TidBits

By HVO

MOST OF us were caught by surprise with the announcement by Coach Clyde Evatt that he's resigning from the profession and entering business. He's had a great year as head coach at EHS and most of us already just thought of him as a permanent fixture in our public school athletic program. And a permanent fixture is the way he wants us to think about him as an asset to our city, based on a conversation with him Wednesday.

"I'm going to stay in Eastland. It's home, and the coaches and Teachers Insurance Program I'll be working with, will enable me to be headquartered here." He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Evatt, and was a standout griddle for the Mavericks here; later at Ranger Junior College; and in senior college before turning to coaching.

As Coach Evatt sees it: "I've coached for about 13 years because that's what Clyde (meaning himself) liked best, but now I'm fixing to have five little ones in school, and I've got to think about them."

And that's a logical conclusion, we'd venture. It's true the school will miss his fine leadership both on the athletic field and in the classroom, but he's to be complimented, we think, for thinking first of his family and himself.

As Clyde sees it, the school board will replace him with a topflight coach, so the leadership will continue.

(Guesses around the coffee shops Wednesday were that Assistant Coach Doug Dallas might be successor to the top spot, but no official word from him or the school has come forth yet.)

VACATION is good time, and like most, it never lasts long enough. Ours is described elsewhere, and we'd like on yours when you return. The Donald Kinnaird Jr. family has just returned from a pleasant Westward vacation which took them to Disneyland and most points in between. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Frost, administrators at Eastland Manor and Valley View Lodge Nursing Homes, respectively, played it smart. They worked in their back yard at home for a half a week, then fled to their cabin at Lake Leon for the remainder of the week. That's smart.

BELL TELEPHONE announcements of interest: District Manager John McGowan has been transferred to Fort Worth and his replacement is Mrs. Carl (Bearnice) Goor, longtime telephone company employee. She's the first woman Bell district manager in this area, and among the first in the state.

Bennie Simpson received a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree from Texas Tech at Lubbock on May 12th. Bennie's major was in Interior Design, and he is employed at Cagle's Furniture and Design Studio, of Lubbock in the planning and sales of home and commercial interiors. Bennie graduated from Eastland High School in the class of '69.

Congressman Omar Burleson announces approval of a $740,000 Rural Electrification Administration grant to Erath County Electric Cooperative, Association at Stephenville serving Eastland, Erath, Comanche, Palo Pinto, Stephens, Young Bosque, Coryell, Hamilton, Hood and Summerville Counties.

AT NUCLEAR SYMPOSIUM. Student Bob Mueller and Bill Boles, center science teacher at Eastland High School, talk with Dr. Frank McCullough, Associate Professor Civil Engineering at the University of Texas, during the 13th Texas Nuclear Science Symposium in Austin, June 4-7. The pair are guests of Texas Electric Service Company at the meeting, co-sponsored by the University and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation. TAERF is composed of 10 electric power companies operating in Texas.

Theresa and Paul Regino of Strawn were elected Secretary and Treasurer. Rev. Gaylon Nelms of Calvary Baptist Church in Eastland was elected Program Director.

Rev. Jack Griffin, pastor of Grace Baptist Church in Abilene, was the guest speaker. The next fellowship will be held at the First Bible Baptist Church in Mineral Wells on July 13.

J. Y. Jordan Honored On 92th Birthday

The family and friends of Mr. J. Y. Jordan honored him on his 92nd birthday with a celebration in the home of his son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jordan and Cathy. Family members present were J. Y. Jordan, Jr. of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jordan of Bella Vista, Ark., Landon Jordan of Odessa, Bob Powers, Phil, and Pat of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Patton of Fort Worth, Ina Lee Sheffield of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Woodall, Troy, and J. R. of Eastland.

Friends calling were Mr. and Mrs. Roston King, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Turner, Mrs. Guy Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ables, Jerry and Deborah, and Juanita Grisham all of Eastland, Melvin Duffield of Dallas and Margaret Friday of San Antonio.

Two daughters, Mrs. Robert Webb of Galveston and Mrs. J. R. Powers of Monahans, were unable to attend.

