Hanoi Unrest Grows Despite French Strike

HANOI, May 22 — UP — French warplanes Saturday bombed and strafed the spearhead of Dien-Bien Phu pushing on Hanoi from the west. South and east of the city amphibious tanks led infantrymen in a two-pronged attack on Red forces in the rice-rich Red River delta. The French high command said. Fighters and fighter bombers followed up the tank-led action and bombed and machinegunned the Reds as they fled across monsoon flooded rice paddies in the delta region. Disquiet among Hanoi's 6,000 French population increased, despite the encouraging reports by the French high command. The vanguard of Red Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap's conquerors of Dien Bien Phu were reported only 75 miles west of Hanoi in the rolling hills of the Black River valley. The bulk of Giap's four divisions were reported west of Tuar-Giao on Route 41, 150 miles west of Hanoi. At night the colonial road is thick with convoys of trucks carrying troops, artillery and supplies. By day when French bombers roar over the road the convoys take shelter in the thick jungle. But Saturday French planes in U.S. supplies. Bencavata said. Private military forces are driving Giap's advance columns hard.

Assessment Is Seven Per Cent

Demo Executive Committee Sets Candidate Filing Fee

Gray County Democratic executive committee Saturday morning approved a seven per cent candidate filing fee agreed to let county commissioners decide about re-assigning Pampa wards with voting precincts and producing seven wards signed-up candidates for precinct chairmanships. County Chairman William Jarrel Smith gavelled the meeting to order shortly after 10 a.m. Saturday in the grand jury room of the Court House. Filing Fee Approved Smith and Bob Baker, county committee secretary, had already tentatively approved the seven per cent figure. But Smith needed the okay of the executive committee before it was final. Each office will be assessed seven per cent of one year's salary — if one candidate is running he pays it all, if three are running they split it three ways. A discussion on how Wheeler county does it — two per cent

Friends Say Stevens Has Yen To Quit

WASHINGTON, May 22 — UP — Friends close to Robert T. Stevens say the embattled Army secretary wants to resign but not until he can do so "gracefully" after the Army-McCarthy row is over. These sources agree that the wealthy textile manufacturer first is determined to fight to the Army's battle with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, regardless of how long it takes. And he also wants to stay long enough after that to eliminate any possible accusations that he quit under fire or left a fight.

Area Rains Bear Out Prediction

Another heavy rain was reported in the vicinity of the oil air base, 11 miles east of Pampa on State Highway 122.

FORT SMITH, Ark., May 22 — UP — The body of Neil W. Vernon of Shreveport was found by a motorist Saturday 15 miles south of Fort Smith on Backbone Mountain. Vernon, 24, has been the object of a three-state search since his bloodstained car was abandoned at Fort Smith Thursday. Police Chief Jones Floyd said a motorist, Leslie Harris of Gillem, Ark., discovered the body shortly after noon when he stopped on top of the mountain to rest. Harris noticed bloodstains on the highway shoulder and followed them to find Vernon about 30 steps away. The body was completely hidden by a covering of straw. He had been shot once through the head. Floyd said robbery apparently was the motive. There was nothing in Vernon's pockets. He was fully clothed in a gray summer suit, a white shirt and colored tie. However, a wrist watch, class ring and cuff links were untouched. Vernon was identified by initials in his class ring and laundry marks on his clothes. Dr. A. S. T. Koenig, who performed an autopsy, said Vernon probably was killed about midnight Wednesday and his body has been in the trunk of the car for four to seven hours.

Public hearings will be conducted in Canadian this summer by the Texas Railroad commission, which must approve the proposal, before a decision is reached. The City of Canadian will fight the move, Canadian Mayor Melouf Abraham declared.

Further complicating matters is the fact that 20-odd "non-ops," employed by the Santa Fe in Canadian were frozen out of the settlement and Saturday were preparing to enter their own protest.

Street Dragging Will Go Ahead

Dragging of Pampa streets, to fill holes, was scheduled to go on all day today, if necessary.

R. B. (Jiggs) Cooke, assistant city engineer, Saturday noon reported that dragging had been going on since the middle of the week and might well continue over the week end.

As soon as the ground dries up, Cooke said, paving, graveling and topping will get underway. Curb and gutter work east of Alameda park has been finished, he pointed out.

Main thing, he concluded, is to get the streets usable.

Other bond issues okayed by Shepperd were $500,000 for the Tulo-Kinney Independent School district and $49,000 for the Hitchcock Independent School district.

Lefors' public school system should be getting the same type of word from Shepperd after the turn of the month. June 8 is the first date (30 days after the Lefors bond issue vote) that Shepperd could approve the $300,000 issue for a new building and general school improvements, according to Lefors Schools Superintendent Archie Roberts.

Arms 'Buy' Explained By Official

MEXICO CITY, May 22-UP—Guatemalan Ambassador Roberto Alvarado Puentes said Saturday his country brought arms behind the iron curtain because "certain interests" prevented purchases in the United States and Western Europe.

His statement was made at a press conference in which he discussed Guatemala's buying almost 2,000 tons of Czech-manufactured weapons. The disclosure last week of the arms shipment from Poland caused fear in the United States and Latin American countries that Russia may be attempting to gain a foothold in the Western Hemisphere.

"On several occasions my country arranged to buy arms for its army in the United States, England, Italy and Sweden but the contracts were never completed because of pressure from certain interests," Alvarado Puentes said.

"He identified the 'certain interests' as 'groups meddling in the internal affairs of Guatemala.'"

Two Caught In Rape Try

DALLAS, May 22-UP—Two half-breed youths tried to ravish a 25-year-old woman in a vacant house Saturday. They were still struggling vainly with her when police arrived.

The woman was parked before dawn with John L. Osborne, 38. The youths, both Mexicans, walked up to his car, jerked him out and started beating him. Finally they knocked him out and took $65, his watch and a ring.

Then they took the woman across the street to a vacant house. There they stripped to T-shirts and socks and tried to rape her. Osborne regained consciousness and telephoned the police.

When the police arrived, they were guided directly to the scene by the uproar coming from the vacant house. One youth, an 18-year-old who lived across the street, was seized as he fled.

The other youth escaped, but in the vacant house, police found the trousers, shoes and coats of both youths on the floor. The billfolds and drivers licenses of the youths as well as the loot they took from Osborne was in the trousers' pockets.

E. J. Robertson Resigns From State Patrol

Highway Patrolman E. J. Robertson, 708 Sloan, has resigned from the Texas Department of Public Safety, effective June 10.

Making the announcement Saturday, Robertson said he would work through Friday, then turn over his duties to Monty Cotter, who will have been a patrolman in the Pampa area for exactly six months the next day.

If Robertson left work one day earlier, Pampa would be without a highway patrolman, as a rookie patrolman must have served a six-month probationary period before he can operate alone. And experience in this part of the state has shown that it takes a good while, usually, before a replacement for a departing patrolman is named.

A Pampa since Nov. 1, 1948, Robertson plans to go to Eugene, Ore. The only other highway patrolman he served with in the Top of Texas' is P. C. Wynne, long-time patrolman here, who was promoted a little more than a year ago to sergeant and assigned to the Fort Worth area. Pampa was the first highway patrol assignment for both Robertson and Cotter.

"I have enjoyed the cooperation of Pampa residents and the other law enforcement officers during my years here," Robertson said. "I'll really be sorry to leave."

He is married and has two children, David, 5, and Deborah, 15. Cotter is married, lives at 531 Montagu, and has a daughter, Amy Elizabeth, 8 months.

Rep. Rogers Discusses States Rights in Weekly Newsletter

Rep. Walter Rogers is wondering what happened to the "States Rights" crusade, the doctrine that was designed to decentralize the federal government and relax "some of the centralizing holds that have been grafted on the states."

The Pampan also discusses the 2,141 islands of which the United States is trustee and the growth of Texas over the last 100 years in his weekly newsletter to the 18th Congressional District.

"Although much talk is indulged about States' rights and what the states and the people should be allowed to do for themselves," Rogers writes, "the legislation being presented to Congress seems to be doing just the contrary."

Many Suggestions

It seems that each day brings up a suggestion for some other type of "council, board, bureau," and the confusion is increasing. "The congressman states," he will not be long until there will have to be a separate investigating committee set up to determine who is to advise who as to what, who is to take the advice, and most important, who is to pay for it."

The islands over which this country is trustee are spread out over a territory larger than the United States, Rogers goes on. They are divided into three main groups, the Marshalls, the Carolines and the Marianas, Guam is not included as it has been a U.S. possession since 1898.

"The future status of the islands," he U. S. trusteehip by action of the United Nations) is now the subject of hearings before the Congress," he continues, "and . . . it entirely possible that they may be in the news in a big way in the next few years."

Panhandle Was One County

Texas' entire Panhandle in 1854 was all a part of Bexar county, Rogers says in looking over an old map. At that time, the county took in almost the entire western and northwestern part of the state.

Going over to Alabama, Rogers points out he was in Montgomery last week and saw a tremendous electric sign atop the railroad station. Explaining Montgomery was the first capital of the Confederacy, he says, "We know that the people there hold no grudges . . . For the sign reads: 'Union Station.'"

Mr. and Mrs. Max N. Osborn, White Deer, were among Rogers' visitors in Washington, D. C., last week.

Operates Bar and Grill

Tom Kingsmill, who operates a bar and grill in the neighborhood, said "35 years ago his father operated a drayage business in the lot next door to the 'gator house' and at that time brought home a variety of pets, including alligators."

The old business was razed last Christmas, uncovering the cesspool that apparently had harbored the reptile. Later a wall around the lot was pulled down. Then, it appeared, the 'gator decided to move to a darker spot next door.

Kingsmill said his family moved away 20 years ago and he doesn't feel it is up to him "to get that thing out of there."

"If it is up to me, he can stay under there another 20 years," he said.

The alligator lurks under a dank pile of boards, bricks and rubbish irrigated by leaky plumbing and stirs only at night to prey on the dogs and cats, residents said.

Nobody has been able to get a shot at it, they added, because the families have little enthusiasm for gator hunting after dark.

Eight Gray county 4-H club boys received gilt pigs under the Sears-Roebuck gilt program Saturday at the county barn in Lefors, according to Jerry Mobly, assistant county agent.

Kansas Tourists 'Arrested,' Sentenced To Enjoy Pampa

By DON RYAN
Pampa News Staff Writer

A young couple driving east through Pampa on Highway 60 late Friday afternoon, headed for Alva, Okla., were wondering where to stop for the night. They were on their "third honeymoon" and just leisurely poking along. As they approached the intersection of Brown and Hobart streets, the man nodded toward a car ahead of them and declared "I wonder what that car full of 'wheels' is doing driving along so slowly!"

The young couple zipped past and stopped farther up the street for the red light at the intersection of Brown and Hobart. The "car full of wheels" pulled along side and one of them, Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan, said to the by-then-apprehensive couple, "Pull over, we'd like to talk to you."

So started Pampa's first "Tourist of the Week" affair, an idea sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce Development committee under the chairmanship of W. S. Fannon to promote Pampa in the eyes of tourists who will be passing through this area.

The couple, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Rising of Winfield, Kans., were going to Oklahoma to visit Mr. Rising's parents. An Air Force flight engineer, Rising, 24, is stationed at Perrin Air Force Base at Sherman, Tex. and his wife, Marcia, 22, works at a bank at nearby Denison.

Made Guests of City

They have been married three years and were competing a vacation trip that took them to Carlsbad Caverns, Juarez, Mexico, Grand Canyon, Albuquerque, N.M. and then Pampa, on their way to Oklahoma.

After being stopped, they were informed what was taking place and that they were being made guests of the city. Everything was to be free at the places they would be taken to.

Still a little dazed, Rising declared later, "We were tickled to death to learn we hadn't done anything wrong and were being stopped by the car full of officials, including the sheriff, Chief of Police James Conner, Fannon, and Chamber of Commerce General Manager E. O. Wedgeworth."

First the Rising's were taken to the L Ranch motel where they were put up for the night and were made guests of Proprietor Frank Lard. Waiting in their room were a surprise of roses from Floral company. Their car was taken by Jack Vaughn to his service station, where it was washed, greased, and the gas tank filled.

After resting and recovering from the surprise, the couple was picked up at 6:30 Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Wedgeworth and Mr. and Mrs. Fannon and taken on a tour of the city. Then they dined on T-bone steak at Poole's Drive Inn through the courtesy of Owner Jim Poole.

Feted at Balgaine

Guests of honor of the management of the Oilers' baseball club, the couple attended the game Friday night between the Oilers and Berger Gassers. At the game Mr. and Mrs. Rising were introduced and interviewed by Warren Hase over Station KPDN.

Following the game they had sodas "on the house" at Wilson's drug store, and then retired to their L Ranch room at 10:30.

Saturday morning they were called for by the Chamber of Commerce President, Clinton Evans, and taken to Johnson's cafe for breakfast and made the guests of Proprietor Owen Johnson.

Before leaving they were presented an official holder of information on Pampa and the Top of Texas area by Chamber of Commerce and a box of chocolates through the courtesy of Richard drug, C. of C. President Evans then bid the couple goodbye and they resumed their trip east at 9:30 a.m.

Chamber Manager Wedgeworth stated Saturday that the same event would probably be carried out about every two weeks with different places of business participating in showing local hospitality each time. The next "Tourist of the Week" event will be sometime in June, Wedgeworth said.

The pelican derives its name from the Greek; it has a huge beak shaped like the great Greek pelican, an axe.

Caperton Library In Samnorwood Is Dedicated

SHAMROCK — (Special) — The dedication of the Mary Helen Smith Caperton library May 13 fulfilled a lifetime dream of her daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Caperton Fleener. The reference library, housed in the Samnorwood school was built by Mrs. Fleener as a memorial to her mother, an early pioneer of the Dozier and Samnorwood communities.

