thinking of old age made it easier) and so effectively that her director, H. Bruce Humberstone, sent her orchids. (Oddly enough, they were her first. Not all movie stars eat them for breakfast, you know.)

Spanish Refugees May Gain New Economic Footing; Gold Hoard Said To Have Been Moved To Mexico

MEXICO CITY, July 29 (AP)—Spanish republican refugees starting a fresh life in Mexico may have a hidden $50,000,000 gold treasure to dip into in getting on their economic feet.

The hoard was brought to Mexico as the secret cargo of a pleasure yacht, informed persons say, and will be used to start a bank. The bank will make loans to Spaniards who fled into France from Generalissimo Franco's armies and finally reached a Mexican haven but need money to get started in business, professions, farming or industry.

The gold was taken out of Spain by the former Spanish republican government. Accounts from Paris yesterday of the quarrel between former Premier Juan Negrin and an opposing republican junta gave the first clue to the cargo of the yacht Vita which arrived at Vera Cruz March 30.

Huge boxes were unloaded mysteriously under close watch of government agents and brought to an unknown destination in Mexico City. It was said today the boxes contained gold.

The government, which has not recognized Franco's regime, is silent concerning the funds which Paris reports say were placed in the temporary custody of President Cardenas.

Reports are that the reason Negrin was "deposed" by the republican junta in Paris yesterday was he opposed establishment of the bank, wanting to use the money to launch a campaign against the Franco regime at an opportune time.

Nearly 5,000 refugees have arrived from concentration camps in France.

Club Women To Make Trip

With 22 already signed, success of a projected tour of Austin and San Antonio by Howard county home demonstration club women appeared to be assured Saturday.

However, pointed out Lora Farnsworth, county home demonstration agent, a quota of 25 women is being sought for the three-day trip. She urged others planning to join in the excursion to notify her as soon as possible.

Total cost, including transportation and food, will be only $4.50. Women will bring their own coats and bedding. A school bus has been engaged for the tour.

Leaving here at 8 a. m. Aug. 8, the women will proceed to Austin to view the capitol building, the governor's mansion and the university. At San Antonio, where most of the time will be spent, the group will visit Brackenridge Park, Randolph Field, five missions, including the Alamo, a cathedral, the museum and Buckhorn Saloon. Scheduled return is the evening of Aug. 10.

Famed Oklahoma Political Leader Dies In Denver

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 29 (AP)—A. E. Perry, who quit the race for lieutenant governor in 1926 when he couldn't get his name on the ballot as "Dynamite Ed," came to the end of an eventful career today.

Perry, 68, pioneer republican who fought to elect Theodore Roosevelt in 1912, died early today in a hospital at Denver where he went Sunday for an emergency operation.

Perry became ill on a vacation trip. He was accompanied by Mrs. Perry.

"Dynamite Ed" bore his nickname after a republican convention at Atoka in 1903.

Perry, it was related, tossed 200 pounds of dynamite with its sputtering fuse out of the window of a train bearing 1,400 men to the meeting. The dynamite wrecked the Atoka depot but didn't injure anyone. It had been brought along to maintain excitement, but somebody mistakenly lit it all at once.

Denison, Texas, was the early home of the future political leader, who was born in Canada. He went to Texas with his father and came to Atoka in 1888.

ELLIOTT HAS A WORD ABOUT CIO CHIEF'S ATTACK ON GARNER

FORT WORTH, July 29 (AP)—The blast of John L. Lewis, president of the CIO, against Vice President Garner "may have done irreparable damage to the fine cause of labor advancement in this country," Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president, said in a radio talk today.

"Quite a few people throughout the United States don't happen to agree with Mr. Lewis and a great many people who are straight thinking, patriotic Americans are beginning to get slightly irritated at people such as John L. Lewis and Representative Dewey Short of Missouri, who get on their feet and scream personal invectives at the heads of our state," young Roosevelt said.

Jones

Frank Morgan had plenty of trouble with Hicks. All even through nine Morgan gained a two hole advantage through the 13th but lost it all on 16 with erratic tee shots. On the 17th Morgan pulled a good approach and watched Hicks two putt to go back in front. On the 18th he outdistanced Hicks from the tee by some 20 yards but apparently lost that break by flubbing his first iron shot. His second approach was true, however, and when Hicks two putted the green that hole was conceded.

WPA Projects Progressing

Progress apparent to the man's eye was noted on two WPA projects during the week. As bulk of the steel work was up on the west stands of the new high school stadium, footings were installed on a portion of the east stands and timber for south end of these stands went into place. Workmen continued the pour of footings for the north end of east stands.