Lone Star Gas Reserves Reported In Good Condition

In response to high volume activity in its stock, Lone Star Gas Company officials announced today that since April 16, 1973, when the price per share of common stock was $38.00, there have been no corporate developments or expectations which account for the recent decline in the market value of the stock. The company's gas supply situation is good and all prospects for continued earnings improvement as projected by management are favorable. Earnings of $2.63 per share for the 12 months ending March 31, 1973, is more than 80 percent above the earnings for the calendar year 1968, of $1.43 per share.

In response to inquiries regarding the connection between Lone Star and Coastal States Gas Producing Company, the officials further stated that there is no affiliation between the two companies and the only relationship is certain gas purchase and transportation contracts with Coastal and its subsidiary, Lo-Vaca Gathering Company. Deliveries under the gas purchase contract continue, but have been below contract commitments. No developments have occurred which would materially affect the company's overall operations.

A 37.5 per cent interest in an offshore Louisiana block, including two productive wells, has been purchased by Lone Star Producing Co. Company, a subsidiary of Lone Star Gas Company, from Belco Petroleum Corp. for $975,000. The wells were drilled to about 12,000 feet in the Pliocene sands on the block, Ship Shoal 149. The first well tested at a rate of 948 barrels of oil per day, and has been shut in. The second well has been cased and has also been shut in pending further testing and completion operations. Logs indicate this well also to be productive.

Two other working interest owners in the property are Signal Oil and Gas Co., which is the operator, and Dow Chemical Co. The companies plan to immediately develop the property, using a jackup rig. The block is located some 35 miles offshore in 50 feet of water.

Coach Evatt Resigns To Enter Business

Clyde N. Evatt has submitted his resignation to the Eastland Independent School District Board of Trustees to become effective immediately. Mr. Evatt is leaving the coaching profession to enter private business, but will continue to make his home in Eastland.

Evatt, an Eastland High School Ex-Student, returned to his alma mater to assume the head coaching assignment last spring after eleven years in the coaching profession. He came to Eastland from Randolph Field High School in San Antonio. He is a 1956 graduate of Eastland High School where he was an outstanding high school athlete.

He later attended Texas Tech and graduated from Sul Ross College in 1960 and immediately entered the coaching and teaching profession.

Evatt guided the Mavericks to a 7-3 football season last year, to make it the sixth winning football season in a row for the Eastland Athletics.

The School Board and Administration has expressed sincere regret at losing the services of such a capable

Agent, From Utopia, Is Gun Maker

A gun-making deer-hunter from Utopia is on the job as assistant county agent

A gun-making deer-hunter from Utopia is on the job as assistant county agent in Eastland County.

Milton Kellner, 24, a native of Utopia (located near Uvalde) reported to his new assignment on June 1, with Eastland County Agent De Gordon.

Mr. Kellner, his wife Claudia, and their seven-month-old daughter Shelley, are living at Morton Valley. They attend the Methodist Church.

He recently graduated from Texas A & M University with a Master's Degree in Agricultural Education and joined the Extension Service and was named to Eastland County for his first assignment.

He will assist with the boy's 4-H Club work in the county and be in training as a county agent, Agent Gordon explained.

It's foreseeable that the 4-H boys may be exposed to quite a bit of horsemanship and rifle training under Assistant Agent Kellner, who plans to bring some of his horses here later.

By vocation, he's a gun maker. Not ordinary, run-of-the-mill guns, mind you, but muzzle loaders. That's right - and he hunts deer with them. Sporting, wouldn't you say?

He feels comfortable at 150 yards but beyond that, and especially with a scope, it's pretty touch and go, he says.

The new Assistant County Home Demonstration, Ariene Hawkins, joined the local staff on May 16, assistant to County Home Demonstration Agent Janet Thomas.

DOUBLE BILL SET

A double header soft ball game between the Eastland Bullets and the Stephenville Jays will be held Saturday, June 16, at White Top Stadium. The first game will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Monterrey . . . all the way !

CALICHE DUST of the Hill Country was the only unpleasant thing at the Second Annual Texas Arts and Crafts Fair at Kerrville where the family began its vacation recently. It was dry and hot, but the hundreds of hand-made items, displayed in some dozen circus tents on the campus of Shreiner Institute were a real treat. (In a Learning Tent, the kids had a ball: Vance with sculpture's clay and Amy made a corn husk doll.) They claimed pots taken right from the potters wheel for souvenirs.

Moving South, we'll remember Laredo for a night of rest (Our first stay in a trailer park was in Kerrville at a new Holiday Inn Trav-L-Park.) Trailoring really isn't too bad after you get over the initial impression of being constantly tail-gated by a cattle truck.