The dedication ceremony was opened by Principal Howard Perkins. Supt. Orville Cunningham gave the dedication address. He gave a brief history of the woman who gave much of her time and talent to helping to build a better community.

Mrs. Fleener presented the key to the library to a great-grandson of her mother, Bob Baxter, a senior student in the Samnorwood school. He responded and expressed appreciation on behalf of the school.

Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baxter who live south of Shamrock and a grandson of the late Mrs. M. M. Baxter of this city.

The spacious library is built on a mezzanine floor in the English department. Mrs. Fleener has furnished the library in addition to equipping it with up-to-date reference books. Other members of the family have also donated books. Mrs. Fleener will hang a framed picture of her mother in the library which bears her name. Later she will add a history of her mother's life and the community she helped to build.

Mrs. Caperton established the first postoffice at Dozier in 1886 and served as postmistress for many years. Her home was a gathering place for the community who came to share the family's books, magazines and music.

EDSON IN WASHINGTON

By PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent

He Said It — Missed Motto — Such Mosh! — Visitor's Advice

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Gov. Arthur B. Langley of Washington, who came east for the U.S. governors' conference at the White House, told a group of men arguing over which profession really was the oldest.

A minister spoke up and said his profession must have been the oldest, because somebody must have been there to marry Adam and Eve.

A doctor said it couldn't have been that way. Before the minister got there, a surgeon must have been present to remove the rib from Adam's body and so create Eve.

An architect then cleared his throat and remarked that before Adam and Eve a landscape architect must have been present to lay out the grounds and design the Garden of Eden out of all the confusion.

It was the politician who got in the last word and settled the argument, according to Governor Langley. "Why else but a politician," he asked, "could have been responsible for all that confusion?"

The flowers of oratory also bloomed in the spring — as it were — as witness these paragraphs shivered down by Sen. Matt Neely (D-Idaho).

CIO Oilmen Want Share Of The Profit

WASHINGTON, May 22 — UP — The CIO Oil Workers are preparing to go after a "share-the-profits" general wage increase.

Strategy will be developed at a special convention in Cleveland, starting June 1. President O. A. (Jack) Knight called the session to rally entry of his organization into the new Oil and Chemical Workers Union, but will use the occasion to broach his wage plans to the union's policy committee.

The committee is scheduled to meet June 4, according to the union newspaper, the Oil Worker.

It quoted Knight as saying, "I believe our argument for wage increases should be based on the simple fact that fewer oil workers are doing more work and therefore making more profits for the companies."

Should Share Profits
 "Since the workers are making more profits for the stockholders, they should share in these increased profits," he said.

In the same issue, the Oil Worker front-paged a financial analysis of 24 representative companies by its research and education director, E. E. Phelps, who said he found:

"Oil company sales were up 5.8 per cent in 1953; profits before taxes were up 9.8 per cent; profits after taxes were up 9.1 per cent; dividends were up 10.1 per cent; while the average employee's wages and benefits rose by 6.2 per cent."

Phelps said the individual wage raise should be viewed in the light of the fact that fewer men were doing more work. This also was cited by Knight.

"We have been studying this matter since the first of the year," he was quoted, "I am now convinced that oil workers can and should secure substantial increases in their hourly wages."

The productivity of oil workers is increasing steadily and substantially, yet there are fewer workers on the payrolls than last year or the year before.

"Divide and Conquer"
 The union won an average four per cent wage hike in 1953 and a 15 per cent increase the year before but was defeated by what it called management's divide and conquer strategy "in setting up companywide bargaining."

This led to formation of the new Oil and Chemical Workers Union which Knight's union formally expects to join at Cleveland. The OCWU aims at a membership of one million in the United States and Canada.

The objective, the founding committee said, is not industrywide bargaining, as some companies have claimed, but "precisely the same degree of industrywide, companywide and inter-company bargaining."

The oil workers were one of 26 industries named in the union's list of companies to call for a ratification contract.

AEC Opens Idaho Reactor Facilities

K. S. Adams, chairman, and Paul Endacott, president, Phillips Petroleum Company, commented Saturday on the Atomic Energy Commission's recent announcement that the specialized facilities of the Materials Testing Reactor operated by Phillips in Idaho have been made available to the public on a limited basis.

"We are pleased with the commission's decision to make available for private research and industry certain experimental services of the Materials Testing Reactor. The progressive developments of the Commission in the direction of industrial use of atomic energy hold great possibilities for peace time public benefit."

Phillips participation as atomic energy contractor began in 1950 when the commission from among 34 companies to operate the Materials Testing Reactor west of Idaho Falls.

Uranium is "burned" in this reactor in such a way as to produce the world's highest known nuclear radiation intensity.

Beyond predicting that the European Defense Community treaty would be ratified by France within six months, newly returned U.S. High Commissioner for Germany James B. Conant refused to make any prophecies on future developments in the old world. He gave this reason:

"Like many teachers of chemistry in college, I used to employ the device of lecture table experiments, often involving explosives, to keep my class awake. However, the experiments were not always successful. The predicted explosions sometimes failed to occur. After one such fiasco, an elderly visitor to the class came up after the lecture and gave me this advice: "Young man, it is always better to speak after the event as a historian than before the event as a prophet."

"The U.S. ruling circles are not interested in the cultural development of American youth. They want to train them as obedient soldiers, ready for robbing other nations. Attempts are made to impress the inevitability of war on American boys and girls. Even in the alphabet, the first words which the American school child President S. B. Ireland said Saturday in a summary of the company's current drilling activities, "Fast well drilling resulted in the discovery of a new oil field on the company's 4,100 acre block in northern Crockett County, where the Shannon No. 1 was completed at a depth of 1,944 feet in the Strawn reef for a potential of 1,000 barrels daily. The company now has two other drilling operations in progress there.

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD

By ERSHINE JOHNSON NHA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—(NHA)—Close-ups and Longshots: I've been yelling ever since the war that Hollywood dignified "actors are normal people" publicity campaign has taken all the excitement of personality away from movie stars.

Now it's Gary Cooper agreeing with me. Forgetting to be the man of few words he's supposed to be, rugged Gary, who spanned the silent screen into talkies, told me on the "Vera Cruz" set:

"It all adds up to showmanship. The new stars are too honest about themselves. Actors should remember they are actors and not people. All the storybook glamor quality is gone from Hollywood. New stars are too eager to portray themselves just like the Joneses of the world. They're not for them they wouldn't be stars."

Gary about his own "Yup" and "Nop" reputation: "It's not true. But it hasn't hurt me a bit. It gives me a little bit of color."

No details were issued by attorneys, but here's the inside on that libel suit slapped by Frank Sinatra on famed British restaurateur John Mills of London's Les Ambassadeurs: Ava Gardner's report to her husband on what happened when she went to the powder room in Mills' flat on the restaurant's second floor started the beef, with Mills revoking Sinatra's membership in Les Ambassadeurs and barring him permanently.

There's a big, big-screen movie in Roy Rogers' future. He's been grinding out telefilms ever since "Palface" two and a half years ago. . . . Walter Wanger will continue speaking his mind on prison reform through films. He hopes to tie up movie rights to Carver Chessman's sensational "Cell 2455, Death Row." Chessman wrote the story while awaiting the death penalty at San Quentin.

Here's the all-star cast so far picked for Cecil B. DeMille's "The Ten Commandments": Irene Dunne, Cornel Wilde, Yul Brynner and Charlton Heston. More top star names are yet to be signed.

Britishers are waiting with bated breath until Errol Flynn and Anna Neagle start working together in a film musical, "Lilacs in the Spring." La Neagle can't abide swearing, gags, practical jokes or high jinks.

There are still mixed emotions about CinemaScope in the film industry. Despite fantastic box-office figures on "The Robe," Alfred Hitchcock, board chairman of the "Theater Owners of America," labels the big-screen system as: "One of the damndest contraptions invented by man."

Says Starr: "CinemaScope is designed to drive everybody out of the theater. It is an invention of the devil."

Lon McCallister has given up acting to sell real estate. "Doctor in the House," a British movie due for early release in the U.S., is said to parallel the story of "Not as a Stranger," the No. 1 best seller to be filmed by Stanley Kramer. . . . Rod Cameron will star in a feature movie based on the character he plays in the TV series, "City Detective."

Russell Russell's still hoping to sign Imogene Coca for "The Girl Rush," her independent musical comedy. But now there are complications because of indications over Imogene's new fall TV show.

Leslie Caron's excited French lingo, when asked about romance with ballet master Roland Petit and press agent Mike Mindlin, leaves no doubt that she's annoyed. Neither, she says, is her heart. . . . Lon Chaney, Jr., back on the screen in "Who's the Wind Blows," is about to become a grandpa for the fourth time.

Paulette Goddard likes money, but her independence even more. She wrote out a check to Paramount, canceling an old contract for one film, when alerted for a movie she didn't like. . . . Eartha Kitt decided she wouldn't work with a scene-stealer like Paul Douglas and bowed out of the Truman Capote-Harold Arlen Broadway musical, "The House of Flowers."

Joe E. Brown is being sought to costar with Dorothy Dandridge in the Highland Park, Tex. musical comedy production, "Show Boat." A possibility that the show may be moved to Broadway intact is the bait.

Richard Barstow's suggested cure for black eyes suffered by shebas like Zsa Zsa Gabor: A piece of raw ham over the injured orb!

Rains Improve Ochilree Crops PERRYTON — (Special) — General rains over Ochilree County this past week have improved prospects for a grain sorghum crop in this area. The rains which fell Saturday, Sunday, and Wednesday totaled up to nearly four inches in the south part of the county. In Perryton, the rainfall measured a total of 1.36 inches. In the Ballico community just north of Perryton in Oklahoma a three inch rain Wednesday flooded roads and caused postponement of the school's Ballico.

Perryton had already received 1.16 inches of rain in May. The rains this week have brought the total to 3.43 inches for the month.

They're Australia Bound. . . Hank, Mary Exchange 'Words' While Packing For Plane Trip

By HENRY McLEMORE When a man and his wife start packing for a long trip it should be conducted along the Margulis of Queensberry rules, with a referee, judges, a knockdown judge, a timekeeper, seconds, and a doctor in attendance.

Mary and I are now engaged in packing for a trip to Australia on Qantas Empire Airways Limited. We'll be gone about three weeks, with visits to Sydney, Melbourne, Canberra, and side points, and my point is that we don't have to carry everything we own. She differs, as only a wife can. I do believe that if we had a suitcase large enough she would take along the piano, a few end tables, the living room carpet, and several yards of the ivy that trails over the back yard wall.

We have had packing trouble before this time. I said, "I'll tell you what we'll do. I'll pack my bag and you pack yours. Okay?" "That'll be fine," she said.

So I started packing mine. I was about half-way through when she took a look. "Are those all the shirts you plan to take? Four? Well, you're not going to do that. Not the way you dirty shirts. You'll have one for every day and you'll be gone, and I'll have to spare."

I tried to explain that they sell shirts in Australia for Americans who don't have any, but that did no good. "Why buy them in Australia when you have plenty of nice ones of your own? A waste of money, I call it."

So in went a dozen shirts. Mary wanted to know what shoes I had packed. I told her I was taking a pair of black ones, a pair of brown ones, and some loafers. "Suppose it rains a lot while we are there, and your shoes get soaking wet?" she asked. "Then where would you be? No, sir, you are going to take an extra pair of brown and an extra pair of black shoes."

I put up as good a fight as I could but I lost. I had to take San Francisco with enough clothes to take the Duke of Windsor around the globe twice. I have mufflers in case I get a sore throat, enough ties to drape a county of necks, more shorts and socks than a village store, and a supply of shaving needs that is appalling.

As for her own suitcases, it is obvious that she never expects to return to the United States. She is packing for a lifetime voyage stopping at every town, city, and lagoon. "Honey," I told her when I saw her put in the twelfth pair of shoes, "The Super Constellation we are flying in is a big plane, but there must be a little bit of room left for the other passengers and a pint or two of gas. Maybe a gallon or two of gas, because it is a long haul to Sydney."

"You pack your bags and I'll pack mine," she said. "I didn't know where to go from there."

So I just went out into the living room and let her finish packing. I find this is wise on certain occasions. Naturally, as soon as she turns her back I'll yank out half a ton of stuff and hide it in the closet.

After all, the last time I was in Australia I had on a suit, a khaki one, and I did all right.

June Grads Needn't Fret About Jobs

WASHINGTON, May 22—UP—There are untold job opportunities for this year's thousands of college graduates, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said Saturday.

He made his statement in an "open letter" to all prospective graduates and accompanied it with an analysis of job opportunities. Here is the way he sees the outlook:

ENGINEERING There will be good opportunities for years because there has been a continuing shortage which indicates the Armed Services have intensified.

NATURAL SCIENCES Demand is high, especially in activities related to defense production and research and development. The need is greatest for those with graduate training but those with bachelor degrees will find jobs in most fields.

CHEMISTS Opportunities are great in manufacturing such as chemicals, petroleum, rubber, food and paper.

PHYSICISTS The defense program has greatly increased the need for physicists, particularly those with advanced training. Opportunities are especially good in nuclear physics, electronics, quantum theory, atomic and molecular physics.

EARTH SCIENTISTS Geologists and geophysicists are needed especially in the petroleum and mining industries. Oceanographers capable of carrying on research also are in great demand.

TEACHING Demand for elementary school teachers continues to be greater than the supply. About 45,000 new teachers will be available this year but this is far below the number needed. At the high school level the supply has dropped each year since 1950. Salaries of teachers continue to increase.

FEDERAL SERVICE There is a pressing need to fill scientific and technical positions, such as engineers, physicists, metallurgists, cartographers and draftsmen, chemists, mathematicians, geologists, and medical, dietetic and library specialists.