The verdant carpet for the playing field continued to show remarkable progress and there is every indication that it will be top shape for the first game of the season.

South of the field, a large area was cleared for parking space. Most of the new tract was fenced in, a cyclone wire fence being staked around the playing field. At the city park all but 60 square yards of rock to be used in top operations had been crushed at end of the week. A supply of rock in the quarry had been blasted and made ready for use Saturday noon.

The stage of the amphitheater was taking shape and work shifted their seat building area from top of the huge out theatre to the bottom so that event work were suspended. Foundations for a community center structure were poured. The West Side park and a COC racks building was to be moved from the high school to the playground during the week.

Local Firm Will Give Free Hose

BIG SPRING, July 30—The management of the La Mode of this city made an announcement to the effect that on Tuesday morning, August 1, any woman shopper who reports to the management that the values on sale at that store during the balance of the week—La Mode's Final Summer Sale Week—are not equal to the best she has ever found in any store in any city, she will be given absolutely free a pair of $1.35 Mo Jud two-thread hose.

Mr. Glickman, manager of the La Mode shoe department, is placing on sale 600 pairs of Margo shoes in values to $6.50 at $1.00 per pair. Mr. Silverman, head of the La Mode ready to wear department, is arranging the entire dress stock in price groups. In Group No. 1 are all cotton sheer washables, including the regular College Campus $5.95 line, and priced at customers choice for $1.98. Group 2 includes $9.95 Salyna Washables, $7.95 wash silks, and $5.95 Crystalline prints, which go on sale at $2.98. All regular silks to $9.95 values go at $3.98, and every $12.95 Debbie Junior comes down to $5.95.

In the suit department, the regular $12.95 all wool gabardines go at only $4 each, while $14.95 Snyder Knits and $16.95 all wool year round suits go at $7 each.

The reason for these drastic reductions, as explained by Mr. Silverman, is that there is now arriving daily at the La Mode huge shipments of fall suits, coats, dresses, and shoes. This merchandise, fresh from the style marts of the world, will be unpacked and placed on display Monday, August 7. At the time the new fall merchandise is placed on display, the La Mode wishes to be completely cleared of all summer wear, and the space these beautiful summer frocks occupy is sorely needed. For that reason, every stitch of light weight apparel is being reduced to much less than actual original cost.

Thrifty and smart dressers of the entire Big Spring shopping area are urged to be on hand for the grand opening of La Mode's Final Summer Sale Week. A few dollars will buy more clothes for mi-lady during this week of drastic clearance than has ever been offered before, or will ever be offered again. And, in the event that you attend the La Mode any day during the week, and are not satisfied that the prices are as low as any you've ever encountered at any time, you are asked to please report to Mr. Silverman or Glickman, and a pair of Mo Jud hose are yours ABSOLUTELY FREE! The La Mode positively guarantees that this is its FINAL sale of the summer; so customers are cautioned to come early to avoid disappointment.—(Adv.)

Large Sculpture For AP Building Will Be Cast In Stainless Steel

NEW YORK, July 29, (AP)—Out of the same cauldron from which industry is drawing airplanes, streamlined trains, beer vats and fun mounts, a new art medium is emerging.

With a splutter of sparks from molten metal, the first mold will be filled soon for the only large-scale sculpture ever cast in stainless steel—a monumental plaque for the facade of the Associated Press building in Rockefeller Center.

Isamu Noguchi, Los Angeles-born Japanese-American artist, recently completed a full sized plaster model of the plaque. It was sawed into seven sections and taken from New York to a Boston foundry.

Three-quarters of an inch thick, 17 x 22 feet in expanse, the completed work will weigh eight or nine tons, said H. H. Harris, president of General Alloys company, which will cast the design.

Explaining why stainless steel was selected for the sculpture, Harris added proudly, "the only metal known to man—besides gold and platinum—which does not foul its own face is stainless. Other metals have excretions of oxidation."

Comparatively new, stainless steel is an alloy of 24 per cent chromium, 2 per cent nickel, iron and a little copper, will be used for the first time as an exterior decoration at Rockefeller Center.

In Boston seven sand molds will be made from the seven sections of the plaster pattern. High refractory synthetic sand will be used because the heat of the metal would fuse ordinary sand. Melted in electric furnaces consuming as much power as an ordinary town of 5,000 inhabitants, the steel will be poured from automatic cradles.

The completed rough casts will be machined at the edges to 5,000ths of an inch in accuracy, and tumbled together without perceptible joints, Harris said.