Plunging across the border at Nuevo Laredo and Monterrey-bound, it was slow going on the Mexican highways. On Haun's Texas Highways you can easily reach the maximum 60 miles an hour, but on the soft, rough roads of Old Mexico, we did

W.C. Clements To Be Honored

The first shop was located at the site of the present Norvell-Miller Grocery, but he later moved his shop a block from there, where he worked until his retirement several years ago.

Graveside Rites Held Sunday For Davie Williams

Graveside rites for Davie Sue Williams, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Williams, were held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday with the Rev. Richard Erwin, pastor of Eastside Baptist Church, officiating. Arrangements were under the direction of Killingsworth Funeral Home.

The infant died at 4 a.m. Saturday in Ranger General Hospital.

Survivors are her parents; two sisters, Christa Joann and Angela Kay, both of the home; maternal grandfather, Mac McDaniels of Rockport; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Joann Grumbles of Freeport; paternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams of Ranger.

Funeral Services Pending In Calif. For R.O. Squyers

R.O. (Ril) Squyers, 71, former resident of Ranger, died June 11 in Barstow Community Hospital, Barstow, Calif.

Final rites were pending at press time in Barstow.

Mr. Squyers was born Oct. 14, 1901, in Texas.

Survivors are three daughters, Mmes. Lois Carpenter, Gainesville, Eunice Cole, of Barstow, Calif. and Helen Sparks of Bakersfield, Calif.; two sons, E. Myrl Squyers of ddirhan, Saudi Arabia and Jim Riley of California; one stepson, Ronnie of California; two sisters, Mmes. Lola Wilcox and Gertie Meredith, two brothers, N.B. and Bill Squyers, all of Ranger; a number of grandchildren, great-grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

good to get up to 40, and then constantly alert in case we ran up on a burro, a native or a pickup truck parked in the road ahead.

Headquartering in a stockade-fenced trailer park in Monterrey, we enjoyed purified water, security and all the comforts of home; ranging out daily to tourist spots including Horsetail Falls, where we saw basketweavers at work and over to the mile-high Saltillo where a tour of a serape factory and roof top view city proved extra good. Skilled craftsmen using antique looms turn out beautifully-designed materials. A 260-year-old Cathedral an the adobe village proved extra interesting, as did the silver factories.

Of course we were confronted with kilometers instead of miles; litters instead of gallons; and "alto" instead of "stop" signs. (Coach Evett, who is visiting Monterrey a couple of times, says that means "honk and drive fast." Driving in town was "INTERESTING" AND NOT RECOMMENDED AT ALL AT NIGHT OUT OF THE TOWNS.

We managed to get lost every time we went downtown, but did see a lot of the town - much of which we could have done without.

Inflation and poverty are unimageable to Americans. In a Mexican super market we found a 400-count box of Kleenex marked $7.95; that seven pecos, 95 centavus Mexican money. About 60 cents American money, but representing nearly a day's pay to a Mexican laborer.

We passed up a bull fight scheduled for the Sunday evening of the day we left Monterrey bound for Reynosa, and drove most of the afternoon just below the border across from the Rio Grande, coming into Matamoros from the backside. A big highway construction project on the backside put us lost again (of course, we could have done it without the construction anyway), so we wandered side streets, and dip-filled streets the likes of which you'll never find in Eastland County, looking for the International Bridge - in constant fear we'd veer onto a one-way street, in which case we'd had to try to back that trailer up, and for us, an impossible feat.

Gay Nell's high school Spanish of some years back saved our neck. We finally made out from a Mexican policeman that we needed to find and follow Sixth St. to the Bidge. By a process of elimination, she spotted the street, we got on it and fled to the States. glad to have gone, but gladder still to be back.

Below the border and especially at Brownsville we found the Rio Grande Valley a beautiful, lush paradise, but larned later that three youths drowned this week in irrigation ditches near there.

After the madhouse of Monterrey we found piece and quiet at a county park on the South End of Padre Island across from Port Isabel. Naturally the kids enjoyed the surf but we just sorta sat in the sun and offered thanks for being out of Mexico safely.

(Understand Coats Furniture Store Man Willard Griffin was at Port Isabel the same week doing a bit of fishing.) We did pretty good; brought back about 25 pounds of red snapper and shrimp. The fish market packed it in ice, real good.