HEALTH PROFESSIONS Shortages of dentists, physicians and nurses continue in most areas. Demand also is great for health service personnel—physical therapists, occupational therapists, pharmacists, dietitians, nutritionists, laboratory technicians, veterinarians etc.

BUSINESS LAW Industry is actively recruiting graduates training in business administration. Those specializing in management and in such business techniques as accounting, advertising, copywriting, market research, sales, statistics, insurance underwriting and personnel management are particularly sought. Demand for lawyers is greatest in tax, patent, administrative, admiralty, or international law.

BANKING Graduates are in demand for trainee positions. However, employers are highly selective. An expanding field and one which offers a variety of specialization. Shortage of trained workers is expected to continue at least several years.

Object to Religious Words BOSTON, May 22—UP—The Unitarian Ministers Association Friday went on record against a proposal to change the pledge of allegiance to include the words "under God." At the 129th annual meeting of the American Unitarian Association, the ministers' group also adopted a resolution protesting the use of religious symbols on coins and stamps.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

JESUS MET THEM.
IN Matt. 28:9. We read that Jesus met them. The question is not have you met me. But have you met Christ. . . The leper in Matt. 8:1-4. met the Christ and was cleansed. . . Mary Magdalene met Jesus and was delivered from the demons that possessed her. . . The Samaritan woman of John 4. that met Jesus at the well curb and became the theme of her soul. . . Blind Bartimaeus met Christ and received his sight, which is recorded in Mark 10:46-52. . . It was the tax-collector in Luke 19. that accepted the call of Christ and had had him as guest in his own home. . . Nicodemus in John 3. who was a ruler of the Jews. Met Christ the Master teacher and found the way of life. . . The man who for thirty and eight years in John 5. met Christ at the pool of Bethesda, and received for his body, the blessings of Christ in freeing him of his infirmity. . . It was Saul or Tarsus who met Christ on the road to Damascus that changed his life completely, and later testified, For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first and also to the Greek. It was when Thomas met the Christ of the resurrection that his doubts were driven away. . . Christ came that he could be the WAY . . . the TRUTH . . . and the LIFE . . . When men say I don't know the way . . . It is Christ that meets them saying I AM THE WAY . . . Christ came unto the world and said I AM THE TRUTH . . . John 8:32 . . . and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. When there was no hope of life . . . Christ came and declared unto the world that he was the RESURRECTION AND THE LIFE. . . CHRIST WILL MEET YOU. THAT'S THE ANSWER.

Gassers Outlast Oilers To Earn Tie Break In Series, 8-6

Host Loop Leading Pioneers Today

Borger's Gassers choked off a ninth inning rally by the Pampa Oilers last night to take the series finale, 8-6, in a rain-marred contest at Oiler Park.

The Oilers came up with three runs in the ninth inning and had the tying run on base with only one away but relief pitcher Bob Worthy slammed the door on the rally to save the game for the visitors.

Before the ninth inning was played, activity had been suspended 25 minutes due to rain. Borger was leading 8-2 at the time and appeared to be easy winners but the Oilers threw a scare into the visitors before the Gassers could claim the victory.

Loose play spoiled a fine pitching performance turned in by the Oilers' Vibert Clark. Six of the eight Gasser runs were unearned.

Clark struck out 10 and walked only one. The loss was his third against as many wins.

George Tomceck got credit for the win but had to have help from Worthy who came on during the Oilers' threatening rally in the ninth. The win gives Tomceck a 3-3 record.

The Oilers' ninth inning rally started after leadoff man Eddie Daniels had popped out to the infield. Catcher Dick Hutzler was hit by a pitched ball and four successive singles by pinch-hitter Jake Henson, Dub Woolbright, Ben Felder and Curtis Hardaway accounted for three runs.

But the rally died when Worthy got Manager Doug Lewis to hit into a force out and Dick Hairston on a groundout, both of which represented the winning run as they stood at the plate.

For all practical purposes, the Gassers won the game in the sixth frame when they came up with five unearned markers.

The straw that broke the camel's back was a two-run strikeout. With two aboard, Tomceck fanned but catcher Hutzler dropped the ball and then threw the ball away at first base in an attempt to get Tomceck, two runs scoring on the overthrow.

Hutzler, however, made up for the error when he blasted a two-run homer in the seventh frame to put the Oilers within striking distance of catching up. A triple by Eddie Daniels preceded Hutzler's wallop.

Last night's game was played before the largest crowd of the season at Oiler Park. It was "Kid Night" at Oiler Park with numerous gifts given away by the sponsor of the program, Plains Creamery.

Four bicycles and several items of Little League and Pony League baseball equipment were given away for the Oilers. Plains Creamery awarded the players with $5 awards for various achievements. Doug Lewis won two awards for the first hit and first run. Only two other awards were won. Hutzler got $5 for hitting the first and only home run.

PHILADELPHIA, May 22—UP—A two-run homer by Monte Irvin in the first inning sparked the New York Giants to a 5 to 0 victory over Philadelphia Saturday night at the Phillies.

Irvin's eighth homer of the season with Hank Thompson aboard proved more than enough for GM Ed, who pitched his first complete game of the year in seven starts. It was the right-hander's second victory against these opponents in a game which saw L. N. Mueller steal home for the Giant's final run in the sixth.

Mayor To Throw Out First Pitch

Little League and Pony League baseball—brand new sports programs in Pampa—will be ushered in tomorrow afternoon with an impressive opening day ceremony on tap.

Three games will be played on opening day tomorrow but all of the "Opening Day" ceremony will take place at the Pony League Park east of Fisher Granary.

All 12 clubs in the Little League and Pony League will be on hand for the ceremony—all suited out in their brand new uniforms.

The ceremony will get underway at 5 p.m.

Mayor Tom Rose will throw out the first pitch with Dr. Joe Donaldson, president of the Pampa Boys Club, on the receiving end. Sheriff Rufe Jordan, with a Little League bat in hand, will be the batter.

A full ceremony that resembles any opening day program for an organized league in the professional ranks is planned for tomorrow afternoon by the Optimist Club, sponsors of the kid baseball programs.

Oren James, vice-president of the Little Leagues in Pampa, is the program chairman for tomorrow afternoon by the Optimist Club, chairman of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Mayor Rose will make a brief talk before delivering the first pitch.

The National Anthem will be played and the flag will be raised. Each manager and his assistant will be introduced, after which his team will be recognized. The teams will be introduced as a whole and not individually.

The opening day ceremony will consume some 30 minutes. Following the ceremony, three games will be played, one game at each of the three parks.

Pampa is joining some 3,500 leagues that have been formed in the United States in Little League. Little League is played in every state in the union.

Two leagues have been formed for Pampa and one Pony League. Each league will have a park of its own. The parks are equipped with practically everything a professional ball park is equipped with. Each park is fenced in with the "homerun fences" trimmed to the size of the Little League and Pony League age.

The material for the fences have been donated by the Seven Pampa lumber firms.

Following is the schedule for Monday's opening 30 minutes:

PONY LEAGUE
 Pampa Druggists vs. Elmer's Super Market
EASTERN LITTLE LEAGUE
 Hoffman Oil Co. vs. Cabot
WESTERN LITTLE LEAGUE
 Utility Oil vs. Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners

Little League Players Live Up Television Program In Brooklyn

By JIMMY BRESLIN
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Happy Felton has a television show before-Dodger home games which he has found begins to sparkle when he brings up Little Leaguers as guests.

"The many viewers have found that the biggest laughs come when the Heavy Happy turns the show completely over to the little guy. Three players from Norwalk, Conn., Little League were guests and after displaying their ability in a short workout in the Brooklyn ball park, Happy called Pete, a pitcher, to his side.

"I'd like to ask Don Newcombe something," the kid said. Felton dutifully dispatched a man to bring the six-foot-four, 225-pound Brooklyn hurler.

Pete, aged 13, quickly popped a question to Newk.

"Say you're playin' the Cards," Pete piped up. "And there are three on and nobody out and you go to pitch to Stan Musial. What do you do then, huh?"

"Well," Newcombe answered, "you're starting off with a tough one, Pete. But usually, Pete Wee Reese or Junior Gilliam or one of the infielders come in and talk with me. You know, they ask me about the weather and how my wife is and all kinds of stuff to take my mind off that man and the jam I'm in."

"But wait, maybe you can help me, Pete. What do you say when you get in a jam and look around and there comes your second baseman in to talk to you, you tell me that, Pete."

"Oh, what doesn't happen to me," Pete said, airily. "Cause our second baseman and me, we're not talking these days."

From Millard and Lynn, Mass., and Floral Park, N. Y., come details of what shapes up as an excellent idea to put the clamps on disputes arising among grownups (first, they take over electric trains and now they're trying to fiddle around with Little League) about whose son makes his team and whose doesn't.

Little League authorities in these towns have instituted a system whereby all candidates for teams are classified according to number. No names or nicknames are used in discussing players. It saves an awful lot of trouble. These grownups have got to be watched. They cause more trouble than any five Little Leaguers involved in a close play at the plate.

As recently as 1948, there were only 76 franchised Little Leagues in the United States. Today, there are more than 8700.

With this, while organized professional baseball yells about sagging attendance, Little Leaguers drew more than 20 million spectators last year.

Mantle Leads Yanks Past Bosox, 7-0

NEW YORK, May 22 — UP — Mickey Mantle drove in four runs with a homer, triple and a pair of singles Saturday while Allie Reynolds registered his fifth victory of the season by pitching the New York Yankees to a 7 to 0 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

Mantle, boosting his batting average 57 points from .216 to .283, collected four of the Yankees' 10 hits and demonstrated his versatility to a ladies' day crowd of 22,963. He first beat out an important infield hit in the third inning and then blasting his fifth homer of the year with one on in the fifth.

Reynolds struck out six batters, gave up seven hits, and was in serious difficulty only in the sixth inning.

The Yankees picked up their first three runs off Rookie Truman Cleveland in the third inning. Andy Carey came home on Hank Bauer's double. Bauer went to third and scored when Mantle out-logged a grounder to first baseman Harry Agganis. Yogi Berra also beat out an infield roller, and when Eddie Robinson's smash skipped through Agganis' legs for an error, Mantle tallied.

Mantle's homer, a 365-foot blow which landed in the corner of the right field bleachers, followed Bauer's fifth inning single and gave the Yankees a 5-0 lead. The Yankees scored again in the seventh on Phil Rizzuto's single and Mantle's triple to deep left.

HOOK SLIDE—Chico Carrasquel is pronounced safe by Jim Hoonichik as Third Baseman Eddie Yost of the Senators attempts to tag the White Sox shortstop at Comiskey Park. Carrasquel went from first to third when Nellie Fox bunted safely and First Baseman Mickey Vernon fumbled the ball thrown by Pitcher Johnny Dixon. (NEA)

Chisox Edge Tigers With Three In 9th

DETROIT, May 22 — UP — Minnie Miñoso connected for a three-run homer in the ninth inning Saturday to give the Chicago White Sox a 5 to 3 victory over the Detroit Tigers before 10,974 fans at Briggs Stadium.

Minoso's round-tripper, his sixth of the season, came off George Zuverink and followed singles by pinch-hitter Ed Stewart and Nellie Fox.

Mike Fornieles, fifth of seven Chicago pitchers, received credit for his first victory against one loss, while Dick Mariowe, who had given up the hits to Stewart and Fox, was tagged for his first reversal against two triumphs.

The White Sox scored an unearned run off starter Ned Garver in the first inning on a pair of errors by third baseman Ray Boone. Another Chicago run followed in the seventh on a walk to Johnny Groth and Chico Carrasquel's triple.

Don Johnson blanked the Tigers on four hits until the bottom of the eighth, when pinch-hitter Fred Hatfield singled and Harvey Kuenn walked. Harry Dorish replaced Johnson and walked Frank Bolling. Sandy Consuegra came in to retire Ray Boone and was replaced by Billy Pierce.

Pinch-hitter Matt Batts greeted Pierce with a two-run single and Fornieles became the fifth Chicago pitcher. Bolling scored as Fornieles threw out Bob Nieman to send Detroit ahead 3 to 2. But Minoso changed that.

Stan Hack Can't Recall When NL Was So Evenly Balanced

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK — (NEA) — A chat with Stanley Hack bears out the thinking that this year's race in the National League isn't going to develop into a runaway for anybody, namely the Dodgers.

Walter Alton of the Brooks has been jelling one and all in quiet terms that "even the second division clubs can knock your brains out. All but the Pirates are loaded."

A quick once-over of the Cubs backs up this thinking.

"I'm still getting used to the club," says the personable, cigar-smoking, tobacco-chewing Stan Hack, who replaced Phil Cavarretta toward the end of the training season. "It's not bad. We have some highly explosive power and those two around second base make the double play. With just a little pitching we don't get beat easily."

Genuine power is generated by Hank Sauer and Ralph Kiner with Ransom Jackson in between.

Among numerous other things regarding the Wrights in more recent years has been the fact that their second basing combinations—starting with Roy Smalley and Eddie Miksis and going on from there—could not make the double killing that pulls pitchers out of bed in the fifth. This year Ernie Banks, despite obvious greenness has blended with Gene Baker.

At the outset, the Bruins were consigned to a poor finish and aren't expected to wind up any better than sixth. Yet a look at the Chicago side in action leaves the impression that, even the lordly, Brooklyn outfit cannot start swinging against it with any assurance that a victory is there for the taking. There are no longer any All-American outs in the north side batting order and Manager Hack figures to get some pitching from Bob Rush, Johnny Klippenstein, Warren Hecker and Paul Minner.

All key Giants have to do is remain sound. The Braves swept a two-game set at Ebbets Field. The Cardinals start with Stanley Musial.