Declared by Harris to be the first sculptor ever to work in a hard metal in heroic sizes, Noguchi himself will finish the face of the plaque with special high-cycle grinders.

Has Something There

AUSTIN, July 29 (AP)—State Senator Joe Hill of Henderson thinks New Hampshire has something in its Echo lake.

Vacationing there, Hill sent a picture postcard of the lake's famous echo not to Senate Secretary Bob Barker with this message:

"I found out about this when I jumped out and made a speech, then sat back on the side of the car and heard the speech repeated twice, word for word; made a correction or two and went on. Come up next summer and hear it."

REA Project Planned For Martin Co.

STANTON, July 29 (SpI)—At a county-wide meeting in Stanton recently on the establishment of a Rural Electrification project in Martin county, it was determined there was sufficient interest to justify making application to the REA for a project. A temporary committee was appointed to serve until an organization can be perfected, at which time committee members are to become a board of directors. Attending the meeting was H. N. Roberts, consulting engineer of Lubbock, who explained the electrification program. Roberts was authorized by the committee to make application to Washington for approval on preliminary work on the project.

During the past several weeks, meetings have been held in the various communities of the county and the program explained to farm operators. At a meeting of the Stanton Service club this week the program was explained and discussed by the business men of Stanton. The REA program is set up on a cooperative association basis. The association may borrow from the federal government through the REA for the construction of rural power lines and money may be obtained at 2.88 per cent interest for 20 years. The loan is to be repaid through the sale of electric current to the consumers on the lines, and at the end of 20 years the line belongs to the association. At least one hundred miles of line is required to start a project, with at least three customers per mile.

Establishment of minimum rates will be on the basis of the cost of the entire project and estimated consumption of current by consumers. In the counties north of Martin now served by the REA, the minimum rate is $2.50 a month which supplies enough current for the lights and miscellaneous uses of the average farm family. The more current used, however, the less its costs per unit, or kilowatt hour. This minimum rate is increased in cases where the house is located more than one thousand feet from the primary line by 1-1-2 per cent each month of the cost of building the additional line. The primary line, however, will run along the roads to more users and the $2.50 minimum would apply except in houses in the center of sections.

Work will be started soon on securing signatures on service contracts. It is necessary for a mini-

U. S. MAY NOT PUSH EXPORT OF WHEAT

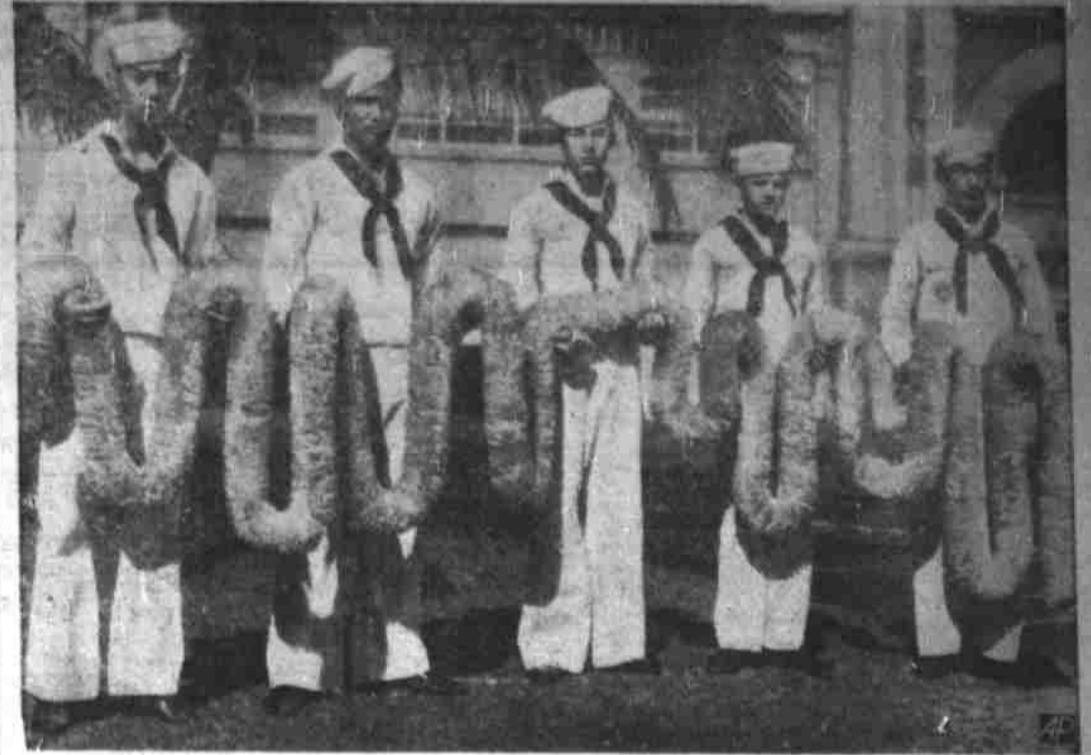

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—With wheat selling in the world markets at the lowest levels of modern times, the United States may not insist upon its so-called "fair share" of exports during its current marketing season, Federal farm officials said today.