Thence northward to San Antonio, where we stayed at our first KOA facility, and found it very efficient, although a bit circusy: Providing all kinds of night-time diversion for the campers including a free open air movie on the grounds.

The kids, especially Vance, wanted to do the Alamo again, so we spent a day there, and naturally took in the River walk and boat ride, and enjoyed a riverside supper.

Everybody was ready to hook up the next day and make the drive home.

High-point? Perhaps the super market where Amy found bubble gum with Osmond Brothers trading cards. For us all? To see that we are many-times blessed in this country.

Medicare Extended

July 1, 1973, will mark the 7th anniversary of the beginning of the Medicare program. It will also mark the first extension of Medicare coverage and benefits to Americans under age 65 who are receiving disability insurance benefits under the Social Security or railroad retirement program, according to R.R. Tuley, Jr., social security district manager in Abilene.

An estimated 2,000 disabled beneficiaries in the Abilene district under age 65 will become entitled to Medicare benefits, Tuley says. Coverage starts July 1, 1971. More recent beneficiaries will be covered effective with the 25th month of continuous entitlement to benefits.

Disable beneficiaries will be automatically entitled to the Hospital Insurance part of Medicare. Enrollment for supplementary Medical Insurance part will also be automatic unless the beneficiary files a written refusal request. The $6.30 monthly premium for Part B will be deducted from the monthly benefit check, he added.

Another special provision in the Social Security Amendments of 1972 will provide Medicare coverage beginning July 1, 1973, for most individuals needing kidney transplantation or hemodialysis. This cannot begin earlier than the third month after the month a course of renal hemodialysis begins. Those eligible include a worker of any age who is fully or currently insured under social security, or a spouse or dependent child of such a worker.

Also, widows aged 52-64, in receipt of social security benefits, can get Medicare coverage if their impairments meet the disability requirements and have existed at least 25 months. Mr. Tuley urged such disabled mothers to get in touch with the social security office for more information.

The social security office for this area is located in the Post Office Building and the number is 677 5262.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

Intelligence in science will not compensate for ignorance of the Saviour. He only is accomplished who is acquainted with the Almighty.

Observed the inspired poet in Psalm III:10, "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom."

This fear is not terror, it is trust. It is not the horror a criminal has for a policeman. It is the hope a child has in his parents, and the hesitancy he has to do anything that will hurt them. It involves reverence for the Lord and respect for His Word.

A man can get along with out this wisdom. Like he can get along without an arm or a leg, without his hearing or sight. He can get along - but he will never be the man he could be!

Coming home from a missionary trip our four-engine airliner lost an engine. She limped along on three engines, but how much safer and better it was to have full power.

Want full power over defeat, despair and death? Trust in the Lord. A man is never at his best until the Lord is his God and the Word is His guide.

Thoughts

A man named Simon had formerly been a sorcerer there for many years; he was a very influential, proud man because of the amazing things he could do - in fact, the Samaritan people often spoke of him as the Messiah. But now they believed Philip's message that Jesus was the Messiah, and his words concerning the Kingdom of God; and many men and women were baptized. Then Simon himself believed and was baptized and began following Philip wherever he went, and was amazed by the miracles he did.

June 30 Deadline For Sign Owner Permits

Owners of signs along Interstate and federal-aid primary highways face a June 30 deadline to apply for a permit and a license for them.

The Texas Highway Beautification Act, in effect since June of 1972, requires owners of signs which are within 660 feet of Interstate or federal-aid primary highways and are visible from main traffic lanes to file permit requests with the district offices of the Texas Highway Department. The permits cost $5 each.

Before permits can be approved, sign owners must obtain a $25 state license and post $2,500 bond for each county in which they have a sign. Maximum bonds of $10,000 are required of owners with signs in more than three counties.

Both license and bond applications can be obtained from Right of Way Division, Texas Highway Department, P.O. Box 5075, Austin, 78763, or any High way Department district office.

Signs advertising the sale or lease of property upon which they are located or related solely to activities conducted on the property are exempted by the act along with underground utility markers, signs erected for official purposes by Federal, State and local governmental agencies and, in some cases those posted by churches and nonprofit service organizations.

Although approximately 15,000 permits have been approved it is estimated that thousands of signs remain in violation of the act.