Many would have you believe the Phillies will finish in the second division, which stresses the rather startling ability the National League carries in its lower flight. The Phils can throw Robin Roberts, Cliff Simmons and Murry Dickson at you in a three-game series and leave you for seriously dead. The Reds move in with a leading man like Bobby Adams and Gus Bell, Gad Klussekawki, Jim Greengrass and Johnny Temple strung out behind him.

Pittsburgh alone can be taken in stride. A slip-around the reamers or the circuit could leave any outfit devastated.

Hank can't remember when the league packed so much power and was so well balanced, and he spent 18 years at third base for the Cubs before stepping down to be a manager in the chain.

"This is a real tough league," he says. "I'd say that this is the murriest I've had since coming back."

Are Sauer and Kiner hurting the Cubs in the outfield as much as billed?

"My outfield isn't hurting too much," replied Hack. "I have no set of Terry Moores, but I'll take what I've got."

Bob Talbot, who did well defensively in center field, was out year topped the 38-car field. His began, Hank Baumholtz, playing between the heavy-footed Kiner and Sauer, was observed reaching down and holding his right foot for a bit before the first pitch. A guy who isn't ready for the opening day of trials this year, and observers believed the fact he wasn't shooting for the pole Saturday may have taken the edge off his speed.

Vukovich became the 18th qualifier, and the second of the day. The first was Danny Oakes, Los Angeles, a rookie who drove a car owned by J. C. Balch of Los Angeles at 137.237 to get into the field.

Vukovich drove the same car he won the race in last year. It is owned by Howard Keck of Los Angeles.

Johnnie Parsons, Van Nuys, Calif., the 1950 winner, followed Vukovich into the lineup with a speed of 139.578, the fourth fastest of the first 19 qualifiers. His second lap was at 140.247, the sixth fastest lap of the year.

Then Walt Faulkner, Long Beach, Calif., who set qualifying records both in 1950 and 1951 that lasted until Chet Miller broke them in 1952, qualified at a slow 137.274, the second poorest mark of the season.

Valdes Wins When Foe Quits In 4th

BRUSSELS, May 22 — UP — Cuba's No. 1 Valdes was awarded the victory over former European champion Karel Sys Saturday night when the 40-year-old Belgian quit at the start of the fourth round and touched off a near riot among angry spectators.

Valdes, the world's second-ranking heavyweight contender, and the chunky Sys angered the crowd throughout the bout by refusing to mix despite repeated warnings from French referee Schermann.

As a result of the dismal showing by both fighters, officials of the Belgian Boxing Federation conferred on whether they should confiscate the fighters' purses. Valdes was scheduled to receive $10,000 and Sys $7,000.

Neither seemed inclined to throw a punch in anger during the first three rounds and Sys stunned the crowd at the beginning of the fourth when he suddenly raised his right arm and signalled his retirement.

Many of the fans rushed the box office demanding their money back and attendants were harassed to prevent some of the fans from helping themselves to the receipts.

Valdes entered the ring a heavy favorite to beat Sys.

Vukovich Qualifies For Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, May 22 — UP — Bill Vukovich, hard-driving winner of the 600-mile auto race last year, qualified for the May 31 race at the Indianapolis motor speedway Saturday at a disappointing speed of 138.478 miles per hour.

It was a little better than he did in winning the pole position in 1953, when he drove the 10-mile trial in 138.392. But many thought Vuky Saturday would better 140 miles an hour and possibly break the new all time records set by Jack McGrath a week ago.

Vukovich's qualifying speed last year topped the 38-car field. His began, Hank Baumholtz, playing between the heavy-footed Kiner and Sauer, was observed reaching down and holding his right foot for a bit before the first pitch. A guy who isn't ready for the opening day of trials this year, and observers believed the fact he wasn't shooting for the pole Saturday may have taken the edge off his speed.

Wacoan Leads Big Staters

By UNITED PRESS
Jack Falls of Waco had a shorter slump than other Big State League batting front-runners last week and as a result his 10-point slide left him in first place with a healthy .449 average.

Billy Capps of Corpus Christi, last week's leader at .464, dropped to third place at .386, while teammate Chili Bigham dropped from .460 to .389 but held a second place. Jack Wilkinson of Corpus Christi hung onto third at .378 and Charlie Riddle of Galveston edged into fifth spot at .372.

Bigham also was setting the league pace in runs batted in (34) and was tied with Keith Carpenter of Harlingen and J. D. Sanderson of Galveston in triples (6 each). Wilkinson led the circuit in runs (36) and hits (56). Shorty Schoreder of Corpus Christi in doubles (15), and Ray Zonta of Waco in home runs (7).

Veteran Earl Caldwell had a 4.0 record working for Harlingen to top the pitchers, although several moundmen had won more games, including Galveston's Ray Contreras with an 8.1 record. Roland Jones, the Bryan rookie, shot to the forefront as strikeout king with 45.

Corpus Christi's wrecking crew led the league in hitting with a fat 308 average and also set the pace in runs (249), hits (374), doubles (63), triples (20), sacrifice hits (37) and runs batted in (205). Tyler had stolen the most bases (25) and Waco had hit the most home runs (23).

Waco also sported the best fielding average (.963), six points ahead of Corpus Christi and had pulled off 44 double plays to 43 for renegade Waco.

Match books were used as an advertising medium by 19 percent more companies during the first nine months of 1953 than in the comparable period of 1952, the Match Industry Information Bureau announced.

Why Point For Big Leagues If You Can Play In Ardmore?

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Robert E. Harlow reveals that the fabulous Waco and Opie Turner's second hobby is baseball.

And for years we've heard that life in the minors was so tough.

The Turners of the Oklahoma oil millions are Ardmore's gift to the professional golfers.

In this year's Ardmore Open, they paid $31,530 in prizes and an additional $12,535 in bonuses. There were bonuses of $15 for every birdie, $25 for a chip in, $250 for an eagle and $500 for each low round.

The Turners would have been pleased to dish out $2000 for a hole in one.

Publisher Harlow of Golf World describes how the Turners handle the Ardmore Cardinals of the Class D Sponee State League. Ardmore is a St. Louis National League farm and the spending Turners are giving Gusie Busch something at which to shoot.

They're starting young Red Birds off on the right financial track — for themselves. Little wonder every player in the circuit wants to play for Ardmore.

Mrs. Turner originated the pleasant formula of giving the teen age Cardinals $5 for a double, $5 for a stolen base, $7.50 for a triple, $10 for a home run and $10 to the winning pitcher.

"Up to now," comments Bob Harlow, "no Ardmore athlete has offered to split with an umpire for calling him safe at second."

President Waco Turner of the Ardmore Baseball Association bought the club bus to make out-of-town trips. On its return, from Seminole, Waco, Ada, McAlester, Lawton, Shawnee, Paul Valley or Gainesville, the latter in Texas, Waco greets the athletes with a steak dinner and a ride on Lake Murray in his high-powered cruiser.

At the season's end, when most D players are hitch-hiking or busing it home, the Ardmore boys ride luxury planes to New York.

Pittsburgh, Seattle, Havana and elsewhere.

Young Stanley Musial didn't have it so good with Williamson of the Mountain State League.

The board of directors of the Ardmore Cardinals is composed of six millionaires and Business Manager Bill Hamilton, former city editor of the Ardmore Ardmore, the evening newspaper. The Ardmore club has the wealthiest board of directors in baseball, and there are some whoppers in the majors.

Ardmore won the pennant by five and a half games last year, but lost money, as it does every season. Directors pass the hat and the books are balanced without any griping.

A new park is on the generous agenda for things athletic in Ardmore which appeal to Waco and Opie.

Bill Hamilton is using a new gimmick for promotion. Hamilton's men cover the streets and put pennies into automobile parking meters which show "Expired." They leave a note on the windshield, reading: "A coin was inserted by courtesy of the Ardmore Cardinals."

The minor leagues could use a lot more promotional gimmicks — and Turners.

Come to think of it, why should a youngster play for the majors when he can play for Ardmore?

Scoring Experiment Set

INDIANAPOLIS, May 22 —UP— Judges will announce their scoring of the nationally televised bout between Joe Miceli of New York and Al Andrews of Superior, Wis., on May 29 between each round — the first time the experiment has been tried on TV.

Indiana athletic officials are trying the experiment because of repeated complaints that TV watchers' cards do not compare favorably with the final decisions.

State Game Wardens Carrying Out Creel Census In Texas

AUSTIN, May 22 —UP— Fresh water fishermen were urged Saturday if someone wants to count their catch, to let them look.

Chances are it will be a field man of the Game and Fish Commission carrying out a creel census, a long range project aimed at improving fishing conditions in several large Texas lakes.

Most of the catch counts are being made at landing docks.

The angler is asked to permit his catch to be counted, measured and tell how many hours it took to catch the fish.

Length-weight curves have been compiled on the various reservoirs under study. As a result, experts can determine the weights from the length of the fish.

These curves reveal that a two-pound black bass from Possum Kingdom would be 13 1/2 inches long; 16 inches long on Medina; 17 inches long on Lake Travis, and 15 1/4 inches long on Texoma.

The variations provide the experts with data in their study of factors aimed at strengthening food sources in the lagging lakes — thus improving the overall fishing.

Marion Toole, chief aquatic biologist for the Game and Fish Commission, said lakes now being used in the creel census are Devils Lake near Del Rio, Medina near San Antonio, Lake Travis near Austin, Nasworthy and San Angelo near San Angelo, Whitney near Hillsboro, Caddo near Marshall and Lake Corpus Christi at Mathis.

Tierney Hits Circuit Blow As Oilers Trounce Gassers

By WALT SWITZER
Pampa News Staff Writer

Founding out a total of 13 hits, the Pampa Oilers came from behind here Friday night to score a 6 to 4 victory over the Berger Gassers in the first of a two-game series.

Ben Felder, Curt Hardaway, Dick Hutzler and Don Tierney paced the Oilers hitters. Hardaway had a perfect night at the plate, collecting two singles and a double in three trips to the platter. Felder also had three hits, all singles, in four times up. Tierney had two hits, one of which was a tremendous home run smash over the center field fence. Hutzler blasted out two doubles.

Ten of the Oilers' 18 hits came in the first five innings off Bob Witt, the Gassers' starting hurler. He was relieved in the fifth by John Coddington, who gave up three safeties.

Three Double Plays
Jose Velasquez, who had been bothered with a sore pitching hand for several days, gave up 10 hits, but he kept them well scattered.

Three double plays, two by the Oilers, were made. The first was in the opening inning when Louis Villodas hit a slow roller to the mound. Velasquez scooped it up, threw to Dub Woolbright at second to force Bob Westfall and Lewis took the relay to get Villodas by a step. In the second inning Adam Young grounded to Felder, at short who threw to Woolbright to get Allen Maul. Woolbright tossed to first to catch Young.

The Gassers opened the game with a run in the first on a walk to Nim Free, a fielder's choice, and a single by Gil Velasquez and Westfall's one-base knock.

The visitors made it 2-0 in the sixth frame. I. E. Palmer singled to right center and went to third on Hardaway's single to right. Palmer scored when Young hit into a double play.

Martin Enters Athletic Quiz

WASHINGTON, May 22 —UP— A House subcommittee's investigation of alleged Army coddling of athletes took a reverse tack Saturday when Chairman William E. Hess (R-Ohio) ordered an inquiry into possible discrimination against big league ball player Billy Martin.

"We don't want to see sports figures get favored treatment from the Army," Hess said, "but we don't want them deprived of normal privileges, either. If there has been any discrimination against Billy Martin we want an explanation."

Hess acted after Pilly — the New York Yankees' star second baseman known to the Army as Pvt. Martin, Alfred M. — wrote the subcommittee his treatment as a GI not only hadn't been preferential but sometimes had seemed "more severe" than that of other draftees.

"Not belly-aching," "belly-aching" but that he thought the subcommittee should know he never was coddled by the Army "in any way or form."

Billy, who recently was transferred to Camp Carson, Colo., for assignment, said that during his training at Fort Ord, Calif., he was not permitted to try out for the camp ball team, although other trainees were accorded this privilege.

During the same period he said the other men in his company got more off-post passes than he did, a fact which he said was explained to him as being due to his connection with big league baseball.

No Comment on Carson
He didn't say anything about his more recent luck at Camp Carson. According to press dispatches his treatment there has been strictly GI in at least one respect: His first chore was KP.

Hess said the subcommittee would request a full report from Martin's commanding officer at Fort Ord. He pointed out that the subcommittee, during public hearings early this month, already had cautioned the Army not to react against athletes as a result of the inquiry.

Martin was among a number of big-name sports figures whose service careers were explored by the Hess group at a three-day hearing on reports that some drafted athletes had gotten soft jobs, short hours, and relief from GI chores and overseas shipments.

Tierney opened the Oiler half of the second with his home run blow over the center field fence. Then in the third the Oilers knotted the count at 2-2 on Felder's single and Hardaway's double.

Daniels Singles
Three more Oiler runs crossed the plate in the fourth. Tierney singled to right. Ed Daniels singled to right and when Whitley Krueger let the ball get by him, Tierney scored and Daniels went to third. Hutzler doubled to left, scoring Daniels. After Velasquez fanned and Woolbright grounded out, Felder singled to score Hutzler with the third run of the inning.

The Gassers came back in the seventh to score two more runs on a walk and singles by Krueger, Velasquez and Villodas.

The final Oiler tally came in the seventh. Felder opened the inning with his third hit, a single. Hardaway walked. Manager Doug Lewis rapped a single to center to score Felder.

Daniels whose fielding in recent games has been somewhat on the poor side, came up with four nice catches, one of which was a sensational shoestring catch on Palmer's line drive to center in the sixth frame.

THE UMPIRE

By BEANS REARDON
24 Years in National League
Written for NEA Sports Editor

Question: Is there any difference between the ball and strike calling in the National and American League? — Frank Laird.