Employing an export subsidy, the Government was able to place 118,000,000 bushels of surplus wheat in the world market during the past season. Because American prices were above world levels the grain was sold at an average loss of 27 cents a bushel.

In recent weeks the spread between American and world prices has widened considerably. The governmental policy of making loans to growers on wheat at rates far above world prices has tended to keep domestic quotations from following the world trend.

Many Helsinki, Finland, shopkeepers and railway employes are learning English in preparation for the 1940 Olympics there.

Many numbers to sign these contracts agreeing to use a specified amount of current each month for the first year and pay their membership fees in the association.

Gaines County Wildcat Test Is Watched

EAN ANGELO, July 29—Stanton Oil & Gas company's No. 1 J. P. Rayner, northeastern Gaines county wildcat, showing more gas in the Yates sand and maintaining its high structural position on the top of the brown lime, was West Texas' most closely watched operation this week.

It topped the brown lime at 3,750 feet, 654 feet below sea level, which on one correlation was 265 feet higher than in Perryman No. 1. Doak, a Gaines county failure six miles west and slightly north, and 140 feet higher than in Picketts No. 1. Lewright, a southeastern Terry county dry hole, 30 miles to the northeast. At several points rotary mud was blown from the hole when drill pipe was drawn. Drilling had reached 4,073 feet in anhydrite and lime. No. 1 Rayner is 660 feet out of the southwest corner of section 3-C-3-pd.

Alco Oil Co. No. 1 Marion McGlinchey in Yoakum county, half mile southeast of its discovery well in the Roberts pool and seven-eighths mile west of the Walker pool discovery, both west of the Denver field, was completed at 5,195 feet, after acidizing, with a daily potential of 1,327.76 barrels. It is in the southwest quarter of section 794-D-John H. Gibson.

Yoakum county added seven producers this week, with combined daily potential yield of 5,708.54 barrels. Mid-Continent No. 1 J. G. Comer estate, half mile south of the nearest production in the southwest extension to the Bennett pool, appeared to have reached the pay in drilling to 5,185 feet. It was unleased and test at 5,200.

Harold E. Coy's No. 1 J. T. Jackson, indicated opener of Schleicher county's second oil pool 2 1/2 miles northwest of Eldorado, pumped five barrels of 34 gravity oil hourly in early testing swabbing at the rate of 30 to 40 barrels following reacid treatment with 4,000 gallons of acid in two stages. Oil and gas bearing Clinco lime was topped at 4,049 feet and total depth is 4,081. The well is in the northwest quarter of section 41-LL-TCRR.

Lone Star Gasoline Co. No. 1 Shell-Page, one mile northwest of Lone Star No. 1 Humble-Page, Schleicher county's first commercial oil producer 11 miles southeast of Eldorado, was gun perforating 5 1/2 inch casing opposite zone shown by a Schlumberger survey to be porous. The pipe was cemented on bottom at 5,723 feet in lime. The output is in the northeast quarter of section 41-LL-TCRR.

Mrs. Million Honors Daughter On Her Birthday

A "come as you were dressed when invited" party was a feature of the entertainment when Mrs. L. N. Million honored her daughter, Rose Berenice, on her birthday anniversary recently.

To escape a penalty guests were requested to come as they had been dressed when they received the invitation to the affair and costumes included slacks, swim suits and old clothes of every variety.

Pink and white were the colors chosen and the three-tiered cake was trimmed in the two colors. The table was centered with a bouquet of roses and fern set as a gift from Mrs. V. Van Gleson.

Guests were also given corsages as favors. Prizes were won in the games by Ruth Cornelison and Evelyn Sturtevant.

Others attending were Maxine Moore, Mary Ann Canning of Abilene, Cora Marie Alderson, Eva Jane Darby, Don Burnam, Patrick McCarthy, Jetty Cook, Bascom Reagan and Lewis Million, Jr.