Permits should be requested from the following Highway-Department District Offices:

Permits for Eastland County can be obtained by writing Abilene, P.O. Box 150, 79604, Telephone 673-3761, Old Anson Rd. and U.S. 83.

Mrs. Harrell Hosts DAR Meet

Mrs. F.E. Harrell was hostess for a call meeting luncheon for Charles Crawford Chapter, Mssdar, Monday, June 4, 1973, 12:30 p.m. at Junior College Annex.
 The purpose of the meeting was to report on important actions taken at the 82nd Continental Congress held in Washington, D.C. April 18-23, 1973. Mrs. Harrell, delegate to the meeting, feels that it is there that one is able to feel the "pulse beat" of DAR. Mrs. Harrell gave an account of the chartered bus trip from Houston to Washington where 40 go to know each other better. They shared the enjoyment of seeing many places of interest, and they were entertained at Kate Duncan Smith School. This is one of our DAR schools and is located in Alabama. Members of DAR are particularly interested in education as this is one purpose of our organization.
 Newly elected Regent, Mrs. Harold Durham, presided. Thirteen members and five guests, prospective members, Mesdames Jim Martin, Harry Donica, Howard Cole, S.E. Nitson, Truly Carter attended. Mrs. Charles E. Terrell, Virginia Price Bailey v. Asalie Key Price et al. Appellant's motion for rehearing. Dawson.

The History Of The Ojo de Dios (Eye of God)

Did you know that the colorful, yarn Ojos de Dios are wishes for good health; fortune and long life? God's eyes are literally messages of the warmth and hospitality of the Southwest. Ojos de Dios are perpetual prayers that ask that the eye of the god petitioned rest on the maker or his property.
 Since the dawn of time man has reached out to his gods seeking notice and blessing. Many of the means of attracting favorable attention have come down to us through the centuries in the form of cave drawings, wood and stone carvings; elaborate temples, and god's eye figures. The god's eye (Ojo de Dios; at they are called by the Pueblo Indians) have been traced from an advanced Egyptian civilization to the primitive cave dwellers in Northeastern America.
 Throughout time and history involved" in matters of legislation, race and patriotism. She emphasized the importance of DAR members using the potential influence of their 196,000 by exercising their constitutional privileges - voting, speaking out and working for the passage of good legislation. Meeting adjourned at 2:45.
 Mrs. Robert Stewart explained the need for every citizen to be willing to "become Christianity was introduced into the pueblos by early explorers, many homes have and Ojo de Dios and a crucifix displayed at the same time. Occasionally ojos are made with the center wrapped to form a cross.

 Great faith is placed in the ojo forms by the parents of little children. They frequently twine small ojos in their hair to ward off spells and evil spirits. Braves of the Pima and Laguna tribes usually wear them as a part of hairdressing.
 Pityful crops will surely result if the Rain God is pleased with the eye form made for him and placed in the fields where he has domain.
 Pony racing is a favorite sport at fiestas. Who is to say that ponys with colorful little ojos tied in their manes and tails do not run faster?
 The medicinman knows the power of the Ojo de Dios to drive out evil spirits and evoke the blessings of the good. He often makes an ojo for the good health of his patient and ties it to a stick which he waves over him.
 The Navajo use a certain design of eye called the Owl Buga-boo to keep their children Obedient.
 Eyes of god are made in a variety of design whose names and shapes are taken from nature. One of the prettiest is the Squash Blossom. It is formed as a delicate four petaled flower resembling a real squash blossom in the center of a square ojo.