Answer: The difference, if any, comes in the calling of a low pitch. The National League, picking it up, is a low ball league. With this, umpires tend to call pitches strikes which would be considered a ball in the American League.

Q. Is the catcher restricted to wearing a glove of regulated size? — Edmund McTempany, Chicago.

A. He can wear a glove of any size, shape or weight.

Q. Is there any method of practicing for better speed on ground balls hit to either side of an infielder? — Wallace Hughes.

A. The cross-over step (leg farthest from the ball brought across the body) is the best way. It is quicker. All major leaguers use it.

Q. Have the Yankees, known as a power club, ever had a base stealing king? — Francis Perrett.

A. Fritz Heiser led the American League with 74 in 1914. Ben Chapman with 61, 53 and 37 in '31-'32-'33; Frank Crosetti with 37 in '38; and George Stinsewe with 35 and 33 in '44-'45.

Lightburn Wins

JUAREZ, Mex., May 22 —UP— Ludwig Lightburn, British Honduras lightweight champion, won the decision over Juan Padilla, Tampico, Mex., in a 10-round fight in the Juarez bull ring Friday night. Lightburn weighed 137 pounds and Padilla 135 1/4 pounds.

Tulsa's Lynch Top Hitter In League

By UNITED PRESS
 Danny Lynch, the stellar Tulsa Oiler keystone guardian, refuses to yield the Texas League batting leadership.
 The Oiler second baseman failed to slip as he appeared in more and more games and as a result he was hitting a healthy .388 through Wednesday's games to boast a 14-point lead over Frank Murray of Oklahoma City, who climbed into second place at .374.
 Buzz Clarkson, the loop's home run (11) and run-batted-in (42) king from Beaumont, was in third place with .367. Then there was another 14-point spread to fourth-ranked Glen Gorbous of Fort Worth at .355. Manager Les Fleming of Beaumont rounded out the top five with a .343.
 Clarkson was the only double leader. Other individual pace-setters included Howie Phillips, Houston, doubles (14); Ed Mickelson, Shreveport, and Willie Brown, Dallas, hits (64 each); Ken Boyer, Houston, runs (28); and Chas. Certei, San Antonio, runs (24), and Wiley Moore, Dallas, and Joe Koppe, Shreveport, triples (4 each).
 Red Murf of Dallas continued to set the pitching pace with a 5-0 record, trailed by Ralph Butler of Fort Worth and Bill Tremel of Shreveport at 4-0, but Karl Spooner of Fort Worth led in games won with his 7-3 record while also leading in strikeouts (73). Pat Scantlebury, Dallas, had worked the most innings (72).
 San Antonio led in club hitting with a .277 average, 18 points ahead of Fort Worth, and also led in home runs (39), runs (239), hits (328), RBI's (205) and shared with Dallas the lead in triples (10 each). Houston led in stolen bases (29) and Shreveport in doubles (67).

New World Marks Set In Relays

LOS ANGELES, May 22 —UP—
 An inspired two-mile relay run by the "never quit" quartet from Fordham and an almost contemptuous toss of the shot by world champ Parry O'Brien wrote two new world marks into the book Saturday to continue the amazing assault the spring on track and field records.
 With the ink hardly dry on Roger Bannister's smacking of track's "sound barrier," the four-minute mile, and the feat of O'Brien's 60-foot plus shotput two weeks ago still echoing, the boys from Fordham took over at the 14th annual Coliseum Relays Friday night.
 All they did was clip nearly two seconds from the two-mile shuttle record as the team of Terry Foley, Frank Tarney, Bill Persichetty and Tom Courtney roared out into the lead and stayed there to win in 7:37.3.
 While the crowd of 47,611 was roaring approval of the two-mile relay, the most exciting race of the night, weight man O'Brien shrugged out of his awesuit, tossed one 16-pound ball short of 60 feet, and grined.
 "I'm still going for that 62 feet," he said. Then he wound up and let fly. The iron ball hit the turf 62 1/2 inches away from the throwing line, adding another half inch to the mark he made two Saturday ago on the same coliseum floor.
 Spring Fordam in the two mile relay, the California, Occidental and Oklahoma A&M.
 USC's Ernie Shelton beat Charles Holding of East Texas State by two inches in the high jump. He cleared the bar at 6 feet, 9 1/2 inches.
 A major upset, which produced a mark just two-tenths of a second shy of a world record, was USC's victory over the Texas team in the 440-yard relay.
 The foursome nosed out the Texans by half a yard.

Nelson May Enter National Open Meet
 DALLAS, May 22 —UP—Byron Nelson, the one-time lord of the fairways but now a chicken and cattle raiser, may take another crack at the National Open golf tournament this year.
 A former U. S. titleholder in 1925, Nelson hasn't played in the Open since 1949. He said he had filed his entry for the June 17-19 USGA Open at Springfield, N. J., but hung a provisional "if" on whether or not he will play—depending, he said, on how well he does in the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation at Fort Worth next week.
 Jockey Is Grounded
 CAMDEN, N. J., May 22 —UP—Jockey Henry Block, who broke his neck when tossed from his horse at Garden State Park last Wednesday, will ride no more this year. Doctors made the announcement Friday at Cooper Hospital.

Giles Predicts Big Season In Majors
 NEW YORK, May 22 —UP—
 President Warren Giles of the National League said Saturday attendance in the majors this season may be the best since the boom years directly after the close of World War II, despite "frightful weather."
 "Everything points to a sizeable increase," he said. "And it is not just in certain towns. The attendance is up everywhere. Interest is as keen as I've seen it in years. What's the reason? It is hard to pin it down to any one thing. Of course we've got a race in our league that is shaping up as one of the best we ever had."
 "But there is always a certain amount of early season interest. Yet now we're well into our second month and instead of decreasing it is increasing."
Bad Weather Fans
 Giles said that the weather all over the major league map had been bad enough to discourage fans from coming to the parks, but they're "coming out anyway."
 "Even on these bad days a number of nights when it is cold and there is that threat of rain, the crowds are comparably bigger than they were a year ago," he said. "And don't forget that from now on we're heading into the part of the season when we get those good days. Look how it was last Sunday all over the majors when for a change there was warm and sunny weather. The crowds were like you'd get at holiday double headers."
Annual Argument
 Giles said that the May weather this spring also should put to rest the arguments which are advanced annually to start the season later.
 "It looks as if April and May got mixed up this year," he said. "We had good weather in April and bad weather in May. Well, if we had a later opening of the season we still would have hit all of this bad May weather. So the arguments to start the season later simply were knocked into a cocked hat."
 Giles was especially elated over the seven-team stampede that is developing in the National League, where all but the Pirates are beginning to have convictions about being season-long contenders.

Famed Iowa Ghost Softball Team To Play Here Thursday

The famed Iowa Colored Ghosts, a colorful softball team, will meet the Skelly Oil company's team in an exhibition game at the Skelly-Schaefer plant field northwest of the city Thursday night. Game time is 8 o'clock.
 The Ghosts are billed as a ball circus, America's greatest summer sports show. They put on a talent-plus-comedy routine similar to that of the famous Harlem Globetrotters in basketball.
 Advance reports state that the Ghosts are capable of beating most opposition with straight ball, but they add unorthodox ball handling, contortion and wisecracks to entertain the fans.
 During the game the Ghosts will give an exhibition of pepperball and rowboat acts. They will give an exhibition of shadowball after the game, in which they go through all the motions of playing baseball—minus the ball.
 The Ghosts will split into two different sides and play one inning and at the end of the game they will go into their slow motion act.
 The fabulous team was formed in Sioux City, Iowa, in the early 30s. They have defeated some of the greatest softball teams throughout the United States.
 Featured players include "Pop-eye" Smith and "Yippee" Garland, clowns, who are troublemakers of the team.
 The Ghosts' starting lineup will be Smith, shortstop; Shorty Buckner, first base; Otis Lee, second base; Pete Hood, catcher; Rip Collins (manager), left field; Bob Green, third base; C. Garland, center field; M. Randle, right field, and C. Wilson, pitcher. One of the utility players is Jerry Larremore, second base and outfield, a girl.

Colored Ghosts To Play In Shamrock
 SHAMROCK — (Special) — The Iowa Colored Ghosts, billed as a touring softball team with a carload of tricks, are booked for an exhibition game in Shamrock on Tuesday night, May 25.
 The game, marking the opening of the Lions Club new softball diamond west of Shamrock, will start at 8 o'clock. Furnishing the opposition for the colored visitors will be K. C. Steak House team, managed by Ernest Smith.
 During the game the Ghosts will give an exhibition of pepperball and rowboat acts. After the game they will give an exhibition of shadow ball, which takes place without a ball but will have all the motion of a real game. The Ghosts split into two sides to play one inning and at the end of the game they go into their slow-motion act, which will give the crowd a thrill.
 The Ghosts formed in the early 30's play good ball even with added unorthodox ball handling and they have defeated some of the greatest teams in softball throughout the United States.
 The K. C. Team has played only two games this season, winning them both. Their record last year was 25 victories and six defeats.

Present Situation Is Static

School Segregation Ban May Erase 'Jim Crow' In Other Public Areas

By ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer
Pampans were talking all week...

should remain about static. It will not actually be any infringement on their rights...

Monday's historic High Court decision reversed an 1896 ruling of the court in which the "separate, but equal" doctrine was laid down...

A poll by The Pampa Daily News the day after the ruling last week indicated -- and it was only an indication -- that Pampans, by and large, approved the High Court decision...

In another poll eight Pampans were asked what they thought would be the eventual result of the ruling in other areas of personal association...

Others questioned were reluctant to give an answer, when advised it would be published. However, they were willing -- most of them -- to talk "off-the-record"...

"It won't be very long until the Negroes will be coming to the white churches," Dr. Douglas E. Nelson, Presbyterian pastor, said...

"Since segregation in the schools has been banned, the churches won't dare allow segregation," Dr. Nelson continued, commenting: "It is such a shame that the churches have to hold back until almost the last to abandon segregation..."

There should never have been a situation where the Negroes could not worship where they pleased, he went on "but to change it rapidly would have meant a lot of split churches. But the situation is being taken out of the hands of the churches. The churches will be forced by public pressure to abandon segregation. Otherwise, they can't get themselves up as Christian institutions when the schools have abolished segregation..."

"I don't think it (the court ruling) will change the rules for any of the rest of us at all. I can't see how it could," he pointed out. "It never entered my head they would do such a thing, that court packed by Roosevelt and Truman..."

AN ILLUSTRATION -- These are two doors to the waiting rooms in a local railroad station. The one on the left is for "whites"; the one on the right, for Negroes. A Supreme Court ruling, outlawing segregation in U.S. public schools, has got Pampans wondering whether other areas of segregation will disappear in the future. (News Photos) to cutting Negroes' hair, it's the technique. Their hair is curly, therefore, you clip down to cut it, while we clip up."

The barber said there was a Negro shoeshine man in his shop, as there is in many a local shop. "Even in the far future, I think it will keep on going as it is now -- possibly it could change..."

There are no walls in Pampa's main railroad waiting room, but there are designated places for Negroes and whites, Oglesby pointed out. "Segregation on trains is not as it used to be -- there used to be a 'Jim Crow' car, now I've noticed quite a lot of Negroes riding right along with the whites in air-conditioned cars..."

"I haven't heard any objections," he said. In the waiting room, "the whites and Negroes both keep their places, they segregate themselves." There are separate rest room facilities.

As for non-segregation in the municipal swimming pool, Fred Brooks, city manager, doesn't think it will come for a long time. A lot of cities in the South (Lubbock, for example) have equal, but

College Grads In Heavy Demand

A heavy demand for college graduates in 1954 shows that U.S. employers have confidence in the long range business future, according to the family economics Bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

An employment demand equal or slightly superior to that of 1953, at salaries averaging even a little higher than last year's record levels, is shown in the final returns of the firm's 15th annual survey of job placements by 128 universities and colleges.

Sixty-eight of the schools report employment demands approximately equal to those of a year ago, 38 report calls a little greater, and 22 report fewer calls.

Of the 128 engineering, technical and non-technical schools, 68 estimate 90 to 100 per cent placement of available graduates by commencement time; and a total of 128 estimate 80 to 100 per cent placement by October.

Employers are definitely more selective this year, report many placement officials, and alumni veterans back from Korea have an advantage in job competition with seniors of 1954, who still have their military obligations ahead of them.

An increasing number of smaller concerns actively seeking college graduates through-campus visits is a trend of the past two or three years, according to the report. The additional market among smaller concerns is a help, it says, as some of the large corporations are seeking fewer men.

Starting salaries were found by the survey to be generally up from $10 to $25 a month over the levels of last spring.

Opens Wednesday In Amarillo Pampans Hold Key Posts At Methodist Conference

Several Pampa Methodists will be vested with official duties at the coming sessions of the annual Northwest Texas Methodist conference which opens Wednesday at Polk Street Methodist church in Amarillo.

They are members of the conference boards, commissions and committees, which are largely responsible for the business items which reach the conference floor. Most of the business transacted is a direct result of recommendations made in reports by these groups.

Most of the groups were expected to convene Tuesday afternoon or evening. Earlier meetings had been held by some when the administrative council met in Childress to make plans for the conference sessions.

Kirby Conference Officer James Kirby, McMurry student who is serving as conference youth president, is a member of the council as is his father, Rev. J. Edmund Kirby, Pampa district superintendent, who resides here. Kirby is completing his third year in this capacity for more than six consecutive years.

Rev. Orion W. Carter, immediate past minister at First Methodist church here, will be closing out his second year as superintendent of the Big Spring district. Carter by right of his office is also on the administrative council, Carter and Kirby are both trustees of McMurry college.

Local Men Prominent Rev. T. M. Johnston, present First Methodist pastor, is one of the directors of the retired ministers' foundation and has served on the Pampa district committee on ministerial qualifications as has Rev. Edwin L. Hal, pastor of St. Paul church.