Sending gifts were Mrs. Mabel Quinn, Mrs. Ed Allen and Mrs. Leonard Van Open.

Gov. Phillips In New Move To Halt Dam

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 29 (AP)—Governor Leon C. Phillips today asked Secretary of War Woodring to halt work on construction of the Denison dam on Red river.

Should the federal government disregard the protest, court action by the state is anticipated. The course of action was decided upon last week and a petition already had been made to congress to make provision for damage and loss to Oklahoma.

"The sovereign state of Oklahoma protests and objects to the proposed taking of her land and properties without just compensation," said Phillips' letter, "and objects to the proposed destruction of the dominion of the state over the territory lying within the proposed reservoir area and the destruction to all practical purposes to the state's boundary in the affected area."

"Oklahoma objects to the diversion of her waters into the state of Texas, there to be appropriated to uses unconnected with the state of Oklahoma and without any benefit to the state of Oklahoma."

Mr. and Mrs. Howard V. Billings and daughter, Sylvia Sue, of Amarillo will arrive Monday to visit Mrs. Billings' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hair, for about a week.

FORMER COAHOMA RESIDENT EXPIRES

COAHOMA, July 29—Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Glen MacDonald, Gorman, a former resident of this city.

Before her marriage three months ago, Mrs. MacDonald was Maurine Eakens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Eakers of Gorman, former residents of Coahoma.

A graduate of Gorman high school, Mrs. MacDonald attended John Tarleton college and for four years had been employed in the Gorman Gas company offices.

Without any fanfare to that effect, city police "cracked down" on traffic law violators here last week.

A survey of the corporate court docket showed that a total of 33 fines were paid for infractions of this type from Monday through Saturday.

Twenty-seven of the number were for overtime parking. Two others were for running a red light and one each was listed for double parking, parking in an alley, speeding and defective lights.

Since Tuesday night when a speed trap regulation went into effect, a total of 24 cars have been hauled away to storage.

Extensioner Cleaning Out

Swabbing on the F.H.E. No. 1 D. H. Snyder, outpost test which apparently will extend limits of the Snyder pool in southeastern Howard county half a mile north, continued swabbing and bailing Saturday during cleaning out operations.

The test was about 20 feet off bottom in following each swabbing, the hole filled with about 1,000 feet of oil in a five hour period. Location is 1,650 feet from the west and 330 feet from the south line of section 21-30-1s, T&P.

Sun Oil No. 6 Snyder, 2,310 feet from the south and 1,650 feet from the east lines of section 288-30-1s, T&P, shot with 700 quarts below 2,800 feet and was cleaning out.

Eastland No. 2 Snyder, 1,650 feet from the west and 330 feet from the south lines of section 27-30-1s, T&P, drilled at 1,565 feet in anhydrite after setting 10 inch string at 1,485 feet.

Greene Production Co. No. 1 Snyder, in the center of the northeast quarter of section 27-30-1s, T&P, was running tubing and preparing for a test.

The important wildcat test, M. E. Ooley, et al No. 1 C. D. Read, 530 feet from the north and 230 feet from the west lines of section 36-30-1s, T&P, rigged up and prepared to spud. It is three miles north of production in the East Howard pool.

Vealmoor Studes Will Go To Garner. Vealmoor trustees Saturday announced an agreement with the Knott Independent school district to send its students above the seventh grade to the John N. Garner school this year.

Previously, the students have gone to the Ackerly district, but an agreement could not be reached between the two school units.

years and still shows no chance of being acted upon. Administration officials say no other action by the United States could be so useful in promoting good relations between this country and Argentina, but senators from the cattle-raising states seem easily able to block consent.

Recently the senate consented to ratification of the new treaties with Panama involving questions of defense and increased payment in paper dollars for the lease of the Panama Canal zone (the original contract had called for gold dollars), but it waited about three years to do so.

Effecting of a temporary organization for an oil and gas set-up for the Permian Basin may have far-reaching results. There is no doubt that the great Permian Basin is in need of a central body to speak clearly and forcibly for it, to obtain equity and to keep the public properly informed of the importance of petroleum to West Texas.

It is not at all unlikely that 30 blocks will be paved here within the next six months. The city has called hearings on an order to pave 11 blocks on three streets and the state highway department may pave 30 blocks on Gregg street if a few property owners come into the fold in the next day or so.

An announcement by State Fire Commissioner Marvin Hall that a blanket 10 per cent reduction in rates is contemplated may mean a $10,000 saving to policy holders here. There is, however, the possibility that we may be further penalized for the half-million dollar compress fire.