 Colors too, have special meaning when made into an Ojo de Dios. Certain gods have colors they favor. These vary from pueblo to pueblo. Blue or turquoise is the choice of the Rain god, green pleases the god of fertility, yellow is for the Sun god, Father Creator. There are others too numerous to mention.
 While there have been few changes in the Pueblo way of life much tradition has been lost or changed. In earlier time before the tribes were peaceful farmers, weavers, or makers of fine jewelry, they warred with neighboring peoples and carried shields which were woven of yarn on three crossed sticks. After a time the shields were made solid in the center and the face of a god was painted in the middle making them sacred. These designs are often seen today in Ojos having three- to twelve sticks with a solid center. Small ojos were attached to the shaft of the arrows in hope that a god would speed them accurately to their target.
 It is interesting to note that the eyes of god found in Egyptian tombs were much the same as those made today by the Pueblo Indinas. The ancient Egyptians too worshipped nature and believed that gods inhabited all living things. Amen Ra was the God of gods. The moon and sun were his ever seeing eyes by day and night; therefore, eyes were made with centers of gold, yellow, or orange because it was believed these colors were pleasing to Amen Ra and would attract favorable notices.
 Ancient Egyptians also believed in life after death. They placed their dead in tombs filled with cloths, cooking utensils and tools. Many of these graves also contained god's eyes, perhaps to guide the dead on their journey into another life.
 The Ojo de Dios is probably the oldest fetish of its kind in the Western hemisphere. Anthropologists have found them in graves along the Ancon Valley on the coast of Peru. The very dry graves had preserved in them many mummy bundles believed to date back to pre Colmbian times. In some instances, they had false heads with ojos placed where the eyes should be.
 More ancient god's eyes found in cliff dwellings in Northwestern Arizona are believed to date back as far as 1150 to 1300 A.D. One eye found was made of a yucca leaf woven around two crossed sticks.
 Our greatest fund of information about the meaning and use of god's eyes has come to us from the Huichol Indians who have lived for centuries in the same remote villages in Northwestern Mexico. Much of their everyday living is based on their belief in the power of the god's eye. The villagers do not make their own, as do the Pueblo Indians, but must consult a Shaman. The Shaman has great knowledge, but is not a priest and is not held to be holy in any way. He is a member of the villager who has had special training in the meaning of colors and singing of songs to please the gods.
 When a god's eye is desired for a special purpose the head of the family goes to the Shaman and together they squat on the ground and sing songs and pray to the god being petitioned while the Shaman makes the eye form. When the eye is complete it is placed in the god's house or some other place sacred to the god.
 Soon after the birth of a child, the father has the Shaman make an eye for him on long sticks. Only the center is wrapped to about ten inches across leaving the four ends of the sticks bare. Each year on the child's birthday a small stick is tied near the end of one of the arms of the figure and a small eye is made on it. This is to win protection for the child until he is five years old.
 One is reminded that ojos are not just sticks and yarn, but have history and meaning and even today are bright cheerful wishes of goodwill.

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman
17th District

THERE IS NOW SOME PRETTY GOOD EVIDENCE that students in our schools are not hopeless slob, probably up to no good, and that trusting the fate of the Nation to their witless hands will be a final disastrous downfall. A NEW WORLD WIDE STUDY SHOWS THAT AMERICAN SCHOOL STUDENTS are right up there with the best of them. In spite of the fact that this Country's classrooms are kept open for at least twelve years to all wanting to attend, elsewhere in the world they would have been THE DIRECTOR OF THE INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE VALUATION OF Achievements, Dr. Torsten Husen of the University of Stockholm, has warned that the study might be a sort of an "Intellectual Olympics" but nevertheless there is more than a grain of satisfaction in the study. It embraced nineteen nations and revealed what has been noted before - that home atmosphere is more important than anything else in producing scholastic excellence. The report also referred, as often has been done, to the presence of reading materials in the home as having a very great influence. School efficiency does make a difference, according to the findings, in the quality of public school education. This is in contradiction to the conclusions reached by Harvard's Christopher Jencks who maintains that schools make little or no difference in, for instance, social inequality. IN SOME COUNTRIES, WEST GERMANY BEING THE BEST EXAMPLE, youngsters are weeded out of the academic program starting around the age of ten. This tends to make those remaining in school an "elitist" bunch with similar backgrounds and cuts off the "late bloomers" before they have developed enough to show their capabilities. ONE MIGHT THINK THEN THAT THESE PRUNED "ELITISTS" WOULD SWAMP the American pupil in the later reaches of their scholastic training but it doesn't work out that way, according to the study. In the final overall comparison of the top groups' ability, the United States student out-classed all the restrictive systems' students. The United States' schools still had on our rolls some 14 per cent of what is called "lower class" starters who could still go on to better things because they hung in there and kept trying. This compares to only 1 per cent from such beginnings still in German schools. IT CAN BE ASSUMED THAT JUST ABOUT ANYTHING CAN BE IMPROVED but in the process some things have been ruined. There are deficiencies, of course, in our secondary educational system, and while this study referred to may not be all gospel, it shows by comparison that our teachers, our school facilities, and the end product - the student - in fact the entire system deserves commendation.