Rev. R. T. Dyess is a member of the commission on town and country work as well as pastor of the Harrah church. Hal is the Pampa district reporter for the Texas Christian Advocate, weekly newspaper for Texas Methodists.

T. C. Lively Sr. is a member of the board of evangelism. James Kirby is a youth representative to the board of temperance. Rev. C. W. Parmenter of McLean is a member of the committee of rules. One of the associate district lay leaders is W. B. Weathered of Pampa. This office makes him a member of the conference board of lay activities.

Parmenter is the Golden Cross director for the Pampa district. Golden Cross is a fund used to take care of charity patients in Methodist owned hospitals. On Jan. 29, Golden Cross became of more localized importance to the conference with the acceptance of ownership and operation of Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Pampa Delegates All three Pampa pastors are closing out their second year here. Delegates from the three Pampa churches attending the conference will be: First Methodist, Lively and Arthur Teed; St. Paul, Elton Coe and John McFall; Harrah, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. LaPrade, with J. M. Nichols as alternate.

LITTLE LEAGUE STANCE

GROVER WORLEY

The new Optimist club chapter has organized 184 Pampa boys, 8 through 14 years old, into 12 Little and P-O-N-Y League teams. The project is a natural for the club, with its motto, "Friend Of The Boy." Opening games of the nine-week season will be held Monday. Club members have also constructed three parks, for which local merchants donated the material. Sponsors were obtained for each team and every boy will appear in uniform.

LITTLE LEAGUE STANCE — Good pitching form is displayed by Pitcher Gary Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Myers, 419 N. Carr, as he checks the second-base runner before delivering the ball to home plate. At bat is Charles Fant, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Kirkendall, 536 Magnolia, while Larry Bohlander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Bohlander, 945 Basnard, catches. All are members of the team managed by Foster White.

GROVER WORLEY — engineer for Cbot companies, is the P-O-N-Y League president. His responsibilities are to see the teams are run according to the rules. The league name means "Protect Our Nation's Youth."

BUCK FRANCIS — Pampa News sports editor, was instrumental in establishing the Optimist club here and in getting it to accept the Little and P-O-N-Y League project. As president of Little League, his responsibilities are the same as the P-O-N-Y League president—to see the rules are followed.

POINTERS FROM DAD — A. D. Conway, right, 616 Deane Drive, gives son Mike a few pointers on good catching form. Mike is catcher for the P-O-N-Y League team managed by Dr. Nick Kadingo, with Mr. Conway acting as assistant.

MOTHER GETS INTO THE ACT—Shown at her sewing machine, ready to attach the Optimist emblem to her son's uniform is Mrs. N. B. Watson, 729 N. Banks, while LeRoy, member of Max Molberg's Little League team, threads the needle she will use for the finishing touches.

SCRAMBLING FOR THE BALL — Boys on W. A. Gipson's P-O-N-Y League team, getting practice in "fly-catching," are, from left to right, Franklin Snow, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Snow, west of city; Bill Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Brown, northwest of city; Ray Stephenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Stephenson, south of town; Larry Henley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henley, 210 N. Nelson; and Johnny Nutting, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Nutting, 1100 N. Starkweather.

SLIDING INTO SECOND — Marshall Crossland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Crossland, Cabot-Kingsmill camp, slides into second base while Jerry Oliver, right, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Oliver, 420 Oklahoma, waits for the ball. Pitcher Terry Haralson, center, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sharon Haralson, 2236 Williston, is ready to give aid. All are members of Newt Secrest's Little League team.

Garden Routine Fitted To Your Time And Energy Will Yield Harvest Of Pleasure

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

If you're tidying up the toolshed and yard for the summer, give a thought to your comfort and peace of mind.

You'll have a better time all summer, for example, if you modify those midwinter seed catalog dreams and plan gardening activities suited to your time, energy and way of living.

But don't attempt an elaborate display of flowers in the center of the lawn if your yard, like ours, is a Mecca for small, screeching caravans of tricycles, wagons and roller skates.

Window boxes and outdoor planters give us a chance to see our carefully chosen plants blossom safely without extensive labor.

Don't wait until the nighttime crunch of auto tires against metal tells you that some child has forgotten the rule about parking tricycles off the driveway.

The reflector tape used on auto bumpers is now available for consumer use in packaged rolls. A little strip of this tape stuck on wheel toys may save them from damage, because it reflects an auto headlight like a beacon.

I'm also using it to mark the short turn into our driveway by thumb-tacking a strip to the trees on each side of the driveway entrance.

You'll find gardening easier if implements are in good condition. My pet peeves are sick or splintery wheel handles, loose heads and dull edges.

My hands blister easily enough without any help from poor equipment. If the heads of hoes and rakes can't be tightened and the edges of shears and clippers can't be brought back to a decisive cutting capacity, I retire them from use.

This year, all the implement handles will get a coat of liquid neoprene rubber, which will give them a non-slip grip and protect them from splintering. This compound, in case you're not familiar with it, is about the consistency of paint.

It is easier and faster for me just to dip the handles of small tools right in the can, but larger areas need brush application.

Brushed on wood and metal surfaces, it protects against rust and rot. I'm trying it for this purpose on inside surfaces of our planter boxes.

Because the liquid air-cures, or dries, to form a tough rubber coating, manufacturers also recommend it for waterproofing garden shoes, repairing hoses and reducing the rattle of metal garbage cans.

Any tidying up should include a check to see where you are storing insecticides and poisonous sprays. Your children and mine may be firmly trained and may be old enough to respect a word of caution, but open toolsheds invite little explorers from the neighborhood.

She's painting the inside of a metal planter with liquid neoprene rubber, which protects against rust and rot. It also can be used to skidproof handles of your garden tools, and has numerous other out-of-doors uses.

All poisonous compounds, paints, sprays and powders should be stored on a special high shelf or in a locked cabinet.

I've also learned that galvanizing can with a tight lid helps protect seed or fertilizer from accidental spilling.

And to avoid any hot-tempered hot-weather argument with neighbors about which implements belong to what family, mark your belongings with carved initials, or with tags taped or liquid-cemented in place.

Wilson Piano Pupils Will Present Recital

A combined piano recital of students of Mrs. Ramon Wilson and Miss Kay Wilson will be presented at 8 p. m. Monday in the city club room. Assisting on the program will be Miss Ramona Meadows, soprano.

Scheduled to perform are Donna and Lynn Berthelson, Donnie Helton, Doug Scoggs, Susan Palmer, Jack Young, Patsy Cook, Myona Watkins, Eileen Trout, Jim Bernard, Carolyn Harvey, Linda Hyatt, Cynthia Morgan, Sharon Wade, Glenda Deering, Patricia Grubbs, Jimmy Flynn, Nannette Flynn, Jim Scott, Marilyn Scott, Edna Sackett, Elizabeth Ann Emerson, Gordon Balch, Grace Moore, Sharon Harris, Annette Potter, and Beverly Graham.

The recital is open to the public.

Manners Make Friends

When you take a telephone message for someone else, always be prompt about relaying it. The message that sounds unimportant to you may be very important to the one for whom it is meant.

And the safest way to get the message straight is to write it down.

If you'll be collecting driftwood at the beach this summer, you'll find that coating it with white shellac will add to its artful appearance, whether you bleach it or leave it in its natural state.

If you like quaint things, you might decorate your bathroom with a few old-fashioned drug-store bottles filled with cotton balls, bath salts and dusting powder.

Lefors Bridge Club Has Final Meeting

LEFORS (Special) — The Lefors Bridge club met in the home of Mrs. Edith Watson recently. Prizes were given to Mrs. Ruth Johnson and Mrs. Edith Boyd for making the highest scores of the evening. The club will not meet again until September.

Refreshments of pie, tea, and coffee were served. Members present were Mrs. Ruth Johnson, Arlie Carpenter, Essie Mullins, May Huston, Bess McGlothlin, Bess Johnson, Edith Boyd, Eddie Atkinson, Elina Vincent, Jessie Thurmond, Virginia Archer, Bill Combs, and the hostess.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace

I see that quite a few have been writing you about wedding questions, so I guess you won't mind answering a couple more for me.

My sister and I are going to be married in a double wedding. She is older than I am but my engagement was announced before hers was by about two months. Now we aren't sure whether my name or hers should come first on the wedding invitation.

Our parents are divorced and we want to know how the invitation to the wedding should be issued. We aren't sure whether both names should be used or just one and if so which one. Our mother has remarried. Would that matter?

Please answer soon as we are going to be married next month and must arrange about the invitations.

Marcia

Dear Marcia

In an invitation to a double wedding of sisters, the older sister's name is mentioned first. And when parents are divorced the mother issues the invitation to the wedding.

Thus, in your case the invitation would be as follows:

Mrs. John Joseph Smith requests the honor of your presence at the wedding of her daughters
Martha Anne
to Richard Marston
and Margaret Ruth
to
William Horace Jones
etc.

CARD OF SYMPATHY

Dear Grace

Recently I lost my husband and I received a great many cards of sympathy in addition to notes and flowers.

I know that I must write notes of thanks to people who sent flowers, to me and to the funeral. Should I also write to those who send cards?

Mr. J.

Dear Mr. J.

Although people often do write notes of thanks to those who send cards of sympathy, I don't believe that it is obligatory.

Many people send such cards so that the recipient won't feel that he or she must answer them. It may be that there will be cards from friends whom you will want to answer. There may be many from acquaintances who would not expect an answer and to whom you would not wish to write.

When you thank people for flowers, don't send a printed card but write the note yourself. Unless you are ill and unable to write a note of thanks and have no close relatives who can do it for you, you might prefer to use a printed card. Many people take the trouble to send flowers and send them to the funeral or to the home, they expect a personal answer.

Grandmother Sells Sea-Shell Jewelry

DURANT, Okla. — UP — A creative mind and a little work can put a woman in business, even if only a small business.

That's the way it is with Mrs. A. B. Rutherford, a 73-year-old grandmother, who makes and sells sea-shell jewelry.

Mrs. Rutherford, who is also an avid fisherman, began her unusual business in 1946 while recovering from a broken arm. Then with her daughter in Memphis, Tenn., she saw a friend making sea-shell earrings and necklaces of the delicate shells are just as popular. The shells, in every variety and every color, come from a shop in Sarasota, Fla.

Each piece of jewelry is of her own design. One of her favorites is a pin, in the form of a small girl's head. A single white shell forms the head. Mrs. Rutherford then painted the face on the shell and added a small shell hat.

Her work shop is the dining room table, usually covered with hundreds of shells, and her tools—tweezers and glue.

At first she made earrings only, but now her pins and necklaces of the delicate shells are just as popular. The shells, in every variety and every color, come from a shop in Sarasota, Fla.

Always dry scrubbing brushes with the bristles down, to prevent them from rotting at the base.

To give baked or mashed potatoes a different flavor, season with onion salt instead of table salt.

Though dacron yarn is not inexpensive, if you use it you will have the satisfaction of knowing the garment you knit will resist shrinking, bagging and stretching and will never need blocking after washing.

Gaining A Suntan Should Take Time

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The first day of the sunning season poses a temptation to many girls. And, though they receive many warnings, not all remember that tanning takes time.

If you allow yourself to get an overdose of sun your first day out, you'll end up with an unattractive, uncomfortable burn and may possibly become ill.

Furthermore, the sunburn that's acquired in a hurry will go from burning red to itchy peeling without leaving a trace of the golden glow you desire.

Better to go slow and be sure of the results. Instead of doing your first sun bathing at the beach where it is difficult to limit exposure time (and where the water's reflection intensifies the sun's rays), plan several preliminary sessions at home, on roof or in the yard.

Depending on your skin's sensitivity, time the first session for from 15 minutes to a half hour. Then gradually increase it. When you do set off to the beach you will have a light tan that will help safeguard you from a severe burn. Besides, you'll look much prettier in your bathing suit.

Using a sun lotion will also help to prevent burning and to encourage an attractive bronze coloring rather than painful, ugly red.

One famed cosmetic house has just introduced a creamy sungold lotion for this purpose that's also said to protect the skin from drying in the tanning process.

According to the firm, the preparation can be smoothed on from face to foot and will leave no trace of stickiness. And it's necessary to use only a few drops.

Survey Shows Home-Type Girl Rates As Ideal Marriage Partner With Lads

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The term, "teen-ager" is one sometimes synonymous with trouble. But recently some people who believe in teen-agers made a survey. They picked teen-age boys in Tenafly, N. J., and from them, found out some interesting things.

Teen-age boys not only are more mature than you might think, they're even worrying now about what sort of wives they're going to have in the future. Seems that some of them poke into corners around the house and occasionally write, "This needs dusting" on top the TV set.

According to this survey, made by the Tide Washing Clinic, most of these boys want a girl just like the girl that married their old dad. Sixty per cent of them want their future wives to keep house and cook just like mom does.

But a few, who've grown up hearing pop growl about the house money, hope that their girls will do better here. And three of them said they'd like their wives to take cleaning a little less seriously. Asked to rate their own mothers as housekeepers, 57 per cent gave mom a grade of excellent. The rest just wrote her off as "Good."

A new cosmetic for women young and old acts like an 'invisible girdle'

All too soon the body begins to sag, the skin becomes flabby and the youthful figure begins to disappear. Up to now there has been no real way to keep the skin of the body firm and taut. An amazing new cosmetic is available. It acts like an "invisible girdle" to tighten and firm the skin of the body.

That bulge around the midriff called "the spare tire" can gradually become smoothed out and firmed if daily you massage this new cosmetic—Diet-Form—onto the skin. What about the hips? The sagging of the hips can be gradually tightened if you massage Diet-Form into the skin of your hips, back, front and sides.