The Living Dead

Sardis a capital city as far back as B.C. 560 under Croesus, King of Lydia. His name is synonymous with extravagant wealth. Through the gates of the city, flowed the river Pactolus bearing gold dust into the very heart of the market place. It almost appears as if nature was conspiring to build up the affluence in Sardis. But Sardis' greatest advantage was that it was the center of a knot of trade orads from 5 commercial cities in Asia Minor. In B.C. 548 the kings treasure, valued at six hundred million dollars, was kept in Sardis because of its impregnable position with water on three sides and Mount Tmolus towering on the fourth. When wealth is within the grasp of man as it was in Sardis, it has often contributed to a mere sordid love of money-getting. In Revelation 3:1 the Risen Christ begins with a grim statement that the church at Sardis had "a name that it was alive but that it in fact was dead." In material things the church at Sardis may have prospered, but in those things which mattered it was dead. Materially it was alive; spiritually it was dead. When is it that a church is in danger of death?

1. A church is in danger of death when it lives in memories of ministries past and has no hope for hang-up in the present.

2. A church is in danger of death when it is more concerned with liturgy than with the lost, with out-ward appearance than inner conviction, with how things are done than with the ultimate object of doing them at all.

3. A church is in danger of death when it is more concerned with material than with spiritual things. The danger that any church runs is that it will become a club or a collection of fellowshiping cliques.

Letter To The Editor

Editor,
The trend now for our young people is bicycling and let me say I am all for it. I have no objections. But just a word of caution, please observe traffic rules.

Last evening as I was going home, traveling west on Main St., I slowed down to make a right turn north on College St. As I turned the corner, there were 2 boys on bicycles meeting me, head on, in my lane. These boys were old enough to know which side of the street to ride on as I judged them to be 14-15 years old. If I had now slowed down or had not been alert I would have hit these two boys. They didn't seem a bit worried but it gave me quite a fright.

Kids - enjoy your fun, exercise and youth, but please observe a few simple rules for your own, as well as my peace of mind. I would not like to live with the idea of an accident to some child, because I have children of my own.

A concerned citizen.

I REMEMBER
By Dick O'Brien

I have always been afraid of the dark. I do not know why. Everything from a lightning bug to a ku-klux has peopled the darkness for my imagination. I remember when I was a small boy, one day my dad told me to bring the water bucket home from the field at quitting time. Characteristic of me I forgot it. To teach me a lesson he sent me back after dark to get it. As I walked timidly along the turn-row I saw what looked like a wild beast by the side of the path. It had white and black spots and was the size of a large dog. As I gazed fearfully at it, I thought it moved. And I KNOW I did! I broke all speed records back to the house. I told my brothers about the horrible sight, and the next morning I wanted them to see the place. When we came to the spot, and in the full light of the morning sun, I saw what it was, an old log which had been partially burned which accounted for the spots.

I learned the lesson; things which look dangerous in the semi darkness, prove to be perfectly safe in light.

TESCO Official Gives Data On Energy 'Situation'

The energy situation nationwide and within the Texas Electric Service Co. area was discussed in detail for members of the Eastland Lions Club at their Tuesday luncheon meeting at Camp Inspiration.

Speaking was Allan H. Williford Jr., TESCO geologist specialist, who used color slides to explain the situation as it exists today, and to point out company projections for the future.

James Smith was program chairman and introduced Mr. Williford whose son was a guest. Other guests were Eastland Division Manager Frank Sayre, and Tom Stark of Cisco. Special guest were Incoming Club Sweetheart Anne Haun introduced by Sweetheart Paula Lund.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Rhine and getting ready for the couch family Reunion last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Couch Stephenville, Mr. Cecil Couch Aransas Pass, Mrs. Dennis Dryer, Port Aransas, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Darwin, Lubbock, Mrs. L.C. will meet one more time (on June 26) at Camp Inspiration and then probably will recess until the Ramada Inn is open now seen for July 1. The Camp will begin their camping season immediately with the State Camp set for July 9 to 15.

The TESCO specialist said: Energy is the lifeblood of our nation.

With only 6 percent of the world's population, we account for one-third of its energy consumption.

Our productivity, our standard of living and our quality of life are all dependent on the use of some form of energy.

Lately much has been said and written about the energy situation. Many call it a national "CRISIS".

The Basic problem is that reserves of fossil fuels - natural gas, oil and coal - are declining. At the same time our need for them and for electricity is rapidly increasing.

Experts predict that by 1985: Our nation's demand for natural gas will double. Based on present trends and technology, we will have a deficit of more than 28.5 billion cubic feet daily.

Our nation's deficit in domestic oil supplies will increase from 3 million to more than 15 million barrels a day. We will import over 50 percent of our total supply to provide for our needs.

Our nation's vast coal reserves will not provide a solution because mining, transportation and environmental problems are restricting the use of this fuel supply.

Our nation will be depending on nuclear energy for almost one-third of our electric power generation.

This energy situation directly affects Texas Electric's planning, construction and operations as we meet the growing needs of our customers - needs that have more than doubled in the last 10 years and are expected to double again during the next decade.

More power will be needed to provide jobs for schools and hospitals and to help people raise their standard of living.

And, new needs like recycling of resources - metal, glass and paper - will require greater amounts of electric energy, as will other environmental uses sewage processing water treatment, and air filtration.

Texas Electric will have enough electricity to meet these future needs even though supplies of traditional fuels are becoming increasingly difficult to obtain and more expensive.

Our present power system includes seven gas-fired plants that are also capable of burning oil on a standby basis. Although we have long-term fuel contracts for these seven plants, the number of additional gas-oil plants we can build is limited.

To diversify our fuel sources and to reduce our dependence on natural gas and oil we have acquired over several decades long-range supplies of East Texas lignite. We have joined with Dallas Power and Light and Texas Power and Light in constructing a lignite-fired plant near Fairfield. This site are now in operation at two sites that have added 1,150,000 kw of generating capability.

Through extensive reclamation and efficient pollution control measures, we have solved the problems usually associated with the use of coal.

Two other lignite plants are under construction near Mt. Pleasant and near Henderson. Lignite plants require an investment about one and one-half times that for comparable gas-fired plants - but they do put us in a favorable fuel position. By 1978, about one-third of our electric energy will come from lignite plants.

And, even with these plants and the fuel reserves to operate them for the life of the units, we will by the early 1980's need to further diversify to still another dependable source of energy: nuclear fuel.

Plans to build a nuclear plant have been announced by Texas Electric, Dallas Power and Light and Texas Power and Light. The plant will be called the Comanche Peak Steam Electric Station. It will be located about 45 miles southwest of Fort Worth near Glen Rose, and it will have two units which will generate 1,150,000 kilowatts each. The first unit is scheduled to be in operation in 1980; the second unit in 1982.

We have the benefit of many years of experience in commercial nuclear generation of electricity which began in the United States in 1957. In more than 150 "reactor-years" of operation there has not been a single injury due to a nuclear related problem. There are today more than 30 nuclear plants operating in the U.S. with more than 130 either under construction or for which reactors have been ordered.

While nuclear power plants will assure enough electricity to meet our customers' increased needs in the 1980's and will further reduce our use of natural gas and oil, they will cost more than three times as much as gas-fueled units to build.

Looking further ahead, we know that the uranium used to fuel nuclear reactors, while ingood supply for many years to come, is also not unlimited.

Therefore, Texas Electric, along with 200 other investor-owned utilities, is helping to support the development of the "breeder" reactor, which, in addition to producing power for electricity, will produce more fuel than it consumes.

We're also involved in the search for new energy sources. The Texas Tokamak project at the University of Texas at Austin is a step in obtaining energy from ordinary seawater. We have supported this research for more than 15 years.

We are participating with others in research on the more novel energy sources, such as solar energy (energy from the sun); geothermal energy (tapping the energy sources within the earth); and magnetohydrodynamics (the direct conversion of heat energy into electric energy). However, experts do not agree that all of these sources can become commercially practical. If the technology can be developed, most believe it will be at least 25 years before any of them might play a significant role in the production of electric power.

In summary, Texas Electric

Service Company will have an adequate supply of electricity in the future. Assuring this supply requires diversification of fuel sources by building lignite and nuclear plants.

The development of nuclear power is essential because it is a proved, reliable and practical fuel source that is capable of meeting the needs for added generation in the 1980's. Beyond this, we are, through research, working to develop other new fuel sources so that our customers can continue to have the electricity they will need in the future.