The upper arms are frequently unattractive because flabbiness has developed. You can endeavor to prevent this on yourself by obtaining a bottle of Diet-Form and starting your massage today.

Are you dieting to reduce? If you are, Diet-Form is a must for you. When you lose weight the skin of the body dries, sags and becomes flabby. Even young women take on premature signs of age and begin to look older. By massaging Diet-Form onto the skin, it becomes tightened and firm and by coating back the natural elasticity so that the skin fits the newly reduced body.

Women the world over also know Invisible Beauty Strap, the famous cosmetic that acts like a "face lift." They see and feel it working against signs of age as the face looks firmed, lifted, braced.

You can use the treatment with Diet-Form on the body and Invisible Beauty Strap on the face so that the skin of the body as well as the face is firmed and tightened.

LIFE IS GETTING REAL LIVELY. A week of showers just past and a big week coming up. School will soon be out for the kids. . . real golfing weather too. (Lulu Kuhn has finished a course of lessons and is eager to get started). . . The swimming pools are being readied for use. . . (Dixie avers notice Connie Hill's long and lovely limbs in a swim suit?)

MONDAY NIGHT LITTLE and not-so-little kids all over town will be presented in Jeanne Willingham's annual dance recital. Mamas are very busy preparing for their child's moment of well-deserved glory after a year of fun and hard work. Three of the young daughters of the Dr. Richard Falkensteins; Barbara, Carol and Beth, will appear. For awhile there were four students of the dance in the family when Patsy took bathroom dancing. Mrs. Scott Hall has spent much of her time lately sewing sequins on dreamy costume stuffs. There will be a great sign of relief when mamas have led the last criss-crossed satin toe shoe ribbons and fluffed the last tutu skirt to retire to the audience to bask in reflected glory. Jeanne, (Willingham that is) is a very hardworking gal. She'll leave June 12 for Hollywood and more study.

MR. AND MRS. CARL ANDERSON are waxing enthusiastic after their first trip East. They've been to Cape Cod to visit son Richard who is in the Army. They say it ain't true that Yankees are a cold unfriendly lot. They're especially impressed with the lovely farms in the East—rolling green lawns and houses, buildings, fences and even station wagons to match! One couple they met made a hobby of keeping track of the boys they'd entertained. They had over 600 names in their guest book, corresponded with as many as possible and had visited with many in the boys' homes.

OVERHEARD A GROUP OF COFFEYING MALES talking about the salesman and personnel banquet at the Country Club Tuesday. Heard words like dynamic and forceful in connection with the speaker, Howard J. Wischaupt. He is a good example of the value of self confidence. . . When he was a boy of 14 and launched on his first selling project, he took a negative approach. Like this, "Look lady, you don't want to buy a noodle slicer today, do you?" Sure enough, they agreed with him—at 21 successive houses. After a few minutes of tearful curbstone reflection he tried a new tack. He'd proudly place the gadget in the housewife's hands and say "I bet you don't know what this is." They didn't but when he was through they were consumed with a passion to possess it. "Just goes to show you," says the speaker. "Once a woman gets something in her hands she can't let it go." Incidentally they say there were only three girls to serve those 150 men!

OUR NOMINATION for hero of the week—Justice of the Peace Geo. W. Anders who stayed up 24 hours to prepare that fabulous feast for the Grandview picnic Thursday. It was the 27th annual observance for Grandview's Parent-Teacher's Association.

THE DAY BEFORE there had been another big feed when Pampa Lions entertained 63 ranchers and farmers at their regular luncheon in the First Methodist Church basement.

HERE 'N THERE. Mrs. Tom Braly and her charming "little people"—three sons. Don't ask me to name them. None of them stands still long enough to name. No wonder Jean stays so delightfully slim. . . Erwin Thompson with a grocery shopping list THAT long. . . Mrs. Virginia Jolly and daughter shopping together. . . A woman in Amarillo with the new two-toned hair. Her short crisp white hair had black tips. Well, you can't say it wasn't striking. . . Can't help but admire these adventuresome souls. They have fun and they certainly provide something new in conversation. Or is it so new? Seems to me I recall reading that Egyptian ladies went in for the same sort of shenanigans.

FRIENDS IN WASHINGTON, D. C. tell us that war is accepted among many there as inevitable. Maybe Pampa seems a little remote but I sometimes wonder if we shouldn't abandon the bridge table once in awhile for some work in civil defense.

MANY GOOD WISHES go with Claudine and Bob Vall when they leave Wednesday for their flying trip to Europe. Understand they'll have a couple of days in Boston and New York before leaving the United States. 'Twill be a wonderful experience. . . Couldn't happen to nicer people. We like to think of them trading their working jeans and coveralls and their strenuous life for lounging clothes to languish in awhile. . . Don't know if they will or not but Claudine is ready with a luscious b-day gift from Bob. . . A yellow wool robe trimmed, they say, with leopard. Many of their friends will say bon voyage at a breakfast Tuesday morning at the Country Club. Chris Schneider, Julia McKernan, Lulu Kuhn, Alice Warner and Sandy Williams are the hostesses I can remember. Tell you more later.

WE HAVE A PROFESSIONAL BALLERINA in our midst—Louise Lawler, former Pampa who is a member of the corps de ballet of the San Francisco ballet troupe. She's here visiting relatives. She's to do a solo number as guest artist at the aforementioned recital. She must be a fine artist to rate a place with the famous San Francisco troupe. Looking forward to seeing this.

JUST TO DOUBLE CROSS US. . . Now that we've all bought tiny hats to perch on heads this summer. . . the powers that be in the fashion world are advocating cartwheels. Saw a fashion show lately—all cotton dresses with big floppy hats.

HAVE I TOLD YOU ABOUT THE BLESSED EVENT due soon at our house? It's so exciting. Can't tell you what the animal is, though. We weren't sure of the gender ourselves until approaching motherhood solved the question. We had a mama dog once who gave birth to nine pups under—far under—the house. . . Of course, we couldn't wait to see them so Mr. Peg crawled, or I should say wriggled, under the house to retrieve them. . . He handed them out one at a time to our littlest Peg announcing the sex each time. He repeated "Male" all nine times! As our little one handed them to me she'd say soberly, "Nale." We christened the one we kept "Nails," in memory of that incident.

HELEN (MRS. DALE) TRUITT came home happy from a bridge party at Ruth Goodwyn's even though she got low score. Ruth kept a traveling miniature iron kettle at the tables. Each time someone went down they had to put a penny in the kettle for each trick down. The kettle full of pennies was presented as consolation to the one with low score. Cute idea.

WE THINK IT'S SUCH HAPPY NEWS that Neva Burgan and J. W. Swygart are planning to be married soon. For those few who don't know Neva, she's the cheerful little clerk with the beautiful white hair in Murphee. They say she's been there 25 years. Mr. Swygart is a retired Shell Oil superintendent. Good friends Mrs. Lillian Rice and Mrs. Elmer Wilson had a shower for her at the Baptist Church Thursday night.

SO NICE TO SEE former Pampa News Society Editor Anna Marie Reed. She and husband Wayne were here briefly enroute to Casper, Wyoming, which is their home now. . . Hear that lovely Marilyn Fitzgerald is active on the campus at SMU.

BEST EXAMPLE we've found yet for our younger generation when they tend to be critical of their friends because they don't choose to order their life in the same way we do is the old story of the fox and the crane. . . Remember?? The crane ate his dinner from a tall narrow vessel made to order for his long bill and the fox ate his from a flat plate and everything went well until they became critical of each other for eating the way they did. Poor Mr. Fox and Mr. Crane must have lost a few pounds trying a way of life unsuited to them before they were convinced that one should live and let live.

OUR LOVE AND PRAYERS for Ted and Freddie Curtis upon the tragic loss of their daughter Betty. Always Yours, BOB O' PAMPA

Dual-Purpose Quilt Is Good Baby Gift

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

If you're preparing to stitch up an extra-special gift for an extra-special baby, consider the virtues of a gay, little, quilted spread that can double as a carriage robe. Inexpensive and easy to cut out and sew on a machine, it boasts an appliqued gingham dog that wags his tail to please the baby. To please his mama, it's completely and repeatedly machine-washable.

Talking over the design and the sewing directions with local sewing-center experts, I decided to use red-and-white checked gingham for the border, the motif and the underside of the coverlet. White broadcloth is used for the top. As an economical filler, the sewing center experts suggest using old, terry-cloth towels.

To make the coverlet in the standard 34" by 44" size, you'll need: one and a quarter yards of white broadcloth, two and a half yards of old, terry-cloth towels and a scrap or two for the dog's collar and face.

To make — Cut out two pieces of gingham 35" by 45" each. Cut one piece of white broadcloth 35" by 45".

For border, cut out a piece 18" wide by 28" long from the center of one of the gingham pieces. This leaves a border trim that requires no seaming or mitering of corners.

For the center appliqued motif, trace dog outline from child's coloring book. Transfer tracing to the 18" by 28" gingham piece cut from center of border. Baste the piece to center of white broadcloth. Applique dog by stitching around outline, using zigzag attachment on sewing machine. Cut away excess fabric as close to stitching as possible.

Next, place the filler between gingham and broadcloth, and pin. Baste firmly in rows three to four inches apart from gingham side. (Don't let large basting stitches appear on right side.)

Fold fabric on true bias and press a line. Fold on bias again, this time in opposite direction, and press again. Use quilting foot attachment on sewing machine and stitch parallel lines in one direction until complete. Next start at

Outdoor Fun Aids People Of All Ages

BY ALICE HART
NEA Beauty Editor

In all parts of the country, people who tend to hibernate during the winter are now taking to the outdoors. This is America's sporting season.

And participants are not only the younger people among us. Swimming, boating, golf, tennis, hiking lure people of all ages from their homes. The exercise involved is, in general, beneficial to all.

Of course, if you are more than midway in years, you shouldn't play as strenuously as teenagers. But you certainly can keep your hand in the fun. Generally, tennis and other fast games are out for the women of more than 40.

But both swimming and dancing are wonderful exercise for the older women because they tone the whole body without demanding too much exertion. Such games as archery, croquet, pitching rings and table tennis also provide excellent exercise without too much strain.

Don't be stopped by the fact that you don't know how to do any of these things. Taking up new interests all through life will help to keep the years from taking too big a toll.

If you're not interested in sports, consider the beauty benefits of gardening. Stopping, for example, trims the waist. And bending hinders the knees. Stretching and pulling trim shoulder blades and upper arms.

HONORED — Miss Dorothy Reneau, bride-elect of Arthur L. Mote, was honored with a shower recently in the home of Mrs. Joe Niver, 324 N. Wells. "Poppy Day" Plans Made By Members Of Legion Auxiliary

An inspirational talk, "Poppy Day," was presented by Mrs. J. M. Turner at the recent meeting of the American Legion auxiliary.

"Nothing can symbolize our remembrance of the sacrifices of the World War dead in so fitting a way as the wearing of the poppy," she stated. "What form of aid could be more effective than helping the disabled men help themselves by worthwhile work?"

Mrs. Turner, poppy chairman, named the workers and locations for the sale of veteran-made poppies Saturday.

The meeting, led by Mrs. F. W. Shotwell, president, was opened with the advancing of the colors by Mrs. Ruth Sewell and Mrs. Frank Yates. A prayer in memory of the men killed during war was led by Mrs. Diania Wood, chaplain.

During the business session, the auxiliary voted to help pay for new furniture for the club room. They favor for the Worley hospital to be used Memorial Day. Will be made by Mrs. Wood and her committee. The members decided to bring games for the Boys' Club to the June meeting as part of the community service project.

Several members volunteered to help place flags on the graves of former veterans Memorial Day. Mrs. Wayne Washburne donated the book, "The Robe," to the memorial bookshelf in the city library in memory of Mrs. Carl Goble's son.

Refreshments of strawberry tarts and coffee were served. Mrs. Emily Coston was hostess.

Mirrors Are Aid To Developing Good Grooming Practices In Small Children

BY ALICE HART
NEA Beauty Editor

It seems new ways are constantly being developed to help mothers teach little children careful grooming habits and good manners. The latest one we've come across involves mirrors. Add one big advantage is that it requires little effort to follow.

From babyhood, children are fascinated with gazing at themselves in mirrors. So child guidance experts suggest that you capitalize on this interest when your children reach three or four.

The mirror, they say, is a good, silent disciplinarian. Let it do some of your work for you. It will show you youngsters their smudgy faces and how funny they look when they are crying.

And it will show them, too, how attractive they can be when their hair is combed, their shoes shined, their faces shining in cleanliness.

If your children are in the preschool age group, keep them in mind when placing mirrors throughout the house, particularly in their bedrooms.

One idea that comes highly recommended is to provide the youngsters with a mirror that's framed for fun.

To do this, buy an unframed wall mirror and ask your husband to make a frame for it in either cork or soft wood. As soon as the children begin decorating it with items in their current collections, the mirror will become a center of interest in their room.

Another way of pointing up the importance of appearance without fussing is to install a full-length mirror inside your children's closet door. This will encourage taking care in dressing.

If there's a little lady in the family, you might provide her with a dressing table. You can easily make one from an old end table and remnants of material. Or get an orange crate from the grocery store. A small hassock can serve as a seat, and a mirror or glass panel will reflect her face as she peels, but a faraway disinterested look never is.

Being disgruntled over the small annoyances that happen every day takes the serenity from a woman's face. Those who accept trivial upsets as part of everyday living draw others to them. The look of annoyance on the face of the woman who lets small inconveniences upset her makes her anything but appealing.

If any show of selfishness or poor manners makes others look less attractive to you then you can be quite sure that you never look your best when your own manners aren't as good as they could and should be.

RUTH MILLET

Tip to women from a book on personality: "Plain everyday good manners that cluster around the idea of being thoughtful and courteous are perhaps the greatest beauty treatment that one can have."

Scurrying along in a rush, so absorbed in themselves that they crowd and shove and seem totally unaware they aren't alone in the world; women so absorbed in themselves they never take a moment to hold a door for a woman carrying a baby or loaded down with packages; women who seem not to regard a salesperson as a human being, and women who never realize their own need is no greater than anyone else's.

Another point is being impatient with a small child. No woman in the world can look beautiful yanking a small child by the arm, scowling and threatening a child time the child tries to slow her down.

The dissatisfied look of the woman who is complaining about anything from the weather to her own aches and pains is far from attractive.

OTHERS POINTS ROB-BEAUTY. Lack of attention to what another person is saying doesn't rate. A look of genuine interest is appealing, but a faraway disinterested look never is.

The look of annoyance on the face of the woman who lets small inconveniences upset her makes her anything but appealing.

Butch Bob Is Next Thing In Hair Style

NEW YORK — UP — The next thing, girls, is the butch bob. Or you might call it the crew or the buzz.

Larry Matthews, who runs an all-night, beauty shop catering to show people, says the next hair style to be adopted by the American woman will be almost the ultimate in shortness — barely an inch long over the entire head.

"Women are extremists," said Matthews. "And they've tried everything else. The butch is all that's left, because women will never go back to long bobs."

"We already are giving a few of the short cuts," said Matthews, whose customers include Zinka Milanov, soprano at the Metropolitan Opera Co., Sunny Gale, singer, Julia Darvas, dancer, and Clare Luce, actress.

"By summer," Matthews predicted, "the butch will be everywhere."

"But I don't recommend it for everyone," said Matthews. "Just the same as I wouldn't recommend that Italian-boy cut for every woman."

"The butch bob is good only for the woman with a slim, small face, and naturally curly hair. You couldn't possibly give a permanent that close to the scalp."

Merten HD Club Has Lamp Shade Program At Meet

A program on making lamp shades was presented by Mrs. Elmo Hudgins at the recent meeting of Merten Home Demonstration club in the home of Mrs. Jack Prather, southeast of city.

Mrs. Hudgins demonstrated how to wrap the shade's frame after removing the old cover, and how to make a pattern from the old cover. She also told the women how to make an original pattern.

A short business session was led by Mrs. John Brandon, president. Mrs. V. Smith reported on a special meeting the club held to make bandages for cancer victims.

Members present were Meses, Jack Howard, T. J. Watt, D. A. Rife, R. J. Groves, R. N. Brandon, George Dick, Volney Day, Hudgins, Prather, Brandon, and Smith. Mrs. C. R. Rutherford of Graham was a visitor.

'Dynamite Dozen And One' Lefors High School Group Makes History On Campus

By GWEN THURMOND
Pampa News Correspondent
LEFORS — (Special) — "It was not so many years ago, 12 to be exact, when the "dynamite dozen and one" boomed into the little Lefors school: Jane Boucher, Pat Carpenter, Fred Blackwell, Joe Martin, Margaret Cobb, Carol Welch, Herbert Wall, Vern Hogan, Shirley Herring, Mary Florence, Ann Neill, Anita Chilwood, and

Freddy Brister, Miss Thompson and Mrs. Sikes passed the dozen and one on hoping and praying that the second grade teachers, Miss Anderson and Miss Vaughn would have better luck than they had. More dynamite was added this second year with Dewey Nunley, Pat Fulton, and Hugh Bradley. This year Ann Neill left for Welch, Herbert Wall, Vern Hogan, Shirley Herring, Mary Florence, Ann Neill, Anita Chilwood, and

Cole, and Marie McPherson, joined us in the third grade. We really grew up that year because we got to have two teachers, Mrs. Natho and Miss Lily. Mrs. Calvert and Miss Simpson decided to try their luck during our fourth grade year. We were delighted to have Eva Rutledge join us. Four new students came during the fifth grade. This little bunch who added so much headache was Alfred Bennett, Dickie Redus, Nancy Atchley, and Virginia Wilson. Miss Holland's students did a very good job on the puppet shows. Remember "Hansel and Gretel," and "Jack and the Beanstalk?"

While we were in the fifth grade, Mrs. Gething must have become very much attached to us for she moved on to the sixth grade with us. No new classmates were added. Mrs. Love and Mr. Winters had to take "nervine" for the next two years. During the seventh grade we had four new girls and two new boys to join us. Those lucky people were Carolyn Maples, Sylvia Bradfield, Beva McCathern, Mona Coberly, James Welborn, and Vandell Hudson. We were very happy to see Mona crowned Carnival Queen that year. Then in the eighth grade Jack Chisum, Shirley Smith, and Barbara Sanders were added. Everyone was happy to see Mona crowned Carnival Queen that year.

Racial Segregation Ban May Force Other Issues To Head

By DONALD UNGAR
WASHINGTON, May 22 — UP — The Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation may speed the climax of another pressing civil rights problem — housing for the nation's minority groups.

There is a profitable market in minority housing, he added. But for too many years, he said, FHA itself was holding back minority housing by hesitating to insure projects which would be open to Negroes, even though government insurance is supposed to be given without regard to race, creed or color.

Horne believes FHA indirectly aided segregated housing because it has no way to penalize the builder who won't sell to Negroes. Encourages Any Project "Under its present policy, the FHA encourages and assists any eligible, sound housing development whether its occupancy is to be segregated by race or open to all races without restrictions," he said.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has asked the government to step up its attempt to wipe out housing segregation. Able to Pay, Unable to Buy Those government efforts have been centered primarily in encouraging builders and mortgage bankers to sell homes to "non-whites." Despite their ability to pay, Negroes still find themselves unable to buy homes available to others.

Whether the federal government could order builders to open their projects to all races or lose FHA insurance is something that would probably have to be settled by the courts. Pointing out the bill's emphasis on slum clearance and urban redevelopment, he noted that it is in those areas where the minority groups live. With a slowdown in public housing construction, he said, other housing must be found for them.

Our junior year we had the surprise of our lives when a real cowboy came to our class. John Roy Shores. Mr. McNarley and Mrs. Crump were our sponsors. Shirley Smith was basketball sweetheart and Eva Rutledge was F.H.A. Sweetheart. Pop corn, coffee, candy and hot dogs! This was the battle cry of the junior class as they battled their way to the "solid South" for the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Hummm! Southern fried ham and hot Southern sweet potatoes. We can taste them now as we enter the Deep South, better known as the Pampa Country Club to our first Junior-Senior Banquet. Leon Martin was the only "kid" to join us the senior year. Mrs. Gettle and again Mr. McCarley were our sponsors. One big event of our senior year was the senior play, "A Date With A Dream." Other highlights of this year were Kid-Day, the senior trip, the Junior-Senior Banquet, Baccalaureate and graduation.

Ironically, one of the government's top minority housing experts believes the government only recently has awakened to its responsibility. He is Dr. Frank S. Horne, a special assistant to Housing Chief Albert M. Cole for minority housing. "If any federal agency has contributed to segregation," Horne said, "it has been FHA."

Peace Fast Ended

GENEVA, May 21 — UP — A Viet Nameese poet Thursday broke a 17-day fast he had undertaken in the cause of peace for Indo-China. Geneva police decided the demonstration by Vo Thanh Minh had gone far enough, and a police spokesman said it was ended with the full agreement of the poet. He was taken to a hospital, where he ate fruit. Nurses said he seemed happy, and his life was in no danger.

Vesper services this afternoon at 8 in the high school auditorium begin the graduation ceremonies which will end the high school career of the 1953-54 Pampa High School graduating class. The final step will be the presentation of diplomas at the commencement exercises next Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the field house. Rev. Dick Crews, pastor of the First Christian Church, and Dr. E. N. Jones, president of Texas Technological College, will be speakers at the ceremonies respectively.

The high school A Cappella choir will sing at vespers and the Harvester band will play at commencement. The 1953-54 class was the first to leave a gift to Pampa High School. At the presentation assembly of next year's class officers, Jim Bond presented a blond oak wood speaker's stand, made by the woodcraft club, under the direction of Myles Morgan.

Graduating with the top honors are valedictorian Gays Nell Carter and salutatorian Terry Forrester. Best Citizens are Jaquelin Robertson and George Depee. Jim Bond and Sandra Burch were chosen all-school favorites and Carolyn Dial and Alton Flynn senior class favorites. Pin-ups are Douglas Randolph and Joan Rogers.

Senior class officers have been Jim Bond, president; Alton Flynn, vice president; and Norma Qualls, secretary. Student body and Council officers have been James Phippen, president; Rex McKay, vice president; and Jaquelin Robertson, secretary.

John Teed held the office of vice president of the Texas Association of Student Councils this year, to which office Pampa high was elected last spring.

"January Thaw" was presented as the senior class play this year, with John Teed, Norma Qualls, Dwayne Kuntz and Gays Nell Carter playing lead roles.

Through the sale of play tickets, the seniors raised enough money to finance their annual class party the Mardi Gras, and their trip to Palo Duro Canyon.

Seniors were given a second chance at childhood on Kid Day, when only they were allowed to wear slacks, knee pants, and carry lollipops.

Civic club guests were chosen by the Student Council each month. Nine senior boys and girls visited the Rotary club and the Lions club this school year.

With 128 seniors nearly gone, the '54 junior class is making preparations for their next year's seniorhood. Ben Sturgeon, next year's student body president, will attend the Student Council workshop this summer at Austin at Texas University.

Marion Stone, next year's president of the TASC, will attend workshops in Austin, Lubbock, and Houston.

To further in the arts, Don Sprinkle, who will graduate at the semester next year, will study dancing at the Belcher DeRea Studio in Los Angeles under the father of Marga Champion, Ernest Belcher.

Run-Down On Campus Wheels WD Senior Will Have Son At Graduation Exercises

By JO HY-SMITH
Pampa News Correspondent
WHITE DEER — (Special) — The 1954 graduating class of White Deer High School is the first class to attend school in the new high school building, which replaced the one lost in the tornado of 1951. Last year's class held its end-of-school exercises in the new auditorium, but with the exception of the last month of actual school, classes were held in the barracks buildings, which have since been disposed of.

The entire group of graduates has been active in their years of high school at White Deer. A remarkable point about this class is that with the exception of four of the graduates, the class has come up as a group in the White Deer system. A number of the students received their elementary education in the Skellytown School, which is the third school in the district. Not too many of the 17 members of the present class have attended other schools; some have gone to other schools only to return to their home group.

The drama or speech department of the school has held a tender spot for these students this year. James Huffhines and Dick Foote, honor graduates, began dramatics as Masquers, gaining reputation for themselves each year, then into Thespians, with James being president of Masquers in 1953, and president of Thespians in 1954. Dick was president of Thespians in 1953, and vice president of Thespians in 1954. Both students plan to go further in stage printed. Sheriff Clarence Williams and Deputy Grady Stapp, of Pampa, handle came over for the actual job. This project is to serve as a means of identification in case of accident or disaster. The student council has had much to do with material additions to the new high school building.

Students participating in band this year were: James Huffhines, Delbert Lemley, Grady Milton, and Duane DeFever, who won contest acclaim for solo work on his cornet. Other clubs with seniors participating were Future Teachers of America, Future Home-

Awards of different nature will be presented to outstanding students on their graduation exercises. The Venado Blanco Citizenship Award and the Bausch-Lomb Science Awards are among them. Valedictorian honors will go to Dick Foote, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Foote, who has an average of 92.41. James Huffhines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Huffhines of Skellytown, will receive the salutatorian honor, with an average of 91.73. Highest ranking girl is Patricia Hendricks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otho Hendricks.

Personalities have played an important part with this group, also. Barbara Evans was crowned as the 1954 Annual Queen, with 1954 Football Queen Shirley Smith being one of her attendants. Donald Denham will be featured in a full page picture in the Antler as "Mr. White Deer High School." Marilyn Kaiser was the 1954 Skellytown Lions Club Sweetheart. Don Cofer was Good Posture King of 1954. Shirley Smith and Dick Foote represented their school at the Seventh Annual Personality Pageant held on the campus of West Texas State this year.

The Buck's Tale and The Antler have been important in the school lives of these students, too. Duane DeFever has been sports editor for the Buck's Tale this year. Pat Hendricks was editor of The Antler, and James Huffhines was senior editor of the Antler.

On the sports field, Ronald Mills and Donald Denham were named on the all-district team. Another outstanding athlete was Clint Freeman, who played football as well as basketball. The three athletes have led the White Deer Bucks this year as co-captains. Mills and Denham will attend West Texas State College next fall on athletic scholarships. Mrs. J. C. Mills, Abernathy, Texas, says, "We live better since we made our home ALL-ELECTRIC!"

Here is the Mills' beautiful all-electric home. Despite the large size, the low cost of the electric service needed to operate it surprised the Mills.

Adequate wiring lowers the cost of electric service. The Mills insisted on proper wiring. Here, Mrs. Mills demonstrates the latest in lighting switches. They're silent, working at the touch of your finger, and you always know which lights are on.

"Our all-electric home saves us time which we need for the important things around the home," says the Mills. Time-consuming chores like cooking, laundering, sprinkling the lawn are done electrically in the Mills' home. When Mr. and Mrs. Mills built their home they made sure of adequate wiring, so, today they enjoy all the conveniences which only electric living can give.

LOW COST AMAZES THE MILLS

Mrs. Mills and her husband marvel at the low cost of operating their all-electric home. Says Mrs. Mills, "In addition to the range, we also have a garbage disposer, refrigerator, dishwasher, clothes washer, clothes dryer, an 18-foot freezer, our automatic lighting system and several motors. Our bills are less than we'd imagined they'd be."

ELECTRIC COOKING DELIGHTS MRS. MILLS

Mrs. Mills found the features that only electric cooking gives. She says, "Electric cooking is so clean and the automatic timer takes care of my baking while I do something else."
